Rājasūya among the yajñas, dakṣiṇā among the spouses of yajña and Paraśurāma among those well-versed in the use of weapons who had been the son of Jamadagni. I am Sūta among the composers of the Purāṇas, sage Aṅgirā among the those well-versed in polity, Viṣṇuvrata among the vratas, Daivabala among the forces, Dūrvā among the auṣdhī, kuśa among the straws, truthfulness among the religious people, the son among those who are bestowed with affection, ailment among the enemies, fever among the ailments, my slavehood of all the types of adoration which best of all and the Gṛhastha (household) among all the āśramas, Saṁnyāsīs among the prudent, Sudarśana among the weapons, welfare among the blessing, great knowledge among the fortunes, Vairāgya (unattachment) among all the pleasures, sweet words among those which increase love, self realisation among the charities, the noble deed of all the things which are to be collected, tapas among all the hard labours, mokṣa among the fruits, prākāmya among the siddhas, Kāsi among the Purīs (towns), Kāñcī among the cities, inhabited by the Vaiṣṇavas. I am Mahāvirāṭ among all the solid foundations. I happen to be the atom of all the tiny things in the world Aśvinīkumāra of all the physicians, Rasāyana among the Oṣadhis, Dhanvantari among those well-versed in the mantras, grief among those which consume a person, Meghamallāra among the Rāgas and Kāmoda among the beloved's, Śrīdāmā among the courtiers, Uddhava among my relatives, cow among the animals, sandal among the forest trees, the holy places among all the tīrthas and Vaiṣṇava among the devotees who always recite my mantras. There is no one dearer to me than my own devotees; In the trees I happen to be the sprouting leaves and I happen to be the form of all the things. I pervade in all the creatures who also dwell in me. As the fruit remains in a tree and the tree in the fruit, similarly I am the cause of everything. There is no other greater cause than myself; I am the lord of everything, I have no lord. I am myself the cause of all the deeds. This is what has been ordained by the intellectuals, the sinners are influenced by my illusion and are unaware of me because they are influenced by the destiny indulging in sinful ways and evil advice. I am the soul of all the creatures and their lord. Wherever I stay, the hunger, thirst and all other śaktis remain there and when I leave that place all those also disappear as the attendants of the king disappear with the king. Therefore, O lord of Vraja, O Nanda, O father, you go to Vraja with this knowledge and impart the same to Rādhā and Yaśodā. Thereafter Nanda the lord of Vraja together with his attendants left for Vraja and reaching there he narrated the words of Kṛṣṇa to all the ladies.

ते च सर्वे जहु: शोकं महाज्ञानेन नारद।

O Nārada, with the imparting of the great knowledge they also were relieved of the grief and though lord is uninvolved and the lord of illusion but still he loves someone under the influence of the illusion. Yaśodā inspired Nanda who go to Mathurā again. Reaching there, they eulogised all blissful Mādhava by reciting the stotra composed by Brahmā and prescribed in Sāmaveda. Both of them started crying standing before their son.

Talk between Nanda and Kṛṣṇa

नारायण उवाच

श्रीकृष्ण: परमानन्द: परिपूर्णतम: प्रभु:।
परमात्मा च परमो भक्तानुग्रहकारक:॥१॥
भुवो भारावतरणो निर्गुण: प्रकृते: पर:।

तुष्टो नन्दस्तवं श्रुत्वा तमुवाच जगत्पति:।
आगच्छन्तं गोकुलाच्च विरहज्वरकातरम्॥३॥

Nārāyaṇa said- Lord Kṛṣṇa who is blissful, complete in all respects the lord, the great soul, extremely devoted to his devotees, who appears on earth to rid of her burden, who is formless, beyond Prakṛti, beyond all and Brahmā, adored by Śiva, Śeṣa and is the lord of the universe, was pleased with the prayer of Nanda and spoke to him delightfully who was suffering from the pain of separation, getting upset and had arrived from Gokula.

श्रीभगवानुवाच

गच्छ नन्दव्रजं नन्द त्यज शोकं भ्रमं भुवि।
शृणु सत्यं परं ज्ञानं शोकग्रन्थिनिकृन्तनम्॥४॥
वायुश्च भूमिराकाशो जलं तेजश्च पञ्चमम्।
उक्त: श्रुतिगणैरेतै: पञ्चभूतैश्च नित्यश:॥५॥
सर्वेषां देहिनां तात देहश्च पाञ्च भौतिक:।
मिथ्याभ्रम: कृत्रिमश्च स्वप्नवन्माययाऽन्वित:॥६॥
देहं गृह्णन्ति सर्वेषां पञ्चभूतानि नित्यश:।
मायासंकेतरूपं तदभिज्ञानं भ्रमात्मकम्॥७॥

Kṛṣṇa said- You go to Vraja and get yourself relieved of the grief and illusion on the earth. I am speaking to you the truthful and the best of the knowledge which removes the knot of grief. Listen to me attentively, there are five mahābhūtas on earth known as the wind, the earth, the sky, the water and the tejas. O father, the śrutis testify that the bodies of all the creatures on earth comprise of these five mahābhūtas, that is why this body is called Pāñcabhautika. It comprises of false illusion, artificiality and is full of illusion like the dream. At the time of death the entire body pañcabhūta merges in them. Its indication, its form and identity are filled with illusion.

को वा कस्य सुतस्तात का स्त्री कस्य पतिस्तु वा।
कर्मणा भ्रमणं शश्वत्सर्वेषां भूरिजन्मनि॥८॥
कर्मणा जायन्ते जन्तु: कर्मणैव प्रलीयते।
सुखं दु:खं भयं शोकं कर्मणा च प्रपद्यते॥९॥

Therefore, O fathers, who is the son of whom, who is the wife of whom and who is the husband of whom Jīva wanders in various forms for several births in various ways. Because the Jīva takes new birth because of his deeds and because of the karma it also merges into the great soul and it achieves pleasure, pain, fear and grief because of the past deeds. Someone is born in the heaven because of his deeds, someone is born in the house of Brahmā, someone is born in the house of Brāhmaṇas or Kṣatriyas. Someone is born in the house of Vaiśyas and someone is the born in the house of Śūdras.

केषां वा जन्म स्वर्गेषु केषां वा ब्रह्मणो गृहे।
केषां विप्रेषु क्षत्रेषु केषां वा वैश्यशूद्रयोः॥१०॥

Similarly, it sometimes is born in the house of some degraded person, sometimes as an insect of the refuse, sometimes as an animal or bird and sometimes as a petty creature.

अतिनीचेषु केषां वा केषां कृमिषु विट्सु च।
पशुपक्षिषु केषां वा केषां वा क्षुद्रजन्तुषु॥११॥
पुनः पुनर्भ्रमन्त्येव सर्वे तात स्वकर्मणा।
करोति कर्म निर्मूलं मद्भक्तो मत्प्रियः सदा॥१२॥

Therefore, O father, all the people are born in their respective yonis again and again wandering here and there. But my devotee always remains engrossed in the uprooting of all the actions.

सत्यं त्रेता द्वापरश्च कलिश्चेति चतुर्युगम्।
पञ्चविंशत्सहस्राणां युगान्ते निधनं मनोः॥१३॥
मनोः समं महेन्द्रस्य परमायुर्विनिर्मितम्।
चतुर्दशेन्द्रविच्छित्तौ ब्रह्मणो दिनमुच्यते॥१४॥

There are four yugas known as Satya, Tretā, Dvāpara, Kaliyuga. Thus after the completion of twenty five thousand yugas. Manu, meets it with his end and the life of Indra has been equated with Manu, after the death of fourteen Indras continuously a day of Brahmā is counted.

एवं परिमिता रात्रिः कालविद्भिर्विनिर्मिता।
एवं परिमिता मासा वर्षं च परिनिश्चितम्॥१५॥
ब्रह्मणश्च वर्षशतं परमायुर्विनिर्मितम्।
निमेषमात्रं कालोऽयं ब्रह्मणो निधने मम॥१६॥

His night is of similar duration. This has been pronounced by those well-versed in the calculation of time. Thus they have the month and the year. The age of Brahmā has been calculated to be hundred years and after the death of Brahmā, a single moment of mine is counted .

ब्रह्मादितृणपर्यन्तं सर्वं विश्वे विनिर्मितम्।
सत्योऽहं परमात्मा च भक्तानुग्रहविग्रहः॥१७॥
मन्मन्त्रोपासकः सत्यो देहं त्यक्त्वा धरासु च।
यास्यत्येव हि गोलोकं छित्वा कर्म पुरातनम्॥१८॥

Similarly, all the things right from Brahmā to the blade of grass are perishable. I alone am the truth who take to human form to bestow grace on the great soul and the devotees. He who adores me reciting my mantra on earth, he, after death, destroying his past deeds, proceeds to Goloka.

गृह्णाति नित्यं स्वं देहं जन्ममृत्युजरापहम्॥१९॥
न नन्द मम भक्तानामशुभं विद्यते क्वचित्।
नित्यं सुदर्शनं तं च परिरक्षति सर्वतः॥२०॥

He does not fall from Goloka even after the fall of innumerable Brahmās, he achieves the eternal body which is devoid of death. O Nanda, my devotees never meet with any misfortune at any time. Apart from that my Sudarśana-cakra always protects them.

मत्तो हि बलवान्भक्तश्चिन्तितोऽहं न चिन्तितः।
अहं स्वामी च तस्यैव न मे स्वामी पिता प्रसुः॥२१॥
पुत्रबुद्धिं परित्यज्य भज मां ब्रह्मरूपिणम्।
छित्त्वा च ब्रह्मनिगडं गोलोकं तद्व्रज स्वयम्॥२२॥
कथयस्व यशोदां च गोपीं गोपगणं व्रज।
तैश्च सर्वैर्जनैः शोकं त्यज स्वमन्दिरं व्रज॥२३॥
इत्येवमुक्त्वा भगवान्विरराम च संसदि।
पप्रच्छ पुनरेवं तं नन्दश्चाऽऽनन्दसंप्लुतः॥२४॥

Therefore my devotee is more powerful than myself, but still I remain anxious; for him being a lord, I don't have any lord, father or mother therefore instead of taking me as your son, you adore me as a complete Brahma as a result of which you will be relieved of the fetters of karmas and shall proceed to Goloka. O lord of Vraja, the cowherdess Yaśodā, the group of cowherds should be told about the reality and leaving aside the grief, you go back to your house. After thus speaking in the assembly lord Kṛṣṇa kept quiet; thereafter, Nanda getting overwhelmed with bliss asked him.

नन्द उवाच

वद सांसारिकं ज्ञानं येन यास्यामि त्वत्पदम्।
मूढोऽहं परमानन्द श्रुतीनां जनको भवान्॥२५॥
नन्दस्य वचनं श्रुत्वा सर्वज्ञो भगवान्स्वयम्।
आह्निकं कथयायास श्रुतिभिर्न श्रुतं हि यत्॥२६॥

Nanda said- O blissful one, you bestow worldly knowledge on me by means of which I should be able to achieve your loka. Because I am quite devoid of wisdom and you happen to be the creator of the Vedas. On hearing the words of Nanda, the all-knowledgeable lord Kṛṣṇa enlightened him on the daily routine as prescribed in the Vedas.

Chapter - 75

The imparting of worldly knowledge to Nanda

श्रीभगवानुवाच

शृणु नन्द प्रवक्ष्यामि ज्ञानं च परमाद्भुतम्।
सुगोपनीयं वेदेषु पुराणेषु च दुर्लभम्।।१।।

The lord said- O Nanda, I am bestowing on you the astonishing knowledge which is quite secretive in the Vedas and the Purāṇas and is quite difficult to get. You listen to it quite attentively.

न विश्वासो हि नारीषु संततं कुलटासु च।
मोक्षमार्गार्गलास्वेव भ्रममायास्वमूषु च।।२।।

One should not believe in the wicked women because they are the biggest obstruction in the path of achieving mokṣa; they are filled with illusion.

हरिभक्तेरसाध्वीनां विरुद्धासु युतासु च।
बीजरूपासु नाशानां प्रमदासु व्रजेश्वर।।३।।
नित्यं च प्रातरुत्थाय रात्रिवासो विहाय च।

न संकल्पं च कुरुते भक्त: कर्मनिकृन्तन:।
स्नात्वा हरिं स्मरेत्संध्यां कृत्वा याति गृहं प्रति।।६।।

O lord of Vraja, because of being characterless, they are always against the devotees of the lord and they serve as the seeds of destruction. A person should get up early in the morning and change the clothes worm by him during the night. He should meditate upon his sole lord in the lotus of his heart and should meditate upon his teacher in his mind and perform all the duties in the morning. Such a wise person should take a bath with clean water and while taking a bath, should not perform Saṁkalpa because the devotees are more interested in the destruction of the karmas and are not interested in enjoying their result. After taking a bath, he should recite the name of the lord and performing sandhyā he should go back to his home.

प्रक्षाल्य पादौ प्रविशेन्निधाय धौतवाससी।

मन्त्रानुरूपध्यानेन ध्यात्वा मां पूजयेद्व्रती।
षोडशोपचारद्रव्याणि दद्यान्मूलेन भक्तित:।।१०।।

Reaching there he should wash his feet and then enter the house and clad himself in sanctified garments. He should then perform pūjā for the lord. He should perform pūjā for Śālagrāma, gems, yantras, images, water, Brāhmaṇa and cow and more specially for the teacher, then kalaśa, the lotus with eight petals, a vase with sandal-paste but I should be invoked only in Śālagrāma stone and the water. Such a devotee should meditate upon me by reciting the appropriate mantra and then adore me. He should with great devotion recite the mula-mantra and make the offering of sixteen types .

श्रीदामानं सुदामानं वसुदामानमेव च।

He should also adore Śrīdāmā, Sudāmā, Vasudāmā, Vīrabhānu and Śūrabhānu, the five cowherds and then should adore my courtiers named, Nanda, Sunanda, Kumuda and Sudarśana besides Lakṣmī, Sarasvatī, Durgā, Rādhā, Gaṅgā, Vasundharā, the teacher, Tulasī, Śiva, Kārttikeya, Gaṇeśa, the nine planets, Dikpālas, in a proper manner. It would be appropriate for an intellectual to adore first of all, Gaṇeśa, Sūrya, Agni, Śiva and Pārvatī

श्रुतौ विनिर्मितान्देवान्मोक्षदान्कर्मकृन्तनान्।
गणेशं विघ्ननाशाय सूर्यं व्याधिविनाशिने।।१५।।

समाचरेत्स्वकर्मैतद्वेदोक्तं स्वात्मशुद्धये।
विष्ठां न पश्येत्प्राज्ञश्च व्याधिबीजस्वरूपिणीम्।।१९।।
मूत्रं च व्याधिबीजं च परं नरककारणम्।
लिङ्गं योनिं पापदुःखव्याधिदारिद्र्यदायिनीम्।।२०।।

In the Vedas these gods have been described as the destroyer of the deeds and bestower of mokṣa. For the removal of obstruction, Gaṇeśa should be adored; for the removal of the ailments the sun and Agni; for achieving peace and purity, Viṣṇu; Śiva for achieving mokṣa, knowledge and wisdom and Pārvatī for achieving wisdom. After adoring them, one should offer three hand cups full of flowers and should recite the relevant stotra and kavaca. Bowing in reverence to the teacher and adoring him, one should offer his salutation to the gods. Thus after performing the daily routine, one should adore the gods according to one's convenience. For self-purification, one should perform the adoration as prescribed in the Vedas. Similarly one should pay attention to the words which are forbidden, should not look at refuse which could be the cause of ailments. Looking at urine also one attracts ailment and one has to fall into the hell. By looking at the male and female organs, one attracts sin, pain, ailment and poverty.

उरुं मुखं स्तनं स्त्रीणां कटाक्षं हास्यमेव च।
विनाशबीजं रूपं च विपदां कारणं सदा।।२१।।
दिवाभोगं च स्वस्त्रीणां स्वालापं परिवर्जयेत्।
रोगाणां कारणं चैव चक्षुषोः कर्णयोस्तथा।।२२।।
एकतारं च गगनं च पश्येत्तु रुजां भयात्।
दैवाद्दृष्ट्वा हरिं स्मृत्वा सप्तधा नारदं जपेत्।।२३।।
अस्तकाले रविं चन्द्रं न पश्येद् व्याधिकारणम्।
खण्डं समुदितं चन्द्रं न पश्येद् व्याधिकारणम्।।२४।।

One should not look at the thighs, heart, breasts, side-glances and smiles of the other women because indulging in such an action attracts misfortune. One should not cohabit with his own wife during the day time because it is harmful and one attracts the ailment of eyes and ears. Similarly a star should not be looked at in the sky which could result in ailment and fear. It per chance one has a look at the stars he should recite the name of Hari and also the name of Nārada seven times. In the evening the sun and the moon should not be seen because by doing so one attracts ailment and fear. At the time of the rising of the moon if one looks at it, one attracts ailments.

बन्धुविच्छेदहेतुं च न पश्येत्परमैथुनम्।।२५।।
एकत्र शयनं स्थानं भोजनं च गतिं तथा।
न कुर्यात्पापिना सार्धं सर्वं नाशस्य लक्षणम्।।२६।।

खलेन सार्धं मिलनं च कुर्याच्छोककारणम्।।२८।।

Similarly if one looks at the reflection of the sun and moon in the water, he meets with grief. By looking at the conjugal pleasures of others one gets separated from his relatives; by sleeping, eating and travelling with a wicked person, one attracts complete destruction. By talking to him, touching his body, sleeping with him or eating with him, all his sins are transferred to the noble person. One should not approach the terrific animal for fear of injury. And one should not keep company with a wicked person which could attract grief and fear.

One should not indulge in the killing of a cow, a Brāhmaṇa and especially a Brāhmaṇa which attracts total destruction. One should not steal the riches of the gods, the temples, Brāhmaṇas and the Vaiṣṇavas. By doing so, one attracts total destruction. The one who snatches away the livelihood given by himself or others and one who does so, has to be born as the insect of refuse for sixty thousand years. Thereafter for a hundred crores of births, he has to born as a pig; for a hundred years, he has to be born as a wild animal; for seven births, he has to be born as a Rhinoceros and horse; for seven births, he is to be born as a deformed person, for births the insect of the pelvic region of the wicked woman for a hundred births and for another hundred births he has to be born as an insect of a boil. O Nārada, for seven births he has to be born as a lizard, a donkey for seven births, a cat for seven births, a monkey for three births, a horse for a hundred years, a terrific serpent for seven births, a tiger and buffalo for seven births, a frog for a hundred births, a he-goat for seven births, a bear for seven births, a jackal for a lakh of births. Thereafter because of the stealing of those riches he becomes a leech. For a hundred lives of Brahmā he has to fall into the kumbhīpāka hell where the sinners are boiled. The one who refuses to give immediately the dakṣiṇā to a Brāhmaṇa after pronouncing the same, the charity after the lapse of a night is doubled and after the expiry of a month it multiplies to a hundred times after a lapse of two months, it multiplies to a thousand times and after the expiry of a year, the donor has to fall into the hell. In case the donor is unable to pay and the receiver is unable to demand the same, both of them fall into hell. By killing a Brāhmaṇa, the race of the killer is destroyed and after getting deprived of the wealth and riches he becomes a pauper or a beggar. He feels grief-stricken when no one offers salutation to him in spite of his being a Brāhmaṇa or a god.

The one who does not adore the teacher, has to fall into the terrific hell, the wicked woman or a foolish woman who disregarding her husband resembling Hari and neglects him besides denouncing him, she has to fall into the kumbhīpāka hell. If one denounces her husband by evil words she has to be born a crow and if one resorts to physical violence against her husband, she has to be born as a pig by becoming angry, she has to be born as a snake. The one who becomes arrogant has to be born as a donkey and the one who speaks evil words has to be born as a bitch. If one makes others to consume poison he has to be born as a blind person. The chaste woman surely accompanies her husband to Vaikuṇṭha. Such of the foolish people as denounce Śiva, Durgā, Gaṇeśa, Sūrya, Brāhmaṇa, Vaiṣṇava and Viṣṇu have to fall into a terrific hell. Similarly, he who disowns his parents, the son, the chaste wife, the teacher, shelterless sister and daughter, surely falls into the hell. The Kṣatriya who is not devoted to the Brāhmaṇa or lord Hari besides Vaiśya and Śūdras, surely proceed to the hell. Such of the damsels, as are not devoted to their husband are considered to be extremely degraded. Such of the Brāhmaṇa as consume the water of Śalagrāma and the prasāda of lord Viṣṇu, even the holy places get purified with their arrival and they also purify hundred future and previous generations besides the earth.

After adoring the gods and the manes, if a Brāhmaṇa eats meat once, he is till considered to be pure, but the one who always consumes meat he falls into the terrific hell. If a Brāhmaṇa fries a fish for selfish purposes be has to observe fast and thereafter perform repentance by observing Cāndrāyaṇa-vrata. O Nanda, such of the Brāhmaṇa who observing fish, having been deprived of the knowledge, he also becomes impure and destroys his merit. Such of the Brāhmaṇa who consumes the left over of Viṣṇu and does not consume fish or meat, he is surely achieves the merit of Aśvamedha sacrifice for every step he walk on earth.

Such of the people who perform vrata on Ekādaśī day and on the day of the birth of lord Kṛṣṇa they are relieved of the sins committed by them for hundred years. There is no doubt about it. All the sins committed by them during childhood, boyhood, old age and when young, are destroyed. The one who takes food on the Ekādaśī day and on the birthday of lord Kṛṣṇa consumes the sins of the three worlds. There is no doubt about it. This rule is not applicable to the infirm, old and children. They can be purified after giving double the food they consume.

In case someone who is competent to observe a fast on Śivarātri and Rāmanavamī day, but takes his food, he falls into the terrific hell. The one who cohabits with his wife on a moonless night or on a full moon night, first day of the month, on the fourteenth and eighth day of the moon and also consumes oil and meat, he is surely born as a Cāṇḍala. One should not eat the fish, meat, small grained pulse in a vase of bronze; ginger and the red vegetables should not be taken on Sundays otherwise one has to fall in the kumbhīpāka hell. There is no doubt about it. O lord of Vraja, the food served by a woman in period, the food of a loose woman and the food mixed with wine, in case it is consumed by a Brāhmaṇa, he surely consumes refuse. Whatever deeds are performed by him during the day, he is deprived of the reward for the same and he always remains impure. He is deprived of the impurity only when his body is burnt in fire. Such of woman who enjoys the company of four men has to be treated as a whore; she is not entitled to receive any share cooked for gods and the manes. The one who performs yajña from village to village and food during the śrāddha performed by Śūdras have to fall in the hell till the life of the sun and the moon. Such of the Brāhamaṇs who take śrāddha food with the Śūdras they have to fall in the kumbhīpāka hell up to the life of with some one else at the instance of a Śūdra, he should be considered as a drunkard and should be excommunicated from performing seven religious deeds. Similarly the soldiers, the writers, those performing pūjā in the temples, earning their livelihood from the bullocks, burning the dead bodies of the Śūdras, the Brāhmaṇa who is the husband of a Śūdra woman should also be excommunicated because the food of such a person is like refuse for the noble people. Similarly the one who does not perform sandhyā during the morning or the evening and neglects all the Brāhmaṇa practices should be excommunicated like a Śūdra.

अन्तःप्राणिपिपील्यां च हलोत्खातां व्रजेश्वर॥७४॥

The one who does not perform sandhyā such a Brāhmaṇa is always considered to be impure and unfit for all the religious performances. Because of this, whatever actions are performed by him, he is deprived of the reward. The Vāmamārgī Brāhmaṇa falling into hell surely has to face pain. The Intellectuals could not drop refuse at the places like the starting point of a river, the pits at the root of trees, near water, near god and green crops. O lord of Vraja, one should not rub his hand for purification with the dust from a heap of white ants, the earth dug by rats, the earth inside water and the earth with remnant from the one already used for washing the hands, the earth from the mud meant for plastering the walls of the houses. The earth from the place of white ants, the plough land is not fit for use in purifying the hands because by rubbing the hands with dust, the hands cannot be purified.

O Nanda, similarly the earth from around the trees, green crops, the earth dug from under the tree or taken out of the water of the river are unfit for purification. Similarly the one who cuts the melon and the one who extinguishes the lamp, has to be born with ailment and is always born a pauper. The one who places a lamp, Śivaliṅga, Śālagrāma, gems, image of the gods, yajñopavīta, the gold, śaṁkha jewels, diamonds, urine of the cow, cowdung, ghee, the water of the Śālagrāma, on the ground has to fall in the hell. Ultimately he is born as a pauper, miser, suffering from leprosy, having no issues, without land, without a wife, without the people, without relatives, a degraded one, blind, hunchback, lame, without feet and is born as deformed. The one who sleeps during the time of performing sandhyā, thrice a day and cohabits with his wife, has to face the ailment for seven births together with poverty. When someone brushes his teeth, sunrise who is the lord of the universe, such a sinner can say that I am performing the adoration of lord Janārdana. In case one adores Śiva by making a Śivaliṅga in earth, ashes, cowdung or sand, even once he resides in the heaven for a hundred kalpas. In case, one adores a thousand Śivaliṅgas, all his desires are fulfilled .

By adoring a lakh of Śivaliṅgas one achieves the position of Śiva. Thus a Brāhmaṇa who adores Śivaliṅga, is deprived of the future birth. A Brāhmaṇa who does not adore Śiva, he is sure to fall in the hell. Such of the people who denounce me for adoring Śiva, they fall in the hell and remain there up to the life of a hundred Brahmās. In case at the time of adoration, sand is found with the Śivaliṅga in that case the devotee becomes blind and in case of any hair having been found there with the Śivaliṅga, the devotee is born as Yavana besides being degraded, as a pauper, miser and suffering from horrible ailment. He has to face great losses and is reborn in degraded yonis. Of all the people in the universe, Brāhmaṇas are dear to me. Lakṣmī is dearer to me than the Brāhmaṇas who always reside in my heart. Rādhā is dearer to me than Lakṣmī and my devotees are dearer to me than Rādhā and Śiva happens to be the dearest of all. No one else is dearer to me than Śiva because whosoever recites the name of Mahādeva, while walking I at once follow him. My mind is always devoted towards the devotees. Rādhā happens to be my life while Śiva happens to be my soul, who is dearer to me than my life. I create the universe through Nārāyaṇī, the eternal force, who preserves the universe as well and is also responsible for its destruction. The gods like Brahmā and others are born out of her. With her influence the entire universe is victorious, she starts creation and without her the universe cannot survive. She is the form of mercy, sleep, nectar, satisfaction, lust, faith, forgiveness, patience, maintenance, peace and shyness. She happens to be Mahālakṣmī in Vaikuṇṭha, the chaste Rādhikā in Goloka, Lakṣmī in the ocean of milk and Satī, the daughter of Dakṣa, she is also known as Durgā who destroys misfortune, Pārvatī the daughter of Menakā, Svaraglakṣmī in the house of Indra beside Sarasvatī, Sāvitrī and the great goddess of knowledge with Brahmā.

She happens to be the power of burning with Agni, the lustre of Sūrya, the rays of the moon, the coolness of water, the producer of greenery and cereals and the divine śakti of the gods.

She is the tapas of the mendicant, the family deity of the house-holders, the salvation for those seeking salvation, the hope for the worldly people, the devotion for my devotees and she always remains alive and devoted to me. She happens to be the Rājyalakṣmī of the kings, the income of the Vaiśyas and the three-fold force which enables the people to cross over the ocean of the universe. She is the intelligence of the wise people, the commentary on the Vedas and other scriptures, the power of giving charity with the donors for Brāhmaṇas with the Kṣatriyas and with the chaste woman she is the form of devotion for husband. I have handed over this type of Nārāyaṇī to Śiva. I have thus explained to you everything; what more do you want to listen to from me? You tell me. I will surely reveal the truth to you.

The Description of Visible Things

नन्द उवाच

येषां च दर्शने पुण्यं पापं यस्य च दर्शने।
तत्सर्वं वद सर्वेश श्रोतुं कौतूहलं मम॥१॥

Nanda said- O supreme lord you tell me the things by looking at which one earns merits and those by looking at which one earns sins. I am quite anxious to know about them.

श्रीभगवानुवाच

सुब्राह्मणानां तीर्थानां वैष्णवानां च दर्शने।
देवताप्रतिमादर्शी तीर्थस्नायी भवेन्नर:॥२॥

Kṛṣṇa said- The best of Brāhmaṇas, the holy places, the images of Viṣṇu and other gods are quite appropriate for looking at and by doing so one earns the merit of taking a bath at a holy place.

सूर्यस्य दर्शने भक्त्या सतीनां दर्शने तथा।

Similarly, the sight of Sūrya with devotion, chaste woman, a mendicant, a yogī, a Brahmacārī, a cow, a fire, a teacher, an elephant, a lion, a white horse, a parrot, a cuckoo, a wagtail bird, a goose, a peacock, a Nīlkaṇṭha, a Śaṅkha bird, a cow with a calf, a pīpala tree, a woman whose son and husband are alive, a traveller going to the holy places, a lamp, a gold, a gem, a jewel, a diamond, a ruby, a Tulasī and a white flower remove the sins. O great king, one earns merit by looking at a flute, white paddy, ghee, curd, honey, a pitcher filled with water, paddy, a mirror, water, a garland and white flowers. A person also earns merit by looking at gorocana, camphor, silver, pools and an orchard with blossoming flowers .

शुक्लपक्षस्य चन्द्रं च पीयूषं चन्दनं तथा।

O Nanda, a person also attains merit by looking at the moon of the bright fortnight, nectar sandal-paste, kastūrī and saffron beside the banner, the banyan tree, auspicious abode of the gods, temple of the gods and the caves.

देवाश्रितं देवघटं सुगन्धिपवनं तथा।

And the sight of the divine kalaśa in a temple, inhaling fragrant breeze, blowing of the śaṁkha and the beating of drums also bestow merit on the people. In case one looks at śakti, gem, silver, crystal, kuśamūla, earth of Gaṅgā, kuśa grass and copper, he surely achieves merit.

In case one looks at the urine of a cow, the cowdung, the milk, cowdust, the abode of a cow, a place having the foot prints of a cow and ripe crop, he surely achieves merit. Looking at a beautiful damsel, a girl of sixteen years clad in beautiful costumes and adorned with divine ornaments, chaste woman, the best of dūrvā-grass, unbroken rice and the best of food also provides one the merits. The one who performs the adoration of the image of Rādhā on the full moon day in the Kārtika month and offers her his adoration, he is relieved of the bondages of birth and death.

He enjoys all the riches like Kubera for seven births enjoying the company of his sons and grandsons. The one who observes fast on Ekādaśī day and breaks the fast on Dvādaśī day, after getting up early in the morning taking a bath and visiting the image of Annapūrṇā on Kāśī he is relieved of the cycle of birth and death. On the fourteenth day of bright fortnight of the month of Caitra, the one who visits the temple of Bhadrakālī at Kāmarūpa and offers his salutation to her, is also relieved of the cycle of birth and death.

On the day of Rāmanavamī one who performs the adoration of Rāma and worships him bowing in reverence he is relieved of the cycle of birth and death. The one who worships the lord in the Puṣkara-kṣetra or Badrik*āśrama* and worships the god after taking a bath and observing fast he is surely relieved of the cycle of birth death. The one who performs the piṇḍadāna at Viṣṇupada and adores lord Viṣṇu, he is relieved of the cycle of birth and death together with his ancestors; the one who shaving his head in Prayāga and goes to Naimiṣāraṇya observing fast, he is relieved of the cycle of birth and death .

The one who adores Madhusūdana placing him on the auspicious pedestal and offers his salutation with devotion, he is relieved of the cycle of birth and death. In the age of Kaliyuga the one who adores lord Jagannātha seated on the chariot and who performs his pūjā with devotion, he is relieved of the cycle of birth and death.

The Vidyādharas adore me performing divine dance in heaven and at the same time Vibhīṣaṇa arrived there for bowing in reverence to Śiva. The Gandharvas and Kinnaras beautifully sing at night and at the same time Mādhava also arrived for adoring Śiva. Adoring Śiva having the crescent on his head, being lord of all, the god dwells there. A person is relieved of birth and death after adoring him there and ultimately arrives in the abode of Śiva. When the sun is on the southward movement the one who adored Sūrya at Koṇārka, after observing fast, he is relieved of birth and death.

The one who adores the images of Pārvatī, Kārttikeya, Gaṇeśa, Nandī and Śiva in the holy place of Kṛṣikoṣṭha, Suvasana, Kalaviṅka, Vasundharā, Vispandaka, Rājakoṣṭha, Nandaka, Puṣpabhadrka, he is surely relieved of the cycle of birth and death. By fasting there one has to adore the gods offering prayers and one has to break the fast by consuming curd, only then the fast is considered to be successful. At Citrakūṭa mountain close to the western ocean, there is a mountain known as Maṇibhadra, the one who adores the lord thereafter observing fast which has to be broken after consuming curd, one achieves salvation.

The one who builds a flower orchard, a bridge, a well, a pool and the abodes of Brāhmaṇas his life meets with success. O father, no one knows about the merit one earns by constructing the abodes of the sages, the mendicant, the gods and the Brāhmaṇas because the particles of the dust on the earth can be counted as also the drops of rains but in case an abode is provided for a Brāhmaṇa its merit is beyond description. The one who provides livelihood to a Brāhmaṇa, he is relieved of the cycle of birth and death and achieves the eternal Lakṣmī. Thereafter, by achieving salvation he achieves my slavehood and devotion and then proceeds to Vaikuṇṭha and he never falls from Vaikuṇṭha like me. The one who gives away a girl of eight years adorned with ornaments to a Brāhmaṇa, he achieves the merit of donation to goddess Durgā .

He witnesses all the divine articles, is adored in Brahmaloka, achieves my slavehood and enjoys all the pleasures of Vaikuṇṭha. Anyone who witnesses the marriage, he earns the merit of donating crores of gold coins. Ultimately he achieves heaven and the indestructible Lakṣmī.

The one who looking at a helpless pauper Brāhmaṇa of high family and marries him, he achieves mokṣa definitely The one who on an auspicious day, donates with devotion a chatra or sandals to Tulasī, the beloved of the lord Śālagrāma, he earns the merit of donating land. If one gives away in charity an elephant, he enjoys the dwelling in heaven up to the number of years equivalent to the hair on his body and the one who donates a great elephant, he earns four times the merit described earlier. He enjoys all the pleasures in my abode. This has been described in the Vedas. Similarly by giving away a white horse in charity, one earns half the merit of donating an elephant and by donating several types of horses, one earns one-fourth of the merit. O father, by donating a black cow one earns the merit equivalent to the donating of an elephant. He does not get the same merit by donating another cow and by giving away in charity an ordinary cow one earns half the merit. O virtuous one, he who donates a cow with a calf earns the merit of donating land. He who donates land, has to remain in my abode till the number of years equivalent to the particles of dust of that land. One earns great merit by donating knowledge and he enjoys pleasure in Vaikuṇṭha for a long time.

Similarly by donating gold one gets riches and by donating silver one achieves kingship. The merit one earns by donating food is beyond description. By serving food to a Brāhmaṇa one earns great merit. This is the reason why no charity is considered to be bigger than of serving the food to the needy persons. While giving away food in charity, one remains unmindful of the receiver and there is no other rule specially applicable to this purpose. Thus the one, who serves food in charity, he earns the merit and the person who receives the food also does not earn sin. This is the reason why the giving away of food in charity has been considered to be quite graceful and leads one to Vaikuṇṭha. In case a cloth is given to a poor Brāhmaṇa, the donor earns to stay in Vaikuṇṭha delightfully till the number of years equivalent to the number of threads of the cloth. Thereafter he stays in Candraloka and Varuṇaloka with great pleasure. By placing a wick in an iron lamp, whosoever offers it to lord Viṣṇu, his house always remains lighted and even Yama, the god of death, cannot create darkness in his house. He ultimately achieves my abode. In case a similar type of lamp is given away in charity to a Brāhmaṇa, the donor does not have to face the torture of Yama and ultimately he achieves great pleasure up to a divine thousand years in the abode of Indra.

Thus one gets a seat in heaven according to the number and quantity of things donated by him. By donating the best of things one enjoys his stay in heaven for a lakh of years and by donating medium type of things his stay is reduced to half and by donating a betel one enjoys the best of pleasure in heaven for a hundred years and by donating a garland one achieves whatever he desires; thus one achieves a place in heaven according the things donated by him and the person who receives such a donation. The one who donates an ordinary bed, he resides in heaven for a hundred years. By donating an excellent bed he enjoys his stay in heaven for four times more the number of years and by donating and extraordinary bed one enjoys his stay in heaven for three lakhs of years. Similarly, by donating a house to a helpless Brāhmaṇa one enjoys his stay in heaven up to the life of Indra. By serving food to a hungry Brāhmaṇa one achieves imperishable wealth and an increase of his sons and grandsons. Therefore, O lord of Vraja, you proceed to Vraja at the moment and after reaching there you advise all the people of Vraja to behave accordingly. O lord in the Gokula, the cows and the cowherds are getting upset because of my absence; you reassure them all and remain gracefully. O Nanda, I have made you aware of the merit one earns by giving away in charities. This should not be discussed among the degraded people; only then one earns the result of having good dreams.

उक्त्वा तद्द्विगुणं पुण्यमप्रकाश्य चतुर्गुणम्॥८०॥

The unfortunate person of Kaśyapa gotra, a degraded person, an enemy, a foolish person and woman should not be told about this and the same should be told to an intelligent Brāhmaṇa. By speaking the same in the temple of the god, a pīpala tree or Tulasī plant or a banyan tree, one gets double the merit. In case it is not revealed to any person, one gets four times the merit.

By witnessing a good dream an intellectual gets the merit of taking a bath in the Gaṅgā, besides riches, wealth, wife, land, sons and people besides salvation. He achieves all types of pleasures and his desires are fulfilled. Thus, O lord, I have spoken to you whatever I had heard earlier.

The Good Dreams

नन्द उवाच

केन स्वप्नेन किं पुण्यं केन मोक्षो भवेत्सुखम्।
कोऽपि कोऽपि च सुस्वप्नस्तत्सर्वं कथय प्रभो।।१।।

Nanda said- O lord, which one of the dreams bestows merit and by witnessing which dream one achieves mokṣa, which one of the dream bestowed pleasure and which ones of them are considered to be good dreams.

श्रीभगवानुवाच

वेदेषु सामवेदश्च प्रशस्त: सर्वकर्मसु।
तथैव कण्वशाखायां पुण्यकाण्डे मनोहरे।।२।।
स व्यक्तो यश्च दु:स्वप्न: शश्वत्पुणफलप्रद:।
तत्सर्वं निखिलं तात कथयामि निशामय।।३।।

Śrī Kṛṣṇa said- Of all the Vedas, Sāmaveda is considered to be the best for performing all types of deeds. In the Manohar-puṇya-kāṇḍa of the Kaṇvaśākhā, the bad dreams and the good dreams which bestow merit have been described. O father, I am highlighting all of them, you kindly listen to me attentively. I am narrating to you the chapter on good dreams which bestows immense merit. By listening to the chapter on great dreams one earns the merit of taking a bath in Gaṅgā.

स्वप्नाध्यायं प्रवक्ष्यामि बहुपुण्यफलप्रदम्।
स्वप्नाध्यायं नर: श्रुत्वा गङ्गास्नानफलं लभेत्।।४।।

चतुर्थे चार्धमासेन स्वप्न: स्वात्मफलप्रद:।
दशाहे फलद: स्वप्नोऽप्यरुणोदयदर्शने।।६।।
प्रात:स्वप्नश्च फलदस्तत्क्षणं यदि बोधित:।
दिने मनसि यद्दृष्टं तत्सर्वं च लभेद्ध्रुवम्।।७।।
चिन्ताव्याधिसमायुक्तो नर: स्वप्नं च पश्यति।
तत्सर्वं निष्फलं तात प्रयात्येव न संशय:।।८।।

The dream is witnessed during the first Prahara of the night bestows the reward in a year; the dream witnessed in the second Prahara produces the result in eight months and the one witnessed in the third Prahara bestows the result in three months and the dream witnessed in the fourth Prahara of the night can produce the result in fifteen days. The dream which is witnessed during the dawn produces the result in ten days. And in case a dream is witnessed in the early morning it gives the result instantaneously. Whatever is seen is thought during the day and is reflected in the dream. O father, when a person who is infatuated with worry and disease, witnesses a dream it becomes of no consequence.

दिगम्बरो मुक्तकेशो न लभेत्स्वप्नजं फलम्।।९।।
दृष्ट्वा स्वप्नं च निद्रालुर्यदि निद्रां प्रयाति च।
विमूढो वक्ति चेद्रात्रौ न लभेत्स्वप्नजं फलम्।।१०।।

The one who is lying motionless and is suffering from the force of urine and refuse or is infatuated with fear, is naked or with dishevelled hair, the witnessing of a dream by such a person is of no consequence. In case a sleeping person after witnessing a dream or narrates it to someone in the night itself, he does not have to get a reward for it.

उक्त्वा काश्यपगोत्रे च विपत्तिं लभते ध्रुवम्।
दुर्गते दुर्गतिं याति नीचे व्याधिंप्रयाति च।।११।।
शत्रौ भयं च लभते मूर्खे च कलहं लभेत्।
कामिन्यां धनहानि: स्याद्रात्रौ चोरभयं भवेत्।।१२।।

If a person of Kaśyapa gotra witnesses a dream, he surely invites misfortune. In case the dream is told to an unfortunate person, one has to face misfortune; by speaking the same to a degraded person one invites ailment; by speaking out the same to an enemy, one invites fear; by narrating it to a foolish person, one invites quarrel; by speaking to a damsel one is deprived of the riches and when one narrates it during the night, one has to face the danger of theft.

निद्रायां लभते शोकं पण्डिते वाञ्छितं फलम्।
न प्रकाश्यश्च सुस्वप्न: पण्डितै: काश्यपे व्रज।।१३।।

If one, after witnessing a dream, again goes to sleep he meets with grief and if the dream is retold to an intellectual, the desire is fulfilled. Therefore, O lord of Vraja, the intellectuals should not discuss about the dream with persons of Kaśyapa gotra.

गवां च कुञ्जराणां च हयानां च व्रजेश्वर।
प्रासादानां च शैलानां वृक्षाणां च तथैव च।।१४।।
आरोहणं च धनदं भोजनं रोदनं तथा।
प्रतिगृह्य तथा वीणां सस्याढ्यां भूमिमालभेत्।।१५।।
शस्त्रास्त्रेण यदा विद्धो व्रणेन कृमिणा तथा।
विष्ठया रुधिरेणैव संयुक्तोऽप्यर्थवान्भवेत्।।१६।।

O lord of Vraja, one gets food and cries (weeping), if one witnesses in the dream a cow, an elephant, a horse, palaces, climbing on the mountains. By receiving vīṇā one gets enough of paddy and land. If the limbs are out with the attack of weapons or one gets wounded or having been bitten by insects or touching the refuse and blood, one gets wealth.

स्वप्नेऽप्यगम्यागमतो भार्यालाभं करोति य:।
मूत्रसिक्त: पिबेच्छुक्रं नरकं च विशत्यपि।।१७।।
नगरं प्रविशेद्रक्तं समुद्रं वा सुधां पिबेत्।
शुभवार्तामवाप्नोति विपुलं चार्थमालभेत्।।१८।।

The one who enjoys the pleasure of the company of an unchaste woman, he achieves a good wife. By getting soaked in urine, drinking semen, entering a city or the hell, drinking of blood, water of the ocean or the nectar, one gets good news besides enormous riches.

Except ashes, bones and cotton if anything else which is white is seen in a dream it is considered to be quite fortunate. Similarly except the cow, the elephant, the horse, a Brāhmaṇa and the god, all the black things witnessed in the dream are denounced; the one who meets a divine woman, wearing a smile on her face adorned with all the gem-studded ornament, belonging to the Brāhmaṇa caste or arrives in the house of anyone, he surely achieves great profits. A Brāhmaṇa, a god, a Brāhmaṇī, the daughter of the god or a Brāhmaṇa couple when seen in a happy mood as in dream they bestow the reward on anyone who surely gets a son. O Nanda, the one who is bestowed with the blessing of a Brāhmaṇa in the dream and whatever he speaks, it comes out to be true and his riches and horses go on increasing .

In case, in the dream, if a divine damsel comes and speaks to a person, "You are my lord". And he wakes up at the same time then he surely becomes a king. In the dream in case, the goddess Kālikā" appears and offers a rosary of crystal beads or the vajra of Indra or the bow, such a person surely achieves great glory. In case a Brāhmaṇa tells somebody, "You are my slave," he becomes devoted to lord Hari and achieving my slavehood he is called a Vaiṣṇava. In the dream a Brāhmaṇa is represented in the form of Viṣṇu and Śiva. The Brāhmaṇī represents Lakṣmī and Pārvatī, the white complexioned woman represents the mother of the gods, Gaṅgā or Sarasvatī, the one who takes to the form of the cowherdess, surely stands for Rādhikā my beloved and the cowherds are the form of the cowherds of Goloka. This has been ordained by those well-versed in the dreams. O Nanda, I have thus narrated to you everything about dreams; what else do you want to listen to from me? What more should I speak.

Discourse to Nanda on Spiritualism

नन्द उवाच

श्रीकृष्ण जगतां नाथ सुस्वप्नश्च श्रुतो मया।
वेदसारो नीतिसारो लौकिको वैदिकस्तथा।।१।।

Nanda said- O Kṛṣṇa, O lord of the universe, I have listened to your discourse on good dreams quite carefully which is the gist of the Vedas and is a part of worldly practices.

अधुना श्रोतुमिच्छामि पापं येषां च दर्शने।
यस्मिन्कर्मणि वा वत्स तन्मां कथितुमर्हसि।।२।।

O son, by witnessing dreams and by performing deeds one earns sins. I would like to listen to them from you at present; you kindly tell me about the same.

वचनं वेदशास्त्रोक्तं तथा वेदानुयायिनः।
श्रोतुमिच्छन्ति संतप्ता लोकास्त्वन्मुखतस्तथा।।३।।
वेदानां जनकस्त्वं च वैदिकानां सतामपि।
ब्रह्मादीनां सुराणां च मुनीनां जगतामपि।।४।।

Thus, the followers of the Vedas listen to the provisions of the Vedas and other scriptures, with devotion. Similarly the people of the world remain anxious to listen to your nectar-like words because you happen to be the creator of the Vedas. The Vedic people, the intellectuals, Brahmā and other gods besides the sages also preserve them.

श्रुतं यत्त्वन्मुखाम्भोजात्प्रमाणं वचनामृतम्।
तेन देहोऽभिषिक्तो मे वत्सविच्छेददाहनः।।५।।

स्वप्ने यच्चरणाम्भोजं सर्वकामफलप्रदम्।
ब्रह्मादयो न पश्यन्ति तदद्य दृष्टिगोचरम्।।६।।

Therefore, O son, whatever nectar-like words I have listened to from your lotus-like mouth, have made my body burning with the fire of separation, quite cool and calm, your lotus-like feet fulfil all the desires and even Brahmā and other gods are unable to have a look at your lotus-like feet even in dream. Fortunately I am looking at them with my own eyes .

अत: परं त्वत्पदाब्जं क्व पश्यामि च पातकी।
विण्मूत्रधारी देहो मे निबद्धश्च स्वकर्मणा।।७।।
ईदृशं च दिनं वत्स कदा मम भविष्यति।
त्वया ब्रह्मादिनाथेन संवादो मम पापिन:।।८।।

After this where can sinners like me have a glance at your lotus-like feet? My body is filled with refuse and urine and is entangled and is bound with the fetters of my deeds. O son, when shall the day come when I would be able to talk again to a person like you, who are the lord of the Brahmā and other gods.

कृपां कुरु कृपानाथ मम दोषं क्षमस्व च।
वत्सबुद्ध्या च दुर्नीतं यत्कृतं च महेश्वर।।९।।
ब्रह्मेशशेषमुनयो ध्यायन्ते त्वत्पदाम्बुजम्।
सरस्वती श्रुतिर्यस्य स्तवने जडतां व्रजेत्।।१०।।

Therefore, O merciful one, O son, you kindly forgive me for the same. The gods Brahmā, Śiva, Śeṣa, the sages, always meditate upon your lotus-like feet and Sarasvatī and śruti are unable to recite your glory becoming dumb before you .

इत्येवमुक्त्वा नन्दश्च निरानन्द: शुचाऽऽकुल:।
मूर्छामाप रुदित्वा च पुत्रविच्छेदविह्वल:।।११।।
संत्रस्तो भगवान्कृष्णो बोधयामास यत्नत:।
परमाध्यात्मिकं ज्ञानं ददौ तस्मै जगत्पति:।।१२।।

Thus speaking Nanda who was deprived of pleasure and filled with grief, because of the separation from his son fainted while crying. Finding him in such a condition Viṣṇu felt panicky and started convincing him variously, bestowing the extremely spiritual knowledge on him .

श्रीभगवानुवाच

हे नन्द जनकश्रेष्ठ सर्वश्रेष्ठ व्रजेश्वर।
चेतनं कुरु कल्याणं ज्ञानं च परमं शृणु।।१३।।
परमाध्यात्मिकं ज्ञानं ज्ञानिनां च सुदर्लभम्।
वेदशास्त्रे गोपनीयं तुभ्यमेव ददाम्यहम्।।१४।।

Śrī Kṛṣṇa said- O Nanda, O best of the kings, best of the lord of Vraja, you regain consciousness and listen to my words which are beneficial and spiritual. This spiritual knowledge is even beyond the reach of the great yogīs, quite secretive in the Vedas and other scriptures, which is being bestowed by me on you .

निबोध श्रूयतां नन्द सानन्द: सुसमाहित:।

स्थिरो भव महाराज व्रजनाथ व्रजं व्रज।
ज्ञानं लब्ध्वा सदानन्द: शोकमोहविवर्जित:।।१६।।

O Nanda, you delightfully listen to it with apt attention and follow it, because by doing so one is relieved of birth, death, old age and ailments. Therefore, O lord of Vraja, O great king, be composed and receiving the divine knowledge be relieved of grief and illusion and blissfully move to Vraja.

This entire movable and immovable universe is of no consequence like a water bubble, it is like a morning dream and leads only to illusion. The human body of five elements which is the cause of the building of the universe, also falls and is perishable. A human considers the illusion as truthful and in all his actions he is overpowered by desire anger, greed and illusion. He is over-powered by sleep, drowsiness, hunger, thirst, forgiveness, devotion, mercy, shyness, peace, belief, support, satisfaction and other elements. He 's involved in the worldly affairs with his mind, intelligence, consciousness, breathing, knowledge, soul, the lord of all and the supreme knowledge. Brahmā is my mind, the eternal Prakṛti is the wisdom, Viṣ ṇu is the breathing and consciousness is the great goddess Lakṣmī. Till such time as I remain in the body everything moves. When I leave the body, the same is deserted by everyone; without me the body falls in no time. All the five elements of the body that is earth, water, fire, wind and sky are merged in the five elements .

नामसंकेतरूपं च निष्फलं मोहकारणम्।
शोकश्चाज्ञानिनां तात ज्ञानिनां नास्ति किंचन॥२५॥
निद्रादयः शक्तयश्च ताः सर्वाः प्रकृतेः कलाः।
लोभादयो ह्यधर्मांशास्तथाऽहंकारपञ्चमः॥२६॥

O father, that is why the whole universe is the cause of illusion alone, in which the wise people do not attract grief and the intellectuals never indulge in the same. All the śaktis like sleep, etc., are the rays of Prakṛti. Desire, anger, greed, illusion and arrogance are the aṁśa of adharma or sin .

ते ब्रह्मविष्णुरुद्रांशा गुणाः सत्त्वादयस्त्रयः।

The aṁśas of Brahmā, Viṣṇu and Śiva are reflected with sattva, tamas and rajas. The all knowledgeable Śiva and myself whom the form of the soul, when I enter into the Prakṛti then I become saguṇa. Brahmā, Viṣṇu and Śiva are all saguṇa, in other words in these forms, I take up the task of reconstruction. Dharma, Śeṣa, Sūrya, the moon are all my aṁśas; similarly all the sages, the ascetics are also part of my aṁśas. I pervade in all the bodies in the worlds but I never get involved in anyone of them. My devotee always gets relieved of birth, death and old age.

He becomes the great Siddhā, virtuous, glorious, intellectual, poetic, achieves such four types of siddhis and can destroy the deeds. I always remain present in my devotees, my devotees do not want anything else. He is engaged in achieving siddhis which are known to have twenty two types .

O Nanda, you listen to me about them from my mouth and receive the siddhamantra. The names of the siddhis are aṇimā, Laghimā, Prāpti, Prākāmya, Mahimā, Īśitva, Vaśitva, Kāmāvasāyitā, Dūra-śravaṇa, Parakāya-praveśa, Manoyāyitva, Sarvajñatva, Agnistambhana, Jalastambhana, Ciraṅjīvitva, Vāyustambha, controlling of hunger, thirst and sleep, a Vāksiddhi, bringing up the dead body, the creation, prāṇāyama. The relevant siddha mantra is ओं सर्वेश्वराय सर्व विघ्न विनाशने मधुसूदनाय स्वाहा.

अयं मन्त्रो महागूढः सर्वेषां कल्पपादपः।

सामवेदे च कथितः सिद्धानां सर्वसिद्धिदः।।३८।।

This mantra is quite secretive and is like kalpavṛkṣa which has been prescribed in the Sāmaveda and provides all success to the siddhas.

अनेन योगिनः सिद्धा मुनीन्द्राश्च सुरास्तथा।

All these yogīs, the ascetics and the gods achieve success by reciting the mantras, by consuming the haviṣya food in the Nārāyaṇa-kṣ etra; by reciting this mantra for a hundred lakhs of times, the intellectuals meet with success. O father, you go to Kāśī and recite this mantra over the Maṇikarṇikā ghāṭa.

शृणु नारायणक्षेत्रं जलाधस्तच्चतुष्टयम्।

I am now talking to you about Nārāyaṇa-kṣ etra which you may please listen to. Up to the width of four hands of the flowing water in the river, the place has been described as Nārāyaṇa-kṣetra, only Nārāyaṇa happens to be the lord of this place and none else.

ज्ञानं चात्र मृते लोके मूर्तिर्भवति तस्य वै।

A person who dies at that place, achieves salvation and divine knowledge. If anyone recites the mantras even without performing vrata, he is relieved of the cycle of birth and death; there is no doubt about it.

O lord of Vraja, you go to Vraja and purify the place. O father, now I am telling you about the person by looking at whom one earns a sin. You please listen to me. The bad dream is the result of sinful ways and is the result of many of our actions. One earns sins by looking at the killer of a cow, the killer of a Brāhmaṇa, an ungrateful person, a wicked person, a destroyer of the images of the gods, the killer of the parents, a betrayer of the faith, a giver of false witness, those who extend ill treatment to beggars, those who performed yajñas in villages, the one who snatches away the livelihood of the gods and the Brāhmaṇas, the one who cuts the pīpala tree, the one who denounces Śiva and Viṣṇu, a person without Dikṣa, the Brāhmaṇa who falls in evil ways and those who are deprived of the sandhyās thrice a day. By looking at the pujārī of a temple, the driver of the bulls, the store-keeper of the Śūdras, the one who burns the dead bodies of the Śūdras and takes the food of śrāddha with them, a woman having no son or a husband, women with severed nose, those who denounce Brāhmaṇas and the gods, a lady who is not devoted to Viṣṇu or her husband, a widow Śūdra woman, a cāṇḍāla woman, a loose-woman and those who always remain in anger, the wicked person, the indebtors, varṇasaṅkaras, the thieves, those who always speak untruth, these who come to take refuge, the thieves of meat, a Brāhmaṇa having a Śūdra as his wife, a Śūdra cohabiting with a Brāhmaṇa woman, the money lender, the wicked person who cohabits with a Brāhmaṇa woman and a person who is denounced by all the varṇas.

The eighteen types of women have been described as inaccessible. They include the mother, the step-mother, the mother-in-law, wife of the teacher, wife of son, wife of the brother, sister of the mother, sister of the father, wife of the nephew, brother's wife, newly wedded wife of others, aunt, the women in period, mother of the father and the mother of the mother. O lord of Vraja, the list of these has been provided in the Sāmaveda which is fully supported by the people of wisdom. If anyone looks at them with side glances or touches them with evil intentions he earns the sin of Brahmahatyā.

तस्माद्दैवेन ता दृष्ट्वा सूर्यं दृष्ट्वा हरिं स्मरेत्।
कामतो यदि पश्यन्ति विनिन्द्यास्ते भवन्ति वै॥५६॥

In case one accidentally looks at them with an evil eye, he should at once worship Hari. Whosoever looks at them with passionate intentions, always earns denouncement.

तस्मात्सन्तो न पश्यन्ति शापभीता व्रजेश्वर।
राहुग्रस्तं रविं सोमं न पश्यन्ति विपश्चित:॥५७॥

O lord of Vraja, therefore, the wise people never cast an evil eye on them. The intellectuals never look at the sun and the moon when they are eclipsed by Rāhu.

In case the son is in the house of the birth, the eighth house, the seventh house, the twelfth house, ninth house and tenth house and in that case one should not look at the sun. In case the moon is in the constellation of birth and the fourth and eighth house, then one should not look at the moon. The moon rising in the bright fort-night in the month of Bhādrapada is known as Naṣṭacandra. The intellectuals should not look at it.

O Nanda, in case someone intentionally looks at the moon, he earns a blemish like the kidnapping of Tārā by moon; in case anyone looks at it, unconsciously then one should drink the sanctified water.

By doing so, a person is purified and is relieved of all sins on earth. The mantra which purifies the water is like this :

O prince, don't cry, you take this Syamantaka gem because of which a lion had killed Prasena and the lion was killed by Jāmbavān. The water sanctified by this mantra should always be consumed. I have thus spoken all the essential things to you. What more shall I speak.

Reason for not viewing the Eclipsed Sun

नन्द उवाच

राहुग्रस्तः कथं सूर्यश्चन्द्रो वाऽपि जगत्प्रभो।
नेष्टश्चन्द्रः कथं भाद्रे चतुर्थ्यां चासिते सिते॥१॥

Nanda said- O lord of the universe, why is the viewing of the sun and moon eclipsed by Rāhu and the moon on the fourth day of the bright fortnight is prohibited? .

वेदानां जनकस्त्वं च कं पृच्छामि त्वया विना।

इति तद्वचनं श्रुत्वा चेदं वचनमब्रवीत्॥२॥

You are the creator of the Vedas, therefore who else could be consulted on the subject? This is a secret topic in the Vedas as well as in the Purāṇas. Because of this, even the people with wisdom are not aware of the same. On hearing this, the lord said to him.

श्रीभगवानुवाच

बिश्वस्तं वचनं तात न प्रकाश्यं मनीषिभिः।
विघ्नः प्रकाशे भवति सतां छिद्रं च दैवतः॥४॥

The lord said- The revealing of this secret is prohibited in the Vedas; therefore you please forgive me and you ask for something else. O father, the secret things are not revealed by the learned people, because by doing so some obstructions or dissension's are created among the intellectuals.

नन्द उवाच

कथयस्व जगन्नाथ न भक्ते वञ्चनं कुरु।
अदृश्यौ चापि देवेशौ राहुग्रस्तौ च पुण्यदौ॥५॥

Nanda said- O lord of the universe, you kindly tell me. Do not deprive a devotee of the knowledge; why are the sun and the moon getting eclipsed considered as auspicious?.

श्रीभगवानुवाच

Lord Kṛṣṇa said- O Nanda, I an going to narrate to you an old story by listening to which, a man is freed from blemish and earns the merit of having a bath in a holy place. I am going to tell you the same. You please listen. The sin one earns after looking at a most sinful person-all such sins are washed out by listening to the story.

Once, Jamadagni delightfully went to the bank of Narmadā together with his wife Reṇukā. He enjoyed the water-sport with her on the bank of the river; she was newly wedded, beautiful, quite youthful, clad in beautiful garments, wearing a serene smile on the face, adorned with the best of ornaments studded with gems, heaving with the weight of her breasts, having a developed pelvic region, moving slowly, the best of the beauties, having the complexion of white campaka flowers and the face like the full moon and the sharp side-glances.

O lord of Vraja, she was clad in extremely fine garments and was filled with passion; she was feeling emotional and had fainted after the union. The sweet notes of the cuckoos, the hissing sound of the black wasps, the fragrant breeze, the flower beds arranged on the bank of the river looked quite fine. The sage had his body plastered with sandal-paste and having the rosary on the clothes, was engaged in the love-sport with the damsel. At that point of time the sun spoke to him, "You are the great grandson of Brahmā the lord of the universe, who happens to be the creator of the Vedas. You are yourself quite well-versed in the Vedas and the post-Vedic literature, well-versed in the dharma, the best of those well-versed in the Vedas, a great ascetic, illustrious, a Brahmacārī and performer of the best of vratas.".

The people attain wisdom with the study of the scriptures composed by you. It is quite religious to act according to the provision of the Vedas and to act against them is quite sinful. Therefore, being well-versed in the dharma, why are you acting in an opposite manner? How have you been indulging in the sinful ways when the Vedas prohibit union between a man and woman during the day time?.

I am the witness of all the religious people; that is why I am speaking to you like this. On hearing the words of the sun the sage stopped enjoying the conjugal pleasures and finding Sūrya having been turned into the form of a Brāhmaṇa, the sage was over-powered with shame and anger. His mouth became red in anger. Reṇukā also hurriedly clad herself in the garments.

Jamadagni said- How do you consider yourself a great intellectual; is there no other intellectual on earth beside you? I am a pupil of sage Bhṛgu and you happen to be a pupil of sage Kaśyapa. I am quite well-versed in all the four Vedas and the provisions of dharma and the sins prescribed there in. The actions according to the Vedas are considered to be dharma and the opposite of the same is called sinful. Whatever you have spoken now is meant for the people without wisdom and those who are inactive having been surrounded with their own deeds. But the illustrious person while moving in an opposite direction does not earn and sin like the fire flames which consumes everything. The people, yourself and all others are witnesses of dharma and your son named dharma also bestows the reward for the deeds, still you do not happen to be the rulers of the Vaiṣṇavas like us.

The devotees of lord Vāsudeva never meet with any evil because the Sudarśana-cakra of the lord always protects them. Therefore, O son, none of the gods like Nārāyaṇa, lord Brahmā, Śiva, Yama and you yourself can control us. We people always move at will like the princes. I can reduce all the people including Yama and the gods to ashes. O son, I can make Mahendra and others lifeless just in a moment.

How could you be the spokesperson for me? You go to your abode, Śrī Kṛṣṇa happens to be my only lord who is beyond Prakṛti. Arriving in this lonely place, you have destroyed my conjugal pleasures. Because of this, you would disappear due to your being eclipsed by Rāhu .

The clouds who used to arrive to have a look at you always remained at a distance from you but with the blowing of the wind they would cover you and your arrogance and lustre would disappear with then. Getting covered by the clouds, you would lose your lustre and you would be eclipsed by Rāhu. Listening to the words of Brāhmaṇa, the sun offered prayers to Jamadagni with folded hands

The sun said- O well-versed in dharma, all the Brāhmaṇas are adorable, graceful and respected, even lord Nārāyaṇa, Śiva, Brahmā, Gaṇeśa, Śeṣa, eternal dharma and even Janārdana in the form of a Brāhmaṇa, adore the Brāhmaṇas. O Brāhmaṇa, we are receiving everything that is given by the Brāhmaṇas. The Brāhmaṇas as well as the god of fire are extremely important for us, they happen to be the mouths for all the gods. The Brāhmaṇas are the best and you happen to be the pure Vaiṣṇava. You perform your dharma. The Vaiṣṇavas are devoid of anger, in whose mind the lord Janārdana always resides. The Brāhmaṇas are adorable by us and you adore all the gods. Therefore, O Brāhmaṇa, this type of conduct begets mutual love. If you have pronounced a curse on me, I am also going to pronounce a curse on you, because otherwise you would feel that the sun has no lustre. Therefore, O Brāhmaṇa, you would he defeated by a Kṣatriya and you would meet your end with the weapon of a Kṣatriya. On hearing the words of the sun, the Brāhmaṇa was again enraged as a result of which his face became extremely red, he pronounced another curse on the sun saying, You would be defeated by Śiva.

O lord of Vraja, knowing about the dispute of both of them, Brahmā and Kaśyapa arrived there. On their arrival Brahmā, the teacher of all, the well-known persons spoke to the panic-stricken Sūrya and the extremely religious sage Jamadagni.

ब्रह्मोवाच

क्षमस्व भास्कर त्वं च साक्षान्नारायणो भवान्।

Brahmā said- O sun, you are the form of Nārāyaṇa, therefore you forgive the Brāhmaṇa who is to be maintained by you and is not to be killed. I would reveal to you the result of the curse pronounced by you because I have arrived here getting terrified at the instance of Bhṛgu, Kaśyapa and Marīci. Therefore I am going to speak out plainly. O best of the gods, you be peaceful, you are the witness of all the people, sometime you would be covered by the clouds but then again you would be freed from the same.

You would be eclipsed by Rāhu when the year has a short or the access of a month. At that point of time you would not be looked at by the people but for some people looking at you would be quite meritorious. Besides this a look at you at all the times would bestow merit. People would be relieved of their sins by going before you .

By remaining in the house of birth, the seventh, eighth, tenth, ninth, fourth and tenth house, you would be invisible for the people and similarly at the time of sunset, with the sky over-cast with clouds, at noon, in the water and when half risen, your viewing would earn sin for the people.

Because of the grief of the wife, moving in the forest or the abode of father-in-law and wives' brothers your lustre would be reduced. Otherwise your wife Sañjñā would be unable to bear your heat. You would be defeated by Śiva while engaged in the battle with the demons named Mālī and Sumālī

O lord of Vraja, thus speaking to Sūrya, Brahmā further said to the Brāhmaṇa who was quite humble, defeated by the curse, feeling shameful and enraged. He said, "O Brāhmaṇa, now you go to your abode." O son, you can reduce the entire universe to ashes in a moment. Instead of behaving like that you comfortably go to your abode because you have to serve the sun always and the sun to you. Thus the relation between both of you is adorable and stands and stands for survival of both of you. A king named Kārtavīrya Arjuna would be born in the race of Kṣatriya and you would be defeated at his hand and meet with your end.

Your path of the birth and death has not been destroyed so far but Nārāyaṇa would be your son from his aṁśa who would relieve the earth of Kṣ atriyas, twenty one times and your death at the hands of a Kṣatriya would earn glory in the universe.

O lord of Vraja, after thus speaking Brahmā went to the Brahmaloka. Thereafter Bhāskara and Jamadagni also reverted to their respective places. O father, the reason for which the sun is eclipsed and is not to be viewed during that time, the same reason has been highlighted by me. O father, I shall now narrate to you the old story relating to the prohibiting of the viewing of the moon during the fourth day of the black fortnight of the month of Bhādrapada and the reason for the sun getting eclipsed with the curse of the sage are related to the old story which I am going to tell you now

Śrī Kṛṣṇa said- In earlier times, Tārā, the wife of teacher Bṛhaspati was quite youthful, adorned with gem-studded ornaments, clad in extremely fine garments, was quite chaste, having a developed pelvic region, wearing a serene smile on her face, quite charming, beautiful and good looking, her hair was adorned with the garland of jasmine flowers, she had a developed forehead with sandal-paste and a spot of vermilion and kastūrī. She wore anklets which were made of the best of gems, she had beautiful side-glances and collyrium was applied over her eyes, she had beautiful teeth like jewels. She had a pair of ear ornaments which adorned her temples. Thus the beautiful damsel walked like an elephant, quite slowly, having tender limbs, a moon like face and was quite passionate. She after taking a bath in the river Mandākinī was adorned with wet garment. With her mind devoted to the feet of her husband, as soon as she was about to leave for her home, the moon was infatuated with passion at the sight of her beautiful figure and fainted. O lord of Vraja, this moon fainted on the fourth day of the bright fortnight and he retained consciousness. Mounted on the chariot he forcibly carried Tārā holding her with her hand and mounted her on the chariot. Getting passionate, he carried her on the chariot and embraced her. Then the moon was found getting ready for a union with her, Tārā spoke to him.

तारकोवाच

त्यज मां त्यज मां चन्द्र सुरेषु कुलपांसन।
गुरुपत्नीं ब्राह्मणीं च पातिव्रत्यपरायणाम्॥११॥
गुरुपत्नीसंगमने ब्रह्महत्याशतं भवेत्।
गुरुपत्नी विप्रपत्नी यदि सा च पतिव्रता॥१२॥

Tārā said- O moon you leave me, O blemish for the gods, leave me alone. I happen to be the wife of your teacher and also the daughter of a Brāhmaṇa, I have always been chaste and virtuous. One has to earn the sin of hundred Brahmahatyās by cohabiting with the wife of a teacher. If the wife of a teacher happens to be the daughter of a Brāhmaṇa and a chaste one, cohabiting with her earns the sins of a thousand Brahmahatyās.

ब्रह्महत्यासहस्रं च तस्या: संगमने लभेत्।
पुत्रस्त्वं तव माताऽहं धैर्यं कुरु सुरेश्वर॥१३॥
धिक्त्वां श्रुत्वा सुरगुरुर्भस्मीभूतं करिष्यति।
पुत्राधिकश्च शिष्यश्च प्रियो मत्स्वामिनो भवान्॥१४॥
स्वधर्मं रक्ष पापिष्ठ मामेवं मातरं त्यज।
दास्यामि स्त्रीवधं तुभ्यं यदि मां संग्रहीष्यसि॥१५॥
विलङ्घ्य तारावचनं तां च संभोक्तुमुद्यतम्।

राहुग्रस्तो घनग्रस्त: पापदृश्यो भवान्भव।
कलङ्की यक्ष्मणा ग्रस्तो भविष्यसि न संशय:॥१७॥

Therefore, lord of gods, you be patient, look I happen to be your mother and you happen to be my son. In case you indulge in such a type of deplorable action, you will earn disgrace and on hearing this Bṛhaspati, the teacher of the gods would reduce you to ashes. You happen to be the pupil of my husband and are dear to him like his own son. Therefore, sinful one, don't indulge in this. You leave the mother like me free and protect the dharma and in case you would touch me again I shall shower on you the sin of the killing of a woman. The moon a on the other hand, did not listen to the words of Tārā and got ready to cohabit with her. At this Tārā who was free from passion and was quite chaste, became enraged and pronounced a curse on him, "You would be eclipsed by Rāhu, covered with the clouds and would be quite sinful to look at. You would be filled with blemish and suffer from the disease of consumption. There is no doubt about it.".

चन्द्रं शप्त्वा तदा तूर्णं कामदेवं शशाप सा।

चन्द्रस्तारां गृहीत्वा च कृत्वाऽपि रमणं व्रज।
क्रोडे निधाय प्रययौ रुदतीं तां शुचाऽन्विताम्॥१९॥

Thus pronouncing a curse on the moon she also pronounced a curse on the god of love, "You would be reduced to ashes by an illustrious person. O lord of Vraja, thereafter the moon caught hold of Tārā and enjoyed her company who was crying and sobbing. He took her in his lap and moved from that place.

Thereafter he took her to secluded places, the charming and beautiful mountains pools, rivers and rivulets, the beautiful valleys, the flower orchards which were surrounded by the black wasps and the cuckoos issuing sweet notes. He also took her to the flower orchards and enjoyed her company on a bed of flowers. Thus the moon having his body plastered with the sandal-paste, consuming beverages and was so immensely absorbed in the company of Tārā that he lost track of day and night.".

He moved on the chariot to the Malaya mountain and Malaya forest with the fragrant breeze blowing in the forest of sandal-wood, the shores of the western ocean peaks of the Trikūṭa mountain, under the shed of the banyan tree, in the pool, over the lotus leaves plastered with sandal-paste, in the charming orchard, of the campaka flowers, on the land of sea-shore of the ocean of milk, over the Krauñca mountain, mountain of gold, mountain of gems, mountain of rubies, sapphire and diamond which looked quite beautiful. They were decorated with different types of costumes, white fly-whisks, the mirrors, lamps of gems. They visited places of love sports, loving places and consumed the intoxicated beverages at the places were Varuṇa cohabits with Varuṇānī. The same places were used by the moon to enjoy the company of Tārā. Thereafter they went to the sacred orchard on the bank of the river Ratnamālā, the Ṛkṣa mountain, the forest of kalpavṛkṣa and the abode of Svāhā, the beloved of Agni. The moon enjoyed the company of Tārā. Then they reached the shore of the ocean of milk and consumed the milk of Kāmadhenu.

He presented her with a pair of garments sanctified by fire. Varuṇa gave the garland of gems and the wind god presented a gem-studded chatra.

निरपेक्षो मुनिश्रेष्ठो वेदवेदाङ्गपारग:॥३३॥

In the meantime, he spotted the sage Śukrācārya who had returned from the abode of Bali. The moon bowed before him and narrated to him the entire story, taking refuge with him. Śukrācārya, the best of the sages who was well-versed in the Vedas and post-Vedic literature, tried to convince him with appropriate words.

शृणु वत्स प्रवक्ष्यामि गुरवे देहि तारकाम्।

पूजिताय सुराणां च देया तस्मै निशापते।
प्रियाय तत्प्रियां दत्त्वा शीघ्रं त्वं शरणं व्रज॥३५॥

Śukra said- O son listen to me, whatever I tell you, you hand over Tārā to Bṛhaspati, who is the pupil of Śiva, since you are the son of his teacher and the great grandson of Brahmā. You hand over the beloved of your teacher, who is adored by the gods and at once take refuse with him.

ब्रह्महत्यासहस्राणां पातकं लभते जन:॥३७॥

O virtuous one, at my command you release the wife of your teacher because she happens to be like your mother and perform repentance for your sin, because it is quite virtuous to get relieved of the ill effects of the sin. By forcibly cohabiting with the chaste wife of the teacher was to earn the sins of a thousand Brahmahatyās.

He also falls in the kumbhīpāka hell and has to live there up to the life of a hundred Brahmā's. The lord Nārāyaṇa treats equally all from a blade of grass to Brahmā. Therefore, O son, in case even Brahmā has to face the result of his deeds, then you are of no consequence, all the gods, the demons and all the three types of creatures are depending on Nārāyaṇa alone.

The Abduction of Tārā

श्रीकृष्ण उवाच

एतस्मिन्नन्तरे शुक्रः सुरश्रेणीं ददर्श सः।

Śrī Kṛṣṇa said- In the meantime Śukra witnessed Devasenā (army of gods) who was moving through the sky, wearing a coat of arms.

In the army there were three crores of flags, hundred crores of great chariots, hundred crores of elephants and four times more chariots, four times the terrific horses and six times more of the number of horses were the foot soldiers.

Mahendra mounted on the Airāvata, Dharma on the white horse. Kubera, Varuṇa, Agni and the wind god mounted on chariots. The god of death mounted on a buffalo, Sūrya mounted on a chariot, Śiva mounted on a bull and Ananta mounted on a serpent. The Ādityas, Vasus, Rudras, Siddhas, Gandharvas, Kinnaras and the sages having the lustre of the sun were also moving.

तत्र तस्थौ दैत्यसैन्यं पुण्यक्षीरोदधेस्तटे॥९॥

O lord of Vraja, looking at the army of gods, Śukra remained unmoved and assuring the moon, he summoned double the army. The army of the demons was lodged on the shore of the ocean of milk, the banks of Ratnamālā river and the āśrama of Agnipriyā.

एतस्मिन्नन्तरे शुकः समीपे सरसस्तटे।

In the meantime Śukra the spotted Śiva who had arrived there with the army of gods, camping near the bank of the pool under the eternal banyan tree. He mounted on a bull, bestowed welfare and was holding the trident and paṭṭiśa as weapons. He was clad in tiger skin, possessed great lustre and had taken to human form to grace his devotees. He was bestower of all the riches, all knowledgeable, the cause of all, the lord of all adorable by all, the eternal one, always anxious to help the grief-stricken people who come to take refuge with him, wearing a serene smile on the face and was illumining with the eternal lustre. Śukra became upset, got up at once, went to him and bowed at his feet.

Getting extremely pleased lord Śiva who is beyond everything pronounced a blessing on him. Thereafter, Śukra made him sit on the gem-studded lion throne. O Brāhmaṇa, in the meantime Śukra spotted Brahmā also who was peaceful, the creator of the universe and was mounted on a beautiful chariot of gems, clad in divine garments sanctified by fire, adorned with the rosary of crystal beads, having a delightful face, wearing a smile on the face. He was the supreme lord of the spotless universe, granter of boons, tapas for the ascetics, the creator of the Vedas, the source of the Vedas and was quite charming to look at.

In the meantime Śukra who was panic-stricken offered his salutation to him with folded hands and offered him a gem-studded lion throne as a seat with great devotion. Śukra adored both the gods, devoting the mind at the lotus-like feet. Being the form of welfare he did not think it proper to enquire about their welfare. Thereafter Brahmā, the creator of the universe, with the permission of Śiva spoke to Śukrācārya the words which were quite appropriate.

शृणु शुक्र प्रवक्ष्यामि दुर्नीतिं शशिनः सुत।
लज्जाकारं त्रिजगतां कर्म वेदबहिष्कृतम्।।२२।।

Brahmā said- O son Śukra, listen to me, I am going to tell you the misdeed of the moon which is disgraceful in all the three worlds and is against the Vedas. Chaste Tārā, the wife of his teacher, was about to go back to her home when the moon forcibly took her and has now taken refuge with you. O son, you look here the army of the gods which has arrived here for the same purpose. Myself and Śiva have arrived here before you for the same purpose.

Śiva said- O Brāhmaṇa, is case you are desirous of your welfare, you produce the moon here. I shall remove the head of that sinful person with the striking of this trident, otherwise in a moment I shall reduce the entire demon race to ashes. Because, O Brāhmaṇa, if I am enraged who can protect the demons, by using the Pāśupata weapon and the weapon of wind, I shall playfully destroy all the enemies of gods. The sage Aṅgirā is born in my race and is the teacher of Durvāsā. Because of the eternal relationship Bṛhaspati happens to be the son of my teacher. The illustrious teacher can reduce the moon to ashes but since he happens to be quite a dear pupil of the teacher, the compassionate teacher has not done so. In the earlier times Bṛhaspati had raped the wife of his elder brother Utathya getting infatuated with passion. Because of the curse of his brother his beloved also has been abducted.

पत्नीं मद्गुरुपुत्रस्य देहि तारां मनोहराम्।
मद्वैरिणं च चन्द्रं च भ्रातृभर्यापहारिणम्।।३१।।

You hand over to the son of my teacher, his wife Tārā and the one who has abducted her who is none else than the moon himself.

If a competent person does not protect the person who comes to take refuge with him then he has to fall in the hell for a period of the life of the fourteen Indras. Here, since the sinful person comes to take refuge with you, I don't have to think of anything else because if a sinner takes refuge with someone, the person who protects him also becomes a sinner. There is no doubt about it.

देहि तं विप्रशार्दूल पापिनं मातृगामिनम्।
बहिष्कृत्य स्वाश्रमाच्च तारासाध्वीसमन्वितम्।।३४।।

O Brāhmaṇa, you take out the chaste Tārā and the sinful moon who has cohabited with his own mother and hand over both of them to us.

Śukra said- You are the lord of the gods, the demons and the entire universe and you rule over the same. Who else can rule over the gods and the demons. Therefore by helping the gods why should you destroy the demons. You are the destroyer of the universe, then why should you display your prowess over the demons alone.

You are the form of flames, with qualities, without qualities and the eternal Brahma. Because of the difference in guṇas, you appear as Brahmā, Viṣṇu and Śiva in three separate forms. O Lord, it is you alone who remain present at the gate of the king Bali, holding a gadā in your hand. Both Indras and Bali have been bestowed with Rājalakṣmī by you.

O lord, O Śiva, O Tārā, you shed away the anger; what type of glory are you going to achieve by killing a Brāhmaṇa? I cannot hand over the moon to you till I am alive since he had taken refuge with me, becoming grief-stricken, shameful, down-trodden and sinful. Therefore, O Śiva, I take refuge under your lotus-like feet. O virtuous one, you now do whatever you think best. Not only I myself but the entire universe is ruled by you. On hearing the words of Śukra, Śiva felt delighted and said, "Bring the moon, the lord of night here at once". On his arrival here, he would meet with welfare.

एतस्मिन्नन्तरे ब्रह्मा बोधयित्वा कविं विभुः।

O lord of Vraja, in the meantime, the lord Brahmā made the poet Śukra to understand the reality. He brought Tārā and the moon there and presented them at the lotus-like feet of Śiva. Śiva embraced lovingly the moon.

दत्त्वा तस्मै पादरेणुं निष्पापं च चकार सः।

Then dropping the dust of his feet over the moon, he purified him completely. Thereafter the compassionate Śiva placed his hand on the head of the moon and freed him from danger. Thereafter, both Śiva and Brahmā made the moon to have a bath in the ocean of milk, in repentance and made him sinless and pure. Thereafter Śiva the lord of the yogīs, divided the moon into two parts. One part of the moon was placed by Śiva on his head. Therefore since that time Śiva is known also by the name of Candraśekhara and the part having the sign of the deer earned the blemish and started feeling shameful among the gods.

लज्जया च स्वयोगेन देहत्यागं चकार सः।
तच्छरीरं च क्षीरोदे ब्रह्मणा च समर्पितम्।।४९।।
रुरोदात्रिश्च कृपया शुचा क्षीरोदधेस्तटे।
अत्रेश्चक्षुर्जलं तस्य पपात च जले व्रज।।५०।।

Thereafter by yogic practices he ended his body which was thrown away by Brahmā in the ocean of milk. Finding this, the sage Atri feeling compassionate started crying at the shore of the ocean of milk. O lord of Vraja, as soon as the tears of the sage Atri were dropped into the ocean of milk, the moon was relieved of all the sins.

तस्माद्बभूव चन्द्रश्च निष्पापो देवसंसदि।
ब्रह्मा च भगवाञ्छंभुरभिषेकं चकार तम्।।
उवाच तं महादेवो निर्भयं देवसंसदि।।५१।।

Thereafter both Śiva and Brahmā crowned the moon and in the assembly of gods, lord Śiva spoke to the moon.

महादेव उवाच

स्वस्थानं गच्छ पुत्र त्वं कुरुष्व विषयं मुदा।
पश्चात्तस्याश्च शापेन यक्ष्मग्रस्तो भविष्यसि।।५२।।

Mahādeva said- O son, you go back to your home and enjoy all the worldly pleasures. Thereafter because of the curse of Tārā you will have to suffer from the disease of consumption.

व्यर्थं पतिव्रताशापं कर्तुमीशश्च को भुवि।
मदाशिषा यक्ष्मणश्च प्रतीकारो भविष्यति।।५३।।
यस्माद्भाद्रचतुर्थ्यां तु गुरुपत्नीक्षतिः कृता।
तस्मात्तस्मिन्दिने वत्स पापदृश्यो युगे युगे।।५४।।

Who is competent enough to neutralise the curse of a chaste woman on earth? But because of my blessing the disease of consumption will also be removed. You have caused harm to the wife of your teacher on the fourth day of a Bhādrapada, therefore, with each yoga your sight would earn sin to the viewers.

नाभुक्तं क्षीयते कर्म कल्पकोटिशतैरपि।
अवश्यमेव भोक्तव्यं कृतं कर्म शुभाशुभम्।।५५।।
देहत्यागेन हे वत्स कर्मभोगो न नश्यति।
प्रायश्चित्तान्न संदेहो ह्यस्तमेव भविष्यति।।५६।।

Because an evil deed cannot be destroyed even after the lapses of crores of kalpas without facing the reward for it. Therefore the result of the good or evil deeds performed by anyone has to be faced. O son, even after the death, the deeds never vanish but after performing repentance, they surely get destroyed.

तारापहरणावत्स कलङ्कश्चन्द्रमण्डले।
मृगाकृतिर्विलग्नश्च भविष्यति युगे युगे।।५७।।
शृणु वाक्यमिहाऽऽगच्छ तारके च पतिव्रते।

अकामतो बलात्साध्वी न स्त्री जारेण दुष्यति।
कामतो नरकं याति यावच्चन्द्रदिवाकरौ।।५९।।

O son, because of the abduction of Tārā by the moon, the blemish in the form of the deer would always remain present in the body of the moon. O chaste lady, you come here and listen to me. You tell me plainly by whom have you conceived. O dear one, get yourself relieved of it and purify yourself. In case an unwilling and chaste lady is forcibly raped by someone she never gets impure but in case she enjoys the company of others willingly, she has to fall in the hell and remain there till the life of the sun end the moon.

उवाच तारा ब्रह्माणं गर्भं चन्द्रस्य सस्मितम्।
जहसुर्देवता: सर्वा: शंभुश्च मुनिसंघका:।।६०।।

Thereafter, Tārā smilingly spoke to Brahmā, I have conceived from the moon. On hearing this the gods, Śiva and sages started laughing.

ददौ तारां च गुरवे लज्जिताय व्रजेश्वर।
बृहस्पतिर्ययौ गेहं गृहीत्वा च पतिव्रताम्।।६१।।
तया प्रसूतं पुत्रं च सुन्दरं कनकप्रभम्।
गृहीत्वा प्रययौ चन्द्रो नमस्कृत्य विधिं शिवम्।।६२।।
ययुर्देवाश्च मुनय: शंभुश्च कमलोद्भव:।
प्रययौ स्वगृहं शुक्रो दैत्ययुक्तौ मुदाऽन्वित:।।६३।।
एतत्ते कथितं नन्द ह्याख्यानं पुण्यदं शुभम्।
एतच्छ्रुत्वा तु निष्पापो निष्कलङ्की नरो भवेत्।।६४।।
धन्यं यशस्यमायुष्यं सर्वसंपत्करं परम्।
शोकापनोदनं हर्षकरं सर्वत्र मङ्गलम्।।६५।।
त्यज शोकं सदा नन्द गृहं व्रज व्रजेश्वर।
ब्रूहि सर्वं यशोदां च मत्प्रसूं गोपिकागणम्।।६६।।
बोधयिष्यसि सर्वां तां स्त्रीजातिं शोकसंयुताम्।
मदीयज्ञानदत्तेन हर्षयुक्त: सदा भव।।६७।।

O lord of Vraja, Bṛhaspati was filled with shame and Brahmā handed over Tārā to him. The sage Bṛhaspati took the chaste lady with him and went to his abode. Tārā gave birth to a son at that very place who was quite beautiful, having the lustre of gold and quite illustrious. The moon owned him. Thereafter bowing in reverence to Śiva and Brahmā, both of them went back to their respective places. Śukra also was delighted with all the demons and went back to his abode. O Nanda, thus I have narrated to you this auspicious and pleasant story, which is quite graceful, bestows glory, increases age, bestowing all the riches, removes grief, increases pleasures and bestows all the welfare. Therefore, O lord of Vraja, disown all the grief and go back to your house and narrate all this that I have told you, to my mother Yaśodā and all other cowherdesses. In spite of that you try to console all the cowherdesses who are plunged in grief and extend to them the divine knowledge which has been imparted by me to you.

Subsiding of Evil Dreams

नन्द उवाच

श्रुतं सर्वं महाभाग दुःस्वप्नं कथय प्रभो।
उवाच तं वै भगवाञ्छ्रूयतामिति तद्वचः।।१।।

Nanda said- O virtuous one, O lord, I have heard everything, now you tell me about the evil dreams. "On hearing his words the lord said, you listen.".

श्रीभगवानुवाच

स्वप्ने हसति यो हर्षाद्विवाहं यदि पश्यति।
नर्तनं गीतमिष्टं च विपत्तिस्तस्य निश्चितम्।।२।।

Śrī Kṛṣṇa said- The one who laughs heartily in his dream, enjoys songs and dances according to his liking; besides he surely falls into danger.

दन्ता यस्य विपीड्यन्ते विचरन्तं च पश्यति।
धनहानिर्भवेत्तस्य पीडा चापि शरीरजा।।३।।

The one whose teeth are broken or fallen, meets with the loss of wealth besides suffering bodily disease.

अभ्यङ्गितस्तु तैलेन यो गच्छेद्दक्षिणां दिशम्।
खरोष्ट्रमहिषारूढो मृत्युस्तस्य न संशयः।।४।।

The one who applies oil on the body or is seated on a donkey, camel or a he-buffalo, moving towards the south, is sure to meet with his death.

स्वप्ने कर्णे जपापुष्पमशोकं करवीरकम्।
विपत्तिस्तस्य तैलं च लवणं यदि पश्यति।।५।।

नग्नां कृष्णां छिन्ननासां शूद्रस्य विधवां तथा।
कपर्दकं तालफलं दृष्ट्वा शोकमवाप्नुयात्॥६॥

The one who gives away in dream a japā puṣpa (Shoe flower)[1] an Aśoka[2] flower or karavīra-puṣpa[3] besides oil and salt, is sure to face misfortune. The one who meets in a dream a black unrobed Śūdra widow with a severed nose or comes across a small shell or the fruit of a tāla tree, he meets with grief.

स्वप्ने रुष्टं ब्राह्मणं च ब्राह्मणीं कोपसंयुताम्।
विपत्तिश्च भवेत्तस्य लक्ष्मीर्याति गृहाद्ध्रुवम्॥७॥
वनपुष्पं रक्तपुष्पं पलाशं च सुपुष्पितम्।
कार्पासं शुक्लवस्त्रं च दृष्ट्वा दुःखमवाप्नुयात्॥८॥

The one who witnesses in a dream in a Brāhmaṇa and his wife in anger he surely meets misfortune and his wealth departs from his home, by looking in a dream at the forest flowers, red flowers, a palāśa flower, cotton and white garments, one meets with grief.

गायन्तीं च हसन्तीं च कृष्णाम्बरधरां स्त्रियम्।
दृष्ट्वा कृष्णां च विधवां नरो मृत्युमवाप्नुयात्॥९॥
देवता यत्र नृत्यन्ति गायन्ति च हसन्ति च।

तत्रस्थोऽपि च जागर्ति मृत्युरेव न संशयः॥१४॥

The one who witnesses in his dream a lady clad in black garments who is smiling or a widow with black complexion, one surely meets with death. If the gods dance in the dream of anyone, laugh or pat the thighs or are shown running, he surely meets with his end. If someone vomits, eases, drops refuse or witnesses a physician, silver and gold, he surely meets with a calamity within ten days. If a person witnesses in a dream a black cloth, black colour and a woman with black colours and embraces her, he surely meets with his death. The one who meets with a dead calf, deer or a human with a shaven head or bones, he surely meets with some misfortune. The one who rides on a chariot driven by a donkey or a camel and after being seated in the chariot, he wakes up, he surely meets with his death.

अभ्यङ्गितस्तु हविषा क्षीरेण मधुनाऽपि च।

रक्ताम्बरधरां नारीं रक्तमाल्यानुलेपनाम्।
उपगूहति यः स्वप्ने तस्य व्याधिविनिश्चितम्॥१६॥

The one who finds himself soaked in ghee, milk, honey, butter milk or guḍa, he surely has to feel pain. The one who witnesses a woman in a dream clad in red costumes, wearing garlands of red flowers and with other means of decoration, he is surely over-powered with diseases .

पतितान्नखकेशांश्च निर्वाणाङ्गारमेव च।
भस्मपूर्णां चितां दृष्ट्वा लभते मृत्युमेव च॥१७॥
श्मशानं शुष्ककाष्ठं च तृणानि लोहमेव च।
शर्मी च किंचित्कृष्णाश्वं दृष्ट्वा दुःखं लभेद्ध्रुवम्॥१८॥

One meets with death in case he witnesses in his dream fallen nails, hair, coal, a heap of ashes and a burning fire. By witnessing the cremation ground, dry-wood, grass, iron, teakwood trees, a black horse in a dream he surely achieves grief.

पादुकं फलकं रक्तं पुष्पमाल्यं भयानकम्।
माषं मसूरं मुद्गं वा दृष्ट्वा सद्यो व्रणं लभेत्॥१९॥
कटकं सरठं काकं भल्लूकं वानरं गवम्।
पूयं गात्रमलं स्वप्ने केवलं व्याधिकारणम्॥२०॥

By looking at sandal, a bone of forehead, a terrific garland of red flowers, black gram, green gram, small grained pulse, he develops a terrific boil in his body. In case someone witnesses in his dream, an army, a chameleon, a crow, a bear, a monkey, a nīlagāya and puss, he surely develops ailment in his body .

1. Hibiscus Rosesinansis
2. Jonesia Asoka.
3. Nerium Oleander

भग्नभाण्डं क्षतं शूद्रं गलत्कुष्ठं च रोगिणम्।
रक्ताम्बरं च जटिलं सूकरं महिषं खरम्॥२१॥

ब्राह्मणो ब्राह्मणी बाला बालको वा सुतः सुता।
विलापं कुरुते कोपाद्दृष्ट्वा दुःखमवाप्नुयात्॥२४॥

If someone witnesses a broken vase, a wound, leprosy, a red garment, matted locks of hair, a pig, a he-buffalo, a donkey, thick darkness, a terrific dead body, male and female organs, he surely meets with misfortune. If anyone meets with a denounced mleccha holding a noose and a weapon in his hand beside the terrific messengers of Yama, holding a noose, one surely meets with death. One has to face grief in case one witnesses in a dream a Brāhmaṇa and his wife, a child, a son or a daughter crying and lamenting in anger.

कृष्णं पुष्पं च तन्माल्यं सस्यं शस्त्रास्त्रधारिणम्।
म्लेच्छां च विकृताकारां दृष्ट्वा मृत्युंलभेद्ध्रुवम्॥२५॥
त्यक्तप्राणं मृतं दृष्ट्वा मृत्युं च लभते ध्रुवम्।
मत्स्यादि धारयेद्यो हि तद्भ्रातुर्मरणं ध्रुवम्॥२६॥

By looking in a dream at a black flower, a garland with black flowers, crops, warriors with a coat of arms and a deformed mleccha woman, one surely meets with death. In the dream, if one consumes fish his brother surely meets with his end.

वाद्यं च नर्तनं गीतं गायनं रक्तवाससम्।
मृदङ्गंवाद्यमानं तं दृष्ट्वा दुःखं लभेद्ध्रुवम्॥२७॥
छिन्नं वाऽपि कबन्धं वा विकृतं भुक्तकेशिनम्।
क्षिपं नृत्यं च कुर्वन्तं दृष्ट्वा मृत्युं लभेन्नरः॥२८॥

By witnessing a musical instrument, a dance, a song and music besides red costumes, one surely has to face grief. If one comes across in a dream an injured person, a body without the head or the one with dishevelled hair, dancing rapidly and a deformed person, he surely meets with his death.

मृतो वाऽपि मृता वाऽपि कृष्णा म्लेच्छा भयानका।

The person who comes across in a dream, the creatures with horns or protruding teeth or children and the grown-up people become hostile to him, he meets with danger in the royal court. If someone witnesses a falling tree, a rain of stones, straw, a beggar, a red fire flame and a rain of ashes, he meets with grief.

गृहं पतन्तं शैलं वा धूमकेतुं भयानकम्।
भग्नस्कन्धं तरोर्वाऽपि दृष्ट्वा दुःखमवाप्नुयात्॥३३॥
रथगेहशैलवृक्षगोहस्तितुरगाम्बरात्।
भूमौ पतति यः स्वप्ने विपत्तिस्तस्य निश्चितम्॥३४॥

If one witnesses falling houses or a mountain, terrific comets or the broken branches of the trees, he meets with grief. The one who falls in a dream from a chariot, from a horse, from a mountain, from a tree, from a cow, from an elephant or from the sky on the earth, he surely meets with misfortune.

The one who falls from heights into ashes, into pits filled with fire-flames, into pits with salt or lime, he surely meets with his death. The one from whose head some wicked person forcibly snatches away the chatra, his father, teacher or the king he surely meets with his end; the one from whose house the terrified cows with calves run away, the fortunes from such a sinful person surely disappear. The one who is bound in a dream with the messengers of Yama or a mleccha with the noose and is driven away, he surely meets with his death. In case an astrologer, a Brāhmaṇa or his wife or a teacher pronounces a curse getting-enraged, he surely meets with misfortune. In case an enemy, crows, cocks, deer, pounce upon someone in a dream, he surely meet with his end.

In a dream, in case a he-buffalo, a bear, a camel, a pig or a donkey runs away in anger, he surely meets with ailment; by soaking the red sandal-wood in ghee, reciting the Gāyatrī mantra in case one makes a thousand offerings, the effect of a bad dream is wiped out. In case one recites the name of Madhusūdana in devotion a thousand times, such a person is relieved of all the sins and his bad dreams are turned into good dreams. In case an intelligent person recites the name of Acyuta, Keśava, Viṣṇu, Hari, Satyaka, Janārdana, Haṁsa and Nārāyaṇa with utmost devotion, one is relieved of the sin and his bad dreams turn into good dreams. By reciting the name of Viṣṇu, Nārāyaṇa, Kṛṣṇa, Mādhava, Madhusūdana, Hari, Narahari, Rāma, Govinda, Dadhivāmana, the ten names which bestow welfare a hundred times, such a person is relieved of all ailments. The one who recites the name of god a lakh of times, he is surely relieved of all the bondage's and by reciting the name ten lakhs of times, he is relieved of all the bondages. Consuming haviṣya food and reciting the name purifies a pauper who becomes rich and by reciting the name a hundred lakhs of times, one is relieved of the cycle of birth and death. The one who recites the mantra ॐ नमः शिवाय reciting the name of Durgā, Gaṇapati, Kārttikeya, Sūrya, Gaṅgā, Dharma, Tulasī, Rādhā, Lakṣmī and Sarasvatī standing in the water he gets his desires fulfilled and all his evil dreams turn into good dreams.

By reciting this mantra ten times after purifying oneself, the evil dreams are turned into good dreams. By reciting this mantra a hundred lakhs of times, one achieves success in this mantra and by achieving this success, he obtains all the siddhis.

दृष्ट्वा च मरणं स्वप्ने शतायुश्च भवेन्नरः।

काश्यपे दुर्गते नीचे देवब्राह्मणनिन्दके।
मूर्खे चैवानभिज्ञे च न च स्वप्नं प्रकाशयेत्॥५६॥

After facing death in a dream one should recite this mantra a lakh of times and by doing so one achieves one's age up to a hundred years. An intelligent person should reveal his dream facing the east or the north but those belonging to the Kaśyapa-gotra, the pauper, the degraded people, the denouncer of Brāhmaṇas and the gods, the foolish and ignorant should not be told about the dream.

अश्वत्थे गणके विप्रे पितृदेवासनेषु च।

One should speak out the dream before a pīpala tree, an astrologer, a Brāhmaṇa, the manes, seats of the gods, Ārya and Vaiṣṇava people besides friends. Thus I have narrated to you the story which relieves one of all the sins, is graceful, increases glory and age. What else do you want to listen to from me?.

The duties of all the four Varṇas and Others

नन्द उवाच

वेदानां कारणं त्वं च ब्रह्मादीनां च पुत्रक।
सर्वं कथय भद्रं ते कं पृच्छामि त्वया विना॥१॥

Nanda said- O son, you are the cause of the Vedas and Brahmā. Therefore, you tell us everything. You will meet with welfare. To whom shall I asked except you?.

विप्राणां यो हि धर्मश्च क्षत्रविट्शूद्रकर्मणाम्।

विप्राणां विधवास्त्रीणां वैष्णवानां सतामपि।
पतिव्रतानां स्त्रीणां च तत्सर्वं वक्तुमर्हसि॥३॥

What is the dharma of Brāhmaṇas, Kṣatriyas, Vaiśyas, Śūdras, mendicants, yogīs, Brahmacārīs, learned persons, widows, the noble people and those of the chaste woman? You kindly tell me in detail everything.

गृहिणां गृहिणीनां च शिष्याणां च विशेषतः।
पुत्राणां चापि कन्यानां पितरं मातरं प्रति॥४॥

O lord, you tell me in detail the duties of the householder, the wives of the house-holder, the pupils and the duties of the sons towards their parents and the duties of the daughters. You kindly speak them out in detail. O lord, what is the number of castes of the women, the number of the types of devotees, the number of the globes? You kindly tell me in detail everything .

श्रीभगवानुवाच

सध्यापूतः सदा विप्रः कुरुते मम सेवनम्।
नित्यं भुङ्क्ते मत्प्रसादमनिवेद्य कदा च न॥६॥

Śrī Kṛṣṇa said- A Brāhmaṇa gets himself purified after performing sandhyā, always serves me. He always take food with my left-over and he does not take food without offering me the same first.

अन्नं विष्ठा जलं मूत्रं यद्विष्णोरनिवेदितम्।
विष्णुप्रसादभोजी च जीवन्मुक्तश्च ब्राह्मणः॥७॥

The one who does not offer to Viṣṇu the food, it becomes like refuse and the water like urine. Therefore, a Brāhmaṇa who consumes the left-over of Viṣṇu is relieved of the cycle of birth and death.

नित्यं तपस्यानिरतः शुचिः शान्तश्च शास्त्रवित्।

दक्षिणां नित्यपूजानां गुरवे च निवेदयेत्।
गुरूणां पोषणं नित्यं कर्तव्यं नात्र संशयः॥१०॥

The one who remains engrossed in tapas, pure, peaceful, well-versed in the scriptures, the one who performs vrata and visits holy places, the one who engages himself in the study of many subjects and an extremely religious Brāhmaṇa getting sanctified with the Viṣṇu-mantra serves his teacher. Thereafter, accepting his command he becomes a house-holder. Such a Brāhmaṇa always adores his teacher daily and offers dakṣiṇā to him. He should always maintain his teachers daily. There is no doubt about it.

Of all the adorable persons, the guru happens to be the best. Indeed he is to be treated like Nārāyaṇa the lord of Lakṣmī. For that purpose alone everything is offered to the gods. This has been prescribed in the Vedas, one's own teacher is the consumer and has to be treated like Janārdana.

गुरुर्ब्रह्मा गुरुर्विष्णुर्गुरुरेव स्वयं शिवः।

The teacher is Brahmā, the teacher is Viṣṇu, the teacher is Śiva himself. All the gods reside in the teacher delight-fully. Therefore the lord becomes happy, all the gods always reside in the body of the teacher. Therefore, when the teacher is pleased, the lord himself is pleased and with his pleasure all the gods feel pleased. In case the teacher does not love his pupil like his own sons and does. not bless them when they adore him then he also earns the sin of Brahmahatyā. There is no doubt about it. The one who is devoted to his dharma and the one who serves Viṣṇu always, is considered to be quite an auspicious one. The rest are considered to be impure. Such of the Brāhmaṇa as make his livelihood by driving bullocks, cooking food for the Śūdras, serves as a temple priest or does not perform sandhyā, the one who sleeps during the day time or the one who consumes the food of śrāddha of the Śūdras and burns the dead bodies of the Śūdras, such a Brāhmaṇa could be equated with a Śūdra. The Brāhmaṇa, who, adoring Śālagrāma, sips the water of washing the same, takes food after offering him and also consumes the caraṇodaka of the same, he is relieved of all the sins and achieves Viṣṇuloka because by consuming the caraṇodaka of lord Hari, one earns the merit of having a bath in the holy places. The one who has the Śālagrāma stone, should take it for granted that such a person has earned the merit of taking a bath in the holy places besides earning the merit of performing the yajña. O lord of Vraja, the water with which Śālagrāma is washed, is considered to be ten times more auspicious than the sacred water of the Gaṅgā. Therefore the Brāhmaṇa always consumes the same. Such a Brāhmaṇa is relieved of the cycle of birth and death and becomes like gods. Therefore it is incumbent on the Brāhmaṇas that they should consume food only after offering naivedya to Viṣṇu.

शिवरात्रौ च हे तात श्रीरामनवमीदिने॥२५॥
न च भुङ्क्ते व्रती यो हि जीवन्मुक्तो हि स द्विजः।
पृथिव्यां यानि तीर्थानि यस्य पादे च तानि च॥२६॥

They adore Viṣṇu with devotion and consume his caraṇodaka as a part of daily routine. O father the one who performs sandhyā thrice a day and adores me with devotion performing vratas on Ekādaśī, Janmāṣṭmī, Śivarātri and Rāmanavamī day and does not take food, such a Brāhmaṇa is freed from the cycle of birth and death. All the holy places on earth reside on his feet.

विप्रपादोदकं पीत्वा तीर्थस्नायी भवेन्नरः।
विप्रपादोदकक्लिन्ना यावत्तिष्ठति मेदिनी॥२७॥
तावत्पुष्करपात्रेषु पिबन्ति पितरो जलम्।
विष्णुप्रसादभोजी च पवित्रां कुरुते महीम्॥२८॥
तीर्थानि च नरांश्चै व जीवन्मुक्तो हि स द्वि जः।
सर्वतीर्थेषु स स्नातो व्रतानां च फलं लभेत्॥२९॥

By consuming the water, washing the feet of a Brāhmaṇa, one earns the merit of having a bath in a holy place. Till such time the earth remains wet with the caraṇodaka of Brāhmaṇa, his ancestors consume the water in the lotus leaves. The one who consumes the left-over of Viṣṇu, such a Brāhmaṇa is purifies the earth, the holy places and all the people. And thereafter he is relieved of the cycle of birth and death, he achieves the merit of having bath in all the sacred places and for performing all the vratas

वह्निवायुसमः पूजस्तेजसा भास्करोपमः॥३०॥
यमदूतं यमं चैव स च स्वप्ने न पश्यति।
वैकुण्ठे मोदते सोऽपि पार्षदो हरिणा सह॥३१॥

He achieves the merit of performing Aśvamedha sacrifice at every step, he becomes purified like fire and the air, beside being illustrious like the sun. He does not witness Yama or his messengers even in dream and ultimately he becomes the courtier of the lord and move on to Vaikuṇṭha enjoying all the pleasures there.

न भवेत्तस्य पातो हि विप्रस्य हरिसेविनः।
विष्णुमन्त्रोपासकश्च स एव वैष्णवो द्विजः॥३२॥

A Brāhmaṇa who serves the lord, never meets with a fall, the one who adores the lord, never meets with a fall, the one who adores the lord reciting the Viṣṇu-mantra is known as Vaiṣṇava.

ब्राह्मणो वैष्णवः प्राज्ञो न हि तस्मात्परः पुमान्।
वेदोक्तो वा पुराणोक्स्तन्त्रोक्तो वा मनुः शुचि॥३३॥

A Vaiṣṇava-Brāhmaṇa is always well-read and no one could be compared with him. A mantra prescribed in the Vedas, Purāṇas or the tantras is considered to be quite auspicious.

विचारतो गृहीत्वा तं शैवः शाक्तश्च वैष्णवः।
गुरुवक्त्राद्विष्णुमन्त्रो यस्य कर्णे विशत्ययम्॥३४॥
तं वैष्णवं महापूतं प्रवदन्ति मनीषिणः।
मन्त्रग्रहणमात्रेण जीवन्मुक्तो भवेन्नरः॥३५॥

The one who receives the mantra after fully thinking about it, such a person is known as Śaiva, Śākta or Vaiṣṇava. The Viṣṇu mantra getting out of the mouth of the teacher, enters the ear of a devotee and such a person is considered to be an auspicious Vaiṣṇava. By receiving the mantra alone one is relieved of the cycle of birth and death.

भित्त्वा ब्रह्माण्डमखिलं यास्यत्येव हरेः पदम्।
पूर्वान्सप्त परान्सप्त सप्त मातामहादिकान्॥३६॥
सोदरानुद्धरेद्भक्तस्तत्प्रसूं तत्प्रसूं तथा।
जपेन्नारायणक्षेत्रे पुरश्चरणपूर्वकम्॥३७॥
पुरुषाणां सहस्रं च लीलयाऽऽत्मानमुद्धरेत्।
मन्त्रग्रहणमात्रेण फलमेतद्व्रजेश्वर॥३८॥

He pierces through the globe and moves on to the abode of the lord. A true devotee of Viṣṇu redeems the seven past and seven future generations including his brothers, parents and the mother of the mother. O lord of Vraja, one receives this reward soon after getting the mantra.

पुरश्चरणसंपर्कात्पुरुषाणां शतं शतम्।
ऐकान्तिको वैष्णवश्च पुंसां लक्षं समुद्धरेत्॥३९॥
क्रिया विष्णुपदे यस्य संकल्पाश्च बहि:कृता।
द्विजा: सुरा मम प्राणा भक्त: प्राणात्पर: प्रिय:॥४०॥

A person who performs the recitation of the mantra with Puraścaraṇa, he redeems his hundred past and hundred future generations. Those of the Vaiṣṇavas who are immensely devoted to the lord are beyond the Saṁkalpa but all the details are performed within Viṣṇupada. They redeem a lakh of their ancestors. The Brāhmaṇas and the gods are my witnesses but my devotees are the dearest among all.

विश्वेषु प्रियपात्रेषु न मे भक्तात्पर: प्रिय:।
तेजीयांसं गुरुं दृष्ट्वा सर्वत्र रक्षितुं क्षमम्॥४१॥
करोति मन्त्रग्रहणं तस्माद्भूयाद्विचक्षण:।
वयोहीनाज्ज्ञानहीनाद्विद्याहीनात्तथैव च॥
जातिहीनाद्गुरोर्मन्त्रं गृह्णीयान्न कदाचन॥४२॥

Of all the people in all the lokas my devotees are the dearest to me and there is none else equal to them. The one who receives the mantra from a teacher, who is illustrious and can protect at every step, he is bestowed with all the wisdom. The one who is younger in age, having little knowledge or learnings and belongs to a lower caste, the mantra should not be received from such a teacher.

अशास्त्रार्थं क्षतं मन्त्रं च गृह्णीयात्कदाचन।
मूर्खादाश्रमहीनाच्च पितु: संन्यासिनस्तथा॥४३॥
रोगिणो वंशहीनाच्च भार्याहीनात्तथैव च।
मन्त्रक्षिप्तात्तथा मन्त्रं न गृह्णीयात्कदाचन॥४४॥
विष्णुमन्त्रं न गृह्णीयाद्विष्णुभक्तिविहीनत:।
न च शैवान्न शाक्ताच्च गृह्णीयाद्वैष्णवाद्द्विजात्॥४५॥

The mantra which is against the meaning of the scriptures and is incomplete should not be received by anyone. Similarly one should not receive the mantra from a foolish person, the one having no āśrama, the father, the recluse, the ailing person and the person having no progeny or a wife. The one who is devoid of devotion to Viṣṇu, Śiva or Śakti, the Viṣṇu-mantra should not be received from him. The Viṣṇu-mantra should be received from a Vaiṣṇava Brāhmaṇa alone.

वयोहीनात्तथाऽल्पायुर्ज्ञानहीनादपण्डित:।
विद्याहीनाद्भवेन्मूढो जातिहीनात्क्षयो भवेत्॥४६॥
मूर्खान्मूर्खो भवेत्सद्यो दु:खी स्वाश्रमहीनत:।
यशोहानि: पितुश्चैव मृत्यु: संन्यासिनस्तथा॥४७॥
रोगिणो व्याधियुक्तश्च निर्वंशो वंशहीनत:।
भार्याहीनोऽपि स्त्रीहीनान्मन्त्रक्षिप्ताद्गुरो सम:॥४८॥

The one who receives the mantra from a person who is a physician his life span in shortened. The one who receives the mantra from a person without intelligence, he becomes a foolish fellow. The one who receives the mantra from a person without learnings, a fool or the one who belongs to a degraded caste, one meets with the fall of his position. By receiving mantra from a foolish fellow, one becomes a fool, the one who receives from a mendicant, having no āśrama, meets with grief the one who receives the mantra from his father, has to face losses. The one who receives the mantra from a recluse, has to meet with death and in case of receiving the same from a person with disease, he invites ailment and when receiving the same from a person having no sons, his progeny is destroyed. In case the mantra is received from a person having no wife, the receiver has to lose his wife. In case one receives a mantra, who forgets the same, the person who receives it also becomes forgetful.

शैवाच्छाक्ताद्गृहीत्वा च हरौ भक्तिर्न वर्धते॥४९॥

The one who receives the mantra from a person undevoted to Viṣṇu, such a person is deprived of the devotion and in case the mantra is received from a Śaiva or a Śākta, the devotion towards the lord never increases.

ब्राह्मणो वैष्णव: शुद्ध: पक्वान्नं दातुमीश्वर:।
पक्वान्नं हरये दातुमक्षमश्चेतरो जन:॥५०॥
ओंकारोच्चारणाद्धोमाच्छालग्रामशिलार्चनात्।
मह्यं पक्वान्नदानाच्च विप्रादन्यो व्रजेदध:॥५१॥

Only a pure Vaiṣṇava Brāhmaṇa can serve the fried food and none else. Because in case any other person except the Brāhmaṇa recites oṁkara or performs the homa adoring Śālagrāma and offers fried food to the lord, such a person is surely degraded.

उदासीनाद्दुराचारान्न गृह्णीयान्मनुं सुधी:।
दैवाद्यदि च गृह्णीयाद्धनहीनो भवेद्ध्रुवम्॥५२॥

The intellectuals should not receive the mantra from a sad or a wicked person. In case it so happens accidentally, such a person is relieved of all his fortunes.

ब्राह्मणानां सदा भक्ष्यं हविष्यं च निरामिषम्।
आमिषस्य परित्यागात्सूर्यवत्तेजसा भवेत्॥५३॥
नित्यं नूतनभाण्डेन कर्तव्य: पाक एव च।
अथवा पक्षपर्यन्तं ततस्त्याज्यं मनीषिभि:॥५४॥
स्थानं सुसंस्कृतं कृत्वा पाकं निर्वृत्य पूजक:।
स्थाने परिष्कृते विप्रो दत्त्वा मह्यं च भक्तित:॥५५॥

The Brāhmaṇas should always take the haviṣ ya and vegetarian food. Discarding meat a Brāhmaṇa shines like the sun. The intellectual Brāhmaṇas should use new ways for cooking daily or otherwise the food should be cooked for fifteen days and thereafter, the same should be discarded. My devotees should cook the food in a neat and clean place and should offer the same to me with devotion.

तदा निवेद्य भुङ्क्ते च दत्त्वा विप्राय सादरम्।
अनिवेद्य च भुक्त्वा च सुरापीतिर्भवेद्द्विज:॥५६॥
चन्द्रसूर्योपरागे वै चाऽऽशौचे मृतजातयो:।
स्पृष्टेनाशुचिना सद्य: पाकभाण्डं परित्यजेत्॥५७॥

After offering me and to the Brāhmaṇas, he should himself consume the food. Without offering the food to me if any Brāhmaṇa consumes the food, he becomes impure like the wine. After the solar or lunar eclipse, after the removal of the impurity of birth and death or after the touch of a vase by an unclean person, the vase for cooking should me immediately changed.

भृष्टं द्रव्यं तथाऽन्नं च धृत्वा धौते च वाससी।
पादप्रक्षालनं कृत्वा भुङ्क्ते स्थाने परिष्कृते॥५८॥
द्विर्भोजनं न कर्तव्यं स्थिते सूर्ये द्विजातिभि:।
निष्फलं तद्भवेत्कर्म भुक्त्वा च नरकं व्रजेत्॥५९॥

The fried cereals and the food should be taken getting clad in two garments, washing the feet at a neat and clean place. The people of high castes should not take food twice during the day because by doing so all the actions becomes infructuous and the consumer is driven to hell.

यात्रां युद्धं नदीतीरं पुनर्भोजनमैथुने।
वर्जयेच्छ्राद्धदिवसे हविष्याशी च संयमी॥६०॥
द्विजाय विष्णुभक्ताय पात्रं दद्याद्बुधाय च।
वृषलीतपतये चैव न दद्याच्छूद्रयाजिने॥६१॥
संध्याहीनाय दुष्टाय वृषवाहाय यत्नत:।
शुकविक्रयिणे चैव देवलाय कदाचन॥६२॥
प्रदत्तं पात्रमेतेभ्यो ब्राह्मणं नरकं नयेत्।
पात्रे भुक्त्वा तद्दिवसे मैथुनान्नरकं व्रजेत्॥६३॥
सर्वेभ्य: पातकी तात कन्याविक्रयकारक:।
मूल्यं गृहीत्वा यो दद्यात्स महारौरवं व्रजेत्॥६४॥

The one who consumes haviṣya food, controlling his senses, is prohibited from starting on a journey during the day of śrāddha, for a war, crossing a river, eating again and cohabiting. The intelligent people and the Vaiṣ ṇava should be given the vases, the one who is the husband of a Śūdra woman, the one who performs yajñas with the Śūdras, the one who is deprived of sandhyā, the wicked person, those earning a living by driving bullocks, the sellers of parrots, the temple priest, should never be offered the charities, because by offering these to such persons, the donor surely reaches hell. In case someone, after performing śrāddha and eating food, cohabits with his wife, he surely falls in to hell. O father, the one who sells away the daughter is considered to be the biggest sinner. The one who sells away the daughter after accepting a price, such a sinner has to fall into the terrible hell.

कन्यालोमप्रमाणान्तं वर्षं च पितृभिः सह।
कुम्भीपाके पच्यते च पुत्रश्चापि पुरोहितः॥६५॥

Then he has to fall in to the kumbhīpāka hell together with his ancestors, sons and the priest up to the number of hair on the body of the girl.

तस्मात्कन्यां सुपात्राय दानं कुर्याद्विचक्षणः।
शूद्रवद्ब्राह्मणेभ्यश्च नैव तद्वंशजाय च॥६६॥

Therefore an intelligent person should give away the daughter to a competent person. Such of the Brāhmaṇas as behaves like Śūdras, the daughter should not the married in his family.

विप्रवैष्णवयोर्धर्मः कथितश्च व्रजेश्वर।
यदुक्तं च पुराणैश्च चतुर्भिः श्रुतिभिस्तथा॥६७॥

O lord of Vraja, I have thus highlighted to you the duties of the Brāhmaṇas and the Vaiṣṇavas as prescribed in the Vedas and the Purāṇas.

द्विजार्चनं क्षत्रियाणां तथा नारायणार्चनम्।
राज्यानां पालनं चैव रणे निर्भयता तथा॥६८॥
नित्यं दानं ब्राह्मणेभ्यः शरणागतरक्षणम्।
पुत्रतुल्यं प्रजानां च दुःखिनां परिपालनम्॥६९॥
शस्त्रास्त्राणां च नैपुण्यं रणे शौण्डीर्यमेव च।
तपश्च धर्मकृत्यं च यत्नतः कुरुते मुदा॥७०॥

Now you listen to the dharma of Kṣatriyas. All the Kṣatriyas should always adore the Brāhmaṇas, Nārāyaṇa, rule the countries, should become fearless in the battle-field, give away charity to the Brāhmaṇas, protect those who take refuge with them, protect the people who are suffering, like their own sons, should achieve mastery in archery and the scriptures and display prowess in the battle-field and should continue to perform tapas and other religious duties.

पण्डितं नीतिज्ञास्त्रज्ञं नित्यं च परिपालयेत्।
नियोजयेत्सभामध्ये नित्यं सद्भिश्च संयुते॥७१॥
हस्त्यश्वरथपादातं सेनाङ्गं च चतुष्टयम्।
पालयेद्यत्नतो नित्यं यशस्वी च प्रतापवान्॥७२॥
रणे निमन्त्रितश्चैव दाने च विमुखो भवेत्।
रणे वा यस्त्यजेत्प्राणांस्तस्य स्वर्गो यशस्करः॥७३॥

They should always maintain a well-read Brāhmaṇa, well-versed in the scriptures and such a person should be entrusted with the court with due responsibility. The glorious Kṣatriyas should always maintain the elephants, horses, chariots, foot-soldiers and the four-fold army. When challenged for a war they should not run away from it, because if a Kṣatriya is killed in a battle-field, he surely enjoys heaven and its glory.

वैश्यानामपि वाणिज्यमीश्वरः कृषिपालने।
विप्रदेवार्चनं दानं तपस्या व्रतसेवनम्॥७४॥
विप्राणामर्चनं नित्यं शूद्रधर्मो विधीयते।
तत्कृषी तद्धनग्राही शूद्रश्चाण्डालतां व्रजेत्॥७५॥

The duty of the Vaiśyas is to engage himself in business, besides adoring the Brāhmaṇas and the gods, performing the vrata. Similarly the adoration of Brāhmaṇas is also prescribed for the Śūdras. In case a Śūdra troubles the Brāhmaṇa or steals away his riches, such a Śūdra achieves cāṇḍāla-hood.

गृध्रः कोटिसहस्राणि शतजन्मानि सूकरः।
श्वापदः शतजन्मानि शूद्रो विप्रधनापहः॥७६॥
यः शूद्रो ब्राह्मणीगामी मातृगामी स पातकी।
कुम्भीपाके पच्यते स यावद्वै ब्रह्मणः शतम्॥७७॥
कुम्भीपाके तप्ततैले भुक्तः सर्पैरहर्निशम्।
शब्दं च विकृताकारं कुरुते यमताडनात्॥७८॥
ततश्चाण्डालयोनिः स्यात्सप्तजन्मसु पातकी।
सप्तजन्मसु सर्पश्च जलौकाः सप्तजन्मसु॥७९॥
जन्मकोटिसहस्रं च विष्ठायां जायते कृमिः।
पुंश्चलीनां योनिकृमिः स भवेत्सप्तजन्मसु॥८०॥
गवां व्रणकृमिः स्याच्च पातकी सप्तजन्मसु।
योनौ योनौ भ्रमत्येवं न पुनर्जायते नरः॥८१॥

In case a Śūdra steals the riches of a Brāhmaṇa, he has to become a vulture for a thousand crores of births, a pig for a hundred births and a wild animal. In case a Śūdra cohabits with a Brāhmaṇa woman, he earns the sin of cohabiting with his mother. Because of this he has to fall into the kumbhīpāka hell. He is thrown into boiling oil and is bitten by snakes. The messengers of Yama further torture him.

Thereafter the great sinner is born as a cāṇḍāla for seven births, a snake for seven births, leech for seven births and an insect of refuse for a hundred crores of births. Thereafter, such a sinner for seven births becomes an insect of the pelvic region of a loose woman and for seven births he has to become an insect of the boil of cows. Thus by travelling through many births, he is never born as a human being.

संन्यासिनां च यो धर्मो मन्मुखाच्च निशामय।
दण्डग्रहणमात्रेण नरो नारायणो भवेत्॥८२॥
पूर्वकर्माणि दग्ध्वा च परकर्मनिकृन्तनम्।
कुरुते चिन्तयेन्मां च ह्यायाति मम मन्दिरम्॥८३॥

Now you listen to me about the duties of a saṁnyāsī or a recluse by holding a daṇḍa a person becomes the form of Nārāyaṇa. The recluse, who always meditates upon me, he, destroying his earlier karmas, also destroys the deeds of the present birth. Ultimately he achieves my abode.

संन्यासिनः पदस्पर्शात्सद्यः पूता वसुंधरा।
सद्यः पुनन्ति तीर्थानि वैष्णवस्य यथा व्रज॥८४॥

O lord of Vraja, as a holy place gets purified with the touch of the feet of a Vaiṣṇava, similarly the earth also gets purified with the touch of the feet of a recluse.

संन्यासिनश्च स्पर्शेन निष्पापो जायते नरः।
संन्यासिनं भोजयित्वा चाश्वमेधफलं लभेत्॥८५॥

A person gets purified and is relieved of his sins with the very touch of the recluse. In case food is served to a recluse, the giver of the food achieves the merit of performing the Aśvamedha sacrifice.

नत्वा च कामतो दृष्ट्वा राजसूयफलं लभेत्।
फलं संन्यासिनां तुल्यं यतीनां ब्रह्मचारिणाम्॥८६॥
संन्यासी याति सायाह्ने क्षुधितो गृहिणां गृहम्।
सदन्नं वा कदन्नं वा तद्दत्तं नैव वर्जयेत्॥८७॥

The one who offers his salutation to a recluse after suddenly meeting him, achieves the merit of performing the Rājasūya sacrifice. One gets the same type of merit by meeting a recluse, a Yati and a Brahmacārī. In case a recluse suffering from hunger goes to a house-holder in the evening, whatever type of food is served to him should be taken by him.

न याचते च मिष्टान्नं न कुर्यात्कोपमेव च।
न धनग्रहणं कुर्यादेकवासा निरीहतः॥८८॥
शीतग्रीष्मसमानश्च लोभमोहविवर्जितः।
तत्र स्थित्वैकरात्रं च प्रातरन्यत्स्थलं व्रजेत्॥८९॥

He should not demand for sweet dishes nor should he display his anger nor should he accept riches. He should be unattached and should remain alike in the winter or the summer seasons, rising above greed and illusion. Thus spending the night at one place he should move on to the other, the next day.

यानमारोहणं कृत्वा गृहीत्वा गृहिणो धनम्।
गृहं कृत्वा गृही रम्यात्स्वधर्मात्पतितो भवेत्॥९०॥

In case a recluse enjoys a ride, receives riches from a house-holder or resides in a beautiful house after constructing it, such a recluse is considered to be a fallen one.

कृत्वा च कृषिवाणिज्यं कुवृत्तिं कुरुते च यः।
स संन्यासी हताचारः स्वधर्मात्पतितो भवेत्॥९१॥

In case a recluse ploughs the field or enters into some business, he falls from his discipline and the dharma.

अशुभं च शुभं वाऽपि स्वकर्म कुरुते यदि।
बहिष्कृतः स्वधर्मी वाऽप्युपहास्यश्च वै भवेत्॥९२॥

In case he performs good or bad deeds relating to his caste, then he is to be excommunicated from the āśrama and becomes a laughing stock.

ब्राह्मणी पतिहीना या भवेन्निष्कामिनी सदा।
एकभुक्ता दिनान्ते सा हविष्यान्नरता सदा॥९३॥

Similarly, a widow Brāhmaṇa woman should always be beyond desire, she should take haviṣya food once a day.

न धत्ते दिव्यवस्त्रं च गन्धद्रव्यं सुतैलकम्।
स्रजं च नन्दनं चैव शङ्खसिन्दूरभूषणम्॥९४॥
त्यक्त्वा मलिनवस्त्रा स्यान्नित्यं नारायणं स्मरेत्।
नारायणस्य सेवां च कुरुते नित्यमेव च॥९५॥
तन्नामोच्चारणं शश्वत्कुरुते नान्यभक्तितः।

पुत्रतुल्यं च पुरुषं सदा पश्यति धर्मत:।।९६।।
मिष्टान्नं न च भुङ्क्ते सा न कुर्याद्विभवं व्रज।
एकादश्यां न भोक्तव्यं कृष्णजन्माष्टमीदिने।।९७।।
श्रीरामस्य नवम्यां तु शिवरात्रौ पवित्रया।
अघोरायां च प्रेतायां चन्द्रसूर्योपरागयो:।।९८।।
भृष्टं द्रव्यं परित्यज्य भुज्यते परमेव च।
ताम्बूलं विधवास्त्रीणां यतीनां ब्रह्मचारिणाम्।।९९।।
संन्यासिनां च गोमांससुरातुल्यं श्रुतौ श्रुतम्।
रक्तशाकं मसूरं च जम्बीरं पर्णमेव च।।१००।।
अलाबुर्वर्तुलाकारा वर्जनीया च तैरपि।
पर्यङ्कशायिनी नारी विधवा पातयेत्पतिम्।।१०१।।

She should not be clad in divine garments or apply fragrant material, scented oil, garland, sandal-paste, vermilion and ornaments. She should be clad in unclean garments and remain devoted to Nārāyaṇa. She should devotee herself to Nārāyaṇa and with great devotion, should always consider the other men as her own sons. O lord of Vraja, she should not take sweet food and should not enjoy fortunes. She should not take food on the birthday of Kṛṣṇa, Rāma, Śivarātri, Narkacaturdaśi, eclipse of the sun or moon. She should discard fried things and should take simple food alone. The use of betel by a widow a Yati, a Brahmacārī or a recluse is like the eating of cow meat and the consuming of wine is also prohibited. This has been prescribed in the Vedas. They are prohibited from consuming red vegetables, small grained pulse, sour lime, betel and round gourd. A widow who sleeps on a comfortable bed makes her husband fall.

In case a widow enjoys the ride of a vehicle, she has to fall into hell. Oil should not be applied to her hair and her body should not be decorated. The hair which is turned into the form of looks of hair should be cut off only at a sacred place. She should not apply oil over the body, should not look at a mirror, should not look at the face of other men. She should not participate in a yātrā, a dance and other festivities and should not look at a beautiful person clad in the best of garments.

Now you listen to the duties of the noble people as prescribed in the Sāmaveda. Now I narrate to you the best of the duties to be performed by a noble person. You listen to me.

The noble people should engage themselves in teaching, studies, maintaining pupils, serving teachers, Brāhmaṇas and the gods daily, attaining proficiency in different theories, maintaining a high standard of intellect, self satisfaction pure discourses, continuos study of the scriptures, to mould the thinking of the people according to the Vedas and act according to the scriptures. They should be well-versed in the performing of the duties of the gods, the Vedas and should consume things which are prescribed in the Vedas. They should conduct themselves in a pure and simple way.

परक्रीडां च सततं न हि पश्यति सुव्रता॥११४॥

O lord of Vraja, now you listen to me about the duties of the chaste woman. A chaste woman remains anxious about her husband and always sips his caraṇodaka daily. She takes food devotedly with the permission of her husband. Discarding the vratas, tapas and adoration of the gods, she spends her time by devoting herself at the feet of her husband and offers prayer to him satisfying him in all respects. A chaste woman should not act without the command of her husband and should not act with enmity. A chaste woman considers her husband more important than Nārāyaṇa and remains always devoted to him. O lord of Vraja, a chaste woman is never attracted towards the best faces of other man, clad in beautiful garments and does not join them in journey, festivities, dance, song and other types of sports.

यद्भक्ष्यं स्वामिनो नित्यं तदेवमपि योषिताम्।
नहि त्यजेत्तु तत्सङ्गं क्षणमेव च सुव्रता॥११५॥

Whatever is eaten by her husband daily is always acceptable to her. A chaste lady never separates herself from her husband even for a moment.

उत्तरे नोत्तरं दद्यात्स्वामिनश्च पतिव्रता।
न कोपं कुरुते शुद्धा ताडिता चापि कोपत:॥११६॥

A chaste woman never enters into controversies with her husband. Evan if she is scolded by her husband, she never gets enraged.

क्षुधितं भोजयेत्कान्तं दद्यात्पानं च भोजनम्।
न बोधयेत्तं निद्रालुं प्रेरयेन्नैव कर्मसु॥११७॥
पुत्राणां च शतगुणं स्नेहं कुर्यात्पति सती।
पतिर्बन्धुर्गतिर्भर्ता दैवतं कुलयोषित:॥११८॥

The chaste woman should serve food to her hungry husband and serve him water. When asleep, he should not be disturbed and she should not demand conjugal pleasure when he is asleep. A chaste lady has to love her husband, a hundred times more than his sons because for a bride only the husband is the true relative and not the gods or others.

शुभं दृष्ट्वा सुधातुल्यं कान्तं पश्यति सुन्दरी।
सस्मितं वदनं कृत्वा भक्ति भावेन यत्नत:॥११९॥

She looks at her husband quite devotedly who happens to be nectar-like towards her.

पुरुषाणां सहस्रं च सती स्त्री च समुद्धरेत्।
पति: पतिव्रतानां च मुच्यते सर्वपातकात्॥१२०॥

A chaste woman redeems thousands of her generations. The husband of the chaste woman is relieved of all the sins.

नास्ति तेषां कर्मभोग: सतीनां व्रततेजसा।
तया सार्धं च निष्कर्मी मोदते हरिमन्दिरे॥१२१॥

Because of the performance of the chaste woman, the sins of the husband are washed away. As by getting relieved of all the desires, he together with his chaste wife enjoys her company in the abode of lord.

पृथिव्यां यानि तीर्थानि सतीपादेषु तान्यपि।
तेजश्च सर्वदेवानां मुनीनां च सतीषु च॥१२२॥

All the holy places on earth dwell in the feet of a chaste lady. The glory of all the gods and the sages always remain pleasant in the chaste woman.

तपस्विनां तप: सर्वं व्रतिनां यत्फलं व्रज।
दाने फलं यद्दातृणां तत्सर्वं तासु संततम्॥१२३॥

O lord of Vraja, the merit a mendicant achieves by performing tapas, performing vratas, fasting by the ascetics and the giving away of charities by the donors, the same merit is always achieved by the chaste woman.

स्वयं नारायण: शंभुर्विधाता जगतामपि।
सुरा: सर्वे च मुनयो भीतास्ताभ्यां च संततम्॥१२४॥

That is why even lord Nārāyaṇa, Śiva, Brahmā, the creator of the universe, all the gods and the sages get afraid of the chaste woman.

सतीनां पादरजसा सद्य: पूता वसुंधरा।
पतिव्रतां नमस्कृत्वा मुच्यते पातकान्नर:॥१२५॥

With the dust of the feet of the chaste woman, the earth gets purified and by offering salutation to the chaste woman, one is relieved of all the sins.

त्रैलोक्यं भस्मसात्कर्तुं क्षणेनैव पतिव्रता।
स्वतेजसा समर्था सा महापुण्यवती सदा॥१२६॥

A chaste woman is always considered to be highly meritorious and she is competent enough to reduce the three worlds to ashes with her curse.

सतीनां च पतिः साधुः पुत्रो निःशंक एव च।
न हि तस्य भयं किंचिद्देवेभ्यश्च यमादपि॥१२७॥

The husband of the chaste women is always noble and her sons develop no doubt and she never gets afraid of the gods and Yama.

शतजन्मपुण्यवतां गेहे जाता पतिव्रता।
पतिव्रताप्रसूः पूजा जीवन्मुक्तः पिता तथा॥१२८॥
सती स्त्री प्रातरुत्थाय त्यक्त्वा च रात्रिवाससम्।
भर्तारं च नमस्कृत्य करोति स्तवनं मुदा॥१२९॥
गृहकार्यं ततः कृत्वा स्नात्वा धौते च वाससी।
गृहीत्वा शुक्लपुष्पं च भक्तितः पूजयेत्पतिम्॥१३०॥
स्नापयित्वा सुपूतेन जलेन निर्मलेन च।
तस्मै दत्त्वा धौतवस्त्रं तत्पादौ क्षालयेन्मुदा॥१३१॥
आसने वासयित्वा च दत्त्वा भाले च चन्दनम्।
सर्वाङ्गलेपनं कृत्वा दत्त्वा माल्यं गलेऽपि च॥१३२॥
सामवेदोक्तमन्त्रेण भोगद्रव्यैः सुधोपमैः।
संपूज्य भक्तितः कान्तं स्तुत्वा च प्रणमेन्मुदा॥१३३॥

Therefore only after a person performs good deeds for a hundred births only then is a chaste woman born in that race. The mother of the chaste woman is purified and the father is relieved of the cycle of birth and death. The chaste woman should get up early in the morning, change the clothes worn by her during the night and should clad herself in new clothes. Then she should adore her husband offering white flowers and she should make her husband take his bath with spotless clean water and offer him two clean garments and then wash her feet. Thereafter making him sit on a pedestal, apply sandal-paste on his forehead and all the limbs, place a garland around his neck and then should adore her husband with great devotion, reciting the hymns from the Sāmaveda

ओं नमः कान्ताय शान्ताय सर्वदेवाश्रयाय स्वाहा।
इत्यनेनैव मन्त्रेण दत्त्वा पुष्पं च चन्दनम्॥१३४॥
पाद्यार्घ्यं धूपदीपौ च वस्त्रं नैवेद्यमुत्तमम्।

नमः शान्ताय दान्ताय सर्वदेवाश्रयाय च।
नमो ब्रह्मस्वरूपाय सतीप्राणपराय च॥१३७॥

By reciting the mantra ॐ नमः कान्ताय शान्ताय सर्वदेवाश्रयाय स्वाहा॥ she should offer the sandal-paste and flowers, pādya, arghya, incense, lamp and the best of garments beside the naivedya, in addition to the spotless clean water, fragrant betel and should recite, "O my beloved husband, the form of Candraśekhara, I bow in reverence to you. You are peaceful and the form of Brāhmaṇa and the life of Satī, I adore you.".

You are adorable and are the base of my heart, I offer my salutation to you. You are the lord of my body, the star of my eyes, the base of the knowledge of the wives, you are all blissful, I offer my salutation to you. The husband is like Brahmā, Viṣṇu and Maheśvara. The husband is like Brahman, I bow in reverence to you. O lord you forgive me for all the sins committed by me knowingly or unknowingly.

O lord of the wife, "you are the ocean of mercy, you forgive the sins of a slave like me." O lord of Vraja, in earlier times at the beginning of the creation, Lakṣmī, Sarasvatī, Pṛthvī and Gaṅgā had recited this meritorious stotra. Sāvitrī had adored Brahmā in earlier times by reciting this stotra, Pārvatī had adored Śiva by reciting this stotra in the ancient times. The gods and the sages were also adored by their spouses reciting this stotra which bestows welfare to all the chaste woman. In case a chaste lady recites this auspicious stotra or those of the people who listen to it, all their desires are fulfilled. The one without a son gets a son, a pauper gets riches and an ailing person is relieved of his ailment and a person is relieved of the fetters. O lord of Vraja, in case a chaste woman recites this stotra, she earns the merit of visiting a holy place, besides the merit of performing all the vratas and tapas. After adoring the husband offering the prayers, she should take food with the permission of her husband. O lord of Vraja, I have now narrated to you the duties of a chaste woman.

The Eatables and Non-Eatables for the four Varṇas

श्रीभगवानुवाच

द्विजदेवार्चनं चैव करोति सततं गृही।
स्वधर्माचरणं चैव चातुर्वर्ण्यं च नित्यशः॥१॥
कुर्वन्ति गृहिणामाशां सर्वे देवादयस्तथा।
अकृत्वाऽतिथिपूजां च गृहस्थश्च सदाऽशुचिः॥२॥

Śrī Kṛṣṇa said- The house-holders should daily adore Brāhmaṇas and the gods. The people of all the four varṇas should engage themselves in performing the *dharma*s of their respective varṇas. All the gods repose their hopes in the house-holders. Therefore, a house-holder who does not welcome a guest or a beggar, is considered to be unclean.

पितरः कर्मकाले चातिथिकाले च देवताः।
सर्वे गृहस्थमायान्ति निपानमिव धेनवः॥३॥

At the time of performing the piṇḍas the ancestors and the guests arrive at the time of performing pūjā by a house-holder as the cows rush towards the tank filled with water.

समायाति प्रयत्नेन सयाह्ने क्षुधितोऽतिथिः।
पूजां लब्ध्वाऽऽशिषं कृत्वा प्रयाति गृहिणो गृहात्॥४॥

In the evening if a hungry ascetic arrives at the door of a house-holder and getting honoured there, he leaves the place showering blessings on him.

अकृत्वाऽतिथिपूजां च गृही भवति पातकी।
त्रैलोक्यजनितं पापं लभते नात्र संशयः॥५॥

The one who does not welcome the guest becomes a sinner and attracts all the sins of the three worlds. There is no doubt about it.

अतिथिर्यस्य भग्नाशो गृहात्प्रतिनिर्वते।
पितरस्तस्य देवाश्च वह्नयश्च तथैव च॥६॥

The one from whose house a guest returns disappointed, from the same house the ancestors, the gods and the god of fire also go away disappointed.

निराशाः प्रतिगच्छन्ति गृहिणोऽतिथयो गृहात्।
स्त्रीघ्नैर्गोघ्नैः कृतघ्नैश्च ब्राह्मणैर्गुरुतल्पगैः॥७॥
तुल्यदोषो भवत्येव येनातिथिरनर्चितः।
स्वात्मनः पातकं दत्त्वा पुण्यमादाय गच्छति॥८॥

The one who does not adore a guest, he earns the sin of killing of a wife, the killing of a cow, becomes ungraceful and the one enjoying the company of the wife of his own teacher. The same guest gives away all his sins to the house-holder and moves out carrying all his merits.

तस्मात्कृत्वा सर्वसेवां देवादींश्च शुभाशयः।
पोष्याणां भरणं कृत्वा पश्चाद्भुङ्क्ते स धर्मवित्॥९॥

Therefore those well-versed in dharma, the large hearted house-holder serve the gods and others, feeling them to be like their own sons, then take their own food.

यस्य माता गृहे नास्ति भार्या च पुंश्चली तथा।
अरण्यं तेन गन्तव्यमरण्याद्दु:खदं गृहम्॥१०॥

The household in which there is no mother and the wife becomes an evil place such a person should desert the home and retire to the forest because for him the house is as troublesome as the forest.

पतिं द्वेष्टि सदा दुष्टा विषतुल्यं च पश्यति।
ददाति तस्मै नाऽऽहारं भर्त्सनं कुरुते सदा॥११॥

A wicked woman always becomes envious of her husband and looks at him like poison; she does not provide food to him and always denounces him.

पूजितं मुनितुल्यं च सा च पापीयसी परम्।
संततं तृणवन्मत्वा न्यक्कारं कुरुते सदा॥१२॥

The wicked woman always treats her husband like a straw even if he is an adorable person like a sage and she always denounces him.

दुर्वाक्यवह्निना दग्धो मृततुल्यश्च जीवति।
यावज्जीवनपर्यन्तं संप्राप्य दुष्टवंशजाम्॥१३॥

Thus by accepting a girl of a wicked race, a person has to face the evil ways of the wife which burn him like a fire and he lives like a dead man throughout his life.

गृहिणीनां सदाचारं श्रूयतां तच्छ्रुतौ श्रुतम्।
गृहिणी पतिभक्ता च देवब्राह्मणपूजिता॥१४॥
सा शुद्धा प्रातरुत्थाय नमस्कृत्य पतिं सुरम्।
प्राङ्गणे मङ्गलं दद्याद्गोमयेन जलेन च॥१५॥

Now I repeat to you the noble conduct of the good nature woman, you please listen. The chaste woman is always adored by the gods and the Brāhmaṇas. Such a spotless woman gets up early in the morning and offers her salutation to the family gods and then plasters the court-yard with cowdung and performs other welfare deeds.

गृहकृत्यं च कृत्वा च स्नात्वाऽऽगत्य गृहं सती।
सुरं विप्रं पतिं नत्वा पूजयेद्गृहेदेवताम्॥१६॥

Thereafter, performing the household jobs, the chaste lady takes her bath and returning to the home, she bows in reverence to the Brāhmaṇa, her husband and the family gods.

गृहकृत्यं सुनिर्वृत्य भोजयित्वा पतिं सती।
अतिथिं पूजयित्वा च स्वयं भुङ्क्ते सुखं सती॥१७॥

The chaste house wife performs the household duties pretty well and getting free from the same, she serves her husband and adores the guest. Thereafter she takes her food.

पुत्रैश्च पूजितस्तातः शिष्यैश्च पूजितो गुरुः।
आज्ञया कुरुते कर्म पुत्रः शिष्यश्च भृत्यवत्॥१८॥

The father is adored by the sons and the teacher is adored by the pupils thus both the sons and the pupils serve like servants accepting the command.

न प्रेरयेद्गुरुं तातं पुत्रः शिष्यश्च कर्मसु।
पित्रे च गुरवे नित्यं सर्वस्वं च समर्पयेत्॥१९॥
न कुर्यान्नरबुद्धिं च गुरौ पितरि संततम्।
कृत्वा च नरबुद्धिं च ब्रह्महत्यां लभेद्ध्रुवम्॥२०॥
मातरं पूजयेद्भक्त्या पितुश्चाप्यधिकां तथा।
मातुः परं गुरुं चैव पूजयेद्भक्तियोगतः॥२१॥
पिता माता गुरुर्भार्या शिष्यः पुत्रः सदाऽक्षमः।
अनाथा भगिनी कन्या नित्यं पोष्या गुरुप्रिया॥२२॥

The son and the pupil should not force the father or the teacher to work. The father and the teacher should always be offered all the service, because by not doing so, one attracts the sin of Brahmahatyā. A son should respect the mother more than his father and more than her he should adore the teacher. Thus the son who is unable to serve the parents, the teacher, the wife, the pupil and himself as a dependent son, the helpless sister, the daughter and the wife of the teacher he earns sins because it is the duty of a person to maintain all of them.

एवं च कथितं तात सर्वेषां धर्ममुत्तमम्।
श्त्रीजातिर्वास्तवी शुद्धा ताश्च सर्वाः पतिव्रताः॥२३॥
सर्वा जातिरेकविधा चाऽऽदौ सृष्टा च ब्रह्मणा।
ताः सर्वाः प्रकृतेरंशाः पवित्राः पण्डिताधिकाः॥२४॥

O father, I have thus spelt out the best of the duties of them all and the chaste ladies who are spotless and clean. At the beginning of the universe Brahmā had created all the types of creatures in a similar way. All the intelligent and pure damsels were born out of the aṁśa of Prakṛti.

केदारकन्याशापेन स हि धर्मः क्षयं गतः।
तदा कोपेन धात्रा च कृत्या स्त्री च विनिर्मिता॥२५॥
कृत्या स्त्री त्रिविधा जातिर्ब्रह्मणा निर्मिता पुरा।
उत्तमा प्रथमा सा च मध्यमा चाधमा व्रज॥२६॥
उत्तमा पतिभक्ता सा किंचिद्धर्मसमन्विता।
प्राणान्तेऽपि न कुरुते तं जारमयशकरम्॥२७॥

When Dharma was reduced in body because of the curse of the daughter of Kedāra, then Brahmā in anger created kṛtyā woman. O lord of Vraja, in earlier times Brahmā divided the race of kṛtyā woman into three parts; the first among them was known as uttamā, the second one madhyamā and the third one was adhamā. The extremely religious uttamā woman is always devoted to her husband. She does not accept the company of any other man even at the caste of her life.

पूजयेत्सा यथा कान्तं तथा देवद्विजातिथीन्।
व्रतानि चोपवासांश्च कुरुते सर्वपूजनम्॥२८॥
गुरुणा रक्षिता यत्नाज्जारं च न भजे द्भयात्।
सा कृत्रिमा मध्यमा च यथाकिंचित्पतिं भजेत्॥२९॥
स्थानं नास्ति क्षणं नास्ति नास्ति प्रार्थयिता नरः।
तेन हे नन्द तासां च सतीत्वमुपजायते॥३०॥

She adores the Brāhmaṇas and the guests like her own husband, performs fasting and vratas and adores everyone. The madhyamā type of kṛtyā woman is such who does not fall into the company of other men because of the protection of the teachers and considers her husband as something. O Nanda, because of the non-availability of men, their desire, their chastity remains intact.

अधमा परमा दुष्टाऽत्यन्तासद्वंशजा तथा।
अधर्मशीला दुःशीला दुर्मुखा कलहान्विता॥३१॥

The woman who are born in degraded families are known as degraded woman who are extremely wicked. Such woman are devoid of dharma, have a wicked nature, are ill-spoken of and quarrelsome.

पतिं भर्त्सयते नित्यं जारं च सेवते सदा।
दुःखं ददाति कान्ताय विषतुल्यं च पश्यति॥३२॥
जारद्वारमुपायेन हन्ति कान्तं मनोहरम्।
धर्मिष्ठं च वरिष्ठं च गरिष्ठं च महीतले॥३३॥
कामदेवसमं चापि जारं पश्यति कामतः।
शुभदृष्ट्या कटाक्षेण शश्वत्पापीयसी मुदा॥३४॥

The wicked woman denounces her husband daily and serves the other men daily; she always tortures her husband and considers him like poison. Not only this, with the help of the other men, she even tries to kill her husband who is quite religious, glorious and beautiful. Such a degraded woman looks at other men with a passionate eye who see her as quite beautiful and he enjoys her voluptuous advances.

सुवेषं पुरुषं दृष्ट्वा युवानं रतिशूरकम्।
योनिः क्लिद्यति नारीणां कामिनीनां निरन्तरम्॥३५॥

Finding the youthful and wicked person well-versed in the love-sport and the one who is wicked like a pig, the pelvic region of the passionate woman always remains wet with fluid.

ददाति भर्त्रे नाऽऽहारं विषोक्तिं वक्ति संततम्।
अधर्मं चिन्तयेच्छश्वज्जारं च परमं मुदा॥३६॥

The degraded woman does not serve food to her husband. She always speaks in a foul tongue but she thinks of her friend quite lovingly.

गुरुभिर्भर्त्सिता सा च रक्षिता च शतेन च।
तथाऽपि जारं कुरुते नापि साध्या नृपैरपि॥३७॥
नास्ति तस्याः प्रियं किंचित्सर्वं कार्यवशेन च।
गावस्तृणमिवारण्ये प्रार्थयन्ती नवं नवम्॥३८॥

Getting denounced by the teachers and having been observed by hundreds of persons, she still moves on the wrong path and makes illegal friends. Even the kings are unable to set her right. There is no one dear to her and she moves just according to the available opportunity. She is always desirous of new faces like the cows grazing in the forest are always desirous of fresh pasture.

विद्युदाभा जले रेखा तस्या प्रीतिस्तथैव च।
अधर्मयुक्ता सततं कपटं वक्ति निश्चितम्।।३९।।
व्रते तपसि धर्मे च न मनो गृहकर्मणि।
न गुरौ न च देवेषु जारे स्निग्धं च चञ्चलम्।।४०।।

Her attachment is short lived like a line drawn on water or like a lightning. Infatuated with evil ways, she always talks deceitfully. She never feels interested in performing the vratas, tapas, religious functions, household jobs, the teachers or the gods. Her mind is always wavering for her friends towards whom she is always found attached.

स्त्रीजातित्रिविधानां च कथा च कथिता मया।
भक्तानां त्रिविधानां च लक्षणं श्रूयतामिति।।४१।।
तृणशय्यारतो भक्तो मन्नामगुणकीर्तिषु।
मनो निवेशयेत्त्यक्त्वा संसारसुखकारणम्।।४२।।

Thus I have spoken about the three types of woman; now you listen to me about the three types of devotees. My devotees resting on a bed of grass, getting deprived of all comforts always remain engrossed in reciting my name, my qualities and glory.

ध्यायते मत्पदाब्जं च पूजयेद्भक्तिभावत:।
अहैतुकीं तस्य देवा: संकल्परहितस्य च।।४३।।
सर्वसिद्धिं न वाञ्छन्ति तेऽणिमादिकमीप्सितम्।.
ब्रह्मत्वममरत्वं वा सुरत्वं सुखकारणम्।।४४।।
दास्यं विना नहीच्छन्ति सालोक्यादिचतुष्टयम्।
नैव निर्वाणमुक्तिं च सुधापानमभीप्सितम्।।४५।।
वाञ्छन्ति निश्चिलां भक्तिं मदीयामतुलामपि।
स्त्रीपुंविभेदो नास्त्येव सर्वजीवेषु भिन्नता।।४६।।

Feeling devoted to my lotus-like feet, they adore me. My devotee is devoid of all desires and such a devotee achieves the Ahaitukī form of devotion. Such a devotee is not interested in the siddhis like aṇimā and others, the Brahmanhood who is the cause of all the siddhis or eternalship. Not only this, except serving at my feet, they considers the four types of salvation including Sālokya to be of no consequence. My devotee is not desirous of salvation and the consuming of nectar; he/she is always desirous of my everlasting and eternal devotion. He/she is disinterested in all other creatures and the difference between men and women disappears from his or her mind.

O lord of Vraja, such a devotee of high order remains unmoved with hunger, thirst, sleep, greed, illusion and enemies. Such types of devotees are unmindful of the clothes they wear but they continue reciting my name throughout day and night. O Nanda, such a type of person is the best of my devotees. Now I speak about the medium type of the devotee who is a householder and getting purified because of his good deeds of earlier births, never gets involved in worldly deeds. On the other hand, he tries his best to destroy the earlier deeds and making all efforts and remaining unmindful, he performs no deeds. He is well aware of the fact that everything belongs to lord Kṛṣṇa and he does not happen to be the performer of any deeds.

He thinks in this way, mentally with speech and with actions, such a type of devotee is called Nyūnabhakta. The devotee who is still lesser in grade is known as Prākṛtika. This has been mentioned in the Vedas, my devotee does not have to come across Yama or the messengers of Yama even in a dream. The best of my devotees redeems thousands of his generations, the medium type of devotees redeems hundred of his generations and the Prākṛtika devotee redeems twenty five generations. O father, at your command I have narrated to you the qualities of the three types of my devotees; now you listen to the topic of the creation of the globe quite carefully. The cause of the creation of the globe is known to my devotees with great difficulty.

The sages, the gods and the noble people know about the same with great difficulty, but I am quite well aware of the course of the universe about which I am going to tell you. The cause of universe is quite well-known to Brahmā, Maheśvara, Dharma, Sanatkumāra, the sage Naranārāyaṇa, Kapila, Gaṇeśa, Durgā, Lakṣmī, Sarasvatī, Vedas, Sāvitrī, the mother of the Vedas and Rādhikā. No one else knows about the same; all the intellectuals are unable to know its cause. as the soul is eternal, similarly the sky is eternal beside all the ten directions.

As Prakṛti is eternal, so the globe is also eternal and also Vaikuṇṭha. Once while performing the divine dance in Goloka, a beautiful damsel of sixteen years appeared from my left half, having the complexion of white campaka flowers and the lustre of the full moon of the winter season. She was extremely beautiful and was the best of all the ladies on earth. She wore a serene smile on her face, was delightful in her mind, had soft limbs and was quite charming to look at. She was clad in the garments sanctified by fire and was adorned with ornaments studded with gems, which looked like a line of cranes in the clouds. Her forehead was adorned with a spot of vermilion, besides other spots of kastūrī which looked like the moon surrounded by the stars, the line of parting of the hair was quite bright, she was adorned with the invaluable ornament of gems which were shining emitting rays like the sun.

The pair of ear ornaments were adorning her temples and her feet were plastered with the red paste of saffron and kastūrī. Her cheeks painted looked like different types of leaves, her nose resembled the beak of Garuḍa which was adorned with jewels.

She was wearing the Gajamuktā which is recovered from the temples of the elephant. The line of her teeth resembled gems. Her lips resembled the ripe wood-apple fruit, her face resembled the full moon of the winter season, her eyes resembled the lotus flower which were quite white like the eyes of a doe and the collyrium applied in the eyes looked quite charming. She was wearing beautiful armlets and wristlets which were shining. She had beautiful hands which looked like shining gems. The finger rings studded with gems adorned the fingers.

The anklets were made of the best of gems and the rings on the toes were also studded with gems. The soles of the feet looked quite beautiful, having been painted with red colours. She walked slowly like an elephant. She looked charming having beautiful eyes. Becoming passionate, she looked with side-glances. Joining the divine dance, the damsel took me from the fore-front and that is why she was given the name of Rādhā by the intellectuals gracing her. She was quite pleasant in nature and as such she was known as Īśvarī.

Since she was competent to perform any deeds, she was given the name of śakti. Since she happened to be the base of everything from all sides, the form of everything and bestowed welfare, she was given the name of Sarvamaṅgalā. She came to be known as Mahālakṣmī in Vaikuṇṭha and Sarasvatī in the other form. After the creation of the Vedas she was known as the mother of the Vedas. She was also known as Sāvitrī, Gāyatrī and the one who bears the three worlds.

तेजसः सर्वदेवानामाविर्भूता पुरा सती॥७८॥

In the earlier times because of the killing of a demon named Durgā she came to be known as Durgā. In earlier times she also appeared as Satī from the tejas of all the gods.

तेनाऽऽद्या प्रकृतिर्ज्ञेया सर्वासुरविमर्दिनी।

शत्रूणां भयदात्री च भक्तानां भयहारिणी।
दक्षकन्या सती सा च शैलजातेति पार्वती॥८०॥

That is why she came to be known as the eternal śakti for the destruction of all the demons. She is blissful to all, filled with all the pleasures, is the destroyer of all misfortune, frightens the enemies and removes the danger of the devotees. She appeared as Satī and was known as the daughter of Dakṣa, thereafter she was known as Pārvatī having been born as the daughter of Himālaya.

She is the base of everything. She is the earth with one of her rays, with one of her rays she is Tulasī, with another ray she is Gaṅgā and the form of all the women on earth. O father, I create the same śakti again and again. Finding the same śakti present in the Rāsamaṇḍala, I enjoyed her company and the conjugal pleasures with her up to the life of hundred Brahmā's. I also enjoyed her astonishing types of plays and the love-sports.

Thereafter both of our bodies were sweating profusely creating a charming pool there.

The flow of the sweat moved with such force and reached the Goloka as a result of which all the lokas were filled with water. O lord of Vraja, in the earlier stage there was water everywhere and there was no earth. By enjoying the love-sport I implanted my semen in the womb of the damsels.

Rādhā carried this pregnancy up to the life of a hundred Brahmā's and then gave birth to a beautiful child. Finding the child Rādhā was enraged and started lamenting feeling disgusted. Thereafter, the child was driven out and he fell down as the Mahāvirāṭ, who was the base of everything. He fell into the water; finding the son floating in the water, I pronounced a curse on Rādhā. O virtuous one, she became issueless because of my earlier curse pronounced on her. Similarly Durgā, Lakṣmī and Sarasvatī emerged. Together with Rādhā all the four of them conceived. O lord of Vraja, thereafter all the damsels gave birth to children because of the rays of which an egg emerged who was based on my rays.

I made the child to suck my thumb which became an immovable tree because of his deeds and started floating in water. With the use of yogic practices, the water became his bed and pillow, all the hair pits on his body remained filled with water. In each hair-pit the Kṣudra-virāṭ resided. From the navel of the Kṣudra-virāṭ, a thousand petalled lotus emerged. From the same lotus, Brahmā was created, that is why he is known by the name of the one born out of the lotus. After having been born of the lotus Brahmā started thinking, "How has my body been born, who are my parents and brothers"? Thus thinking he spent three lakhs of years. Thereafter for divine five lakhs of years he performed my tapas, then I bestowed a mantra on him which purified him as a result of which he methodically performed tapas seated on the lotus for divine seven lakh of years. Thereafter, he received a boon from me and by becoming the creator, he started the creation.

Thus with the influence of illusion in every globe one finds Brahmā, Viṣṇu, Śiva, Dikpālas, eleven Rudras, seven planets, eight Vasus, three crores of gods, Brāhmaṇas, Kṣatriyas, Viaśyas, Śūdras, Yakṣas, Gandharvas, Kinnaras, goblins, Rākṣasas besides movable and immovable. Besides every globe, there are seven heavens, seven oceans, seven continents, Svarṇabhūmi and darkness, land and earth, the nether-world and seven Brahmāṇḍas are there. O lord of Vraja, in each globe, the moon, the sun, the sacred land of Bhārata, Gaṅgā and other holy places are present, the number of the globes is equivalent to the number of the hair pits on the body of Mahāviṣṇu and over the globes. Vaikuṇṭ ha is lodged, having no support; it was created as per my desire. Even the Vedas are unable to speak about the same. For the degraded yogīs and the non-believer, Vaikuṇṭha is invisible. The Goloka is located at a distance of fifty crores of yojanas from Vaikuṇṭha; it is floating in the air which is quite astonishing and quite beautiful.

It has been built in a beautiful way which is according to my wishes; it has a mountain range with a hundred peaks, auspicious Vṛndāvana, the best of Rāsamaṇḍala and the river named Virajā. O lord of Vraja, the river Virajā is a hundred crores yojanas in width and a hundred times more in length and looks charming from all sides. It has the invaluable gems besides diamonds, rubies and innumerable kaustubha gems. It is quite pleasant. Each and every house of Goloka has been made with gems.

The Rāsamaṇḍala is surrounded by the cowherds and has a hundred crores of buildings in which there are lamps of gems, beds of roses, fragrant sandal-paste, kastūrī, kumkum, besides incense, garlands of gems, mirrors of gems, guards and three crores of slave-girls of Rādhā also who reside there are adorned with the best of gem-studded ornaments and clad in garments sanctified by fire. The Rāsamaṇḍala is surrounded by a lakh of intoxicated elephants.

Its soldiers are quite young and quite beautiful. O lord of Vraja, the Rāsamaṇḍala is circular in shape like the moon and is studded with gems like the stars. It is spread over an area of ten yojanas. It is quite charming and is filled with kastūrī, saffron, fragrant sandal-paste, welfare pitchers, fruits and fresh tree leaves, curd, fried paddy, leaves, tender Dūrvā-grass, fruits and innumerable trunks of banana trees adorned with tree leaves entwined with silken cord, garlands and ornaments. It has been built with valuable gems and has a hundred peaks. Its height is a hundred yojanas and is hundred times more in length. It is visible from a distance of fifty crores of yojanas and is beyond description even in the Vedas. It is like the boundary wall of Goloka.

Since the garlands of gems decorate it from all sides it looks quite charming. There is charming Vṛndāvana having trees of sandal-wood, charming kalpavṛkṣas, mandāra trees, kāmadhenus and immensely beautiful flower orchards, beautiful swimming pools and excellent places for love-sport. It is quite excellent and is the best for performing the divine dance in seclusion.

The innumerable cowherdesses guard the place. The forest which is three lakh yojanas in area is circular in shape; one gets the hissing sound of the black wasps and the sweet notes of the cuckoos can also be heard. There is an Akṣ ayavaṭa which is quite charming. It is quite widespread and its height is a thousand yojanas and it is spread over an area of four thousand yojanas. The kalpavṛkṣa which fulfils all the desires of the cowherdesses is also available there.

The slave-girls of Rādhā spend their time playfully there; the cool breeze scented with the water of Virajā river and the flowers blow there. The Vṛndāvana which is served by innumerable slave-girls is the dwelling place for me and Rādhā. The same Rādhā because of the curse of a Brāhmaṇa named Śrīdāmā has been born as the daughter of Vṛṣabhānu.

O lord of Vraja, she is adored by Brahmā, the gods and siddhas and other ascetics. She happens to be my beloved, possesses all the virtues besides the prowess, intelligence, learning and is adorable like me, by all. O Nanda, I have thus described everything about the globes. What else do you want to listen to from me.

Nanda said- O virtuous one, you kindly let me know what are the eatables and non-eatables for the four varṇas of Brāhmaṇa, Kṣatriyas, Śūdra and Vaiśya and what are the results of their deeds? Because you happen to be the cause of all the causes, the great sage and the lord on to yourself. I cannot ask this, question from anybody else.

भृष्टादिकं मधु गुडं नालिकेरोदकं तथा॥४॥
फलं मूलं च यत्किंचिदभक्ष्यं मुनरब्रवीत्।
दग्धान्नं तप्तसौवीरमभक्ष्यं ब्रह्मनिर्मितम्॥५॥

Śrī Kṛṣṇa said- I am now narrating to you about the eatables and non-eatables by the four varṇas as prescribed in the Vedic literature. You listen to me attentively. Manu has prescribed that the water, the milk, curd and ghee, the food, fried materials, honey, guḍa, coconut water, fruit and the roots, kept in iron vases become unfit for consumption. The burnt food and the beverage, vinegar prepared by a Brāhmaṇa becomes unfit for consumption.

नालिकेरोदकं कांस्ये ताम्रपात्रे स्थितं मधु।
गव्यं च ताम्रपात्रस्थं सर्वं मद्यं घृतं विना॥६॥

The water of the coconut placed in a bronze vase, the honey and milk preparations kept in copper vases besides all other beverages become unfit for consumption except the ghee.

ताम्रपात्रे पय:पानमुच्छिष्टे घृतभोजनम्।
दुग्धं सलवणं चैव सद्यो गोमांसभक्षणम्॥७॥

The consumption of milk in a copper vase, the ghee in a used vase, the milk, the food and salt is prohibited because for the one who consumes it, it becomes like consuming a cow's flesh.

अभक्ष्यं मधुमिश्रं च घृतं तैलं गुडं तथा।
आर्द्रकं गुडसंयुक्तमभक्ष्यं श्रुतिसंमतम्॥८॥

The ghee mixed with honey, oil and the guḍa mixed with ginger become unfit for consumption. This has been prescribed in the śrutis.

पीतशेषजलं चैव माघे च मूलकं तथा।
जपादिकं च शयने सदा प्राज्ञ: परित्यजेत्॥९॥
द्विर्भोजनं च दिवसे संध्ययोर्भोजनं तथा।
भक्ष्यं च रात्रिशेषे च ध्रुवं प्राज्ञ: परित्यजेत्॥१०॥

The left-over water, the eating of radish in the month of Māgha, the recitation of mantras seated on a bed are all prohibited and the intellectuals should not indulge in the same. The intellectuals should not take food twice a day or eat food at the time of both the sandhyās and taking the food in the last quarter of the night is prohibited for the intellectuals.

पानीयं पायसं चूर्णं घृतं लवणमेव च।
स्वस्तिकं गुडकं चैव क्षीरं तक्रं तथा मधु॥११॥
हस्ताद्धस्तगृहीतं च सद्यो गोमांसमेव च।
कर्पूरं रौप्यपात्रस्थमभक्ष्यं श्रुतिसंमतम्॥१२॥

The water, pāyasam, flour, ghee, salt, svastika, guḍa, milk, butter-milk and honey should not be received in the palm of the hand from anyone which happens to be like cow's flesh. The camphor placed in the vase of silver becomes unfit for consumption according to the Vedas.

परिवेषणकारी चेद्भोक्तारं स्पृशते यदि।
अभक्ष्यं च तदन्नं च सर्वेषामेव संमतम्॥१३॥

In case the person who serves the food touches the person who is eating food, then the food becomes unfit for consumption. This is the opinion of all.

नकुलानां गण्डकानां महिषाणां च पक्षिणाम्।
सर्पाणां सूकराणां च गर्दभानां विशेषत:॥१४॥
मर्जाराणां सृगालानां कुक्कुटानां व्रजेश्वर।
व्याघ्राणामपि सिंहानां त्याज्यं मांसं नृणां सदा॥१५॥

O lord of Vraja, the meat of the mangoos, rhinoceros, the birds, the snakes, fish, the donkeys, the cats, the jackals, the tiger, lion and of human being is prohibited from consumption.

जलौकसां च नक्राणां गेधिकानां तथैव च।

अन्येषां च निषिद्धानां लोके वेदे व्रजेश्वर॥१८॥

Similarly the aquatic animals like crocodile, lizard, frogs, crabs, porcupines and the spotted cow's flesh should not be taken. O lord of Vraja, one should not take the meat of the elephant, horses, human flesh, demons, mosquitoes, flies, ants which is prohibited in the Vedas and the common human tradition.

वानराणां भल्लुकानां शरभाणां तथैव च।
निषिद्धं मृगनाभीनां गर्दभानां च मांसकम्॥१९॥

मांसमुच्चै:श्रवसकं तस्य दुग्धादिकं तथा।
वर्णानां च चतुर्णां चाप्यभक्ष्यं च श्रुतौ श्रुतम्॥२१॥

Similarly the meat of the monkeys, the bears, the camel, Aṣṭapada, a deer with kastūrī and the meat of the donkey should not be consumed. The milk of a buffalo and the preparation of her milk like curd, ghee and butter besides the svastika prepared from the same is prohibited. The meat of the horse or the mare's milk is prohibited from consumption by all the four varṇas. This has been prescribed in the Vedas.

अभक्ष्यमार्द्रकं चैव सर्वेषां च रवेर्दिने।
पर्युषितं जलं चान्नं विप्राणां दुग्धमेव च॥२२॥
वर्णानां च चतुर्णां चाप्यवीरान्नस्य भक्षणम्।
तदन्नं च सुरातुल्यं गोमांसाधिकमेव च॥२३॥

Ginger should not be consumed on Sundays by all and for the Brāhmaṇas, the left-over water, food and milk is considered to be unfit for consumption. The food cooked by a widow having no son or husband should not be taken because such a food is like the cow's flesh or even worse than that.

अवीरान्नं च यो भुङ्क्ते ब्राह्मणो ज्ञानदुर्बल:।

ब्रह्माणानां वैष्णवानामभक्ष्यं मत्स्यमेव च।
इतरेषामभक्ष्यं च पञ्चपर्वसु निश्चितम्॥२५॥

If a Brāhmaṇa takes such a food from a widow due to ignorance, all the adoration's of the manes and the gods become infructuous. This has been prescribed by Manu. The fish is unfit for consumption of the Brāhmaṇas, the Vaiṣṇavas and people of other castes should not take the same on the eighth and fourth day of the fortnight, the moonless-night, full-moon night and the first day of the month.

पितृदेवावशेषे च भक्ष्यं मांसं न दूषितम्।

सर्वेषामशुचीनां च जलमन्नं परित्यजेत्।
आशौचान्तात्परदिने शुद्धमेव न संशय:।।३३।।

For the performing of the śrāddhas and the adoration of the gods, the offering of the permissible meat is not prohibited. In the above five days, the consumption of meat is prohibited, this has been prescribed by Manu. The salt and the oil which is not well sanctified is not unfit for consumption but the food stuffs sanctified by the fire can be consumed by everyone. The consumption of the ghee or the water placed over the palm becomes unfit for consumption. The dirty water and the water with insets is also unfit for consumption even the visible clean water if it is not fully cleaned is unfit for consumption. The Brāhmaṇas, especially the Vaiṣṇavas, the recluses, the Brahmacārīs should not take anything without first offering it to lord Viṣṇu. O father, the honey, the milk, curd, ghee and other things when filled with the ants should not be taken. This has been prescribed in the Vedas. In case a fruit is eaten by an insect or the bird, it remains pure but if something is eaten by a cow it becomes unfit for consumption. The sweets fried in ghee and oil beside other sweets prepared by Śūdras are fit for their consumption but not by the Brāhmaṇas. The food and water of all the unclean persons should be discarded. After removal of the impurity, everything becomes impure. There is no doubt about it.

भक्ष्याभक्ष्यं च कथितं यथाज्ञानं व्रजेश्वर।।३४।।

It is difficult to face the reward of the deeds. This has been prescribed in the śrutis. O lord of Vraja, I have spelt out to you, the eatables and non-eatables by all, according to my knowledge.

क्रमाच्चतुर्षु वेदेषु चोक्तं मतचतुष्टयम्।
सर्वेषां सारभूतं च कथयामि पित: शृणु।।३५।।

O father, there is a difference of opinion because of the four Vedas but in spite of that, I have told you the gist of everything.

नाभुक्तं क्षीयते कर्म कल्पकोटिशतैरपि।
अवश्यमेव भोक्तव्यं कृतं कर्म शुभाशुभम्।।३६।।

After the expiry of hundred crores of kalpas, the deed is never destroyed.

प्रायश्चित्तानि चीर्णानि निश्चितम् मत्पराङ्मुखम्।
न निष्पुनन्ति हे तात सुराकुम्भमिवाऽऽपगा:।।३८।।

With the adoration of the gods and visiting the holy places in different types of bodies, the human bodies also receive some merit. O father, the one who remains inimical to me cannot be purified by performing any amount of repentance, as the vase of wine cannot be purified by any number of rivers.

प्रायश्चित्तेन पुण्येन न हि शुध्यन्ति मानवा:।
सर्वारम्भेण वैश्येन्द्र दानेन योगतोऽपि वा।।३९।।
शुभाशुभं च यत्कर्म विना भोगान्न च क्षय:।
भोगेन शुद्धिमाप्नोति ततो मुक्तिर्भवेन्नृणाम्।।४०।।
न नष्टं दुष्कृतं कर्म सुकृतेन च कर्मणा।
न नष्टं सुकृतं कर्म कृतेन दुष्कृतेन च।।४१।।
यज्ञेन तपसा वाऽपि व्रतेनानशनेन च।
तीर्थस्नानेन दानेन जपेन नियमेन च।।४२।।
भुव: प्रदक्षिणेनैव पुराणश्रवणेन च।
उपदेशेन पुण्येन पूजया गुरुदेवयो:।।४३।।
स्वधर्माचरणेनैवातिथीनां पूजनेन च।
ब्रह्मणां पूजनेनैव भोजनेन विशेषत:।।४४।।

O lord of the Vaiśyas, a person cannot be purified by performing any type of auspicious deeds or repentance, performing of charities and the yogic practices because the good and bad deeds never get destroyed unless one faces them. By facing them, one gets purified and only then does he achieve redemption. The bad deed cannot be destroyed with the performing of the good deeds. The bad deeds cannot be destroyed by performing yajñas, tapas, vratas, fasting bathing in holy places, performing charities, recitations, strict observance of the rules, going round the globe, listening to the Purāṇas, auspicious discourses, adoring the teacher and the gods, by following one's own dharma, adoring the guest and the Brāhmaṇas and serving them with food.

यद्दत्तमपि विप्राय तत्प्राप्तं पूर्णरूपतः।
बीजरूपं च तद्दानं क्षेत्ररूपं च ब्राह्मणः॥४५॥
एकेन कर्मणा तात स्वर्गं प्राप्नोति मानवः।
कर्मणा न हि मोक्षं च तदेव मम सेवया॥४६॥

Whatever is given to the Brāhmaṇa one gets back the whole of it because a Brāhmaṇa happens to be the field and the charities given to him are like the seed. O father, a person can achieve heaven by performing a deed, but the mokṣa cannot be achieved by performing the deeds. It can be achieved by serving me.

स्वर्गं च सुकृतेनैव नरकं दुष्कृतेन च।
व्याधिर्जन्म न योनौ च कुत्सिते च ततः शुचिः॥४७॥

One achieves heaven by performing noble deeds and by performing evil and deplorable deeds, one is thrown into hell and then is reborn, suffering from ailment in degraded yonis. He then gets purified.

गोघ्नो यो ब्राह्मणानां च कामतश्चोपपातकी।
दन्दशूकत्वमाप्नोति गोलोमसमवर्षकम्॥४८॥

The Brāhmaṇa who resorts to the killing of cows and the one who commits big or small crimes, falls into the dandaśūka hell up to the number of years equivalent to the number of the hair on the body of the cow.

सर्पेण भक्षितस्तेन ज्वालया गरलस्य च।
तृषितो व्यथितश्चैव निराहारः कृशोदरः॥४९॥
ततः कुण्डात्समुत्थाय गौर्भवेल्लोमवर्षकम्।
ततः कुष्ठी च चाण्डालो वर्षलक्षं ततो नरः॥५०॥

He is bitten there by the snakes who emit flames of poison. He feels tortured, remains without food and his belly shrinks. He is then taken out of the same and is placed in the yoni of the cow for the number of years equivalent to the number of hair on the cow's body. Thereafter he becomes a patient of leprosy for a lakh of years and then becomes a cāṇḍāla. Thereafter he is born as a human being.

तदा भवेद्ब्राह्मणश्च कुष्ठयुक्तो हि कर्मणा।
भोजयित्वा विप्रलक्षं निर्व्याधिश्च भवेच्छुचिः॥५१॥

Because of his deeds, he is reborn as a Brāhmaṇa suffering from leprosy. He is relieved of the ailment by serving food to a lakh of Brāhmaṇas and then gets purified.

अकामतस्तदर्धं च क्षत्रियस्यापि कामतः।
अकामतस्तदर्धं च तदर्धं च विशस्तथा॥५२॥
तदर्धं शूद्रगोघ्नश्च भुङ्क्ते पापं न संशयः।
प्रायश्चित्तेन शुद्धश्च भुङ्क्ते शेषं च कर्मणः॥५३॥
अनुकल्पे चतुर्थं च पापं भुङ्क्ते न संशयः।
चतुर्गुणं च गोघ्नानां ब्राह्मणानां च पातकम्॥५४॥

If one performs the deeds unmindfully, he has to face half the reward for the same. Similarly a Kaṣtriya also by performing a degraded act has to suffer fully and if he does something unmindfully he has to suffer half the result of the same. Half of his sin has to be borne by the Vaiśya and half of it by the Śūdra who kills the cow. There is no doubt about it. After performing repentance he is purified and has to face the rest of the reward. In the Anukalpa one fourth of the result of the misdeeds has to be faced by a person, there is no doubt about it. But a Brāhmaṇa who becomes a killer of cow's has to suffer four times for the sin .

भुङ्क्ते पापं च ब्रह्मघ्नो ब्राह्मणश्चेतरोऽपि वा।
क्रमेणानेन बोध्यं च कामतोऽकातोऽपि वा॥५५॥
प्रायश्चित्तं जन्म कर्म व्याधिरेव प संशयः।
गोघ्नो भवति गौश्चापि यावद्वर्षं च निश्चितम्॥५६॥

Similarly a Brāhmaṇa or a person of any other caste if he does so unwillingly, he has to face the reward accordingly for the sin. Repentance is the only remedy for the same. There is no doubt about it. The killer of the cows has to be born as a cow for an equal number of years as the number of hair on the cow's body.

चतुर्गुणं च तेषां च ब्रह्मघ्नो विट्कृमिर्भवेत्।
ततो भवति म्लेच्छश्च तावद्वर्षंचतुर्गुणम्।।५७।।
ततश्चान्धो भवेद्विप्र: पूर्वेषां च चतुर्गुणम्।
ब्राह्मणानां चतुर्लक्षं भोजयित्वा शुचिर्भवेत्।।५८।।

A killer of the Brāhmaṇa becomes an insect of refuge for four times the number of years and of four times more the number of years, he becomes a mleccha. Thereafter for four times more the number of years he becomes a blind Brāhmaṇa who is purified after serving food to four lakh Brāhmaṇas.

चक्षुष्मांश्च यशस्वी च भवेत्सोऽप्यतिपातकात्।
स्त्रीघ्नश्चतुर्णां वर्णानां वेदे सोऽप्यतिपातकी।।५९।।
कालसूत्रं च प्राप्नोति स्त्रीलोमसमवर्षकम्।
भक्षित: कृमिणा तत्र निराहारो व्यथायुत:।।६०।।

After getting relieved of the terrible impurity, he regains his eyesight and becomes glorious. In all the four varṇas, the killer of a woman has been treated as a great sinner; he falls in the kālasūtra hell for the number of years equivalent to the number of hair on the body of the woman and is eaten away by the insects where he remains without food, suffering immensely.

ततो भवति लोके च तावद्वर्षं च पातकी।
तत: पापी भवेत्सोऽपि यक्ष्मग्रस्तश्च कर्मणा।।६१।।

वर्षाणां शतकं चैव घोटकश्च भवेद्ध्रुवम्।
वर्षाणां शतकं चैव सूक्ष्मशस्त्रेण पीडित:।।६४।।

Thereafter, the great sinner is born on earth as a person suffering from the ailment of consumption. Thereafter for hundred years he has to serve food to the Brāhmaṇas for getting purified. He then becomes a Brāhmaṇa of a suitable form for performing tapas. Thereafter, he also has to suffer for his sins and with the giving away of gold in charity, he is purified. The one who terminates pregnancy, is treated to be a great sinner and is driven in the Śunīmukha hell where he has to spend a hundred years and is tortured there with sharp weapons. Thereafter, he has to be born for a hundred years as a horse.

तत: पापी भवेद्वैश्यो द्रव्ययुक्तो हि कर्मणा।
पञ्चाशद्वर्षपर्यन्तं स्वर्णदानाद्भवेच्छुचि:।।६५।।

He is then born a wealthy Vaiśya and he gets purified after giving away gold in charity for fifty years.

तत:स्वकुलजातोऽपि निर्व्याधिर्ब्राह्मण: शुचि:।
ब्राह्मण: क्षत्रियघ्नश्च क्षत्रियो वा विना रणात्।।६६।।
तप्तशूलं च प्राप्नोति वर्षाणां च सहस्रकम्।

ततो भवेन्मत्तगजो वर्षाणां शतकं तथा।
ततो रक्तविकारी च शूद्रो वर्षशतं तथा।।६८।।

He is then reborn in his own race and is freed from the ailment and is then born as a Brāhmaṇa again. If a Brāhmaṇa or a Kṣatriya kills a Kṣatriya except in battle, he falls into Taptaśūla hell where he has to suffer for a thousand years; he cries aloud there when he is tortured with burning iron rods. Thereafter for a hundred years he becomes an intoxicated elephant and then for a hundred years he is reborn as a Śūdra suffering from blood ailment.

गजदानेन मुक्तश्च व्याधितश्च ततो द्विज:।
वैश्यघ्नश्चापि वैश्यश्च शूद्रघ्नो वैश्य एव च।।६९।।
वैश्यघ्नश्चापि शूद्रश्च समं पापं लभेद्ध्रुवम्।

कृमिभिर्भक्षितो दु:खी किरातश्च भवेत्तत:।
वर्षाणां शतकं चैव कृमिव्याधिसमन्वित:।।७१।।

Thereafter, he is relieved of the ailment by donating an elephant. He then becomes a pure Brāhmaṇa. Similarly a Vaiśya who kills a Vaiśya or a Śūdra or a Śūdra who kills a Vaiśya, all are treated to be similar types of killers and they have to fall in the Kṛmikuṇḍa for a hundred years where they suffer with the biting of insects. He then becomes a hunter and suffer from the ailment. O lord of Vraja, thereafter for fifty years, he becomes a person with a kṛśodara belly and by giving away a horse in charity at a holy place, he is relieved of the sin.

ततो मन्दाग्नियुक्तश्च ब्राह्मणो दैन्यवान्व्रज।

If a Brāhmaṇa kills willingly or unwillingly a Śūdra he gets purified by reciting the Gāyatrī mantra a lakh of times or half the number of the same. The one who kills a dog because of the curse of Śiva has to fall in the terrific hell for a hundred years; thereafter he is born as a dog for sixteen years. He is then eaten away and gets purified as a Brāhmaṇa. After taking a bath in the Gaṅgā and giving away gold in charity, he is purified for all times to come.

The one who kills a cat is purified by taking a bath in the Gaṅgā and by giving away a measure of salt to a Brāhmaṇa. The one who kills snakes with his feet implanted on its hood, the people of all the four varṇas earn the sin of one fourth of the Brahmahatyā. Thereafter for a hundred years they fall into the Asipatra hell and have to suffer there getting eroded by sharp-edged weapons. Thereafter they are born as aquatic snakes for five years and they meet with their end after having been tortured by human beings.

He is then born as a sinful human being suffering from fever, with lean and thin body and meets with his end at the age of five years. O lord of Vraja, he is then born as a horse for twenty years and becomes a Śūdra again but remains quite proud and suffers from ailments. By giving away silver in charity and feeding a hundred Brāhmaṇas, he is purified

ततो भवति हस्ती च घोटको वा व्रजेश्वर।
यावद्विंशतिवर्षाणि तत: शूद्रो भवेद्ध्रुवम्॥८३॥

By killing the wretched creatures, one himself becomes wretched. He suffers from small ailments for a hundred years and is then purified.

O lord of Vraja, therefore one should always be compassionate towards the non-ferocious animals but it is not a crime to kill the wild animals. O father, such of the people of the four varṇas who cut the pīpala tree, attract the sin of Brahmahatyā and fall into the Asipatra hell and are tortured by sharp-edged weapons daily throughout the day and night. They then suffer from torture for a hundred years and become the semara tree for a lakh of years. Then they are born as deformed Śūdra persons suffering from ailment.

ततो भवति वृक्षश्च शाभूलिर्वर्षलक्षकम्।
ततो भवति शूद्रश्च छिन्नाङ्गो व्याधिसंयुत:॥८९॥

They have to suffer for the whole life, and are reborn as Brāhmaṇas, suffering from boils. A person is relieved of the ailment by giving away gold in charity.

यावज्जीवनपर्यन्तं ततो विप्रो भवेद्ध्रुवम्।

धावको देवलश्चापि चैतेऽतिपापिनस्तथा।
कुम्भीपाकं प्रयान्त्येव वर्षाणां च सहस्रकम्॥९३॥

The one who gives false evidence and is an extremely ungrateful person, a betrayer of the faith, a killer of the friend, a usurper of the riches of the Brāhmaṇas, the one who takes the food of the śrāddha with the Śūdras, the one who burns the dead bodies of the Śūdras, the cook of the Śūdras, the driver of the bulls or the one who earns his livelihood with the driving of the bullocks, the messengers and the temple priest have been treated to be great sinners who have to remain in the kumbhīpāka hell for a thousand years.

They are tortured throughout day and night in the boiling oil, they suffer from ailments and are eaten away by serpent like creatures.

They are then born in this world as vultures for a thousand years, a pig for a hundred births, a dog for a hundred births and then they become Śūdras, suffering from diseases and live for fifty years suffering from indigestion and fever. They are relived of the ailment after giving away in charity a hundred pieces of gold.

Of all the four varṇas, whosoever costumes, milk, curd and ghee besides steals the silver and jewels or the riches of Śūdras, falls into the tank of urine for a thousand years. He is then reborn as a sky-lark. This is certain.

He then is born as a Brāhmaṇa with excess limbs and then again he is born as a Brāhmaṇa. He is relieved of all the sins by serving food to the Brāhmaṇas. The one who steals the ripe fruits is born as an animal having fragrant aṇḍakośas. It is called kastūrī. Similarly by remaining as a deer for seven births, he is then born as sulphur. In one of his births, he is born as a Śūdra suffering from leprosy and then he is born as a Brāhmaṇa with an insignificant ailment and remains quite lean and thin. Here he gets purified by giving away six pieces of gold in charity. There is no doubt about it.

The one who steals away the paddy, is born as a miser for seven births and remains filled with grief. He is then thrown into the pit of refuse from where he is freed ultimately.

The one who steals away the gold is born as a degraded person, suffering from leprosy and the one who receives gold in charity also has to fall into the pit of refuse for a hundred years. Then suffering for the reward of all his misdeeds he again becomes a Brāhmaṇa with minor ailments. He is relieved of the remaining part of the sin by giving away gold in charity.

The one who enjoys the company of an inaccessible woman, falls into the terrific hell. He then is thrown into the terrific kumbhīpāka hell for a hundred thousand years and becomes an insect of the pelvic region of loose woman. He has then to be born as an insect of refuse and he remains there for a lakh of years. He is then born as an animal and thereafter as a petty creature. He is then born a mleccha and thereafter he becomes a degraded Śūdra. He is then born as a eunuch and after becoming a Brāhmaṇa suffering from ailment, he is reborn as a Brāhmaṇa who gets purified after visiting holy places but because of the impurity he remains issueless. He is relieved of the impurity by serving food to a lakh of Brāhmaṇas and then obtains a son.

Those who are envious of Brāhmaṇas and teachers are born as insects of the head. O father, the one who enjoys the company of loose woman has to suffer in the terrific hell for a hundred years and is then reborn as a useless insect, thereafter for seven births he is born as a widow, a childless woman, untouchable and a woman with a severed nose. The one who steals away red articles, suffers from a blood ailment he also becomes Yavana having no character, is cruel and lame. He becomes a dwarf, devoid of dīkṣā, having an evil eye or becomes a one-eyed person. He then becomes arrogant, deaf, a denouncer of the Vedas, ill spoken and dumb, indulging in violence, devoid of hair, devoid of truth, beard and moustaches, ill spoken, deprived of teeth, untruthful, devoid of tongue, engaged in evil deeds and devoid of fingers. The one who steals books, he becomes a foolish person with disease. The one who receives a horse in charity has to fall into the red urine hell for a hundred years and thereafter he is born as a horse.

The one who steals away an elephant or receives the same in charity, has to remain as an elephant for a long period before he becomes a Śūdra. The one who kills a he-goat without the yajña, the one who steals it or receives the goat in charity, has to fall in the kuṇḍa of puss for a hundred years and after that he is born as a cāṇḍāla. He is then reborn as a goat for one year and thereafter the person is purified.

He is born as a black wasp and during one birth he is born as a bee, then a wasp for one birth, a large mosquito for one birth and ill-smelling insect for one birth, a bug for one birth and thereafter is born as a foolish Śūdra suffering from ailment. Getting free from the sin, he becomes a Brāhmaṇa again in due course of time. The one who steals away oil and the one who crushes oil, becomes a louse for one birth and a wicked gold smith for one birth. Even the Brāhmaṇa the creator of the letters, if he steals away the riches of the giver of food, he has also to be thrown in the kuṇḍa of darkness and then has to be born as a gold-smith. He has then to be born as a widow and a kāyastha in one birth. In case a kāyastha has not eaten the flesh of his mother while remaining in the womb of the mother, it is not because of his grace but is due to his having no teeth.

O father, therefore, people with great wisdom filled with welfare, well-versed in the scriptures and the religious people should not believe in them, keeping in view their own welfare. The one who usurps the boundary, thief of the land, the terrorist and the one who usurps the land surely falls into the kālasūtra hell. He has to suffer there with hunger and thirst for sixty thousand years and then is thrown as the insect of refuse. He then is born as an untouchable Śūdra before he is relieved of the impurity. Therefore the intellectuals should always be careful in using their intelligence.

The Śūdra who cohabits with a Brāhmaṇa woman surely falls into the kumbhīpāka hell where he has to stay for three lakh of years, suffering all the times. He is then throwned in the kuṇḍa of boiling oil where he has to be born through out the day and night and then he is born as the insect of the pelvic region of the loose woman. For sixty thousand years he has to consume the filth of the pelvic region and for a lakh of births, he has to be born as a cāṇḍāla. He is born as a Śūdra with a wound. He is then purified and is born as a Brāhmaṇa with ailment who gets purified after visiting the holy places. A person who adores a god placing him in an unclean environment, surely becomes a Śūdra.

The one who adores the stone Śivaliṅga with matted locks of hair, surely becomes a Yavana. If one prepares a weak Śivaliṅga, he becomes blind and in case a degraded liṅga is made, the one who makes it earns disgrace and the one who makes it without devotion, is born as a pauper and deformed and a person with ailment because the result of the preparation of the liṅga is bestowed according to the making of the liṅga.

मृद्भस्मगोशकृत्पिडैस्तथा वालुकयाऽपि वा।

By adoring a thousand Śivaliṅgas one surely gets the merit, he remains in heaven for a long time and remain a great king in the land of Bhārata. By adoring ten thousand liṅgas, one becomes the lord of Bhārata and by adoring a lakh of liṅgas one becomes the lord of the universe and if these liṅgas are adored with great devotion, one achieves extra merit.

By performing additional tapas one becomes an intellectual Brāhmaṇa and a Vaiṣṇava who has controlled all his senses. One is born on the land of Bhārata after performing deeds of great merit or with the touching of his feet, the earth gets purified. The pious and Vaiṣṇava Brāhmaṇa bestows suspiciousness to the holy places and redeems thousands of his generations. This has been ordained in the Vedas.

O lord of Vraja, the female messengers of the loose woman fall into the kālasūtra hell for a number of years and then become lizards. After becoming a lizard for a birth, he becomes a deer for three births, he-buffalo for a birth, a bear for a birth, a rhinoceros for a birth and for three births he is born as a jackal. The one who cuts off the water from the tank of someone else and cuts the standing crop denoting the same, he becomes a crocodile during one birth and a tortoise for three births. A Brāhmaṇa greedy of fish and also consumes meat and also the meat which is not given to him is born a fish and a deer. O father, he has to bear the ill-effects of his misdeeds for a thousand years and by getting purified with his deeds, he becomes a Brāhmaṇa. He who does not perform Ekādaśī vrata, becomes degraded.

But he is relieved of the sin if he offers double the weight of the food he consumed, in charity. The one who consumed food on my birthday, consumes the sin of the three worlds; there is no doubt about it. After eating the food, he falls into the hell and then he becomes a cāṇḍāla.

Similarly the one who takes food on Śivarātri and Rāmanavamī days meets with the same fate. If one is unable to observe fast then he should consume the haviṣya food and should perform auspicious festivities serving food to the Brāhmaṇas. He is then purified and is relieved of the sin.

Therefore, on that day one should recite my name delightfully. In case someone eats food on the night of a moonless day, he has to become a vulture for a crore of births, a pig for a hundred births and a wild animal for a hundred births. Thereafter he becomes an impure Brāhmaṇa, a white kite and a parrot;.

अनद्वाही द्विजश्चैव राजहंसो भवेद्ध्रुवम्।

The one who steals away a bay-leaf becomes a duck for long time. He who steals away the images of gods, is born as person with disease, a deaf and the hunch back. He who enjoys the company of his wife on Sunday and the five auspicious days besides using oil, honey and meat, surely falls into the hell named Vajradaṁṣṭ ra where the sinner has to face grief for a thousand years. Thereafter he is born as a mleccha for seven births, besides being a cāṇḍāla or an ailing Śūdra. Thereafter he is purified by becoming a Brāhmaṇa.

Therefore a religious minded person in the land of Bhārata should make an effort not to take food on that particular day. The degraded person who does not bow in reverence while looking at a Brāhmaṇa or a god, becomes impure for the whole life and becomes a Yavana. He who does not welcome a Brāhmaṇa by getting up, surely earns the sin of killing a Brāhmaṇa for seven births. He who is envious of Śiva becomes a temple priest or a cock for seven births.

A person who unknowingly destroys adoration of the gods and ancestors, falls into the terrific hell. He has to remain there for a thousand years and is reborn for three births as a crow. He is then reborn as a jackal at a holy place for three births and consumes dead bodies. O lord of Vraja, thereafter the sinner during the three births, protects dead bodies in holy places and snatches coffins. Such of the foolish people as neither adored the gods nor the teacher with devotion or provide them with good food surely get cursed and become temple priests. He becomes hostile to gods and he does not earn merit by performing pūjā. The one who extinguishes the lamps with his hand is born as a fire-fly for seven births.

A poet who attacks intellectuals becomes a frog for seven births. Such of the petty intellectuals as poses himself as a Brāhmaṇa, becomes a mangoose for seven births, a person suffering from leprosy during one birth and a chameleon for three births. He then becomes a wasp during one birth and then becomes an ant of the trees. He then is reborn as a Śūdra, Vaiśya, Kṣatriya and a Brāhmaṇa, he who sells away girls of all the four varṇas, surely falls in the hell and remains there till the time of the sun and the moon. Thereafter he becomes a hunter selling meat. He suffers from some aliment according to his earlier evil deeds.

A Brāhmaṇa who sells away my name can never be freed and can never achieve salvation. This is certain. The one who remaining on earth does not recite my name, such an ignorant person becomes a cow during one birth, a goat and a ram and then for seven births he is to be born as a he-buffalo. A person who is a great conspirator, wicked and is devoid of dharma, becomes an oil-man and a potter. The one who paints false blemishes and denounces the gods as well as the Brāhmaṇas, becomes a black-smith during one birth and for seven births he has to be born as a washerman. Such of the Brāhmaṇa, Kṣatriyas, Vaiśyas and Śūdras are denounced and are unclean as they are born as mlecchas for ten thousand years.

The one who is lustful of woman, passionate and always thinks of them, suffers from the disease of consumption and in the next birth he is born as a eunuch.

The one who looks with passionate eyes, at the pelvic region of the wives of others, the breasts and the faces of woman becomes blind and in his next birth he becomes a eunuch. A Brāhmaṇa who being ignorant performs evil deeds and indulges himself in killing, falls into the Andhatāmisra hell for ten thousand years. Thereafter he is born as an astrologer, receiver of charities and remains devoid of wisdom. He is then born as a Śūdra and then a Brāhmaṇa according to his deeds.

An astrologer who is well-versed in the scriptures if speaks falsehood, he surely becomes the chief of the monkeys for seven births. Thereafter, as a result of the reward of the tapas for several births, he is born in the land of Bhārata and becomes a virtuous Brāhmaṇa. The person devoid of dharma becomes sinful. The one who performs his dharma is considered to be extremely purified like fire and illustrious and even the gods are afraid of him. As the Gaṅgā is the most sacred of all the rivers, Puṣkara is sacred among the holy places, Kāśīpurī among the cities, Śiva among the intellectual, the Vedas among the scriptures, the pīpala tree among the trees, my adoration among the tapas, various types of tapas and fasting among performing of vratas, similarly the Brāhmaṇas are adorable among all the people.

All the tīrthas reside in the feet of Brāhmaṇas and the dust of the Brāhmaṇa's feet is considered to be quite auspicious and destroys sins and ailments; their blessing bestows welfare. O father, thus I have narrated to you the effects of the evil and good deeds as heard by me. Now you listen to the rest. After listening to the scriptures, one should offer gold, silver, clothes and betel to the Brāhmaṇas. For my pleasure the reciter should be given a hundred gold coins, a cow, silver, costumes and betels.

The Story of Vṛndā

Nanda said- O lord with the resolve of the daughter of Kedāra you have spelt out the result of the deed. I have also learnt about the conduct of loose woman. Now you tell me in detail the story about Kedārakanyā who was king Kedāra and in which race was he born.

श्रीकृष्ण उवाच

Śrī Kṛṣṇa said- In the earlier times Svāyambhuvamanu was the son of Brahmā who was married to Śatarūpā who was quite graceful among the ladies. They had two sons named Priyavrata and Uttānapāda. Out of them Uttānapāda happened to be quite glorious and he had a son named Dhruva. Dhruva had a son named Nandasāvarṇi and Kedāra was the son of Nandasāvarṇi. He happened to be the lord of all the seven continents and was a great Vaiṣṇava.

The Sudarśana-cakra always remained present in his court. He used to give away in charity a lakh of cows of high breed whose horns were covered with gold plates, which were given to him by Varuṇa and covered with the best of garments purified fire, a lakh of gold coins and land with growing crops. The best of the gems, jewels, diamonds, a lakh of horses, a lakh of elephants, silver, rubies, sweet dishes and a hundred mountain-like heaps of paddy, besides gem-studded ornaments. He used to serve food to a hundred lakhs of Brāhmaṇas daily. The king had all the vases made of gold. The gold vases for eating and the yajñopavīta were of gold and had beautiful finger rings. He also gave away in charity the gem-studded seats delightfully to the Brāhmaṇas .

A lakh of Brāhmaṇas were engaged by the king to serve in the kitchen for cooking food and serving it to the Brāhmaṇas.

He always had a huge stock of honey, curd, guḍa and milk. The king right from the morning till evening engaged himself in serving the fruits, roots and other eatables to the Brāhmaṇas. He was a great Vaiṣṇava who had controlled all the senses. He offered everything of his own to me and always recited my name throughout the day and night.

Once the cook came to him and told the king, "O king, ten lakhs of Brāhmaṇas have arrived to take food; Today the Brāhmaṇa are taking quite simple food. O lord you tell me kindly as to what should be done. O king the Brāhmaṇas should take their food with pulses and other eatables.".

The authority of the king spread up to the four yojanas and the one whose authority extended to hundred times more the area, he is considered to be a maṇḍaleśvara. The one whose command is extended to ten times more than maṇḍaleśvara is called Rājendra. In the court of Kedāra five lakhs of kings always remained present who were adorned with gem-studded ornaments, the jewels and the diamonds and presented to the king the best of gems, horses and elephants.

From the fire altar of the same king Lakṣmī had appeared as a damsel, having lotus-like eyes, she was clad in the garments sanctified by fire and was adorned with gem-studded ornaments, she said to the king, O lord I am your daughter". On hearing this the king handed over the girl with devotion to his wife and stood there. Thereafter the girl humbly spoke to her parents and went for performing tapas at the bank of the Yamunā in an auspicious forest. Because of her performing the tapas there, the place was known as Vṛndāvana. After performing tapas she desired to have me as her husband as a boon. Brahmā then bestowed a boon to her, "You would achieve lord Kṛṣṇa as the husband later.".

Once she was lying down in the spring season over the bank of the river in the flower bed, adorned with all the gem-studded ornaments, she wore a serene smile on her face while sleeping there. At the same time a Brāhmaṇa in order to test the chastity of the damsel arrived there. The girl also saw a beautiful young men having arrived there whose body was plastered with sandal-paste. He was adorned with gem-studded ornaments and was quite desirable by the damsels. He was quite young, beautiful and quite pleasant to look at. He appeared like a boy of sixteen, having the lustre of the molten gold, looking more beautiful then the crores of the gods of love, wearing pītāmbara, a face like the moon and the eyes like the lotus of the winter season. On finding the Brāhmaṇa boy there, the girl got up from her bed and made him sit besides her.

She adorned him with devotion and offered fruits and roots to him besides the fragrant water and then bowed in reverence to him O lord of Vraja, Dharma in the form of a Brāhmaṇa boy was shining with his eternal lustre. He delightfully accepted the adoration of the princess and spoke the words which were quite appropriate for the passionate women but were difficult for the chaste woman.

धर्म उवाच

Dharma said - O beautiful one, who is your father? What is your name? Why are you staying here in the lonely place? You tell me. O beautiful one, what for are you performing tapas? What is your desire? You will meet with welfare. You ask for a boon.

Vṛndā said- O Brāhmaṇa, I am the daughter of Kedāra and my name is Vṛndā. Residing in Vṛndāvana, I performed tapas in a secluded place in order to get lord Hari as my husband. O Brāhmaṇa, if you can bestow a boon on me then give the same to me. And if you are not competent enough to do so what is the use of putting a question to me?.

धर्म उवाच

Dharma said- The lord is devoid of desires, beyond comprehension, the soul of all, the lord of all, without qualities, invisible, who becomes visible to shower his grace on his devotees; therefore who else would be able to achieve him as her husband, except Sarasvatī and Lakṣmī? The four-armed lord Hari who sleeps in the Vaikuṇṭha with two spouses and the two-armed lord who dwells in the Goloka holding a flute, appearing in the form of a cowherd, is lord Kṛṣṇa and he has Rādhā as his spouse. The same Rādhā who is the form of eternal Brāhmaṇa, serves the dark-complexioned Kṛṣṇa always, who possesses considerable mental prowess and fortunes, is peaceful and extremely beautiful. Her beautiful body puts to shame the bodies of crores of gods of love. He is adorned with invaluable gem-studded ornaments, is the form of truth, imperishable, clad in pītāmbara and happens to be the bestower of all riches.

श्रीकृष्णश्च द्विधारूपो द्विभुजश्च चतुर्भुजः।
चतुर्भुजश्च वैकुण्ठे गोलोके द्विभुजः स्वयम्॥४३॥

The same Kṛṣṇa who is two-armed in Goloka, resides in the Vaikuṇṭha, having four arms.

O Vṛndā, with the fall of Brahmā, lord Kṛṣṇa winks his eye. After a lapse of twenty five yugas. Indra comes to an end and after the fall of fourteen such Indras, a day of Brahmā is counted, his life similarly is in lengthy.

एवं त्रिशद्दिनैर्मासं द्विषट्के मासि वर्षकम्।
एवं शतायुस्तस्यैव निबोधे बोधतत्परम्।।४६।।

Thirty such days make a month and twelve such months make a year. Brahmā has the life of hundred such years.

With the end of the life of Brahmā, a second of lord Viṣṇu is counted, the sages like Sanaka and others serve him throughout life but even after performing tapas, for crores of kalpas, they never achieve his glance. The serpent Śeṣa having a thousand serpent-hoods adore him with devotion for an innumerable number of years but he is not able to get him. Brahmā, the creator of the Vedas, who is the creator of the universe, bestows reward for all the deeds; bestower of all the fortunes, he always adores the lord who is eternal, the form of Brāhmaṇa, imperishable, with all the four mouths but the lord is beyond the description of the Vedas, is the death for the time and is the Yama for Yama, is not able to achieve him.

The one who taking the form of Rudra destroys the universe, offers prayer with all his five faces. No one else is dearer to the lord than him but still he cannot be achieved even by such people; then what to speak of others. O Vṛndā, Durgā who is the form of all the prowess, destroys misfortune, the form of eternal Brāhmaṇa, Mūlaprakṛti, Īśvarī, Nārāyaṇī, Viṣṇumāyā, Vaiṣṇavī and the eternal force is influenced by the illusion of the lord always roamed about in the perishable universe. She has also been adoring the lord with great devotion; the elephant-faced Gaṇeśa and six face Kārttikeya always adore him according to their prowess. Lord Gaṇeśa who is adored first of all, happens to be the lord of the gods and the teacher of the intellectuals. There is no one greater than Gaṇeśa who could achieve the siddhis nor is there any other lord of the gods or a yogī or an intellectual comparable to Gaṇeśa and who happens to be the lord of the gods, the same lord Gaṇeśa adores him. Sarasvatī the great goddess also adores him, Lakṣmī serves at his lotus-like feet throughout the day and night with devotion. With the frowning of whom the whole universe is complete and meets with welfare, with the fear of whom, the wind blows, the sun burns, Indra pours the rain, the fire burns and the death roams about in the universe.

समुद्रा निश्चलाः शैला यस्य भीताश्च सुन्दरि।।६१।।

By serving him the earth has become the base of all and the store of all the riches, terrified from whom the ocean and the mountains remain within their limit.

तीर्थसारा च सा गङ्गा पवित्रा मुक्तिदायिनी।
जगतां पावनी देवी यस्य पादाब्जसेवया॥६२॥

By serving whose lotus-like feet, Gaṅgā becomes the essence of all the holy places and redeems everyone.

पवित्रा तुलसी देवी स्मरणाद्यस्य सेवनात्।
नवग्रहाश्च दिक्पाला भीता यस्य प्रतापतः॥६३॥
ब्रह्माण्डेषु च सर्वेषु ब्रह्मविष्णुशिवात्मकाः।
अन्ये ये ये सुरेशाश्च शेषाद्या मुनयस्तथा॥६४॥
केचित्कलास्वरूपाश्चाप्यं्रूपाश्च केचन।
केचित्कलांशाः कृष्णस्य केचिच्च परमात्मनः॥६५॥
पतिमिच्छसि कल्याणि प्रकृतेः परमीश्वरम्।
गोलोके राधिका साध्यो नान्येषां च कदाचन॥६६॥

With the reciting of whose name, Tulasī gets purified and by whose glory, the nine planets and Dikpālas get frightened. Brahmā, Viṣṇu and Śiva are present in all the globes besides the Śeṣa, other gods and sages. Some of them have the aṁśas of lord Kṛṣṇa while others are the aṁśas of his aṁśas. O virtuous one, you intend to achieve the same lord as your husband who is beyond Prakṛti but he could be achieved by Rādhā only in Goloka. No one wise can achieve her.

मां भजस्व महाभागे नृपाणामीश्वरं पतिम्।

सुखानि यानि कल्याणि त्रिषु लोकेषु सन्ति वै।
भुङ्क्ष्व तान्येव सर्वाणि मत्प्रसादान्न संशयः॥६८॥

Therefore, O virtuous one, O damsel, you accept me as your husband and enjoy all the pleasures. I happen to be the lord of all the gods and possess more prowess than the gods and the demons. O virtuous one, you can enjoy with me all the pleasures of the three worlds with my grace. There is no doubt about it.

सप्तसागरपारे च काञ्चनी रुचिरा वरे।

Beyond the seven oceans, Brahmā has built up a sporting place for the gods which is quite charming and known as the city of Kāñcanī.

तत्रैव गच्छ भद्रं ते रम रामे मया सह।

O Rāma, you will meet with welfare, let us go and enjoy the pleasure there. There is an orchard which is quite dear to Indra.

गच्छ स्वर्णमयीं लङ्कां नानारत्नविभूषिताम्।
तत्रैव गच्छ भद्रं ते रम रामे मया सह॥७१॥

The golden Laṅkā is adorned with the ornaments of gold. O beautiful one, you would meet with welfare; you get along with me there and let us enjoy the pleasure.

तत्रैव गच्छ भद्रं ते रम रामे मया सह॥७७॥

There is a beautiful place on the Malaya mountain built with the best of gems where the fragrant cool breeze blows, the jasmine flower and the flower of Ketakī, Mādhavī and Campā creepers are also there. The place is filled with the sweet notes of the cuckoos and the hissing sound of the black-wasps. O beautiful one, you get along with me and enjoy my company there.

O goddess, the places of Indra, Varuṇa, Vāyu, Yama, Kubera, Agni, Dharma and the moon are quite pleasant; you can enjoy my company at whichever place you like. We can visit Ratnadvīpa, Maṇidvīpa, Candrasarovara which are quite beautiful. O beautiful one, you get along with me and enjoy my company.

इत्येवमुक्त्वा संभोक्तुं गच्छन्तं तं छलेन च।
न वास्तवपरीक्षार्थं सतीत्वं बोधितुं व्रज॥८१॥

O lord of Vraja, thus speaking Dharma in order to test the chastity of the daughter of Kedāra advanced towards her deceitfully.

उवाच सा नृपसुता कोपवक्त्रास्यलोचना।
हितं सत्यं योगयुक्तं धर्मार्थं च यशस्करम्॥८२॥

The eyes of the damsels became red with anger and the princess spoke to him the words which were quite beneficial, truthful, appropriate and glorious.

वृन्दोवाच

धैर्यं कुरु महाभाग श्रेष्ठो जातिषु ब्राह्मणः।
ब्राह्मणानां तपो मूलं सत्यं वेदव्रतं धृतिः॥८३॥
परस्त्रीसहसंभोगः स्वभावश्चाप्यधर्मिणाम्।
अधर्मेणैव हे विप्र दुष्टोऽभद्राणि पश्यति॥८४॥

Vṛndā said- O lord, be patient with all the castes, Brāhmaṇa is believed to be the supreme. The base of a Brāhmaṇa is tapas, truthfulness, the performing of vratas and patience. O Brāhmaṇa, it is not proper for noble people to cohabit with the wives of others. Because of sin, the wicked people have to face misfortune.

ततः सपत्ने जयति समूलस्थो विनश्यति।
पतिव्रतानां गमने बलात्कारेण निश्चितम्॥८५॥
मातृगामी भवेत्सद्यो ब्रह्महत्याशतं भवेत्।
कुम्भीपाके पच्यते च यावच्चन्द्रदिवाकरौ॥८६॥
प्रदग्धस्तैलतप्तेषु न मृतः सूक्ष्मदेहतः।

क्षणं सुखं चिरं दुःखं सर्वनाशस्य कारणम्।
अगम्यागमनं दुःखं धर्मिष्ठो नैव वाञ्छति॥८८॥

Thereafter he is vanquished by the enemies and then is completely destroyed. The one who rapes chaste woman forcibly, is surely described as the one cohabiting with his mother and earns the sin of a hundred Brahmahatyās. He stays in the kumbhīpāka hell for the life of the sun an the moon. He is thrown into the pan of boiling oil but because of his having an ethereal form he does not die; the Messengers of Yama strike on his head with iron rods. For a short-lived pleasure, he has to suffer pain for a long time. This happens to be the cause of total destruction. Therefore the intellectuals never invite such a type of misfortune.

क्षमस्व गच्छ भद्रं ते ब्राह्मण ज्ञानदुर्बल।

मिष्टं दृष्ट्वा बडीशाग्रे लुब्धमीनो मृगो यथा।
यथा विषाक्तं भक्ष्यं च भुङ्क्ते भोक्ता बुभुक्षितः॥९०॥

O Brāhmaṇa, your knowledge is weak. Let you meet with welfare and you kindly excuse me. As a fire-fly hovers round the burning wick of a lamp, similarly fish and deer finding the sweet places at the mouth of a thorn swallow it, the hungry person consumes poisoned food.

गृह्णाति दुष्टो दुष्टं च विषकुम्भं पयोमुखम्।

सर्वप्राणिषु तिष्ठन्ति साक्षिणः कर्मणां द्विज।।९८।।

A wicked person accepts milk filled with poison with pleasure; similarly a wicked person turns round others' wives, having a pleasant face which results in total destruction. By looking at the face of a beautiful woman, a wicked person is filled with fallacy. The beautiful face of the damsels, the breasts and the pelvic region are the seeds for destruction. Filled with fluid and urine, the pelvic region is like an altar of hell. It is filled with bad smell, sinful and entitles one to receive punishment at the hands of Yama after men and women are united. Similarly the men have to fall into the terrific hell for yugas. O Brāhmaṇa, finding me alone if you intend to rape me, then all the gods, the lokapālas, dharma who is the witness to all the deeds, lord Hari and the lord of Yama, lord Kṛṣṇa, Maheśvara the abode of all intelligence, Durgā, wisdom, mind, Brahmā and all other gods would arrive.

क्व गुप्तं क्व रहस्यं वा ब्राह्मण ज्ञानदुर्बल।

नास्ति गोत्रं मत्पितुश्च न माता न पिता मम।
सर्वान्तरात्मा भगवान्कृष्णो रक्षति मां द्विज।।१०१।।

All these gods remaining witness to all the people remain present at all times in all the places. Therefore, O foolish Brāhmaṇa, which is the secret place and what is secretive? O Brāhmaṇa, therefore you excuse me; you leave the place and meet with your welfare. O son, the Brāhmaṇas are not to be killed, therefore, you leave the place with pleasure; otherwise, I am competent enough to reduce you to ashes. I have been performing tapas for a hundred and eight yugas; therefore, there is no name or gotra for my father nor are my parents alive.

ब्रह्मा शंभुर्भगवती दुर्गा रक्षति मां सदा।
येन शुक्लीकृता हंसाः शुकाश्च हरिताः कृताः।।१०३।

O Brāhmaṇa, lord Kṛṣṇa who is the soul of all always protects me and the cakra of lord Kṛṣṇa always protects me besides the sun, the moon, the wind, Agni, Brahmā, Śiva and the goddess Durgā always protects me.

मयूराश्चित्रिता येन स मे रक्षां करिष्यति।

The one who has bestowed whiteness to the goose, greenness to the parrot, different colours to the peacock, the same lord will surely protect me, he is the lord of the orphans boys, as well as the old people. Therefore taking me to be a women, dharma cannot disown me.

In spite of speaking the truth to him, when she found that the Brāhmaṇa a was making advances to her, she then pronounced a curse on him, "O degraded Brāhmaṇa, you get destroyed, O sinful one, you get destroyed, O degraded one, you get destroyed Thus speaking when he was about to pronounce another curse, the sun prevented her from doing so with great effort. O father, in the meantime, Brahma the creator of the universe beside Śiva, Viṣṇu and other gods arrive there in panic and finding Dharma deduced to a single ray, all the gods started crying. O lord of Vraja, he picked up Dharma in his lap who was frightened from Umā like the fourteenth day of the black fortnight and was cursed by a chaste women. His lustre was faded. The lord said- O Vṛndā, you are my devotee and free from the birth, death and old age, you please forgive him. O chaste lady, bring Dharma back to life, you protect dharma who happens to be my devotees.

ब्रह्मावोच

Brahma said- without Dharma the entire universe has plunged into darkness, the moon, the sun, the earth and Śeṣa are all shaking.

महादेव उवाच

Mahādeva said- O beautiful one, without Dharma the entire universe has been destroyed. Therefore, O damsel, you will meet with welfare but you bring Dharma back to life.

सूर्य उवाच

धर्मं जीवय भद्रं ते रक्ष सृष्टिं पतिव्रते।।११४।।

Sūrya said- O chaste damsel, you ask for a boon, you will meet with welfare by bringing back Dharma to life, you protect the universe.

अनन्त उवाच

धर्मं करोषि तपसा कथं धर्मं विहंसि च।
धर्मं जीवय भद्रं ते सर्वधर्मो भवेत्तव।।११५।।

Ananta said- You earn dharma only by performing tapas then why do you destroy him, let you meet with welfare and bring Dharma back to life. As a result of this, all your dharmas could be well-protected.

चन्द्र उवाच

द्विजरूपधरो धर्मस्त्वां परीक्षितुमागतः।

The moon said- Dharma in the form of a brāhmaṇa and arrived before you at the instance of Brahma in order to test your devotion. Therefore he has been killed without any fault of his own.

महेन्द्र उवाच

कथं फलं च तपसां यदि धर्मः क्षयं गतः।।११७।।

Mahendra said- The dharma is earned by performing tapas and dharma alone bestows the reward of the tapas. In case Dharma is destroyed, how would one be able to achieve the result of his tapas.

वरुण उवाच

Varuṇa said- O religious one, by bringing back Dharma to life, you protect the eternal dharma. O religious one, all the deeds of the people would become infructuous without dharma.

पवन उवाच

The wind god said- O beautiful one, you at once bring back Dharma to life and purify the universe. With the destruction of Dharma your tapas would also become infructuous.

वह्निरुवाच

Yama said- O beautiful faced one. I bestow the reward to all the people of the universe for the deeds performed by them according to the Vedas. Therefore, you bring Dharma back to life immediately.

देवानां वचनं श्रुत्वा समुत्थाय पतिव्रता।

नमस्कृत्य सुरेशांश्च तानुवाच तपस्विनी॥१२२॥

On hearing the words of all the gods and the ascetics, chaste Vṛndā got up and bowing in reverence to all the gods she said.

वृन्दोवाच

Vṛndā said- O gods I never knew about the true identity of Dharma who appeared to me in the form of a Brāhmaṇa, in order to test me. He has been destroys by me in anger. By your grace, I shall surely bring him back to life". O lord of Vraja, thus speaking Vṛndā said- In case my tapas is truthful, my devotion towards lord Viṣṇu is truthful then with the influence of that tapas the Brāhmaṇa should be relived of all the miseries. In case, I am truthful, my vrata is truthful, because of the influence of the same and with the influence of my tapas, this Brāhmaṇa should be freed from the misery. In case the eternal Nārāyaṇa who happens to be the soul of all and Śiva the all knowledgeable one is also truthful, in that case the Brāhmaṇa should be relieved of the entire miseries. In case Brāhmaṇa is truthful beside the gods and the Prakṛti, the yajña and the tapas then this Brāhmaṇa should be freed from all the sufferings. Thus speaking Vṛndā picked up Dharma and took him in her lap. Finding him reduced to the form of a mere ray, she started crying.

एतस्मिन्नन्तरे मूर्तिर्धर्मभार्या शुचाऽऽकुला।

In the meantime Mūrti the wife of Dharma was filled with grief and she fell at the feet of lord Viṣṇu.

मूर्तिरुवाच

Mūrti said- O lord, O ocean of mercy, you are the ere graceful to the down-trodden, compassionate, O compassionate lord of the universe, you bring, my husband back to life.

पतिहीना च या नारी पापिनी सा भवार्णवे।

यथाऽऽस्यं चक्षुर्विरतं प्राणहीना यथा तनू:॥१३२॥

A women who is deprived and her husband is considered to be a sinner in the ocean of universe. She becomes like a face without eyes and the body without life.

मितं ददाति हि पिता मितं भ्राता मितं सुत:।

मितं बन्धुर्मितं माता सर्वदाता पति: प्रभु:॥१३३॥

इत्येवमुक्त्वा सा देवी तत्र तस्थौ रुरोद च।

उवाच वृन्दां भगवान्सर्वात्मा प्रकृते पर:॥१३४॥

The parents, the brothers, the sons and the relatives can give only a limited comfort but the husband provides all the comforts. Thus speaking, the goddess stood there quietly and started crying. Thereafter, lord Viṣṇu spoke to Vṛndā.

श्रीभगवानुवाच

त्वयाऽऽयुस्तपसा लब्धं यावदायुश्च ब्रह्मण:।

तदेव देहि धर्माय गोलोकं गच्छ सुन्दरि॥१३५॥

Viṣṇu said- O beautiful one by performing tapas you have achieved the age comparable to Brahmā. You bestow the same age to Dharma and go back to Goloka and stay there.

तन्वाऽनया च तपसा पश्चान्मां च लभिष्यसि।
पश्चाद्गोलोकमागत्य वाराहे च वरानने।।१३६।।
वृषभानसुता त्वं च राधाच्छाया भविष्यसि।
मत्कलांशश्च रायाणस्त्वां विवाह ग्रहीष्यति।।१३७।।

You would achieve me with this body alone later on. O damsel, reaching Goloka in the Vārāha-kalpa you would be born as a daughter Vṛṣabhānu and would be known as the reflection of Rādhā. In the Vṛndāvana Rāyāṇa would be born from my Goloka and would own you after marriage. While performing the divine dance you would meet me together with Rādhā and other cowherdesses.

मां लभिष्यसि रासे च गोपीभी राधया सह।
राधा श्रीदामशापेन वृषभानसुता यदा।।१३८।।
सा चैव वात्सवी राधां त्वं च च्छायास्वरूपिणी।

उत्तस्थौ पूर्ण धर्मश्च तप्तकाञ्चनसंनिभ:।।
पूर्वस्मात्सुन्दर: श्रीमान्प्रणनाम परात्परम्।।१४२।।

When Rādhā would be born as the daughter of Vṛṣabhānu due to the curse of Śrīdāmā, at that very moment, Rādhā would appear together with you as her reflection. At the time of the marriage Rāyāṇa would accept you because after entrusting the real Rādhā to you, he would disappear. Therefore, all the people of Gokula would treat you, as the real Rādhā but the cowherds would not be able to witness the lotus-like feet of Rādhā in dream. Because Rādhā herself resides in my heart and her reflection would be the wife of Rāyāṇa. On hearing these words of Viṣṇu, the damsel gave away his life to Dharma. Thereafter Dharma got up in his full form with the complexion of molten gold and looked more illustrious than before; he then bowed in reverence to lord Viṣṇu.

Vṛndā said- O gods you listen to my words carefully which cannot be overlooked and can never untrue or false. In anger I pronounced the word ksyobhava thrice but when I was about to pronounce the same the fourth time, Sūrya prevented me from doing so. The same total effect of my curse would be that in Satyayuga, Dharma would be complete in all respects but in Tretāyuga, he would have only three feet; in Dvāpara only in two and in Kaliyuga only one; in the later part of Kaliyuga, only a small reflection of dharma would be visible thereafter in Satyayuga he would again appear in his full form. The words of destruction were spoken by me thrice and as such the effect of the same has also been pronounced by me. I was going to repeat the same the fourth time when Sūrya prevented me from doing so, therefore, I could not speak it out. Therefore Dharma would remain in the last part of the Kaliyuga only in negligible form.

O Nanda, in the meantime the gods witnessed the arrival of a chariot moving with great force which was quite beautiful to look at and was built with the best of gems, it had the doors of gems and was decorated with diamonds, rubies, precious gems, costumes, white fly-whisk, ornaments and beautiful mirrors. Vṛndā after bowing in reverence to Viṣṇu, Śiva and Brahmā beside other gods; mounted over to chariot and proceeded to Goloka. Thereafter the gods also went to their respective places. Now what else do you want to listen from me .

Nanda said- O lord, you happen to be well-versed in the Vedas and your knowledge surpasses Brahmā, Śiva, Śeṣa and other gods beside the munis or the siddhas; therefore, you let me know about your true identity and I am anxious to know about the same. You kindly reveal to me your true identity in this secluded and lonely place.

Śrī Nārāyaṇa said- O son, in the meantime all the sages and ascetics shining with divine light arrived there in order to have an audience with lord Kṛṣṇa. They included Pulaha, Pulastya, Kratu, Bhṛgu, Aṅgirā, Pracetā, Vasiṣṭha, Durvāsā, Kaṇva, Kātyāyana, Pāṇinī, Kaṇāda, Gautama, Sanaka, Sananda, Sanātana, Kapila, Āsuri, Vāyu, Pañcaśikha, Viśvāmitra, Vālmīki, Kaśyapa, Parāśara, Vibhāṇḍaka, Marīci, Śukra, Atri, Bṛhaspati, Gārgya, Vātsyāna, Vyāsa, Jaimini, Mitavāk, Ṛṣyaśṛṅga, Yājñavalkya, Śuka, Saubhri, Śuddhajaṭila, Bharadvāja, Subhadraka, Mārkaṇḍeya, Lomaśa, Viṭaṅkaṇa, Aṣṭāvakra, Śatānanda, Vāmadeva, Bhāguri, Saṁvartta, Utathya, Nara, Nārāyaṇa, Nārada, Jābāli, Paraśurāma, Agastya, Paila, Yudhāmanya, Gauramukha, Upamanyu, Śrutaśravaḥ, Maitreya, Cyavana and Vararuci arrived there .

Finding the sages present there, Śrī Kṛṣṇa got up suddenly and welcomed them offering his reverence to them with folded hands. Thereafter, all of them were made to sit over the charming lion thrones; Śrī Kṛṣṇa then asked about their welfare and adored them all. After mutual consultations Śrī Kṛṣṇa took his seat among them. In the meantime Kṛṣṇa spotted a fall of lustre in the sky which was also witnessed by the sages.

Inside the lustre there was Sanatkumāra in the form of a nude child having the lustre like gold. O Nārada he appeared among the assembly suddenly. Finding him having arrived suddenly, all the ascetics bowed in reverence to him and Śrī Kṛṣṇa also with a smiling face and the love reflecting in his eyes, bowed his head to him in reverence. The child than bestowed his blessing on all those present there taking his seat among the assembly of ascetics. Thereafter he spoke to lord Kṛṣṇa who happens to be eternal.

Sanatkumāra said- O ascetics, you may meet with welfare always and you may also get the fruit all the tapas performed by you, but it is of no use to question-about the true form of lord Kṛṣṇa who bestows his grace on all. Presently all of you meet with welfare because you are having an audience with the great soul at present. He has taken to the human form at the instance of his devotees. He is beyond Prakṛti beyond qualities, unattached the seed of all and has incarnated on earth to relieve her of her burden.

श्रीकृष्ण उवाच

Śrī Kṛṣṇa said- O Brāhmaṇa, if it is desirable to enquire about the welfare from all who possess the human bodies than why are you not interested in such question about me?.

सनत्कुमार उवाच

शरीरे प्राकृते नाथ संततं च शुभाशुभम्।

Sanatkumāra said- O lord the worldly body is always surrounded with the good or bad deeds, but the one who himself is the seed of welfare, it is no used asking question about his welfare.

श्रीभवानुवाच

यो यो विग्रहधारी च स च प्राकृतिकः स्मृतः।
देहो न विद्यते विप्र तां नित्यां प्रकृतिं विना।।२४।।

Śrī Kṛṣṇa said- O Brāhmaṇa, of the people having human form or the other are termed as Prākṛtika and without Prakṛti they cannot survive.

सनत्कुमार उवाच

Sanatkumāra said- The bodies which are born with the application of semen, they are known as Prākṛtika but the one who is the lord of Prakṛti and the cause of his body cannot be Prākṛtika. You happen to be the cause of all the causes, the one beginning of all, the lord himself, the foremost of all the incarnation, the seed of all as well as indestructible.

कृत्वा वदन्ति वेदाश्च नित्यं सत्यं सनातनम्।

The Vedas always define you as eternal, form of flame, the excellent, the supreme soul and the lord.

मायया सगुणं चैव मायेशं निर्गुणं परम्।
प्रवदन्ति च वेदाङ्गास्तथा वेदविदः प्रभो॥२८॥

O lord, the Vedas and post-Vedic literature also define you as the lord of illusion, without qualities, beyond the illusion and also possessing the form.

श्रीकृष्ण उवाच

सांप्रतं वासुदेवोऽहं रक्तवीर्याश्रितं वपुः।

Śrī Kṛṣṇa said- O Brāhmaṇa, presently I am the son of Vasudeva and my body has the semen and blood as usual. Then how can it not be called as Prākṛta and why is it not proper to enquire about the welfare of the same body.

सनत्कुमार उवाच

Sanatkumāra said- you are the one in whose hair pits, innumerable globes are enshrined and happen to be the abode of all. That is why you are called Vāsu and because of the god-hood inherent in how you are called Vāsudeva. The word Vāsudeva has also been repeated in the Purāṇas, the history books and the treatises on journeys or pilgrimages. His body comprising of the semen and blood has not been defined in the Vedas. The ascetics and the Dharma stand witnessed for the same. Presently the Vedas, the sun and the moon are my witness.

भृगुरुवाच

श्रीकृष्ण उवाच

Śrī Kṛṣṇa said- O religious one, tell me the purpose for your arrival here. You are foremost among the intellectuals and possessed all the knowledge, you know everything and therefore you kindly speak out the purpose for your arrival here.

सनत्कुमार उवाच

Sanatkumāra said- O lord, you are quite graceful and you are adored throughout the universe; you happen to be the lord of all and no one is superior than you.

Śrī Kṛṣṇa said- O lord of the Brāhmaṇas, I bestow the fruit of the yajñas and dakṣiṇās, for performing yajñas, vratas and tapas. On hearing this Kumāra was about to leave the place in a hurry in the forest but the sages prevented him from going finding his words to be quite astonishing.

The sages said- O great sage, O virtuous one, O ocean of mercy, O Kumāra, what are the doubtful words spoken by you in the presence of lord Kṛṣṇa. O son, have you witnessed or met with any surprise? You please speak out the same in detail.

In the meantime Brahmā, Śiva with Pārvatī, Ananta. Dharma, Sūrya, the moon, Ādityas, Vasus, Rudras, Dikpālas and all the gods arrived there. Finding them having arrived there, Śrī Kṛṣṇa got up from his seat and welcomed them individually offering madhuparka and adoring them with devotion. All the sages adored Śeṣa, Śiva, Brahmā and Pārvatī. The Brāhmaṇas and the gods conversed with one another; thereafter, Sanatkumāra having the lustre of gold addressed the assembly while seated on the gem-studded lion-throne.

Sanatkumāra said- I had gone to Goloka but I could not find there Kṛṣṇa the lord of Rādhā. Thereafter I went to Vaikuṇṭha and could not find the four-farmed Viṣṇu there. I then went to the ocean of milk but lord Hari was no where to be found there; thereafter feeling fatigued, I found that a vast tortoise of the size of a hundred yojanas was lying there. He looked terrified, shaking, grief, stricken and dry. It was driven out from the water by a fish named Rāghava. I told him that you are quite graceful. He said, "O great sage I am not graceful but the ocean of milk is graceful which is filled with innumerable creatures of my size and even bigger than me.

I than told the ocean of milk, "O ocean of milk you are graceful. He said, "I am not graceful, this earth is graceful which has accommodated seven oceans like me.

I then said, "O earth you are graceful but she said, "I am not graceful but Ananta the lord of the serpents is graceful who supports me and is born from the aṁśa of Kṛṣṇa and pervades everywhere. He has a thousand hoods over one of which I have been lodges like a sesamum seed in the winnowing basket. Then I said, Śeṣa is quite graceful". He said, no I am not graceful, O sage, the tortoise who happens to be my base is graceful, you go to him. Then I spoke to tortoise, you are graceful, but he replied O sage I am not graceful. The wind carries me; therefore he is more graceful than myself, Then I spoke to the wind god, "You are graceful" he replied "lord Brahma is graceful who had created the three worlds, then I spoke to Brahma, "O Brahma you are graceful, he said", I am not graceful. Lord Mahāviṣṇu is graceful who happens to be the teacher of the yogīs and is adored by all, is the form of Dharma, is eternal, is death for the death, the destroyer of all, having over-come the death and the lord of all. when I told him, You are graceful," he said, "No I am not graceful lord Gaṇeśa is graceful who is adored first of all everywhere, who is the intellectuals, the best among the gods, because I have heard in the Vedas that there is no one else more graceful than Gaṇeśa among that siddhas, ascetic, the gods, the yogīs.

तस्माद्धन्यः स एवापि गच्छ गच्छ महामुने॥६५॥

As the Gaṅgā is the best of all the rivers, Puṣkara is the best of all the holy places, similarly he happens to be the best of all. I therefore told Gaṇeśa that he was graceful who said, "All whatever has been prescribed in the Vedas is dharma and whatever is done against the same is sinful. Vedas are treated as the form of Nārāyaṇa himself. we are adored because of the provisions of the Vedas. All the scriptures and the Purāṇas have emerged from the Vedas. The source of dharma history, Saṁhitās also vests in the Vedas. Therefore, according to the opinion of the intellectual, Vedas are graceful. Then I spoke to the Vedas saying, "You are graceful". Then they said, "We are not graceful the people who perform yajñas are graceful; we people only prescribe the path but the yajña provides the fruit. O sage, therefore only such people are graceful and you go to them.

ऊचुस्ते न वयं धन्या धन्यं कर्म शुभं मुने॥६६॥

O virtuous one, I went to the people who performed the yajña and said to them. "You people are graceful" they said, "We are not graceful only the good deeds are graceful".

शुभकर्मासि धन्यं त्वं नाहं धन्यमुवाच तत्।

धातुर्विधाता भगवान्सर्वादिः सर्वकारकः।
श्रीकृष्णः परमात्मा च धन्यो मान्यश्च निश्चितम्॥६८

I than spoke to the noble deeds and said, you are graceful. They said, "we are not graceful, lord Kṛṣṇa alone is graceful who bestows the fruit for the good deeds and who happens to be the eternal Brāhmaṇa and the creator of the universe.

धर्मालयं ततो गत्वा न दृष्ट्वा जगदीश्वरम्।

दक्षिणा विप्रमुद्दिश्य तत्काले तु न दीयते।
एकरात्रे व्यतीते तु तद्दानं द्विगुणं भवेत्॥७३॥

Then I went to the abode of Dharma but I could not find him there and ultimately I arrived at Mathurā in order to meet him. He is the one who bestows fruit for all the yajñas, tapas, vratas and he is the lord on to himself, the supreme soul, cause of all the causes besides being Brahmā and the fore-most of the gods. I told him, "You are graceful with dakṣiṇā." At these words of mine, the lord spoke to him about the causes of everything and said that a yajña performed, by giving away the dakṣiṇā, is quite successful and the yajña performed without dakṣ iṇā is unsuccessful. In case the Brāhmaṇa is not provided dakṣiṇā immediately after the completion of the yajña than it is doubled after the lapse of one night.

मासे शतगुणं प्रोक्तं द्विमासे तु सहस्रकम्।
संवत्सरे व्यतीते तु स दाता नरकं व्रजेत्॥७४॥

On the expiry of one month, it is multiplied to hundred times and after the completion of two months it is multiplied to a thousand times. After completion of one year the performer of the yajña has to fall in the hell.

वर्षाणां च सहस्रं च मूत्रकुण्डे निपत्य च।
ततश्चाण्डालतां याति व्याधियुक्तश्च पातकी॥७५॥

He has to remain there in the tank of urine for a thousand years and is then reborn as a cāṇḍāla and a sinner.

यजमानश्च चाण्डालो ब्रह्मणस्तत्पुरोहितः।
व्याधियुक्तावुभौ तौ च पापिनौ कर्मणःफलात्॥७७॥

In case the performer does not give and the receiving does not receive dakṣiṇā then both of them are thrown in the hell for thousand years. Thereafter, the performer and his priest Brāhmaṇa become cāṇḍāla, both of them suffer from ailment because of the same sin".

On hearing this all the gods and the sages laughed aloud getting surprised, Nanda also getting surprised shed away from his mind, attraction towards Kṛṣṇa, of his being a son to him. He started crying in grief among the assembly. At that point of time Pārvatī consoled him and said, "You shed away the illusion, you free yourself from ignorance.

अमूल्यरत्नं माणिक्यं यथा कुजन्मनो गृहे।

Nanda said- O lord I feel deprived like the one in whose house an invaluable gem is born but he remains ignorant about the same.

O lord, you are beyond Prakṛti and you forgive me for my sin. O wielder of the gadā I will not go to Gokula, the bank of Yamunā, Vṛndāvana, my abode, the place of Yaśodā and the cowherdesses.

You kindly tell me what reply shall I give to Yaśodā and Rādhā who is your beloved, besides the cowherds? O Nārada, thus speaking Nanda fainted in the assembly. Thereafter Kṛṣṇa took him in his lap and started consoling him.

Kṛṣṇa recites Durgā stotra for Nanda

श्रीकृष्ण उवाच

चेतनं कुरु हे तात हे तात चेतनं कुरु।
जलबुद्बुदवत्सर्वं संसारं सचराचरम्।।१।।

Śrī Kṛṣṇa said- O father be conscious. The entire universe comprising of moveable and immovable creatures is like the water bubble.

त्यज मोहं महाभाग मायां स्तौहि परात्पराम्।
ब्रह्मस्वरूपां परमां सर्वमोहनिकृन्तनीम्॥२॥
मुक्तिप्रदां महाभागां विष्णुमायां सनातनीम्।
त्रिपुरस्य वधे घोरे महायुद्धे भयाकुले॥३॥
येन स्तोत्रेण शंभुश्च तया दैत्यं जघान सः।
स्तोत्रराजं प्रदास्यामि सर्वमोहनिकृन्तनम्॥
सर्ववाञ्छाप्रदं नन्द श्रूयतामत्र संसदि॥४॥

O virtuous one, discarding attraction you adore the eternal goddess Māyā who is beyond everything, the form of Brahma, eternal, destroyer of all the attractions, bestowers of salvation, extremely virtuous and is the eternal illusion of Viṣṇu. In the terrific battle of Tripurāsura, Śiva had recited this stotra in adoration to the goddess and killed the demon. O Nanda, shall bestow that stotra to you in the present assembly. The stotra destroys all the attractions and fulfills all the desires. You please listen to it.

नन्द उवाच

सर्वविघ्नविनाशाय दुःखप्रशमनाय च।
विभूतये च यशसे नृणां वाञ्छितसिद्धये॥५॥
स्तोत्रमेकं महादेव्या जगन्मातुर्जगत्प्रभो।

देहि मह्यं विनीताय भक्ताय भक्तवत्सल।
वेदानां जनकस्त्वं च निर्गुणश्च परात्परः॥७॥

Nanda said- O lord you are graceful to the devotees, you kindly bestow the knowledge of the best of stotras of Durgā which removes all the obstructions, removes the grief, bestows fortune, popularity and fulfils all the desires, destroying the evil times, which is quite secretive and the best of all the stotras. You are graceful to the devotees, creator of the Vedas, without qualities and beyond everything.

श्रीभगवानुवाच

शृणु वक्ष्यामि वैश्येन्द्र स्तोत्रं यत्परमाद्भुतम्।
सर्वविघ्नविनाशार्थं मोहपाशनिकृन्तनम्॥८॥
रणात्रस्तेन विभुना शंकरेण पुरा कृतम्।
नारायणोपदेशेन प्रेरितेन च ब्रह्मणा॥९॥

Śrī Kṛṣṇa said- O lord of the Vaiśyas, In the earlier times, Śiva got terrified from the battle and at the advice of Nārāyaṇa and the inspiration of Brahmā he had recited the stotra. The same stotra removes all the obstructions and noose of attachment, is being narrated by me which you please listen.

शत्रुग्रस्तं शिवं दृष्ट्वा स ब्रह्माणमुवाच ह।

सुरसंकटशान्त्यर्थं दुर्गां दुर्गतिनाशिनीम्।
मूलप्रकृतिमाद्यां तां स्तौ(स्तु) हि ब्रह्मस्वरूपिणीम्॥११॥

Finding that Śiva was surrounded by the enemies, Nārāyaṇa, spoke to Brahmā. Then Brahmā went to Śiva in the battle-field and spoke to him, "For the destruction of the danger on the gods you recite the stotra of Durgā who removes the misfortune, is mūlaprakṛti, eternal prowess and is the form of Brahma.

हरिणा प्रेरितोऽहं च त्वां वदामि सुरेश्वर।

ब्रह्मणश्च वचः श्रुत्वा दुर्गां सस्मार शंकरः।
पुटाञ्जलिपरो भूत्वा भक्तिप्रात्मकंधरः॥१३॥
स्नातः पादौ च प्रक्षाल्य धृत्वा धौते च वाससी।
आचान्तःकुशहस्तश्च शुचिर्विष्णुं च संस्मरन्॥१४॥

O lord of the gods I am speaking this at the instance of Hari because no one can win the battle without the help of the eternal goddess." On hearing the words of Brahmā, Śiva bowed his head in reverence and started reciting the name of Durgā. He took his bath and washing his feet, he clad himself in two garments and holding kuśa grass in his hand getting purified and thinking of lord Viṣṇu in his mind, he said.

महादेव उवाच

रक्ष रक्ष महादेवि दुर्गे दुर्गतिनाशिनी।
मां भक्तमनुरक्तं च शत्रुग्रस्ते कृपामयि॥१५॥

Mahādeva said- O Durgā the great goddess, you are the one who removes the misfortune. Therefore you protect me. I am your great devotee and have been currently surrounded by the enemies; therefore you protect me.

विष्णुमाये महाभागे नारायणि सनातनि।
ब्रह्मस्वरूपे परमे नित्यानन्दस्वरूपिणि॥१६॥

O virtuous one, you are the illusion of lord Viș ṇu and known as Nārāyaṇī, eternal form of Brahma and blissful.

त्वं च ब्रह्मादिदेवानामम्बिके जगदम्बिके।
त्वं संहारे च गुणतो निराकारे च निर्गुणात्॥१७॥
मायया पुरुषत्वं च मायया प्रकृतिः स्वयम्।
तयोः परं ब्रह्म परं त्वं बिभर्षि सनातनि॥१८॥

O mother of the universe, you are the mother of Brahmā and the other gods. You are visible when you have a definite form and are invisible when you are formless; by your illusion you appear as Puruṣa and by the same process to you appear as Prakṛti. You are the eternal Brahma and beyond them both. O eternal one, you contain the eternal Brahma.

वेदानां जननी त्वं च सावित्री च परात्परा।
वैकुण्ठे च महालक्ष्मीः सर्वसंपत्स्वरूपिणी॥१९॥
मर्त्यलक्ष्मीश्च क्षीरोदे कामिनी शेषशायिनः।
स्वर्गेषु स्वर्गलक्ष्मीस्त्वं राजलक्ष्मीश्च भूतले॥२०॥

You are the creator of the Vedas known as Sāvitrī; in the Vaikuṇṭha you appear as Mahālakṣ mī, the goddess of all the riches, In the ocean of milk you appear as the spouse of lord Viṣṇu when he sleeps there, known as Martyalakṣmī, in the heaven you are known as Svargalakṣmī and on the ground you are known as Rājalakṣmī.

नागादिलक्ष्मीः पाताले गृहेषु गृहदेवता।
सर्वसस्यस्वरूपा त्वं सर्वैश्वर्यविधायिनी॥२१॥

In the nether world you happen to be Lakṣmī of the Nāgas and in the household you appear as Gṛhalakṣmī, besides being the form of truth and bestower of all the fortunes.

रागाधिष्ठातृदेवी त्वं ब्रह्मणश्च सरस्वती।
प्राणानामधिदेवी त्वं कृष्णस्य परमात्मनः॥२२॥

You are the great goddess of Brahmā named Sarasvatī and you happen to be the life of the supreme soul known as Kṛṣṇa.

गोलोके च स्वयं राधा श्रीकृष्णस्यैव वक्षसि।
गोलोकाधिष्ठिता देवी वृन्दा वृन्दावने वने॥२३॥
श्रीरासमण्डले रम्या वृन्दावनविनोदिनी।
शतशृङ्गाधिदेवी त्वं नाम्ना चित्रावलीति च॥२४॥

You dwell over the chest of the Kṛṣṇa in Goloka and you are known as Rādhā with him. In the forest named Vṛndāvana, you are known as Vṛndā while in the Rāsamaṇḍala you are known as Vṛndāvana-vinodinī. You are the goddess named Citrāvalī dwelling over the mountain of hundred peaks.

दक्षकन्या कुत्रकल्पे कुत्रकल्पे च शैलजा।
देवमाताऽदितिस्त्वं च सर्वाधारा वसुंधरा॥२५॥
त्वमेव गङ्गा तुलसी त्वं च स्वाहा स्वधा सती।
त्वदंशांशांशकलया सर्वदेवादियोषितः॥२६॥

In one of the kalpas you were born as Satī the daughter of Dakṣa, in another kalpa you were born as Pārvatī the daughter of Himālaya. Sometimes you were born as Aditi the mother of the gods and you also represent the universe in the form of the earth. You are Gaṅgā, Tulasī, Svāhā and Svadhā; all the spouses of the gods have been born of your aṁśa or the part of your aṁśa.

स्त्रीरूपं चातिपुंरूपं देवि त्वं च नपुंसकम्।
वृक्षाणां वृक्षरूपा त्वं सृष्टा चाङ्कुररूपिणी॥२७॥

O goddess you represent the men, women and eunuchs. You are the form of the trees and in the trees you appear like the sprouting tender leaves.

वह्नौ च दाहिका शक्तिर्जले शैत्यस्वरूपिणी।
सूर्ये तेजःस्वरूपा च प्रभारूपा च संततम्॥२८॥
गन्धरूपा च भूमौ च आकाशे शब्दरूपिणी।
शोभा स्वरूपा चन्द्रे च पद्मसंघे च निश्चितम्॥२९॥

You happen to be the power of burning with the fire, the coolness in water, tejas of Sūrya, fragrance of the earth and the sound in the sky, you surely happen to be the lustre of the moon and the bunch of lotus flowers.

सृष्टौ सृष्टिस्वरूपा च पालने परिपालिका।
महामारी च संहारे जले च जलरूपिणी॥३०॥

You are the' creation, the form of creation, preserver, epidemic in destruction and become the form of water in the water.

क्षुत्त्वं दया त्वं निद्रा त्वं तृष्णा त्वं बुद्धिरूपिणी।
तुष्टिस्त्वं चापि पुष्टिस्त्वं श्रद्धास्त्वं च क्षमा स्वयम्॥३१॥
शान्तिस्त्वं च स्वयं भ्रान्तिः कान्तिस्त्वं कीर्तिरेव च।
लज्जा त्वं च तथा माया भुक्ति-मुक्तिस्वरूपिणी॥३२॥

You are the hunger, mercy, sleep, passion, intelligence, satisfaction, support, faith, forgiveness, peace, fallacy, glory, shyness, illusion, consumption and the form of salvation.

सर्वशक्तिस्वरूपा त्वं सर्वसंपत्प्रदायिनी।
वेदेऽनिर्वचनीया त्वं त्वां न जानाति कश्चन॥३३॥

You possess the form of all the prowess, bestower of all the riches and are known as inexplicable in the Vedas therefore no one knows about your true identity.

सहस्रवक्त्रस्त्वां स्तोतुं न च शक्तः सुरेश्वरि।
वेदा न शक्ताः को विद्वान्न च शक्ता सरस्वती॥३४॥

O goddess the serpent Śeṣa with a thousand hoods is unable to adore you besides the Vedas and Sarasvatī; who else can spell out you praise.

स्वयं विधाता शक्तो न न च विष्णुः सनातनः।
किं स्तौमि पञ्चवक्त्रैस्तु रणत्रस्तो महेश्वरि॥३५॥
कृपां कुरु महामाये मम शत्रुक्षयं कुरु।
इत्युक्त्वा च सकरुणं रथस्थे पतिते रणे॥३६॥
आविर्बभूव सा दुर्गा सूर्यकोटिसमप्रभा।
नारायणेन कृपया प्रेरिता परमात्मना॥३७॥

Even Brahmā the creator of the universe and eternal lord Viṣṇu are unable to recite your glory. I being Maheśvara and feeling terrified in the battle-field, I am reciting your glory with all my five faces. Therefore O great illusion, be merciful on me and destroy the enemies. Thus speaking in pathetic voice, lord Śiva fell down over the chariot in the battle-field.

शिवस्य पुरतः शीघ्रं शिवाय च जयाय च।
इत्युवाच महादेवी मायाशक्त्याऽसुरं जहि॥३८॥

Thereafter getting inspired with the kindness of Nārāyaṇa, Durgā appeared before Śiva having the lustre of crores of suns for his protection and bestowed victory on him. The great goddess spoke to him. "You destroy the enemy with the application of illusion".

दुर्गोवाच

वरं वृणीष्व भद्रं ते यत्ते मनसि वाञ्छितम्।
भवान्वरः सुराणां च जयं तुभ्यं ददाम्यहम्॥३९॥

Durgā said- You will meet with welfare. You ask for a boon. You are best among the gods therefore, I shall bestow victory on you "

महादेव उवाच

क्षयो भवतु दैत्यस्य इति मे वरमीश्वरि।
देहीति वाञ्छितं दुर्गे परमाद्ये सनातनि॥४०॥

Mahādeva said- O great goddess you are the eternal, the eternal śakti. Therefore, O goddess Durgā, let this demon be destroyed. I need only this boon.

भगवत्युवाच

हरिं स्मर महाभाग जय दैत्यं जगद्गुरुः।
स्वयं विधाता भगवांस्त्वमेव ज्योतिरीश्वरः॥४१॥
एतस्मिन्नन्तरे विष्णुर्वृषरूपो बभूव ह।
दधार कलया मूर्ध्ना शूलपाणे रथं विभुः॥४२॥

Bhagavatī said- O virtuous one, O teacher of the universe, you would surely be victorious, you are yourself the supreme lord, the creator and the form of the eternal flame, you remember Hari and conquer the demon. In the meantime lord Viṣṇu taking to the form of a bull lifted up the chariot of Śiva over the horns.

ऊर्ध्वचक्रमथोग्रं च प्रकुप्तिं च चकार सः।
शस्त्रं ददौ मन्त्रपूतमुद्धार ततो रथम्॥४३॥
शिवः शस्त्रं गृहीत्वा च ध्यात्वा विष्णुं महेश्वरीम्।

ब्रह्मा शुभाशिषं चैव मुनयश्चापि हर्षिताः।
ननृतुर्देवताः सर्वा जगुर्गन्धर्वकिन्नरः॥४६॥

Thus the wheels of the terrific chariot were raised and it started floating in the air. She than bestowed a weapon to Śiva sanctified by mantras. Śiva than held the weapon remembered the goddess Durgā and Viṣṇu and than killed Tripurāsura. The demon fell down on earth. At that point of time the gods eulogised lord Śiva and showered the rain of flower petals. Durgā than gave to Śiva a trident, Viṣṇu a bow and Brahmā the auspicious blessing. The delighted ascetics also behaved similarly. All the gods started dancing and the Gandharvas started singing.

O father, in the meantime the Stavarāja also appeared in person who could remove the obstructions, the persons creating the obstructions, the killer of the enemies, was bestower of all riches, bestowed pleasure, quite auspicious, bestower of salvation and the devotion of lord Hari beside the dwelling in Goloka and the success. By reciting this Stotrarāja, Pārvatī also gets pleased. This stotra relieves one of the greed, passion, anger, the cause of deeds beside bestowing the prowess, intelligence making one free from the cycle of birth and death. This stotra bestows the people with riches, sons, wife, land and all the riches, removing all his ailments and grief. All the success is achieves by him. By reciting this stotra even the immensely barren woman gets a child, a grief stricken person is freed from fetters.

स्तोत्रेणानेन वैश्येन्द्र कल्याणं लभते नर:॥५४॥

The ailing person is freed from the disease, while the pauper is bestowed with immense riches; the person under the influence of this stotra does not die even when thrown into the burning fire nor his boat capsizes in the great ocean. O best of the Vaiśyas, with the influence of this stotra, a person meets with welfare even when surrounded by the robbers, enemies and wild animals.

तैजसानां यथा रत्नमाश्रमाणां द्विजो यथा।

तथा स्तोत्रेष्विदं स्तोत्रं नात: परतरं व्रज॥५९॥

O lord of Vraja, as the gem is the best among the articles that glitter, a Brāhmaṇa among the varṇas, Gaṅgā among the rivers, oṁkara among the mantras and Tulasī among the leaves, Vasundharā among the land, Pārijāta among the flowers, sandal-wood among the wood, Viṣṇu-pūjā among the adoration's, Ekādaśī among the vratas, Śiva among the intellectuals, Gaṇeśa among the siddhas, Viṣṇu among the gods, Vedas among the scriptures, Durgā among the goddesses, Kamalā among the having peaceful nature, Sarasvatī among the intellectuals, Rādhikā among the beautiful damsels. Similarly this stotra happens to be the best of all and no other stotra can equated with it.

पुरा दत्तं ब्रह्मणे च पुष्करे सूर्यपर्वणि।
दैत्यग्रस्ताय भीताय सर्वदुर्गहरं परम्॥६०॥

In the earlier times at the time of solar eclipse I bestowed this stotra which is remover of all the difficulties to Brahmā.

शिवाय शत्रुग्रस्ताय ददौ ब्रह्मा मदाज्ञया।
शिवश्च सनकादिभ्य: पुरा दुर्वाससे ददौ।।६१।।

Brahmā bestowed the knowledge of this stotra to Śiva who had been surrounded by his enemies. In turn Śiva bestowed this stotra to Sanaka and others beside Durvāsā.

सनत्कुमारो भगवान्कृपया गौतमाय च।
पुलहाय पुलस्त्याय ददौ चाङ्गिरसे मुदा।।६२।।
तथा चन्द्राय सूर्याय सूर्यश्चापि यमाय च।
यमश्च चित्रगुप्ताय कृपया च पुरा ददौ।।६३।।

Lord Sanatkumāra gave this stotra to Gautama, Pulaha, Pulastya, Aṅgirā, the sun and the moon. Sūrya bestowed the knowledge of the stotra to Yama. Yama gave it to Citragupta.

नित्यं पठिष्यसि स्तोत्रं गोलोकगमनाय वै।
साक्षात्पश्यसि भो तात तामेव पार्वतीमिह।।६४।।

O father, the one who recites it daily he achieves Goloka and with the influence of the same you are having an audience with Pārvatī at present.

यस्मै कस्मै न दातव्यं पापिने गोपनं कुरु।

सर्वसिद्धिं च लभते सिद्धस्तोत्रे भवेद्यदि।
दशायुतजपेनैव सिद्धस्तोत्रो भवेन्नर:।।६८।।

The knowledge of this stotra cannot be imparted to anyone else nor would it be proper to bestow its knowledge to a sinner; it can be bestow to a devotee of Nārāyaṇa, a peaceful intellectual and all knowing Brāhmaṇa. This stotra should never be given to the driver of the bulls, a Brāhmaṇa who happens to be the husband of a loose women, the Brāhmaṇa serving as a cook with the Śūdras and the Brāhmaṇas consuming the food with the Śūdras at the time of śrāddhas. It should also not be given to a Brāhmaṇa who sells away his daughter. With the achieving of the success by this stotra, one gets all the siddhis and by reciting this stotra ten thousand times, one meets with success.

अग्निस्तम्भं जलस्तम्भं मृत्स्तम्भं मनसस्तथा।
अश्वमेधसहस्राच्च पृथिव्याश्च प्रदक्षिणात्।।६९।।

स्तोत्रेणानेन विप्रेन्द्र सर्वसंपत्प्रदायिनीम्।
वरं तस्मै ददौ दुर्गा गोलोकवासमीप्सितम्।।७२।।

It results in the disturbance of fire, water dust and the mind. It is the best of the stotra and bestows the merit of performing and a thousand Aśvamedha sacrifices, going round the earth and taking bath at all the holy places. O father, I have bestowed the knowledge of the stotra. to you since you happen to be dearer to me than my life. Now you adore goddess Pārvatī in my assembly. O best of the Brāhmaṇas, on hearing the words of Śrī Kṛṣṇa, Nanda adored goddess Durgā who bestows all the riches. Thereafter getting pleased the goddess bestowed him the boon of his stay in the Goloka.

दुर्लभं परमं ज्ञानं वेदे यन्न श्रुतं मुने।
राजेन्द्रत्वं गोकुले च कृष्णभक्तिं सुदुर्लभाम्।।७३।।

वरं दत्त्वा ययौ दुर्गा संभाष्य शंभुना सह।।७४।।
जग्मुर्देवाश्च मुनय: स्तुत्वा च नन्दनन्दनम्।

O sage, thereafter the inaccessible knowledge which was not available even in the Vedas, beside the kingship of Gokula, the inaccessible devotion of lord Kṛṣṇa and his slavehood and the boon of meeting with success was bestowed to Nanda by the goddess. Thereafter Durgā left the place after talking to Śiva, the gods and the sages also adored Kṛṣṇa the son of Nanda and left the place.

उवाच नन्दं श्रीकृष्णो व्रज नन्द व्रजान्वित:।।
प्रहृष्टस्त्यक्तमोहश्च बोधेन दुर्लभेन च।।७५।।

Then Kṛṣṇa said to Nanda, "Now you have been Impaired the inaccessible divine knowledge and as such you shed away all the attachments and return to Vraja with all the dwellers of Vraja delightfully.".

Kṛṣṇa eulogises Nanda

श्रीकृष्ण उवाच

गच्छ गच्छ गृहं गच्छ व्रजराज व्रजं व्रज।
सर्वं तत्त्वं त्वया ज्ञातं दृष्टाश्च मुनय: सुरा:।।१।।
श्रुतं मे धन्यमाख्यानं नानाख्यानं सुदुर्लभम्।
दुर्गाया: स्तोत्रराजं च जन्मपाशनिकृन्तनम्।।२।।

Śrī Kṛṣṇa said- O lord of Vraja now you revert to Vraja because you have been bestowed with all the knowledge beside meeting with the sages and the gods. You have listened from my various types of inaccessible stories which remove the cycle of birth and death and the stotra of Durgā which is quite auspicious.

स्थितं तत्ते निगदितं हर्षेण च सुखेन च।

O father, I have described everything whatever was visible, whatever shortcomings I have been responsible for, you kindly forgive me, the pleasure which I could not get from my parents in the royal houses here were provided to me in your house which would not be available even in the heaven.

My loving words which are filled with humility, fear, joy were spoken by me to Yaśodā, the cowherdesses, the boys of Vraja and especially to Rādhā. All of them are still in Gokula; you enjoy their company with your family and friends in Goloka in due course of time.

त्यक्त्वा च पार्थिवं देहं दिव्यदेहं विधाय च।।१२।।

O father, after enjoying all the pleasures in this world, Yaśodā, Rohiṇī, the cowherdesses, the cowherds, Vṛṣabhānu, Kalāvatī, the mother of Rādhā and Rādhā also leaving the human body would go to the Goloka. O father, at that that point of time, a hundred lakhs of chariots would arrive in Gokula from Goloka which will be decorated with innumerable ornaments of gems, the garland of gems, the sapphire, rubies and jewel, garlands, flags of yellow fine garments with white fly-whisks held by the divine attendants. The chariot would also have the mirrors of gems and would have a number of cowherds and cowherdesses aboard the same, you would proceed to Goloka mounted on the chariot.

अयोनिसंभवा राधा राधामाता कलावती।

अयोनिसंभवा दुर्गा तारा सीता च सुन्दरी।
अयोनिसंभवास्ताश्च धन्या मेना कलावती।।१५।।

Since Rādhā and her mother Kalāvatī were not born of any human contact, they would go to the Goloka with their human bodies because Kalāvatī happens to be the mind born daughter of the manes. The mother of Sītā, the mother of Pārvatī named Menā, Durgā, Tārā and beautiful Sītā are all born without any human contact; all of them including Kalāvatī and Menā are quite graceful.

O father, thus I have spoken to you the extremely secret story which is inaccessible to others. Both Durgā and myself have bestowed our blessing to you". On hearing the words of Kṛṣṇa, Nanda the lord of Vraja spoke to Kṛṣṇa the lord of the universe and who is graceful to the devotees thus.

नन्द उवाच

युगानां च चतुर्णां च यं यं धर्मं सनातनम्।
क्रमेण कृष्ण विस्तीर्णं कृत्वा मां कथय प्रभो।।१८।।

Nanda said- O lord Kṛṣṇa what are the eternal dharma of the four yugas, you kindly tell me in detail.

कलिशेषे भवेद्यद्यद्गुणदोषं कलेस्तथा।

You kindly tell me the merits and demerits of Kali age, beside the position of dharma, artha and the people.

नन्दस्य वचनं श्रुत्वा हृष्टः कमललोचनः।

On hearing the words of Nanda, lord Kṛṣṇa delightfully spoke to him the sweet story.

Description for Yugas

श्रीकृष्ण उवाच

शृणु नन्द प्रवक्ष्यामि सानन्दं मानसं यथा।
कथां रम्यां सुमधुरां पुराणेषु परिष्कृताम्।।१।।
परिपूर्णतमो धर्मो धार्मिकाश्च कृते युगे।
परिपूर्णतमं सत्यं परिपूर्णतमा दया।।२।।

Śrī Kṛṣṇa said- O Nanda, you listen to me delightfully. I am going to tell you an extremely charming story which has been described beautifully in the Purāṇas. In the Kṛtayuga, all the people are religious minded and the religion is fully established during that period. The people are truthful and are full of mercy and compassion.

अतीव प्रज्वलद्रूपा वेदाश्चत्वार एव च।
वेदाङ्गाश्चापि विविधासारश्चेतिहासाच संहिता:।।३।।
पुराणानि सुरम्याणि पञ्चरात्राणि पञ्च च।
रुचिराणि सुभद्राणि धर्मशास्त्राणि यानि च।।४।।

All the four Vedas, the post-Vedic literature, various types of historical treatises and the Saṁhitās predominate the society. All the charming Purāṇas, the five Pañcarātras and all the religious scriptures which bestow welfare, remain quite popular .

विप्रा वेदविद: सर्वे पुण्यवन्तस्तपस्विन:।
नारायणं ते ध्यायन्ति तन्मन्त्रं च जपन्ति च।।५।।

All the Brāhmaṇas are well-versed in the Vedas, quite meritorious and tapasvīs. They always remain devoted to Nārāyaṇa and recite his mantras.

ब्राह्मणा: क्षत्रिया वैश्याश्चतुर्वर्णाश्च वैष्णवा:।
शूद्रा ब्राह्मणभृत्याश्च सत्यधर्मपरायणा:।।६।।

All the four varṇas including Brāhmaṇas, Kṣ atriyas, Śūdras Vaiśyas perform their duty religiously. Out of them Śūdras serve the Brāhmaṇas and perform their dharma.

राजानो धार्मिकाश्चैव प्रजापालनतत्परा:।
गृह्णन्त्येव प्रजानां च षोडशांशकरान्नृपा:।।७।।

The Kings have a religious bent of mind and maintain the people always and receive the taxes equivalent to the sixteen part of their earnings.

करशून्याश्च विप्राश्च पूज्या: स्वच्छन्दगामिन:।
संततं सर्वसस्याढ्या रत्नाधारा वसुंधरा।।८।।

The Brāhmaṇas remain free from taxes and they roam about it will, the earth always produces various types of cereals and crops remaining filled with gems.

गुरुभक्ताश्च शिष्याश्च पितृभक्ता: सुतास्तथा।
योषित: पतिभक्ताश्च पतिव्रतपरायणा:।।९।।
ऋतौ संभोगिन: सर्वे न स्त्रीलुब्धा न लम्पटा:।
न भयं दस्युचौर्याणां न तत्र पारदारिका:।।१०।।

The pupil are devoted to the teacher, the son remain devoted to the father and the wives remain to their husbands maintaining to their chastity. All the people enjoy the conjugal pleasure of their wives at the appropriate time; no one is greedy of the women and or is wicked. During this yuga there are no thieves or robbers and no one owns the wives of others.

तरव: पूर्णफलिन: पूर्णक्षीराश्च धेनव:।
बलवन्तो जना: सर्वे दीर्घा: सौन्दर्यसंयुता:।।११।।
लक्षवर्षायुष: केचित्पुण्यवन्तो ह्यरोगिण:।
यथा विप्रा विष्णुभक्तास्त्रिवर्णा विष्णुसेविन:।।१२।।

The trees remain laiden with fruit and the cows yield the maximum of milk. All the people are healthy, with long and well-built body besides being beautiful; some of the auspicious people remain alive up to a lakh of years and are never attracted by ailments. As the Brāhmaṇa are devoted to Viṣṇu similarly, the remaining three varṇas of the people are also devoted to Viṣṇu.

जलपूर्णा नदा नद्य: संततं कंदरास्तथा।

मन:पूताश्च निखिला: खलहीनं जगत्त्रयम्।
सत्कीर्तिपरिपूर्णं च यशस्यं मङ्गलान्वितम्।।१४।।

All the rivers and rivulets are filled with water and the mountain caves look quite charming. The people of all the four varṇas purify themselves by taking bath in the holy places. The Brāhmaṇas purify themselves by performing tapas. Thus all the people of the earth have noble souls. One cannot hear the name of a wicked person in the three worlds during Satyayuga. All the varṇas are filled with welfare.

पितर: सर्वकालेषु तिथिकालेषु देवता:।
सर्वकालेष्वतिथय: पूजिताश्च गृहे गृहे।।१५।।
त्रिवर्णा विप्रभक्ताश्च विप्रभोजततत्परा:।
ब्राह्मणस्य मुखं क्षेत्रमनूषरमकण्टकम्।।१६।।

The ancestors arrive at the appropriate time, the gods also arrive at the appropriate time. The guests are adored in all the household; the people of all the three varṇas respect the Brāhmaṇa and provide them with food regularly because the mouth of a Brāhmaṇa, as never barren and is free from the thorns .

नारायणोत्कीर्तनेन हर्षयुक्तास्तदुत्सवे।
न शत्रवो जनानां च सर्वे सर्वहितैषिण:।।१७।।
नाऽऽत्मप्रशंसका: केचित्सर्वे परगुणोत्सुका:।

मणिमाणिक्यरत्नौघरत्नस्वर्णसमन्वितम्।
न भिक्षुका न रोगार्ता: शोकहीनाश्च हर्षिता:।।२०।।

The people remain extremely happy by reciting the name of Nārāyaṇa in the festivities. During this yuga no one denounces the gods, the Brāhmaṇas and the intellectuals. No one praises himself. All the people remain engaged in praising others. No Person remains inimical to others. All the people think of the welfare of others; all the men and women are quite well-read and there is no one devoid of wisdom. There is no one filled with greed and all the people reside in the palaces of gems which are studded with to sapphire and rubies beside the gold. At that point of time there are no beggars; no one suffers from ailment and all the people are free from grief and other ailments. They remain delightful all the times.

न हि भूषणहीनाश्च नरा नार्यश्च केचन।
न पापिनो न धूर्ताश्च न क्षुधार्ता न कुत्सिताः॥२१॥
जराहीनाः प्राणिनश्च शश्वद्यौवनसंस्थिताः।
आधिव्याधिविहीनाश्च निर्विकाराश्च देहिनः॥२२॥

No man or woman is seen without ornaments. There are no sinners, nor wicked. No one remains hungry or denounces. All the people are free from old age and remain always young; they are free from the ailment and other deformities.

यदुक्तो वै सत्ययुगे धर्मः सत्यं दयादिकम्।
पादहीनश्च त्रेतायां सत्यार्धं द्वापरेऽपि च॥२३॥

Thus in the Satyayuga the people are truthful, compassionate and extremely religious. Dharma in Tretāyuga remains present with three feet only and in Dvāpara, it has only two.

धर्मैकपाच्च प्रथमे कलेश्चातिकृशोऽबलः।
दुष्टानां दस्युचौर्याणामङ्कुरः प्रभवेद्व्रज॥२४॥

At the beginning of the age of Kali, the same Dharma becomes quite lean and thin and stands on earth on one leg. O lord of Vraja, at that point of time. the sprouting of the wicked people, the robbers and the thieves starts.

अधर्मनिरताः केचिद्भीताः संगोपिनस्तथा।
भीता गुप्ताश्च पुंश्चल्यौ भीताश्च पारदारिकाः॥२५॥
धर्मिष्ठानां भयं शश्वदधर्मिष्ठाश्च कम्पिताः।
स्वल्पधर्मरता भूपाः स्वल्पवेदरता द्विजाः॥२६॥

Some people engage themselves in performing evil deeds throughout the day and night but some of the people feel afraid of doing anything evil. Therefore they start concealing their evil deeds. The loose women feel panicky and indulge into sinful ways secretly. The men also become panicky and they enjoy secretly the company of other women. Similarly the religious minded people are also shaken, the kings would perform only pretty religious deeds and the Brāhmaṇas would devote themselves to the study of Vedas only nominally.

व्रतधर्मरताः केचित्सर्वे स्वच्छन्दगामिनः।
यावत्तिष्ठन्ति तीर्थानि यावत्तिष्ठन्ति साधवः॥२७॥
यावत्तिष्ठन्ति ग्रामाणां देवाः शास्त्राणि पूजनम्।
तावत्किंचित्तपः सत्यं स्वर्गधर्मांश एव च॥२८॥

Only a few people would get themselves devoted to their dharma and all the people would be free to move anywhere alike. Till such time the holy places, the ascetics, noble people, the village deities and the scriptures besides the method of adoration would remain on earth, the truthfulness, the aṁśa of dharma and the tapas would remain on earth.

कलेर्दोषनिधेस्तात गुण एको महानपि।
मानसं संभवेत्पुण्यं सुकृतं न हि दुष्कृतम्॥२९॥
तीर्थादिके गते तात नष्टो धर्मांश एव च।
कलारूपश्च धर्मश्च यथा कुह्वां निशाकरः॥३०॥

O father, though the Kaliyuga is filled with all the evils but still there are great virtues in the same. There will be a performing of mental merit but not the sin. O father, after the sanctity of the holy places is lost, the dharma, also looses its importance. The dharma would becomes black form like the moonless night .

नन्द उवाच

तीर्थान्येतानि सर्वाणि तिष्ठन्त्येव कियद्दिनम्।
साधवो ग्राम्यदेवाश्च शास्त्राण्येतानि वत्सक॥३१॥

Nanda said- O son for how long the holy places, the ascetic, the village deities and the scriptures would remain on earth during Kaliyuga.

श्रीकृष्ण उवाच

कलौ दशसहस्राणि हरिस्तिष्ठति मेदिनीम्।
देवानां प्रतिमा पूज्या शास्त्राणि च पुराणकम्॥३२॥

Śrī Kṛṣṇa said- During Kaliyuga the lord remains on earth for ten thousand years. Till that time the images of the gods and the scriptures beside the Purāṇas are also adored.

तदर्धमपि तीर्थानि गङ्गादीनि सुनिश्चितम्।
तदर्धं ग्रामदेवाश्च वेदाश्च विदुषामपि॥३३॥

For half that period (five thousand years), the Gaṅgā and all other holy places would enjoy their sanctity and for half of that period, the village deities would be adored besides the intellectual and the Vedas.

अधर्मः परिपूर्णश्च तदन्ते च कलौ पितः।
एकवर्णा भविष्यन्ति वर्णाश्चत्वार एव च॥३४॥
न मन्त्रपूतोद्वाहश्च न हि सत्यं न च क्षमा।
स्त्रीस्वीकाररतो नित्यं ग्राम्यधर्मप्रधानतः॥३५॥
न यज्ञसूत्रं तिलकं ब्राह्मणानां च नित्यशः।
संध्याशास्त्रविहीनाश्च विप्रवंशाः श्रुता अपि॥३६॥

O father at the end of Kaliyuga, wickedness would establish itself completely. At that point of time, the people of all the four varṇas would become like Śūdras. At that point of time no marriage would be performed with the reciting of the mantras. The people will be deprived of truthfulness and forgiveness. Because of the importance of the conjugal pleasures, the marriage would be performed only with the consent of the women. The Brāhmaṇas would not wear the yajñopavītas would not apply tilakam on the forehead nor would the Brāhmaṇas perform the sandhyās thrice a day

सर्वैः सार्धं च सर्वेषां भक्षणं नियमच्युतम्।
अभक्ष्यभक्षा लोकाश्च चतुर्वर्णाश्च लम्पटाः॥३७॥
नारीषु न सती काचित्पुंश्चली च गृहे गृहे।
करोति तर्जनं कान्तं भृत्यतुल्यं च कम्पितम्॥३८॥

All the people discarding all the vows would eat whatever they liked. Thus all the people of the four varṇas would consume things irrespective of those which have been prescribed as eatables and non-eatables. All would be wicked. There will be dearth of chaste women on earth and in every house-hold, the loose women would be available, who would always denounced their husbands, such a person would always feel panicky and shaky like a servant.

जाराय दत्त्वा मिष्टान्नं ताम्बूलं वस्त्रचन्दनम्।
न ददात्येव चाऽऽहारं स्वामिने दुःखिने पितः॥३९॥
पुत्रेण भर्त्सितस्तातः शिष्येण भर्त्सितो गुरुः।
प्रजाभिस्ताडितो भूपो भूपेन पीडिताः प्रजाः॥४०॥

O father, the loose woman would serve the best of the sweets to her lower beside the food, betel, the fragrance, sandal-paste and the costumes, but would never care for the food of her husband. The son would always denounce the father and the pupil their teacher. The king would always be terrified by the public while the king would torture by the people

दस्युचोरैश्च दुष्टैश्च शिष्टाश्च परिपीडिताः।
सस्यहीना च वसुधा क्षीरहीनाश्च धेनवः॥४१॥
स्वल्पक्षीरे घृतं नास्ति नवनीतं च नित्यशः।
सत्यहीना जनाः सर्वे नित्यं मिथ्या वदन्ति च॥४२॥

The noble people would suffer at the hands of the robbers, the thieves and the wicked people. The yielding of crop would be destroyed on earth and the cows would stop yielding enough of milk. The milk, butter and ghee would be in short supply. All the people would be devoid of truthfulness and always speak falsehood.

शौचसंध्याशास्त्रहीना ब्राह्मणा वृषवाहकाः।
सूपकाराश्च शूद्राणां शूद्राणां शवदाहकाः॥४३॥
शूद्रस्त्रीनिरताः शश्वच्छूद्रा विप्रवधूरताः।
खादन्ति यस्य विप्रस्य भक्ष्यं च परिपाचकाः॥४४॥
मातुः परां तस्य पत्नीं शूद्रा गृह्णन्ति लम्पटाः।
भृत्यश्च हत्वा राजानं स्वयं राजा भविष्यति॥४५॥
नारी हत्वा पतिं कामाद्भजेज्जारं च कौतुकात्।
पुत्रश्च पितरं हत्वा स्वयं भूपो भविष्यति॥४६॥

The Brāhmaṇa would be deprived of purity, performing of sandhyā, study of scriptures and become the drivers of bulls, cooks in the kitchen of Śūdras, resorting to the burning of the dead bodies of the Śūdras, getting entangled with Śūdra women. The Śūdras on the other hand would be attracted towards the Brāhmaṇa ladies, consuming the food of a Brāhmaṇa the wicked Śūdra would abducts the wife of the Brāhmaṇa who could be equated with his own mother and quite adorable. The servants would conspire to kill the king and occupy the throne. The women would kill the husband and would enjoy the company of the lover. The son would kill the father and himself become the king.

सर्वे स्वच्छन्दनिरताः शिश्नोदरपरायणाः।
वङ्कुरा व्याधियुक्ताश्च कुत्सिताश्च कुचैलकाः॥४७॥
विक्षुण्णमन्त्रलिप्ताश्च मिथ्यामन्त्रप्रचारकाः।

जातिहीनाश्च गुरवो वयोहीनाश्च निन्दकाः॥४८॥

Thus all the people would become independent, moving at will, lustful, gluttons, suffering from ailment, dirty, the reciter of broken mantras and would propagate false mantras. The teachers would be casteless, devoid of age would be and denounced.

राजानश्चापि म्लेच्छाश्च यवना धर्मनिन्दकाः।
सत्कीर्तिमपि साधूनां कुर्वन्त्युन्मूलनं मुदा॥४९॥

The mlecchas would become the king and the Yavana would denounce the dharma destroying the spotless glory of the ascetics.

पितृदेवद्विजातीनामतिथीनां च नित्यशः।
पूजा नास्ति गुरूणां च पित्रोश्च पूजनं स्त्रियाः॥५०॥

मानं वहन्ति लोभेन युगधर्मेण कौतुकात्।
देवायतनहीनं च जगत्सर्वं भयाकुलम्॥५२॥

The adoration of ancestors gods and Brāhmaṇas, the guests, the teachers and the parents would not be respected; they would remain welcoming their own wives. O father the relatives of the wife would be preferred and the influence of the ladies would go on increasing, the people of high castes would become their and would steal the riches of the gods and the Brāhmaṇas. in Kaliyuga the people would respect the religion only playfully or with the intention of causing grief;; the entire universe would be deprived of the abodes of gods and would become terrific.

अराजकं च दुर्नीतं संततं कलिदोषतः।
बुभुक्षिताः कुचैलाश्च दरिद्रा व्याधिनो नराः॥५३॥
कपर्दकघटाध्यक्षो राजेन्द्रो हि घटेश्वरः।
वृद्धाङ्गुष्ठसमा लोका वृक्षाः शाकसमास्तथा॥५४॥

Because of the evils of the age of Kali, there would be indiscipline everywhere and disturbance would increase. All the people would face hunger, wear dirty clothes and would become pauper. The one whose house is filled with pitchers of small shells would be treated as the king and the one having innumerable pitchers like the same would be known as the great king. The people would be of the size of the thumb and the trees would be of the size of vegetables.

तालानां नारिकेलाणां पनसानां तथैव च।

जलभाजनपात्रेण सस्येन वाससा तथा।
विहीनं मन्दिरं सर्वं गृहाणामपरिष्कृतम्॥५६॥

The fruits of tāla, coconut, jack fruit would be of the size of sesamum seeds and other fruits would be of still smaller in size, there will be general shortage of the vases for waters cereals and cloth in the households the houses would be quite broken and deserted.

गन्धकेन परिवृतं दीपहीनं तमोयुतम्।

सर्वे च कलहाविष्ठा पुंश्चल्यः कलहप्रियाः।

They would be filled with bad smells; having no lamps and filled with bad smells, having no lamps and filled with darkness; all the humans would be sinful and would feel panicky of the wild animal. At that point of time the people would be greedy for fruits and the women would be quarrel some. The women would be deprived of deities beside the men.

नद्यो नदाः कंदराश्च तडागाश्च सरोवराः।

अवशिष्टा च पृथिवी कथामात्रावशेषिता॥६३॥

All the rivers, rivulets, the caves, the lakes and pools beside the tanks would be deprived of the water. The women would be barren, passionate and would always like the company of lovers; all the people would cut the pīpala tree and the land would be deprived of the trees. The trees would be without the branches fruit and trunks; the fruit would not be delicious. The water and the food would have no taste. The human beings would speak untruth, would be heartless and devoid of dharma. Thereafter the twelve Ādityas would burn all the creatures of the universe with their heat. O lord of Vraja, at that point of time only the story of the earth would remain.

कलौ गते च पृथिवी क्षेत्रं वर्षागते तथा।
पुन: सत्यप्रवृत्तिश्च भविष्यति क्रमेण वै।।६४।।

As the land dries up at the end of the rainy season, similarly after the expiry of Kaliyuga, the land would be free from all the creatures. Thereafter again the Satyayuga would start.

इत्येवं कथितं सर्वं गच्छ तात व्रजं सुखम्।

O father, I have thus narrated to you everything; now you comfortably go back to Vraja; I am indeed like an infant before you and what could I speak about dharma before you. Remaining in Vraja, I consumed butter, ghee, milk, curd, butter-milk, svastika and the sweet dishes and several other sweet dishes which were prepared for the gods and the ancestors; I consumed them forcibly because he crying of a child has his own strength. Therefore all the short-comings committed by me at every step should be forgiven by you since you are my father and I am your son beside Yaśodā is my mother.

You narrate this joke of mine to Yaśodā and Rohiṇī and tell them that you had heard all this from an infant like me. Thereafter you can narrate the same to all the dwellers of Gokula because the meeting between the relatives is arranged by destiny.

It is the destiny which is responsible for the separation from them, their opposition and the period of love. The destiny creates the universe and the destiny preserves the same. The destiny provides bliss and the destiny gets responsible of the destruction of the universe. Thus the destiny arranges for the pleasure, the pain, fear, the grief, old age, death, birth and all other things according to the deeds of a person. O father, therefore everything should be considered as having been arranged by destiny. There is no doubt about it. You are indeed the Vaiśya of Gokula, known as the king Nanda and I am the son of Vasudeva from Mathurā; my father getting terrified from Kaṁsa, left me in your house, therefore, you enjoy the greater respect from me than my own father and Yaśodā enjoys greater respect for me than my mother. Therefore O lord of Vraja, you relieve yourself from the illusion and attachment because of my discourse and that of Pārvatī you go back to your abode delightfully.

Nanda said- O son, you remember the charming and auspicious place of Vṛndāvana. Why are you not reminded of the festivities of Gokula, the cows, the beautiful bank of Yamunā river, the Rāsamaṇḍala, your divine dance with cowherdesses in Rāsamaṇḍala, the cowherdesses, the cowherds, Yaśodā, Rohiṇī and Rādhikā who is dearer to you than your live? O son for the sake of these people you must go to Gokula for sometime. Thus speaking, Nanda took Kṛṣṇa in his lap and started dropping tears over him. He embraced him and kissed his temples. Thereafter the blissful Kṛṣṇa spoke to him.

Devakī and Vasudeva speak to Nanda

श्रीभगवानुवाच

निषेकेन परिष्वङ्गो विभेदस्तेन वा भवेत्।
क्षणेन दर्शनं तेन निषेक: केन वार्यते॥१॥
गमनागमनार्थं चाप्युद्धव: कथयिष्यति।

एतस्मिन्नन्तरे तत्र वसुदेवश्च देवकी।
बलदेवश्चोद्धवश्च तथाऽक्रूरश्च सत्वरम्॥४॥

Śrī Kṛṣṇa said- One meets with someone and faces separation from him and because of the deeds he meets with him again. Therefore, who can oppose it, O father, I am shortly sending Uddhava to Mathurā and you would come to know about everything. He would speak there about my arrival of otherwise. He, after arriving there would meet Yaśodā, Rohiṇī, cowherdesses, the cow and Rādhā who is dearer to me than my life. In the meantime Vasudeva, Devakī, Baladeva, Akrūra and Uddhava arrived there.

वसुदेव उवाच

दूरीभूता गोकुलाच्च मथुरा नास्ति बान्धव।
महोत्सवे सदानन्दे नन्द द्रक्ष्यसि पुत्रकम्॥६॥

Vasudeva said- O Nanda, you are great intellectual, you are my intimate friend and brother. Shedding away the attachment, you go back to your house, this boy belongs to you as much as he belong to us. O brother, this city of Mathurā is the gate of Gokula, whenever there are any festivities you would surely arrive and meet your sons.

देवक्युवाच

यथाऽयमावयो: पुत्रस्तथैव भवतो ध्रुवम्।

Devakī said- O Nanda, this Kṛṣṇa is as much your son as he is of both of us; then why your face is getting faded? He remained in your house for eleven years and was brought up here. If he is here for sometimes then why do you get worried

तिष्ठ पुत्रेण सार्धं च मथुरायां कियद्दिनम्।

It would be better if you stay here with the boy for sometime in Mathurā and looking at his moon like face, make your birth quite graceful and successful.

Śrī Kṛṣṇa said- O Uddhava, you go to Gokula with pleasure and your desire would be fulfilled there. Reaching there, you meet mother Yaśodā, Rohiṇī, the cowhe..ls, Rādhikā, cowherdesses and enlighten them with the divine knowledge I have imparted here.

नन्दस्तिष्ठतु सानन्दं मन्मातुराज्ञया शुचा।

He heard on the way beating the of big drums, the bells, the blowing of conches, reciting of the name of the lord, accompanied with music and the sound of welfare. He also came across on the way, chaste women whose husband and son was alike, the burning lamp, the garland, mirror, the pitcher filled with water, the curd, fried paddy, the fruit, tender dūrvā grass, white paddy, silver, gold, honey, group of Brāhmaṇas, the buck, the bull, ghee, fresh meat, the elephant, the king, white horse, banners, mangoose, Nīlakaṇṭha, white flowers and sandal-paste. He than reached Vṛndāvana first of all he came across the Akṣ ayavaṭa tree in the Bhāṇḍīra forest, it was in red colour, with glassy leaves; it was quite meritorious and auspicious. Thereafter he met with the boys clad in beautiful garments, who were adorned with gem-studded ornaments and were crying reciting the name of Kṛṣṇa as a boy. Assuring them variously, Uddhava entered the city delightfully and walked up to a long distance.

He was seated delightfully over a seat and offered water, arghya and madhuparka; then they asked him, "O Uddhava, where are Nanda, Balarāma and Kṛṣṇa. You tell us truthfully." Thereafter Uddhava spoke to them all, the words of welfare and said, "O Yaśodā, Balarāma, Kṛṣṇa and Nanda are quite comfortable; Kṛṣṇa would return to Gokula only after performing of the thread ceremony; therefore his arrival here would be delayed. I have arrived here only to convey the news to you. After informing you suitably I shall go back to Mathurā; on coming to know about the welfare of all of them, Yaśodā and Rohiṇī were filled with delight and they distributed gems, gold and beautiful costumes to the Brāhmaṇas; thereafter they served Uddhava the sweet dishes which were as tasty as the neater; he was presented with the best of gems, diamonds and other precious stones. The musical instrument were played upon in welfare tunes.

It was quite a secluded place and was located pleasantly. He then spotted the extremely charming abode of Rādhikā, having the boundary wall studded with gems and surrounded by moat and the forts, being inaccessible by the enemies. It was easily accessible for the friends and had quite secretive and indicative paths; it was surrounded by the moats from all the four sides; it was painted with various types of paintings and was built by Viśvakarmā, using the precious stones and gems beside the garland of gems, it had the pillars which were made of the best of the gems. The steps were made of gems and the pitchers were also decorated with gems; it had a number of banners of fine cloth sanctified by fire. It had beautiful mirrors made of gems as well as the white fly-whisks. He then came across the main gate which had the doors of gems. Above the gate, Viśvakarmā had painted beautifully scene from Vṛndāvana, kadamba-vana, stealing of the cloth, extremely beautiful Rāsamaṇḍala, several types of orchards of gems were depicted which was filled with cowherds and cowherdesses.

A lakh of cowherdesses were guarding the gate, holding the staff in their hands. All of them could move at will and they carried various types of presents in their hands. Finding the gate there, Uddhava crossed, it then crossing the second and the third gates he reached the fourth gate which was quite surprising. Thereafter he crossed the fifth gate and found beautiful paintings there; he than reached the sixth gate which was quite beautiful from all sides, the walls of the place were painted by Viśvakarmā with the scenes from Rāmāyaṇa including the battle scenes the ten incarnations of lord Viṣṇu, Rāsamaṇḍala and the water sport at the bank of Yamunā river. The sixth gate was guarded by a thousand cowherdesses. All of them were adorned with the best of ornaments studded with gems and held in their hands the staff decorated with gems and other precious stones.

Arriving in the place which was built with the best of gems, Uddhava met with Rādhikā; she was beautiful like the moon rays. Her eyes were like full blown lotus flowers, she had discarded all the ornaments, except the pairs of ear ornaments which were hanging issuing the lustre. Because of the separation from Kṛṣṇa, her mouth had become red; she was lying over the ground getting fainted and was crying at the same time; she was motionless and peaceful. She was without food; her lips, throat had dried up; she was breathing some-how; finding her in that condition, Uddhava the great devotee of Kṛṣṇa was filled with emotions. He bowed his head in reverence to Rādhikā.

O goddess as the whiteness cannot be separated from the milk, fragrance cannot be separated from the earth, coolness cannot be separated from water the sound can not be separated from the sky. The lustre cannot be separated from the sun, similarly the Vedic and Paurāṇic literature define Rādhā as inseparable from Mādhava. O goddess of welfare, "O chaste goddess regain consciousness and give me the reply". Thus speaking Uddhava bowed in reverence to Rādhā again and again. Thus the one who recites the stotra composed by Uddhava with devotion, after enjoying all the pleasures in this world, lived in the abode of lord. He does not suffer from the separation from the relatives or ailment and the grief.

प्रोषिता स्त्री लभेत्कान्तं भार्याभेदी लभेत्प्रियाम्।
अपुत्रो लभते पुत्रान्निर्धनो लभते धनम्॥९२॥
निर्भूमिर्लभते भूमिं प्रजाहीनो लभेत्प्रजाम्।
रोगाद्विमुच्यते रोगी बद्धो मुच्यते बन्धनात्॥९३॥
भयान्मुच्येत भीतस्तु मुच्येताऽऽपन्नआपदः।
अस्पष्टकीर्तिः सुयशा मूर्खो भवति पण्डितः॥९४॥

By reciting this stotra a lady whose husband has gone to some other place gets back the husband and the one who is separated from the wife gets back the wife, a person without a son gets a son, a pauper gets the riches, a person without land gets the land, a person who is issueless gets the progeny, the ailing person would be freed from the ailment and person in fetter would be freed from the fetters, the person in panic would he freed from the same and the one who is over-powered with misfortune would be relieved of the same. A person with no reputation achieves immense reputation and a foolish person becomes wise.

All of your limbs resemble those of Kṛṣṇa. I therefore, believe what you happen to be the courtier of Kṛṣṇa, therefore you let me know about the welfare of Kṛṣṇa and Baladeva. You also tell me as to how is Nanda staying there? Would Kṛṣṇa ever come to this charming Vṛndāvana, when I would be able to have a look at his moon like face? Shall be able to enjoys the divine dance with him in the Rāsamaṇḍala, shall I again have the chance of enjoy the water-sport with my friends? Would I be able to plaster the sandal-paste on the body of Kṛṣṇa?.

Rādhikā said- The bank of Yamunā is present here, the fragrant wind is blowing, the kadamba tree is also available for his sports. The beautiful and auspicious Vṛndāvana is also there, the cuckoos are issuing sweet notes, the bed with sandal-paste is also there, all the, four types of eatables and the honey is also there. That wicked god of love, who always causes pain is also there. The lamps of gems are burning in the Rāsamaṇḍala, the pleasure house is also there which has been built with the best of gems. The cowherdesses are there, the full moon is there, the flower bed painted with sandal-paste is also there issuing fragrance. The betel with camphor is also there which is consumed after performing the love-sport, the fragrant garland of jasmine flower is also there, the white fly-whisks is there, beside, the mirror made of gems, the garland of gems, the pool for with the water sport surrounded by charming gardens is also there, the garden with fragrant flower is also there, the lines of beautiful lotus flowers are there. Thus all the pleasures are available but where is the lord of my life? O Kṛṣṇa, O Sāranātha, O lord of my life, where are you? what is the fault of the slave girl like me or otherwise the fault of the slave girl is visible at every step. Thus speaking she again fainted.

Some of them carried the balls, some of them carried the gem-studded ornaments while others carried invaluable garments sanctified by fire, some of them carried the eatables. Some of them were inserting the flowers in the hair of Rādhā, while others were carrying the combs. Some of them carried the red paint for the feet and some of them carried the essence of myrobalan and were standing in panic at a distance, someone feeling panicky was praying while someone was grief-stricken and crying, some of the intelligent cowherdesses were addressing sweet words to Rādhā, who was burning with separation. Someone was looking at Rādhā, who was lying at the beautiful bed and was trying to remove the grief of separation. Someone of them was trying to lay Rādhā on the bed of lotus leaves. Finding Rādhā in such a condition Uddhava felt panicky and he spoke words which were sweet like nectar to Rādhā.

गृहीत्वा सबलं कृष्णं साङ्गे मङ्गलकर्मणि।
स नन्दः परमानन्दो मुदाऽऽयास्यति गोकुलम्।।३८।।

Vasudeva has invited Nanda to remain in Mathurā till the performing of the thread ceremony of Kṛṣṇa. Therefore Nanda is quite happy thereafter the completion of those festivities, Nanda accompanied by Kṛṣṇa. and Baladeva would delightful return to Gokula.

आगत्य कृष्णो मुदितः प्रणम्य मातरं पुनः।
नक्तमायास्यति मुदा पुण्यं वृन्दावनं वनम्।।३९।।

At that time Śrī Kṛṣṇa would be delightful, bow in reverence to the mother and would return to Vṛndāvana in the night.

अचिराद्द्रक्ष्यसि सति श्रीकृष्णमुखपङ्कजम्।
सर्वं विरहदुःखं च संत्यक्ष्यसि च सांप्रतम्।।४०।।

O chaste lady you would surely have a look at the lotus-like face of Śrī Kṛṣṇa and would be relieved of the pain of separation.

You consume the sweet beverages, devoting your mind towards Kṛṣṇa. You consume the fragrant betel and water, enjoy the charming bed delightfully which is having a bed sheet of fine cloth sanctified by fire and is also decorated with the garlands of jasmine flowers kastūrī, lilies, campaka flowers and sandal-paste. Issuing divine fragrance, it is decorated with the garland of jasmine flowers from all sides, is decorated by several precious gems and the jewels and the pillow is made of the best of auspicious flowers. O goddess, all the cowherdesses serve you some of your dear friends are moving the white fly-whisks uninterruptedly, but I want that you should be lodged over the lion throne which is built of the best of the gems and all the cowherdesses should serve at your feet. O sage, thus speaking Uddhava adored the lotus-like feet of Rādhā which are adored by Brahmā and all other gods daily with reverence. After thus speaking, Uddhava kept quiet.

On hearing the words of Uddhava, the smiling and chaste Rādhā offered to him a ring which was invaluable, beautiful and studded with gems and was made by Viśvakarmā. She then offered him the two ear ornaments in which one could look his own reflection. They were yellow in colour, were unprecedented and were shining like the lamp. These kuṇḍalas were handed over by lord Agni to Kṛṣṇa in the Rāsamaṇḍala. Thereafter she also gave him several gem-studded ornaments and the costumes sanctified by fire, the garland of gems which had been handed over by Varuṇa to Kṛṣṇa in the earlier times, she also handed over the Syamantaka gem to Uddhava which was handed over by Sūrya to Kṛṣṇa. The same gem was presented by Kṛṣṇa to Rādhā.

Thereafter the goddess Rādhā handed over the lion-throne studded with best of gems which was presented to Śrī Kṛṣṇa by Mahendra quite delightfully. She also gave him the chatra which was made of the best of gems and diamonds. A garland of diamonds decorated it and several lotus flowers of gems were engraved over it- She also gave the mirror of gems which was handed over to Kṛṣṇa by Brahma in the Rāsamaṇḍala. This was also handed over to Uddhava by Rādhā.

She than blessed him variously and bestowed him with the divine knowledge which was imparted by lord Kṛṣṇa himself to Rādhā in Rāsamaṇḍala of the Goloka, she than blessed him that the Lakṣmī would not depart from his house up to a hundred generations, beside bestowing the knowledge of Yaśaskarī, wide spread popularity, spotless, glory, all the siddhis, the slavehood of the lord, the infallible devotion to the lord, beside becoming the best of the courtier of the lord. This delightfully handing over all these things and pronouncing the blessing on him, Rādhikā got up and she clad herself in the divine costumes sanctified by fire adorned herself with the best of gem-studded ornaments, garland of diamonds and also applied the spot of vermilion over her forehead besides the collyrium in the eyes. She wore long garland of flowers. She applied sandal-paste on her body and than adored Uddhava who was seated on the gem-studded lion throne. At that point of time the complexion of the body of Rādhā resembled that of the molten gold and her lustre exceeded hundreds of moons. She was surrounded by a hundred crores of cowherdesses, thereafter, she delightfully adored Uddhava who was seated on the gem-studded lion-throne.

Rādhikā said- Will Kṛṣṇa really come back you tell me truthfully, he is deprived of deceitfullness, you speak out the truth in this vast assembly because the step-well is better than a hundred wells and a yajña is better than a hundred step wells, a son is better than a hundred yajñas and truthfulness is better than a hundred sons. There is no sin greater than the falsehood. Uddhava said- O beautiful one, the lord would surely come and you would truthfully meet him and your suffering would come to an end at the sight of the lotus-like face of lord.

Because of the pain of separation I am unable to distinguish between the human being and an animal between the water and the earth or the day or night, I have indeed forgotten myself and am unmindful of the rising of the sun and the moon or their setting. I have regained consciousness simply in order to receive the news about the welfare of the lord, during all the time I only visualise the form of the lord or to listen to the sweet notes of his flute. Discarding the traditional shame and fear, I always get engrossed at the lotus-like feet of the lord. No doubt I achieved the lord of universe who is beyond Prakṛti but I could not achieve the true knowledge because of his illusion. I understood him only as the lord of cowherdesses whose feet are adored by Brahmā and all other gods beside the Vedas. I denounced him in anger. This fact is paining my heart like a thorn. O Uddhava, the time I spent while serving at his lotus-like feet, reciting his glory and adoring him is considered to be quite auspicious and delightful moment and my entire life is dedicated to him, now in separation from him my heart always remains painful. Because of this, I shall not have the fortune to enjoy his love sport-in the secluded place like this.

I shall not be able to go to the Vṛndāvana any more. I would not be able to plaster his body with sandal-paste nor would I be able to adorn his neck with garland of flowers nor would I be able to have a look at his lotus-like face. I would not be able to visit the jasmine, the lilly and campaka flowers forests or the Rāsamaṇḍala any further. The visit of the charming sandal-wood forest with Hari, the peaks of gems of the Malaya mountain, the Mādhavī forest, the Madhuvana which is quite secretive and charming, the Khaṇḍa-vana, the beautiful and charming Candrasarovara, the Nandana-vana of the gods, the forest of Puṣpabhadraka and Bhadraka cannot be visited by me any further with out company of the lord. Where is the beautiful Mādhavī creepers laiden with flowers in the spring season? Where is the night of the spring season. Where is the spring season? And Alas, where has Mādhava gone? Thus speaking Rādhā started devoting her mind at the lotus-like feet of the lord, she felt emotional and fainted while crying.

Uddhava's Prayer to Rādhā

नारायण उवाच

उद्धवो विस्मयं प्राप्य भयं च विपुलं मुने।
चेतनं कारयामास तामुवाच मृतामिव।।१।।

Śrī Nārāyaṇa said- O sage finding, Rādhikā lying like dead, Uddhava was surprised and he felt extremely panicky. Thereafter, he somehow brought her back to senses and said to her.

तद्भक्तिं समभिज्ञाय स्वात्मानं भक्तसंख्यकम्।
तुच्छं मेने जगत्सर्वं दृष्ट्वा भाग्यवतीं सतीम्।।२।।

Witnessing the devotion of the chaste and virtuous Rādhikā towards Kṛṣṇa, Uddhava thought on to himself that his devotion for the lord was of no consequence.

चेतनं कुरु कल्याणि जगन्मातर्नमोऽस्तु ते।
त्वमेव प्राक्तनं सर्वं कृष्णं द्रक्ष्यसि सांप्रतम्।।३।।

Uddhava said- O mother of the universe, O virtuous one, you regain your senses, I bow In reverence to you, you happen to have all good deeds performed in the earlier births, now you would surely meet Kṛṣṇa.

त्वत्तो विश्वं पवित्रं च त्वत्पादरजसा मही।
सुपवित्रं त्वद्वदनं पुण्यवत्यश्च गोपिका:।।४।।
लोकास्त्वामेव गायन्ति संगीतैर्मङ्गलस्तवै:।
त्वत्सुकीर्तिं च देवाश्च सनकाद्याश्च संततम्।।५।।
कृतपापहरां पुण्यां तीर्थपूजां च निर्मलाम्।
हरिभक्तिप्रदां भद्रां सर्वविघ्नविनाशिनीम्।।६।।

This entire universe has been purified with you, this earth has been sanctified with the dust of your feet, your face is quite auspicious, adorable in the holy places, spotless, bestows the devotion of the lord, the form of welfare and removes all the obstructions.

त्वमेव राधा त्वं कृष्णस्त्वं पुमान्प्रकृति: परा।
राधामाधवयोर्भेदो न पुराणे श्रुतौ तथा।।७।।
राधिकां मूर्च्छितां दृष्ट्वा पश्चात्कृत्वा तमुद्धवम्।
उवाच माधवी गोपी राधाया: पुरत: स्थिता।।८।।

You are Rādhā, you are Kṛṣṇa, you are Puruṣa and you are Prakṛti. The Vedas or the Purāṇas do not differentiate between Rādhā and Mādhava. Thereafter finding Rādhā in an unconscious condition, the cowherdesses Mādhavī spoke to Rādhā pushing aside Uddhava and standing before Rādhā.

माधव्युवाच

किं वा चोरस्य कृष्णस्य रूपं वा वेषमुत्तमम्।
किं सुखं विभवं किं वा गौरवं चाप्यनुत्तमम्।।९।।
किं वा तद्वीर्यमैश्वर्यं शौर्यं वा दुरतिक्रमम्।

Mādhavī said- what is the virtue of lord Kṛṣṇa, who is the form of a thief, clad in the best of garments, enjoys the best of pleasures, glory, prowess, fortunes and strength, beside the siddhis and the glory what more virtues does he have as compared to you? He a somehow arrived here from somewhere and again disappeared but the cowherds shall still remain there. There is no prince here therefore, O virtuous one, why are you dyeing for the son of Nanda, you protect yourself making all the efforts because there is no one else greater than ones own soul.

धिक्त्वां राधेऽतिनिर्लज्जां तवैव जीवनं वृथा।
जगतो युवतीनां च करोषि सुयशःक्षयम्॥१३॥

अन्तरे पतिभावं च संगोप्य भावनं कुरु।
न वै जातिश्च शत्रूणां मित्राणां च सुरेश्वरि॥१५॥

Mālatī said- O Rādhā, disgrace to your shamelessness and your life has become useless. Presently you are destroying the good name of all the damsels of the universe. All the ladies should keep their moves a secret, because by revealing the same, there is the loss of reputation. Therefore O friend, open your eyes and carefully look with your own eyes. you love anyone keeping the love of the husband as a secret in your heart. O goddess there is no caste between a friend and foe. In the deeds, one becomes a friend.

शत्रुः कार्यवशेनैव मित्रं च कर्मणा भवेत्।
स्वकार्यमुद्धरेत्प्राज्ञः कार्यध्वंसेन मूर्खता॥१६॥

The intelligent person performs his own deeds because it is of no use spoiling the work of anyone.

कः कस्य वल्लभो राधे कः कस्याप्रिय एव च।
कार्यं च समयं ज्ञात्वा सन्तः कुर्वन्ति संततम्॥१७॥

O Rādhā, who is beloved of whom and who is inimical to whom, people conduct themselves taking both the things into consideration.

शत्रुर्धनापहारी च प्राणहर्ता ततः परः।
कटुवक्ता दुःखदाता शत्रूणां लक्षणं शृणु॥१८॥

You listen from me the symptoms of an enemy. An enemy snatches away the riches and life besides being till spoken and causes pain.

स्वकुलात्त्वां बहिष्कृत्य विसृज्य शोकसागरे।
गृहीत्वा चेतनं प्राणान्निष्ठुरो दारुणो गतः॥१९॥
किं किं स्मरसि मूढे हि त्यज शोकं सुदारुणम्।
आत्मानं रक्ष यत्नेन कः प्रियः स्वात्मनः परः॥२०॥

Getting you excommunicated from your caste, throwing you in the ocean of grief, stealing away your consciousness, the heartless Kṛṣṇa has disappeared. O foolish one, then why do you remember him? you shed away this terrific grief and preserve yourself making efforts, because who could be more important than self.

पद्मावत्युवाच

भवता कथितं पूर्णं यमुनाजलसंनिधौ।
अरसस्य रतिर्दूरं नारीणां न सुखं प्रिये॥२१॥
विद्युज्ज्वाला जले रेखा खलानां प्रीतिरेव च।

पुनः पुनस्त्वं संवीक्ष्य त्वया त्यक्तं च चेतनम्।
गृहं त्यक्त्वा गुरुभयं सखीनां वचनं शुभम्॥२४॥

Padmāvatī said- O dear, you had yourself spoken on the bank of the river Yamunā that the love of a dull person carries a person too far and with that the women have to suffer a lot. Because no line can be drawn in the lightening and the water, similarly the love of a wicked person is only short lived. Therefore the people who are well-versed in polity have pronounced that the wicked person should never be believed at any time. whenever you looked with a side glance towards Kṛṣṇa on the bank of Yamunā, you had kept it a secret, because of your consciousness. This is the result of the same and you have disowned your teachers and your relatives discarding their words. Now you always think of Kṛṣṇa alone. You are unmindful about your food and life .

संततं ध्यायसे कृष्णं नाऽऽहारं जीवनं तथा।

त्वं यदि त्यजसि प्राणान्नाऽऽविर्भवति सोऽधुना।
काले द्रक्ष्यसि स्वात्मानं यदि रक्षसि सुन्दरि॥२६॥

Lord Kṛṣṇa is comfortably lodged in Mathurā, while you are rotting here in the forest of banana trees. Even if you lay down your life for his sake, he is not going to appear before you. O beautiful one, you save yourself and you will surely meet him in due course of time.

चन्द्रमुख्युवाच

प्राक्तनेन शुभं सर्वं सुखं च विभवश्चिरम्।
दु:खं शोको प्राक्तनेन विपत्संपच्च सांप्रतम्॥२७॥
भारते पुण्यभूमौ च सर्वेषामीप्सिते वरे।
लभेत्पतिं हरिं कान्तं तपसा प्रकृते: परम्॥२८॥

Candramukhī said- One achieves pleasure and pain according to one's earlier deeds including the everlasting fortune, the pain, grief, misfortune and the riches, in the land of Bhārata which is sought for by all. You would achieve lord. Hari, your beloved as your husband by performing tapas.

तथाऽपि प्रदहेद्गात्रं कामबाणेन सांप्रतम्।

संततं प्रदहेद्गात्रं सुगन्धिश्च समीरण:॥३२॥

Why are you burning your body with the arrows of passion? How are the moon, the god of love and the spring season, the enemies of the passion? Śiva had burnt the god of love to ashes, Rāhu had swallowed the moon and vomited it back and the spring season died with the separation from his friend and arrived in the abode of Yama. The moon who was considered to be the ocean of nectar has turned as the ocean of poison for my friend Rādhā. The shining garments are like the fire, the sandal-paste serve as the offering in the fire and the fragrant breeze burns the body.

त्यक्ताहारा मम सखी पश्य श्वसिति जीवति।

तन्नामस्मृतिमात्रेण तद्गुणश्रवणेन च।
तद्वार्तया च शुभया सहसा चेतनं भवेत्॥३४॥

Look this friend of mine is lying motionless discarding food and is alive only by breathing, therefore, O son of the Kuru race, you praise your friend Kṛṣṇa with your mouth again and again. Because the reciting of his name and his virtues are the good news about him and she would be brought back the life.

Śaśikalā said- O Mādhavī, the one, whose glory is recited by Brahma and other gods beside the four Vedas, whose lotus-like feet are adored by the gods and the sages and whose glory is beyond the recitation of Kamalā, Sarasvatī,

Durgā, Ananta, Maheśvara, the siddhas, the ascetics, Manus; therefore, what do you know about Kṛṣṇa who is the supreme soul? He is the soul of all, is formless, is without qualities, is form of truth, The form of the lord which has been described is truthful, bestows pleasure, blissful, charming, bestower of grace over the devotees, the abode of divine play, the welfare of all the welfare's, whose beauty excels crores of the gods of love, whose beauty is beyond comparison. The same lord Kṛṣṇa having the said form has incarnated on earth in order to rid of her of the burden. The water of Mandākinī has emerged from the sweat lotus-like feet of the lord, who was accommodated by lord Śiva several in his head and getting detached always devotes his mind reciting his name. He discarding his food, costumes and ornaments remaining unrobed, starts dancing in a movement with devotion and recited the qualities of the lord from all his five faces. Brahmā, Śeṣa, Sanatkumāra and the siddhas in groups always meditate upon the divine lustre of the lord and engage themselves tapas for him and spend their lives, who could know about the glory of the same Kṛṣṇa.

सुशीलोवाच

निर्मञ्छनार्हं न भवेत्तस्य कामशतं शतम्।
चन्द्रोऽश्विनीकुमारो वा रूपेषु केन गण्यते॥४४॥
असंख्येषु च विश्वेषु ब्रह्मविष्णुशिवादयः।
मुनयो मनवः सिद्धा भक्ताः सन्तश्च संततम्॥४५॥
ध्यायन्ते यत्पदाम्भोजं निर्गुणस्याऽऽत्मनश्च वै।
वेदाः स्तोतुं न शक्ताश्च य मीशं च सरस्वती॥४६॥
जडीभूता च भीता च स्तवनेन क्षमापयेत्।
सहस्रवक्त्रः स्तवने कम्पितश्च निरन्तरम्॥४७॥
वेदानां जनको ब्रह्मा स्तोत्रेण तस्य हीश्वरः।
तं सत्यं नित्यमीशं च माधवी परिनिन्दति॥४८॥

Suśīlā said - Hundreds of the gods of love cannot be compared with the beauty of Śrī Kṛṣṇa and the moon, Aśvinīkumāras are of no consequence before his beauty. Brahmā, Viṣṇu, Śiva, the gods, the sages, Manus, siddhas and devotees besides the ascetic always adore and meditate upon the feet of the lord Kṛṣṇa in the innumerable globes. All the four Vedas are unable to recite his glory. The goddess Sarasvatī becomes dumb before him and getting nervous she seeks apology from him, the serpent Śeṣa with a thousand hoods always shakes while offering prayers to him, Brahmā the creator of the Vedas is known as a lord because of him. The same lord is being denounced by Mādhavī.

अपवित्रा सभा भूता गोपीनां जीवनं वृथा।
तासु पुण्यवती राधा ध्यायते यं दिवानिशम्॥४९॥
यन्नामस्मृतिमात्रेण कोटिजन्मार्जितं सखि।
कृतपापभयं शोकः प्रणश्यति न संशयः॥५०॥

Therefore this assembly has become in auspicious and the life of a cowherdess is of no consequence now. Only Rādhā is the most virtuous of all who always remains engaged in the love of lord Kṛṣṇa, with the reciting of whose name the sin of crores of birth gets destroyed, there is no doubt about it.

रत्नमालोवाच

दधार वामहस्तेन शैलं गोवर्धनं हरिः।

शैलानां च सहस्रं यो भेत्तुं शक्तश्च दैत्यराट्।
लीलामात्रेण तेषां च लक्षं हन्तुं क्षमो हरिः॥५२॥

Ratnamālā said- Kṛṣṇa had lifted Govardhana with his left hand but he could add to the glory of the kings because the one who could reduce to pieces thousand of mountains, the same Kṛṣṇa kills lakhs of demons at a time.

यदंशलकया जातः सूकरो विष्णुरीश्वरः।

शैलानां च सहस्राणि यत्र सन्ति महीतले।
दैत्याश्च वाऽप्यसंख्याश्च वीराः शूरास्तथैव च॥५४

Viṣṇu in the form of a boar incarnated on earth from his aṁśa and lifted the goddess earth over the tip of his tusks quite playfully, redeeming the earth from the vast ocean, with thousands of mountains and trees, in which innumerable demons dwelt.

तेनैव कर्मणा तस्य न शौर्यं न च पौरुषम्।

न यशश्च प्रशंसा वा सखि सर्वात्मनाऽऽत्मना॥५५।

O friend, by that deed alone one could asses his prowess, strength, reputation and praise. He happens to be the soul of all.

पारिजातोवाच

सप्तद्वीपा च वसुधा सशैलवनसागरा।
काञ्चनीभूमिसहिता सर्वाधारा मनोहरा॥५६॥
सप्त स्वर्गाश्च विविधा ब्रह्मलोकावधि प्रिये।

एतैः परिमितं विश्वं ब्रह्माण्डं ब्रह्मणा कृतम्।
महद्विष्णोर्लोमकूपे तदेवं चाणुवत्स्थितम्॥५८॥

Pārijāta said- O dear, the earth is the base of all the seven continents, the forest, the mountains, the oceans, Meru mountain, seven heavens and up to Brahmaloka. Below the earth there are seven nether worlds. The globe comprises of all of them which is created by Brahmā. The same Brahmā resides in the hair-pits of Mahāviṣṇu in a tiny form.

तस्य यावन्ति लोमानि तानि विश्वानि सन्ति च।
स एव षोडशांशश्च कृष्णस्य परमात्मनः॥५९॥

Because the number of globes is equivalent to the number of the hair-pits on the body of Mahāviṣṇu. The same Mahāviṣṇu is the sixteenth part of lord Kṛṣṇa.

तस्यैव किं यशः शौर्यं महिमानमनूपमम्।
घस्मरी गोपकन्या च किं वा जानाति माधवी॥६०॥

Therefore how could the reputation, the strength and the glory of lord Hari be described? Therefore, cowherdess Mādhavī who is a glutton, can never know about him.

माधव्युवाच

मया यदुक्तं न ज्ञात्वा मूढा जल्पन्ति गोपिकाः।
उद्धव शृणु मे वाक्यं यन्मया कथितं शुभम्॥६१॥

Mādhavī said- O Uddhava, these cowherdesses are uselessly speaking without understanding my words. Therefore, you please listen to me whatever I have to say.

स्वेच्छया सगुणो विष्णुः स्वेच्छया निर्गुणो भवेत्।
भुवो भारावतरणे गोपवेषः शिशुर्विभुः॥६२॥

Lord Viṣṇu becomes Saguṇa according to his own sweet will and with his own sweet will he becomes Nirguṇa. The same lord, in order to rid the earth of her burden incarnate on the earth in the form of a cowherd.

यदि वेदाः पुराणानि सिद्धाः सन्तश्च संततम्।

स्वेच्छामयस्य तस्यैव सगुणस्य च सांप्रतम्।
किमनिर्वचनीयं च वर्तते तद्विशेषणम्॥६६॥

In case the Vedas, the Purāṇas, the siddhas, the ascetics, the noble souls, Brahmā, Śiva, Śeṣa and his devotees are not aware of his true identity, then how could a foolish cowherdesses like me, who is a glutton, know about him? Still O son, you listen to my truthful words just now. Are all the virtues of the lord including his duties, his strength, reputation, strength ,prowess, costumes, siddhis and all other virtues are beyond description. Lord Kṛṣṇa who move at will in definite form, can be beyond description? What is the name of the Nirguṇa supreme soul? What is his form.

निर्गुणस्य च विष्णोश्च देहहीनस्य स्वात्मनः।

ज्योतिः स्वरूपं परमं परमात्मानमीश्वरम्।
तमनिर्वचनीयं च भक्तानुग्रहविग्रहम्॥६९॥

All the foolish cowherdesses are denouncing me without understanding my words. How could this foolish cowherdess know about the lord who is beyond nature, truthful, the form of eternal flame, the supreme soul, the inexplicable lord and the one who takes to a human form in order to grace his devotees

यत्पादपद्मं पद्मा सा त्रैलोक्यजननी परा।

सरस्वती जडीभूता भीता च परमेश्वरी।
स्तोतुं न शक्ता वेदा: किं स्तुवन्ति परमेश्वरम्।।७२।।

Kamalā the spouse of Viṣṇu who happens to be the mother of the three worlds serves at his feet like a slave getting panicky. He happens to be Viṣṇumāyā, Mūlaprakṛti, eternal and the form of Brahma. Still she remains panicky remaining on his right side, Similarly the goddess Sarasvatī getting terrified becomes non-pulsed and is unable to recite his glory, then how could the Vedas recite the glory of the lord.

तासां तद्वचनं श्रुत्वा चोद्धवो भक्तिविह्वल:।

तुच्छं मेने स चाऽऽत्मानं गोपी भक्त्याऽप्युवाच स:।।७४।।

On hearing the words of cowherdess, Uddhava was flooded with devotion and he felt emotional in his body. He then started crying and getting fainted, he fell down on the ground. On regaining consciousness he devoted his mind at the lotus-like feet of the lord and considered himself to be of no consequence before the cowherdesses and he spoke to them with devotion.

धन्यं यशस्यं द्वीपानां जम्बुद्वीपं मनोहरम्।

वणिजां च पुण्यकृतं वाणिज्यस्थलमीप्सितम्।
अत्र कृत्वा सुपुण्यं च भुङ्क्तेऽन्यत्र शुभं फलम्।।७६

Uddhava said- Of all the continents Jambūdvīpa is quite graceful glorious and pleasant, on which the auspicious land of Bhārata is lodged. This is the auspicious place for the traders and is the best place for their auspicious commercial activities, because the merit earned by performing good deeds by anyone in the land of Bhārata is enjoyed at another places.

This land of Bhārata has been purified with the dust from the feet of Rādhā which is quite spotless, graceful, meritorious and auspicious. Even more than that, of all the ladies in the land of Bhārata, the cowherdesses are considered quite graceful, who always have the privilege of having an audience with Rādhā, looking at her lotus-like feet.

Brahmā had performed tapas for sixty thousand years in order to achieve dust of the lotus-like feet of Rādhā but was unsuccessful. Rādhā the dweller of a Goloka is dearer to Kṛṣṇa more than his own life. She had to be born as the daughter of Vṛṣabhāna due to the curse of Śrīdāmā, such of the people who are devoted to lord Kṛṣṇa, are also devoted to Rādhā, Brahmā and other gods do not compare to the sixteen part of cowherdesses.

राधा गोप्यश्च गोपाश्च गोलोकवासिनश्च ये।।८२।

The devotion of lord Kṛṣṇa is well know to Śiva the lord of the yogīs, Rādhā, cowherdesses, the cowherds and the dwellers of Goloka.

किंचित्सनत्कुमारश्च ब्रह्मा चेद्विषयी तथा।
किंचिदेव विजानन्ति सिद्धा भक्ताश्च निश्चितम्।।

गोपिकाभ्यो गुरुभ्यश्च हरिभक्तिं लभेऽचलाम्।।८४
मथुरां च न यास्यामि तीर्थकीर्तेश्च कीर्तनम्।
श्रोष्यामि किंकरो भूत्वा गोपीनां जन्मजन्मनि।।८५।।
न गोपीभ्य: परो भक्तो हरेश्च परमात्मन:।
यादृशीं लेभिरे गोप्यो भक्तिं नान्ये च तादृशीम्।।८६।।

Sanatkumāra and Brahmā also know a little about him. The siddhas and the devotees also known about him. I have been graceful by coming to Gokula. The cowherdesses have served as the teacher to me, as a result of which I have achieved the infallible devotion of lord. I shall not go back to Mathurā now. For all future births I shall serve the cowherds and cowherdesses and spend my life reciting the name of Kṛṣṇa because out of the devotees of lord Kṛṣṇa, no one could be superior to the cowherdesses. The type of devotion which has been achieved by the cowherdesses has not been achieved by anyone else.

कलावत्युवाच

Kalāvatī said- The manes had three daughters named Dhanyā, Menā and Kalāvatī and all the three of us roam abate on earth according to our sweet will. Out of these three, the chaste Dhanyā became the wife of Janaka and the mother of Sītā, both myself and Rādhikā are born without any human contact. Because of the curse of ŚrīdāMā, Rādhā had to be born as the daughter of Vṛṣabhāna on earth and because of the curse of Sanatkumāra, the three sisters had to be born on earth.

क्षीरोदसागरं रम्यं श्वेतद्वीपं मनोहरम्।
तिस्रो भगिन्यो भक्त्या च विष्णुं द्रष्टुं गता वयम्॥

Once all the three of us went to Śveta-dvīpa located on the ocean of milk with the mind filled with devotion, in order to have an audience with lord Viṣṇu.

अभ्युत्थानादि न कृतं कोपादस्माञ्छशाप ह।
सनत्कुमारो भगवान्योगीन्द्राणां गुरोर्गुरुः॥९१॥

At that point of time Sanatkumāra the lord of the yogīs also arrived there but all the three of us did not welcome him by standing, which enraged him and he pronounced a curse on us.

सनत्कुमार उवाच

मूढास्तिष्ठत भूमौ च पुनः स्वर्गं न यास्यथ।
मर्त्यप्राणिप्रिया भूत्वा चाहंकारेण हेतुना॥९२॥

Sanatkumāra said- O foolish girls, you would be reborn on earth and become the wives of human beings, because of the arrogance displayed by you. You would not be able to go back to the heaven again.

पुनर्वरं च प्रत्येकं ददौ तुष्टो द्विजेश्वरः।

कलावतीसुता राधा देवी गोलोकवासिनी।

Thereafter the sage was somehow pleases and granted boon to all the three of us. He said to Menā you would be born and become the wife of Himālaya from the aṁśa of Viṣṇu and you would have a daughter named Pārvatī. Dhanyā would be the wife of Janaka the great ascetic in whose house Lakṣmī in the form of Sītā would incarnate. At the end of the Dvāpara you would be born as Kalāvatī and become the wife of Vṛṣ abhāna, Vaiśya and would be known as chaste Kalāvatī. Rādhā the dweller of Goloka would be the daughter of Kalāvatī who would incarnate on earth because of the curse of Śrīdāmā. There is no doubt about it.

ईशो ब्रह्मेशशेषाणां भारावतरणेन च।
आगमिष्यति पृथ्वीं च पुण्यक्षेत्रं च भारतम्॥९८॥

Śrī Kṛṣṇa, the lord of Maheśvara, Brahmā and Śeṣa would also incarnate on the land of Bhārata in order to rid the earth of her burden.

कलावती वृषभानः कौतुकात् कन्यया सह।
जीवन्मुक्तश्च गोलोकं गमिष्यति न संशयः॥९९॥

Thereafter accompanied by her daughter Rādhā, Vṛṣabhāna and Kalāvatī would be relieved of the cycle of the birth and death and arrived in Goloka. There is no doubt about it.

धन्या च सीतया सार्धं वैकुण्ठं च गमिष्यति।

Dhanyā too would go to Vaikuṇṭha together with Sītā. Menakā with the boon of Pārvatī would be turned into a Siddhayoginī and at the end of kalpa she would proceed to Viṣṇuloka and reside there delightfully like Lakṣmī. Who can achieve glory without facing the painful situation. After facing the difficult situation according to ones own deeds, one achieves the inaccessible pleasures. In earlier times the daughters of the manes enjoyed all the pleasures in the heaven. Because of the boon from Brahma and by at the adoring the feet of lord Viṣṇu they were treated like Lakṣmī. Thereafter having an audience with lord Viṣṇu or their deeds were destroyed. Because of the grace of same lord, we met Kumāra and we achieved the divine knowledge from his mouth. Śrī Kṛṣṇa happens to be the lord of Brahmā, Viṣṇu, Śiva, gods, siddhas and the entire universe. He is beyond Prakṛti, Nirguṇa, unattached, of all the best and moves at will.

तुलस्युवाच

Tulasī said- In all the creatures the gods are variously lodged, Viṣṇu happens to be the life (breathing), Brahmā, lord of consciousness and the mind, the goddess Prakṛti, control all the strength and intelligence, Śiva controls the eternal knowledge, Dharma himself appears in the form of nobility, lord Kṛṣṇa who is Nirguṇa, the supreme soul, eternal Brahman and beyond Prakṛti, remains as the witness of all the deeds which are performed by all the people. The jīva happens to be the recitation of the same, the sun and the moon reflect the eyes, Sarasvatī resides in the tongue, the earth dwells in the skin and the Lokapālas in the arms.

All of them serve the soul in one way or the other. The soul loves them all. As in the assembly of the human beings, the people go to the king, similarly all the Jīvas, go to the supreme soul. The yogīs meditate upon he lord with great devotion. Kṛṣṇa happens to be the witness of the deeds of all the people, therefore, who can keep a secret of any deed from him? Lord Kṛṣṇa who pervades all the people propagates for them

Kālikā said- All the children, the old and young and three types of human beings including the gods and the siddhas know Kṛṣṇa pretty well. At the present movement, it would be only wise to bring Rādhikā back to consciousness who is lying fainted. O Uddhava, you therefore do something for that. Bring her back the consciousness.

Rādhās Discourse to Uddhava

नारायण उवाच

उद्धवस्य वच: श्रुत्वा चेतनं प्राप्य राधिका।

उवाच मधुरं देवी हृदयेन विदूयता।
गोपीभि: सम्भिर्भक्त्या सेविता श्वेतचामरै:॥२॥

Nārāyaṇa said- On hearing the words of Uddhava, Rādhikā, regained her consciousness, she than occupied the gem-studded lion throne and expressed the pain of her heart with very sweet words. At that point of time, the cowherdesses were serving her moving the white fly-whisks.

राधिकोवाच

मदीयं वचनं सर्वं गत्वा कथय सांप्रतम्।
श्रीकृष्णं परमानन्दं शीघ्रमानय मत्प्रभुम्॥४॥

Rādhikā sad- O son you go back to Mathurā, but don't forget me while enjoying the comforts there, because if you do so there would be no other sin greater than, that in the universe. You go to Mathurā and narrate my words to lord Kṛṣ ṇa who is all blissful and try to bring him to me .

Which one of the woman has faced the separation of such a type of husband in her life? Is there anyone else more grief-stricken than myself? What type of consolation are you providing me? It is no more proper to console me. O Uddhava, without the soul one remains of no consequence. The love with Hari, the fortune, offering of new respect every day, inaccessible love, speaking in seclusion and new physical union are always remembered by me. There is nothing else in my mind. Waking up during the night from sleep, my suffering is increased .

O son, you will surely redeem me since I am drowning in the ocean of grief. There is no merit greater for a person in the universe than to provide protection to someone. It is greater than the merit of visiting the holy places. My mind is quite difficult to console and I am unable to console it. I always devote my mind at the lotus-like feet of lord Kṛṣṇa, his virtues reputation, love. Drowning in the ocean of love again and again, my mind does not remain stable and therefore it remains always unstable. But you tell me how many of the damsels had to face this type of grief, without me which one of the damsel could realise the grief of my separation from Kṛṣṇa.

This type of grief was known either to Sītā or to myself. There is no one else in the three worlds whose mind is so painful as compared to me. Can any woman believe in my pain after looking at me. O son Uddhava, which one of the ladies has faced such a type of grief.

राधिकासदृशी स्त्रीषु न भूता न भविष्यति।

There is no one else among the woman who is so badly suffering like Rādhā, who is suffering from separation from his lord and is devoid of fortune and is completely grief-stricken. There is no one else among the damsels feeling more painful at heart than Rādhikā.

With the hearing of whose name all the five prāṇas become activated and sprout like flowers and the soul is filled with affection, the one who touched me at the time of conjugal pleasure and with that I enjoyed the glory the three worlds. How can I forget such a lord by getting any amount of riches.

The one who is victorious over the three worlds; is quite virtuous and has been created by Brahmā or who happens to be the creator of the Brahmā, who is the bestower of all the riches, is more peaceful than kalpavṛkṣa, is the lord of Lakṣmī, quite charming the lord of the universe, the seed of all besides bring the supreme soul and the lord. He happens to be my husband. How can I forget him by receiving any amount of riches? The one whose beauty cannot be compared with the moon, the god of love and Aśvinīkumāra or in other worlds, who else is incomparable in the three worlds in so far as this qualities are concerned and whose lotus-like feet are adored by Brahmā, Śiva and Śeṣa, how can I forget such a lord by getting any amount of riches.

Those who visualise his pleasant form even in dream, they start meditating upon him throughout the day and night continuously disowning everything. By the virtue of whom, the mountains are turned into water and the dry wood becomes fluid, the dried trees, start sprouting and are laiden with flowers, the wind stops and the sun, moon and ocean stand in devotion. O son, how can I forget such a type of husband by getting any amount of riches, Feeling panicky of whom, the wind blows, the sun burns, the clouds, pour rains, the fire burns, the death roams about among the creatures, with the fear of whom the trees sprout timely and the ocean, the planet, the sages and the gods engaged themselves in their respective duties, the one who is the death for time, appears as the destroyer in the form of Śiva and happens to be the lord of Brahmā. The one who is independent and himself is the form of the soul, how can I forget such a type of lord by getting any amount of riches. O devotee of the lord, I don't have the knowledge to turn my face from him. No intellectual can console me, Sāvitrī, Sarasvatī, Vedas, post-Vedic literature, the ascetics the noble people the gods, the serpent Ananta having a thousand hoods, Brahmā the creator of the Vedas, Śiva the teacher of the yogīs and Gaṇeśa are unable to console me.

The one who is visible, his movement could attract some one but the one who is invisible and without any path who can visualise his movement. The good or bad or pleasure or pain are over with the passage of time, all the elements are controlled by the time, which cannot averted. O son, you get up and go to the city of the Mathurā, since you are anxious to go to Mathurā. I understand that it is difficult to remain without Kṛṣṇa, which is always painful. The one who is separated from him, has always to suffer from pain.

Reaching there you will meet the moon-faced Kṛṣṇa whose sight removes birth, death and old age. At these words of Rādhikā and finding her suffering from the pain of the separation from Kṛṣṇa, Uddhava cried aloud.

Chapter - 96

Description of the movement of time by Rādhā

नारायण उवाच

श्रीकृष्णस्मरणं कृत्वा गमनोन्मुखमुद्धवम्।
नतं राधापदाम्भोजे शिरसा पुलकाञ्चितम्।।१।।
उवाच माधवी गोपी रुदती प्रेमविह्वला।
भक्तं रुदन्तमुच्चैश्च राधाविच्छेदकातरम्।।२।।

Nārāyaṇa said- Uddhava was ready to proceed to Mathurā but was feeling upset and had fallen on the lotus-like feet of Rādhā. He was filled with emotion and overwhelmed with the separation from Rādhā and was crying aloud. At that movement the cowherdesses Mādhavī, with her mind filled with love spoke to him while weeping.

माधव्युवाच

उद्धव शृणु वक्ष्यामि क्षणं तिष्ठ यथोचितम्।
निगूढं परमं ज्ञानं यत्ते मनसि वाञ्छितम्।।३।।
सुदुर्लभं पुराणेषु वेदेषु गोपनीयकम्।
प्रश्नं कुरु महाभाग राधिकां त्रिजगत्प्रसूम्।।४।।
इत्युक्त्वा सा च गोपीशा समुवास सुसंसदि।
उवाच मधुरं शान्तामुद्धवश्चापि राधिकाम्।।५।।

Mādhavī said- O Uddhava, in case you think it proper you wait for while, I shall extend to you the deep knowledge which is occupying your mind. O virtuous one, you put a question to Rādhā who happens to be the mother of the three worlds. The same is inaccessible in the Vedas and the Purāṇas besides being secretive. Thus speaking the foremost of the cowherdesses took her seat in the assembly. Thereafter Rādhikā with a peaceful mind spoke sweet words to Uddhava.

उद्धव उवाच

एकाकी भवमायाति यात्येकाकी पुनः पुनः।
प्राणी कर्मानुरोधेन स्वकर्मफलभुक्पुमान्।।६।।

Uddhava said- A person arrives in the universe alone and departs alone from the universe, A creature or a person has to face the reward of his deeds performed by him earlier.

कर्मणा जायते जन्तुः कर्मणैव प्रलीयते।
सुखं दुःखं भयं शोकं कर्मणैवाभिपद्यते।।७।।

A person takes his birth because of his deeds and disappears from the universe because of his deeds. He achieves the pleasure, pain, fear, grief and everything else because of his deeds.

जन्तुर्भोगावशेषेण भोगं भुङ्क्ते भवेषु च।
पुनश्च कर्मणो भोगात्समायाति च याति च।।८।।
रत्नादिकं च यत्किंचिन्मह्यं दत्तं त्वया सति।
मया सार्धं न यात्येव तेन मे किं प्रयोजनम्।।९।।
भवाब्धितारणे देवि भवती तरणिर्वरा।
कर्णधारः स्वयं कृष्णः सर्वेषां पारकारकः।।१०।।
किंचिद्दानं देहि मह्यं भवाब्धिपारकारणम्।
प्राप्य प्रसादं यास्यामि मथुरां कृष्णमूलकम्।।११।।

When the enjoyments are left out a person is born again in the universe and faces all the enjoyment. He arrives in the universe because of his deeds and goes back because of his deeds, therefore O chaste lady, whatever gems you have given to me cannot accompany me to the heaven. Therefore they are of no used to me. O goddess you are like the beautiful boat to cross the ocean of the universe. Lord Kṛṣṇa also makes other to cross over the ocean of universe. He himself the sailor. Therefore, you bestow me the gift by which I should be able to cross the ocean of the universe. After receiving the gratification I shall go to Mathurā to meet Kṛṣṇa.

यां यां कालगतिं मातः सुराणां च नृणामपि।
पितृणां ब्रह्मलोकस्य तदूर्ध्वस्य च तां वद।।१२।।

O mother, you kindly let me know the movement of time for the gods, the human beings, ancestors and the Brahmaloka.

तामेव दुस्तरां घोरां तीर्त्वा यामि हरेः पदम्।
एवंभूतमुपायं च देहि मे कमलालये।।१३।।

Lotus faced one you spell out a remedy for me by which I should be able to cross the movement of the time and achieve the abode of the lord.

दूरतो यत्पदाम्भोजं ध्यायन्ते च दिवानिशम्।
देवा ब्रह्मेशशेषाद्यास्त्वं तद्वक्षःस्थलस्थिता।।१४।।

Because you reside in the heart of the one whose lotus-like feet are adored by Brahmā, Śiva, Śeṣa and gods from a distance and meditate upon him through out the day and night.

उद्धवस्य वचः श्रुत्वा जहास कमलालया।
वाससा नेत्रनीरं च संभार्ज्यं तमुवाच सा।।१५।।

On hearing the words of Uddhava, lotus face Rādhikā smiled, wiping out her tears with a cloth, she started speaking.

राधोवाच

माधवीवचनेनैव करोषि प्रश्नमुद्धव।
स्त्रीजातिरबला लोके किं वा ज्ञानं ददामि ते।।१६।।

Rādhikā said- O Uddhava, you have put up this question at the instance of Mādhavī. First of all you tell me that the ladies are considered to be quite delicate, ones therefore what type of knowledge can I impart to you?.

शुद्धां कालगतिं वत्स जानाति भगवान्हरिः।
ब्रह्मा महेशः शेषश्च वेदाश्चत्वार एव च।।१७।।

O son, the spotless movement of the time is known only to lord Kṛṣṇa, besides Brahmā, Śiva, Śeṣa and the Vedas.

O son, according to the Vedas, the noble people also are aware of the same to some extent. Now I am going to tell you something which I had heard from the mouth of lord Kṛṣṇa in the Rāsamaṇḍala of the Goloka. I have also witnessed the same in the Goloka, Vaikuṇṭha and Brahmaloka, the same Kāla-cakra (movement of time), is being spelt out by me, you listen to it.

O best of the friend, I am going to narrate to you the movement of time which influences the humans, ancestors, Brahmaloka, nether worlds, the globe and the people who live beyond them. You listen to me. The great lord who is meditated upon by the intellectuals who happen to be the lord of the universe, who happens to be the killer of the time, the teacher of the universe, devoid of guṇas unattached and who happens to be the soul of all, without whom the bodies are destroyed, one can cross the movement of the time only be serving the great lord.

श्रीहरेः शुद्ध भक्तानां सतां पुण्यवतां विना।।२४।।

Except the people with great merit and the spotless devotees of lord Kṛṣṇa, the life of all the creatures, is shortened by Sūrya.

विधेर्मानसिकान्पुत्रांश्चतुरः पश्य पुत्रक।
सनकादीन्भागवतान्येषां च सुस्थिरं वयः।।२५।।

अभ्यन्तरे महास्फीतान्सस्मितांश्च दिगम्बरान्।
श्रीकृष्णाध्यानपूतांश्च तीर्थपूतांश्च वैष्णवान्।।२७।।

As for example you look at the four mind-born sons of Brahmā named Sanaka and others. Their age remains stable, they always remains of five years' old, without yajñopavīta like the children and in the same form they happen to be the teachers of eleven Rudras, twelve Ādityas and the great intellectuals. They are spotless from inside and their faces always wear the serene smile, they remain without garments and are sanctified with the reciting of the name of Kṛṣṇa, They are devoted to Viṣṇu and purify even the holy places.

वेदवेदाङ्गशास्त्राणां चिन्ताहीनान्प्रफुल्लितान्।
भक्त्या दिवानिशं शश्वद्धरिभावेन तत्परान्।।२८।।

They are free from the worries of, Vedas, post-Vedic literature and scriptures. Their faces are always shining and they recite the name of Hari through out the day and night.

बाह्यपूजाविहीनांश्च पूतान्मानसिकांस्तथा।
मृत्युञ्जयान्महाभागान्कालव्यालजितस्तथा।।२९।।

तीर्थस्नानफलं लब्ध्वा मुच्यते कृतपातकात्।
हरिभक्तिर्भवेत्तेषां हरिदास्यं लभन्ति च।।३१।।

They are unconcerned with the adoration of Brahman. They are purified at heart. They have over-come, the death. They are immensely virtuous and over-powered Sūrya, who is the cause of death. They are known by the names of Sanaka, Sanandana and Sanatkumāra, those who recite their names regularly, all their sins are removed and they achieve the merit of having the bath at the holy places. They ultimately achieved the devotion of lord Hari and slavehood of the lord.

शतकल्पायुषं चैव ध्यायमानं हरेः पदम्।।३४।।

You look at Mārkaṇḍeya the son of sage Mṛkaṇḍu who has achieved the Brahmanhood by means of his good deeds and being illustrious and having divine lustre, he at the age of ten years, by adoring the lord achieved the life of seven kalpas. Than look at Voḍhu, Pañcaśikha, Lomaśa and Āsuri. All of them having been freed from the deeds, they devote them-selves exclusively. They enjoy the age of a hundred kalpas, they always remain devoted at the feet of lord Hari.

Now you look at Paraśurāma the son of Jamadagni, Hanumān, Bali, Vyāsa, Aśvatthāmā, Vibhīṣaṇa, Kṛpācārya and Jāmbavān. They were sanctified because of their devotion at the feet of Hari.

O Uddhava, you have a look at siddhas the sages and the devotees of Hari among the humans who always remain devoted at the feet of the lord with spotless mind and enjoy the long life. You look at Prahlāda the son of Hiraṇyakaśipu who was always inimical to the gods. He also remained devoted to lord Hari and achieved long life and conquered the movement of time. There are innumerable other such people also. Therefore as a result of performing great tapas for several births, one is born on the auspicious land of Bhārata. Those who don't serve the lord they are foolish and sinners. Leaving Vāsudeva, whosoever involves himself in the worldly pleasures and is considered to be a great fool. He willingly leaving aside the nectar, consumes the poison. In the universe who is the wife of whom, who is the son of whom and who is the brother of whom? In the universe when one is over-powered with misfortune who help him except lord Kṛṣṇa? This is the reason while why the noble people recite the name of Kṛṣṇa throughout the day and night.

Lord Kṛṣṇa is the destroyer of the birth, death, old age and ailment, beside removing all the grief's. Only by reciting the name of Śrī Kṛṣṇa, the supreme soul who is blissful, one can over-come the time or death. O son, you listen to me I am going to tell you about the life of the humans, the ancestors, the gods, Brahmā, Nāgas, Rākṣ asas and others.

I am revealing to you a deep secret, you listen to me attentively. The great Virāṭ is the best abode and base of everyone. Innumerable globes are enshrined in his hair-pits, you listen to me about the smallest of the things called atom. The time starts from the atom alone, the same atom takes the form of all, is beyond discussion, desired the most with distinction multiplies variously and also gets because of separated because of which people it to be one. It is known as the atom or paramāṇu with the combination of three anus is produced trasareṇu. Three trasareṇus make a truṭi. This has been ordained by the intellectuals. Thereafter a hundred truṭis makes a vedha and three vedhas make a lava, three lavas make a nimeṣa and three nimeṣa make a kṣaṇa, the five kṣaṇas make a kāṣṭhā, the ten kāṣṭhās make a laghu and fifteen laghus make a daṇḍa. You listen to its measure. A sear of water should be placed in a vase equal of six palas with the hole made by four fingers with the wire of gold. Till such time it remains submerged in the water, the same is called daṇḍa. Similarly two daṇḍas make a mahūrta and sixty daṇḍa make a tithi. Its eighth part has been described as a prahara. Similarly, four praharas make a day and four praharas make a night.

Fifteen tithis make a fortnight which are of two types known as the bright and dark fortnights. The two fortnights make a month and two months make a season. Six season make a year which are the known as the spring, summer, rainy, winter, autumn and cold.

The intellectuals have described five types of years known as Saṁvatsara, Pravatsara, Ilāvatsara, Anuvatsara and Vatsara. The people who are well-versed in the signs of time or well-aware about the same. O Uddhava, the twelve months make a year known as Vaiśākha, Jyeṣṭha, Āṣāḍha, Śrāvaṇa, Bhādrapada, Āśvina, Kārtika, Mārgaśīrṣa, Pauṣa, Māgha, Phālguna and Caitra. Caitra happens to be the last month of the year, the Caitra and Vaiśākha months represent the spring season, the Jyeṣṭha and Āṣāḍha represent the summer season, Śrāvaṇa and Bhādrapada represents the rainy search, Āśvina and Kārtika represent the winter season, Mārgaśīrṣa and Pauṣ a represent the autumn and Māgha and Phālguna represent the cold season. There are two half years known as Uttarāyaṇa and Dakṣiṇāyana. Both of them combined comprise of a year. The period from the month of Māgha to Āṣāḍha are treated to be Uttarāyaṇa while the period from Śrāvaṇa to Pauṣa month is treated as Dakṣ iṇāyana. The span of night increase from the mouth Śrāvaṇa up to the month of Pauṣa, the people well-versed in the Vedas have described the bright fortnight from Pratipadā to the full moon day as the bright fortnight and from the first day after the full moon to the moonless night as the dark fortnight. The days are counted from Pratipadā, Dvitīyā, Tṛtīyā, Caturthī, Pañcamī, Ṣaṣṭhī, Saptamī, Aṣṭamī, Navamī, Daśamī, Ekādaśī, Dvādaśī, Trayodaśī, Caturdaśī and Amāvasyā (moonless day).

There are twenty eight Nakṣatras, including Aśvinī, Bharaṇī, Kṛttikā, Rohiṇī, Mṛgaśirā, Ārdrā, Punarvasu, Puṣya, Āśleṣā, Maghā, Pūrvāphālgunī, Uttarāphālgunī, Hasta, Citrā, Svātī, Viśākhā, Anurādhā, Jyeṣṭhā, Mūla, Pūrvāṣ āḍhā, Uttarāṣāḍhā, Śravaṇa, Abhijit, Dhaniṣṭhā, Śatabhiṣā, Pūrvābhādrapadā, Uttarā-bhādrapadā and Revatī. These twenty eight constellation are believed to the wives of the moon and the moon spent the time with them one by one. Though the Vedas only twenty seven constellations as the spouses of the moon, but still the shadow of Śravaṇa constellation is called Abhijit which makes the total as twenty eight.

Once in the month of Caitra, the moon spent his time enjoying the conjugal pleasure with his beautiful spouse Rohiṇī, at this Śravaṇa was enraged and entrusting the care of the moon to her shadow, she left for the house of her parents. Thereafter at the instance of her father the time was distributed. Thereafter the constellation Abhijit was introduced. O son, I have heard about these constellation from the mouth of Kṛṣ ṇa tit the mountain of hundred peaks, who always used to move around along with the tithis. Now you listen from me the names of the yogas which are Viṣkambha, Prīti, Āyuṣmān, Saubhāgya, Śhobana, Atigaṇḍa, Sukarmā, Dhṛti, Śūla, Gaṇḍa, Vṛddhi, Dhruva, Vyāghāta, Harṣ aṇa, Vajra, Siddhis, Vyatīpāta, Varīyān, Parigha, Śiva, Sādhya, Śubha, Śukra, Brahmandra and Vaidhṛti. The names of the karaṇas are Bava, Vālava, Kaulava, Taitila, Gara, Vaṇija, Viṣṭi, Śakuni, Catuṣpāda, Nāga and Kiṁstughna.

The months of the ancestors are strictly like those of the humans. The bright fortnight is the day of the ancestors, while the dark fortnight is considered to be their nights. Similarly, the years of the gods as expectedly like those of the humans. The period of Uttarāyaṇa is considered to be their day and the period of Dakṣiṇāyana is considered to be their night. Seventy one divine yugas make a manvantara.

The age of Indra is exactly like that of Manu which has been described as twenty five thousand and five hundred years. The sun rays do not reach Brahmaloka. The people of Brahmaloka do not know about the day and night after the fall of Indra.

Like the movement of the human Brahmā too has the movement, who falls. Two palas make a daṇḍa and two daṇḍas make a muhūrta and with the fall of Indra, his one day is counted. Thirty such days make a month and twelve months make a year. Thus Brahmā enjoys the age of a hundred years. After the fall of Brahmā, Nimeṣa a movement of Kṛṣṇa is counted, there are no days and nights in the Vaikuṇṭha, because it is beyond the reach of the sun. The dwellers of Vaikuṇṭha remain unaware about the day and night. The place is also beyond the reach of the moon and the planets, with the will of the lord, the sighs of zodiac do not move there, the place is illumined with the lustre of lord Kṛṣṇa and while moving into his palace, one comes across the night.

The same movement of time always prevails in Viṣṇuloka, the lord is the form of the time, the supreme soul and is invisible, the seven neither worlds are also beyond the reach of the sun and the moon, the dwellers of that place are well aware of the same and they developed know how doubt about the same. The gems studded in the hoods of the serpents illumine the place and the fire is lighted in the evening and the night is covered with darkness, the dwellers of that place know about the time with the ringing of the bells. They have similar arrangement as we have on the earth. There are four yugas known as Satyayuga, Tretā, Dvāpara and Kali. The life of each one of these extends to twelve thousand divine years. Out of these, Kṛtayuga has a span of four thousand and eight hundred years. This has been spelt out by the people well-versed in the signs of time. The Satyayuga. has the span of seventeen lakhs and twenty eight thousands years of the humans. O son, the Tretāyuga has the span of lakh and six hundred divine years. This has been told by those well-versed in time. This time is equivalent to twelve lakhs, ninety six thousand years all the humans. According to those who are well-versed in the signs of time, Dvāpara has the span of too thousand and four hundred divine years which period is equivalent to eight lakhs and sixty four thousand years of humans, this has been ordained by those well-versed in the signs of time. O son, the span of Kaliyuga extends to a thousand and two hundred divine years which is equivalent to four lakhs, thirty two thousand years of human beings, this has been told by those well-versed in the signs of the time. Thereafter, the astrologer have described the period of Caturyugas eighty lakhs and twenty thousand years. O son, I have narrated to you whatever I had heard earlier about the time. Now you move on to Mathurā, the place of Hari.

नारायण उवाच

गच्छन्तमुद्धवं दृष्ट्वा संत्रस्ता श्रीहरेः प्रिया।
समुत्थायाऽऽसनाच्छीघ्रं हृदयेन विदूयता॥१॥
गोपीभिः सहिता शीघ्रं समुद्विग्ना सहासती।
ददौ शुभाशिषं तस्मै तस्य मूर्ध्नि करं तथा॥२॥

Nārāyaṇa said- Finding Uddhava getting ready to depart, Rādhā the beloved of Hari felt panicky and with a painful heart she descended from the throne. Becoming anxious, together with the cowherdesses Rādhikā placed her hand over the head of Uddhava and blessed him.

स्निग्धदूर्वाक्षतं शक्लधान्यं पुष्पं च मङ्गलम्।
प्रेरयामास लाजांश्च फलं पर्णं तथा दधि॥३॥
दर्पणं दर्शयामास पूर्णकुम्भं सपल्लवम्।
सफलं गन्धसिन्दूरकस्तूरीचन्दनान्वितम्॥४॥
पुष्पमाल्यं प्रदीपं च रत्नं गन्धं द्विजोत्तम्।
पतिपुत्रवती साध्वी काञ्चनं रजतं तथा॥५॥

Thereafter, she offered the tender Dūrvā-grass, unbroken rice, white paddy and other things of welfare including fried paddy, fruit, betel, curd, mirror, pitcher with tender leaves, fragrance, vermilion and sandal-paste, the lamp, gem, the damsel whose husband and son was alive, the gold and silver.

तमुवाच महासाध्वी हितं सत्यं च मङ्गलम्।
संगोप्यं साश्रुनेत्रं च पतितं दु:खिता हृदि॥६॥

O best of the Brāhmaṇas, thereafter Rādhā with a painful heart, with her eyes filled with tears, lifted up Uddhava who had fallen on her feet and spoke to her the truthful and beneficial words which were filled with welfare.

राधिकोवाच

शुभं भवतु मार्गस्ते कल्याणमस्तु संततम्।
ज्ञानं लभ हरे: स्थानात्कृष्णस्य सुप्रियो भव॥७॥

Rādhikā said- Let your journey be quite safe and auspicious and you should meet with prosperity. You achieve the divine knowledge from the place of the lord and be in the good books of lord Kṛṣṇa.

कृष्णभक्ति: कृष्णदास्यं वरेषु च वरं वरम्।
श्रेष्ठा पञ्चविधा मुक्तेर्हरिभक्तिर्गरीयसी॥८॥
ब्रह्मत्वादपि देवत्वादिन्द्रत्वादमरादपि।
अमृतात्सिद्धिलाभाच्च हरिदास्यं सुदुर्लभम्॥९॥

Of all the boons I bestow upon, the boon of achieving the devotion of lord Kṛṣṇa and his slavehood would be the best. Of all the five types of salvation, the devotion of lord Hari happens to be the best. The Brahmanhood, the god-hood of Indra, becoming eternal, the nectar and gaining of siddhis can be achieved but the slavehood of lord Hari is inaccessible.

हरिभक्तिं यदि लभेत्तस्य जन्म सुदुर्लभम्॥१०॥

One takes birth in the sacred land of Bhārata after performing good deeds for many births. Such a Brāhmaṇa, if achieves the devotion of the lord, his life become successful.

सफलं जीवनं तस्य कुर्वत: कर्मण: क्षयम्।
पितॄणां च सहस्राणि स्वस्य मातुश्च निश्चितम्॥
मातामहानां पुंसां च शतानां सोदरस्य च।
बान्धवस्यापि पत्न्याश्च गुरूणां शिष्यभृत्ययो:॥१२।
तत्कर्म शोभनं वत्स यच्च कृष्णे समर्पणम्।
तत्कर्म शोभनं शुद्धं कृष्णसंतोषणं यत:॥१३॥
संकल्पसाधनं कर्म संप्रीतिविधिपूर्वकम्।
तदेव मङ्गलं धन्यं परिणामसुखावहम्॥१४॥
तद्व्रतं तत्तप: सत्यं तद्भक्ति: पूजनं तथा।
तदुद्देश्यमनशनं केवलं दास्यकारणम्॥१५॥

By reducing the earlier deeds performed during the present birth, ones life becomes successful, Not only he alone, but the lives of thousands of ancestors, the mother, the grandmother, hundreds of ancestors, real brothers relatives, wife, teachers, pupils with the servants surely becomes successful. O son, the deed which is presented to lord Kṛṣṇa is known to be the best deed. The deed which could please Kṛṣṇa that is considered to be quite meritorious, whatever deeds are performed with devotion, for the achievement of something, it bestows welfare, becomes graceful and results in pleasure. The vrata, fasting, tapas, speaking of the truth, the devotion and the performing of pūjā, which is performed for the sake of Kṛṣṇa, results in the achieving of the slavehood of the lord.

समस्तपृथिवीदानं प्रादक्षिण्यं भुवस्तथा।
समस्ततीर्थस्नानं च समस्तं च व्रतं तप:॥१६॥
समस्तयज्ञकरणं सर्वदानफलं तथा।
समस्तवेदवेदाङ्गपठनं पाठनं तथा॥१७॥
भीतस्थं रक्षणं चैव ज्ञानदानं सुदुर्लभम्।
अतिथीनां पूजनं च शरणागतरक्षणम्॥१८॥

सर्वदेवार्चनं चैव वन्दनं जपनं मनोः।
भोजनं विप्रदेवानां पुरश्चरणपूर्वकम्॥१९॥
गुरुशुश्रूषणं चैव पित्रोर्भक्तिश्च पोषणम्।
सर्वं श्रीकृष्णदास्यस्य कलां नार्हति षोडशीम्॥२०॥

The giving away of the entire earth in charity, going round the entire earth in pilgrimage, bathing in all the holy places, performing of all the vratas and tapas, performing of all the yajñas, performing of all the charities, recitation of all the Vedas and the post Vedic literature, providing protection to the terror-stricken person, imparting of the inaccessible knowledge, adoration of the guests, protection of those who takes shelter, adoration of all the gods, performing of pūjā and recitation of mantras, offering of food to the Brāhmaṇas and gods with Puraścaraṇa the adoration of the teacher and the parents and their maintenance do not weight even one-sixteenth part of the merit one achieves by attaining the slavehood of lord Kṛṣṇa .

तस्मादुद्धव यत्नेन भज कृष्णं परात्परम्।
निर्गुणं च निरीहं च परमात्मानमीश्वरम्॥२१॥
नित्यं सत्यं परं ब्रह्म प्रकृतेः परमीश्वरम्।
परिपूर्णतमं शुद्धं भक्तानुग्रहविग्रहम्॥२२॥
कर्मिणां कर्मणां साक्ष्यप्रदं निर्लिप्तमेव च।
ज्योतिःस्वरूपं परमं कारणानां च कारणम्॥२३॥
सर्वस्वरूपं सर्वेशं सर्वसंपत्प्रदं शुभम्।
भक्तिदं दास्यदं स्वस्य निजसंपत्पदप्रदम्॥२४॥
विसृज्य ज्ञातिबुद्धिं च मात्सर्यमशुभप्रदम्।
भज तं परमानन्दं सानन्दं नन्दनन्दनम्॥२५॥

Therefore, O Uddhava, you recite the name of Kṛṣṇa, who is beyond the qualities, free from desire, the supreme soul, the lord, eternal, truthful, eternal Brahman, beyond Prakṛti, complete in all respect, spotless, graceful to the devotees, the witness of the deeds, uninvolved, the form of flame, the cause of all the causes, the form of everything, the lord of everything, bestower of all the fortunes, welfare and devotion, besides the slavehood to his feet. Therefore discarding the evil arrogance and all other knowledge one should adore with devotion, the name of son of Nanda who is always blissful.

वेदे कौथुमिशाखायां तस्य नाम्नां सहस्रकम्।
नन्दनन्दननामोक्तं कृतौ विघ्नं सुदुर्लभम्॥२६॥
उद्धवः सर्वमाकर्ण्य परमं विस्मयं ययौ।
ज्ञानं संप्राप्य संपूर्णं परिपूर्णो बभूव ह॥२७॥

A thousand of his names have been mentioned in the Kauthumi-śākhā of the Vedas. By reciting the same. all the obstructions are removed. On hearing all these words Uddhava was immensely surprised and he was filled with all the knowledge.

स्ववस्त्रं च गले बद्ध्वा दण्डवत्प्रणनाम ताम्।
मूर्ध्नः केशैश्च तत्पादं निबध्य च पुनः पुनः॥२८॥

Thereafter Uddhava keeping a cloth round his neck, placed his head over the feet of Rādhikā and prostrated before her again and again.

पुलकाञ्चितसर्वाङ्गः साश्रुनेत्रश्च भक्तितः।
तद्विच्छेदशुचा प्रेम्णा रुरोदोच्चैश्च नारद॥२९॥

O Nārada, his entire body was feeling emotions, his eyes were filled with tears because of the devotion. With his mind filled with love and at the very thought of separation from Rādhā, he started crying aloud.

रुरोद राधा तत्प्रेम्णा रुरोद बल्लवीगणः।
उद्धवस्य गलं धृत्वा स्थापयामास लोभतः॥३०॥
उद्धवं मूर्च्छितं दृष्ट्वा जृम्भितं त्यक्तचेतनम्।
शीघ्रमुत्थापयामास राधिका कृष्णमानसम्॥३१॥
चेतनं कारयामास जलं दत्त्वा मुखाम्बुजे।
शुभाशिषं च प्रददौ वत्स जीवेति नारद॥३२॥

Than Rādhā also getting filled with emotions started crying together with all the cowherdesses. Thereafter, Rādhikā lifted up Uddhava and made him sit. But took Uddhava a deep sigh and became senseless. Finding him so fainted Rādhikā lifted up Uddhava whose mind was full of devoted to lord Kṛṣṇa and sprinkling water on his face, he was brought back to senses. O Nārada, Rādhikā then addressed him saying, "O son, you enjoy long life". Thus speaking she bestowed her blessing on him.

रुदतीनां च गोपीनां पुरतः परमार्थदम्॥३३॥

On regaining consciousness Uddhava spoke the spiritual words to Rādhikā as well as the cowherdesses who were crying.

उद्धव उवाच

धन्यो यशस्यो द्वीपानां जम्बुद्वीप: सुदुर्लभ:।
यत्र भारतवर्षं तु सर्वेषामीप्सितं वरम्।।३४।।

Uddhava said- Of all the continents Jambudvīpa happens to be quite graceful glorious and inaccessible. The auspicious land of Bhārata is located there, which is desired by all.

अहो भारतवर्षे तु पुण्यं वृन्दावनं वनम्।
राधापादाब्जसंस्पर्शरज: पूतं सुरेप्सितम्।।३५।।

There is an auspicious Vṛndāvana, the same Bhāratavarṣa has been purified with the dust of the feet of Rādhā, which is desired by all the gods.

धन्या मान्या च पृथिवी त्रिषु लोकेषु पूजिता।
राधायास्तीर्थपूताया: पादाब्जरजसा वरा।।३६।।

Thought the land is quite graceful in the three worlds and also auspicious but in spite of that it has become more sanctified with the dust of the feet of Rādhā which purify all the holy places.

षष्टिवर्षसहस्राणि दिव्यानि पुष्करे पुरा।
ब्रह्मणा च तपस्तप्तं वेदोक्तं भक्तिपूर्वकम्।।३७।।
गोलोके राधिकाकृष्णादर्शनार्थं मनोरथात्।
गोलोके राधिकाकृष्णो न दृष्ट: स्वप्नस्तदा।।३८।।
श्रुता तेनाऽऽकाशवाणी सत्यरूपा च लीलया।
वाराहे भारते वर्षे पुण्ये वृन्दावने वने।।३९।।
रासोत्सवे महाराम्ये तत्रैव रासमण्डले।
द्रक्ष्यसीति च देवानां मध्ये सुस्थो न संशय:।।४०।।

In the earlier times Brahma had performed tapas at Puṣkara for sixty thousand years according to the Vedas in order to have a look at the lotus-like feet of Rādhā. But he could not have an audience with Rādhikā and Kṛṣṇa, even in dream. Thereafter, he heard of a divine voice from the sky saying. In the Vāräha-kalpa, in the land of Bhārata, in the forest of Vṛndāvana, you would have a glance of them in the Rāsamaṇḍala. There is no doubt about it.

कृष्णो दृष्टश्च हृष्टश्च परिपूर्णमनोरथ:।।४१।।

On hearing this, Brahmā left for his abode getting free from tapas, thereafter in due course of time he had an audience with lord Kṛṣṇa and he felt delighted with the fulfilment of his desire.

गोपानां गोपिकानां च सफलं जन्म जीवनम्।
नित्यं पश्यन्ति ते पादपद्मं ब्रह्मादिदुर्लभम्।।४२।।

The lives of the cowherds and cowherdesses are quite graceful, because they always have a look at the lotus-like feet of Rādhā.

मानिनीं राधिकां सन्त: सदा सेवन्ति नित्यश:।
योगीन्द्राश्च मुनीन्द्राश्च सिद्धेन्द्रा वैष्णवास्तथा।।४३
सतीं पुण्यां तीर्थपूतां स्वत: शुद्धा सुदुर्लभाम्।
सुलभं यत्पदाम्भोजं ब्रह्मादीनां सुदुर्लभम्।।४४।।

All the ascetics, the noble people, the yogīs, the sages, the siddhas and Vaiṣṇavas, serve at the feet of Rādhā who is quite proud, auspicious, purifies the holy places, is spotless and difficult to access. as a result of their devotion it becomes easy for them to have a look at the lotus-like feet of Rādhā which is difficult for Brahmā and the gods to achieve.

यत्पादपद्मनखरं कृतं यावकचिह्नितम्।
सर्वेश्वरेश्वरेणैव कृष्णेन परमात्मना।।४५।।
चकार यस्या: पूजां च स्तोत्रराजं सुदुर्लभम्।
शतशृङ्गे स्वयं कृष्णो गोलोके रासमण्डले।।४६।।
पारिजातप्रसूनानामञ्जलिं गन्धचन्दनम्।
ददौ दूर्वाक्षतं स्निग्धं यस्या: पादारविन्दयो:।।४७।।
त्रिंशत्सहस्रकोटीनां गोपीनामीश्वरी च या।
तत्षट्त्रिंशत्सखीनां च ईश्वरी राधिकाभिधा।।४८।।
ये वा द्विषन्ति निन्दन्ति पापिनश्च हसन्ति च।
कृष्णप्राणाधिकादेवदेवीं च राधिकां वराम्।।४९।।

तप्ततैले महाघोरे ध्वान्ते कीटे च यन्त्रके।
चतुर्दशेन्द्रावच्छिन्नं पितृभि: सप्तभि: सह।।५१।।

Kṛṣṇa the supreme soul and the lord of all had painted the nails of her feet and had adored her in Goloka on the mountain of hundred peaks with inaccessibles stotra. He also offered the tender Dūrvā-grass, unbroken rice, fragrance, sandal-paste and bunch of Pārijāta flowers to her. She happens to be the friend of thirty six cowherdesses and the mistress of thirty thousand cowherdesses. She is known as Rādhikā who is dearer to Kṛṣṇa than his life and is adored by the gods. whosoever feel envious of the same Rādhā or denounce her or finds faults with her, he earns hundreds of Brahmahatyās. There is no doubt about it. Because of that sin such sinners fall into the kumbhīpāka hell where they are thrown in the boiling oil, in pitch darkness and they are crushed like sugar cane up to the seven generations till the time of fourteen Indras.

ततः परं च जायन्ते जन्मैकं लोकजन्मतः।
दिव्यं वर्षसहस्रं च विष्ठाकीटाश्च पापतः॥५२॥
पुंश्चलीनां योनिकीटास्तद्रक्तमलभक्षकाः।
मलकीटाश्च तन्मानवर्षं च पूयभक्षकाः॥५३॥

Thereafter they are born on earth as the insects of refuse for a thousand divine years. Then they become the germs of the pelvic region of the loose women always consuming refuse, licking puss.

वेदे च काण्वशाखायामित्याह कमलोद्भवः।
इत्युक्तवन्तं तं यान्तमुवाच राधिका पुनः
रुदन्तं च रुदन्ती सा कृष्णविच्छेदकातरा॥५४॥

This has been ordained by Brahma in the kaṇvaśākhā. Thus speaking Uddhava again got ready to depart. At that point of time Rādhikā who was suffering because of the separation of Kṛṣṇa spoke to Uddhava who was crying at the same time.

राधिकोवाच

गच्छ वत्स मधुपुरीं सर्वं बोधय माधवम्।
यथा पश्यामि गोविन्दं प्रयत्नेन तथा कुरु॥५५॥
निष्फलं च गतं जन्म गच्छ मिथ्यादुराशया।
आशा हि परमं दुःखं नैराश्यं परमं सुखम्॥५६॥

Rādhikā said- O son, you go to Mathurā and apprise Kṛṣṇa about the situation here and you move in such a way that I should be able to meet Govinda, my life would be unsuccessful.

पश्चाद्विचिन्त्य गोविन्दं जीवन्मुक्ता बभूव सा।
इत्युक्त्वा राधिका तत्र रुरोद च भृशं पुनः॥५७॥
प्रणम्य तां रुदन्तीं च यशोदाभवनं ययौ।
अथोद्धवे गते राधा मूर्च्छां संप्राप नारद॥५८॥

In the universe the hope is always troublesome and getting detached, from getting all the pleasures of the worlds it bestows the real pleasure. Thereafter he is absorbed in meditation of lord Kṛṣṇa". Thus speaking Rādhikā also started sobbing. Uddhava on his part bowed in reverence to the sobbing Rādhā and left for the place of Yaśodā.

तत्याज चेतनां शश्वद्बभूव ध्यानतत्परा।
पङ्कस्थे पङ्कजदले सजले शयने मुने॥५९॥
गोप्यस्तां स्थापयामासुः साश्रुनेत्रोत्पला वराः।
तत्स्पर्शमात्राच्छयनं भस्मीभूतं बभूव ह॥६०॥

O Nārada, after departure of Uddhava, Rādhā was fainted she was so deeply absorbed in the meditation of Kṛṣṇa that she lost consciousness. O sage, the cowherdesses then finding her in such a position filled the lotus petals their own tears and placed with them on the bed, on which Rādhā was made to sleep, but with the very touch of her body, the bed was burnt out.

पुनः स्निग्धस्थले स्निग्धनिचोले चन्दनाङ्किते।
पुनस्तां स्थापयामासुर्विरहज्वरकातराम्॥६१॥
सहसा शुष्कतां प्राप सुगन्धि चन्दनोदकम्।
निमेषेण शतयुगं तद्बभूवोद्धवं विना॥६२॥

Thereafter, the cowherdesses made Rādhā to sleep on a bed which was covered by a bed-cover and was very soft. They then sprinkled the water mixed with sandal-paste on her but the water with sandal-paste with the touch of the body of Rādhā, also dried up. Without Uddhava, Rādhā felt a moment as long as the yugas.

हा होद्धवोद्धव हरिं शीघ्रं गत्वा वदेति च।

रुरुदुर्गोपिकाः सर्वा राधां कृत्वा स्ववक्षसि
चेतनां कारयामासुर्बोधयामासुरीप्सितम्॥६४॥

She cried O Uddhava, "You speak to Kṛṣṇa at once and send here the lord of life at once". She thus spoke filled with mental agony, loosing consciousness and a miserable condition. The cowherdesses embraced Rādhā in such a condition and they also started crying. Thereafter they brought her back to consciousness and consoling her.

Chapter - 98

Arrival of Uddhava in Mathurā and meeting with Kṛṣṇa

नारायण उवाच

अथोद्धवो यशोदां च प्रणम्य त्वरया मुदा।
खर्जूरकाननं वामे कृत्वा च यमुनां ययौ।।१।।
स्नात्वा भुक्त्वा च तत्रैव जगाम मथुरां पुन:।
ददर्श वटमूले च गोविन्दं रहसि स्थितम्।।२।।
प्रफुल्लोऽप्युद्धवं दृष्टवा सस्मितं तमुवाच स:।
रुदन्तं शोकदग्धं च साश्रुनेत्रं च कातरम्।।३।।

Nārāyaṇa said- Uddhava then went to the abode of Yaśodā where he bowed in reverence to her delightfully. Thereafter getting leave from her, he moved on. Leaving the palm grove to the left, he reached the bank of Yamunā. He took his bath and food there and than left for Mathurā. He found Kṛṣṇa seated under the shade of the banyan tree. The lord also delightfully looked at Uddhava and smilingly spoke. At that point of time feeling grieved, Uddhava was sobbing and the tears were flowing from his eyes. He felt panicky.

आगच्छोद्धव कल्याणं राधा जीवति जीवति।
कल्याणयुक्ता गोप्यश्च जीवन्ति विरहज्वरात्।।४।।
शुभं गोपशिशूनां च वत्सानां च गवामपि।
माता मे पुत्रविरहाद्यशोदा कीदृशी च सा।।५।।

Śrī Kṛṣṇa said- O Uddhava, come on, is everything all right? "Is Rādhā alive?" The cowherdesses who are suffering from the pain of separation are still alive? Are the cowherds, the calves and the cows getting on well? What is the condition of my mother Yaśodā with the separation from her son .

वद बन्धो यथार्थं तत्त्वां दृष्ट्वा किमुवाच सा।
त्वयोक्ता जननी किं वा पुन: सा किमुवाच माम्।।
दृष्टं तद्यमुनाकूलं पुण्यं वृन्दावनं वनम्।

भाण्डीरे च वटो दृष्ट: सुस्निग्धो बालकान्वित:।
दृष्टो गोष्ठो गवां दृष्टं गोकुलं गोकुलव्रजम्।।९।।

O brother, what did they speak on meeting you? You tell me truthfully the words of my mother. And what was the message conveyed by her me. Did you visit the bank of Yamunā, the auspicious Vṛndāvana the Rāsamaṇḍala with deserted orchards, the pleasant Kuñja cottage and pool of water sport, the flower, orchards surrounded by the black-wasps, the cool shadow of the Bhāṇḍīra-vana and the banyan tree surrounded by the cowherd boy, the abode of cows and the cows of Gokula.

यदि जीवति राधा सा दृष्ट्वा त्वां किमुवाच माम्।
तत्सर्वं वद हे बन्धो चाऽऽन्दोलयति मे मन:।।१०।।

In case Rādhā is alive, then what did she speak about me on finding you there? O brother, you tell me all this because my mind is getting anxious.

किमूचुर्गोपिका: सर्वा: किमुचुर्गोपबालका:।
गोपाश्च वृद्धा: किंवोचुर्वयस्या जनकस्य मे।।११।।

What did all the cowherdesses speak? What did the cowherd boys speak? What did the grown up cowherds, my father and friends speak to you.

बलदेवस्य जननी किमूचे रोहिणी सती।
किमुचूरपरास्तात बन्धूवल्लभवल्लवा:।।१२।।

O brother, what did Rohiṇī the mother of Baladeva spoke to you and what did the wives of my other relatives speak to you.

किं भुक्तं किमपूर्वं वा दत्तं मात्रा च राधया।
कीदृग्वाक्यं सुमधुरं संभाषा कीदृशीति च॥१३॥

What food did you take there? what was the astonishing gifts given to you by my mother Yaśodā and Rādhā? How did they talk to you and were their words quite sweet.

गोपानां गोपिकानां च शिशूनां मातुरेव च।
राधायाश्चापि कीदृग्वा मयि प्रेमोद्धवाधिकम्॥१४॥

O Uddhava, how are the cowherdesses, the cowherds, the children, the mother and Rādhikā, disposed towards me, do they have same old affection for me or not.

मां च स्मरति माता मे मां च स्मरति रोहिणी।
मां च स्मरति सा राधा मत्प्रेमविरहाकुला॥१५॥
मां च स्मरन्ति गोप्यश्च गोपाश्च गोपबालकाः।
भाण्डीरे वटमूले च बालाः क्रीडन्ति मां विना॥१६॥

Does my mother ever remember me? Does Rohiṇī remember me? Does Rādhikā remember me? Getting infested with the pain of separation from my love, do the cowherdesses, the cowherd boy remember me? Do the cowherd boys engage themselves in sport in my absence in the Bhāṇḍīra forest .

दत्तमन्नं ब्राह्मणीभिर्यत्र भुक्तं सुधोपमम्।
प्रमदाबालकैः सार्धं तद्दृष्टं पदमीप्सितम्॥१७॥

Did you visit the place where I consumed the nectar-like food offered to me by the Brāhmaṇa damsels, with the boys.

इन्द्रयागस्थलं दृष्टं दृष्टो गोवर्धनो वरः।
ब्रह्मणा च हृता गावो यत्र तद्दृष्टमुत्तमम्॥१८॥

Did you visit the place of yajña of Indra, Govardhana, the best of the mountains and the place where Brahma had stolen away the cows?

श्रीकृष्णस्य वचः श्रुत्वा शोकोक्तं मधुरान्वितम्।
उद्धवः समुवाचेदं भगवन्तं सनातनम्॥१९॥

On listening to the grief-stricken and-sweet words of Kṛṣṇa, Uddhava spoke to the eternal lord.

उद्धव उवाच

यद्यदुक्तं त्वया नाथ सर्वं दृष्टं यथेप्सितम्।
सफलं जीवनं जन्म कृतमत्रैव भारते॥२०॥
दृष्टं भारतसारं च पुण्यं वृन्दावनं वनम्।
तत्सारं व्रजभूमौ च सुरम्यं रासमण्डलम्॥२१॥
तत्सारभूता गोलोकवासिन्यो गोपिकाः वराः।
दृष्टा तत्सारभूता च राधा रासेश्वरी परा॥२२॥

Uddhava said- O lord, whatever have you spoken, I have visited all these places and I have made my life in the land of Bhārata as success. I have visited the auspicious Vṛndāvana which is the best place in the land of Bhārata besides the land of Vraja which is the essence of the same and the charming Rāsamaṇḍala. The cowherdesses happens to be the essence of the Rāsamaṇḍala and Rādhā the foremost of the performers of the divine dance was also seen by me.

कदलीवनमध्ये च निर्जने सुहृदस्थले।
पङ्कस्थे पङ्कजदले सजले चन्दनार्चिते॥२३॥
शयनेऽतिविषण्णा सा रत्नभूषणवर्जिता।
अतीव मलिना क्षीणाऽऽच्छादिता शुक्लवाससा॥२४

She was lying in the forest of banana trees on the bed of lotus petals which was soaked with the sandal-paste. She had discarded all the gem-studded ornaments and was lying there in gloom. She looked quite dirty, lean and thin and was clad in the white garments.

सेविता सखिभिस्तत्र सततं श्वेतचामरैः।
कृशोदरी निराहारा क्षणं श्वसिति च क्षणम्॥२५॥

The female friends of Rādhā were serving her continuously moving the white fly-whisks, she had discarded taking food and her belly had shrunk, she used to breath moment after moment.

क्षणं जीवति किं वा सा विरहज्वरपीडिता।
किं वा जलं स्थलं किं वा नक्तं किं वा दिनं हरे॥
नरं पशुं न जानाति किं परं किमु बान्धवम्।
बाह्यज्ञानविरहिता ध्यायमाना पदं तव॥२७॥

Thus would it be possible for Rādhā to survive from the fever of separation even for a moment? O lord Hari, she has lost consciousness about the water or the earth, the day or the night, the human or the animals and the relatives and stranger. She is devoid of all the outward knowledge and is solely devoted at your feet.

न हि राधापरा भक्ता न भूता न भविष्यति।।३०।।

Her glory is spread in the universe and as such her death also would be glorious. Even the robbers who are devoid of knowledge do not intend to kill a women then why would you so desire? Therefore, O lord of the universe, you visit the desired forest of banana trees at once. Rādhā who is extremely devoted to you is not out of the universe. O lord, Rādhā is protected by you who is a great devotee of yours. There is no devotee comparable to her in the world nor would one ever be.

मन्मथः शंकराद्भीतो भवांश्च तत्पुरःसुरः।
भवद्विधं पतिं प्राप्य कामदग्धा च राधिका।।३१।।

The god of love is afraid of Śiva and you happen to be the foremost of Śiva, after achieving a husband like you, Rādhikā is still burning with passion.

Therefore the deeds are the foremost and no one can stop the same. The spring season and the moon with its rays are actually burning her. The blowing of cool breeze is regularly burning her, therefore she is lying there suffering from pain like an orphan. She is having the complexion of the lustre of molten gold but presently the same has turned black.

The complexion of the hair of her head has become golden and she is lying without garments in spite of the face that she is adored like you and Brahma.

सनत्कुमारस्त्वद्भक्तो गणेशो ज्ञानिनां वरः।।३५।।

Śiva the teacher of the yogīs also adores here Sanatkumāra, Gaṇeśa and the best of intellectuals are also her devotees.

Various types of ascetics and sages are also devoted to her but the type of devotion displayed by Rādhā is difficult to get anywhere.

The way in which Rādhikā adored you even Lakṣmī can not do so. I have admitted before her that you would reach her. Therefore, O virtuous one, "You move immediately and display the truthfulness of my words." On hearing the words of Uddhava, Mādhava smiled and he started speaking words according to the Vedas which were quite truthful.

श्रीभगवानुवाच

स्त्रीषु धर्मविवाहेषु वृत्त्यर्थे प्राणसंकटे।
गवामर्थे ब्राह्मणार्थे नानृतं स्याज्जुगुप्सितम्।।३९।।

Śrī Kṛṣṇa said- It is not a sin to resort to falsehood while cutting jokes with the damsels, in the marriages, for the sake of livelihood, when life is in danger and for the sake of the cows and the Brāhmaṇas.

तत्स्वीकारविहीनेन कुतस्त्वं नरकः कुतः।

Therefore even if you don't make your words truthful, there is no harm in the same nor would you have to face the hell. My devotee actually goes to the Goloka and not to the hell.

त्वदङ्गीकारसाफल्यं करिष्यामि तथाऽपि च।

In spite of that I shall honour your words, I shall go to Rādhikā, the cowherdesses and my mother Yaśodā in dream.

On hearing this the glorious Uddhava went back to his abode. Then lord Kṛṣṇa reached Gokula which was suffering from separation. In the dream he assured Rādhikā and bestowed the divine knowledge on her and satisfied the cowherdesses with various types of sports. He sucked the breast of Yaśodā who was enjoying the deep sleep and assuring the cowherds and the cowherd boys variously, he returned to Mathurā.

Yajñopavīta of Kṛṣṇa and Coronation of Gaṇeśa

नारायण उवाच

एतस्मिन्नन्तरे गर्गो वसुदेवाश्रमं ययौ।
दण्डी छत्री च जटिलो दीप्तश्च ब्रह्मतेजसा।।१।।
शुक्लयज्ञोपवीती च तपस्वी संयत: सदा।
शुक्लदन्त: शुक्लवासा यदो: कुलपुरोहित:।।२।।

Nārāyaṇa said- In the meantime, Ācārya Garga came to Vasudeva holding a daṇḍa and chatra, wearing the matted locks of hair on the head, illumining with lustre, adorned with white yajñopavīta, looking like a mendicant and a disciplined person, having white teeth and clad in white garments, being the family priest of Yadus.

तं दृष्ट्वा सहसोत्थाय देवकी प्रणनाम च।
वसुदेवश्च भक्त्या च रत्नसिंहासनं ददौ।।३।।
मधुपर्कं कामधेनुं वह्निशुद्धांशुकं तथा।
दत्त्वा गन्धं पुष्पमाल्यं पूजयामास भक्तित:।।४।।

Finding him there Devakī, Vasudeva suddenly got up and bowed in reverence to him offering him the gem-studded lion throne. Thereafter, they offered madhuparka, Kāmadhenu (wish fulfilling cow), the garments, sanctified by fire, fragrance and garland of flowers. They adored him with devotion .

मिष्टान्नं परमान्नं च पिण्टकं मधुरं मधु।
भोजयामास यत्नेन ताम्बूलं वासितं ददौ।।५।।

They served him the sweets, pāyasam, fried food, the honey and the fragrant betel.

प्रणम्य कृष्णं मनसा सबलं तं विलोक्य च।
उवाच वसुदेवं च देवकीं च पतिव्रताम्।।६।।

He mentally bowed in reverence to Śrī Kṛṣṇa and Balarāma looking at them and then he spoke to Vasudeva and Devakī.

गर्ग उवाच

वसुदेव निबोधेन सबलं पश्य पुत्रकम्।
उपनीतोचितं शुद्धं वयसा सांप्रतं वरम्।।७।।

Garga said- O Vasudeva, you look at Balabhadra and your son Kṛṣṇa and realise that the age for performing their yajñopavīta, has arrived.

वसुदेव उवाच

शुभक्षणं कुरु गुरो यदूनां पूज्यदैवत।
उपनीतोचितं शुद्धं प्रशंस्यं च सतामपि।।८।।

Yaśodā said- You are adorable for the race of Yadus, therefore you prescribed an auspicious time for performing the yajñopavīta which should be praised by the noble people.

सर्वेभ्यो बान्धवेभ्योऽपि देह्यामन्त्रणपत्रिकाम्।

In the meantime Brahmā wearing a smile on his face and mounted on the goose arrived there. Pārvatī arrived mounted over a gem-studded plane together with Śiva, Nandī, Mahākāla, Vīrabhadra, Subhadraka, Maṇibhadra, Pāribhadra, Kārttikeya, Gaṇeśa, Indra mounted over Airāvata, Dharma, the sun and moon, Kubera, Varuṇa, Pavana, Agni, Yama, Jayanta, Nalakūbara, all the planets, the Vasus, Rudra with all the gaṇas, Ādityas, Śeṣa and several other gods also arrived there. Vasudeva on his part adored each one of them prostrating on the ground. He adored all the gods with great devotion. At that point of time his head bowed in reverence, feeling emotional

वसुदेव उवाच

परं ब्रह्म परं धाम परमेशः परात्परः।

वेदानां जनकः स्रष्टा सृष्टिहेतुः सनातनः।
सुराणां च मुनीन्द्राणां सिद्धेन्द्राणां गुरोर्गुरुः॥४०॥

Vasudeva said- Today Brahmā himself has arrived in my abode who is the primeval Brahman, illustrious, the great lord, beyond all and maintains the universe, besides being the creator of the Vedas, the cause of the universe, eternal and the teacher of all the sages and siddhas.

स्वप्ने यत्पादपद्मं च क्षणं द्रष्टुं सुदुर्लभम्।

सवयं गणेशो भगवान् साक्षाद्विघ्नविनाशकः॥४३॥

His lotus-like feet are inaccessible even in dream and by reciting his name all the obstructions vanish in no time, the same Śiva has also arrived here. Lord Gaṇeśa has also arrived here who frees people from all the miseries, bestows welfare on the people, who is adored first of all, the one who is the foremost of the gods and the one who is the form of welfare and is established first of all in the ceremonies with the reciting of the mantras invoking him.

Lord Kārttikeya has also arrived who is adored by all the Yadus. Mahālakṣmī has also arrived here who is the best of the goddesses and is extremely adorable. The goddess Pārvatī has also arrived here who is the primeval form of the universe, the form of the entire universe, Mūlaprakṛti, Īśvarī, the best of all, the form of eternal Brahman, by adoring her during in the winter season, one gets his desire fulfilled, the one who is the eternal śakti, compassionate one and has incarnated on the land of Bhārata out of compassion. The same goddess Pārvatī, who is graceful to her devotees has arrives in my abode with all her attendants and gods. O Durgā, since you have arrived in my abode therefore I feel myself to be quite graceful, my life has met with success. Thus Vasudeva binding a cloth around his neck, bowed in reverence to all the gods, the sages and the Brāhmaṇas offering prayers to them and made sit them on the gem-studded throne, individually.

पूजयामास विधिवत्क्रमेण च पृथक्पृथक्।

Thereafter, he properly adored them individually with his mind filled with devotion, He adored offering the gems, the diamonds, the jewels and the gem-studded ornaments, the garments, the flower garlands the fragrant sandal-paste to Brahmā, the gods, the sages, Brāhmaṇa as and Garga, the family priest. At the auspicious time Gaṇeśa was made to sit on the gem-studded there and he was adored first of all. The water of all the seven oceans was kept in pitchers which were decorated with flowers. The fragrant and cool water of Gaṅgā was also brought together with the sacred water from Puṣ kara together with the pure milk preparations. Herambha Gaṇeśa was adored with devotion, reciting the mantras, pouring the water over him.

Aditi welcomes Pārvatī

नारायण उवाच

अथादितिर्दितिश्चैव देवकी रोहिणी रतिः।
सरस्वती च सावित्री यशोदा च पतिव्रता॥१॥
लोपामुद्राऽरुन्धती च अहल्या तारका तथा।
ययुस्ताः पार्वतीं दृष्ट्वा वेगेन मन्दिरादपि॥२॥
परस्परं च संभाष्य समाश्लिष्य पुनः पुनः।
प्रणम्य वेशयामासुर्मन्दिरं रत्ननिर्मितम्॥३॥

रत्नसिंहासने रम्ये वासयामासुरीश्वरीम्।
वरयामासुर्माल्येन वाससा रत्नभूषणैः॥४॥

Nārāyaṇa said- Thereafter Aditi, Diti, Devakī, Rohiṇī, Rati, Sarasvatī, the chaste Yaśodā, Lopāmudrā, Arundhatī, Ahalyā, Tārā proceeded to the temple of Pārvatī and bowing. In reverence to her again and again, they offered their salutation to her. Then after talking to her they made her enter into the gem-studded palace. There she was made to sit on the gem-studded lion throne and honoured offering the garland, the costumes, gems studded ornaments and was than established there.

पारिजातस्य पुष्पं च शक्रानीतं मनोहरम्।
ददौ तत्पादपद्मे च देवकी भक्तिपूर्वकम्॥५॥

The goddess Devakī offered her the Pārijāta flowers, which were brought by Indra with great effort, at the lotus-like feet of Pārvatī.

सिन्दूरबिन्दुं सीमन्ते भाले चन्दनबिन्दुकम्।
कस्तूरीकुङ्कुमादींश्च प्रददौ परितस्तयोः॥६॥

The parting of her hair was adorned with the spot of vermilion while the forehead was adorned with the spot of sandal-paste. She was also decorated with kastūrī and saffron on all sides.

मिष्टान्नं भोजयामास शीततोयं सुवासितं
ताम्बूलं च वरं रम्यं कर्पूरादिसुवासितम्॥७॥
अलक्तकं च प्रददौ नखेषु पादपद्मयोः।
कुङ्कुमस्यापि रागं च सिषेवे श्वेतचामरैः॥८॥

She was served with sweet food, offering the cool fragrant water, the fragrant betel was also offered to her, the nails of her toes were painted with saffron and she was served by moving the white fly-whisks.

संपूज्य पार्वतीं देवीं मुनिपत्नीः क्रमेण च।
पूजयामास विधिवत्पतिपुत्रवतीः सतीः॥९॥
राजकन्या देवकन्या नागकन्या मनोहराः।
मुनिकन्या बन्धुकन्या पूजयामास सुव्रता॥१०॥

Devakī thus adored Pārvatī and thereafter she also adored the wives of the sages, the chaste woman whose son and husband were alive, the princesses, the daughter of all the gods, the beautiful daughters of the Nāgas and the sages besides the daughters of all other relatives

वाद्यं नानाविधं रम्यं वादयामास कौतुकात्।
मङ्गलं कारयामास भोजयामास ब्राह्मणान्॥११॥

Several of the musical instrument were sounding delightfully and welfare mantras were recited serving food to the Brāhmaṇas.

भैरवीं पूजयामास मथुराग्रामदेवताम्।
उपचारैः षोडशभिः षष्ठीं मङ्गलचण्डिकाम्॥१२॥

The village deities named Bhairavī and Ṣaṣṭhī were adored, offering sixteen types of adoration's.

पुण्यं स्वस्त्ययनं शुद्धं वारयामास मङ्गलम्।
वेदांश्च पाठयामास वसुदेवस्य वल्लभा॥१३॥

Then Devakī the spouse of vasudeva had the recitations of the Vedas and welfare mantras, made by the Brāhmaṇas.

स्वर्गङ्गासुजलेनैव सुवर्णकलशेन च।
स्नापयामास सबलं श्रीकृष्णं पुत्रवत्सला॥१४॥
वस्त्रचन्दनमाल्यैश्च तयोर्वेषं चकार सा।
रत्नेन्द्रसारनिर्माणभूषणैश्च मनोहरैः॥१५॥

Devakī who was graceful to her son made Balabhadra and Kṛṣṇa bathe with the best of the water of the Gaṅgā from heaven brought in golden pitchers. She then offered the costumes, the sandal-paste, the flowers garland and the ornaments made with the best of gems. They were thus fully decorated.

मातृभूषणभूषाढ्यः सबलः कृष्ण एव च।
आययौ च सभां देवमुनीन्द्राणां च नारद॥१६॥

O Nārada, having been decorated with the ornament in the form of mother, Śrī Kṛṣṇa reached the assembly of great sages.

दृष्ट्वा तं जगतां नाथमुत्तस्थौ प्रजवेन च।
स्वयं विधाता शंभुश्च शेषो धर्मश्च भास्करः॥१७।
देवाश्च मुनयश्चैव कार्तिकेयो गणेश्वरः।
पृथक्पृथक् क्रमेणैव तुष्टाव परमेश्वरम्॥१८॥

On their arrival Brahmā, Śiva, Śeṣa, Dharma and Sūrya got up to welcome them. Thereafter the gods, the sages, Kārttikeya and Gaṇeśa offered prayer to lord Kṛṣṇa separately.

ब्रह्मोवाच

नाथानिर्बचनोयोऽसि भक्तानुग्रहविग्रहः।
वेदानिर्वचनीयं च कस्त्वां स्तोतुमिहेश्वरः।।१९।।

Brahmā said- O lord, you are inexplicable and you take to the human form for the only to grace your devotees. You are inexplicable by the Vedas, Therefore who could be competent enough to praise you.

महादेव उवाच

देहेषु देहिनां शश्वत्स्थितं निर्लिप्तमेव च।
कर्मिणां कर्मणां शुद्धं साक्षिणं साक्षतं विभुम्।।
किं स्तौमि रूपशून्यं च गुणशून्यं च निर्गुणम्।।२०।

Mahādeva said- You always pervades all the creatures in the universe and still remain unattached, you are the witness of all the deeds of the people and are imperishable. Therefore what type of adoration can I offer to you because you are formless, devoid of guṇas and are also nirguṇa.

किंवा जानाम्यहं नाथ त्वामज्ञोऽनन्तमीश्वरम्।
अनन्तकोटिब्रह्माण्डकारणं दुःखतारणम्।।२१।।
महाविष्णोश्च लोम्नां च विवरेषु जलेषु च।
सन्ति विश्वान्यसंख्यानि चित्राणि कृत्रिमाणि च।।

Ananta said- O lord, I am devoid of knowledge, then how could I know about the endless lord, because you happen to be the cause of the creation of crores of globes and you redeem the people from the ocean of universe. Innumerable globes are lodged into the hair-pits of Mahāviṣṇu which are astonishing as well as artificial.

सन्ति सन्तश्च देवाश्च ब्रह्मविष्णुशिवात्मकाः।
त्वदंशाः प्रतिबिम्बेषु तीर्थानि भारतं तथा।।२३।।

Out of them the noble people, the gods, Brahmā, Viṣṇu and Śiva, represent your aṁśas and all the holy places are located in the land of Bhārata.

ब्रह्माण्डैकस्थितोऽहं च सूक्ष्मनागस्वरूपकः।
स्थापितश्च त्वया कूर्मे गजेन्द्रे मशको यथा।।२४।।

I pervade the universe in my tiny form of Nāga. You have established myself on the back of tortoise live the mosquito sits on the huge elephant.

परमाणुपरं सूक्ष्मं विश्वेषु नास्ति कुत्रचित्।
महाविष्णोः परं स्थूलं समो नास्ति च कुत्रचित्।।
महाविष्णोः परस्त्वं च त्वत्परो नास्ति कश्चन।
स्थूलात्स्थूलतरो देवः सूक्ष्मात्सूक्ष्मतमो महान्।।२६।।
आधारश्च महाविष्णो जलरूपो भवान्स्वयम्।
जलाधारो हि गोलोकस्त्वं च स्थावररूपधृक्।।२७।।

There is nothing smaller in the world than the atom and there is nothing greater than Mahāviṣṇu but you happen to be beyond Mahāviṣṇu and no one else is beyond you, therefore you are greater than the greatest and smaller than the smallest. You happen to be the form of water which is the base of Mahāviṣṇu. Water is the base of Goloka and you have taken to immovable form.

सर्वाधारो महान्वायुः श्वासनिः श्वासरूपकः।
भक्तानुग्रहदेहस्य नित्यस्य भवतो विभो।।२८।।

O virtuous one, you take to human form for the sake of your devotees. Your breathing is the base of all the creatures in the world,.

वक्त्रैर्बहुतरैर्वाऽथ त्वया दत्तैः पुरैव च।
स्तोतुमिच्छामि त्वद्योगं न दत्तं ज्ञानमैश्वरम्।।२९।।

You had provided me with several hoods in earlier times and therefore collectively with these hoods intend to recite your glory but you have not bestowed me with the divine knowledge.

देवा ऊचुः

त्वामनन्तं यदि स्तोतुं देवोऽनन्तो न हीश्वरः।
न हि स्वयं विधाता च न हि ज्ञानात्मकः शिवः।।
सरस्वती जडीभूता किं कुर्मः स्तवनं वयम्।।३०।।

The gods said- O lord you are endless and in case Ananta is not able to recite your glory, Brahmā himself and lord Śiva are unable to do so while Sarasvatī becomes double before you then how can the weak people recite your glory.

मुनीन्द्रा ऊचुः

वेदा न शक्ताः स्तोतुं चेत्त्वां चैव ज्ञातुमीश्वरम्।
वयं वेदविदः सन्तः किं कुर्मः स्तवनं तव॥३१॥

The sages said- O lord in case the Vedas are unable to recite your glory, then how could one in spite of our being well-versed in the Vedas, recite your glory.

इदं स्तोत्रं महापुण्यं देवैश्च मुनिभिः कृतम्।
यः पठेत्संयतः शुद्धः पूजाकाले च भक्तितः॥३२॥
इह लोके सुखं भुक्त्वा लब्ध्वा ज्ञानं निरञ्जनम्।
रत्नयानं समारुह्य गोलोकं स च गच्छति॥३३॥

Thus one who recites the stotra composed by the sages and the gods, at the time of adoration, purifying himself and with the mind filled with devotion, he enjoying all the pleasures in this world achieves the divine knowledge and proceeds to Goloka ultimately.

Yajñopavīta of Balarāma and Kṛṣṇa

नारायण उवाच

संस्तूय देवा मुनयो विरेमुर्नहि मानसे।
ददृशुः प्राङ्गणे कृष्णं शोभितं पीतवाससा॥१॥

Nārāyaṇa said- As soon as the gods and the sages completed the mental prayer of Kṛṣṇa, they spotted Kṛṣṇa clad in pītāmbara standing in the court-yard.

यथा सौदामिनीयुक्तं नवीनजलदं मुने।
बकपङ्क्तियुतं चैव मालतीमालया तथा॥२॥

O sage, as the fresh clouds appear with lightening and the line of sky-larks, similarly lord Kṛṣṇa was standing there wearing the garland of jasmine flowers.

कपाले मण्डलाकारकस्तूरीयुक्तचन्दनम्।
सकलङ्कं मृगाङ्कं च शोभितं जलदे तथा॥३॥

He had a circular spot of kastūrī painted on his forehead and it looked like the moon among the clouds.

द्विभुजं श्यामलंकान्तं राधाकान्तं मनोहरम्।
ईषद्धास्यप्रसन्नास्यं भक्तानुग्रहविग्रहम्॥४॥
रत्नकेयूरवलयरत्नमञ्जीररञ्जितम्।
रुदन्तं पितुरुत्सङ्गे बले सहितं परम्॥५॥

He had two arms, beautiful dark complexion, was the beloved of Rādhā, quite charming, wearing a smile on his delightful face. Taking to human form, in order to grace his devotees, he was wearing armlets and wristlets of gems. He was sobbing in the lap of his father together with Balabhadra.

अथ मङ्गलकाले च शुभलग्ने मनोरमे।
संवीक्षिते ग्रहैः सौम्यैर्जाग्रल्लग्नाधिपे स्थिते॥६॥
असद्ग्रहैरदृष्टे च सद्ग्रहेक्षित एव च।
शुभकर्मसमारम्भं स्वस्तिवाचनपूर्वकम्॥७॥

Thereafter at the arrival of the auspicious time when the lord of lagna was in the high position looked upon and favourable by the stars who were casting their glance. At the point of time, bowing to the command of the Brāhmaṇas, he started. the ceremony by reciting the welfare mantras.

चकार वसुदेवश्चाप्याज्ञया सुरविप्रयोः।
दत्त्वा सुवर्णशतकं ब्राह्मणाय च सादरम्॥८॥
देवेन्द्रांश्च मुनीन्द्रांश्च नमस्कृत्य पुरोहितम्।
गणेशं च दिनेशं च वह्निं च शंकरं शिवाम्॥९॥
संपूज्य देवषट्कं च साक्षतैर्देवसंसदि।
उपचारैः षोडशभिः संयतो भक्तिपूर्वकम्॥१०॥

After offering a hundred gold coins to the Brāhmaṇas, he bowed before Indra, the sages and the family priest, besides Gaṇeśa, Sūrya, Agni, Śiva and Pārvatī with utmost devotion. He adored them with sixteen types of offerings together with all the gods.

पुत्राधिवासनं चक्रे वेदमन्त्रेण संसदि।
संपूज्य नानादेवांश्च दिक्पालांश्च नवग्रहान्॥११॥
दत्त्वा पञ्चोपचारांश्च भक्त्या षोडशमातृकाः।

दत्त्वा च वसुधारां च सप्तवारान्घृतेन च॥१२॥

Then with the reciting of the Vedic hymns, the bodies of both the brothers were plastered with fragrant material. Thereafter the gods, the Dikpālas, nine planets were adored together with the sixteen mothers by making five-fold offerings, the ghee was poured on them, seven times.

चेदिराजं वसुं नत्वा संपूज्य प्रययौ पुनः।
वृद्धिश्राद्धं सुनिर्वाप्य यत्किंचिद्दैविकं तथा॥१३॥
यज्ञं कृत्वा तु वेदोक्तं यज्ञसूत्रं ददौ मुदा।
बलदेवाग्रजायैव कृष्णाय परमात्मने॥१४॥
गायत्री च ददौ ताभ्यां मुनिः सांदीपनिस्तथा।
भिक्षां ददौ च प्रथमं पार्वती परमादरात्॥१५॥
अमूल्यरत्नपात्रस्थं मुक्तामाणिक्यहीरकम्।
हीरसारविनिर्माणं पित्रा दत्तं च हारकम्॥१६॥
शुभाशिषं च प्रददौ शुक्लपुष्पेण दूर्वया।
ततोऽदितिर्दितिश्चैव मुनिपत्न्यश्च देवकी॥१७॥
यशोदा रोहिणी हृष्टा सावित्री च सरस्वती।
प्रत्येकं प्रददौ भिक्षां मणिकाञ्चनभूषिताम्॥१८॥

Thereafter adoring the king of Cedi, he moved forward and completed the Vṛddhi-śrāddha and adored some other gods also. Thereafter he performed the yajña has prescribed in the Vedas, after which both Kṛṣṇa and Balarāma were adorned with yajñopavīta. The sage Sāndīpani bestowed the Gāyatrī hymn to both the boys. First of all Pārvatī gave the jewels. The father Vasudeva gave him a garland of gems together with the garland of white flowers and Dūrvā-grass. Aditi, Diti, Devakī, Yaśodā, Rohiṇī, Sāvitrī, Sarasvatī and other goddesses also offered him the bhikṣā in gems and pearls.

देवकन्या नागकन्या राजकन्याः पतिव्रताः।
कामिन्यो बान्धवानां च सस्मिताः स्निग्धलोचनाः॥

The daughters of the gods, Nāgas, the chaste woman, the princesses and the damsels of the relatives, offered the bhikṣā, with their eyes filled with affection.

इन्द्राणी वरुणानी च पवनानी च रोहिणी।
कुबेरपत्नी स्वाहा च रतिः कामस्य कामिनी॥२०॥
प्रत्येकं प्रददौ भिक्षां रत्नभूषणभूषिताम्।
भिक्षां गृहीत्वा भगवान्सबलो भक्तिपूर्वकम्॥२१॥
किंचिद्ददौ च गर्गाय किंचित्स्वगुरवे तथा।
वैदिकं कर्म निर्वाप्य गर्गाय दक्षिणां ददौ॥२२॥

Thereafter Indrāṇī, Varuṇānī, the spouse of the wind god, Rohiṇī, the spouse of Kubera, Svāhā, Rati also gave him the gem-studded ornament as bhikṣā. Both Balabhadra and Kṛṣṇa accepted the offerings and distributed them among Garga and their teacher. After completion of the ceremonies according to the Vedic traditions, the teacher Garga was presented with the dakṣiṇā.

देवांश्च भोजयामास ब्राह्मणांश्चापि सादरम्।
ये ये समाययुर्यज्ञे ते च दत्त्वा शुभाशिषम्॥२३॥
कृष्णाय बलदेवाय प्रहृष्टाः प्रययुर्गृहम्।
नन्दः सभार्यो निर्वाप्य शुभकर्म सुतस्य वै॥२४॥
क्रोडे कृत्वा बलं कृष्णं चुचुम्ब वदनं तयोः।
उच्चै रुरोद नन्दश्च यशोदा च पतिव्रता
श्रीकृष्णस्तं समाश्वास्य बोधयामास यत्नतः॥२५॥

The gods and the Brāhmaṇas were respectfully offered the food. Then all the people who had arrived to participate in the yajña variously offered blessings to Śrī Kṛṣṇa and Baladeva and went back to their abodes. After completion of the auspicious ceremonies Nanda and Yaśodā took the boys in their laps and started kissing their faces. At that point of time both Nanda and Yaśodā became emotional and started sobbing. Śrī Kṛṣṇa then somehow reassured them and spoke to them.

श्रीकृष्ण उवाच

सानन्दं गच्छ हे मातर्यशोदे तात सत्वरम्।
त्वमेव माता पोष्ट्री त्वं पिता च परमार्थतः॥२६॥

Śrī Kṛṣṇa said- "O mother Yaśodā and O father, both of you reached here delightfully, you happen to be our mother who has brought us up and you happen to be our real father.".

अवन्तिनगरं तात यास्यामि सबलोऽधुना।
मुनेः सांदीपनेः स्थानं वेदपाठार्थमीप्सितम्॥२७॥

O father, we are moving to the abode of the sage Sāndīpani in order to achieved learnings.

तत आगत्य सुचिरं काले भवति दर्शनम्।
कामः करोति कलनं स च भेदं करोति च॥२८॥
सर्वं कालकृतं मातर्भेदं संमीलनं नृणाम्।
सुखं दुःखं च हर्षं च शोकं च मङ्गलालयम्॥२९॥
मया दत्तं च तत्त्वं च योगिनामपि दुर्लभम्।
सर्वं नन्दश्च सानन्दं त्वामेव कथयिष्यति॥३०॥

After our return from that place, after a long time, we shall surely come to you. O mother, it is the time alone which accepts and also creates differences. So much so, the separation, meeting, the pleasure and pain and the welfare are all managed by the time itself. I have imparted the knowledge of tattvas to the respected father. He would surely narrate to you the secret of the same.

इत्युक्त्वा जगतां नाथो वसुदेवसभां ययौ।
तदाज्ञया क्षणं प्राप्य ययौ सांदीपनेर्गृहम्॥३१॥
वसुदेवं देवकीं च संभाष्य विनयेन च।
नन्दः सभार्यः प्रययौ हृदयेन विदूयता॥३२॥

Thus speaking Kṛṣṇa the lord of the universe went to the court of Vasudeva. Remaining there for sometime, both of them went to the abode of the teacher Sāndīpani, thereafter both Nanda and Yaśodā humbly spoke to Vasudeva and Devakī and got ready to depart.

मुक्तामणिं सुवर्णं च माणिक्यं हीरकं तथा।
वह्निशुद्धांशुकं रत्नं नन्दाय देवकी ददौ॥३३॥
श्वेताश्वं च गजेन्द्रं च सुवर्णरथमुत्तमम्।
नन्दाय कृष्णः प्रददौ वसुदेवश्च सादरम्॥३४॥

At that point of time Devakī offered to Nanda several types of gems and jewels, gold, rubies, diamond, costumes, sanctified by fire. Vasudeva and Kṛṣṇa presented Nanda with white horses, elephants and the chariot made of gold.

तयोरनुव्रजन्विप्रा देवकीप्रमुखाः स्त्रियः।
वसुदेवस्तथाऽक्रूरोऽप्युद्धवश्च ययौ मुदा॥३५॥

At the time of their departure all the Brāhmaṇas, Devakī and other damsels, Vasudeva, Akrūra and Uddhava delightfully followed them.

कालिन्दीनिकटं गत्वा ते सर्वे रुरुदुः शुचा।
परस्परं च संभाष्य ते सर्वे स्वालयं ययुः॥३६॥

Reaching the bank of river Yamunā, all of them started crying with grief, thus after talking with one and other they returned to their abodes.

कुन्ती सपुत्रा विधवा वसुदेवाज्ञया मुने।
नानारत्नमणिं प्राप्य प्रययौ स्वालयं मुदा॥३७॥
वसुदेवो देवकी च पुत्रकल्याणहेतवे।
नानारत्नमणिं वस्त्रं सुवर्णं रजतं तथा॥३८॥
मुक्तामाणिक्यहारं च मिष्टान्नं च सुधोपमम्।
भट्टेभ्यो ब्राह्मणेभ्यश्च प्रददौ सदरं मुदा॥३९॥

O sage, at the command of Vasudeva, the widow Kuntī also returned to her abode with her sons and the gems given to her by Vasudeva. Vasudeva and Devakī also gave away enough of gems and jewels, costumes, gold, silver, rubies, sapphire and various types of sweets to the Brahman as and the bards for the welfare to their sons.

महोत्सवं वेदपाठं हरेर्नामैकमङ्गलम्।
विप्राणां भोजनं चैव कारयामास यत्नतः॥४०॥
ज्ञातीनां बान्धवानां च पुरस्कारं यथोचितम्।
चकार मणिमाणिक्यमुक्तावस्त्रैर्मनोहरैः॥४१॥

Thereafter the festivities were gracefully performed which included the recitation of the Vedas and the name of the lord, serving food to the Brāhmaṇas. Thereafter the gems, jewels, sapphire and precious stones besides the costumes were distributed to the relatives as gifts.

Prosecuting of study by Kṛṣṇa and Balabhadra with Sāndīpani

नारायण उवाच

कृष्ण: सांदीपनेर्गेहं गत्वा च सबलो मुदा।
नमश्चकार स्वगुरुं गुरुपत्नीं पतिव्रताम्।।१।।
शुभाशिषं गृहीत्वा च दत्त्वा रत्नमणिं हरि:।
गुरवे तस्य भार्यायै तमुवाच यथोचितम्।।२।।

Nārāyaṇa said- Both Kṛṣṇa and Balabhadra reached the abode of sage Sāndīpani and bowed in reverence to the chaste wife of the teacher. Earning blessing from her lord Hari presented the precious gems to the wife of the teacher and then spoke.

श्रीकृष्ण उवाच

त्वत्तो विद्यां लभिष्यामि वाञ्छितां वाञ्छितं मम।
कृत्वा शुभक्षणं विप्र मां पाठय यथोचितम्।।३।।

Śrī Kṛṣṇa said- O Brahman, I have a desire to complete all the learning, therefore you start the teaching at an auspicious time.

ओमित्युक्त्वा मुनिश्रेष्ठ: पूजयामास तं मुदा।
मधुपर्कप्राशनेन गवा वस्त्रेण चन्दनै:।।४।।
मिष्टान्नं भोजयामास ताम्बूलं च सुवासितं।
सुप्रियं कथयामास तुष्टाव परमेश्वरम्।।५।।

Thereafter with the reciting of the word oṁ, the sage gave his consent, he then welcomed them offering madhuparka, eatables, the cow, the costumes and the sandal-paste. He also offered them the sweets and the fragrant betel, talking to them with sweet voice. He also offered prayer to the lord .

सांदीपनिरुवाच

परं ब्रह्म परं धाम परमीश परात्पर।
स्वेच्छामयं स्वयंज्योतिर्निर्लिप्तैको निरङ्कुश:।।६।।
भक्तैकनाथ भक्तेष्ट भक्तानुग्रहविग्रह।
भक्तवाञ्छाकल्पतरो भक्तानां प्राणवल्लभ।।७।।

Sāndīpani said- You are the one beyond measure, the primeval Brahman, the sole abode of all the pleasures, the eternal lord who moves at will, self illumining, unattached, unpresented, unrestrained, the only lord of the devotees, the family god of the devotees, the one who takes to human form for the welfare of the devotees, kalpavṛkṣa for the fulfilment of the desires of the devotees, who is adorable the devotees more than their lives.

मायया बालरूपोऽसि ब्रह्मेशशेषवन्दित:।
मायया भुवि भूपाल भुवो भारक्षयाय च।।८।।

You take to the form of a boy with your illusion and are adored by Brahmā, Śiva, Śeṣa and have incarnated on earth to rid her of her burden.

योगिनो यं विदन्त्येवं ब्रह्मज्योति: सनातनम्।

स्वात्मारामस्य च विभो: परिपूर्णतमस्य च।।१६।।

The yogīs conceive you as the eternal flame and the devotees meditated upon the same flame delightfully with devotion. The one who had two forms and holds a flute in his hands, whose all the limbs are plastered with the sandal-paste, the one who has dark complexion and wears a serene smile on his face, the one who is graceful to his devotees, wears the yellow lower garment and long garland of forest flowers. You are the one who can put to shame the god of love with a single glance, the one whose lotus-like feet look beautiful with the application of the red paint and the kaustubha gem adores the chest, the one who possesses the beautiful figure, one who smiles gracefully with delight and is clad in beautiful garments, the one who is adored by the gods and happens to be the god of all the gods, lord of the universe and influences the three worlds with his illusion, who happer to be the best of all possessing the lustre of crores of the gods of love, who is quite charming, the one who himself is the lord, adorned with all the invaluable gem-studded ornaments who is the best of all, bestower of the boons and happens to be the cause of all the four Vedas. The same lord has arrived here for learnings, playfully at my place, you happen to be the one who always remains engrossed in his own soul. You are virtuous and complete in all respects therefore all the people are desirous of seeking knowledge from you in various fields.

गुरुपत्न्युवाच

अद्य मे सफलं जन्म सफलं जीवनं मम।
पातिव्रत्यं च सफलं सफलं च तपोवनम्॥१७॥
मद्दक्षहस्तः सफलो दत्तं येनान्नमीप्सितम्।
तदाश्रमं तीर्थपरं तीर्थपादपदाङ्कितम्॥१८॥
त्वत्पादरजसा पूता गृहाः प्राङ्गणमुत्तमम्।
त्वत्पादपद्मं दृष्ट्वा चैवाऽऽवयोर्जन्मखण्डनम्॥१९॥

The wife of the teachers said- My life has success today, my birth has been successful, my chastefulness has been successful and our abode also has become successful, the hand with which I have offered the food to you, the same right hand of mine has become successful, your feet are like the holy places and with your arrival here, my abode has been sanctified with the dust of your feet, my house has been purified besides the court yard with the sight of both your feet, both of us have been relieved of the cycle of birth and death.

तावद्दुःखं च शोकश्च तावद्भोगश्च रोगकः।
तावज्जन्मानि कर्माणि क्षुत्पिपासादिकानि च॥२०॥

Because the grief, the pain, the ailment, the deeds, the birth, hunger and thirst are painful to a person till such time they do not have a glance at your lotus-like feet. O lord, you happen to be the killer of the time, the creator and the destroyer also.

यावत्त्वत्पादपद्मस्य भजनं नास्ति दर्शनम्।
हे कालकाल भगवन्स्रष्टुः संहर्तुरीश्वर॥२१॥
कृपां कुरु कृपानाथ मायामोहनिकृन्तन।
इत्युक्त्वा साश्रुनेत्रा सा क्रोडे कृत्वा हरिं पुनः स्वस्तनं पाययामास प्रेम्णा च देवकी यथा॥२२॥

O compassionate one, you destroy the illusion, you be graceful on us. Thus speaking the eyes of the wife of the teacher were filled with tears, she took the lord in her lap and started suckling him from the breasts like Devakī.

श्रीकृष्ण उवाच

मातस्त्वं मां कथं स्तौषि बालं दुग्धमुखं सुतम्।
गच्छ गोलोकमिष्टं च स्वामिना सह सांप्रतम्॥२३॥
त्यक्त्वा प्राकृतिकं मिथ्या नश्वरं च कलेवरम्।
विधाय निर्मलं देहं जन्ममृत्युजराहरम्॥२४॥

Śrī Kṛṣṇa said- O mother, why do you offer a prayer to an infant like me? This body is all falsehood and perishable, you take to divine form which is free from the birth, death, old age and. proceed to Goloka with your husband.

इत्युक्त्वा चतुरो वेदान्पठित्वा मुनिपुंगवात्।
मासेन परया भक्त्या दत्त्वा पुत्रं मृतं पुरा॥२५॥
रत्नानां च त्रिलक्षं च मणीनां पञ्चलक्षणम्।
हीरकाणां चतुर्लक्षं मुक्तानां पञ्चलक्षकम्॥२६॥
माणिक्यानां द्विलक्षं च वस्त्रं त्रैलोक्यदुर्लभम्।
हारं च दुर्गया दत्तं हस्तरत्नाङ्गुलीयकम्॥२७॥
दशकोटिं सुवर्णानां गुरवे दक्षिणां ददौ।
अमूल्यरत्ननिर्माणं नारीसर्वाङ्गभूषणम्॥२८॥
गुरुप्रियायै प्रददौ वह्निशुद्धांशुकं वरम्।
मुनिर्दत्त्वा च पुत्राय तत्सर्वं प्रियया सह॥२९॥

सद्रत्नरथमारुह्य ययौ गोलोकमुत्तमम्।
तमद्‌भूतं हरिं दृष्ट्वा प्रययौ स्वालयं मुदा॥३०॥

Thus Śrī Kṛṣṇa attained all the knowledge from Sāndīpani including the four Vedas in a months time, restored his dead son to him. He then gave away three lakhs of gems, five lakhs of rubies, four lakhs of diamonds, five lakhs of jewels, two lakhs of rubies and three lakhs of inaccessible divine garments, the garland given to him by goddess Durgā, the finger ring and ten crores of gold coins to the teacher. Thereafter, the best of the ornaments for all the limbs of the ladies and the costumes sanctified by fire were offered to the wife of the teacher, then Sāndīpani handed over all the costumes and ornaments to his son and mounting on the divine chariot proceeded to Goloka. Witnessing this supreme lord Hari also reverted to his abode.

एवं ब्रह्मण्यदेवस्य चरित्रं शृणु नारद।
इदं स्तोत्रं महापुण्यं यः पठेद्भक्तिपूर्वकम्॥३१॥
श्रीकृष्णे निश्चलां भक्तिं लभते नात्र संशयः।
अस्पष्टकीर्तिः सुयशा मूर्खो भवति पण्डितः॥३२॥
इह लोके सुखं प्राप्य यात्यन्ते श्रीहरेः पदम्।
तत्र नित्यं हरेर्दास्यं लभते नात्र संशयः॥३३॥

O Nārada, you listen to the other stories of the lord. whosoever would recite this auspicious stotra would achieve the infallible devotion of lord Kṛṣṇa. There is no doubt about it. With the influence of the same stotra a person without separation would achieve the best of reputation and a foolish would become a learned one. Enjoying all the pleasures he would achieve the abode of the lord where he would attain the slavehood of lord Hari. There is no doubt about it.

Nārāyaṇa said- Kṛṣṇa together with Balarāma returned to Mathurā and offered his salutation to his father and seated under the banyan tree he summoned gracefully, Garuḍa, ocean of milk and Viśvakarmā. Thereafter discarding the costumes of cowherds, he clad himself in the royal garments. In the meantime the Sudarśana-cakra also arrived before the lord having the lustre of the crores of suns. it was illustrious like Hari himself, destroyer of the enemies, infallible and was the best of all the weapons. Mounting on the gem-studded chariot the lord, Viśvakarmā, together with his pupils and the ocean feeling panicky, bowed before the lord in reverence. Thereafter the all-pervading lord spoke to them smilingly.

Śrī Kṛṣṇa said- O Viśvakarmā, you build a charming city spread over an area of a hundred yojanas, having the puppets made of rubies, emeralds, the best of sapphire, charming Pāribhadra, Palaṅka, celebrated jewels, sulphur, gālima, moon stone, sun-stone and crystal. They should have the shades like yellow, dark, white, blue like the seeds of pomegranate, yellow gorocana, like the seed as lotus flower, like blue lotuses, the collyrium, white campaka flower, shining like molten gold, hundred times more valuable than the gold, slightly red, most beautiful, heavy, the best of all and city should be built with the best of gems according to the signs of architecture, more or less, according to various designs. Till such time you build the city, the Yakṣas will bring the gems from Himālaya throughout the day and night. The seven lakhs of Yakṣas will be deputed by Kubera, a lakh of Vetālas and a lakh of kūṣmāṇḍas by Śiva, Dānavas by Pārvatī the daughter of Himālaya beside the Brahmarākṣasas would assist you in the construction work.

The tree bestows welfare all round. In case a mango tree is planted to the east of the house, the householder achieves enough of riches and it bestows welfare everywhere. O divine architect, the trees of wood-apple, jack-fruit, the lemon and jujubi, if planted on the eastern side, they bestow sons to the householder and in case they are planted on the southern side, the householder gets the riches all the times, The prosperity of householder increases with them.

O architect, thus I have spoken to you about the auspicious trees now you listen to the inauspicious trees. The wild tree should neither be planted in a city nor in an āśrama. The banyan tree should not be planted in a camp where the danger of thieves always remains. But in the big cities, the banyan tree is quite popular. The very sight of this tree showers merit on the people.

निषिद्धः शाभूलिश्चैव शिबिरे नगरे पुरे।
दुःखप्रदश्च सततं भूमिपानां सदाऽपि च॥४५॥

In the āśrama cities and the villages, the plant of the cotton tree is totally prohibited. It causes misfortune to the king.

O architect, the planting of tamarind tree should be planted in the villages but should never be planted in the camps. It destroys learnings and intelligence and creates pain. with the planting of this tree, the people have to loose the riches. Therefore one should carefully escape from the same.

शिबिरेऽतिनिषिद्धश्च नगरे किंचिदेव च।
न निषिद्धः प्रसिद्धश्च ग्रामेषु नगरेषु च॥४८॥

The planting of the tamarind in an āśrama is strictly prohibited and its plantation is restricted. In the towns and villages its plantation is not prohibited but it is quite popular.

विद्यामतिनिषिद्धाश्च प्राज्ञस्तं परिवर्जयेत्।
खर्जूरश्च गहुश्चैव निषिद्धः शिबिरे तथा॥४९॥

The planting of palm tree and the tree with thorns are strictly prohibited in the camp because they destroy the learning and the intelligence, therefore they should be kept as a distance.

न निषिद्धः प्रसिद्धश्च ग्रामेषु नगरेषु च।
वृक्षश्च चणकादीनां धान्यं च मङ्गलप्रदम्॥५०॥

In the cities as well as the villages the planting of cereals like grams is not prohibited but it is quite popular, the paddy is considered to be quite auspicious there.

ग्रामेषु नगरे चापि शिबिरे च तथैव च।
इक्षुवृक्षश्च शुभदः संततं शुभदस्तथा॥५१॥

In the villages as well as in the cities, beside, āśramas, the planting of sugar-cane is considered to be quite auspicious together with aśoka tree, sirisa and kadamba tree. The planting of turmeric, ginger, black myrobalan, as well as green myrobalan are quite auspicious and bestow welfare in the land of construction, the bone of an elephant is considered to be quite auspicious together with the bone of the horse belonging to the breed of Uccaiḥśravā.

It is quite beneficial, in case the water is available towards the north-east, west and the north of the camp.

दीर्घे प्रस्थे समानं च न कुर्यान्मन्दिरे बुधः।
चतुरस्रे गृहे कारो गृहिणां धननाशनम्।।५८।।

O architect the intellectual should keep the length and breadth of the house as equal. By constructing the house in a quadrangle, the house owner meets with his end.

दीर्घप्रस्थः परिमितो नेत्राङ्केनापि संहतम्।
शून्येन रहितं भद्रं शून्यं शून्यप्रदं नृणाम्।।५९।।

The length and breadth of the house after dividing it by two if is nothing is left, it is considered to be quite auspicious for the people.

प्रस्थे हस्तद्वयात्पूर्वं दीर्घे हस्तत्रयं तथा।
गृहाणां शुभदं द्वारं प्राकारस्य गृहस्य च।।६०।।

Two hands ahead of the width of the houses and three hands ahead and three hands beyond the length on the south, the door of the house as well as of the boundary walls is always considered to be auspicious.

A door should not be provided in the middle of the house. It is always auspicious to be kept a little this way that way. The square house is considered to be auspicious when provided with a Candra-vedha. But the auspicious house also becomes inauspicious when it has the Sūryavedha. Similarly the Sūryavedha court-yard is also inauspicious.

The one who sights the Tulasī plant in the morning, he earns the merit of giving away gold in charity. Towards the east and the south of the house, the plants of jasmine, mādhavī, ketakī, nāgeśvara, wood apple, thorn-apple, maulasirī and aparājitā are always considered to be auspicious. The garden of these plants is always considered to be auspicious. There is no doubt about it. A house-holder should not build a house having a height of more than sixteen hands and the boundary walls should not be more than twenty hands in height. An intelligent person should not make the carpenter and oil-men and the goldsmith to live in the centre of the city but the Brāhmaṇas, Kṣatriyas, Vaiśyas, Śūdras, the astrologer, the bards, the physicians and the gardener should always the made to live close to one's house. The camp should be surrounded by a moat having a length of hundred hands and ten hands in depth. This type of moat has been praised by all. The entrance gate of the moat should be indicative which should be comfortable for the movement of the people but should be inaccessible for the enemies. Except the wood of cotton tree, tamarind wild-palm, neem, sindhuvāra, the wild fig tree, wood-apple, banyan, castor oil tree, the wood of all other trees could be used for the construction purpose. The king should not touch the wood vajra-hasta, otherwise one faces the destruction of the son, the wife and the riches. This has been ordained by Brahma, O son I have spoken all this for the information of the people, now you go with pleasure and construct the city without wood. This is the most auspicious time to start the construction work. Viśvakarmā them bowed in reverence to the lord and left the place with Garuḍa.

Nārāyaṇa said- In the meantime Brahmā, Śiva with Bhavāṇī, Ananta, Dharma Sūrya, Agni,

Kubera, Varuṇa, Vāyu, Yama, Mahendra, the moon, eleven Rudras, several gods and sages, seven Vasus, twelve Ādityas, Daityas, Gandharvas and Kinnaras arrived in the city of Kṛṣṇa and Balabhadra to have a view of the same passing by the charming banyan tree. They spotted lord Kṛṣṇa there. The gods who were moving over their planes arrived there and started adoring the lord.

There were Sarvatobhadra style of structures and three lakhs of flower orchards, the fragrant cool breeze was blowing, the wind scented with the sandal-paste was blowing delightfully. There hundreds crores the coconut trees decorating the city. The number of betel-nut trees was four times the number of the coconut tree. The number of mango trees was four-times the number of betel-nut trees, the number of jack-fruit trees was equivalent to the number of mango trees and the city was decorated from all the sides, The number, of tāla trees was the same as the number of mango trees. There were large number of pīpala, jujubi, wood-apple, myrobalan, banyan, silk cotton, trees silk-fruit tree and kadamba trees in the city besides the trees of bamboo, tamarind, campā, maulasirī, nāgakesara, lemon, orange, pomegranate, palm and Arjuna trees, beside piṣṭaka, sugar-cane, deciduous tree, harītakī and myrobalan trees. Beside them, there were enough of sāla, Buchanania latifolia, śirīṣa, saptaparṇa and several other trees in the city also there.

The city of Dvārakā had innumerable high palaces. All these were built with the best of gems in which the jewels, diamonds and other precious stones were studded. It had several vases made of gems. The steps also were made of gems, they had very strong doors with shutters. There were several pillars of rubies. The court-yards were decorated with sapphire and emeralds, the street were decorated with gems. The roads were quite white, the entire city of Dvārakā was shining like the mid-day sun of the summer season. There were lakhs of window and horse stables, all the gods felt surprised while looking at the city of Dvārakā. Śrī Kṛṣṇa with a delightful mind together with Balarāma and other respectable persons of the race of Yadu including Ugrasena, Vasudeva, Devakī, mothers of Pāṇḍavas, Nanda, Yaśodā, cowherds besides the kings and the sages, Gandharvas and Kinnaras entered the city.

Śrī Kṛṣṇa said- All the people who have arrived here will return only after completion of the auspicious festivities. O king, you enter the city gate of Dvārakā in the Māhendra muhūrta together with the mothers, fathers and Yādavas. All other people of the race of Yadu should go back to Mathurā. At these Ugrasena felt terrified and said to him.

O Vāsudeva, I shall go back to my ancestral, land because it happens to be more auspicious that any other place for the performing of adoration of the gods and the manes. The one who does make the offering of the piṇḍas to the ancestors on the land and the fire, the ancestors destroy the performers and the śrāddha. The śrāddhas performed by such a person for the ancestors become fruitless or bear little fruit but such a performance when made at the ancestral place bears much fruit. The ancestors land is considered to be dearer than the son, grandson and wife. The inaccessible ancestral land is dearer than the parents. Therefore for performing the adoration of the gods and the ancestors, it is considered to be quite auspicious. whatever is playfully given there is considered, to be. The charity, the charity given by someone at some other place is considered to be inauspicious, when one dies at the ancestral-land one achieves great merit like dyeing at a holy place. O Hari, the water of the pool of the ancestral and is considered to be quite auspicious like the water of the Gaṅgā. By taking a bath there in that pool, one earns the merit of having a bath in the Gaṅgā. The adoration of the gods and offering of water (tarpaṇa) are considered to be quite auspicious. In case the birth place is an ancestral place the fruit of tarpaṇa and other performance is doubled.

Śrī Kṛṣṇa said- You have spoken the truth, who can stop the birth and the ancestors land is like a holy place but can that holy place be more important than the city of Dvārakā. The city of Dvārakā is the best of all and bestows great merit. with the entry of the people in Dvārakā they achiever mokṣa. O king, by giving away charities or by, performing śrāddha or the adoration of gods in Dvārakā, one achieves four times more the merit than taking a bath in Gaṅgā and other holy places.

You go to the royal palace together with Brahmā, gods and the sages beside the Yādavas and reside there. This city of Dvārakā puts Amarāvatī, the city of Indra to shame. O king, you enter the divine assembly named Sudharmā in the auspicious time of Māhendra. The people of Jambūdvīpa, the great kings, the courtiers and others would give you the taxes as the gods give to Indra. You conquer Kubera in riches, the sun in the lustre, Indra in fortunes, the gods in the battle, the sages in sacredness and the mendicants in tapas besides with vratas, you would excel the vratas (performers). There has been no king like Ugrasena nor would there any such king be in future. In his court the extremely valorous Balarāma is present over one of whose thousand heads, the entire globe is lodged like the sesamum seed in a windowing basket. There is no one else more valorous than Baladeva and there is no end to his virtues. This is the reason the people have given him the name of Ananta.

The eight Vasus, Rudras, without Śiva, the valorous twelve Ādityas and Indra together with all the gods would not be able to over-power Ugrasena. On hearing the words of Kṛṣṇa, the king started together with all Yādavas. He found his palace in the middle of Dvārakā shining with gems on the gates of which thousands of gods were deputed holding the staff and the trident in their hands. The camp was inside the six gates. There were palaces inlaid with hundreds of precious stones. The king found a crore of intoxicated elephants in the elephant-stable. The number of ordinary elephants ran to four crores. He found very strong horses in the horse-stable, the number of which was six times more than the elephants who could gallop with the speed of with the horse of the sun. O Nārada, the herd of those elephants was superior than all the vehicles of Indra and were jeering at Airāvata. The king then came across the horses of very high breed of Uccaiśarvā. Thereafter there were ten crores of donkeys and the number of foot soldiers was six times more than the same, there were five lakhs of chariots built with the best of gems and an equal number of charioteers. The number of horses was six times more then the cavalry men. The king also witnesses the assembly named Sudharmā.

The assembly which was quite charming to look at, accommodated the gods and the sages. The assembly was issuing lustre like the fire. It had enough of silken clothes of red and yellow colours, besides the lion thrones. It was decorated with the lines of invaluable gems and was surrounded by a hundred crores of disciplined soldiers. At the time of entering into beautiful assembly hall, the conches were blown and drums were beaten. The sages recited the Vedic hymns. Finding the kings arrival, Kṛṣṇa and Balarāma got up from their seats.

Brahmā, Śiva, Śeṣa, the ascetics, the best of the gods also stood up. All the kings and the siddhas together with Vasudeva also stood up. Thereafter valorous Ugrasena with the permission of Indra, the sages, lord Kṛṣṇa, the gods and the teacher, also took his seat. O

Nārada, the coronation of the king was completed with the reciting of the hymns from the Vedas and pouring water from the seven holy places. The king was then offered the two divine garments sanctified by fire which were presented by Varuṇa to Kṛṣṇa.

The seven attendants started serving him moving the white fly-whisks, Akrūra with the permission of Śrī Kṛṣṇa held chatra on the head of the king. The king while seated on the gem-studded lion throne looked at the mirror which could be achieved by performing several good deeds. Thereafter, Śrī Kṛṣṇa offered a present. The Bhāṭa then started praising the king while the Brāhmaṇas, the gods and the sages showered their blessings on him. The king distributed with great devotion, crores of diamonds, together with the bhāṭas and the beggars, all the people of the race of Yadu after attending the coronation of the king adored the gods. The sages, Brāhmaṇa, the bhāṭas, the beggars and the teachers went back to their respective abodes. All the attendants of Kṛṣ ṇa also went back to their respective abodes. The next morning all of them came to attend the court named Sudharmā. In the assembly they bowed before the king and took their seats.

Arrangement for the Marriage of Rukmiṇī

नारायण उवाच

अथ वैदर्भराजेन्द्रो महाबलपराक्रम्।

राजा नारायणांशश्च दाता च सर्वसंपदाम्।
धर्मिष्ठश्च गरीयांश्च वरिष्ठश्चापि पूजित:।।२।।

Nārāyaṇa said- The king Bhīṣmaka was possessing immense prowess and was quite noble and truthful king of Vidarbha country. He was born of the aṁśa of Viṣṇu and was the bestower of all riches, quite religious, the best and was quite adorable.

He had a daughter named Rukmiṇī who had the form of Mahālakṣmī. She was the best of the damsels, extremely beautiful, charming, quite passionate, adored by the damsels, quite youthful, adorned with all the gem-studded ornaments, having the complexion of molten gold, illumining, chaste, the form of auspicious tattva truthful, pious, peaceful, well disciplined and possessed all the qualities.

The goddesses like Indrāṇī, Varuṇānī, the spouse of moon Rohiṇī, the spouse of Kubera, Svāhā the spouse of Sūrya, Śāntā, Kalāvatī and all other beautiful woman did not compare to even one-sixteenth part of Rukmiṇī the daughter of Bhīṣmaka.

The king Bhīṣmaka witnessed his daughter engaged in sport like the ray of the moon with the other girls, she possessed the lustre of the full moon of the winter season, her eyes were like the lotus flower of the winter season. She became youthful and fit for marriage. She was filled with shyness, humility and was quite chaste. Having a look at her the religious king who performed all the best of the vratas felt worried. He then consulted his daughter, the sons and the family priest.

भीष्मक उवाच

कं वृणोमि सुतार्थं च वरार्हं प्रवरं वरम्।
मुनिपुत्रं देवपुत्रं राजेन्द्रसुतमीप्सितम्।।११।।

Bhīṣmaka said- I would like to have a suitable groom for my daughter. Whom should I select, whether, he should be a prince or the son of great king?

विवाहयोग्या कन्या मे वर्धमाना मनोहरा।

My growing daughter has achieved the age of puberty, therefore a groom for her should be searched immediately. Such a groom should be quite young, the religious minded, truthful, devoted to Viṣṇu, well-versed in the Vedas and post-Vedic literature, an, intelligent one, beautiful, pious, peaceful, large hearted should believe in forgiveness, all virtuous, having long life and the one having been born in the high race and well-known everywhere.

करोषि राजपुत्रं चेद्रणशास्त्रविशारदम्।
महारथं प्रतापार्हं रणमूर्ध्नि च सुस्थिरम्।।१५।।

In case a prince is selected then he should be well-versed in the treatises on welfare, a great charioteer, glorious and the one who should be able to face the war courageously.

In case the son of the god is selected then he should be all virtuous. In case the son of an ascetic is selected then he should be well-versed in all the four Vedas, the best orator, a deep thinker and should be the one following all the principles. On listening to the words of the king, Śatānanda, the son of Gautama who was well-versed in the Vedas and never spoke anything otherwise, the best of orators, well-read, quite a religious one, the family priest and the one who know all the tattvas on earth and was quite efficient in performing all the deeds, spoke to the king.

शतानन्द उवाच

Śatānanda said- O king, you are well-versed in all the religious practices and the religious scriptures, I am going to narrate to you and old story of the Vedas which you kindly listen.

Nārāyaṇa himself has incarnated on earth in order to relieve her of the burden. O lord, the son of Vasudeva complete in all respect, is the creator of Brahmā, adored by Śiva, Ananta and others, the form of eternal flame, the best of all, the one who takes to human form for the sake of his devotees, the soul of all the creatures, beyond Prakṛti, unattached, uninvolved and the witness of all the deeds.

O king, this relationship has already been ordained by Brahmā, therefore, you send a Brāhmaṇa to Dvārakā to meet Kṛṣṇa in this connection quite expeditiously. After consulting all, settling, about the auspicious time, you call for Kṛṣṇa the supreme soul, who has taken to human form in order to grace his devotees. O king, at the mere sight of Kṛṣṇa, the deeds of the human being performed during the past birth get destroyed.

The supreme soul who is adored by all the Vedas, the sages, the gods, the siddhas, the mendicant and Brahmā do not know him truly, the one who is adored by the great yogīs with deep meditation but are unable to achieve him. By reciting whose glory even Sarasvatī becomes dumb. Even the Vedas, scriptures, Śeṣa with hundred hoods, Śiva with five face, Brahmā with four faces, Kārttikeya with six faces, the sages, devotees and the Vaiṣṇavas are unable to recite his glory and are unable to achieve him. He is beyond the yogīs and the siddhas. O king, what can I speak about his qualities, being merely a boy? On hearing the words of Śatānanda, the face of the king became delightful, he stood up with force and embraced the Brāhmaṇa. The king then with the delightful mind presented him with elephants, horses, the best of chariot studded with gems, the charming lion throne, enough of riches and the land which produced several types of cereals remained wet with the rain water and producer enough of cereals when ploughed. He therefore gave away in charities several villages with cultivative lands. In the meantime, Rukmī the son of the king felt enraged since he was quite irreligious, he started trembling, his face and eyes became red. Becoming unstable, he stood before all the members present there and spoke to his father as well as the Brāhmaṇa.

रुक्मिरुवाच

Because the words of the dancers, the Vaiśyas, bards, the beggars, kāyasthas and the beggars are always full of falsehood. The words of messengers, a actors, lustful, passionate, pauper and the foolish are always filled with sycophancy.

I am competent enough to over-power Indra in a movement with his entire army. O king, by conquering Jarāsandha in the battle-fields Kṛṣṇa has become arrogant and considers himself quite valorous by means of his own intelligence. In case he passes through my village for the purpose of marriage then I will surely dispatch him to the abode of Yama. You intend to give away Rukmiṇī in marriage at the instance of the beggar Brāhmaṇa, to Kṛṣṇa the son of Nanda the cowherd, who got his cows grazed by him, he is the one who is the lover of the cowherdesses and used to eat the left-over of the cowherds. O great king, you are devoid of wisdom because you want to act on the advise of a weal person. Kṛṣṇa is neither a prince nor a valorous one or born in a spotless family. He is neither auspicious nor the giver of charity, nor a rich person or well disciplined.

After listening to the words of Rukmī, the king consulted in secrecy the family priest, he than sent a competent Brāhmaṇa to Dvārakā and keeping in view the auspicious time, the king arranged for the festivities. as desired by his son the king despatched invitation letters to several places. The Brāhmaṇa presented the welfare letter to the king who was seated in the assembly of the kings and gods, named Sudharmā. Coming to know about the welfare letter, the face of the king was delighted. He delightfully gave away to the Brāhmaṇas a thousand gold coins.

The big drums were beaten in the whole of Dvārakā, the gods, the sages, the kings, the relatives, the bards, the beggars were served with food with devotion. Śrī Kṛṣṇa was clad in the best of garments which were quite charming and incomparable in the three worlds. Thereafter the marriage procession was taken but to be the best is the three worlds. During the marriage procession the hymns from the Vedas were recited, starting in the Māhendra-yoga. Brahmā together with Sāvitrī were mounted on a chariots and moved ahead of all. The delightful Śiva with Pārvatī also moved on the chariot, followed by Ananta, Śeṣa, Sūrya, Gaṇeśa, Kārttikeya, Indra, the Moon, Varuṇa, Vāyu, Kubera, Yama, Agni and Īśāna.

Nārāyaṇa said- In the meantime the valorous king, Kakudmī arrived from Brahmaloka in search for a suitable groom for his daughter. He gave away in marriage his daughter named Revatī who possessed beauty unequal in the three worlds, adorned with all the ornaments, having quite a youthful body to Baladeva quite playfully. She was born in Satyayuga and had seen twenty seven yugas.

दत्त्वा कन्यां विधानेन मुनिदेवेन्द्रसंसदि।

He gave away his daughter in marriage to Balarāma in the presence of the sages, gods and Indra and also gave away three lakhs of elephant in dowry. The dowry included ten lakhs of horses, a lakh of chariots, a lakh of slave-girls adorned with the gem-studded ornaments, a lakh of diamonds, a lakh of gems, a crores of gold coins, beautiful costumes sanctified by fire, the jewels, rubies and other diamonds. The king Kakudmī handing on his daughter Revatī in marriage to Balarāma mounted on a gem-studded chariot and went back to Kuṇḍinapura.

After the completion of the marriage, Devakī, Rohiṇī, Yaśodā, Aditi, Diti entered the house together with Revatī who was born out of the aṁśa of Lakṣmī.

ब्राह्मणान्भोजयामास ददौ तेभ्यो धनं मुदा।
मङ्गलं कारयामास वसुदेवस्य वल्लभा।।१०।।

Devakī the spouse of Vasudeva served the Brāhmaṇas with food and the riches, performing the welfare ceremony.

अथ देवाश्च मुनयो राजेन्द्र: कटकै: सह।
संप्रापुर्लीलामात्रेण कुण्डिनं नगरं मुदा।।११।।

Thereafter the gods, the sages, the king with their armies delightfully reached the city of Kuṇḍinapura.

ददृशुर्नगरं सर्वे ह्यतीव सुमनोहरम्।

रक्षितं रक्षकै: सार्धं चतुर्भिश्च महारथै:।।१४।।

Everybody found the city to be quite beautiful which was surrounded by seven deep moats and seven boundary walls with hundred gates. Viśvakarmā had built the outer gate of the city with various gems and jewels which was witnessed by all the people of the marriage party. The gate was guarded by four great warriors.

रुक्मिश्च शिशुपालश्च दन्तवक्त्रो महाबली।
शाल्वो मायाविनां श्रेष्ठो युद्धशास्त्रविशारद:।।१५।।
नानाशास्त्रैस्तथाऽस्त्रैश्च रथस्थश्च रणोन्मुख:।
विलोक्य कृष्णसैन्यं च चुकोप नृपनन्दन:।।१६।।
उवाच निष्ठुरं वाक्यं श्रुतितीक्ष्णं सुदुष्करम्।
उपहास्य मुनीन्द्रांश्च देवांश्च मुनिपुंगवान्।।१७।।

The four warriors guarding the gate included Rukmī, Śiśupāla, valorous Dantavaktra and Śālva who was well-versed in the warfare as well as illusion, the prince Rukmī was anxious for a war holding all the weapons. He was enraged finding the army of Kṛṣṇa and then hearing at the gods and the sages, he spoke aloud harsh words. which were echoed in the sky.

रुक्मिरुवाच

अहो कालकृतं कर्म दैवं च केन वार्यते।
किंवाऽहं कथयिष्यामि देवेन्द्राणां च संसदि।।१८।।

Rukmī said- The deeds performed at a time or the moves of the destiny cannot be stopped by anyone otherwise what to speak in the assembly of the gods.

ग्रहीतुं रुक्मिणीं कन्यां देवयोग्यां मनोहराम्।
आयाति देवैर्मुनिभिर्नन्दस्य पशुरक्षक:।।१९।।

In order to marry Rukmiṇī, the beautiful damsel who is suitable for the gods, a cowherds son of Nanda is arriving with the sages.

साक्षाज्जारश्च गोपीनां गोपोच्छिष्टान्नभोजन:।
जातेश्च निर्णयो नास्ति भक्ष्यमैथुनयोस्तथा।।२०।।

The cowherds is the lover of the cowherdesses and consumes always the left-over of the cowherds, his caste is unknown nor does he know anything about the food or the love-making.

किं न राजेन्द्रपुत्रश्च किं नु वा मुनिपुत्रक:।
वसुदेव: क्षत्रियश्च भक्षणं वैश्यमन्दिरे।।२१।।

He is neither the son of a king nor a sage, he was born of Vasudeva, Kṣatriya and was brought up by a Vaiśya.

शिशुकाले च स्त्रीहत्या कृताऽनेन दुरात्मना।
कुब्जा मृता च संभोगाद्वाससा रजको मृत:।।२२।।

The wicked person killed a woman during his childhood. By enjoying the conjugal pleasures with him Kubjā died, together with the washerman.

राजेन्द्रस्य वधे दुष्टो ब्रह्महत्यां लभेद्ध्रुवम्।
मथुरायां च धर्मिष्ठ: सद्य: कंसो निपातित:।।२३।।

By killing a king one earns Brahmahatyā and this Kṛṣṇa killed the religious king Kaṁsa in Mathurā.

शाल्व उवाच

यदुक्तं रुक्मिणा देवा: किमसत्यं च तत्र वै।
को वाऽयं रुक्मिणीभर्ता नन्दस्य पशुरक्षक:।।२४।।

Śālva said- O god. there is nothing untrue in whatever has been spoken by Rukmī, how can the cowherd of Nanda become the husband of Rukmiṇī.

शिशुपाल उवाच

अहो भुवि किमाश्चर्यं देवा ब्रह्मादयस्तथा।
मुनीन्द्रा ब्रह्मण: पुत्राश्चाऽऽययुर्मानवाज्ञया।।२५।।

Śiśupāla said- what more surprise could be there in the universe that Brahma and other gods; and the sons to Brahma have arrived here at the command of a human being.

दन्तवक्त्र उवाच

Dantavaktra said- A Brāhmaṇa is always greedy and the gods are always graceful to the devotees but why have the sons of Brahmā arrived here at the command of the son of Nanda? On hearing the words of these people, all the gods, the sages and the kings besides Balarāma were enraged.

Chapter - 107

Subjugation of Śālva by Balabhadra and the stotra recited by Bhīṣmaka

नारायण उवाच

अथ कोपपरीतश्च बलदेवो महाबलः।
हलेन रुक्मियानं च बभञ्ज मुनिपुंगव॥१॥

Nārāyaṇa said- O sage thereafter, the valorous Baladeva broke the chariot of Rukmī with the plough.

घोटकान्सारथिं चैव निहत्य जगतीपतिः।
भूमिष्ठं चापि पापिष्ठं रुक्मिं हन्तुं जगाम सः॥२॥
रुक्मी च शरजालेन वारयामास लीलया।
नागास्त्रं योजयामास बद्धुं हलिनमीश्वरम्॥३॥

The valorous Baladeva who happened to be the lord of the universe after breaking to pieces, the chariot and the horses besides the charioteer of Rukmī, rushed towards him in order to kill him. Rukmī on his part prevented the advance of Balarāma by shooting a number of arrows and thought of capturing Balarāma with the use of Nāgāstra.

नागास्त्रं गारुडेनैव संजहार हली स्वयम्।
जग्राह कोपादुक्मी च परं पाशुपतं मुने॥४॥
अव्यर्थं वैरिमर्दं च शतसूर्यसमप्रभम्।
अभितो हलिना रुक्मी जृम्भणास्त्रेण जृम्भितः॥५॥

Balabhadra himself shot Garuḍāstra in order to destroy the Nāgāstra. O sage, in rage Rukmī took out the Pāśupata weapon on which could not be infructuous, destroyed the enemies and was illustrious like hundreds of suns. But Baladeva surrounded Rukmī with Jṛmbhāstra and he started having a deep sigh .

भूमिष्ठः स्थाणुमद्रुक्मी निद्रास्त्रेणैव निद्रितः।
शाल्वस्तं निद्रितं दृष्ट्वा शतबाणान्मुमोच तम्॥६॥
शैलवृष्टिं शिलावृष्टिं जलवृष्टिं चकार सः।
ज्वलदङ्गारवृष्टिं च शरवृष्टिं चकार ह॥७॥

Rukmī was than over-powered with sleep and fell down on earth. Śālva on the other hand finding him sleepy, shot a hundred arrows at Baladeva, showered mountains and rocks besides water and fire-flames.

बलाच्चास्त्रेण सर्वाणि वारयामास लाङ्गली।
हलेन तद्रथं चूर्णं चकार रणमध्यतः॥८॥

But Balarāma on his part neutralised all of them with the use of his weapon and with the striking of the plough, he reduced the chariot of Śālva into pieces.

घोटकान्सारथिं चैव जघान चैव लीलया।
कोपाद्बलेन तं हन्तुं वाग्बभूवाशरीरिणी॥९॥
त्यज शाल्वं कृष्णवध्यं तव किं पौरुषं रणे।
यस्य मूर्ध्नि च ब्रह्माण्डं शूर्पे च सर्षपं यथा॥१०॥

He killed his horses and the chariot also play fully, he then rushed towards him with the intention of killing him. But there was a divine voice from the sky, saying, "You forgive Śālva because he is to be killed by Kṛṣṇa alone. Who can described your prowess in the battle-field on whose head the entire globe rests like a seed of sesamum in a winnowing basket.".

तच्छ्रुत्वा बलदेवश्च हलेन तस्य मस्तकम्।
चकार चूर्णं व्यथितः पपात रणमूर्धनि॥११॥
शाल्वस्य पतनं दृष्ट्वा शिशुपालो महाबली।
चकार शरवृष्टिं च जलवृष्टिं यथा भुवि॥१२॥
हली तस्य रथं चूर्णं चकार लाङ्गलेन च।
अर्धचन्द्रेण तद्बाणान्वारयामास लीलया॥१३॥

On hearing this, Baladeva struck him on the head with his plough as a result of which he fell in the battle-field. Finding that Śālva had fallen, Śiśupāla showered his arrows like the showering of the water on the ground. Balarāma on his part reduced his chariots into pieces.

तं हन्तुं शंकरः साक्षान्निषेधं च चकार तम्।
कृष्णवध्यं त्यज बल पार्षदप्रवरं हरेः॥१४॥

Śiva himself stopped Balarāma from killing him saying, "O Balabhadra, don't kill Śiśupāla, the best of the courtier of Viṣṇu because he is destined to be killed by Kṛṣṇa himself.".

दन्तवक्त्रस्य दन्तं च बभञ्ज स हलेन च।
सुप्रवृत्तस्य युद्धेन ते सर्वे जहसुश्च तम्॥१५॥

Balarāma broke the teeth of Dantavaktra with the striking of the plough because he was jeering at all the people.

बलस्य विक्रमं दृष्ट्वा सर्वे वीराः पलायिताः।
चक्रः प्रवेशनं सर्वे कुण्डिनं वरयात्रिकाः॥१६॥

Witnessing the prowess of Balarāma, all the warriors fled away. Thereafter the marriage party entered Kuṇḍinapura.

एतस्मिन्नन्तरे तत्र शतानन्दो महामुनिः।
कोटिभिर्मुनिभिः सार्धमाजगाम हरेः पुरः॥१७॥

In the meantime the great sage Śatānanda arrived before Kṛṣṇa together with crores of sages.

देवकन्या नागकन्या राजकन्यास्तथैव च।
मुनिकन्या वरं द्रष्टुं सस्मिताश्च समाययुः॥१९॥

He made the marriage party enter the inaccessible gate of the city which was inaccessible for the enemies but was quite pleasant for the friends. All the daughters of the gods, the Nāgas, the sages and the princesses arrived there to have a look at the groom.

Śiva smilingly delighted Kṛṣṇa and all the damsels stared Kṛṣṇa, who was adorned with the best of the gem-studded ornaments, was the lord of all, was graceful to the devotees and took to human form to grace them, having the complexion of new clouds, clad in yellow garments, whose body was plastered with the sandal-paste adorned with the long garland of forest flowers, wearing the armlets, wristlets and; garland of gems. His ears were adorned with a pair of ear-ornaments which decorated his temples, He worn anklets which produced dangling sound, having a smiling face, holding a flute in his hand, looking at the mirrors of gems, served by the white fly-whisks by the seven cowherd attendants, having been a youthful body, the eyes resembling the lotus flowers of the winter season, the face resembling the full moon of the winter season, the one, who was graceful on his devotees, was beautiful like crores of the gods of love, the one who was eternal and spotless like the holy place, sanctified with his glory and adored by Brahmā, Śiva and Śeṣa, having a delightful mind and lustre of crores of moons, the one who could not be achieved even by meditation, could be adored at the time of misery, the one who is beyond Prakṛti, who is having the complexion of Dūrvā-grass holding the mirror made of gems and the silken cord, having the beauty of the blossoming banana tree, having the form of Trivikrama, adorned with the garland of jasmine flowers, holding flowers presented by a damsels. His head was adorned with a crown. Looking at such a fortunate groom, the ladies felt unconscious.

They started saying, "The life of Rukmiṇī is quite graceful, praise-worthy and desirable." The queen of Bhīṣmaka stared at her son-in-law continuously and felt extremely satisfied; his face and eyes were filled with delight. The king with a delightful face arrived with his courtiers and priest and bowed before the gods, the Brāhmaṇas and the kings offered them the appropriate seats; at the place filled with enough of food-stuffs; the demand of giving echoed through out the day and night. Vasudeva spent the night there with the gods and the relatives.

He was accompanied by the gods, the sages, the Brāhmaṇas, the priests close relatives, the parent's, the kings, cowherds, courtiers, friends, bards and the astrologers well-versed in the science of astrology. There were several people playing on the musical instruments besides dancers singers, artisans, the gardeners the Vidyādharis, apsarās and the kinnaris and others The gods, the sages, the kings who had arrived to witness the marriage looked at the place of the marriage delightfully which had thousand of the trunks of the banana trees tied with the silken cords. There were innumerable garlands of campaka flowers, the tender leaves of the sandalwood and mango trees besides several types of garlands of red, yellow and white flowers. There were a large number of Ghāṭa-pallavas decorating the place which were painted with kastūrī, sandal-paste, saffron, leaves, fried paddy, fruits, flowers and Dūrvā-grass. The place was surrounded by the Brāhmaṇas and the kings.

There was the goddess of the best of gem. The place was filled with the sandals-paste, kastūrī and saffron, issuing fragrance. The cool fragrant wind was blowing, thousands of lamps made of gems were burning there, the burning of several types of the incense and other scented materials were issuing fragrant; the auspicious architects had made various types of attractive paintings all around. The Gandharvas were engaged in beautiful music, the Vidyādharī and the dancers were dancing, the place was decorated with several of the paintings created by the artisans which attracted the people. The damsels were peeping through the windows and the secret gates. The king was holding kuśa-grass in his hand besides the pitcher of welfare. The learned priest was also present there. Brahma and other gods looked at the court-yard of the king. All of them delightfully descended from the chariots and entered the court-yard of the king. The kings, the demons, Sanaka and other sages arrived there. Lord Kṛṣṇa was also present there with his courtiers. Finding all the people there. Bhīṣmaka at once got up and offered his salutation to the gods, the sages, the kings, bowing his head. He then offered Individual gem-studded lion-throne to everyone for taking their seats. The king respectively adored all, offerings prayers to each one of them with devotion. He then started Vasudeva and Devakī getting emotional with his eyes filled with tears.

भीष्मक उवाच

अद्य मे सफलं जन्म जीवितं च सुजीवितम्।
बभूव जन्मकोटीनां कर्ममूलनिकृन्तनम्।।६६।।

Bhīṣmaka said- My life has met with success today and has been beautified; the fruit of crores of my birth has emerged.

The one who is the creator of the universe and is the bestower of all the riches, whose lotus-like feet are difficult to be seen eve n in dream, the one who bestows the reward for the tapas is the creator, the same lord is now present in my court-yard. It is not proper to enquire about the welfare from the one who roams himself into his own soul.

He is the one who is adored by the yogīs, the siddhas, the gods and the ascetics but is inaccessible to them, the same Śiva have arrived in my court-yard. The lord who happens to be the killer of the time, death for the god of the death, the one who has conquered the death and is the lord of death, the same lord is presently visible to all.

यज्ञय मूर्ध्नां सहस्रेषु मूर्ध्नि विश्वं चराचरम्।

मुनीनां वैष्णवानां च प्रवरो ज्ञानिनां गुरुः।
सनत्कुमारो भगवान्प्रत्यक्षः प्राङ्गणे मम॥७३॥

The one who is lovingly visible in all the desire, the one who is adored first of all and the one who is the best of all the gods, the same Gaṇeśa is present in my court-yard. The one who is the best of the sages and the Vaiṣṇavas, besides being the teacher of the intellectuals, the same Sanatkumāra is present in my court-yard.

ब्रह्मपुत्राश्च पौत्राश्च प्रपौत्राश्चापि वंशजाः।
ते सर्वे मदगृहेऽद्यैव ज्वलन्तो ब्रह्मतेजसा॥७४॥

The sons, grandsons, great grandsons and other descendants of Brahma are illumining with divine lustre. All of them have, presently arrived in my house.

तावत्पुष्करपत्रेषु पिबन्ति पितरो जलम्॥७७॥

My house has been turned into the holy place like the one at the end of the kalpa, with the water of whose feet, the holy places get sanctified, he is also available here. All the holy places of the earth and the ocean are lodged in the feet of the Brāhmaṇas; the earth remains wet with the water from the feet of the Brāhmaṇas. The ancestors sip the water from the leaves of the lotus flowers. They are all present in my house.

न हि स्थूलो महाविष्णोर्न सूक्ष्मं परमाणुतः॥८२॥

There is no place holier than Gaṅgā; there is no god greater then Hari, there is no devotee greater than Sanatkumāra, there is no tree greater than kalpavṛkṣa; there is no flower better than Pārijāta; there is no vrata greater than Harivāsara, there is no goddess greater than Prakṛti. There is no base greater than the wind, there is nothing more solid than Mahāviṣṇu and nothing is smaller than the atom.

न ब्राह्मणात्परः पूतो नाऽऽश्रमश्च न तीर्थकम्।
न देवो न परः कोऽपि चेत्याह कमलोद्भवः॥८३॥

There is no āśrama more sanctified than Brāhmaṇa, nor the holy place. Even the gods do not compare with them. This has been ordained by Brahma.

ब्रह्मविष्णुशिवादीनां प्रकृतेश्च परः प्रभुः।
ध्यानासाध्यो दुराराध्यो योगिनामपि निश्चितम्॥८४॥
निर्गुणश्च निराकारो भक्तानुग्रहविग्रहः।
स एव चक्षुषो नृणां साक्षाद्देवश्च मद्गृहे॥८५॥

The lord who is beyond Brahmā, Viṣṇu, Śeṣa or Prakṛti; the god who is inaccessible through meditation and could be achieved with great devotion and meditation. He is beyond quality invisible and takes to human form in order to bestow his grace on the devotees; all these gods are presently available in my house.

देवैर्ब्रह्मेशशेषैश्च ध्यातं यत्पादपङ्कजम्।
धनेशेन गणेशेन दिनेशेनापि दुर्लभम्॥८६॥

His inaccessible lotus-like feet are adored by Brahmā, Śiva, Ananta, Kubera, Gaṇeśa and Sūrya.

इत्युक्त्वा भीष्मक: कृष्णं समानीय स्वयं पुर:।
तुष्टाव सामवेदोक्तस्तोत्रेण परमेश्वरम्॥८७॥

Thus speaking Bhīṣmaka himself came and stood before Kṛṣṇa and praised him with the reciting of the stotra from Sāmaveda.

सर्वान्तरात्मा सर्वेषां साक्षी निर्लिप्त एव च।
कर्मिणां कर्मणामेव कारणानां च कारणम्॥८८॥

Bhīṣmaka said- You are the inner soul of everyone, the witness of all, unattached, the cause of the deeds and the cause of all the causes.

केचिद्वदन्ति त्वामेकं ज्योतिरूपं सनातनम्।
केचिच्च परमात्मानं जीवो यत्प्रतिबिम्बक:॥८९॥

Some of the people call you as the form of lustre and eternal while others call you as the supreme soul which is reflected in a human being.

केचित्प्राकृतिकं जीवं सगुणं भ्रान्तबुद्धय:।
केचिन्नित्यशरीरं च बुद्धा(धा)श्च सूक्ष्मबुद्धय:॥

The people of ordinary wisdom conceived you as the one having polity and Prākṛtika Jīva. The person with great wisdom conceive you as the one having the eternal body.

ज्योतिरभ्यन्तरे नित्यं देहरूपं सनातनम्।
कस्मात्तेज: प्रभवति साकारमीश्वरं विना॥९१॥

Some of the people conceive you as the internal light, eternal and having an ever-lasting body. Because without the visible lord the lustre cannot emerged.

मधुपर्कं च सुरभि सर्वाङ्गे गन्धचन्दनम्॥९३॥

O Nārada, thus praising the king sipped water and remembered lord Viṣṇu. Thereafter he offered water at the feet of the lord which are daily washed Lakṣmī. He then offered Dūrvā-grass, flowers and water together with arghya, madhuparka and sugar. He applied fragrant, sandal-paste on all the limbs.

यत्प्रदत्तं महेन्द्रेण शुभकर्मणि यौतुकम्।

The garland of Pārijāta flowers which was given to him by Indra, who offered by him to the lord adorning his neck.

कुबेरेण च यद्दत्तममूल्यरत्नभूषणम्।
चकार वरणं तस्य स राजा भक्तिपूर्वकम्॥९५॥

The beautiful ornament of gems offered to the king by Kubera, was offered with devotions by the king to the lord.

वह्निशुद्धांशुकयुगं यद्दत्तं वह्निना पुरा।

The two garments sanctified by fire which was given by Agni to the king in earlier times were offer to lord Kṛṣṇa

ज्वलितं रत्नमुकुटं यद्दत्तं विश्वकर्मणा।
ददौ तन्मस्तके राजा कृष्णस्य परमात्मन:॥९७॥

The shining gem-studded crown which was offered by Viśvakarmā, to the king was given by him to lord Kṛṣṇa, adorning his forehead.

धूपं रत्नप्रदीपं च नैवेद्यं सुमनोहरम्।
नानाप्रकारपुष्पं च रत्नसिंहासनं ददौ॥९८॥

कृताञ्जलिपुटो राजा तस्मै पुष्पाञ्जलिं ददौ॥१०१॥

The incense, the lamps of gems, tasteful naivedya and several types of flowers besides gem-studded lion throne were also offered to him. The water of seven holy places was given to the lord for sipping and a betel with camphor was also given to him. He was also given a charming bed which was quite appropriate for love-sport and the fragrant water was offered for drinking. Thus selecting Kṛṣṇa as the groom, the prayer was offered. The king then offered the bunch of flowers to Kṛṣṇa.

Nārāyaṇa said- In the meantime Rukmiṇī the form of Mahālakṣmī arrived in the court of the king together with the gods and the sages, she was seated on the gem-studded lion-throne. She was adorned with gem-studded ornaments and clad in the garments sanctified by fire. Her hair-do was looking quite charming; the chaste lady, wearing a smile on her face was looking at the invaluable gem-studded mirror. She had the spot of kastūrī over her forehead and her limbs were plastered with sandal-paste; the forehead was decorated with the spot of vermilion. She had the lustre of molten gold and she was shining like the lustre of the hundreds of moons. All her limbs were plastered with sandal-paste and she wore the garland of jasmine flowers. The seven princesses brought her in the court.

देवेन्द्राश्च मुनीन्द्राश्च सिद्धेन्द्रा नृपपुंगवा:।

All the yogīs, the gods, the sages, the siddhas and the kings had a glance of the chaste Rukmiṇī who was the form of Lakṣmī.

The chaste Rukmiṇī took seven rounds and bowed before her husband, she sprinkled cool water with the tender leaves, soaked in sandal-paste. Thereafter Kṛṣṇa also sprinkled water on his beloved who was smiling. At the auspicious time both the husband and the wife looked at each other.

अथ देवी पितु: क्रोडे समुवास शुभानना।

Rukmiṇī with the serene and smiling face was shining with her lustre and keeping her head downwards sat in the lap in her father.

O Nārada, the king with the reciting of the hymns from the Vedas handed over in marriage, his daughter to Kṛṣṇa.

वसुदेवाज्ञया कृष्ण: स्वस्तीत्युक्त्वा स्थितो मुदा।
जग्राह देवीं देवश्च भवानीं च भवो यथा॥११॥

Kṛṣṇa accepted the hand of Rukmiṇī with the permission of Vasudeva reciting the words Svasti. Lord Kṛṣṇa accepted Rukmiṇī in the same way and Śiva had accepted Pārvatī.

Festivities of the Marriage of Kṛṣṇa and Rukmiṇī

नारायण उवाच

एतस्मिन्नन्तरे राज्ञी रुक्मिणीजननी शुभा।
पतिपुत्रवतीभिश्च साध्वीभि: सहिता मुदा।।१।।
आगत्य मङ्गलं कृत्वा तत्र निर्मञ्छनादिकम्।
दंपती वेशयामास रत्ननिर्माणमन्दिरम्।।२।।
नानाचित्रविचित्राढ्यं हीरहारेण भूषितम्।
मुक्तामाणिक्यरत्नेन सुदीप्तं दर्पणेन च।।३।।

Nārāyaṇa said- In the meantime the queen mother of Rukmiṇī arrived with other chaste woman whose husbands and sons were alive to complete the welfare ceremonies. Both the bride and the groom were made to enter the palace made of gems. The palace was decorated with several types of diamonds, the garland of gems as well as the paintings. The sapphire emeralds and others gems besides the mirrors were shining.

ददर्श कृष्णस्तत्रैव दुर्गां दुर्गतिनाशिनीम्।
सरस्वतीं च सावित्रीं रतिं च रोहिणीं सतीम्।।४।।
देवपत्नीं राजपत्नीं मुनिपत्नीं पतिव्रताम्।
रत्नसिंहानस्थां च रत्नभूषणभूषिताम्।।५।।
उत्तस्थुराराद्दृष्ट्वा च श्रीकृष्णं जगतीपतिम्।
रत्नसिंहासने रम्ये वारयामास तां मुदा।।६।।
स्तुतिं चक्रुश्च देवाश्च मुनिपत्न्यश्च माधवम्।
पुटाञ्जलियुतास्तत्र क्रमेण च पृथक्पृथक्।।७।।
भोजयामास राज्ञी च वरेण सह कन्यकाम्।
सकर्पूरं सताम्बूलं प्रददौ वासितं जलम्।।८।।

Kṛṣṇa found that Durgā, the remover of misfortune, Sarasvatī, Sāvitrī, Rati, Rohiṇī, Satī, wives of the gods, Indra, the queen and the chaste wives of the sages were seated on the gem-studded lion thrones. All of them were adorned with gem-studded ornaments. At the entry of Śrī Kṛṣṇa into the palace, all the people stood up in reverence and made him sit on the charming lion throne. All the wives of the sages and the gods praised him individually. The queen served food to both the newlyweds and offered fragrant water and the betels with camphor.

दुर्गा कृष्णाय प्रददौ तत्र मङ्गलपत्रिकाम्।
सर्वासामाज्ञया देवी पठेति तमुवाच सा।।९।।
पपाठ पत्रिकां कृष्णो देवीसंसदि सस्मित:।

देव्यश्चैताश्च दंपत्यो: कुर्वन्तु मङ्गलं परम्।
पपाठ चेति कृष्णश्च शुश्रुवुर्जहसुश्च ता:।।१२।।

Durgā handed over to Kṛṣṇa the letter of welfare and with the permission of all, she asked him to read it out. In the courtyard of the goddess, Kṛṣṇa smiling read it. It said Lakṣmī, Sarasvatī, Durgā, Sāvitrī, Satī, Rādhikā, Tulasī, Pṛthvī, Gaṅgā, Arundhatī, Yamunā, Aditi, Śatarūpā, Sītā, Devahūti and Menakā bestow welfare upon the newly wedded couple. When Kṛṣṇa read it all the goddesses present there laughed aloud.

पार्वत्युवाच

रुक्मिणीं रुक्मिणीकान्त त्वां पश्यन्तीं च सस्मिताम्।
पश्य प्रौढां रूपवतीं सुन्दरीं नवयौवनाम्।।१३।।

Pārvatī said- "O beloved of Rukmiṇī, I look at you with a smiling face you look at the young, beautiful damsel named Rukmiṇī".

शच्युवाच

तव योग्या च युवती रत्नभूषणभूषिता।
त्वां प्रार्थयन्ती सुचिरमवमन्यान्यमीश्वरम्।।१४।।

Indrāṇī said- The one who had been desirous of you since long insulting other gods, this Rukmiṇī who is adorned with all the gem-studded ornaments is quite suitable for you.".

सावित्र्युवाच

यथा वरस्तथा कन्या विधिना योजिता पुरा।
विदग्धाया विदग्धेन सर्वत्र संगमः शुभः।।१५।।

Sāvitrī said- "Both the bride and the groom are equal and they were made for each other by the lord earlier. The union of the equals is always auspicious.".

रत्युवाच

ईश्वरेण परीहासं का वा कर्तुं क्षमा भुवि।
ध्यानासाध्यो दुराराध्यश्चावमन्यान्यमीश्वरम्।।१६।।

Rati said- "Who else is competent enough to cut jokes at the lord disregarding the other gods"?.

गायत्र्युवाच

यथा वरस्तथा कन्या च क्षुब्धे भैष्मके गृहे।।१७।।

Gāyatrī said- "In the house of Bhīṣmaka, with so much of hustle and bustle, the bride is equal to the groom".

रोहिण्युवाच

सत्यं ब्रूहि जगन्नाथ कामिनीनां च संसदि।
कीदृशी राधिका रम्या रुक्मिणी चापि कीदृशी।।

Rohiṇī said- "O lord of the universe, you speak out the truth in the assembly of the damsels as to how did you like Rādhikā in comparison to Rukmiṇī".

सरस्वत्युवाच

राधायां यादृशी प्रीति रुक्मिण्यां नैव तादृशी।
सा सङ्गिनी पूर्वकाले सर्वक्रीडासु वर्धिनी।।१९।।

Sarasvatī said- The love he had for Rādhā, cannot be had in Rukmiṇī. In the earlier times, she was always with him in all his sports and increased interested in sports.

प्राणाधिष्ठातृदेवी सा पञ्चप्राणाधिका सती।
रुक्मिणी कमला साक्षात्संपदामधिदेवता।।२०।।
सर्वशक्तिस्वरूपा च कृष्णस्य परमात्मनः।
बुद्धेरप्यधिदेवी च दुर्गा नारायणी परा।।२१।।
देवाधिष्ठातृदेवी त्वं सावित्री देवमातृका।
विद्याधिदेवताऽहं च ततोऽन्याश्च कलाकला:।।२२।।

She happens to be the goddess of his life, she is dearer to him than all the five prāṇas. Rukmiṇī happens to be an incarnation of Lakṣmī and the bestower of all the riches, Rādhā on the other hand happens to represents the entire prowess of lord Kṛṣṇa besides being the goddess of wisdom. Durgā, Nārāyaṇī, Pārvatī the great goddess of the gods, Sāvitrī the mother of the Vedas, Sarasvatī the goddess of learning and all other goddesses are only the rays of Rādhā.

न ब्रह्मणि शिवे शेषे गणेशे च दिनेश्वरे।
न भक्तेषु च पद्मायां न शिवायां च मय्यपि।।२३।।
प्रसादो यादृशस्तस्यामन्येषु च न तादृशः।
त्रैलोक्ये पृथिवी धन्या सुपुण्यं भारतं यतः।।२४।।
तत्र वृन्दावनं धपन्यं राधापादाब्जचिह्नितम्।
सर्वासामपि देवीनां राधा पुण्यवती सती।।२५।।
राधापादाब्जनखरे ददौ स्निग्धमलक्तकम्।
अयमेवमिति श्रुत्वा जहसुः सर्वयोषितः।।२६।।

Brahmā, Śeṣa, Ananta, Gaṇeśa, Sūrya, devotees, Lakṣmī, Pārvatī and myself do not enjoy the same grace of Kṛṣṇa was has been enjoyed by Rādhā. The earth is graceful of all the three lokas on which the land of Bhārata is located. Out of the land of Bhārata, Vṛndāvana is graceful, having the impression of the lotus-like feet of the Rādhā. Rādhā happens to be the most virtuous and auspicious of all the chaste ladies. "He is the one who painted the toes of Rādhā with paint." On hearing this all these damsels started laughing.

ध्यायन्ते दूरतः सर्वा राधा वक्षःस्थलस्थिता।
तस्माद्राधां नमस्कृत्य तुलनां मन्यते किल।।२७।।

The one who is adored by all the ladies from a distance, the heart of the same lord adores Rādhā who always remains present there. A comparison should thus be made keeping Rādhā in view.

सरस्वतीवचः श्रुत्वा सावित्री पार्वती सती।
अन्याश्च योषितः सर्वाः साध्वित्यूचुश्च संसदि।।२८।।

On hearing these words of Sarasvatī, Sāvitrī, Satī, Pārvatī and all other damsels spoke out in the assembly, "You have spoken out the truth".

लोपामुद्राऽनसूया चाप्यहल्याऽरुन्धती तथा।
सर्वास्ता मुनिपत्न्यश्च रभसं चक्रुरीश्वरम्॥२९॥

Lopāmudrā, Anusūyā, Ahalyā, Arundhatī and all the wives of the sages, felicitated lord Kṛṣṇa.

अथ देवांश्च भूपांश्च मुनीद्रांश्चापि भीष्मकः।
पूजयामास विधिना भोजयामास सादरम्॥३०॥

Thereafter the king Bhīṣmaka properly adored all the kings, the gods and the sages serving them food at the same time.

खाद्यतां खाद्यतां लोका दीयतां दीयतामिति।
शब्दो बभूव नगरे वाद्यसंगीतमङ्गलैः॥३१।

The sound of welfare music besides, "Eat more and give more", echoed in the sky.

अथ प्रभाते ब्रह्मेशशेषास्त्रिदशास्तथा।
यानमारोहणं भूपाश्चक्रिरे च त्वरान्विताः॥३२॥

After this, in the early morning Brahmā, Śiva, Ananta and the gods besides Vasudeva were mounted on the vehicles.

राजा महोग्रसेनश्च वसुदेवस्त्वरान्वितः।
कारयामास यात्रां च श्रीकृष्णं रुक्मिणीं सतीम्॥३३॥

The king Ugrasena and Vasudeva made Kṛṣṇa and Rukmiṇī to move on the journey.

सुभद्रां रुक्मिणीमाता कन्यां कृत्वा स्ववक्षसि।
रुरोदोच्चैस्तत्सखीभिर्बान्धवैरित्युवाच सा॥३४॥

Subhadrā the mother of Rukmiṇī embraced her daughter and then started crying in presence of her relatives and female friends.

सुभद्रोवाच

क्व यासि मां परित्यज्य वत्से मातरमीश्वरीम्।
कथं जीवामि त्वां त्यक्त्वा कथं त्वं वाऽपि जीवसि॥३५॥

Subhadrā said- O daughter, where are you going leaving alone the queen mother? How can I disown you? And how can you disown me?.

महालक्ष्मीर्मम गृहात्कन्यारूपा च मायया।
वसुदेवालयं यासि वासुदेवप्रिया सतीः॥३६॥

You had been born as my daughter with the illusion of Mahālakṣmī and you are leaving for the house of lord Kṛṣṇa, becoming his chaste wife, leaving from my house, go to the Vasudeva.

इत्युक्त्वा कन्यकां शोकात्सिषेव नेत्रजैर्जलैः।
भीष्मकः साश्रुनेत्रश्च कन्यां कृष्णे समर्प्य च॥३७॥
तं च कृत्वा परीहारं रुरोदोच्चैरतीव सः।
रुरोद रुक्मिणी देवी श्रीकृष्णश्चापि मायया॥३८॥

Thus speaking with her mind filled with grief, the mother soaked her daughters body with her tears. Bhīṣmaka on the other hand with his eyes filled with tears entrusted her daughter to Kṛṣṇa, begging forgiveness for any short coming, crying aloud at the same time. Rukmiṇī also started sobbing while Kṛṣṇa too also followed suit.

रथमारोपयामास वसुदेवः सुतं वधूम्।
एतस्मिन्नन्तरे राजा जामात्रे यौतुकं ददौ॥३९॥
गजेन्द्राणां सहस्रं च षड्गुणं च तुरंगमम्।

वसुदेवश्चोग्रसेनो देवैश्च मुनिभिः सह।
प्रहृष्टवदनः शीघ्रं द्वारकाभिमुखं ययौ॥४४॥

Vasudeva made the son and the daughter-in-law to mount the chariot. In the meantime the king gave away the dowry to his son-in-law which included a thousand elephants six time more the horses, a thousand slave girls, a hundred servants, a thousand gems, invaluable gem-studded ornaments, gracefully, beside five lakhs of coins of pure gold, the gold vases made by Viśvakarmā for taking food and a large number of cows delightfully. The number of calves of those cows was one thousand. He gave away beautiful costumes which were shining like the fire and were invaluable. Both Vasudeva and Ugrasena accompanied by the sages and the gods delightfully moved towards Dvārakā.

प्रविश्य स्वपुरीं रम्यां कारयामास मङ्गलम्।

Entering the city of Dvārakā the welfare ceremonies were performed and the musical instrument were played upon. Devakī, charming Rohiṇī, Yaśodā, the wife of Nanda, Aditi, Diti and the best of damsels looked at the charming Rukmiṇī and Kṛṣṇa again and again and then took them to their home, performing all the welfare ceremonies.

चतुर्विधं भोजयित्वा देवांश्च मुनिपुंगवान्।
नृपांश्च बान्धवांश्चैव परीहारं चकार च॥४८॥

Four types of dishes were served to the gods, the sages, the king, relatives and who begged forgiveness from them for any short coming.

भट्टेभ्यो ब्राह्मणेभ्योऽपि ददौ रत्नादिकं मुदा।
तांश्चापि भोजयामास परितुष्टांश्च सस्मितान्॥४९॥

The bards and the Brāhmaṇas were served with gems delightfully and happily served the food.

एवं भुक्त्वा धनं लब्ध्वा ययुः सर्वे गृहं मुदा।
मङ्गलं कारयामास वसुदेवस्य वल्लभा॥५०॥

Thus consuming the food all the people went back to their respective houses. Devakī the wife of Vasudeva then performed the welfare ceremony.

Conversation between Yaśodā and Rādhā

नारायण उवाच

आगतेषु गतेष्वेवं साङ्गे मङ्गलकर्मणि।
नन्दो यशोदया सार्धं पुत्राभ्याशं समाययौ।।१।।

Nārāyaṇa said- with the departure of all the guests who had arrived to attend the marriage ceremony Nanda and Yaśodā sat with their son.

यशोदोवाच

ज्ञानं च भवता दत्तं पित्रे नन्दाय माधव।
मां चापि मातरं वत्स कृपां कुरु कृपानिधे।।२।।

Yaśodā said- O Mādhava, you have bestowed the knowledge to your father Nanda, now, O ocean of mercy, you also be graceful to the mother like me.

मामुद्धर महाभाग धरोद्धारणकारण।
भवाब्धितरणे भीमे भीतां च पतितामपि।।३।।

I virtuous one, you redeem me also since you have arrived to rid the earth of her burden, you redeem a person like me who is terrified from the terrific ocean of the universe.

मायामयी सा प्रकृतिर्भवाब्धितरणे तरिः।
त्वमेव कर्णधारश्च भक्तोत्तीर्णे कृपामय।।४।।

The illusory Prakṛti serves as a boat to cross the ocean of the universe. O merciful one, you happen to be the boat-man or the sailor.

यशोदावचनं श्रुत्वा जहास पुरुषोत्तमः।
उवाच मातरं भक्त्या ज्ञानिनां च गुरोर्गुरुः।।५।।

On hearing the words of Yaśodā, Puruṣottama, the teacher of the great teachers and the intellectuals smiled and spoke to the mother with devotion.

श्रीभगवानुवाच

ज्ञानं योगात्मकं मातार्ज्ञानं च विषयात्मकम्।
ज्ञानं भक्त्यात्मकं श्रेष्ठं मद्दास्यकारणं शुभम्।।६।।

Śrī Kṛṣṇa said- O mother knowledge is connected with yoga and knowledge is also connected with different subjects but the knowledge pertaining to devotion is considered to be the best. This is the auspicious cause of my slavehood.

ज्ञानं पञ्चविधं प्रोक्तं सर्ववेदेषु संमतम्।
भक्त्यात्मकं सर्वपरं तेषां च लक्षणं शृणु।।७।।

The knowledge has been defined to be in Vedas of five types but the knowledge concerning the devotion is considered to be the best of all. You listen to some of the symptoms of the same.

क्षुत्पिपासादिकानां च खण्डनं स्वान्तशोधनम्।
नाडीनां शोधनं चैव चक्राणामपि भेदनम्।।८।।
शक्तिकुण्डलिनीयुक्तमीश्वरं चिन्तयेत्ततः।
इन्द्रियाणां च दमनं लोभादीनां च वर्जनम्।।९।।

By over-coming hunger and thirst, purifying inner-self, purification of the entrails, the shattering of the cakras and meditating upon the kuṇḍalinī-śakti, the control of the organs of senses and discarding of the greed one achieves devotion.

मूलाधारं स्वधिष्ठानं मणिपूरमनाहतम्।
विशुद्धं च तथा ज्ञाख्यं चक्रषट्कं प्रकीर्तितम्।।१०।
नारीणामपि दुर्बोधं मूर्खाणां च विशेषतः।
ज्ञानं योगात्मकं साध्वि सिद्धानां साध्ययीप्सितम्।।

Mūlādhāra, Adhiṣṭhāna, Maṇipūra, Anāhata, Viśuddha and Jña are the six cakras. These are inaccessible to the foolish and especially the woman. O chaste lady, the knowledge of yogic practices is meant for the siddhas.

जन्तूनामपि सर्वेषां ज्ञानं स्वविषये तथा।
सन्तः सर्वे विजानन्ति स्वेच्छया च मदीयया।।१२।।
सिद्ध्यात्मकं च सिद्धानां नियुक्तं सर्वकर्मसु।
चतुस्त्रिंशत्सु सिद्धानां साधनं बोधनं तथा।।१३।।

The knowledge about one's own self is desirable by all. The noble people know about themselves as per desire. The knowledge of siddhis is important in all the deeds of the siddhas.

ज्ञानं मोक्षात्मकं सिद्धं परं निर्वाणकारणम्।
निवृत्तिमार्गमारूढं भक्तस्तत्रैव वाञ्छति।।१४।।

The knowledge which bestows mokṣa is quite successful and redeems everyone. Such a type of knowledge makes one to follow the path of Nivṛttimārga and the devotee is however never desirous of the same.

भक्त्यात्मकं च यज्ज्ञानं तुभ्यं राधा प्रदास्यति।
तस्यां च मानवं भावं त्यक्त्वा ज्ञानं करिष्यति।।१५।।

The knowledge about the devotion can be imparted to you by Rādhā. By shedding away the human approach, you can achieve the divine knowledge from her.

नन्दाय दत्तं यज्ज्ञानं तच्च तुभ्यं प्रदास्यति।
गच्छ नन्दव्रजं मातर्नन्देनप सह सादरम्।।१६।।

The knowledge that I imparted to Nanda, the same will be imparted to you by her. O mother, you move on gracefully with Nanda to Vraja.

इत्युक्त्वा विनयं कृत्वा जगामाभ्यन्तरं हरिः।
नन्दो यशोदया सार्धं प्रययौ कदलीवनम्।।१७।।
ददर्श राधां तत्रैव निद्रितां त्यक्तभूषणाम्।
दधानां शुक्लवस्त्रं च निराहारां कृशोदरीम्।।१८।।
पङ्कस्थे पङ्कजदले सजले चन्दनार्चिते।
शयानां शुष्कितौष्ठीं च साश्रुनेत्रां च मूर्च्छिताम्।।१९।।
ध्यायमानां पदाम्भोजं कृष्णस्य परमात्मनः।
बाह्यज्ञानपरित्यक्तां तन्निविष्टैकमानसाम्।।२०।।
पश्यन्तीं सस्मितं कान्तं पश्यन्तीं तन्मुखाम्बुजम्।
हसन्तीं च रुदन्तीं च स्वप्ने कान्तसमीपतः।।२१।।
सखीभिः परितः शश्वत्सेवितां श्वेतचामरैः।
दिवानिशं रक्षितां च गोपीभिः शतकोटिभिः।।२२।।
सावधानपराभिश्च वेत्रहस्ताभिरीश्वरीम्।
सप्तद्वारेषु युक्ताभिः परितः प्राङ्गणेषु च।।२३।।

Thus speaking displaying all his humility, Śrī Kṛṣṇa went to the inner apartment while Nanda accompanied by Yaśodā went to the banana forest. Both of them found Rādhā there, who was lying unconscious on the bed of lotus leaves soaked with water and sandal-paste. Rādhā had discarded all the ornaments and was clad in bright costumes. By remaining without food her belly had shrunk the lips had dried up, the eyes were filled with tears. She was lying unconscious; she was meditating upon the lotus-like feet of lord Kṛṣṇa remaining unconcerned from the outer world; she was totally engrossed in the meditation of lord Kṛṣṇa. She was witnessing her smiling beloved in the dream and staring at his lotus-like face; she sometimes laughed before her beloved and same time wept before him. Her female friends were moving the white fly-whisks continuously. Hundreds and crores of the cowherdesses guarded the place, holding the canes in their hands. They were guarding the seven gates throughout the day and night protecting Rādhā.

तां दृष्ट्वा विस्मयं प्राप्य सभार्यो नन्द एव च।
ननाम परया भक्त्या दण्डवत्प्रणिपत्य च॥२४॥

Finding her there in that condition Nanda together with his wife was surprised and prostrated before her in reverence.

. निद्रां त्यक्त्वा च सहसा बुबुधे सेश्वरेच्छया।
क्षणेन चेतनां प्राप विषयज्ञानवर्जिताम्॥२५॥
पुरतो दंपती दृष्ट्वा पप्रच्छ सादरं सती।
उवाच मधुरं चैवं तत्रैव सखिसंसदि॥२६॥

With the will of the lord Rādhā at once got up from here sleep and she regained consciousness, unmindful of the subject to be discussed, finding the couple there, the chaste lady asked them, the reason for their arrival there. She than spoke sweet words in presence of her female friends.

राधिकोवाच

कस्त्वं चात्र समायातो ब्रूहि वा किं प्रयोजनम्।
न च मे विषयज्ञानं न जानामि नरं पशुम्॥२७॥

Rādhikā said- "Who are you?" What for have you arrived here? You tell me I am not aware of the subject to be talked I an unable to distinguish between a human and an animal.

किं जलं वा स्थलं किंवा किंवा नक्तं दिनं श्रृणु।
स्त्रियं पुमांसं क्लीबं वा नाहं जानामि भेदकम्॥२८

I am unable to differentiate between the earth and the water, the day and night, the man and woman or the eunuch. I am unaware of any differentiation.

राधिकावचनं श्रुत्वा नन्दश्च विस्मयं ययौ।
भीता यशोदा निकटं गोपीसंभाषिता ययौ॥२९॥
उवास निकटे तस्या: समुवाच प्रियं वच:।
उवास तत्र नन्दश्च गोपीदत्तासनेन च॥३०॥

On hearing the words of Rādhikā, Nanda was extremely surprised. On hearing the words of cowherd Yaśodā feeling panicky went closer to her and sitting besides here, she said. Nanda also took his seat offered by the cowherdesses .

यशोदोवाच

चेतनं कुरु राधे त्वमात्मानं रक्ष यत्नत:।
द्रक्ष्यसि प्राणनाथं च संप्राप्ते मङ्गले दिने॥३१॥
त्वत्तो विश्वं पवित्रं च स्वकुलं च सुरेश्वरि।
गोप्यश्च पुण्यवत्यश्च त्वत्पादाम्बुजसेवया॥३२॥

Yaśodā said- O Rādhā, be conscious. You save yourself making all the efforts because on the arrival of the days of welfare you will surely meet the lord of your life. O great goddess, you have purified not only your own race but also the universe as a whole. The cowherdesses have been purified by serving at your lotus-like feet.

लोका गास्यन्ति त्वत्कीर्तिं तीर्थपूतां सुमङ्गलाम्।
सन्तो वेदाश्च चत्वार: पुराणानि पुरातनीम्॥३३॥

The people, the sages, all the four Vedas and Purāṇas shall always recite your glory like other holy places.

अहं यशोदा नन्दोऽयं बुद्धिरूपे निबोध माम्।
वृषभानसुता त्वं च मां निशामय सुव्रते॥३४॥

O form of intelligence, I am Yaśodā and he is Nanda and you happen to be Rādhā the daughter of Vṛṣabhāna. O performer of noble vratas, you listen to my words.

द्वारकानगराद्ददे श्रीकृष्णसंनिधानत:।
तवान्तिकमागताऽहं प्रेरिता हरिणा सति॥३५॥

O virtuous one, I have just returned from Dvārakā, the abode of Kṛṣṇa. O chaste lady, lord Hari has directed me towards you.

शृणु मङ्गलवार्तां च मङ्गलं च गदाभृतः।
आराद्द्रक्ष्यसि कृष्णं तं हे देवि चेतनं कुरु॥३६॥

Now you listen to the welfare news of lord Gadādhara. You would shortly meet Śrī Kṛṣṇa O goddess regain your senses.

भक्त्यात्मकं परिज्ञानं देहि मह्यं च सांप्रतम्।
त्वद्भर्तुरुपदेशेन त्वत्समीपं समागतौ॥३७॥

You bestow the knowledge of devotion to me, presently. Both of us have arrived here at the advice of your husband.

पश्चदायास्यति हरिस्त्वां मुहूर्तं वरानने।
भविष्यत्यचिरेणैव श्रीदाम्नः शापमोचनम्॥३८॥

O beautiful faced one, "Lord Hari would arrive here before you after this and you would soon to be freed from the curse of Śrīdāmā".

यशोदावचनं श्रुत्वा वार्तां प्राप्य गदाभृतः।
श्रीकृष्णनामस्मरणाद्दूरीभूतममङ्गलम्॥३९॥

On hearing the words of Yaśodā about the news of Gadādhara, all the miseries of Rādhā were removed.

संप्राप चेतनं राधा संभाव्य कृष्णमातरम्।
उवाच मधुरं शान्ता लौकिकीं भक्तिमुत्तमाम्॥४०॥

Rādhā regained her consciousness becoming peaceful, honouring the mother of Kṛṣṇa, she spoke to her sweet words concerning the devotion.

Conversation between Rādhā and Yaśodā

राधिकोवाच

ज्ञानात्मकश्च परमो ब्रह्मेशशेषपूजित:।
ज्ञानं च न ददौ तुभ्यं मन्मूलं प्रेषिता सति।।१।।
तेनैव च्छद्मना तुभ्यं भावार्थं बोधयामि किम्।
वेदा: सन्तश्च भावार्थं नैव जानन्ति तस्य च।।२।।

Rādhikā said- O chaste lady, lord Kṛṣṇa is the form of knowledge and is adorable by Brahmā, Śiva and Ananta; he instead of imparting the knowledge himself has directed you to me. By this, I am able to understand his feelings about me. Even the Vedas and the ascetics are unable to judge truly, his ideas.

स्त्रीजातिरबला मूढा वस्तुतोऽज्ञानतत्परा।
ततस्तद्विरहेणैव संततं हतचेतना।।३।।
किं वाऽहं कथयिष्यामि ज्ञानं पञ्चविधेषु च।
भक्त्यात्मकं सर्वपरं निबोध कथयामि ते।।४।।

I belong to the class of woman who are considered to be weak, devoid of wisdom and deprived of knowledge. Because of the separation from him, my knowledge has faded out. In such a condition what could I speak about the five types of knowledge. Still the devotion happens to be the best of knowledge which is being narrated by me. You please listen to the same. .

श्रीकृष्णस्य वरेणापि न साधो निर्भयो भव।
गोलोके चापि तनं संभवेच्च कुयोगिन:।।५।।

O virtuous lady, don't become fearless because of the boon of Kṛṣṇa because even an ascetic has to fall from Goloka.

तस्मात्सर्वं परित्यज्य भजस्व परमेश्वरम्।
पुत्रबुद्धिं परित्यज्य ब्रह्मरूपं निशामय।।६।।

Therefore disowning everything, you recite the name of the lord. Discarding the feeling of his being the son you, take him to be the eternal Brahman.

यशोदे भवती सर्वे परित्यज्य च नश्वरम्।
गत्वा वृन्दावनं रम्यं पुण्यक्षेत्रं च भारतम्।।७।।

O Yaśodā, you, after discarding all the perishable articles, go to Vṛndāvana situated on the auspicious land of Bhārata.

कृत्वा त्रिकालस्नानं च निर्मले यमुनाजले।
कृत्वाऽष्टदलपद्मं च स्निग्धेन चन्दनेन च।।८।।
ध्यानेन गर्गदत्तेन शुद्धेन मनसा सति।
संपूज्य परमानन्दं सानन्दं व्रज तत्पदम्।।९।।

Taking bath in the spotless clean water of the Yamunā thrice a day, you prepare an eight pettaled lotus, with a devoted mind, adore blissful lord Kṛṣṇa variously and get absorbed in the blissful stage ultimately.

कृत्वा निकृन्तनं कर्म पितृभिः शतकैः सह।
वैष्णवेन सहाऽऽलापं कुरुष्व सततं सति॥१०॥

O chaste lady, you better uproot all the deeds performed earlier with hundred means and always converse with the Vaiṣṇavas.

वरं हुतवहज्वालां भक्तो वाञ्छति पञ्जरम्।
वरं च कण्टके वासं वरं च विषभक्षणम्॥११॥
हरिभक्तिविहीनानां न सङ्गं नाशकारणम्।
स्वयं नष्टो भक्तिहीनो बुद्धिभेवं करोति च॥१२॥

A devotee accepts the flames; of fire, captivity in a cage, leaving among the thorns end consuming the poison but he fails to keep company of the people devoid of the devotion of lord Hari because the same deeds to destruction. A person who is devoid of devotion, not only destroys himself but simultaneously create differentiation.

अङ्कुरो भक्तिवृक्षस्य भक्तसङ्गेन वर्धते।
परं हरिकथालापपीयूषासेचनेन च॥१३॥
अभक्तालापदीपाग्निज्वालायाः कलयापि च।
अङ्कुरः शुष्कतां याति पुनः सेकेन वर्धते॥१४॥

By keeping the company of a devotee, with the reciting of the story of lord Hari, the tree of devotion sprouts with the nectar-like stories. But by conversing with the people devoid of devotion, serves as the burning flame, the sprouting tree is dried up. Only by the serving the lord or reciting of his stories lord, it develops and sprouts.

तस्मादभक्तसङ्गं च सावधानः परित्यज।
यथा दृष्टवा कालसर्पं नरो भीत्वा पलायते॥१५॥

The company of the non-believer should be left in the same way, as a person runs away in panic at the sight of a terrible snake.

यशोदे च प्रयत्नेन स्वात्मनः पुत्रमीश्वरम्।
राम नारायणानन्त मुकुन्द मधुसूदन॥१६॥
कृष्ण केशव कंसारे हरे वैकुण्ठ वामन।
इत्येकादश नामानि पठेद्वा पाठयेदिति॥१७॥
जन्मकोटिसहस्राणां पातकादेव मुच्यते।
राशब्दो विश्ववचनो मश्चापीश्वरवाचकः॥१८॥

O Yaśodā, you must adore your son with great efforts, like a lord. The one who recites the name of Rāma, Nārāyaṇa, Ananta, Mukunda, Madhusūdana, Kṛṣṇa, Keśava, Kaṁsāri, Hari, Vaikuṇṭha and Vāmana or the one who reads these eight names daily, he is freed from the thousands and crores of sins of the previous births. Rā stands for globe and Ma stands for the lord. Thus the one who is the lord of the globe is called Rāma. He enjoys the company of Rāma, that is why he is also called Rāma.

विश्वानामीश्वरो यो हि तेन रामः प्रकीर्तितः।
रमते रमया सार्वं तेन रामं विदुर्बुधाः॥१९॥
रमाया रमणस्थानं रामं रामविदो विदुः।
राश्चेति लक्ष्मीवचनो मश्चापीश्वरवाचकः॥२०॥
लक्ष्मीपतिं गतिं रामं प्रवदन्ति मनीषिणः।
नाम्नां सहस्रं दिव्यानां स्मरणे यत्फलं लभेत्॥२१॥

Since Rāma happens to be the cause o. the knowledge of Rāmatattva and the place of keeping company with Rāma, he is also called Rāma. Even otherwise Rā stands for Lakṣmī and Ma stands for the lord. Therefore the intellectuals call the lord of Lakṣmī as Rāma; the merit one earns by reciting thousands of the divine names the same is achieved by reciting the name of Rāma only once.

तत्फलं लभते नूनं रामोच्चारणमात्रतः।
सारूप्यमुक्तिवचनो सारेति च विदुर्बुधाः॥२२॥
यो देवोऽप्ययनं तस्य स च नारायणः स्मृतः।
नाराश्च कृतपापाश्चाप्ययनं गमनं स्मृतम्॥२३॥
यतो हि गमनं तेषां सोऽयं नारायणः स्मृतः।
सकृन्नारायणेत्युक्त्वा पुमान्कल्पशतत्रयम्॥२४॥
गङ्गादिसर्वतीर्थेषु स्नातो भवति निश्चितम्।
नारं च मोक्षणं पुण्यमयनं ज्ञानमीप्सितम्॥२५॥
तयोर्ज्ञानं भवेद्यस्मात्सोऽयं नारायणः प्रभुः।
नास्त्यन्तो यस्य वेदेषु पुराणेषु चतुर्षु च॥२६॥

शास्त्रेष्वन्येषु योगेषु तेनानन्तं विदुर्बुधाः।
मुकुमध्ययमानं च निर्वाणं मोक्षवाचकम्॥२७॥
तद्ददाति च यो देवो मुकुंदस्तेन कीर्तितः।
मुकुं भक्तिरसप्रेमवचनं वेदसंमतम्॥२८॥
यस्तं ददाति भक्तेभ्यो मुकुंदस्तेन कीर्तितः।
सूदनं मधुदैत्यस्य यस्मात्स मधुसूदनः॥२९॥

The intellectuals believes that Nāra stands for Sārupya salvation. Therefore the one who happens to be the god of the same or the Ayana is called Nārāyaṇa. The sins which are committed by some one are known as Nāra and Ayana stands for disappearing. This with the reciting of the name of Nārāyaṇa, all the sins disappear. With the reciting of the word Nārāyaṇa once, a person achieves the merit of having a bath in all the sacred places for a hundred kalpas. According to another interpretation Nāra stands for merit and mokṣa while the Ayana stands for the appropriate knowledge. The one who therefore, enshrines the knowledge of both, he is considered to be Nārāyaṇa. The one who beyond the description of the four Vedas, Purāṇas, scriptures and others literature and is unlimited, he is called Ananta by the intellectuals. Muku stands for studies and salvation beside mokṣa and the one who provides the same, is known as Mukunda. Even otherwise, the word Muku stands for love and devotion as prescribed in the Vedas and the one who bestows the same to the devotees is called Mukunda. Because he happens to be the killer of the demon Madhu, he is therefore called Madhusūdana.

इति सन्तो वदन्तीशं वेदे भिन्नार्थमीप्सितम्।
मधु क्लीबं च माध्वीके कृतकर्मशुभाशुभे॥३०॥
भक्तानां कर्मणां चैव सूदनं मधुसूदनः।
परिणामाशुभं कर्म भ्रान्तानां मधुरं मधु॥३१॥
करोति सूदनं यो हि स एव मधुसूदनः।
कृषिरुत्कृष्टवचनो णश्च सद्भक्तिवाचकः॥३२॥
अश्चापि दातृवचनः कृष्णं तेन विदुर्बुधाः।
कृषिश्च परमानन्दे णश्च तद्दास्यकर्मणि॥३३॥
तयोर्दाता च यो देवस्तेन कृष्णः प्रकीर्तितः।
कोटिजन्मार्जिते पापे कृषिः क्लेशे च वर्तते॥३४॥
भक्तानां णश्च निर्वाणे तेन कृष्णः प्रकीर्तितः।
नाम्नां सहस्रं दिव्यानां त्रिरावृत्त्या चयत्फलम्॥३५॥
एकावृत्त्या तु कृष्णस्य तत्फलं लभते नरः।
कृष्णनाम्नः परं नाम न भूतं न भविष्यति॥३६॥

Even otherwise the people derive meaning from the word Madhu which is a neutral gender and is present in the good or bad deeds or a wine of intoxicated tree. Therefore the one who destroys the same together with the deeds of the devotees, he is called Madhusūdana. Such of the deeds which results in evil reward and are sweet in fallacy, they are termed as Madhu. The one who destroys the same he is called Madhusūdana. The word Kṛṣi stands for excellence and ṇa stands for the noble devotion and A stands for the container. That is why people call him by the name of Kṛṣṇa. According to another interpretation Kṛṣi stands for blissful and ṇa stands for the slavehood. The on who provides both of them is called Kṛṣṇa. Even otherwise the word Kṛṣi stands for the sin earned during the crores of the births and ṇa stands for the reliever of the sins. This results in the making of the word Kṛṣṇa. The merit one earns by reciting the thousand divine names of the lord thrice, the same merit is earned by him while reciting the name of Kṛṣṇa. There has been no name better than Kṛṣṇa in the past nor would it be in future.

सर्वेभ्यश्च परं नाम कृष्णेति वैदिका विदुः।
कृष्ण कृष्णेति हे गोपि यस्तं स्मरति नित्यशः॥३७॥
जलं भित्त्वा यथा पद्मं नरकादुद्धरेच्च सः।
कृष्णेति मङ्गलं नाम यस्य वाचि प्रवर्तते॥३८॥
भस्मीभवन्ति सद्यस्तु महापातककोटयः।
अश्वमेधसहस्रेभ्यः फलं कृष्णजपस्य च॥३९॥
वरं तेभ्यः पुनर्जन्म नातो भक्तपुनर्भवः।
सर्वेषामपि यज्ञानां लक्षाणि च व्रतानि च॥४०॥
तीर्थस्नानानि सर्वाणि तपांस्यनशनानि च।
वेदपाठसहस्राणि प्रादक्षिण्यं भुवः शतम्॥४१॥
कृष्णनामजपस्यास्य कलां नार्हन्ति षोडशीम्।

तेषां लोभाद्भवेत्स्वर्गफलं च सुचिरं नृणाम्॥४२॥

The people well-versed in the Vedic knowledge, hold the view that the name Kṛṣṇa is the best of all. O cowherdesses, the one who recites the name of Kṛṣṇa again and again regularly, he is saved from falling into the hell in the same way as the lotus emerges out of the water. The one in whose tongue the word Kṛṣṇa always remain, all his great sins are reduce to ashes. The reciting of the name Kṛṣṇa is better than the performing of thousands of Aśvamedha sacrifices, because by doing so, one is never reborn again. By reciting the same name, one is freed from the cycle of the birth and death. All the yajñas, lakhs of vratas, with bathing in the holy places, All types of tapas, performing of vratas, thousands of the reciting of the Vedas, going round the globe a hundred times, all these combined do not compare to the one sixteen the part of the merit one earns by reciting the name of Kṛṣṇa. with the greed of performing the good deeds, a person enjoys his stay in the heaven and the fall from the heaven is a must. But the one who recites the name of Hari he achieves the eternal abode.

स्वर्गादवश्यं पुंसश्च जपकर्तुहरे:पदम्।

The letter Ka stands for water. The one who pervades that water and the bodies of all the creatures, he is called Keśava by the Vedic people. The word Kaṁsa is used for obstruction, ailment greed and the Dānavas. The one who is inimical to all of them is known by the name of Kaṁsāri. The one who in the form of Rudra and destroy the universe always and the enemies of the devotees, is known by the name of Hari. Ma stands for the form of eternal Brahman and Mūlaprakṛti besides being Īśvarī, Nārāyaṇī, Sanātanī, Viṣṇumāyā, Mahālakṣmī, Sarasvatī the creator of the Vedas, Rādhā, Vasundharā and Gaṅgā. Therefore, the lord is known as Mādhava

O chaste lady, the one who is adored by Brahmā, Viṣṇu, Śiva and Śeṣa and the sage like Sanaka and others, who are unable to know about the secret of his existence by deep meditation, the one who is beyond the conception of all the Vedas and the Purāṇas, you should adore with devotion the one who stole away the butter from your house. Where is the milk, curd, butter-milk, ghee and other milk preparations? Where is the thief of these articles? Where is your link with the base of the universe? The one who could not be captured by the yogīs, siddhas, ascetics, the devotees, Brahmā, Śiva and Śeṣa, how could he be bound with the mortar by you? Therefore you adore your son who is lodged in the centre of the lotus flowers in the form of the lord and adore him with devotion, meditation, recitation, making all the efforts. You would meet with welfare. You ask for a boon, desired by you. The one which is beyond a reach of the gods his adoration would surely be bestowed by me to you.

यशोदोवाच

हरौ च निश्चला भक्तिस्तद्दास्यं वाञ्छितं मम।

Yaśodā said- I desire a boon to achieve the infallible devotion at the feet of lord Hari and his slavehood. You also enlighten me about the root of your own name.

राधिकोवाच

भवेद्भक्तिर्निश्चला ते हरेर्दास्यं च दुर्लभम्।

Rādhikā said- with my boon you would surely achieve the devotion of the lord besides his slavehood. Now I tell you the best of the decision.

In the earlier times Nanda found me in the Bhāṇḍīra forest seated under the shed of a banyan tree, I stopped Prajāpati Nanda and said to him, "I am Rādhā myself and by reflection the wife of Rāyaṇa. Rāyaṇa was born of the aṁśa of Hari and happens to be one of the important courtiers of lord Hari.

राशब्दश्च महाविष्णुर्विश्वानि यस्य लोमसु।
विश्वप्राणिषु विश्वेषु धा धात्री मातृवाचकः॥५७॥

The word Rā stands for Mahāviṣṇu in the hair-pits of whom several globes are lodged and dhā stand for the motherhood among the creatures

धात्री माताऽहमेतेषां मूलप्रकृतिरीश्वरी।
तेन राधा समाख्याता हरिणा च पुरा बुधैः॥५८॥

I being the Mūlaprakṛti and Īśvarī, I am the mother of all of them. This is the reason why Hari and other people gave me the name of Rādhā in the earlier times.

अहं सुदामशापेन वृषभानसुताऽधुना।

Vṛṣabhāna happens to be the best of the courtiers of the Kṛṣṇa and parson my mother named Kalāvatī is the mind born daughter of the ancestors.

The Stories of Pradyumna and Durvāsā

नारायण उवाच

Nārāyaṇa said- O sage, at the command of Vasudeva, Kṛṣṇa went in Dvārakā, in the palace of Rukmiṇī, which was decorated with the best of gems. It was shining like the best of crystal gems and other invaluable diamonds, it had a number of paintings decorating all the sides.

अमूल्यरत्नकलशं श्वेतचामरदर्पणैः।
वह्निशुद्धांशुकैः शुद्धैः परितः परिशोभितम्।।३।।

It was decorated with the invaluable pitchers of gems and a large number of white fly-whisks and the mirrors. The costumes sanctified by fire appeared on all the sides.

Rukmiṇī who was quite youthful was found there lying on the bed of gems and smiling delight-fully. She was adult, had been just wedded and was therefore feeling shy of the first union. She was adorned with the best of gem-studded ornaments and her hair do looked simply charming; which was decorated with the garlands of jasmine flowers. The daughter of Bhīṣmaka suddenly fiddling Kṛṣṇa before her offered her salutation to him.

सुखसंभोगमात्रेण मूर्छामाप मुदा सती।
तस्यां जज्ञे कामदेवो भस्मीभूतश्च शंभुना।।८।।

Finding her there, Kṛṣṇa the lord of the universe, sat on the bed and started enjoying conjugal pleasures, the damsels was fainted; the god of love had been reduced to ashes by lord Śiva.

स शम्बरं निहत्यैव तत्र प्राप रतिं सतीम्।

After killing the demon Śambara, he achieved the chaste Rati. At that point of time at the instance of the gods, Rati remained in the house of the demon as her shadow named Māyāvatī.

नारद उवाच

जहार शम्बरं कामो दैत्यं केन प्रकारतः।
कथयस्व महाभाग विस्तरेण शुभां कथाम्।।१०।।

Nārada said- O virtuous one, you please tell me how was Śambara killed by Kāmadeva? You please tell me the story in detail.

नारायण उवाच

समतीते च सप्ताहे रुक्मिणीसूतिकागृहात्।
गृहीत्वा बालकं दैत्यो जगाम स्वालयं जवात्।।११।।
अपुत्रकश्च दैत्येशः पुत्रं प्राप्य प्रहर्षितः।
मायावत्यै ददौ हृष्टो हृष्टा मायावती सती।।१२।।

Nārāyaṇa said- After the lapse of a week, the demon entered the labour room of Rukmiṇī and carried away her son with great force. The demon who was without a son felt extremely delighted by getting that son. He entrusted his care too Māyāvatī, who felt delighted by receiving the child.

अतीव पालनेनैव वर्धयामास बालकम्।
सरस्वती तां रहसि कथयामास निर्जने।।१३।।

She carefully brought up the child, Sarasvatī then spoke to her in lonely place.

सरस्वत्युवाच

शिवकोपानले पूर्वं भस्मीभूतः पतिस्तव।
स चायं रुक्मिणीपुत्रो दैत्येनैव समाहृतः।।१४।।

Sarasvatī said- In earlier times, your husband was reduced to ashes because of the anger of lord Śiva; the same Kāmadeva has been born as the son of Rukmiṇī who has been abducted by the demon.

माययाऽपि च मायेशो रुक्मिणीसूतिकागृहात्।
समानीय ददौ तुभ्यं पतिस्तेऽयं न चाऽऽत्मजः॥१५॥

The one who is well-versed in the illusion has brought him from the labour room of Rukmiṇī and given him to you. He happens to be your husband and not the son.

कामं च कथयामास जगन्माता च सा सती।
तव पत्नी रतिश्चेयं रमस्व रामया सह॥१६॥

Sarasvatī who happened to be the mother of the universe also spoke to Kāmadeva, "This is your wife named Rati and you enjoy her company "

त्वमेव रुक्मिणीपुत्रो नान्यदैत्यस्य मन्मथः।
कुररीव सती नित्यं रोदिति स्म त्वया विना॥१७॥

You are Kāmadeva, the son of Rukmiṇī and you are not the son of the demon. The chaste Rati had always been crying like the bird of prey.

इत्युक्त्वा च ययौ वाणी ब्रह्माणी ब्रह्मणः पदम्।
स रेमे निर्जने नित्यं रामया सह सुन्दरः॥१८॥

Thus speaking Sarasvatī the spouse of Brahmā, Brahmaloka and the beautiful Kāmadeva daily enjoyed the company of the beautiful Rati in the lonely places.

एकदा मन्मथं दैत्यौ ददर्श रहसि स्थितम्।
शृङ्गारं रामया सार्धं कुर्वन्तं कौतुकेन च॥१९॥

Once the demon witnessed Kāmadeva and Rati both engaged in the conjugal pleasure.

सस्मितं सस्मितायाश्च मध्यवक्षःस्थलस्थितम्।

दृष्ट्वा चुकोप दैत्यश्च जग्राह खड्गमुत्तमम्।
उवाच खड्गहस्तश्च कामदेवं रतिं सतीम्॥२१॥

The smiling Kāmadeva was found on the breast of Rati who was anxious to enjoy conjugal pleasures and got fainted in passion. Witnessing this the demon was enraged. He took out his sword. Holding the sword in his hand, he spoke to Kāmadeva and Rati.

शम्बर उवाच

धिक् त्वां महाकामुकं च मूर्खं पण्डितमानिनम्।
महापातकिनां श्रेष्ठं प्रमत्तं मातृगामिनम्॥२२॥

Śambara said- O foolish one, you consider yourself to be very wise, you are the most degraded of all the sinners and are intoxicated, you enjoy the company of your own mother. O passionate one, disgrace to you.

धिक् त्वां च पुंश्चली मत्तां कामुकीं हतचेतनाम्।
पुत्रं गृहीत्वा रहसि करोषि सुरतिं सति॥२३॥

O loose women, an intoxicated the one, the passionate one and the senseless women, disgrace to you, a chaste lady is enjoying the company of her son in seclusion.

इत्येवमुक्त्वा खड्गं च तामेव हन्तुमुद्यतः।
जिघां सन्तं रतिं दैत्यं प्रेरयामास मन्मथः॥२४॥

Thus speaking he raised his sword to kill her. The demon who was about to kill Rati, was pushed aside by Kāmadeva.

पपात दूरतो ब्रह्मन्मूर्च्छितः स्वाङ्गपीडितः।
पुनश्च चेतनां प्राप्य कोपेन प्रज्वलन्निव॥२५॥

स्मर स्मर महामायां दुर्गां दुर्गतिनाशिनीम्।
पवनस्य वचः श्रुत्वा दुर्गां सस्मार मन्मथाः॥२८॥

O Brahman, the demon felt pain in all his limbs and fainted falling at a distance. Regaining his consciousness he was burning with rage and held the trident of Śiva tightly in hand. O sage, the trident having the lustre of hundreds of suns. The demon was burning with rage. Brahmā, Śiva felt terrified. Than the wind god whispered in the ears of Kāmadeva, "You recite the name of Durgā, the great illusion who removes all the misfortunes". On hearing the words of the wind god, the god of love recited the name of Durgā.

शूलं बभूव तस्याङ्गे रम्यं माल्यं मनोहरम्।
ब्रह्मास्त्रेण च तं दैत्यं जघान मन्मथो मुदा।।२९।।

As a result of all this the trident and other weapons, were turned into the fragrant flowers with the touch of the body of Kāmadeva. Thereafter the god of love killed the demon with the use of Brahmāstra.

रतिं गृहित्वा यानेन जगाम द्वारकां पुरीम्।

He returned to his abode with Rati in Dvārakā. All the gods then adored goddess Pārvatī and left for their respective abodes.

रुक्मिणी मङ्गलं कृत्वा प्रजग्राह रतिं सुतम्।
उत्सवं कारयामास परं स्वस्त्ययनं हरिः।।३१।।

Rukmiṇī performing all the welfare, rites accepted his son and Rati. Kṛṣṇa on the other hand performed great festivities.

The Brāhmaṇas were served with food adoring Pārvatī at the same time. Thereafter in an auspicious time he married seven damsels named Kālindī, Satyabhāmā, Satyā, Nāgnijitī, Satī, Jāmbavatī and Lakṣmaṇa; several sons were born to them, ten sons and a daughter were born of each one of the queens. Than he killed a demon named Naraka and also the demon named Mura and found sixteen thousand damsels there.

Each one of the damsels had more than a hundred female friends each; all of them were quite, a youthful, jovial and adorned with the gem-studded ornaments. Lord Kṛṣṇa accepted their hands in an auspicious time and enjoyed their company in the auspicious time.

एकस्यां दशपुत्राश्च कन्यकैका क्रमेण च।
हरेरेतान्यपत्यानि बभूवुश्च पृथक्पृथक्।।३९।।

Ten sons and the daughter were born to each one of the wives of Kṛṣṇa. Thus he had different issues from all his wives.

एकदा द्वारकां रम्यां दुर्वासा मुनिपुंगवः।
शिष्यैस्त्रिकोटिभिः सार्धमाजगामावलीलया।।४०।।

Once the sage Durvāsā arrived in Dvārakā with three crores of his pupils.

राजा महोग्रसेनश्च सपुत्रः सपुरोहितः।

Brāhmaṇa, the king Ugrasena together with the son and priest. accompanied by Vasudeva, Kṛṣṇa Akrūra and Uddhava besides the sages, adored Durvāsā making sixteen types of offerings to him. The sage blessed them individually.

एकानंशां च कन्यां तां ददौ तस्मै शुभक्षणे।
मुक्तामाणिक्यहीरांश्च रत्नं च यौतकं ददौ।।४३।।

Vasudeva gave away in marriage his daughter named Ekānaṁśā to the sage together with many gems, jewels and diamonds in dowry.

स रेमे रामया सार्धं माहेन्द्रे रत्नमन्दिरे।

कालिन्दीसेवितपदं शयानं कुत्रचिन्मुदा।

सर्वत्र समसंभाषां चकार भगवान्मुनिम्॥४८॥

The sage enjoyed the company of the newly wedded wife in the palace of gems. Vasudeva also gave to Durvāsā an āśrama which was beautifully decorated with gems. Once Durvāsā, the best of the sages thought in his mind that all-pervading Kṛṣṇa sometimes sleeps on the gem-studded bed. Sometimes listens to the recitation of the Purāṇas, sometimes he keeps himself busy taking in the food in the court-yard, sometimes he chews the betel offered by Satyā and sometimes he enjoys the company of Rukmiṇī having been served with the moving of white fly-whisks, sometimes he is found sleeping delightfully. While Kālindī processed his feet. Śrī Kṛṣṇa always discussed with the sage, several things.

विस्मयं प्रययौ विप्रो दृष्ट्वा तत्परमाद्भुतम्।
तुष्टाव जगतीनाथं रुक्मिणीमन्दिरे पुन:
वसन्तं च सुधर्मायां सतां संसदि सुन्दरम्॥४९॥

Finding him in astonishing form, Durvāsā was surprised. Thereafter the sage offered prayer to lord Kṛṣṇa in the abode of Rukmiṇī and the assembly named Sudharmā besides in the company of intellectuals.

दुर्वासा उवाच

जय जय जगतां नाथ जितसर्वं जनार्दन सर्वात्मक सर्वेश सर्वबीज पुरातन निर्गुण निरीह॥५०॥

Durvāsā said- O lord of the universe, victory to you, victory to you. You conquer everyone. O Janārdana, you are the form of everyone, the lord of everyone or eternal without qualities, unattached, uninvolved, spotless, invisible, the one who takes to human form to grace his devotees, the form of truth, eternal, formless, always fresh, adored by Śiva, Śeṣa and Kubera. Lakṣmī serves at your feet. You are the divine lustre of Brahman, inexplicable; your qualities are unknown to the Vedas, adorable like the sky and the supreme soul. I bow in reverence to you.

इत्येवमुक्त्वा मनसा हरेरनुमतेन च।

Thus adoring the lord mentally and bowing before Kṛṣṇa he stood before him with his permission.

तमुवाच जगन्नाथो हितं सत्यं पुरातनम्।
ज्ञानं च वेदविहितं सर्वेषां च सतां मतम्॥५४॥

Thereafter the lord of the universe bestow the divine knowledge to him which was beneficial, truthful, ancient, according to the Vedas and acceptable by the intellectuals.

Lord Kṛṣṇa said- O Brāhmaṇa, you are born of the aṁśa of Śiva, don't get afraid, are you not aware of the fact with the divine knowledge possessed by you that I happen to be the creator of and all are born out of me. I happen to be the soul of all; without me every body is lifeless when I depart from the bodies of the creatures, all the strength disappears. I am myself the form of flame and represent each individual appearing separately in all the bodies. The one gets satisfied with the food, he takes and others cannot be satisfied with it. The figure of all the creatures are made separately. I appear in complete form in Goloka. Because of the curse of Śrīdāmā, Rādhā is unable to find me presently. All are born out of the aṁśa of Rādhā. The aṁśa of Rādhā is available in the palace of Rukmiṇī and other goddesses happen to be the rays of the same. "My aṁśa is also available in the bodies of several creatures of earth." Thus speaking the lord of the universe went inside the house. Durvāsā also leaving his beloved there, started performing tapas.

Durvāsā enlightened by Pārvatī

नारायण उवाच

सशिष्यश्चापि दुर्वासास्त्यक्त्वा च द्वारकां पुरीम्।
कैलासं प्रययौ भक्त्या शंकरं द्रष्टुमीश्वरम्।।१।।
गत्वा मुनिश्च कैलासं प्रणनाम शिवं शिवाम्।
तुष्टाव परया भक्त्या सशिष्य: प्रणत: शुचि:।।२।।
तत्सर्वं कथयामास वृत्तान्तं श्रीहरेरपि।
आत्मनस्तपसस्तत्त्वं स्ववैराग्यं च चेतस:।।३।।
मुनेश्च वचनं श्रुत्वा प्रहस्य पार्वती सती।
तमुवाच हितं सत्यं साक्षाच्छंकरसंनिधौ।।४।।

Nārāyaṇa said- Durvāsā accompanied with his pupils went to meet Śiva with his mind filled with devotion, leaving the city of Dvārakā. He proceeded towards Kailāsa. On reaching Kailāsa, the sage together with his pupils purified themselves and started adoring Śiva and Pārvatī. Thereafter he spoke all the details about Śrī Kṛṣ ṇa and the tattva of his tapas and the detachment of his mind from them. On hearing the words of the sage, the chaste Pārvatī smiled and in the presence of Śiva spoke truthful words which were quite beneficial.

पार्वत्युवाच

धर्मतत्त्वं च जानासि धर्मिष्ठं मन्यसे स्वयम्।
अनपत्यां परित्यज्य क्व यासि तपसे मुने।।५।।
अनपत्यां च युवतीं कुलजां च पतिव्रताम्।
त्यक्त्वा भवेयु: संन्यासी ब्रह्मचारी यतीति वा।।६।।
वाणिज्ये वा प्रवासे वा चिरं दूरं प्रयाति य:।
तीर्थे वा तपसे वाऽपि मोक्षार्थं जन्म खण्डितुम्।।७।।

Pārvatī said- O sage, you are unaware of the tattva of dharma and still you consider yourself to be quite religious. Where are you moving leaving your childless wife. The one who disowns a youthful wife having no son who is quite chaste and devoted towards her husband becoming an ascetic, Brahmacārī or Yati or goes to a distant place for carrying out business or becomes a mendicant or a wandering ascetic in order to rid himself of the cycle of birth and death, he can never get redemption. He surely becomes responsible for the destruction of his dharma. Because with the curse of the wife, he has to fall in the hell after death his glory in this world is lost. This has been ordained by Brahmā. O Brāhmaṇa, therefore you go back to Dvārakā and protect your dharma.

न मोक्षस्तस्य भवति धर्मस्य स्खलनं ध्रुवम्।
अभिशापेन भार्याया नरकं च परत्र च।।८।।
इहैव च यशोनाश इत्याह कमलोद्भव:।
द्वारकां गच्छ हे विप्र स्वधर्मं रक्ष सांप्रतम्।।९।।
एकानंशां मदंशां च धर्मत: परिपालय।
पादपद्मार्जितं पादपद्मं सर्वसुदुर्लभम्।।१०।।
संततं शंभुना गीतं मुनीन्द्रै: सनकादिभि:।
परित्यज सुरंतरो: कृष्णस्य परमात्मन:।।११।।
क्व यासि तपसे वत्स सुधां त्यक्त्वा मनोहराम्।
श्रीकृष्णपादपद्मं च स्वप्ने जपति यो मुने।।१२।।
शतजन्मकृतात्पापान्मुच्यते नात्र संशय:।
यद्बाल्ये यच्च कौमारे वार्धके यच्च यौवने।।१३।।
कामतोऽकामतो वाऽपि भस्मीभूतं च पातकम्।
साक्षाद्यो भारते वर्षे श्रीकृष्णचरणाम्बुजम्।।१४।।
दृष्ट्वा सद्यो भवेत्पूज्यो जीवन्मुक्तो भवेद्ध्रुवम्।

कोटिजन्मार्जितात्सद्यः कृतपापाद्विमुच्यते॥१५॥

Ekānaṁśā was born out of my aṁśa and therefore maintain her with devotion. O son, the water of the feet of lord Kṛṣṇa is blissful like kalpavṛkṣa which is adored by Lakṣmī and is inaccessible by all. The gods like Śiva, Sanaka and other sages recite the glory of lord Kṛṣṇa whose name is like the charming nectar. Where are you going leaving him? O sage, the one who recites the name of the lord at his lotus-like feet, he is relieved of the sin committed by him up to a hundred births. There is no doubt about it. By reciting his name, all his sins committed during childhood, boyhood, in youthful age as well as in old age, knowingly or unknowingly, gets destroyed. The one who looks at the lotus-like feet of Śrī Kṛṣṇa,. he becomes always adorable. This is the total truth, such a person is relieved of all the sins performed by him during the crores of births.

सर्वाण्येव हि तीर्थानि यतः पूतानि नित्यशः।
तद्व्रतं तत्तपः सत्यं तत्पुण्यं तच्च पूजनम्॥१६॥
सफलं कृष्णसंबन्धि स्वजन्मखण्डनं यतः।
कृष्णभक्तिविहीनश्च ब्राह्मणो वेदपारगः॥१७॥
तत्सङ्गाच्च तदालापा द्भक्तभक्तिः प्रणश्यति।
कृष्णस्योच्छिष्टभोजी यः कृष्णभक्तश्च ब्राह्मणः॥
आवह्निपवनात्पूतः पूतं कर्तुं जगत्क्षमः।
श्रीकृष्णं च परित्यज्य क्व यासि तपसे द्विज॥१९॥

All the holy places get sanctified with such a type of devotee of lord Kṛṣṇa. Those who are connected with lord Kṛṣṇa only that vrata, tapas, truth, merit and--adoration become successful because by doing so one is relieved of the cycle of the birth. In case Brāhmaṇa well-versed in the Vedas is deprived of the devotion of lord Kṛṣṇa even a devotee of the lord becomes degraded by talking to such a person. The Brāhmaṇa who consume the left-over or is devoted to him, such an auspicious soul, is competent enough to purify the fire and the wind besides the entire universe. O Brāhmaṇa, living lord Kṛṣṇa where are you going to perform tapas.

तपसां फलमाप्नोति श्रीकृष्णस्मरणेन च।
यतो भक्तिर्न च भवेच्छ्रीकृष्णे परमात्मनि॥२०॥
स गुरुः परमो वैरी करोति जन्म निष्फलम्।
पार्वतीवचनं श्रुत्वा शंकरः प्रेमविह्वलः॥२१॥
पुलकाञ्चितसर्वाङ्गस्तुष्टाव परमेश्वरीम्।
दुर्वासाः प्रणतिं कृत्वा शिवदुर्गापदाम्बुजे॥२२॥
स्मारं स्मारं कृष्णपदं पुनश्च द्वारकां ययौ।
तत्र गत्वा हरिं दृष्ट्वा तुष्टाव परमेश्वरम्॥२३॥

The devotees achieve the fruit of their tapas by merely reciting the name of Śrī Kṛṣṇa. A teacher who is deprived of the devotion of the lord Kṛṣṇa he happens to be a great enemy and renders the life of his pupil infructuous. On hearing the words of Pārvatī, Śiva was overwhelmed with love and his limbs felt emotional. Thereafter he prayed to goddess Pārvatī. The sage Durvāsā offering his salutation at the feet of Śiva and Pārvatī, devoting his mind at the lotus-like feet of Śrī Kṛṣṇa went back to Dvārakā. Reaching there he started offering prayer to lord Kṛṣṇa.

एकानंशालयं गत्वा स च रेमे तया सह।
कृष्णो युधिष्ठिरध्यानात्प्रययौ हस्तिनापुरम्॥२४॥

He then went to the abode of Ekānaṁśā and then enjoyed her company. At the command of Yudhiṣṭhira, Kṛṣṇa went to Hastināpura.

कुन्तीं संभाष्य भूपं च भ्रातॄंश्च प्रमुदाऽन्वितः।
उपायेन जरासंधं निहत्य शाल्वमेव च॥२५॥
कारयामास यज्ञं च विधिबोधितदक्षिणम्।
मुनीन्द्रैश्च नृपेन्द्रैश्च राजसूयमभीप्सितम्॥२६॥

He then talked to Kuntī, the king Yudhiṣṭhira and his brothers delightfully and with great efforts he killed Jarāsandha and Śālva; he then made Yudhiṣṭhira to perform the Rājasūya-yajña, through the sages and the kings gave away suitable amount of dakṣiṇa.

शिशुपालं दन्तवक्त्रं तत्र यज्ञे जघान सः।
अतीव निन्दां कुर्वन्तं सभायां सुरभूपयोः॥२७॥
पपता तच्छरीरं च जीवो गत्वा हरेः पदम्।
न दृष्ट्वा तत्र सर्वेशं तुष्टावाऽऽगत्य माधवम्॥२८॥

In that yajña he killed Śiśupāla and Dantavaktra. With the fall of Śiśupāla, he went to Vaikuṇṭha at once but finding Viṣṇu absent from that place he returned and started adoring Mādhava.

शिशुपाल उवाच

वेदानां जनकोऽसि त्वं वेदाङ्गानां च माधव।
सुराणामसुराणां च प्राकृतानां च देहिनाम्॥२९॥

Śiśupāla said- O Médhava, you are the creator of the Vedas, the post-Vedic literature, the gods, the demons and all other creatures.

सूक्ष्मां विधाय सृष्टिं च कल्पभेदं करोषि च।
मायया च स्वयं ब्रह्मा शंकरः शेष एव च॥३०॥
मनवो मुनयश्चैव देवाश्च सृष्टिपालकाः।
कलांशेनापि कलया दिक्पालाश्च ग्रहादयः॥३१॥

You are the creator of the smaller creatures of the universe and go on through the kalpas. You happen, to be Brahmā, Śiva and Śeṣa by your illusion, the Manus, the sages, the gods, Dikpālas, represents your form in ones way or the other.

स्वयं पुमान्स्वयं स्त्री च स्वयमेव नपुंसकः।
कारणं च स्वयं कार्यं जन्यश्च जनकः स्वयम्॥३२॥

You are Puruṣa as well as Prakṛti and the eunuchs; you are the cause as will as the deed beside being the producer and the produce.

यन्त्रस्य च गुणो दोषो यन्त्रिणश्च श्रुतौ श्रुतम्।
सर्वे यन्त्रा भवान्यन्त्री त्वयि सर्वं प्रतिष्ठितम्॥३३॥

The good or bad qualities of a machine depend upon the machine man. This has been ordained in the Vedas. All the humans are machines while you happen to be the machine man. Therefore everything is established in you.

मम क्षमस्वापराधं मूढस्य द्वारिणस्तव।
ब्रह्मशापात्कुबद्धेश्च रक्ष रक्ष जगद्गुरो॥३४॥

O teacher of the universe, I am your wicked gate-keeper, therefore you forgive my sins and save me from the curse of Brahmā.

इत्येवमुक्त्वा क्रमतो जयो विजय एव च।
मुदा तौ ययतुः शीघ्रं वैकुण्ठद्वारमीप्सितम्॥३५॥

Thus speaking both Jaya and Vijaya (Śiśupāla and Dantavaktra) reached the gate of Vaikuṇṭha.

शिशुपालस्य स्तोत्रेण सर्वे ते विस्मयं ययुः।
परिपूर्णतमं कृत्वा मेनिरे कृष्णमीश्वरम्॥३६॥

All were surprised with the reciting of the stotra of Śiśupāla. All of them considered Kṛṣṇa to be the lord, in all respect.

कारयित्वा राजसूयं भोजयामास ब्राह्मणान्।
कुरुपाण्डवयुद्धं च कारयामास भेदतः॥३७॥
भुवो भारावतरणं चकार स कृपानिधिः।
पुनर्ययौ द्वारकां च चिरं स्थित्वा नृपाज्ञया॥३८॥
विप्राया मृतवत्साया जीवयामास पुत्रकान्।
मृतस्थानात्समानीय तन्मात्रे प्रददौ सुतान्॥३९॥

Thereafter Rājasūya-yajña was performed and creating dissension's, made the Kauravas but fight with Pāṇḍavas. The merciful lord went back to Mathurā in order to relieve the earth of her burden where he stayed for a long time and brought back to life the son of a Brāhmaṇa woman; who was brought back from the place of the dead and restored to his parents.

तद्दृष्ट्वा देवकी तुष्टा ययाचे मृतपुत्रकान्।

O sage, he promoted the popularity of Rukmiṇī and other spouses among the Vaiṣṇavas, the gods and the Brāhmaṇas besides other religions. The lord then bestowed to Uddhava the divine knowledge. He imparted the knowledge of Gītā to Arjuna in the fare-front of the battle-field. The merciful lord relieved the earth of her burden and bestowed the Rājalakṣmī on earth to Yudhuṣṭhira. He made Durgā to be adored as the village deity, everywhere to whom several types of naivedya and the pleasant incense, lamps etc. were offered performing the homas. The Brāhmaṇas were served with the food and in order to please Pārvatī; he built a beautiful palace of Pārvatī and Gaṇeśa studded with invaluable several gems on the Raivata mountain. For the pleasure of Pārvatī, he also built a palace for Gaṇeśa on the Raivata mountain. At that point of time five lakhs of sweet balls of sesamum seeds were made and seven lakhs of modakas, hundreds of heaps of sugar, the ripe banana fruit, ten lakhs of sweet dishes, charming pāyasam, fried, ghee, butter, curd, milk, incense, lamps, garland of Pārijāta flowers, fragrant sandal-paste, fragrance and the costumes sanctified by fire were distributed.

He performed a yajña comprising of crores of homas, served the Brāhmaṇas the food and offer prayer to Gaṇapati. At that point of time, ten types of musical instruments were sounded Sāmba then adored Sūrya to get rid of the leprosy, he had attracted for a year. Sāmba continue to consume the haviṣya food together with his mother. He adored Sūrya with several types of offerings. Sūrya then himself appeared before Sāmba and bestowed to him several blessing and his stotra.

In the dream he found a beautiful damsel lying on the bed of flowers and whose limbs were painted with fragrant sandal-paste. She was smiling. The damsel was quite beautiful and youthful and was adorned with several types of ornaments, she wore beautiful armlets, wristlets and the bangles of conch-shells. Her temples were decorated with the ear ornament. She was clad in an extremely fine garment the anklets worn by her which issued dangling sound. She had the lips resembling the ripe wood apples; the eyes were resembling the lotus flower of the winter season. Her face resembled the lotus flower of the winter season and was bestowed with the grace of crores of the moons. The lines of her teeth were quite charming and looked like the garland of jewels; she had the hair-do which was curved at three places and adorned with the garland of jasmine flowers. The kastūrī, saffron, red paint and sandal-paste besides the collyrium were applied on her body and the eyes. Her cheeks were decorated with several types of tree-leaves; she was having the vermilion spot resembling the flower of pomegranate; her thighs resembled the trunk of banana tree. Both her breasts were quite, hard thick and well-developed; she was bending because of the weight of her breasts and was suffering from passion. The beautiful damsel was looking with side-glances; both her feet which were painted with red paint and the saffron, looked like the red lotus flowers. Her costume was removed with the blowing of the wind, revealing her private parts, as a result of which she was filled with passion. She had an extremely charming complexion of the campaka flower. Finding her there, the unstable son of the god of love was infested with passion and spoke to her quite sweet words.

अनिरुद्ध उवाच

किं देवी किं च गान्धर्वी का त्वं कामिनी कानने।
कस्य स्त्री कस्य कन्या वा कं वा वाञ्छसि सुन्दरि॥१५॥

Aniruddha said- O beautiful one, are you a forest goddess or the daughter of Gandharvas; are you the daughter of a woman? O beautiful one, whom do you love?.

त्रैलोक्यातुलसौन्दर्या मुनिमानसमोहिनी।
न बिभेषि कथं ब्रूहि स्वयमेकाकिनी च माम्॥१६॥

You happen to be most beautiful of the three worlds and also make the minds of sages get attracted towards you. You tell me, are you alone here? Why are you not afraid of me?.

अहं त्रैलोक्यनाथस्य पौत्रः कामात्मजोऽधुना।
कान्तेऽहमनिरुद्धश्च नवीनयौवनाहतः॥१७॥
कमनीयश्च कामी च कामशास्त्रविशारदः।
कामुकीकामनां पूर्णां कर्तुमेवेश्वरः स्वयम्॥१८॥

Presently, I am the grandson the lord of the three worlds and the son of the god of love. O damsel, my name is Aniruddha. I am quite youthful, beautiful, passionate, well-versed in the scriptures of love and can fulfil the desire of the passionate woman.

मां भजस्व सुशीले त्वं सुवेषं च सुशीलकम्।
रतिशूरं रतिरसप्राज्ञं रतिरसप्रियम्॥१९॥
रतिपुत्रं रतिरसं प्रमत्तं रसिकं प्रिये।
युवानं व्याधिहीनं च कामुकं कामुकीच्छति॥२०॥

O well disciplined, one you are clad in beautiful garments and therefore you love me since I have a good nature, I am well-versed in the art of making love, desirous of making love and the son of Rati. O beloved, the passionate woman is always desirous of a passionate and a healthy person.

विदग्धासु विदग्धं च कान्तमायाति कामतः।
विदग्धाया विदग्धेन संगमो गुणवान्भवेत्॥२१॥

Only competent damsel seeks a competent and passionate person. Because the union of a competent damsels with the competent man is always desirable.

प्रच्छाद्य लोचनास्यं च नवसंगमलज्जिता।
विलोकयन्ती वक्राक्षिकोणेन तमुवाच सा॥२२॥

Thereafter feeling shy of the new union, she covered her eyes and the face and spoke to him.

कामिन्युवाच

कामुकः कामपुत्रोऽसि कामेन व्याकुलोऽधुना।
भवांश्चेत्कामुकीयोग्यो न कामश्चिन्तितः कथम्॥

The damsel said- You are quite passionate and the son of the god of love and are getting anxious because of the passions. If you are suitable for a passionate damsel, than why did you think about the passion.

पौत्रस्त्रैलोक्यनाथस्य स्वतः संभावितस्य च।
स्वयं योग्यो योग्यपुत्रो विवाहं न कथंचन॥२४॥

You yourself happen to be the grandson of the lord of the three worlds and the son of quite a competent person and are yourself also quite competent; then why don't you marry?.

विवाहिता यज्ञपत्नी सा च पुण्यव्रता सती।
निश्चला सततं साध्या वर्धिनी सङ्गिनी सदा॥२५॥

The married wife is always auspicious, chaste, virtuous, always remains with the husband, dwells in the race, develops the race and is the life partner.

भयप्रीतिदानसाध्या गुप्तपत्नी त्वनिश्चला।
नैमित्तिका न नित्या सा सा च वेदविवर्जिता॥२६॥

The secret wife is always fearful, could be won over by love and charities and is always unstable; such a wife remains only per chance and not the life partner. The keeping of such a wife is prohibited in the Vedas and other scriptures.

परं नरकसोपाना परत्रेहायशस्करा।
साधुस्तत्र न हि रतो वंशजो वैष्णवो यदि॥२७॥

The improper wife is the step for moving towards the hell and earns disgrace in this as well as the future world. A person of high caste besides being a Vaiṣṇavas or a noble person, never gets interested in the improper wife.

यदि पूर्वं भवेद्भ्रान्तो निवृत्तः साधुसङ्गतः।
प्रवृत्तिरेषा भूतानां निवृत्तिस्तु महाफला॥२८॥

In case someone gets attracted towards such a woman in fallacy and when he was not following the company of noble people, only in that case one could get attracted towards the improper wife because it is the nature of the people, but getting detached from such women is always beneficial.

प्रायश्चित्ती पुनर्लिप्तो निवृत्तः पातकी यदि।
उपहास्यो भुवि भवेत्सर्वं कुञ्जरशौचवत्॥२९॥

In case a detached person gets himself involved again in the worldly pleasure, such a person become a sinner and has to repent while being jeered upon on earth. All his actions become like the bathing of an elephant.

सुशीला सुन्दरी शान्ता धर्मपत्नी प्रशंसिता।
पतिव्रता सुसाध्या सा शश्वत्सुप्रियवादिनी॥३०॥
कोमलाङ्गी विदग्धा च श्यामा रतिसुखप्रदा।
एवंभूतां परित्यज्य वैशणवस्तपसे व्रजेत्॥३१॥
सा चेत्परिणता साध्वी शान्ता पुत्रवती यदा।
अन्यथा च वृथा सर्वं तपसः स्खलनं भवेत्॥३२॥

A Vaiṣṇava having a chaste disciplined, beautiful, peaceful, glorious, graceful, obedient, soft spoken, having soft limbs, quite competents, youthful and the one who pleases during the conjugal pleasure, such a wife and disowning her, proceeds for performing tapas. When such a lady begets a son, becomes peaceful in her mind, otherwise his entire tapas, would be destroyed.

असाधुश्च कुवंशश्चेत्परनारीं प्रयाति चेत्।
स याति नरकं घोरं पितृभिः सप्तभिःसह॥३३॥

In case a person of a degraded family goes to a graded woman he fall into the terrific hell for seven generations.

अहमूषा बाणकन्या बाणः शंकरकिंकरः।
बाणस्त्रैलोक्यविजयी शंकरो जगतां पतिः॥३४॥

I am Ūṣā the daughter of Bāṇa, who happens to be the devotee of Śiva and is the conquered of the three worlds, while Śiva happens to be lord of the tree worlds.

न स्वतन्त्रा पराधीना त्रिषु कालेषु कामिनी।
पुंश्चली या स्वतन्त्रा साऽप्यसद्वंशप्रसूतिका॥३५॥

A woman of high race can never be independent under any circumstances but she remains in bondage. The loose woman is always independent and born in the degraded family.

पिता ददाति कन्यां तां सुयोग्याय वराय च।
कन्या वरं न याचेत धर्म एष सनातनः॥३६॥

The father gives away in marriage his daughter to a competent person. The daughter does not desire for a husband. This is the eternal dharma.

त्वं च योग्योऽसि योग्याऽहं मामिच्छसि यदि प्रभो।
बाणं प्रार्थय शंभुं वाऽप्यथवा पार्वतीं सतीम्॥३७॥

You are quite competent and so am I. O lord, in case you are desirous of me, you go to Bāṇa, Śiva or the chaste Pārvatī with a request to seek my hand.

इत्युक्त्वा सुन्दरी साध्वी सान्तर्धाना बभूव ह।
निद्रां तत्याज सहसा कामी कामात्मजो मुने॥३८॥

Thus speaking that beautiful and chaste damsel disappeared. O sage, thereafter suddenly the sleep of Aniruddha, the son of the god of love was disturbed.

बुद्धवा स्वप्नं स विज्ञाय कामेन व्यथितान्तरः।
बभूव व्याकुलोऽशान्तो न दृष्ट्वा प्राणवल्लभाम्॥३९।

Witnessing the dream, he was filled with passion and finding his beloved no were there, he become upset.

त्यक्त्वाऽऽहारमनिद्रश्च प्रमत्तश्च कृशोदर:।
क्षणं तिष्ठति शेते च क्षणं रहसि रोदिति॥४०॥

Thereafter he discarded taking food, spent sleepless nights, got intoxicated and became quite lean and thin; sometimes he stood erect, sometimes he slept, while sometimes he wept in a lonely place.

पुत्रं दृष्ट्वा तु क्रन्दन्तं देवकी रुक्मिणी रति:।
अन्याश्च योषित: सर्वा: कथयामासुरीश्वरम्॥४१॥

Finding the son so weeping, Devakī, Rukmiṇī, Rati and other damsels spoke to lord Kṛṣṇa.

तासां च वचनं श्रुत्वा प्रहस्य मधुसूदन:।
उवाच सर्वतत्त्वज्ञ: कृष्णश्च पूर्णमानस:॥४२॥

On hearing their words, the lord who was well-versed in all the tattvas, smilingly spoke to them.

श्रीभगवानुवाच

कामातुरा बाणकन्या रतिं दृष्ट्वा शिवेशयो:।
वरं संप्राप दुर्गाया व्याकुला मदनास्त्रत:॥४३॥

Śrī Kṛṣṇa said- Finding Śiva and Pārvatī engaged in the conjugal pleasure, the daughter of Bāṇa became passionate. She then achieved the boon getting influenced with the passion.

स्वप्नं च दर्शयामास साऽनिरुद्धं च पार्वती।
मम पौत्रं प्रमत्तं च चकार कौतुकेन च॥४४॥
तत्पुत्री च प्रमत्तां तां करोमि स्वप्नतोऽधूना।
स्वच्छन्दं तिष्ठ न चिरं नास्ति चिन्ता मनोव्यथा॥४५॥

Pārvatī made Aniruddha to witness a dream and he has thus intoxicated the mind of my grandson. Now I shall intoxicate the daughter of Bāṇa in the dream. All of you should remain carefree; this mental agony would not lost for long.

इति कृष्ण: समाश्वास्य सर्वात्मा सर्वसिद्धिवित्।
स्वप्नं च दर्शयामास बाणपुत्रीं च कामुकीम्॥४६॥

Thus assuring them lord Kṛṣṇa who is the bestower of all the siddhis made with this illusion, the daughter of Bāṇa, to witness the dream.

सुप्ता सुतल्पे बाला सा पुष्पचन्दनचर्चिते।
नवयौवनसंयुक्ता रत्नभूषणभूषिता॥४७॥
शयाना रत्नपर्यङ्के ददर्श स्वप्नमीप्सितम्।

शयानं रत्नपर्यङ्के पुष्पचन्दनचर्चिते।
तं दृष्ट्वा सहसा साध्वी तन्मूलं प्रययौ मुदा॥५२॥

The damsel was quite youthful adorned with all the gem-studded ornaments besides the garland of flowers and was lying on the bed, witnessing a dream. She witnessed in dream a youthful person sleeping in a lonely place, in the palace of gems. He had the dark complexion, resembling the fresh cloud. He was extremely youthful, having the beauty resembling the crores of gods of love, had a smiling face, quite pleasant, clad with the ornament of gems like armlets, wristlets and anklets, besides two gem-studded ear ornament illumining the temples. The sandal-paste was plastered on his entire body. He was clad in yellow garment and adorned with the garland of jasmine flowers hanging on his chest. Finding him lying on the bed of roses, made of gems, the chaste girl went to him suddenly

उवाच मधुरं साध्वी हृदयेन विदूयता।
कामात्मजप्रिया कान्ता कामबाणप्रपीडिता॥५३॥

With her heart infested with love, the damsels spoke to Aniruddha the son of the god of love.

ऊषोवाच

कस्त्वं कामुक भद्रं ते मां भजस्व स्मरातुराम्।
अतिप्रौढां नवोढां च नवसंगमलालसाम्॥५४॥
तवानुरक्तां भक्तां च गान्धर्वेण समुद्वह।
विवाहाष्टप्रकारेषु गान्धर्व: सुलभो नृणाम्॥५५॥

Ūṣā said- O passionate one who are you? you enjoy the company of a passionate damsel like me, I am quite youthful, fresh and desirous of the fresh union. I feel attracted towards you and you perform the Gandharva type of marriage. The Gandharva type of marriage is permissible for the human beings.

अनुरक्तां प्रियां प्राप्य त्यजेद्यः कपटी पुमान्।
तस्माद्याति महालक्ष्मीः शापं दत्त्वा सुदारुणम्॥५६॥

If a deceitful person neglects a passionate damsels, Mahālakṣmī pronounces a terrific curse on him and leaves the place.

पुमानुवाच

अहं कृष्णस्य पौत्रश्च कामदेवात्मजः स्वयम्।
कथं गृह्णामि त्वां कान्ते तयोरनुमतिं विना॥५७॥

The man said- I am myself the grandson of Kṛṣṇa and the son of the god of love, therefore, O beautiful one, how can I accept you without their permission?.

इत्येवमुक्त्वा स पुमानन्तर्धानं चकार सः।
कामेन व्याकुला कान्ता न दृष्ट्वा कान्तमीप्सितम्॥५८॥
निद्रां त्यक्त्वा समुत्थाय तल्पादेव मनोहरात्।
विषसाद सखीमध्ये प्रमत्ता रुदती भृशम्॥५९॥

Thus speaking the person disappeared. The damsel on the other hand finding her beloved having disappeared, was completely upset; instead of sleeping, she got up from the bed and getting intoxicated she started speaking to her female friends.

पप्रच्छ तां वराऽऽलीनां किं किमित्येव निश्चितम्।
उवाच बोधयामास चित्रलेखा सुयोगिनी॥६०॥

Citralekhā who happened to be the best of the yoginīs asked her, What has happened; then she tried to convince her.

चेतनं कुरु कल्याणि कस्मात्ते भीतिरुल्बणा।
स्वयं शंभुः शिवा साक्षाद्दुर्लङ्घ्ये नगरे सति॥६१॥

Citralekhā said- O auspicious one, be conscious. From whom, have you felt so panicky? Both Śiva and Pārvatī are here and the place is inaccessible to anyone.

शिवस्मरणमात्रेण सर्वारिष्टं पलायते।
शिवं भवति सर्वत्र शिव एव शिवालयः॥६२॥

With the mere reciting of the name of Śiva, all the evils disappear and welfare prevails everywhere. Welfare is the abode of Śiva.

ध्यानाद्दुर्गतिनाशिन्याः सर्वं दुर्गं विनश्यति।
ददाति मङ्गलं तस्मै सर्वमङ्गलमङ्गला॥६३॥

By devoting the mind to Durgā, the destroyer of the misfortune, all the ailments disappear. Pārvatī the bestower of the welfare always provides welfare to all.

चित्रलेखावचः श्रुत्वा किंचिन्नोवाच सुन्दरी।
त्यक्त्वाऽऽहारं च निद्रां च पुरुषं चित्यत्सदा॥६४॥
चित्रलेखा सखी गत्वा बाणमाह च तत्प्रियाम्।
दुर्गां च शंकरं स्कन्दं गणेशं योगिनां गुरुम्॥६५॥

On hearing the words of Citralekhā, beautiful Ūṣā did not speak out anything. On the other hand, discarding her food and sleep, she started thinking about the same person. Citralekhā then went to her parents, Durgā, Śiva, as well as Gaṇeśa.

चित्रलेखावचः श्रुत्वा रुरोदोच्चैर्भृशं सती।
बाणश्च शंकराभ्याशे विषसाद प्रमूर्च्छितः।
जहास शंकरो दुर्गा कार्तिकेयो गणेश्वरः॥६६॥

Learning about the mental condition of Ūṣā, the wife of Bāṇa started crying aloud. Bāṇa who was seated besides Śiva was also grieved and he fainted. At the sight of the condition of the parents of Śiva, Pārvatī and Gaṇeśa started smiling.

गणेश्वर उवाच

यो ददाति ध्रुवं दुःखमन्यस्मै दम्भमोहितः।
सूक्ष्मधर्मविचारेण स विन्दति चतुर्गुणम्॥६७॥

Gaṇeśa said- The one who in arrogance, makes other to suffer from mental torture, he himself suffers four times more the torture Inflicted on others.

शिवेशयोश्च क्रीडां च दृष्ट्वा या काममोहिता।
वरं तस्यै ददौ दुर्गा वरमेव सुदुर्लभम्॥६८॥

Ūṣā became passionate, witnessing the conjugal pleasure of Śiva and Pārvatī. Durgā had blessed her with a boon of getting a unique husband.

स्वप्ने गत्वा स्वयं देवी मत्तं कृत्वा स्मरात्मजम्।
अधुना वामपार्श्वे च शंभोस्तिष्ठति मूकवत्।।६९।।

Pārvatī herself had infested the love for the son of the god of love with pass on in Ūṣā and now she is quietly siting the left of Śiva.

सर्वं ज्ञात्वा च सर्वज्ञो भगवान्हरिरीश्वरः।
स्वप्ने सुवेषं पुरुषं दर्शयामास कन्यकाम्।।७०।।

The omnipresent lord Kṛṣṇa had realised the same and have arranged Ūṣā to witness a dream in which the beautiful person was displayed.

सुवेषं पुरुषं दृष्ट्वा युवानं युवती सती।

At the sight of a competent person damsel always becomes desirous of him but is contained because of the fear of dharma. Finding a beautiful person, woman born in a degraded family or a loose woman is relieved of her sleep, food, husband, son, riches, house, intelligence, household, household affairs, shame of the family, the caste and dharma and ultimately she sacrifices her life also, but the degraded woman could never disown a youthful person who is well-versed in the art of making love. Therefore the intelligent person should protect the youthful ladies even after putting his life in danger. He should never believe a woman who is infested with illusion because the damsels speak sweet words but their hearts are quite sharp like a blade.

The bent of their mind is unknown to the Vedas and the people who are well-versed in the Vedas. Citralekhā who happened to be the best of the yoginīs, should playfully move to Dvārakā for bringing Aniruddha after abducting him. On hearing the worlds whiskered by Gaṇeśa, which could not be heard by Bāṇa. She was permitted to perform this job. Citralekhā at once reached Dvārakā and then the abode of Hari.

The place was inaccessible to all but still Citralekhā entered expeditiously and abducted Aniruddha and placed him on the chariot, with the influence of her yogic practices. O sage, the chaste Citralekhā could move with the speed of the mind. Blowing the conch, she in a moment reached Śoṇitpura. On the other hand finding Aniruddha missing from his chamber, all the ladies started crying, lamenting for the boy who was dearer to them than their lives. The all-knowledgeable Kṛṣṇa who was well-versed in all the tattvas, assured them variously. He at once accompanied with, Sāmba, Kāmadeva, Sātyaki and the army moved on with Garuḍa mounted on the chariot holding śaṁkha, cakra, gadā and padma. They moved on towards Śoṇitpura, the city was protected by the gaṇas of Śiva and Pārvatī.

On the other hand Citralekhā was a great yoginī quite graceful among the ladies, quite auspicious, peaceful and was well-known as siddhayoginī and as the granter of success, She than consoled the boy who was crying getting separated from his mother. Thereafter, she made him take his bath and the sandal-paste was applied on his body decorating him with the garland of flowers. Thus the boy having been beautifully decorated, was made to enter the inner apartment which was protected by the gods, through yogic practices. Ūṣā was without food for long, thin waisted and protected by her female friends, was woken up. She was also made to take bath and adorned with all the ornaments, garlands, applying the sandal-paste on the body in addition to the auspicious vermilion. Thereafter, in the auspicious time of Māhendra, both of them were made to talk with each other secretly. On finding her beloved there, the mental agony of Ūṣā was removed. She married Aniruddha the son of the god of love in a Gandharva style and enjoyed the conjugal pleasure. Both of them enjoyed the conjugal pleasure for a long time.

The passionate Aniruddha did not care for the day and night. On the other hand the passionate Ūṣā was fainted while enjoying the conjugal pleasures for the first time. Thus both of them were united and they enjoyed all the conjugal pleasures in lonely place, thereafter, O Brāhmaṇa, the king came to know about the reality from his guards.

Bāṇa gets ready for a war hearing the news about his Daughter

नारायण उवाच

Nārāyaṇa said- Thereafter, the guards feeling panicky prostrating before Kārttikeya, Gaṇeśa and Durgā spoke to the king Bāṇa.

रक्षका ऊचुः

The gods said- The time is quite wicked and unsurpassable. Presently the adult daughter becoming independent is desirous of a husband.

Citralekhā, herself becoming a messenger, brought a competent groom for the girl who is quite strong, valorous, resembling Indra, a great charioteer, youthful, healthy and is more beautiful than the god of love. She made both of them to enjoy each other company through out the day and night. Now chaste Ūṣā, your daughter has conceived. In spite of her having been born in noble race, she has become like the burning fire for both the races. Now you have to, become a grandfather of a male of a female child. You meet an extremely youthful and clever person besides the clever daughter in whose body there are signs of enjoying conjugal pleasures and who is completely under the command of her husband, is quite unstable remaining in the company of a male, enjoying conjugal pleasures in seclusion, always smiling, looking with side-glances and unstable eyes. On hearing this, Bāṇa was ashamed as well as enraged.

He resolved for waging a war but Śiva stopped him from doing so. He spoke to Gaṇeśa, Kārttikeya, Pārvatī, Bhairavī, Bhadrakālī, Yoginī, eight Bhairavas, eleven Rudras, Goblins, Pretas, Kūṣmāṇḍas, Vetālas, Brahmarākṣasas, Yogīndras, the Siddhas, Caṇḍa and other Rudras, Koṭarī the village deity, spoke to Śiva the words which were considered to be beneficial for Bāṇa. These words truthful according to polity and were beneficial in the long run.

Śiva said- I am narrating to you an ancient story you please listen to it. In order to rid the earth of her burden, the lord himself has incarnated on earth in the land of Bhārata and has killed many kings; all the globes are enshrined in his hair-pits; his abode is the eternal Brahman that is why people call him with the name of Vāsudeva. Lord Kṛṣṇa happens to be on earth as Brahmā for Brahmā. He is beyond Prakṛti, devoid of guṇas, unattracted, always graceful to his devotees and takes to human form for their sake, is eternal Brahman is the abode of the supreme soul. He is the one with the departure of whom, a human becomes a dead body. How can a war be possible with him.

शस्त्रविद्धो महाकाशो यथा मूढ दिशस्तथा।
तथाऽऽत्मा च निराकारो देही च ध्यानहेतुना॥१९॥

As one is unable to visualise the sky having been covered with the weapons. Similarly a person is unable to visualise the invisible soul even by meditation.

तस्य पुत्रोऽनिरुद्धश्च महाबलपराक्रमः।
त्रैलोक्यमपि संहर्तुं क्षणेन च क्षमः स्वयम्॥२०॥

His son named Aniruddha can destroy the three worlds in no time.

सर्वे देवाश्च दैत्याश्च बलवन्तो महारथाः।
ते सर्वे चानिरुद्धस्य कलां नार्हन्ति षोडशीम्॥२१॥

All the gods, the demons and all the valorous people do not compare to the one-sixteenth part of Aniruddha.

ययोरेव समं वित्तं ययोरेव समं बलम्।
तयोर्विवाहो मैत्री च न तु पुष्टविपुष्टयोः॥२२॥

Such of the people who have comparable strength and the riches, the marriage should be performed only between them; it would not be proper to engage a weak person with a valorous one.

बलिः पिता ते दैत्यानां सारभूतो महारथः।

He is the one who drove Bali your father, who was immensely valorous and was born out the aṁśa of Hari to the neither world in a movement. He is the one who is the lord of Vṛndāvana, the supreme soul and all other creatures are only his rays.

पार्वत्युवाच

ध्यायते ध्याननिष्ठश्च हृत्पद्मे च दिवानिशम्।

Pārvatī said- Brahmā, Śiva, Śeṣa always meditate upon him in their hearts through out the day and night.

दिनेशश्च गणेशश्च योगीन्द्राणां गुरोर्गुरुः।
ध्यायते परमात्मानं भगवन्तं सनातनम्॥२६॥

Sūrya, Gaṇeśa, Śiva the teacher of the yogīs, always meditate upon the eternal lord.

Manu, the sages, siddhas, the yogīs always meditate upon the eternal lord.

सर्वादिं सर्वबीजं च सर्वेशं च परात्परम्।
ध्यायन्ते ज्ञानिनः सर्वे भगवन्तं स०॥२९॥

All the intellectuals, who are the foremost of all, adore the lord of all, who is eternal.

गणेश उवाच

अभाग्यं च बलेश्चापि वैष्णवस्य महात्मनः।
मूढोऽयमीदृशः पुत्रः प्रह्लादस्य च धीमतः॥३०॥

Gaṇeśa said- It is misfortune of Prahlāda and Bali a great devotee of Viṣṇu who has given birth to such a foolish son.

स्कन्द उवाच

अये भ्रातर्न श्रुता च हिरण्यकशिपोः कथा।

Kārttikeya said- O brother, have you heard the stories of Hiraṇyakaśipu, Hiraṇyākṣa, Madhu and Kaiṭabha. All of them were quite valorous demons and were your ancestors. All of them were dispatched to the abode of Yama playfully by Viṣṇu.

भगवान्यस्य संहर्ता स्वयं नारायणः प्रभु।
तस्य को रक्षिता भ्रातर्निवर्तस्व शुभाय च॥३३॥

O brother, who can save the one who is to be killed by none else them Nārāyaṇa himself. Therefore keeping in view your own welfare, you leave the idea of a war.

तेषां च वचनं श्रुत्वा तानुवाचासुरेश्वरः।

On hearing his words, Bāṇa was enraged. His face and eyes became red with anger. He held a bow in his hand and started thundering like the god of death.

बाण उवाच

Bāṇa said- O mother, O father Śiva, O brother Gaṇeśa, O brother Kārttikeya, listen to what I speak. The people performing deeds have to face the good or bad results according to the deeds performed by them. Who can get the reward of any type without performing a deed.

नाप्राप्तकालो म्रियते विद्धः शरशतैरपि।

In which ever way the destiny has ordained the person has to meet with the death in the same way, who can avert the result of an action which one has to face definitely.

संग्रामे कातरो यो हि निष्फलं तस्य जीवनम्।
जयी यशश्च लभते मृतः स्वर्गं च गच्छति॥३९॥

The one who becomes a coward in the battle-field, his life becomes useless, the person who is victories in the battle-field, he earns the glory and after the death he achieves the heaven.

He entered the city which was protected by Śiva, Pārvatī and Gaṇeśa and accepted the daughter, in the same way as a valorous person does in the battle-field. Who can abduct anyone's daughter like this, who is still, alike. In the court, the guard has spoken that the girl has conceived. These words entered my ears like vajra. Therefore, after killing Aniruddha, I shall also kill the girl, otherwise I shall jump into the burning fire.

कोटर्युवाच

Koṭarī said- O son, you listen, since I happen to be your mother according to dharma. The parents have to suffer from, mental agony at every step, because of the conduct of the wicked son. Since Ūṣā had been accepted by somebody, therefore she cannot be given by you to anyone else. You give away your daughter to Aniruddha, the grandson of Kṛṣṇa and the son of Pradyumna. By doing so your seven generations in the land of Bhārata would be purified.

In order to achieve the glory and lustre on the land of Bhārata, you give away everything in dowry otherwise lord Hari would surely kill you with the use of the Sudarśana-cakra in the battle-field. "Who would be able to save you?" On hearing the words of Koṭarī the demon was further enraged. O sage, mounted on chariot he went to the place where the grandson of Kṛṣṇa was lodged. Thereafter with the permission of Śiva, Kārttikeya took the command of army and marched on. Bāṇa then performed the welfare ceremony. Gaṇeśa, Śiva, Pārvatī and Koṭarī blessed Bāṇa variously. All the eight Bhairavas, eleven Rudras, holding the weapons in their hands started for a war. In the meantime under the influence of Pārvatī and the wife of Bāṇa, messenger carried the words, to Aniruddha and spoke to him.

दूत उवाच

Bāṇa said- O valorous one, you are extremely wicked, devoid of the knowledge of polity; you are the- form of fire flame for the solar race, you are acting disgracefully in the auspicious land, your father owned the wife of Śambrāsura after killing him. You were born out of her. You are a blot on your race.

बाणस्य वचनं श्रुत्वा चुकोप कामनन्दनः।
उवाच परमार्थं च योग्यं प्रत्युत्तरं मुने॥७५॥

The wife of his brother named Draupadī was married to five persons. He is the dweller of the cowsheds; is voluptuous and is quite wicked. His elder brother known as Baladeva remains drunk, consuming wine and summons Yamunā the wife of his brother according to his sweet will. That is why Arjuna the son of Kuntī abducted his sister Subhadrā, who was the daughter of his meternal uncle. You should know about your family traditions. O sages, listening to the words of Bāṇa Aniruddha was enraged and he gave a suitable reply.

अनिरुद्ध उवाच

पिता मे कामदेवश्च ब्रह्मपुत्रः पुरा शुचिः।
यस्यास्त्रेण वशीभूतं त्रैलोक्यं सततं शृणु॥७६॥

Aniruddha said- My father named Kāmadeva was the auspicious son of Brahmā in earlier times, with the weapons of whom all the three worlds were over-powered.

शिवकोपानलेनैव भस्मीभूतः स्वकर्मतः।
कृष्णस्य पुत्रोऽप्यधुना सर्वेषां परमात्मनः॥७७॥

छायां मायावतीं दत्त्वा मायया शयनेन च।
रतिं स्वधर्मं संरक्ष्य धर्मसाक्षी च तद्गृहे॥७९॥

Because of his misdeed he was burn to ashes because of the anger of Śiva. Currently he happens to be the son of lord Kṛṣṇa, my mother named Rati is quite a chaste lady. She had to stay in the house of Śambara because of the desire for her husband, who had abducted her forcibly. She gave away her shadow to the demon and saved her chastity. Dharma stands witness to the same.

निहत्य शम्बरं शत्रुं गृहीत्वा स्वप्रियां सतीम्।
आजगाम द्वारकां च चन्द्रसूर्यौ च साक्षिणौ॥८०॥
पितामहं वासुदेवं त्वं किं जानासि मूढवत्।
यं च सन्तो न जानन्ति वेदाश्चत्वार एव च॥८१॥

My father killing the demon Śambara took his chaste wife with him and went to Dvārakā. Both the sun and moon are witness to the same; how can you like a fool understand my grandfather Vāsudeva who is unknown even to the Vedas.

वासु: सर्वनिवासश्च विश्वानि यस्य लोमसु।
तस्य देव: परं ब्रह्म वासुदेव इति स्मृत:॥८२॥

Vāsu is the place which happens to be the abode of all, one in whose hair-pits, the globe are lodged, he lord came to be known as Vāsudeva.

शंकरं पृच्छ साक्षाच्च यस्य भृत्योऽधुना भवान्।
कृष्णभृत्यस्य च बले: पुत्रोऽसि किंकरात्मज:॥८३॥

You better ask about him from Śiva to whom you are serving. You happen to be the son of Bali who is the servant of Kṛṣṇa and as such you happen to be his slave.

गोकुले वैश्यपुत्रत्वं ब्रूहि त्वं ज्ञानदुर्बल।
भोजनं वेदविहितं शश्वत्क्षत्रियवैश्ययो:॥८४॥

You are devoid of wisdom and as such you call him as the son of Vaiśya of Gokula. The Vedas permit the taking of food with Kṣatriyas and the Vaiśyas.

द्रोण: प्रजापति: श्रेष्ठा धरा तस्य प्रिया सती।
पुत्रं च तपसा लेभे परमात्मानमीश्वरम्॥८५॥

Droṇa was Prajāpati and his wife Dharā was quite chaste; both of them performed tapas and achieved the lord as their son.

द्रोणो नन्दो वैश्यराजो यशोदा सा धरा सती।
वृषभानसुता राधा सुदाम्न: शापकारणात्॥८६॥
त्रिंशत्कोटिं च गोपीनां गृहीत्वा भर्तुराज्ञया।
पुण्यं च भारतं क्षेत्रं गोलोकादाजगाम सा॥८७॥

The same Droṇa was born as Nanda and the chaste Dharā was born as Yaśodā. Rādhā on the other hand was born as the daughter of Vṛṣabhāna due to the curse of Sudāmā; she at the command of her lord accompanied with thirty crores of cowherdesses arrived in the land of Bhārata from the Goloka

ताभि: सार्धं च रेमे च स्वपत्नीभिर्मुदाऽन्वित:।
पाणिं जग्राह राधाया: स्वयं ब्रह्मा पुरोहित:॥८८॥

Because of this, the lord kept the company of those damsels. He married Rādhā and Brahma performed himself as the priest of the marriage.

गोपकोटिश्च गोलोकादाजगाम मुदाऽन्विता।
तेजसा हरितुल्यास्ते पार्षदप्रवरा हरे:॥८९॥

A crore of cowherd boys arrived from the Goloka on earth. All of them were the best of the attendants of Hari and were illustrious like him.

गोरक्षणं हरेरेव गोपवेषस्य चाऽऽत्मन:।
गोपानां शिशुरक्षार्थं मायेशस्यापि मायया॥९०॥

The lord with his illusion turning to the form of the cowherds is protecting the cows with his illusion.

पूतना बलिकन्या च भगिनी च तवासुर।
दृष्ट्वा च वामनं विन्ध्या चकार पुत्रमानसम्॥९१॥
एवंभूतो यदि मम पुत्रो भवति सांप्रतम्।
स्तनं ददामि तनयं कृत्वा वक्षसि सुन्दरम्॥९२॥

O demon, Pūtanā was the daughter of Bali and your sister; she was childless in earlier birth and looking at the lord as the incarnation of Vāmana had desired to achieve a son like him and could feed the child with her breasts.

तस्या: पूर्णं मानसं च चकार भगवान्प्रभु:।
स्तनं दत्त्वा च गोलोकं ययौ सा रत्नयानत:॥९३॥
कुब्जा सा भगिनी पूर्वं रावणस्य दुरात्मन:।

तेन पुण्येन तंलब्ध्वा गोलोकं सा जगाम ह।
गोपी बभूव गोलोके कृष्णस्याऽऽलिङ्गनेन च॥९६॥

The lord fulfilled her desire; after feeding the child with her breasts she left the earth mounted over a gem-studded plane to Goloka. Kubjā on the other hand was the sister of Rāvaṇa known as Śūrpaṇakhā in her earlier birth, who passionately desired Rāma as her husband but the extremely religious Lakṣmaṇa severed her nose. Thereafter she performed tapas and achieved a boon from Brahma, as a result of which he achieved the lord as her husband and then proceeded to Goloka as a result of her embrace by lord Kṛṣṇa, she went to Goloka as a cowherdesses.

नरको हरिवध्यश्च स्वपूर्वप्राक्तनेन च।
पाणिं जग्राह कन्यानां साक्षिणौ शशिभास्करौ॥९७।

Narakāsura was killed because of his earlier misdeeds and Hari married the damsels. The sun and the moon stand witness to the same.

भीष्मकन्या महालक्ष्मी: श्रीकृष्णस्य प्रिया सती।
वैकुण्ठादागता साध्वी ब्रह्मणोऽनुमतेन च॥९८॥

भुवो भारावतरणहेतुना गमनं हरे:।
संजहार भुवो भारं कुरुपाण्डवयुद्धत:॥१००॥

Mahālakṣmī the daughter of Bhīṣma became the chaste wife of Kṛṣṇa who arrived on earth at the command of Brahmā from Vaikuṇṭha. She was born as Satyabhāmā the wife of Satrājita; the king gave away the daughter in marriage to Kṛṣṇa together with and auspicious gem. Lord Hari incarnated on earth in order to rid her from the burden. That is why engaging the Kauravas and the Pāṇḍavas in the battle-field, he relieved the earth of her burden.

तस्य भ्राता हिरण्याक्षस्तेनैव वरुणो जित:।
हरिर्नृसिंहरूपेण तं जघानावलीलया॥१०३॥

Sisupāla and Dantavakra happened to be the two guards of the lord in Vaikuṇṭha, known by the name of Jaya and Vijaya. Both of them had fallen from Vaikuṇṭha because of the curse from Sanaka and were born on earth thrice; in one birth they were born as Hiraṇyakaśipu and Hiraṇyākṣa, he had conquered Varuṇa. Lord Viṣṇu taking to the form of Nṛsiṁha killed him playfully.

The other one Hiraṇyākṣa was killed by the lord incarnating himself as Vārāha; now you listen to the story of his second births, In the second birth they were born as Rāvaṇa and Kumbhakarṇa who were killed by Rāma; thereafter both of them were born as the sons of Dharma and were killed by Kṛṣṇa. Jarāsandha, Śālva and the wicked Kaṁsa had also to reap the results of their misdeeds and had to be killed at the hands of Kṛṣṇa. Yavana who was among the sons of Māndhātā was also killed because of his earlier misdeeds. How is Kṛṣṇa lord of Lakṣmī concerned with the riches.

Because of the Puṇyaka-vrata performed by Satyā the lord had to bring the Pārijāta tree for her. Jāmbavatī the daughter of Bhalluka was herself born as aṁśa of Durgā. Lord Hari accepted her as his spouse because of the tapas performed by her.

कुन्त्याश्च क्षेत्रजा: पुत्रा: केवलं भर्तुराज्ञया।

The kṣetraja sons were born to Kuntī at the command of her lord. This practise is prohibited in the Kaliyuga but was well-known in all the other three yugas.

Yudhiṣṭhira had been the son of Dharma, Bhīma was the son of the wind god, Arjuna was the son of Indra who achieved victory on the earth and in earlier times Śiva bestowed him the Pāśupata weapon. In Kaliyuga the practice of five things are prohibited which include, Aśvamedha sacrifice, Gomedha sacrifice, samnyāsa, conception through artificial insemination and conception from Devara. Draupadī was bestowed with five spouses because of the boon of Śiva.

Chapter - 116

The episode of Draupadī having five Spouses

बाण उवाच

अनिरुद्ध बुधोऽसि त्वं त्वयोक्तं सत्यमेव च।
शंभुना चैवमुक्तं च सर्वं बुद्धं स्वचेतसा।।१।।

Bāṇa said- O Aniruddha, you are quite an intelligent person. You have spoken the truth. Śiva also told me like that. I have well understood in my mind everything.

त्वयोक्तं शंकरवरात्पञ्चानां स्वामिनां प्रिया।
द्रौपदी च महाभागा तन्मे व्याख्यातुर्महसि।।२।।

You have told me that the virtuous Draupadī could have five spouses because of the boon of Śiva, you narrate the same episode to me in detail.

शम्बरेण हृता पूर्वं तव माता कथं रति:।
देवैरपि कथं दत्ता देवास्तेन जिता कथम्।।३।।

Why did Śambara abduct Rati your mother and why did the gods hand her over to him. How could the gods over-power him.

अनिरुद्ध उवाच

एकदा रघुनाथश्च सीतया लक्ष्मणेन च।

वहनिस्तत्र समायातो द्विजरूपी कृपानिधि:।
भविष्यत्कथयामास श्रुतिकौटपरं वच:।।९।।

Aniruddha said- Once Rāma and Sītā having bath in Pañcavaṭī were seated on the bank of the river. At that point of time Sītā said, "In the autumn season the water becomes spotless and tasteful; the food and other dishes become cool." Rāma collected some fruits and handed them over to Sītā. Then handing over some fruits to Lakṣmaṇa, he ate himself; Lakṣmaṇa received the fruits, the water but did not consume the same, because in order to redeem Sītā, he intended to kill Meghanāda. Only such a person could kill Meghanāda who could never have slept for fourteen years nor had he eaten anything. In order to have an audience with the lotus eyed lord, the merciful Agni taking to the form of a Brāhmaṇa arrived there and started speaking harsh words.

वह्निरुवाच

शृणु राम महाभाग सीतासंगोपनं कुरु।
सप्ताहाभ्यन्तरे चैव रावणो दुष्टराक्षसः॥१०॥
दुर्निवार्यः प्राक्तनेन जानकीं च हरिष्यति।
विधात्रा लिखितं कर्म प्राक्तनं केन वार्यते॥११॥
वेदैश्चतुर्भिः कथितं न च दैवात्परं वरम्॥१२॥

Agni said- O virtuous Rāma, you hide Sītā somewhere, because Rāvaṇa influenced with the evil deeds of his earlier births, would arrive here and abduct Sītā. This cannot be prevented. This has been ordained by destiny. Who can escape from the same? It has been ordained. in the Vedas that destiny is most powerful.

राम उवाच

सीतां गृहीत्वा त्वं गच्छ च्छायाऽत्रैव तु तिष्ठतु।
कलत्रवर्जनं कर्म सर्वेषां च जुगुप्सितम्॥१३॥

Rāma said- You carry Sītā with you and her shadow he should remain here because it is difficult to perform any deed without a woman.

सीतां गृहीत्वा प्रययौ रुदतीं च हुताशनः।
सीतया सदृशी छाया तस्थौ श्रीरामसंनिधौ॥१४॥

The god of fire then took away Sītā who was feeling gloomy and crying. Since then the shadow of Sītā remained with Rāma.

सा च च्छाया हृता पूर्वं रावणेनावलीलया।
समुद्धार तां रामो निहत्य तं सबान्धवम्॥१५॥

The same shadow Sītā was carried by Rāvaṇa playfully in earlier times. Thereafter Rāma after killing Rāvaṇa with all his relatives, redeemed Sītā.

वह्नौ परीक्षाकाले च च्छाया वह्नौ विवेश सा।
अग्निश्छायां च संरक्ष्य ददौ रामाय जानकीम्॥१६

At the time of fire ordeal, the shadow Sītā entered the fire. The god of fire protected the shadow Sītā and handed her over to him Sītā in two forms.

रामस्तां च गृहीत्वा च प्रययौ स्वाश्रमं मुदा।
छाया तस्थौ वह्निपार्श्वे हृदयेन विदूयता॥१७॥

Rāma delightfully went back to his āśrama. The shadow Sītā on the other hand started living with Agni with a very heavy heart.

सा च च्छाया तपश्चक्रे नारायणसरोवरे।
तपश्चकार दिव्यं च शतवर्षं च शूलिनः॥१८॥

The shadow Sītā then performed severe tapas at a pool named Nārāyaṇa. For a hundred divine years she adored Śiva.

वरं वृणुष्व भद्रे त्वमुवाच शंकरश्च ताम्।
उवाच सा शिवं व्यग्रा भर्तृदुःखेन दुःखिता॥१९॥
पतिं देहि पञ्चधा सा वरं वव्रे त्रिलोचनम्।
सर्वसंपत्प्रदस्तुष्टस्तस्यै शर्वो वरं ददौ॥२०॥

Thereafter, Śiva appeared before her and said, O virtuous lady, ask for a born, suffering from the pain from the separation of her husband and getting upset, she spoke to Śiva, "Give me my husband back." These words were repeated by her five times. Lord Śiva getting pleased with her tapas granted her the boon.

महादेव उवाच

साध्वि त्वं पञ्चधा ब्रूहि पतिं देहीति व्याकुला।
पञ्चेन्द्राश्च हरेरंशा भविष्यन्ति प्रियास्तव॥२१॥

Mahādeva said- O chaste lady, getting upset you had desired for the husband uttering five times therefore five Indras would become your spouses from the aṁśa of Viṣṇu.

ते च सर्वे च पञ्चेन्द्राश्चाधुना पञ्च पाण्डवा:।
सा च च्छाया द्रौपदी च यज्ञकुण्डसमुद्भवा॥२२॥
कृतयुगे वेदवती त्रेतायां जनकात्मजा।
द्वापरे द्रौपदी छाया तेन कृष्णा त्रिहायणी॥२३॥

Those five Indras have currently appeared on earth in the form of five Pāṇḍavas and Draupadī is the shadow Sītā who appeared from the sacrificial alter. The same shadow was known as Vedavatī in Satyayuga. In Tretāyuga she was known as Jānakī and in Dvāpara she is born as Draupadī. Because of this, Draupadī is known of having been born thrice.

वैष्णवी कृष्णभक्ता च तेन कृष्णा प्रकीर्तिता।
स्वर्गलक्ष्मीर्महेन्द्राणां सा च पश्चाद्भविष्यति॥२४॥

Draupadī is an extremely chaste and Vaiṣṇava woman, a devotee of Kṛṣṇa and because of the same she is also called Kṛṣṇa. In future she would be born as Svargalakṣmī of Indra.

राजा ददौ फाल्गुनाय कन्यायाश्च स्वयंवरे।
पप्रच्छ मातरं वीरो वस्तु प्राप्तं मयाऽधुना॥२५॥

The king in the Svayaṁvara of Draupadī gave her to Arjuna. The valorous Arjuna spoke to the mother I have brought a unique thing with me.

तमुवाच स्वयं माता गृहाण भ्रातृभि: सह।
शंभोर्वरेण पूर्वं च परत्र मातुराज्ञया॥२६॥
द्रौपद्या: स्वामिनस्तेन हेतुना पञ्च पाण्डवा:।
चतुर्दशानामिन्द्राणां पञ्चेन्द्रा पञ्च पाण्डवा:॥२७॥

But the mother spoke out, "You enjoy the same with your brothers." Therefore because of the earlier boon of Śiva and because of command of the mother later on, Draupadī had five spouses. These five Pāṇḍavas happen to be five Indras out of the fourteen Indras.

शंकरेणाभिसंशप्ता सा मात्रा भर्त्सितेन च।
भर्ता ते भस्मसाद्भूतो हरकोपानलेन च॥२८॥
हे रति त्वं मया शप्ता दैत्यग्रस्ता भवाधुना।
विजित्य देवान्सेन्द्रांश्च शम्बरस्त्वां हरिष्यति॥२९॥

Śiva had pronounced a curse on my mother what her husband would be burnt to ashes because of his anger. At this she denounced Śiva thereafter Śiva again who said to her, "O Rati, because of my curse you would be over-powered by a demon." Śambara after conquering the gods would abduct you.

पुनरुक्तं वरं प्रादात्सतीत्वं ते न यास्यति।
छायां दत्त्वा तिष्ठ गेहे यावज्जीवति ते पति:॥३०॥

Thus speaking, he again pronounced a boon on her, "Your chastity would not be lost. You entrusting your shadow to the demon, would live in your own abode, till such time your husband is brought back to life".

इति ते कथितं सर्वमितिहासं पुरातनम्।
देवानां गुप्तचरितं शृणु दैत्येन्द्र सांप्रतम्॥३१॥
एतस्मिन्नन्तरे तत्र सुभद्रश्च महाबल:।
कुम्भाण्डभ्राता बलवान्बाणसेनापतीश्वर:॥३२॥

Thus I have narrated to you the ancient story, now O demon, listen to the secret story of the gods. At the same time the valorous Subhadrā arrived there, who happened to be the brother of Kumbhāṇḍa and was more valorous warrior of Bāṇa.

निर्भर्त्स्य बाणं समरे शस्त्रपाणिर्महारथ:।
श्रीकृष्णपौत्रं शूलं च चिक्षेप प्रलयाग्निवत्॥३३॥

The great warrior denounced Bāṇa and getting equipped with all the weapons, he threw a trident at Aniruddha, the grandson of Kṛṣṇa.

अर्धचन्द्रेण तच्छूलं चिच्छेद कामपुत्रक:।
शक्तिं चिक्षेप भद्रश्च शतसूर्यसमप्रभाम्॥३४॥
वैष्णवास्त्रेण चिच्छेद तां शक्तिं कामपुत्रक:।
नारायणास्त्रं चिक्षेप सुभद्रो रणमूर्धनि॥३५॥

But the son of the god of love neutralised it with the use of the crescent arrow. Bhadra then shot a śakti which was illumining like hundreds of suns. Aniruddha on his part destroyed the same with the use of Vaiṣṇavāstra. Subhadrā then used Nārāyaṇāstra in the battle-field.

प्रणम्य शेते निर्भीतो मदनस्य सुतो बली।
ऊर्ध्वमस्त्रं च बभ्राम शतसूर्यसमप्रभम्॥३६॥

But Aniruddha the son of the god of love bowed before Nārāyaṇāstra and fearlessly slept there. The weapon issuing the lustre of the hundred suns started moving round and round above Aniruddha.

प्रलीनमस्त्रमाकाशे विश्वसंहारकारणम्।
अस्त्रे गते सोऽनिरुद्धो गृहीत्वा च महानसिम्॥३७॥
प्रबभञ्ज भद्ररथं जघानाश्वांश्च सारथिम्।
जघान तं सुभद्रं च लीलया रणमूर्धनि॥३८॥

After sometime the weapon which could be cause of the destruction of the universe disappeared. After the disappearing of the weapon, Aniruddha held a sword in his hand and broke the chariot of Bhadra, killing, horses as well as the charioteer. Moving forward then he killed Subhadrā play fully.

हते सुभद्रे बाणश्च महाबलपराक्रमः।.
बाणानां शतकं चापि चिक्षेप रणमूर्धनि॥३९॥
कामात्मजोऽग्निबाणेन बाणौघं प्रददाह सः।
बाणश्चिक्षेप ब्रह्मास्त्रं सृष्टिसंहारकारणम्॥४०॥
दृष्ट्वा कामात्मजः शीघ्रं सबीजं मन्त्रपूर्वकम्।
ब्रह्मास्त्रेणैव सहसा संजहारावलीलया॥४१॥

After the killing of Subhadra, Bāṇa shot a hundred arrows which were burnt out by the son of Kāmadeva with the shooting of an arrow. Thereafter Bāṇa shot Brahmāstra which could destroy the entire universe. Aniruddha on the other hand shot another Brahmāstra reciting the mantras and destroyed the one shot by Bāṇa.

बाणः पाशुपतं क्षेप्तुं समारेभे च कोपतः।
निषिद्धश्च गणेशेन स्कन्देन शंभुना तथा॥४२॥

Bāṇa getting enraged, was about to shoot Pāśupata, weapon but was presented from doing so by Gaṇeśa, Kārttikeya and Śiva.

तद्दृष्ट्वा सोऽनिरुद्धस्तं धनुर्बाणौघसंयुतम्।
मुमोच जृम्भणे युद्धे शीघ्रं तं च महारथम्॥४३॥

Finding Bāṇa attempting to use Brahmāstra, Aniruddha shot a number of arrows as a result of which the valorous Bāṇa started yawning in the battle-field.

जडो बभूव बाणश्च निश्चेष्टो रणमूर्धनि।
पुनश्चिक्षेप निद्रास्त्रं निद्रितं तं चकार सः॥४४॥

बाणं ततं निद्रितं दृष्ट्वा गृहीत्वा खड्गमुत्तमम्।
बाणं हन्तुं समुद्यन्तं वारयामास कार्तिकः॥४५॥

Thereafter Bāṇa became motionless in the battle-field. Thereafter Aniruddha shot a sleeping arrow, as a result of which Bāṇa was over-powered by sleep. Finding Bāṇa over-powered with sleep in the battle-field, he took out his sword and was about to kill the demon king when Kārttikeya prevented him from doing so.

स्कन्दश्च शतबाणैश्च वारयामास लीलया।
अनिरुद्धं महाभागं बलवन्तं धनुर्धरम्॥४६॥

Kārttikeya prevented Aniruddha from attacking Bāṇa with the shooting of a hundred arrows.

अनिरुद्धश्च सहसा तथा शक्त्या दुरत्यया।
बभञ्ज कार्तिकरथं रत्नेन्द्रसारनिर्मितम्॥४७॥

Aniruddha then shot Śakti-astra which was indestructible and broke into pieces the chariot of Kārttikeya which was built with the best of gems.

गदया कार्तिकः क्रुद्धोऽप्यनिरुद्धरथं मुदा।
बभञ्ज लीलया तत्र क्षणेन रणमूर्धनि॥४८॥

Kārttikeya on the other hand getting enraged broke the chariot of Aniruddha into pieces.

अनिरुद्धोऽर्धचन्द्रेण क्षुरधारेण लीलया।
चिच्छेद कार्तिकधनुर्भल्लास्त्रेण नियोजितम्॥४९॥

Aniruddha then shot a crescent arrow at Kārttikeya which broke his bow and thereafter the Bhallāstra was used by Aniruddha.

जघान कार्तिकस्तं च गदया च दुरन्तया।
गदां जग्राह तद्धस्ताज्जवेन मदनात्मजः॥५०॥

कार्तिकः पुनरागत्य गृहीत्वा कामपुत्रकम्।
गृहीत्वा च करेणैव पातयामास भूतले॥५२॥

Kārttikeya then attacked Aniruddha with a massive club but Aniruddha the son of the god of love, held the club in his hands forcefully and shot it back to Kārttikeya who was about to throw a trident at Aniruddha. In the meantime Kārttikeya moved forward and holding Aniruddha with his hands threw him on the ground.

अनिरुद्धो गृहीत्वाऽसिं प्रभुस्तस्थौ महाबलः।
तयोर्विरोधं दूरं च प्रचकार गणेश्वरः॥५३॥

Most powerful lord Aniruddha took a sword in his hand. At this, Gaṇeśa the great, intervened and pacified born of them.

कार्तिकः प्रययौ गेहमूषागेहं स्मरात्मजः।
सर्वं निवेदितुं शंभुं प्रययौ च गणेश्वरः॥५४॥

Kārttikeya then left for his home and Aniruddha went back to the abode of Ūṣā. Gaṇeśa left the place for the abode of Śiva in order to narrate to him the entire story.

Conversation between Śiva and Gaṇeśa

नारायण उवाच

गणेशस्तु शिवस्थानं गत्वा नत्वा महेश्वरम्।
सर्वं विज्ञापयामास क्रमेण च पृथक्पृथक्।।१।।
बाणानिरुद्धयोर्युद्धं सुभद्रनिधनं तथा।
स्कन्दानिरुद्धयोर्युद्धमनिरुद्धस्य विक्रमम्।।२।।

Nārāyaṇa said- Gaṇeśa after reaching the abode of Śiva bowed in reverence to him and narrated to him separately all the happenings of the battle-field, which included the battle between Bāṇa and Aniruddha, killing of Subhadrā, battle between Kārttikeya and Aniruddha and the prowess of Aniruddha.

गणेशवचनं श्रुत्वा प्रहस्य भगवान्भव:।
उवाच श्लक्ष्णया वाचा सुगुप्तं देवसंमतम्।।३।।

On hearing the words of Gaṇeśa, Śiva spoke beautiful and secret words which were according to the Vedas.

महादेव उवाच

गणेश्वर महाभाग श्रूयतां वचनं मम।
हितं तथ्यं नीतिसारं परिणामसुखावहम्।।४।।

Mahādeva said- O Gaṇeśa, you listen to my words which are truthful, the gist or polity and result in, pleasantness.

असंख्यविश्वसंघं च सर्वं कृष्णात्मजं सुतम्।
कृष्णं जानीहि यत्कार्यं कारणानां च कारणम्।।५।।

You consider Kṛṣṇa to be the combination of all including Pradyumna, the son of Kṛṣṇa and Aniruddha.

ब्रह्मादितृणपर्यन्तं जगत्सर्वं गणेश्वर।
निबोध सत्यं कृष्णं च भगवन्तं सनातनम्।।६।।

O lord of the gaṇas, everything right from Brahmā to the blade of grass is treated to be a like by Kṛṣṇa.

गोलोके द्विभुजं शान्तं राधाकान्तं मनोहरम्।
शिशुरूपं गोपवेषं परिपूर्णतमं प्रभुम्।।७।।

He is two-armed in Goloka, quite peaceful, beloved of Rādhā, beautiful, the form of a child, appearing as a cowherd and the complete lord.

गोपीभिर्गोपनिकरै: सहितं कामधेनुभि:।
पुण्ये वृन्दावने रम्ये सुन्दरे रासमण्डले।।८।।
चरन्तं मुरलीहस्तं ब्रह्मेशशेषवन्दितम्।
शतशृङ्गे च शैलेशे वटमूले निराकुले।।९।।
गोष्ठे भाण्डीरनिकटे निर्मले विरजातटे।
नवीननीरदश्यामं शोभितं पीतवाससा।।१०।।
यथा नवं घनौघं च सौदामिन्या विराजितम्।
आविर्भावश्च तेषां वै गोलोके रासमण्डले।।११।।
तावन्तो गोकुले रम्ये पुण्ये वृन्दावने वने।
सर्वे चांशकला: पुंस:कृष्णस्तु भवान्स्वयम्।।१२।।

He is surrounded by the cowherdesses, cowherdes and the cows. He is the one who remains present in the charming and auspicious Vṛndāvana and the Rāsamaṇḍala, holding a flute in his hand. He is the one who is adored by Brahmā, Śiva and Śeṣa, who resides under the shade of a banyan tree, on the mountain of hundred peaks and also roams about in the Bhāṇḍīra forest on the bank of Virajā river which is spotless. He has the dark complexion of new clouds and is clad in yellow garment and looks like lightening in the new clouds. He always appears in the Rāsamaṇḍala of Goloka, all the creatures in the charming Goloka and the auspicious Vṛndāvana, represent his aṁśa but Kṛṣṇa himself is the lord.

परिपूर्णतम: कामो ब्रह्मशापात्स्वविस्मृत:।
तस्य पुत्रोऽनिरुद्धश्च महाबलपराक्रम:॥१३॥

The complete Brahman has forgotten himself because of the curse of Brahmā. His son named Aniruddha, possesses all the prowess and strength.

मया प्रस्थापित: स्कन्दो महायुद्धे सुदारुणे।
मृतो बाणश्च संग्रामे तेन स्कन्देन रक्षित:॥१४॥

I have deputed Kārttikeya for the terrific battle. Bāṇa had almost been killed in the battle-field who has been saved by Skanda.

स्कन्दानिरुद्धयोर्युद्धे समत्वं तु गणेश्वर।
अष्टौ च भैरवा: सर्वे रुद्राश्चैकादशैव ते॥१५॥
अष्टौ च वसवश्चैते देवा: शक्रादयस्तथा।
तथैव द्वादशादित्या: सर्वे दैत्येश्वरास्तथा॥१६॥
देवानामग्रणी: स्कन्दो बाणश्च सगणास्तथा।
सर्वे ते चानिरुद्धं च संग्रामे जेतुमक्षमा:॥१७॥

O Gaṇeśa, though both Skanda and Aniruddha are equals in the battle-field but the eight Bhairavas all the eleven Rudras, eight Vasus and Indras the gods, twelve Ādityas, all the demons beside Skanda the foremost of the god as well as all my gaṇas including Bāṇa would be unable to defeat Aniruddha in the battle-field.

अनिरुद्ध: स्वयं ब्रह्मा प्रद्युम्न: काम एव च।
बलदेव: स्वयं शेष: कृष्णश्च प्रकृते: पर:॥१८॥

Aniruddha himself is beyond Brahmā, Pradyumna, Kāmadeva, Baladeva, Śeṣa and Kṛṣṇa.

एतत्ते कथितं सर्वं बाणं रक्ष गणेश्वर।
भवाञ्शुभस्वरूपश्च विघ्नखण्डनकारक:॥१९॥

O lord of the gaṇas, I have spoken all this to you, you protect Bāṇa; you are the form of welfare and remove all the obstructions.

आरादायास्यति हरिर्गृहीत्वा च सुदर्शनम्।
अव्यर्थमस्त्रप्रवरं सूर्यकोटिसमप्रभम्॥२०॥

Lord Kṛṣṇa would arrive soon holding his Sudarśana-cakra which is infallible and possesses the lustre of the crores of suns.

Durgā dissuades Bāṇa from the War

नारायण उवाच

गणेशं बोधयित्वा तु शंभुरभ्यन्तरं ययौ।
तत्र सिंहासने रम्ये दुर्गा दुर्गतिनाशिनी॥१॥
भैरवी भद्रकाली च उग्रचण्डा च कोटरी।
ता: समुत्थाय सहसा प्रणेमुर्जगदीश्वरम्॥२॥

Nārāyaṇa said- After thus speaking to Gaṇeśa, Śiva retired to his inner apartment, he found there Durgā the destroyer of the misfortune, Bhairavī, Bhadrakālī, Ugracaṇḍā and Koṭarī seated on the beautiful lion thrones, all of them got up at once and bowed in reverence to the lord.

तत्राऽऽययौ गणेशश्च कार्तिकेयश्च वीर्यवान्।

Thereafter, Gaṇeśa when valorous Kārttikeya, Nandī, Sunanda, the minister Mahākāla, eight Bhairavas, the siddhas, the yogīs and eleven Rudras also arrived there. In the meantime Maṇibhadra who guarded the main gate arrived there and spoke to Śiva.

मणिभद्र उवाच

एभिः सार्धं च त्वरितमाययौ शोणितं पुरम्॥१३॥

Maṇibhadra said- The army of Yādavas is innumerable and comprises of Baladeva, Pradyumna, Sāmba Sātyaki, Ugracaṇḍā, Bhīma, Arjuna, Akrūra, Uddhava, Jayanta, the son of Indra and are seated on the chariot built with the best of gems. Śrī Kṛṣṇa the creator of the creator is also there, seven cowherds are moving the white fly-whisks. He possesses the lustre of cores of gods of love and is adorned with long garland of forest flowers. He is shining like crores of suns and is holding an astonishing cakra. The kaumodakī-gadā is placed in the chariot; beside the indestructible trident and Pāñcajanya conch are also seem there. There are three crores of the wild elephants, three crores of terrific warriors, hundred crores of horses besides four times more the foot soldiers adorned with kavacas seven times more that number or the wielders of the swords and the number of archers as double its number.

परितो वेष्टयामास लङ्कां दाशरथिर्यथा।
सहस्रतालमानां च ज्वलदग्निशिखोज्ज्वलाम्॥१४॥

मणीन्द्रसारनिर्माणं प्राकाराभ्रंलिहं पुरम्॥१६॥

All of them have surrounded Śoṇitpura in the same way as the army of Rāma had surrounded Laṅkā which was thousand tālas in height, illumining with the fire flames and had a number of moats and was inaccessible from the demons and the gods. Garuḍa with the waters of the Svargagaṅgā had destroyed the boundary wall of the city, which was built with the best of gems and was quite high.

बभञ्ज लक्षं मल्लानां बलदेवश्च लाङ्गलैः।
उद्यानानां त्रिलक्षं च चकारोत्पाटनं प्रभो॥१७॥

Baladeva have destroyed lakhs of the soldiers with his plough and three lakhs of gardens have been uprooted.

अष्टौ च भैरवांश्चैव रुद्रांश्च वीरभद्रकम्।
महाकालं नन्दिनं च सर्वान्सेनापतीन्नव॥१९॥

Killing the gate-keepers they have entered the main-gate. On hearing this, lord Śiva in the assembly of the gods spoke to Pārvatī, Bhadrakāli, Skanda, Gaṇapati, eight Bhairavas, Rudras, Vīrabhadra, Mahākāla, Nandī and all the army commanders.

महादेव उवाच

गोलोकनाथो भगवांश्चक्रपाणिः समागतः।
विश्वौघं भङ्क्तुमीशो यः क्षणेन नगरं च किम्॥

Mahādeva said- Śrī Kṛṣṇa, the lord of Goloka, has arrived who can destroy the entire universe in a moment then what to speak all this land.

सर्वोपायैश्च सर्वे ते बाणं रक्षन्तु यत्नतः।
बाणो गच्छतु संग्रामं समृत्वा लम्बोदरं परम्॥२१॥

All of you should protect Bāṇa with all the means. Bāṇa should move out to the battle-field reciting the name of Gaṇeśa.

बाणस्य दक्षिणे स्कन्दः पुरतश्च गणेश्वरः।
वामे च भैरवा रुद्राः स्वयं नन्दी महारथः॥२२॥
महाकालो वीरभद्रो ये चान्ये सैनिकास्तथा।
ऊर्ध्वे दुर्गा भद्रकाली ह्यग्रचण्डा च कोटरी॥२३॥

Skanda should be on the left of Bāṇa, while Gaṇeśa should move forward and Bhairava should be on right his together with Indra, Nandī, Mahākāla and Vīrabhadra. All other warriors should protect him, the goddess Durgā should move in the upper region together with Koṭarī, Kālī and Ugracaṇḍā.

बाणं रक्ष महाभागे दुर्गे दुर्गतिनाशिनि।
कृष्णस्य भवती शक्तिस्तेन नारायणी स्मृता॥२४॥

Durgā, the destroyer of misfortune should protect Bāṇa. O virtuous one, you happen to be the strength of lord Kṛṣṇa, that is why you are known as Nārāyaṇī.

विष्णुमाये जगन्मातः सर्वमङ्गलमङ्गले।
अव्यर्थाच्चक्रसाराच्च रक्ष बाणं सुदर्शनात्॥२५॥

You are illusion of Viṣṇu, the mother of the universe, bestower of all the welfare's and therefore you protect Bāṇa with the use of Sudarśana-cakra.

बाणः प्रियो मे सर्वेभ्यो गणेशात्कार्तिकादपि।
बाणमूर्ध्नि करं धेहि पादाब्जरजसा सह॥२६॥

I love Bāṇa the most, much more than Gaṇeśa and Kārttikeya, you place your hand on the head of Bāṇa together with the dust from your feet.

शिवस्य वचनं श्रुत्वा दुर्गा दुर्गतिनाशिनी।
प्रहस्योवाच मधुरं याथार्थ्यं समयोचितम्॥२७॥

On hearing the words of Śiva, Durgā, the destroyer of misfortune spoke sweet, meaningful and truthful words which were appropriate to the time.

पार्वत्युवाच

मणिरत्नादिकं यद्यन्मुक्तामाणिक्यहीरकम्।

पुरस्कृत्य देहि बाण कृष्णाय परमात्मने।
राज्यं कुरुष्व निर्विघ्नं किं युद्धमात्मना सह॥२९॥

Pārvatī said- O Bāṇa, you hand over your daughter Ūṣā to lord Kṛṣṇa together with Aniruddha and giving in dowry the gems, diamonds, jewels, rubies, sapphire, emeralds and all the ornaments studded with precious gems. Thereafter you rule the country fearlessly, what type of war can you wage against the one ho happens to be the soul of all.

यस्मिन्गते गताः प्राणाः स जीवश्चैन्द्रियैः सह।
शक्तिश्चाहं मनो ब्रह्मा स्वयं ज्ञानात्मकं शिवः॥३०॥

With the departure of whom the body becomes lifeless together with all the organs of senses. I happen to be the strength, Brahmā is the mind while Śiva is the store of all the knowledge.

सद्यः पतति देहश्च शिवं त्यक्त्वा शवो भवेत्।

नित्यः सत्यो हि कृष्णश्च परिपूर्णतमः प्रभुः।
गणेशः कार्तिकेयश्च भवानपि तयोः परः॥३३॥

With the departure of the soul from the body, it falls and becomes like a dead body. O Bāṇa, who can stand the lustre of Sudarśana-cakra in the battle-field. Śrī Kṛṣṇa happens to be the supreme soul, the one who takes to human form in order to oblige his devotees who is eternal, truthful and complete Brahman. The soul cannot be wounded with the shooting of an arrow like the sky, then what type of fight could be there with the soul? You are dearer to me much more than Gaṇeśa and Kārttikeya.

किंकरेषु प्रियो बाणो न हि कृष्णात्परः प्रियः।

भगवन्तं च सर्वज्ञं त्वां शिवं च सनातम्।
किं वाऽहं कथयामीति कर्तव्यं समयोचितम्॥३९॥

I like Bāṇa much more than all of my attendants but no one else is dearer to me than Kṛṣṇa. I happen to be Mahālakṣmī in Vaikuṇṭha, Rādhā in Goloka, Śiva in Śivaloka and Sarasvatī in Brahmaloka, In incarnated as Satī in earlier times, the daughter of Dakṣa for the killing of the demons. Thereafter I ended my life because of your denouncement and was born as the daughter of the mountain. In the battle-field with Raktabīja, I came to known as Kālī. I happen to be Sāvitrī, the mother of the Vedas, Sītā the daughter of Janaka and Rukmiṇī in Dvārakā. Presently I have been born on earth as the daughter of Vṛṣabhāna and the spouse of Kṛṣṇa in Vṛndāvana. You happen to be the all knowledgeable and eternal Śiva, what should I speak to you about the appropriate action to be taken at the moment.

Bali praises Kṛṣṇa

नारायण उवाच

पार्वतीवचनं श्रुत्वा गणेशश्च शिव: स्वयम्।
कार्तिकेयश्च काली च तां प्रशंसां चकार ह॥१॥
उवाच भगवाञ्शंभुर्जगतां मातरं पराम्।
ज्योति: स्वरूपां परमां मूलप्रकृतिमीश्वरीम्॥२॥

Nārāyaṇa said- On hearing the words of Pārvatī, Śiva, Kārttikeya and Kālī started praising her .. Lord Śiva addressed to the mother of the universe, who is beyond everything, the form of eternal flame and happens to be Mūlaprakṛti besides being Īśvarī.

त्वया यदुक्तं देवेशि सर्वं वेदोक्तमीप्सितम्।
अयुक्तमुपहास्यं व समरं परमात्मना॥३॥
बाणो ददातु कन्यां तां स्वर्णभूषणभूषिताम्।
सामञ्जस्यं यशस्यं च शुभदं सर्वकर्मसु॥४॥

Mahādeva said- O great goddess, whatever has been spoken by you is strictly according to the Vedas and is desirable. It is quite improper and laughable to fight with the eternal soul. Bāṇa should adorn is daughter with all the ornaments and hand her over to the lord. This is the most appropriate action besides being glorious and pleasant .

न ददाति यदा बाणो हिरण्यकशिपो: प्रजा।
युद्धे पराङ्मुखो भीतो भगवत्ययशस्कर:॥५॥
बाणो गच्छतु संनाही रणशास्त्रविशारद:।
पश्चाच्चाऽऽगमनं कुर्मो वयं सांनाहिका: शिवे॥६॥

O goddess, if Bāṇa does not do so being the descendants of Hiraṇyakaśipu and feels that getting panicky, to run away from the battle-field, would be disgraceful and in that case Bāṇa is well-versed in the warfare, should proceed to the battle filed wearing the kavaca. O Śiva, we shall also follow him, wearing the kavacas.

उवाच बाणं तां दातुं स च न स्वीचकार ह।
दुर्गा तं बोधयामास न बुबोध च सद्वच:॥७॥
एतस्मिन्नन्तरे तां च सभामेव महोरमाम्।
आजगाम महाधर्मी बलिश्च वैष्णवाग्रणी:॥८॥

Bāṇa was advised to give away his daughter but he refused to do so. Durgā tried to convince him but he did not agree to her words. In the meantime Bali, the foremost of the Vaiṣṇavas and was the immensely religious person, arrived there in the assembly.

रथं रत्नेन्द्रनिर्माणं समारुह्य महाबल:।
प्रतप्तै: सप्तभिर्दैत्यै: सेवित: श्वेतचामरै:॥९॥
दैत्येन्द्राणां सप्तलक्षैरावृत: परमास्त्रवित्।
अवरुह्य रथात्तूर्णं गणेशं च शिवां शिवम्॥१०॥
प्रणम्य कार्तिकेयं च स उवास च संसदि।
उत्तस्थुराराात्तं दृष्ट्वा ते सर्वे शंकरं विना॥११॥
तमुवाच महादेव: संभाष्य प्रियभाषणम्॥१२॥

The great warrior had arrived mounted on the chariot inlaid with the best of gems. At that point of time the seven Daityas were moving the white fly-whisks serving him and he was surrounded by seven lakhs of demons. He was a great archer and descending from the chariot, he bowed in reverence to Gaṇeśa, Pārvatī, Śiva and Kārttikeya and than took his seat in the assembly. Finding him arriving there, from a distance, all the people except, Śiva got up to welcome him. Thereafter Śiva enquired of him about his welfare.

महादेव उवाच

भगवंश्चतुरस्त्वं च प्रदाता सर्वसंपदाम्।
अयं हि परमो लाभो वैष्णवानां समागमः॥१२॥

Mahādeva said- O great king, you are quite clever and always give away riches in charity, it is a matter of great pride for the Vaiṣṇavas to assemble at a place.

तीर्थान्यपि च पूतानि वैष्णवस्पर्शमात्रतः।
सर्वेषामाश्रमाणां च पूजितो ब्राह्मणः शुचिः॥१३॥
ततोऽधिकः पूजितोऽपि ब्राह्मणो यदि वैष्णवः।

तीर्थेभ्योऽपि च सर्वेभ्यो बिभेति च ततः सुरः॥१५।
न हि पापानि तद्देहे वह्नौ शुष्कतृणादिवत्॥१६॥

With the very touch of the Vaiṣṇavas, all the holy places get sanctified. The Brāhmaṇas are considered to be most adorable of all the castes. In case the Brāhmaṇas is a Vaiṣṇava, he becomes more adorable. No god is more auspicious than the Vaiṣṇava Brāhmaṇa. He is pure than the wind, the fire and all the holy places. Even the gods are afraid of him, the sins cannot remain in his body in the same way as the hay cannot remain in the fire.

बलिरुवाच

कथं स्तौषि जगन्नाथ भृत्यमस्तव्यमीश्वरः।
प्रदत्तं परमैश्वर्यं त्वया नाथ सुदुर्लभम्॥१७॥

Bali said- O lord of the universe, why are you praising a slave who is not suitable for the place. O lord you have bestowed upon me, The inaccessible fortune.

अधुना स्थापितो दैवात्सर्वाधः सुतलेऽपि च।
इन्द्राय दत्तमैश्वर्यं मत्तो भक्तात्सुरेश्वर॥१८॥

ध्यायमानश्च नित्यं यो ह्रत्पद्मे सुमनोहरे।
शुक्रेण दत्तं मन्त्रं च जप्त्वा चैकादशाक्षरम्॥२२॥

O lord of the gods, though you pervade everywhere, still taking to the dwarfish form because of the destiny you have established me in the nether-world, taking away all my riches from me. You bestowed them upon Indra. you kindly make Bāṇa my dearest son to understand the situation. It is not proper to fight with the soul even by the gods. Thus speaking, he bowed his head saluting Śiva. Thereafter, he praised lord Śiva with the stotra prescribed in the Sāmaveda. At that point of time he was overwhelmed with devotion and tears started flowing from his eyes. Getting extremely emotional, he started reciting the mantra given to him by Śukra.

बलिरुवाच

अदित्याः प्रार्थनेनैव मातुर्देव्या व्रतेन च।
पुरा वामनरूपेण त्वयाऽहं वञ्चितः प्रभो॥२३॥
संपद्रूपा महालक्ष्मीर्दत्ता भक्ताय भक्तितः।
शक्राय मत्तो भक्ताय भ्रात्रे पुण्यवते ध्रुवम्॥२४॥

Bali said- O lord, in the earlier times because of the vrata and the prayer of Aditi you took to the dwarfish from and cheated me. Snatching away all my riches, you gave them to your devotee. The same devotee is non else than the meritorious Indra.

अधुना मम पुत्रोऽयं बाणः शंकरकिंकरः।
आराध्य रक्षितः सोऽपि तेनैव भक्तबन्धुना॥२५॥

Presently my son Bāṇa happens to be the slave of Śiva. He has been protected by Śiva who is always graceful to his devotees.

परिपुष्टश्च पार्वत्या यथा मात्रा सुतस्तथा।
गृहीतवांश्च तत्कन्यां बलेन युवतीं सतीम्॥२६॥
समुद्यतश्च तं हन्तुं कार्तिकेनापि वारितः।

Pārvatī brought him up like a mother, brings up his son. Your grandson has forcibly taken away his daughter who was about to kill him but was prevented by Kārttikeya. Though you are competent enough to control your grandson still you have arrived here to kill Bāṇa.

सर्वात्मनश्च सर्वत्र समभाव: श्रुतौ श्रुत:।
करोषि जगतां नाथ कथमेवं व्यतिक्रम:॥२८॥

The great soul treats all equally. This has been ordained in the Vedas. O lord of the universe, why are you moving in the opposite direction.

त्वया च निहतो यो हि तस्य को रक्षिता भुवि।
सुदर्शनस्य तेजो हि सूर्यकोटिनिभं परम्॥२९॥

In case, you intend to kill someone, who can save him on earth. The lustre of Sudarśana-cakra is like the crores of suns.

Which of the weapons of the gods could stand before the same? Sudarśana-cakra is the best of all the gods. As are you so is Kṛṣṇa who happens to be the creator of the creators.

विष्णु: सत्त्वगुणाधार: शिव: सत्त्वाश्रयस्तथा।
स्वयं विधाता रजस: सृष्टिकर्ता पितामह:॥३२॥

Viṣṇu happens to be the base of sattvika elements, Śiva happens to be the base of tamas while Brahmā is the base of rajas.

मानसं च स्वयं ब्रह्मा स्वयं ज्ञानात्मक: शिव:॥३५।

The one who is the base of tamas, foremost of the eleven Rudras and the destroyer of the universe, the same lord happens to be the Goloka of Śiva, known as Kālāgni-Rudra. Besides him all the Rudras are merely the rays of Śiva. Out of all of them you happen to be devoid of guṇas and beyond Prakṛti. You happen to be the supreme soul and also the form of Viṣṇu, who is the life of all the creatures. Brahmā himself is the form of meanwhile Śiva is the form of knowledge.

प्रवरा सर्वशक्तीनां बुद्धि: प्रकृतिरीश्वरी।
स्वात्मन: प्रतिबिम्बस्ते जीव: सर्वेषु देहिषु॥३६॥

Intelligent is the best of all the śaktis. The life elements in all the creatures of the world is only the reflection of your soul.

सद्य: पतति देहश्च शवोऽस्पृश्यस्त्वया विना।
बुद्धा: सन्तो न जानन्ति वञ्चितास्तव मायया॥३८॥

A person has to face the reward of his deeds and you yourself remain the witness to him. After your departure all the people follow you as the followers follow the king. After you leave the bodies, a person becomes dead and the body becomes untouchable but influence, with you illusion, even the people with intelligence become aware of the same.

त्वां भजन्त्येव ये सन्तो मायामेतां तरन्ति ते।

Such of the people who adore you can only be freed from this illusion; the three fold Prakṛti includes Durgā, Vaiṣṇavī, Sanātanī, Nārāyaṇī and Īśānī which represent your form, which is difficult to over-comes Brahmā, Viṣṇu and Śiva who are present in all the globes, represent your aṁśas only as Śrī Kṛṣṇa resides in Gokula, similarly the great Virāṭ who is the base of all dwells in the water.

स एव वासुर्भगवांस्तस्य देवो भवान्पर:।
वासुदेव इति ख्यात: पुराविद्धि: प्रकीर्तिता:॥४२॥

He happens to be the lord Vāsu and you happen to be his lord. The name Vāsudeva has been derived from the same. This has been told by those who are well-versed in the ancient scriptures.

You happen to be the sun from one of your rays and also the moon. You also happen to be the fire from your race and also Vāyu from you rays besides being Varuṇa, Kubera, Yama, Indra, Dharma, Śeṣa, Īśāna, Nairriti, Manu and the beneficial planets. All the moveable and immovable creatures are born out of your rays. You are the eternal, illustrious Brahman. The yogīs always meditate upon you.

The devotees respect you and meditate upon you in their heart. The one whose body has the complexion of new clouds, is clad in pītāmbara wears smile on his delightful face, the one who is graceful to the devotees, the one on whose body the sandal-paste is plastered the one who is having two arms, he holds a flute in his hand, the one whose head is adorned with peacock feather, the one who wears the garland of jasmine flowers, invaluable armlets and wristlets, the ear ornament made of gems decorate the temples, the one who wears the rings studded with gems and whose waist-band issued dangling sound, whose lustre jeers at crores of the gods of love, whose eyes defeat the glory of the lotus flowers of the winter season, the lustre of whose face resembles the lustre of the full moon of the winter season, who is stared by crores of cowherdesses smilingly, who is served by the cowherds moving the white-fly whisks who appears in the form of a boy, the one who always remains in the heart of Rādhā and is difficult to be achieved by deep meditation and is inaccessible, the one who is adored by Brahmā, Śiva and Śeṣa, the one who is praised by the siddhas, the ascetics and the yogīs the one who is inexplicable in the Vedas, the one who moves at will and is all-pervading who is the smaller than the smallest and greater than the greatest, the one who is eternal, truthful and the lord beyond Prakṛti, uninvolved and unattached, the people get purified by devoting their minds at the eternal lord and always get anxious to offer at his lotus-like feet, the tender Dūrvā-grass, unbroken rice and the water, the one whose glory cannot recited by the Vedas, Sarasvatī. Śeṣa, Brahmā, Gaṇeśa, Sūrya, Indra, the moon and Kubera, that to speak of the people having little wisdom. It is beyond me to praise him. This Bāṇa is a foolish demon and is not a god. Therefore, you kindly forgive him. On hearing the words of Bali, Śrī Kṛṣṇa who happen to be the lord of the universe and the one who is graceful to his devotees spoke.

श्रीभगवानुवाच

Śrī Kṛṣṇa said- O son, don't be afraid, you are completely saved and you go back to your abode, your son is eternal because of my boon or grace, I shall rid him of the arrogance who is just foolish. I have granted a boon delightfully to Prahlāda that his descendants would not be killed. I shall bestow your son, the knowledge of over-powering the death.

The stotra with which you had adored me and is included in Sāmaveda, was bestowed by me to Brahma in earlier times at the time of solar eclipse, in the siddhāśrama who bestowed the same to Sanatkumāra. The knowledge of the same was bestowed by Gaurī at the bank of Mandākinī to Gautama. The merciful Śiva bestowed is knowledge to his devoted people, Brahmā and I bestowed it knowledge to Śiva on the bank of the Virajā river. In earlier times Sanatkumāra imparted the knowledge of the same to Bhṛgu. Currently I will bestow this knowledge to Bāṇa who would recite the same.

इदं स्तोत्रं महापुण्यमुपदिश्य गुरोर्मुखात्।

सुस्नातो यः पठेन्नित्यं पूजाकाले च भक्तितः।

This is an immensely meritorious stotra when heard from the mouth of the teacher, having been served with the ornaments, costumes and sandal-paste and while so listening whosoever would recite the same with devotion daily, he would be relieved of the sins committed by him during crores of his births.

विपदां खण्डनं स्तोत्रं कारणं सर्वसंपदाम्।

खण्डनं गर्भवासानां जरामृत्युहरं परम्।
बन्धनानां च रोगाणां खण्डनं भक्तमण्डनम्॥७१॥

This stotra relieves one of all the misfortunes and bestows all the riches. It removes all the ailments and grief and serves as a boat to cross the terrific ocean of the universe. It removes the cycle of birth, death and old age and shatters all the bondages. This happens to be the ornament of the devotees.

स स्नातः सर्वतीर्थेषु सर्वयज्ञेषु दीक्षितः।

इहलोके देवतुल्योऽप्यन्ते याति हरेः पदम्॥७४॥

Whosoever recites the same, he earns the merit of taking bath at all the holy places, performing all the yajñas, vratas and tapas. a person surely meets with the success by reciting this stotra. Thereafter he leads the life like a god on the earth and ultimately reaches the abode of Viṣṇu.

Chapter - 120

Bāṇa presents his daughter to Aniruddha

नारायण उवाच

अथ कृष्णश्च भगवानुद्धवेन बलेन च।
दूतं प्रस्थापयामास विधाय मन्त्रणं शुभम्॥१॥

Nārāyaṇa said- Śrī Kṛṣṇa after consulting Balarāma and Uddhava dispatched a messenger to Bāṇa .

शिवो गणपतिर्यत्र दुर्गा दुर्गतिनाशिनी।
कार्तिकेयो भद्रकाली चोग्रचण्डा च कोटरी॥२॥
आगत्य नत्वा दूतश्च गणेशं च शिवं शिवाम्।
मानवांश्चापि पूज्यांश्च समुवाच यथोचितम्॥३॥

He went to the place where Śiva, Gaṇeśa, Pārvatī, the destroyer of misfortunes, Kārttikeya, Bhadrakālī, Ugracaṇḍā and Koṭarī were seated. The messenger bowed in reverence to Gaṇeśa, Śiva, Pārvatī and all other respectable people there.

दूत उवाच

बाणमाह्वयते कृष्णः संग्रामार्थं महेश्वर।
किं वाऽनिरुद्धमूषां च गृहीत्वा शरणं व्रज॥४॥
रणे निमन्त्रितो यो हि न याति भयकातरः।
परत्र नरकं याति सप्तभिः पितृभिः सह॥५॥

The messengers said- "O Śiva, Kṛṣṇa is inviting Bāṇa for a battle-field or otherwise he should go and take refuge with Kṛṣṇa together with Aniruddha and Ūṣā. The one who does not face the war when he is invited for the same, he drives his seven generations after death to the hell"

दूतस्य वचनं श्रुत्वा सभामध्ये यथोचितम्।
उवाच पार्वती देवी स्वयं शंकरसंनिधौ॥६॥

On hearing the words of messengers, Pārvatī who was seated beside Śiva spoke the appropriate words.

पार्वत्युवाच

गच्छ बाण महाभाग गृहीत्वा तव कन्यकाम्।
सर्वस्वं यौतकं दत्त्वा श्रीकृष्णं शरणं व्रज॥७॥
सर्वेषामीश्वरं बीजं दातारं सर्वसंपदाम्।
वरं वरेण्यं शरणं कृपालु भक्तवत्सलम्॥८॥

Pārvatī said- O virtuous Bāṇa, you give away everything in dowry and take refuge with Śrī Kṛṣṇa together with your son. He happens to be the lord of all, bestower of all the riches, the best of all the protector of all, is all merciful and is graceful on the devotees.

पार्वतीवचनं श्रुत्वा तमूचुस्ते सुरेश्वराः।
प्रशशंसुःसभामध्ये धन्यधन्येति सर्वदा॥९॥
कोपाविष्टश्च बाणोऽयमुत्तस्थौ सहसाऽसुरः।
सांनाहिको धनुष्पाणिः प्रणम्य शंकरं ययौ॥१०॥
सर्वैर्निषिध्यमानश्च कम्पितो रक्तलोचनः।
सांनाहिकश्च दैत्यानां त्रिकोट्या च महाबलः॥११॥
कुम्भाण्डः कूपकर्णश्च निकुम्भः कुम्भ एव च।
सेनापतीश्वरश्चैते ययुः सांनाहिकास्तथा॥१२॥

On hearing the words of Pārvatī, all the gods and the sages present in the assembly termed her words graceful and praised her. They also advised Bāṇa to act accordingly but Bāṇa started burning in anger and he was trembling with his eyes burning red. The demon then suddenly got up and in spite of the objection by all, he adorned himself, with the kavaca, holding a bow in his hand and bowing in reverence to Śiva, the valorous demon moved on with three crores of soldiers of the army. He was followed by Kumbhāṇḍa, Kūpakarṇa, Nikumbha, Kumbha and the commander Īśvara wearing the kavacas.

उन्मत्तभैरवश्चैव संहारभैरवस्तथा।

प्रययुः शक्तिभिः सार्धं सर्वे सांनाहिकाश्च ते।
कालाग्निरुद्रो भगवान्रुद्रैः सांनाहिको ययौ॥१५॥

Thereafter Unmattabhairava, Saṁhāra-bhairava, Asitāṅgabhairava, Rurubhairava, Mahābhairava, Kālabhairava, Pracaṇḍabhairava and Krodhabhairava also followed him carrying all the weapons, the lord Kālāgnirudra also followed him with all the Rudras.

उग्रचण्डा प्रचण्डा च चण्डिका चण्डिनायिका।
चण्डेश्वरी च चामुण्डा चण्डी चण्डकपालिका॥
अष्टौ च नायिकाः सर्वा प्रययुः खर्परान्विताः।

रक्तवर्णा त्रिनयना जिह्वाललनभीषणा।
शूलशक्तिगदाहस्ता खड्गखर्परधारिणी॥२१॥

Ugracaṇḍā, Pracaṇḍā, Caṇḍikā, Caṇḍināyikā, Caṇḍeśvarī, Cāmuṇḍā, Caṇḍī, Caṇḍakapālikā, all the eight of them marched forward holding the skull-cups in their hands. The village deity of Śoṇitpura named Koṭarī also moved on mounted on the gem-studded chariot. She had a smiling face and held and skull-cup and a sword in her hand; all the eight goddesses named Indrāṇī, peaceful Vaiṣṇavī, Brahmāṇī, Kaumārī, Nārasiṁhī, Vārāhī, of terrible form, Mahāmāyā, Māheśvarī and Bhairavī of terrific form also followed the army mounted over a chariot delightfully. Bhadrakālikā was mounted over a gem-studded chariot, offered her salutation to the lord. She had a red complexion, three eyes and looked terrific because of her protruding tongue. All of them carried the trident, śakti, gadā, sword and the skull-cup in their hands.

प्रययौ शूलहस्तश्च वृषभस्थो महेश्वरः।
स्कन्दश्च शिखियानस्थः शस्त्रपाणिर्धनुर्धरः॥२२॥
एवं च प्रययुः सर्वे गणेशं पार्वतीं विना।
एभिर्युक्तं महादेवं दृष्ट्वा च भद्रकालिकाम्॥२३॥
प्रचक्रे चक्रपाणिश्च संभाषां च यथोचिताम्।
बाणः शङ्खध्वनिं कृत्वा प्रणम्य पार्वतीश्वरम्॥२४॥
धनुर्दधार सगुणं दिव्यास्त्रेण नियोजितम्।
बाणः समुद्यतं दृष्ट्वा सात्यकिः परवीरहा॥२५॥
निषिध्यमानस्तैः सर्वैः संनाही प्रययौ मुदा।
बाणश्चिक्षेप दिव्यास्त्रमञ्जनं नाम नारद॥२६॥
अव्यर्थं ग्रीष्ममध्याह्नमार्तण्डाभं सुतीक्ष्णकम्।
दृष्ट्वाऽस्त्रं सात्यकिः साक्षात्किंचिन्नम्रो बभूव सः॥

Thereafter Mahādeva holding a trident in his hand was mounted on Nandī and marched on. Kārttikeya holding a terrific weapon in his hand moved on mounted on the peacock. Thus all the gods and goddesses except Gaṇeśa and Pārvatī marched on to the battle-field. Finding Mahādeva and Bhadrakālī there, Kṛṣṇa spoke to them. Bāṇa then blew the conch and bowing at the feet of Śiva, strung his bow and aimed the divine arrow from the bow. Finding Bāṇa getting ready for the war, Sātyaki the killer of the enemy moved forward in spite of being dissuaded by other people. O Nārada, Bāṇa shot a divine weapon named Añjana on him. The weapon was infallible, issued the lustre like the mid-day sun of the Summer season and was quite sharp. Finding the weapon Sātyaki himself became quite humble.

किं वा न दग्धः प्रययौ नभोमध्यं सुदारुणम्।
वह्निं चिक्षेप बाणश्च सात्यकिर्वारुणेन च॥२८॥
प्रज्वलन्तं तालमानं निर्वाणं च चकार सः।
चिच्छेद वारुणं घोरं प्रचण्डं भीममुल्बणम्॥२९॥
चिच्छेद सात्यकिश्चैव पार्जन्येनावलीलया।
चिक्षेप पवनं बाणः प्रचण्डं भीममुल्बणम्॥३०॥

As a result of this, he could not be burnt and was flown to the sky. Thereafter Bāṇa shot a fire arrow which was neutralised by Sātyaki with Varuṇāstra, extinguishing the flames of the fire which, were rising to the height of a tāla tree. Thereafter Bāṇa shot the terrific arrow of the wind.

चिच्छेद सात्यकिश्चैव पर्वतास्त्रेण लीलया।
नारायणास्त्रं चिक्षेप बाणश्च रणमूर्धनि॥३१॥

But Sātyaki neutralised the same with the shooting of a Parvatāstra. Bāṇa then used Nārāyaṇāstra in the battle-field.

सात्यकिर्दण्डवद्भूमौ पपातार्जुनशिक्षया।

माहेश्वरं प्रचिक्षेप बाण: शस्त्रविदां वर:॥३२॥

But Sātyaki because of the training he received for Arjuna prostrated before it on the ground. Thereafter Bāṇa who was well-known in the warfare shot the Māheśvara arrow.

सात्यकिर्वैष्णवास्त्रेण प्रविच्छेदावलीलया।
ब्रह्मास्त्रं चापि चिक्षेप बाणश्च रणमूर्धनि॥३३॥

Sātyaki destroyed it with the use of Vaiṣṇava-astra. Thereafter Bāṇa shot Brahmāstra.

क्षणं चकार निर्वाणं ब्रह्मास्त्रेण च सात्यकि:।
नागास्त्रं चापि चिक्षेप बाणो रणविशारद:॥३४॥

Sātyaki on the other hand destroyed the same with the use of Brahmāstra. Bāṇa, who was well-versed in the warfare shot the Nāgāstra.

सात्यकिर्गारुडेनैव संजहार क्षणेन च।
जग्राह शूलमव्यर्थं शंकरस्य सुदारुणम्॥३५॥

But Sātyaki destroyed the same with the shooting of Garuḍāstra in a moment. Thereafter Bāṇa took up the infallible trident of Śiva.

तुष्टाव सात्यकिर्दुर्गां गले माल्यं बभूव ह।
जग्राह धनुषा बाणो बाणं पाशुपतं तथा॥३६॥

Sātyaki than offered prayer to Durgā. as a result of this, the trident was turned into the garland of flowers adorning his neck. Bāṇa then placed the Pāśupata on the bow.

बाणं सबाणं जृम्भं च सात्यकिश्च चकार ह।
बाणं तं जृम्भितं दृष्ट्वा कार्तिकेयो महाबल:॥३७।
अर्धचन्द्रं च चिक्षेप कामश्चिच्छेद लीलया।
गदां चिक्षेप च स्कन्द: प्रात:सूर्यसमप्रभाम्॥३८॥

But Sātyaki shot an arrow which plunged Bāṇa into a swoon. Finding Bāṇa getting into sleep, the valorous Kārttikeya shot the crescent arrow. But Kāmadeva destroyed it playfully. After this, Kārttikeya shot a gadā having the lustre of the rising sun.

वैष्णवास्त्रेण कामश्च निर्वाणं च चकार स:।
नारायणास्त्रं स्कन्दश्च प्राक्षिपच्च त्वरान्वित:॥३९॥
पपात दण्डवद्भूमौ प्रद्युम्न: कृष्णशिक्षया।
स्कन्द: शक्तिं च चिक्षेप प्रलयाग्निसमप्रभाम्॥४०।

The god of love neutralised it also, Skanda then shot Nārāyaṇāstra but Pradyumna because of the training he had received from Kṛṣṇa, prostrated on the ground like a rod. Skanda then shot an another arrow named śakti, having the lustre of the fire of dissolution. Kāmadeva on his part neutralised the same by issuing the Nārāyaṇāstra; then Kārttikeya took up in anger the Pāśupata weapon.

कामो नारायणास्त्रेण निर्वाणं च चकार ताम्।
ब्रह्मास्त्रं च प्रचिक्षेप कार्तिको रणमूर्धनि॥४१॥
ब्रह्मास्त्रेणापि कामश्च निर्वाणं च चकार स:।
जग्राह कार्तिकं कोपाद्दिव्यं पाशुपतं तदा॥४२॥
निद्रास्त्रेणापि मदनो निद्रितं च चकार तम्।
कार्तिकं निद्रितं दृष्ट्वा बाणं च जृम्भितं तथा॥४३
कोपात्कामं च सरथं जग्राह भद्रकालिका।
क्रोडे कृत्वा च बाणं च स्कन्दं च जगतां प्रसू:॥
रणस्थलाच्च प्रययौ यत्रैव पार्वती सती।
कार्तिकं बोधयामास बाणं सुस्थं चकार सा॥४५॥

But Kāmadeva with the use of Nidrāstra made him unconscious who went to sleep. Finding Kārttikeya having been over-powered by sleep and yawning, Bāṇāsura and Bhadrakālī in anger caught hold of Kāmadeva. She then carried Kāmadeva and Bāṇa in her lap and went to the place where the chaste Pārvatī was seated. She woke up Kārttikeya and Bāṇa also regained consciousness.

सहसा सरथ: कामो नासारन्ध्रेण वर्त्मना।
बहिर्बभूव संत्रस्त: प्रययौ च रणस्थलम्॥४६॥

In the meantime kāma left the place from the hole of the nose suddenly and somehow terrorising all, reached the battle-field.

दृष्ट्वा कामं च सरथं जहसुर्यादवास्तदा।
सर्वे शैवाश्च तत्रस्था: शुष्ककण्ठा भयाकुला:॥४७

At that point of time all the Yādavas finding Kāmadeva there, started laughing. The throat of all the gaṇas of Śiva dried up and they ware upset with fear.

अथ बाण: पुन: क्रुद्धो रथमारुह्य कोपत:।
कार्तिकेयश्च भगवान्युद्धाय पुनरागत:॥४८॥

Thereafter Bāṇa again mounted on the chariot and started fighting with Kārttikeya.

बाण: पञ्च शरांश्चैव चिक्षेप रणमूर्धनि।
अर्धचन्द्रेण चिच्छेद बलदेवो महाबल:॥४९॥

Bāṇa used five arrows in the battle-field which were neutralised by Baladeva with the use of crescent arrow.

रथं बभञ्ज बाणस्य लाङ्गलेन च लाङ्गली।
जघान सूतमश्वांश्च मुसलेनावलीलया॥५०॥

Haladhara Balarāma then broke the chariot with the use of the plough and with the use of the mortar, he killed the chariot as well as charioteer.

कुर्वन्तमुद्यमं छेत्तुं हलिनं च महाबल:।
कालाग्निरुद्रो भगवान्वारयामास लीलया॥५१॥

At the time when Bāṇa was about to be killed by Balabhadra, Kālāgnirudra prevented him from doing so.

रथं कालाग्निरुद्रस्य बभञ्ज लाङ्गली रुषा।
हलेन सूतमश्वांश्च जघान रणमूर्धनि॥५२॥
कालाग्निरुद्र: कोपेन चिक्षेप ज्वरमुल्वणम्।
बभूवुर्यादवा: सर्वे ज्वराक्रान्ता हरिं विना॥५३॥

Thereafter Balabhadra broke into pieces the chariot of Kālāgnirudra and killed with the use of the plough the horses and broke the chariot. Kālāgnirudra then issued the terrific fever, as a result of which all the Yādavas were over-powered with fever except Kṛṣṇa.

तं दृष्ट्वा भगवान्कृष्ण: ससर्ज वैष्णवं ज्वरम्।
तं चिक्षेप ज्वरं हन्तु माहेशं रणमूर्धनि॥५४॥
बभूव ज्वरयोर्युद्धं मुहूर्तमतिदारुणम्।
वैष्णवज्वरनिष्क्रान्तो रणमूर्ध्नि पपात स:।
परं बभूव निश्चेष्टस्तुष्टाव माधवं पुन:॥५५॥

At that point of time Śrī Kṛṣṇa created the Vaiṣṇava fever and made it spread on the army and neutralised the fever of Kālāgnirudra. Both the fevers were engaged in the battle-filed for sometime. Ultimately the fever of Rudra was over-powered by Vaiṣṇava fever restless. At regaining consciousness he prayed to Śrī Kṛṣṇa.

ज्वर उवाच

प्राणान्रक्ष जगन्नाथ भक्तानुग्रहविग्रह।
त्वमात्मा पुरुष: पूर्ण: सर्वत्र समता तव॥५६॥

The fever said- O lord of the universe you are the one who takes to the human form to grace your devotees, you are a soul of all and are the complete Puruṣa, you are adored everywhere.

ज्वरस्य वचनं श्रुत्वा संजहार स्वकं ज्वरम्।
माहेश्वरो ज्वरो भीतो रणादेव हि निर्ययौ॥५७॥

On hearing the words of the fever, Śrī Kṛṣṇa wound up his fever; thereafter the Māheśvara fever getting terrified fled away from the battle-field.

बाणश्च पुनरागत्य बाणानां च सहस्रकम्।
चिक्षेप मन्त्रपूतं च प्रलयाग्निशिखोपमम्॥५८॥
फाल्गुन: शरजालेन वारयामास लीलया।
चिक्षेप शक्तिं बाणश्च ग्रीष्मसूर्यसमप्रभाम्॥५९॥
चिच्छेद लीलया तां च सव्यसाची महाबल:।
स जग्राह पाशुपतं शतसूर्यसमप्रभम्॥६०॥

Bāṇa than again shot thousands of arrows issuing the lustre of the fire of dissolution and were sanctified with the reciting of the mantras. Arjuna on the other hand stopped the flow of all the arrows with his own arrow. Bāṇa then shot the terrific śakti having the lustre of the mid-day sun of the summer season, which was neutralised by Arjuna quite playfully.

अत्यर्थमतिघोरं च विश्वसंहारकारकम्।
तद्दृष्ट्वा चक्रपाणिश्च चक्रं चिक्षेप दारुणम्॥६१॥

Bāṇa then shot a hundred Pāśupata arrow having the lustre of hundred of suns and was quite terrific. It could destroy the entire universe. Finding him so doing Śrī Kṛṣṇa lifted up the Sudarśana-cakra.

हस्तानां च सहस्रं च सपाशुपतमुल्यबणम्।
चिच्छेद रणमध्ये च पपाताचलसिंहवत्॥६२॥

The Sudarśana-cakra cut off thousand of heads of Bāṇa who he fell down on the ground like a wild lion.

शस्त्रं पाशुपतं चैव ययौ पशुपतेः करम्।
अव्यर्थं दारुणं लोके प्रलयाग्निशिखोपमम्॥६३॥

Thereafter the Pāśupata weapon which was infallible and quite terrific like the fire of dissolution, reverted in the hands of Śiva.

बाण रक्तसमूहेन बभूव च महानदः।
बाणः पपात निश्चेष्टो व्यथितो हतचेतनः॥६४॥

A great river was created with the flow of the blood of Bāṇa. He became unconscious and fell on the ground and he lost his senses because of the pain.

तत्राऽऽजगाम भगवान्महादेवो जगद्गुरुः।
रुरोदाऽऽगत्य मोहेन बाणं कृत्वा स्ववक्षसि॥६५॥

In the meantime Śiva, the teacher of the universe arrived there and holding Bāṇa in his arms, he was infested with illusion. He than started crying.

शिवाश्रुपतनेनैव संबभूव सरोवरम्।
चेतनं कारयामास करुणासागरः प्रभुः॥६६॥
बाणं गृहीत्वा प्रययौ यत्र देवो जनार्दनः।
चक्रे पद्मार्चिते पादपद्मे बाणसमर्पणम्॥६७॥

With the fall of the tears from the eyes of Śiva a lake was created. The all merciful lord then brought him to senses. He then carried Bāṇa in his arm and went to the place of Kṛṣṇa. He than placed Bāṇa at the lotus-like feet of Kṛṣṇa, which were always adored by Lakṣmī.

तुष्टाव जगतां नाथं भक्तेशं चन्द्रशेखरः।
बलिना च स्तुतं येन वेदोक्तेन च तेन च॥६८॥

Śiva then started praising Kṛṣṇa who happens to be the lord of the universe according to the Vedic hymns, in the same way as he was adored by Bali.

हरिर्मृत्युंजयं ज्ञानं ददौ बाणाय धीमते।
करपद्मं ददौ गात्रे तं चकाराजरामरम्॥६९॥

Śrī Kṛṣṇa then bestowed on intelligent Be, the sacred knowledge of over-coming the death and placing his hand on his body made him eternal and indestructible.

बाणः स्तोत्रेण तुष्टाव भक्त्या बलिकृतेन च।
वरां कन्यां समानीय रत्नभूषणभूषिताम्॥७०॥
प्रददौ हरये भक्त्या तत्रैव देवसंसदि।
गजेन्द्राणां पञ्चलक्षमश्वानां तच्चतुर्गुणम्॥७१॥
दासीनां च सहस्रं च रत्नभूषणभूषितम्।
सहस्रं कामधेनूनां वत्सयुक्तं च सर्वदम्॥७२॥
माणिक्यानां च मुक्तानां रत्नानां शतलक्षकम्।
मणीन्द्राणां हीरकाणां शतलक्षं मनोहरम्॥७३॥
जलभाजनपात्राणि सुवर्णनिर्मितानि च।
सहस्राणि ददौ तस्मै भक्तिनम्रात्मकंधरः॥७४॥

Thereafter, Bāṇa adored the lord with the stotra recited by Bali with devotion and offered his daughter adorned with all the ornaments to Śrī Kṛṣṇa with devotion. Thereafter, he, bowing in reverence gave away five lakhs of elephants, twenty lakh horses, a thousand slave-girls adorned with all the gem-studded ornaments, a thousand lakh of emeralds, sapphire, gems and the best of diamonds beside thousand of water vases made of gold.

वराणि सूक्ष्मवस्त्राणि वह्निशुद्धांशुकानि च।
ददौ बाणश्च सर्वाणि स्वभक्त्या शंकराज्ञया॥७५॥

At the command of Śiva, Bāṇa presented to Kṛṣṇa the fine costumes which were sanctified by fire.

ताम्बूलानां मधूनां च पूर्णपात्राणि नारद।
सहस्राणि ददौ भक्त्या वराणि विविधानि च॥७६।

O Nārada, he also gave away to Kṛṣṇa thousands of vases filled with betels and honey.

कन्यां समर्पयामास पादपद्मे हरेरपि।
रुरोदोच्चैः स्वभक्त्या च परिहारं चकार सः॥७७॥

Placing his daughter at the lotus-like feet of Hari, he started crying in land voice. Lord Kari consoled him.

कृष्णास्तस्मै वरं दत्त्वा वेदोक्तं च शुभाशिषम्।
शंकरानुमतेनैव प्रययौ द्वारकां पुरीम्॥७८॥

Thereafter bestowing his blessing according to the Vedas and taking permission from Śiva, he left for Dvārakā.

गत्वा कन्यां नवोढां तां बाणस्यापि महात्मनः।
रुक्मिण्यै प्रददौ शीघ्रं देवक्यै च हरिः स्वयम्॥७९॥

Reaching Dvārakā lord Kṛṣṇa presented the newly wedded daughter of Bāṇa to Rukmiṇī and Devakī.

महोत्सवं मङ्गलं च कारयामास यत्नतः।
ब्राह्मणान्भोजयामास ब्राह्मणेभ्यो धनं ददौ॥८०॥

After that, the welfare festivities were performed with great enthusiasm and the Brahman as were served with- food and given riches in charity.

Chapter - 121

The story of Śṛgāla

नारायण उवाच

अथ कृष्ण: सुधर्मायां निवसन्सगणस्तथा।
तत्राऽऽजगाम विप्रश्च प्रज्वलन्ब्रह्मतेजसा।।१।।
आगत्य दृष्ट्वा तुष्टाव भक्त्या च पुरुषोत्तमम्।
उवाच मधुरं शान्तो भीतो विनयपूर्वकम्।।२।।

Nārāyaṇa said- Thereafter, Śrī Kṛṣṇa was seated in the assembly called Sudharmā with his courtiers. In that assembly a Brāhmaṇa possessing the divine lustre arrived there. Reaching there the Brāhmaṇa started offering prayer to Śrī Kṛṣṇa quite humbly with devotion.

ब्राह्मण उवाच

श्रृगालो वासुदेवश्च राजेशो मण्डलेश्वर:।
त्वामुवाच स यद्वाक्यं सावधानं निशामय।।३।।

Brāhmaṇa said- There is a Vāsudeva named Śṛgāla (jackal) who considers himself to be Śrī Kṛṣṇa and the king of kings; he always speaks ill of you, you kindly listen to the same.

वैकुण्ठे वासुदेवोऽहं देवेशश्च चतुर्भुज:।
लक्ष्मीपतिश्च जगतां धाता धातुश्च पालक:।।४।।

Śṛgāla said- I am Vaikuṇṭha and the god of gods having four arms, lord of Lakṣmī, maintain the universe and preserve the same being Brahmā and Vāsudeva.

ब्रह्मणा प्रार्थितोऽहं च भारावतरणाय च।
भुवो भारतवर्षं च तदर्थं गमनं मम।।५।।

Brahma had prayed to me to incarnate in order to rid the earth of her burden. That is why I arrived in the land of Bhārata.

वसुदेवसुतो वैश्य: क्षत्रियश्चाप्यहंकृत:।
आत्मानं भक्तविष्णुश्च मायावी च प्रतारक:।।६।।

The son of Vasudeva is a Vaiśya and is quite arrogant and Kṣatriya as well. He is filled with illusion and is a cheat.

जनं जनेन निर्जित्य दुर्बलं बलिना सह।
योधयित्वा महाधूर्तो घातयामास भूपतीन्।।७।।

He makes the people to fight with each other and making the valorous to fight with the weak people, he has destroyed the kings, he is extremely deceitful.

दुर्योधनं जरासंधं भूपमन्यं च दुर्बलम्।
भीमेन घातयामास बलिनाऽल्पेन भूतले।।८।।
द्रोणं भीष्मं च कर्णं च यं यमन्यं च भूतले।
बलीयसाऽर्जुनेनैव घातयामास मायया।।९।।
यं यमन्यं दुर्बलं च प्रसिद्धमप्रसिद्धकम्।
प्रसिद्धेन बलवता घातयामास मायया।।१०।।

Kṛṣṇa who is devoid of valour, had Duryodhana, Jarāsandha and a weak king named Bhīma, Droṇa, Bhīṣma, Karṇa and other warriors on earth killed from Arjuna. He therefore has the weak warriors killed with the valorous warriors, sometimes deceitfully.

शिशुपालं दन्तवक्त्रं कंसं च चिररोगिणम्।
मत्पुत्रं नरकं चैव दुर्बलं केशिनं मुरम्।।११।।
स्वयं जघान संकेताच्छलेन सहसा बत।
न धर्मयुद्धे कपटी स च बालो ह्यधार्मिक:।।१२।।
जघान पूतनां कुब्जां स्त्रीघाती वस्त्रहेतुना।
जघान रजकं शिष्टमशिष्टश्च प्रतारक:।।१३।।
हिरण्यकशिपुं दैत्यं हिरण्याक्षं महाबलम्।

मधुं च कैटभं चैव हत्वाऽहं सृष्टिरक्षकः॥१४॥

He killed Śiśupāla, Dantavaktra, Kaṁsa who was ailing since long, Narakāsura my son and the weak Keśī besides the demon named Mura quite deceitfully. One should not be deceitful in the battle of dharma. That irreligious boy killed Pūtanā and Kubjā. Thus he is the killer of a woman. In the greed for costumes that deceitful and uncultured person killed the washerman. I have saved the earth by killing the great demon like Hiraṇyakaśipu. Hiraṇyākṣa, Madhu and Kaiṭabha.

अहमेव स्वयं ब्रह्मा ह्यहमेव स्वयं शिवः।
अहं विष्णुश्च जगतां पाता दुष्टापहारकः॥१५॥

I am myself Śiva and the preserver of the universe and Viṣṇu the destroyer of the wicked persons.

अंशेन कलया सर्वे मनवो मुनयस्तथा।
स्वयं नारायणोऽहं च निर्गुणः प्रकृतेः परः॥१६॥

All the sages and the ascetics were born of my aṁśas. I am myself Nārāyaṇa without qualities and beyond Prakṛti.

लज्जया कृपया चैव मित्रबुद्ध्या क्षमा कृता।
यद्गतं तद्गतं भद्र युद्धं कुरु मया सह॥१७॥

O virtuous one, till now because of shyness and mercy beside having a friendly attitude towards you I have been forgiving you. Whatever has happened, has happened, now you fight with me.

श्रृणोमि दूतद्वारेण ह्यतीवोच्चैरहंकृतम्।
उचितं दमनं तस्याप्युन्नानां निपातनम्॥१८॥
राज्ञश्च परमो धर्मोऽप्यहं शास्ता भुवोऽधुना।
शङ्खं चक्रं गदा पद्मं गृहीत्वाऽहं चतुर्भुजः॥१९॥
द्वारकां तां गमिष्यामि युद्धाय सगणः स्वयं।
युद्धं कुरु यदीच्छाऽस्ति मा मां च शरणं व्रज॥२०।

I have learnt through messenger that you have become more and more arrogant therefore it is proper for me to subjugate you. It is the duty of the king to trample upon the people who raise their heads quite high and presently I happen to be the ruler of the univers. I shall myself arrive in Dvārakā taking to the four armed form holding śaṁkha, gadā, cakra and padma together with the army. In case you are desirous of a fight then fight with me, otherwise you take refuge under my feet.

यदि मा यास्यति मम शरणं शरणागतः।
भस्मीभूतां करिष्यामि द्वारकां च क्षणेन च॥२१॥

In case you do not take refuse with me then I shall destroy the entire city of Dvārakā in a moment.

सबलं च सपुत्रं त्वां सगणं च सबान्धवम्।
क्षणेन दग्धुं शक्तोऽहमसहायेन लीलया॥२२॥

I myself alone will destroy playfully your army, sons, attendants, relatives and brothers burning them in fire flames.

तपस्विनं च वृद्धं च जित्वा युद्धे च शंकरम्।
शक्रं भगाङ्गं जित्वा च रोगिणं ब्रह्मशापतः॥२३॥
मत्तोऽसि वीरमात्मानं मन्यमानस्त्वमेव च।
स्त्रीजितो हि वृथार्थं च पारिजातस्य हेतुना॥२४॥

You consider, yourself to be quite valorous by conquering Śiva, who is an ascetic and pretty old and Indra who suffers from Brahmaśāpa and having vaginas on his body, you consider yourself to be quite valorous and have become arrogant. You had been over-powered by your wife just for the sake of Pārijāta flower .

लम्पटो योनिलुब्धश्चराधाधीनश्च गोकुले।
अधुना किंकरसमः सत्यादीनां च योषिताम्॥२५॥

you are the debauch and are ruled by Rādhā in Gokula. Presently you are like the slave of Satyabhāmā and other ladies.

इत्येवमुक्त्वा विप्रश्च तूष्णींभूय स्थितो मुने।
श्रीकृष्णः सगणः श्रुत्वा भृशमुच्चैर्जहास सः॥२६॥

Thus speaking O sage, the Brāhmaṇa kept quiet and hearing him the lord laughed aloud with all his courtiers.

भोजयित्वा च संपूज्य ब्राह्मणं च चतुर्विधम्।
निनाय रजनी दुःखाद्वाक्शल्यमान ज्वरात्॥२७॥

The Brāhmaṇa was then adored variously serving four types of food to him, he felt pained with the words of Śṛgāla which pierced like the thorns and he spent the night with great difficulty.

प्रभाते रथमारुह्य सगणः सत्वरं मुदा।
लीलामात्रेण प्रययौ श्रृगालो नृपतिर्यतः॥२८॥

In the early morning he got up anxiously and accompanied with his people, he mounted over a chariot and at once reached the city of Sṛgāla.

श्रुत्वा श्रृगालो वार्तां तां कुत्रिमश्च चतुर्भुजः।
आजगाम हरेः स्थानं युद्धाय सगणः स्वयम्॥२९॥

He had four artificial arms and he himself reached before Kṛṣṇa.

कृष्णश्चक्रे च संभाषां मित्रबुद्ध्या च लौकिकीम्।
आश्लेषं मधुरालापं स्निग्धनेत्रश्च सस्मितः॥३०॥

Kṛṣṇa talked to him like a friend; he looked at him with loving eyes and smilingly embraced him.

राजा निमन्त्रणं चक्रे कृष्णो न स्वीचकार तत्।
उवाच कृष्णभीतश्चत्यक्त्वा दम्भं च दर्शनात्॥३१।

The king invited him but Śrī Kṛṣṇa did not accept finding Kṛṣṇa discarding his arrogance, he felt frightful and said.

श्रृगाल उवाच

चक्रेण मच्छिरश्छित्त्वा सुशीघ्रं द्वारकां व्रज।
पापः पपतु देहोऽयमनित्यो नश्वरस्तथा॥३२॥

Śṛgāla said- You cut-off my head with your cakra and go back, let the sinner having the perishable body fall on earth.

अहं सुभद्रस्ते द्वारि जयश्च विजयो यथा।
सर्वं जानासि सर्वज्ञ मा विलम्बं कुरु प्रभो॥३३॥

I happen to be Subhadrā who always remained guarding your doors like Jaya and Vijaya. O lord, you are all knowledgeable and are therefore well-aware of everything. Do not delay.

लक्ष्मीशापेन भ्रष्टोऽहं कालः पूर्णो बभूव मे।
शतवर्षेण शापान्ते यास्यामि भवनं तव॥३४॥

I had fallen because of the curse of Lakṣmī; the period of my curse is over. I shall now proceed to your abode after lapse of hundred years of curse.

श्रीकृष्ण उवाच

पूर्वं मां मित्र प्रहर पश्चाद्युद्धं करोम्यहम्।
सर्वं जानामि वैकुण्ठं गच्छ वत्स यथासुखम्॥३५॥

Śrī Kṛṣṇa said- O friend, you first attack me and thereafter I shall fight. O son, I am quite well-aware of everything. You go back to Vaikuṇṭha with pleasure.

श्रृगालो दशबाणांश्च चिक्षेप माधवं प्रति।
ते प्रणम्य ययुः शीघ्रमाकाशं कालरूपिणः॥३६॥

Thereafter Śṛgāla shot ten arrows towards Śrī Kṛṣṇa. All of these arrows bowing in reverence at the feet of Kṛṣṇa disappeared in the sky.

गदां चिक्षेप राजा स प्रलयाग्निशिखोपमाम्।
कृष्णाङ्गस्पर्शमात्रेण बभञ्ज च क्षणेन च॥३७॥

The king then threw gadā which issued fire-flames but the same was shattered into pieces with the touch of the body of Śrī Kṛṣṇa.

शूलं चिक्षेप मुसलं शक्तिं च परशुं तथा।
कृष्णाङ्गस्पर्शमात्रेण बभञ्ज च क्षणेन च॥३८॥
धनुश्चिक्षेप खड्गं च कालरूपं सुदारुणम्।
कृष्णाङ्गस्पर्शमात्रेण बभञ्ज च क्षणेन च॥३९॥

The king then shot the trident, mortar and śakti which were destroyed and broken into pieces with the touch of the body of Śrī Kṛṣṇa. He then shot the terrific sword and the arrows, but with the touching of the body of Śrī. Kṛṣṇa, they were all reduced to pieces.

दृष्ट्वा निरस्त्रं राजानमित्युवाच कृपानिधिः।
गृहं गत्वा सुतीक्ष्णं च मित्रास्त्रमानयेति च॥४०॥

When the king was without any weapon, the merciful Kṛṣṇa said to him, "O friend you go and bring some more sharp edged weapon.

श्रृगाल उवाच

नाऽऽत्माऽऽकाशोऽस्त्रविद्धश्च किं युद्धमात्मना सह।
मामुद्धर भवाब्धेश्च धरोद्धारणकारण॥४१॥

Śṛgāla said- The soul and the sky cannot be wounded with the use of arrows, therefore, how can I have a fight with the soul? You are the one who relieves the earth of her burden. You redeem me from the ocean of the universe.

भवाब्धि विषमं नाथ विषयं च विषाधिकम्।
छिन्धि मे निगडं मायां मोहजालं स्वकर्मण:॥४२॥
कर्मणामीश्वरस्त्वं च विधाता धातुरेव च।
दाता शुभफलानां च प्रदाता सर्वसंपदाम्॥४३॥

O lord, the terrific ocean of the universe is filled with poison; therefore you remove all my bondage's of illusion, you are the lord of all the deeds, creator of Brahmā, bestower of the fruits and all the noble deeds, bestowed all the riches, the cause of all the deeds and are competent enough to shatter the deeds.

कारणं प्राक्तनानां च तेषां च खण्डने क्षम:।
यामि गेहं च वैकुण्ठं तवैव द्वारसप्तमम्॥४४॥
त्यक्त्वा च नश्वरं देहं प्राकृतं पाञ्चभौतिकम्।
मित्रस्य स्तवनं श्रुत्वा वचनं च सुधोपमम्॥४५॥
रुरोद समरे तत्र कृपया च कृपानिधि:।
बभूव तत्र सहसा कृष्णनेत्राश्रुबिन्दुना॥४६॥
दिव्यं बिन्दुसरो नाम तीर्थानां प्रवरं परम्।
तत्तोयस्पर्शमात्रेण जीवन्मुक्तो भवेन्नर:॥
सप्तजन्मर्जितात्पापान्मुच्यते नात्र संशय:॥४७॥

After ending this body of five elements, I shall reach the gate of Vaikuṇṭha. On listening to the prayer of a friend, the words of which were spoken like nectar, the lord who happened to be the ocean of mercy, started crying filled with emotion and compassion. With the tears fallen from the eyes of lord Kṛṣṇa, a pool was created which was known by the name of Bindusara. It was a divine pool and became the best of the pool, person with a dip in the pool is relieved of the cycle of birth and death and the sins committed by him in earlier birth also disappear. There is no doubt about it.

श्रीभगवानुवाच

कथमेतादृशी बुद्धिर्मित्र ते निर्मलं मन:।
दूतद्वारा कथं चोक्तं निष्ठुरं दारुणं वच:॥४८॥

Śrī Kṛṣṇa said- O friend, you have a spotless mind, then how were you so misguided? Why did you make the messenger to speak such harsh words?.

एवमुक्तो मया त्वं च तेन क्रोधादिहाऽऽगत:।
अन्यथा दुर्लभं नाथ स्वप्नेऽपि तव दर्शनम्॥४९॥

Śṛgāla said- Since I made the messenger speak in harsh tone you have arrived here, otherwise O lord, it is difficult to have an audience with you even in dream.

एतस्मिन्नन्तरे योगाद्देहं त्यक्त्वा च प्राकृतम्।
दृष्ट्वा कृष्णं च यानेन बैकुण्ठं प्रययौ मुदा॥५०॥
सप्ततालप्रमाणं च ज्योतिस्तत्र महोल्बणम्।
पद्मै: पद्मार्चितं पादपद्मं नत्वा जगाम ह॥५१॥

In the meantime he ended his life with yogic practices and looking at Kṛṣṇa he delightfully proceeded to Vaikuṇṭha. At that point of time a divine lustre as high as seven tāla trees appeared there and merged into the lotus-like feet of Śrī Kṛṣṇa.

गत्वा च द्वारकां कृष्णो नत्वा च पितरं प्रसूम्।
श्रीकृष्ण: सगण: शीघ्रं दृष्ट्वा च परमाद्भुतम्॥
प्रफुल्लवदन: श्रीमान्द्वारकाभिमुखं ययौ।
जगाम रुक्मिणीगेहं पुष्पचन्दनवासितम्॥५३॥
पुष्पचन्दनतल्पे च नक्तं रेमे तया सह।
मूर्च्छां संप्राप स भैष्मी कृष्णं कृत्वा स्ववक्षसि॥

Śrī Kṛṣṇa felt delighted. At the sight of this he felt delightful and went back to Dvārakā; reaching there, he bowed in reverence to his parents and then reached the abode of Rukmiṇī, which was issuing the fragrance of flowers and sandal-paste. He spent the night on the bed of flowers and, sandal-paste. Rukmiṇī was fainted placing her head on the chest of her lord.

The story of Syamantaka Gem

नारद उवाच

सर्वासां रमणीनां च कृष्णेन परमात्मना।
समुद्वाहश्च कथितस्त्वया भगवता मुदा।।१।।

स्यमन्तकस्य च मणेरुपाख्यानमभीप्सितम्।
तत्र श्रुतं महाभाग तन्मां व्याख्यातुमर्हसि।।२।।

Nārada said- You have narrated about the marriage of several damsels with Kṛṣṇa but the mystery about the Syamantaka remain unfolded. O virtuous, one I have not heard about it. You kindly tell me.

नारायण उवाच

भाद्रशुक्लचतुर्थ्यां च तारकां हृतवाञ्छशी।
तां तत्याज स कृष्णायां गुरुस्तां च गृहीतवान्।।३।।
गुरुणा भर्त्सिता तारा सगर्भा लज्जिता सती।
शशाप लज्जया कोपाच्चन्द्रं कामातुरं पुरा।।४।।

Nārāyaṇa said- In the earlier times on the fourth moon day of the Bhādrapada, the moon abducted Tārā and freed her on the fourth moon day of Āśvina. Bṛhaspati then accepted her. The chaste lady felt shameful because of her conception Bṛhaspati denounced her and Tārā in anger pronounced a curse on the moon getting filled with shame and anger.

तारोवाच

भव शापकलंकी त्वं यस्त्वां पश्यति देहभृत्।
पापं दृष्ट्वा स पापी च कलंकी च भविष्यति।।५।।

Tārā said- You would earn the blemish because of my curse. Whosoever you looks at you on the fourth moon day of Bhādrapada, he would also earn blemish.

इति श्रुत्वा स चन्द्रश्च नारायणसरोवरे।
नारायणतपस्तप्त्वा मुमोच कृतपातकात्।।६।।

On hearing this, the moon went to the Nārāyaṇa-sarovara and performing tapas there he was free from the sin.

तप:क्लिष्टं च तं दृष्ट्वा भगवान्पुरुषोत्तम:।
तमुवाच महाभीतं कृपया च कृपानिधि:।।७।।

Finding the moon having become so lean and thin, the compassionate Nārāyaṇa mercifully told him.

श्री भगवानुवाच

मुक्तो भव कलंकी त्वं सर्वकालं कलानिधे।
शापस्थानं तारकाया भाद्रे मासि सितासिते।।८।।

Viṣṇu said- O moon you will be freed from the blemish for all the times. Only such a person would earn a blemish, who would look at you on the fourth moon day of Bhādrapada quite willingly. The blemish of moon would be transferred to such a person and he would earn a blemish.

चतुर्थ्यामुदितं चन्द्रं यस्तु पश्यति कामत:।
तं याति तत्कलङ्कश्च स कलंकी भविष्यति।।९।।
हरिणा दीयते ताले भाद्रे मासि सितासिते।
चतुर्थ्यामुदितश्चन्द्रो नेक्षितव्य: कदाचन।।१०।।

Lord Hari announced with the clapping of the hands that on the fourth day of the moon either in the bright or dark fortnight, the moon should not be witnessed.

स्वयं दृष्ट्वा स्ववाक्यं च पालनं कर्तुमर्हति।
भाद्रे चन्द्रं चतुर्थ्यां तु स कलंकी बभूव ह।।११।।
कलंकी येन रूपेण तद्वक्ष्यामि निशामय।
स मुमोच कलंकाच्च लोकशिक्षार्थमीश्वर:।।१२।।

He also followed, the declaration about the moon for himself and because of that he earned a blemish on the fourth day of the night in Bhādrapada. Now I shall narrate to you way in which he earned the blemish. The lord was freed from the blemish to educate the people.

सत्राजित: सूर्यभक्तस्तपस्तप्त्वा च पुष्करे।
स्यमन्तकं मणिश्रेष्ठं संप्राप भास्करादपि।।१३।।

Satrājita a devotee of Sūrya performed tapas at Puṣkara-tīrtha and achieved Syamantaka gem from Sūrya.

अष्टौ भारान्सुवर्णानां प्रसूते नित्यमेव च।
विष्णोर्मणावधिष्ठानं महापूते च पुण्यदे।।१४।।

The Syamantaka gem produce eight bharas of gold daily. Lord Viṣṇu was established in that gem.

सत्राजित: सत्यभामां दत्त्वा कृष्णाय भक्तित:।
यौतुकार्थे मणिं दातुमुद्यतो महते महान्।।१५।।
तं निषिध्य प्रसेनश्च दुर्मति: कालपीडित:।
मणिं गृहीत्वा प्रययौ पुण्यां वाराणसीं पुरीम्।।१६।।

Satrājīta got ready to present the said gem with devotion to Satyabhāmā as a dowry. Moved with the evil time the wicked Prasena stopped him from doing so and stealing the gem he went to the auspicious place of Vārāṇasī.

निहत्य तं पथि बलात्सिहः सबल एव च।
मणिं जग्राह रुचिरं सूत्रबद्धं गले दधौ॥१७॥
कलिङ्गराजपुत्रश्च ब्रह्मशापात्सुदारुणात्।
विप्रेणाभ्युदितस्तेन पशुयोनिं जगाम सः॥१८॥
निहत्य सिंह गहने भल्लूको जाम्बवान्बली।
मणिं गृहीत्वा प्रययौ स्वपुरं रत्ननिर्मितम्॥१९॥

But on the way a very strong lion killed him and took away the gem with the cord and wore it round his neck. The lion was none else than then the son of the king of Kaliṅga, who had been facing the curse of that Brāhmaṇa and had taken to the form of an animal. The same lion was killed by a very strong beer named Jāmbavān and carrying the gem with him, he reverted to his abode.

ऊचुः सर्वे द्वारकायां मणिं जगाह माधवः।
तस्य बुद्धिं न जानीमः केनोपायेन वेति च॥२०॥

On the other hand people in Dvārakā started saying that the gem had been stolen by Kṛṣṇa and it was difficult to find out the way by which he stole away the gem.

इति श्रुत्वा तु भगवान्कलंककृन्तनाय च।
प्रययौ काननं घोरं चौरचिह्नेन वर्त्मना॥२१॥

On hearing this in order to wash out the blemish, lord Kṛṣṇa moved in the forest on the path bearing the foot-prints of the thief.

मृतं प्रसेनं दृष्ट्वा च दुःखी सिहं ददर्श सः।
मणिशून्यं च तं दृष्ट्वा विषसाद च माधवः॥२२॥

Finding Prasena having been dead, he was grieved. Then he found the lion but finding, him without the gem, Mādhava felt disinterested.

सर्वं ज्ञात्वा च सर्वज्ञो भल्लूकभवनं ययौ।
रुदन्तं बालकं तत्र धात्रीक्रोडे ददर्श सः॥२३॥

Thereafter, the all knowledgeable Kṛṣṇa, because of his divine power came to know of everything and went to the abode of the beer, he found a child sleeping in the lap of the mid-wife.

बालकं बोधयामास सा धात्री करुणान्विता।
मणिं गृहाण बालेति तव ह्येष स्यमन्तकः॥२४॥

The mid-wife getting filled with compassion was talking to the child, "you have this gem known by the name of Syamantaka which belongs to you.".

सिंहः प्रसेनमवधीत्सिहो जाम्बवता हतः।
सुकुमारक मा रोदीस्तव ह्येष स्यमन्तकः॥२५॥

The lion killed Prasena and Jāmbavān killed the lion. O prince don't cry, this gem belongs to you.

इति धात्र्युक्तसुश्लोकं यश्च स्मृत्वा जलं पिबेत्।
दैवदृष्टनष्टचन्द्रदोषादेव प्रमुच्यते॥२६॥

The one who recites this stotra, composed by the mid-wife and then drinks the water, he is relieved of the blemish of witnessing the moon on the prohibited day.

कामतो यदि पश्यन्ति दाम्भिका वेदनिन्दकाः।
कलङ्किनो भवन्त्येवमित्याह कमलोद्भवः॥२७॥

Such of the wicked person who denounces the Vedas and willingly witnesses the moon on the prohibited day, he surely earns the blemish.

कृष्णो धात्रीवचः श्रुत्वा मणिं जग्राह बालकात्।
धात्री गत्वा च भल्लूकं कथयामास कोपतः॥२८॥

On hearing the words of the midwife Kṛṣṇa took away the gem from the child. The enraged midwife went to the beer and spoke to him.

जाम्बवांश्च समागत्य तुष्टाव प्रणिपत्य सनम्रः।
कन्यां जाम्बवतीं तस्मै यौतुकार्थं मणिं ददौ॥२९॥

Jāmbavān than come there and started eulogising Kṛṣṇa. Thereafter, he gave away his daughter Jāmbavatī to him together with the divine gem in dowry.

द्वारकां मणिमानीय दर्शयामास यादवान्।
प्रभुश्च सर्वतः शुद्धो निष्कलङ्को बभूव सः॥३०॥

Lord Kṛṣṇa went to Dvārakā and showed the gem to Yādavas and was freed from the blemish.

एतत्ते कथितं वत्स मणेराख्यानमुत्तमम्।
अध्यायश्रवणादेव निष्कलंको भवेन्नरः॥३१॥

O son, I have narrated to you the story of the Syamantaka gem with the hearing of which one is relieved of all the blemish.

यच्छ्रुतं धर्मवक्त्रेण तदुक्तं च यथागमम्।
सुदुर्लभमुपाख्यानं किं भूयः श्रोतुमिच्छसि॥३२॥

I have narrated to you the beautiful story which I had heard from the mouth of Dharmarāja in earlier times. what else do you want to listen from me now.

Glory of Gaṇeśa

नारद उवाच

गणेशपूजनाख्यानं पुराणेषु च दुर्लभम्।
श्रुतं तद्ब्रह्मणो वक्त्रासामान्यं च समासत:॥१॥
महिमानं गणपते: सर्वपूज्येश्वरस्य च।
व्यासेन श्रोतुमिच्छामि योगीन्द्राणां गुरोर्गुरो:॥२॥

Nārada said- I have listened to the inaccessible method of adoration of Gaṇeśa quite briefly from the mouth of Brahmā; now you tell me about the glory of Gaṇapati, who is the teacher of the yogīs, in considerable detail.

सिद्धाश्रमे महापूजा त्रैलोक्यस्थै: कृता पुरा।
राधामाधवयोस्तत्र पुन: संमीलनं पुरा॥३॥
अतीते वर्षशतके श्रीदाम्न: शापमोक्षणे।
आदौ चकार पूजां च सा च राधा कथं मुने॥४॥

In the earlier times the people of the three worlds performed a great pūjā in Siddhāśrama, where Rādhā and Kṛṣṇa had met again after the expiry of the curse or hundred years separation pronounced by Śrīdāmā. Then O sage, how could Rādhā adored Gaṇeśa first?

स्थितेषु च सुरेन्द्रेषु ब्रह्मविष्णुशिवादिषु।
नागेन्द्रे च स्थिते शेषे नागेषु च महत्सु च॥५॥
राजेन्द्रेषु च भूमौ च बलिष्ठेष्वसुरेषु च।
गन्धर्वेषु च रक्ष:सु चान्येषु बलवत्सु च॥६॥
विस्तरेण महाभाग तन्मे व्याख्यातुमर्हसि॥७॥

How could the Brahmā, Viṣṇu, Śiva and other gods, the king of Nāgas known as Śeṣa, the great serpents, the great king on earth, powerful demons, Gandharvas and other rulers adore Gaṇeśa on earth. You kindly tell me in detail.

नारायण उवाच

त्रैलोक्ये पृथिवी धन्या मान्या पुण्यवती सती।
तत्र भारतवर्षं च कर्मणा फलदं शुभम्॥८॥
धन्यं यशस्यं पूज्यं च पुण्यक्षेत्रे च भारते।
सिद्धाश्रमं महापुण्यक्षेत्रं मोक्षप्रदं शुभम्॥९॥

Nārāyaṇa said- Since the earth happens to be quite auspicious in three worlds it is adorable by all. The land of Bhārata only bestows the reward of the good deeds. In the land of Bhārata there is an auspicious region in which Siddhāśrama is located which bestows grace, reputation and mokṣa.

सनत्कुमारो भगवांस्तत्र सिद्धो बभूव है।
स्वयं विधाता तत्रैव तप्त्वा सिद्धो बभूव॥१०॥
योगीन्द्राश्च मुनीन्द्राश्च सिद्धेन्द्रा: कपिलादय:।
शतक्रन्तून्महेन्द्रश्च तत्र कृत्वा बभूव ह॥११॥

The great yogīs, the ascetic, sage Kapila and others achieved excellence there. performing a hundred yajñas there, the god of gods achieved the position of Mahendra.

तेन सिद्धाश्रमं नाम सर्वेषामपि दुर्लभम्।
अधिष्ठानं गणेशस्य तत्रैव सततं मुने॥१२॥

Because of this, the place is given the name of Siddhāśrama. It is beyond the reach of all. O sage, Gaṇeśa resides there always.

अमूल्यरत्ननिर्माणगणेशप्रतिमां शुभाम्।
वैशाख्यां पूर्णिमायां च पूजां कुर्वन्ति देवता:॥१३॥
नागाश्च मानवाश्चैव दैत्या गन्धर्वराक्षसा:।
सिद्धेन्द्राश्च योगीन्द्रा: सनकादया:॥१४॥

There is a beautiful image of Gaṇeśa studded with gems, which is adored on the full moon day of Vaiśākha by the gods and the Nāgas, humans, demons, Gandharvas, the siddhas the Rākṣasas, the sages and the yogīs.

तत्राऽऽजगाम शंभुश्च पार्वत्या सह शंकरः।
सगणः कार्तिकेयश्च स्वयं ब्रह्मा प्रजापतिः॥१५॥

At that point of time Śiva also accompanied by Pārvatī, Kārttikeya and other gaṇas arrived there together with Brahma.

तत्राऽऽजगाम शेषश्च नागेन्द्रैः सह सत्वरम्।
तत्राऽऽजग्मुः सुराः सर्वे मनवो मुनयस्तथा॥१६॥
आजग्मुस्ते नृपाः सर्वे पूजार्थं हृष्टमानसाः।
आययौ भगवान्कृष्णो द्वारकावासिभिः सह॥१७॥

Śeṣa also arrived there with all the serpents. After that, all the gods, Manus and the sages also arrived there; all the gods and the kings arrived there in order to adore Gaṇeśa. Lord Kṛṣṇa also reached there together with the people of Dvārakā.

आजगाम तथा नन्दः सार्धं गोकुलवासिभिः।
गोपीत्रिशतकोटीभिर्गोलोकवासिभिः सह॥१८॥
गजेन्द्रकोटितुल्याभिर्बलिष्ठाभिः सहाऽऽलिभिः।
आययौ सुन्दरी राधा कृष्णप्राणाधिदेवता॥१९॥
रासेश्वरी सुरसिका शतवर्षे गते सति।
सुस्नाता सुदती शुद्धा धृत्वा धौते च वाससी॥२०॥

Similarly Nanda together with the people of Gokula also reached there; the beautiful Rādhā, the beloved of Śrī Kṛṣṇa also reached there. After the expiry of a hundred years of separation together with three crores of cowherdesses of Gokula, who were quite strong like the elephant. Rādhā having the beautiful teeth took her bath and was clad in the beautiful and fine garment.

संयता सा निराहारा गत्वा च मणिमण्डपम्।
सुप्रक्षालितपादाब्जा कान्ता भुवनपावनी॥२१॥

Thereafter the chaste Rādhā washed her feet pretty well and observing fast, controlling her senses reached the maṇḍapa of gems.

श्रीकृष्णप्रीतिकामाऽथ सुसंकल्पं विधाय च।
गङ्गोदकेन हेरम्बं स्नापयामास भक्तितः॥२२॥

She with the intention of achieving Kṛṣṇa performed the pūjā of Gaṇeśa bathing his image with water of the Gaṅgā.

ध्यानं च सामवेदोक्तं चकार शुक्लपुष्पतः।
माता चतुर्णां वेदानां वसोश्च जगतामपि॥२३॥
बुद्धिरूपा भगवती ज्ञानिनां जननी परा।
यानात्मकं स्वपुत्रं तं परं ध्यानं चकार सा॥२४॥

Thereafter Rādhā who happens to be the mother of the Vedas, the Vasus, the universe, the mother of intellectuals and filled with wisdom, offered white flowers to the gods and adored Gaṇeśa like her son according to the method prescribed in the Sāmaveda.

खर्वं लम्बोदरं स्थूलं ज्वलन्तं ब्रह्मतेजसा।
गजवक्त्रं वह्निवर्णमेकदन्तमनन्तकम्॥२५॥
सिद्धानां योगिनामेव ज्ञानिनां च गुरोर्गुरुम्।
ध्यातं मुनीन्द्रैर्देवेन्द्रैर्ब्रह्मेशशेषसंज्ञकैः॥२६॥
सिद्धेन्द्रैर्मुनिभिः सद्भिर्भगवन्तं सनातनम्।
ब्रह्मस्वरूपं परमं मङ्गलं मङ्गलालयम्॥२७॥
सर्वविघ्नहरं शान्तं दातारं सर्वसंपदाम्।
भवाब्धिमायापोतेन कर्णधारं च कर्मिणाम्॥२८॥
शरणागतदीनार्तपरित्राणपरायणम्।
ध्यायेद्ध्यानात्मकं साध्यं भक्तेशं भक्तवत्सलम्॥२९

The dwarfs, the pot-bellied person, the fat people, the people possessing divine lustre, those having the faces of elephants, those having the lustre of fire, the one having the single tusk, the one who happens to be the teacher of all the intellectuals and people of wisdom, the one who is adored by Brahmā, Śiva, Śeṣa sages, siddhas, ascetics and noble people, who is all virtuous, is eternal, is form of Brahman, the form of welfare, the place of welfare, the one who removes all the obstructions, is peaceful, bestower of all the riches, the one who can make the people to cross the ocean of the universe, the one who always provides protection to those who take refuge in him, is the form of meditation, is quite adorable and graceful to the devotees, the same Gaṇeśa had to be adored.

इति ध्यात्वा स्वशिरसि दत्त्वा पुष्पं पुनः सती।
सर्वाङ्गशोधनं न्यासं वेदोक्तं च चकार सा॥३०॥

After thus meditation, Rādhā, placed the flower on his head and performed all the rights prescribed in the Vedas.

पुनश्च ध्यात्वा ध्यानेन तेनैव शुभदायिना।
ददौ पुष्पं पादपद्मे राधा लम्बोदरस्य च॥३१॥

Thereafter with the performing of dhyānam she offered a bunch flowers at the lotus-like feet of Gaṇeśa, having a protruding belly.

सप्ततीर्थोदकेनैव शीतेन वासितेन च।
ददौ पाद्यं पादपद्मे तैः पद्मादिभिरर्चिते॥३२॥
दूर्वाक्षतैः शुक्लपुष्पैः सुगन्धिचन्दनोदकैः।
अर्घ्यं ददौ तच्छिरसि स्वयं गोलोकवासिनी॥३३॥

Thereafter, Rādhā, the dweller of Goloka herself offered the fragrant water of the holy places, Dūrvā-grass, unbroken rice, white flowers, fragrant sandal-paste and arghya to Gaṇeśa.

सचन्दनं स्निग्धमाल्यं पारिजातस्य सुन्दरम्।
ददौ गले गणेशस्य स्वयं रासेश्वरी मुदा॥३४॥
कस्तूरीकुङ्कुमाक्तं च सुगन्धि स्निग्धचन्दनम्।
सर्वाङ्गे प्रददौ तस्य वृन्दावनविनोदिनी॥३५॥

Then she offered a beautiful garland of Pārijāta flowers soaked in sandal-paste. Thereafter Rādhā the dweller of Vṛndāvana pasted the body of Gaṇeśa with kastūrī, saffron and fragrant sandal-paste.

सुगन्धि शुक्लं पुष्पं च सुगन्धि चन्दनार्चितम्।
ददौ तस्य पदाम्भोजे महापद्मालया सती॥३६॥
सुगन्धियुक्तं धूपं च पूतैर्वस्तुभिरन्वितम्।
ददौ कृष्णप्रिया तस्मै जगतामीश्वराय च॥३७॥

Then Rādhā the dweller of the great lotus, took up the fragrant white flowers and soaking them with fragrant sandal-paste, offered them at the lotus-like feet of Gaṇeśa. Thereafter the beloved of Kṛṣṇa of feed the fragrant material together with incense to lord Gaṇeśa.

दीपं घृतप्रदीप्तं च ध्वान्तविध्वंसकारणम्।
ददौ तस्मै सुरेशाय परमाद्या सनातनी॥३८॥

The primeval and eternal Rādhā then offered a lamp to Gaṇeśa which removed the complete darkness.

Then the tasteful food and others eatables and beverages which we difficult to get in the three worlds. She also offered the ripe fruits, the roots from the villages and the forest, the sweet balls of sesamum and several other types of sweet balls of barley and flour besides other sweet times including svastikas. Several types of friends articles besides sugar, ghee, milk, honey, guḍa, curd, pāyasam and heaps of banana fruits besides other sweet and vegetables with food including rice were offered to Gaṇapati by Rādhā the beloved of Kṛṣṇa. She also offered the gem-studded lion-throne. The five garments sanctified by fire were given by Rādhā, the dweller of the mountain of hundred peaks to Gaṇeśa. She also offered to Gaṇeśa the betel with camphor. Thereafter, the mistress of the cowherdesses, offered from water seven holy places to Gaṇeśa for drinking which was quite auspicious and cool. Thereafter Rādhā offered to Gaṇeśa an invaluable white fly-whisks. Rādhā who always dwells in the heart of Kṛṣṇa also gave away in charity, Kāmadhenu cows with calves and performing repentance, she offered a bunch of flowers and recited the mūlamantra making sixteen type of offerings. Thereafter Rādhā the dweller of Kālindī recited the mantra (ॐ गं गो गणपतये विघ्नविनाशिने स्वाहा) of sixteen letters which was like the best of kalpatarus and recited it a thousand time. Rādhās then filled with devotion became overwhelmed and tears started flowing from her eyes and she started adoring Gaṇeśa.

राधिकोवाच

Rādhā said- You happen to be eternal abode, eternal Brahman, the lord of all, remover of the obstructions peaceful, well-built, pleasant and beyond measure; you are adores by the fore-most of the gods and the demons. You are the one who serves as a sun for the lotus-like gods and happen to be the resting place for the welfare. I offer my prayer to the same type of Gaṇeśa. The stotra is quite auspicious and removes the terrific obstructions. whosoever recites it in the early morning, he is freed from all the obstructions.

Prayer of Rādhā by Gaṇeśa, Brahmā, Śiva and Ananta

नारायण उवाच

राधा संपूज्य विधिना स्तुत्वा लम्बोदरं सती।
अमूल्यरत्ननिर्माणं सर्वाङ्गभूषणं ददौ॥१॥
राधायाः स्तवनं श्रुत्वा पूजा दृष्ट्वा च वस्तु च।
उवाच मधुरं शान्तः शान्तां त्रैलोक्यमातरम्॥२॥

Nārāyaṇa said- The chaste Rādhā adored Gaṇeśa appropriately and offering prayer to him, presented to him the gem-studded ornaments for all the limbs. On hearing the prayer of Rādhā and finding her adoration and the articles given by her in charity, Gaṇeśa spoke to Rādhā who happened to be the mother of the universe and having the peaceful nature.

गणेश उवाच

तव पूजा जगन्मातर्लोकशिक्षाकरी शुभे।
ब्रह्मस्वरूपा भवती कृष्णवक्षः स्थलस्थिता॥३॥
यत्पादपद्ममतुलं ध्यायन्ते ते सुदुर्लभम्।
सुरा ब्रह्मेशशेषाद्या मुनीन्द्राः सनकादयः॥४॥
जीवन्मुक्ताश्च भक्ताश्च सिद्धेन्द्राः कपिलादयः।
तस्य प्राणाधिदेवी त्वं प्रिया प्राणाधिका परा॥५॥
वामाङ्गनिर्मिता राधा दक्षिणाङ्गश्च माधवः।
महालक्ष्मीर्जगन्माताः तव वामाङ्गनिर्मिता॥६॥

Gaṇeśa said- O mother of the universe, the adoration provided by you, is educative for others. O auspicious one, you are the form of Brahman and reside always in the heart of Kṛṣṇa; he is the one whose lotus-like feet are meditated upon by Brahmā, Śiva, Śeṣa and other gods, Sanaka and sages, Kapila and others, devotees and siddhas, you happen to be the beloved of the same Kṛṣṇa. Śrī Kṛṣṇa happens to be Mādhava from the right side and Rādhā emerged from his left side. Lakṣmī the mother of the universe appeared from his left side.

वसोः सर्वनिवासस्य प्रसूस्त्वं परमेश्वरी।
वेदानां जगतामेव मूलप्रकृतिरीश्वरी॥७॥
सर्वाः प्राकृतिका मातः सृष्ट्यां च त्वद्विभूतयः।
विश्वानि कार्यरूपाणि त्वं च कारणरूपिणी॥८॥

You happen to be the mother of Vasus, Parameśvarī, Mūlaprakṛti and the mother of the Vedas. O mother, all the humans of the universe represent your form, the entire universe represent the deeds and you happen to be the cause of the same.

प्रलये ब्रह्मणः पाते तन्निमेषो हरेरपि।
आदौ राधां समुच्चार्य पश्चात्कृष्णं परात्परम्॥९॥
स एव पण्डितो योगी गोलोकं याति लीलया।
व्यतिक्रमे महापापी ब्रह्महत्यां लभेद्ध्रुवम्॥१०॥

When Brahma falls at the time of the dissolution of the universe, a moment of Viṣṇu is counted. The one who recites the name of Rādhā and then of Kṛṣṇa he surely goes to the Goloka if the order is reversed, one earns the sin of Brahmahatyā.

जगतां भवती माता परमात्मा पिता हरिः।
पितुरेव गुरुर्माता पूज्या वन्द्या परात्परा॥११॥
भजते देवमन्यं वा कृष्णं वा सर्वकारणम्।
पुण्यक्षेत्रे महामूढो यदि निन्दति राधिकाम्॥१२॥
वंशहानिर्भवेत्तस्य दुःखशोकमिहैव च।
पच्यते निरये घोरे यावच्चन्द्रदिवाकरौ॥१३॥

You are the mother of the universe and Hari happens to be the father but the one who is beyond everything is more adorable than the parents. Such of the people who in the land of Bhārata recite the name of Kṛṣṇa only and denounce Rādhā, their race gets destroyed and have to suffer mental agony for long. They are then fallen in the terrific hell and have to remain there till the sun and the moon.

गुरुश्च ज्ञानोदिग्रणाज्ज्ञानं स्यान्मन्त्रतन्त्रयोः।
स च मन्त्रश्च तत्तन्त्रं भक्तिः स्याद्युवयोर्यतः॥१४।
निषेव्य मन्त्रं देवानां जीवा जन्मनि जन्मनि।
भक्ता भवन्ति दुर्गायाः पादपद्मे सुदुर्लभे॥१५॥

The one who bestows the knowledge is known as the teacher besides the mantras and the tantras. The same mantras and tantras represent your devotion. By reciting the mantras of the gods, the people achieved the extremely inaccessible devotion of goddess Durgā.

निषेव्य मन्त्रं शंभोश्च जगतां कारणस्य च।
तदा प्राप्नोति युवयोः पादपद्मं सुदुर्लभम्॥१६॥

By reciting the mantra of Śiva who is the cause of the universe, one achieves the inaccessible lotus-like feet of the lord.

युवयोः पादपद्मं च दुर्लभं प्राप्य पुण्यवान्।
क्षणार्धं षोडशांशं च नहि मुञ्चति दैवतः॥१७॥

By achieving the inaccessible lotus-like feet of the lord, the virtuous person never disowns them even for the fraction of a moment in future.

भक्त्या च युवयोर्मन्त्रं गृहीत्वा वैष्णवादपि।
स्तवं वा कवचं वाऽपि कर्ममूलनिकृन्तनम्॥१८॥
योजयेत्परया भक्त्या पुण्यक्षेत्रे च भारते।
पुरुषाणां सहस्रं च स्वात्मना सार्धमुद्धरेत्॥१९॥

In the sacred land of Bhārata, such of the Vaiṣṇava person who recites your mantra with devotion or received the kavaca which shatter the base of the deeds and recites it with great devotion, he redeems with himself, thousands of his generations.

गुरुमभ्यर्च्य विधिवद्वस्त्रालंकारचन्दनैः।
कवचं धारयेद्यो हि विष्णुतुल्यो भवेद्ध्रुवम्॥२०॥

Such of the persons who adore her daily appropriately and wears the kavaca offering the costumes, ornaments, sandal-paste to the teacher, he surely becomes equal to Viṣṇu.

यद्दत्तं वस्तु मे मातस्तत्सर्वं सार्थकं कुरु।
देहि विप्राय मत्प्रीत्या तदा भोक्ष्यामि सांप्रतम्।।२१।।
देवे देयानि दानानि देवे देया च दक्षिणा।
तत्सर्वं ब्राह्मणे दद्यात्तदानन्त्याय कल्पते।।२२।।

O mother whatever has been given by you to me, make them purposeful. Presently for my pleasure you distribute all these things to the Brāhmaṇa. Only than I shall take my food. The things which are fit for giving away in charity besides the dakṣiṇa should be given to the Brāhmaṇas which best-owed the merit beyond measure.

ब्राह्मणानां मुखं राधे देवानां मुखमुख्यकम्।
विप्रभुक्तं च यद्द्रव्यं प्राप्नुवन्त्येव देवता:।।२३।।

O Rādhā, the mouth of the Brāhmaṇas, is equal to the mouth of god. Therefore whatever is eaten by the Brāhmaṇas, it surely reaches the gods.

विप्रांश्च भोजयामास तत्सर्वं राधिका सती।
बभूव तत्क्षणादेव प्रीतो लम्बोदरो मुने।।२४।।

O sage, thereafter all those articles were distributed by Rādhā to the Brāhmaṇas which pleased the Gaṇeśa immensely.

एतस्मिन्नन्तरे देवा ब्रह्मेशशेषसंज्ञका:।
आययुर्वटमूलं च देवपूजार्थमेव च।।२५।।

In the meantime Brahmā, Śiva, Śeṣa and other gods also arrived under the banyan tree for performing adoration.

तत्र गत्वा शिवचरो देवान्देवीरुवाच स:।
श्रीकृष्णं शुष्ककण्ठश्च भयभीतश्च रक्षक:।।२६।।

At that point of time a messenger of Śiva whose throat has been dried up spoke to the gods, goddess and Śrī Kṛṣṇa.

रक्षक उवाच

गणेशं पूजयामास सर्वादौ च शुभक्षणे।
वृषभानसुता राधा प्रकृत्य स्वस्तिवाचनम्।।२७।।

The messenger said- Rādhā the daughter of Vṛṣabhāna reciting Svastivācana adored Gaṇeśa first of all.

सहिता सा बलवती गोपीत्रिशतकोटिभि:।
वारितोऽहं बलिष्ठाभिर्युष्मांश्च कथयामि तत्।।२८।।
सर्वादौ पूजयेद्यो हि सोऽनन्तं फलमालभेत्।
मध्ये मध्यविधं पुण्यं शेषं स्वल्पमिति स्मृतम्।।२९।।

The valorous Rādhā is accompanied by three crores of cowherdesses. The strong cowherdesses had driven me out. I also advise all of you to adore Gaṇeśa first of all, because he bestows the merit beyond measure. In case the adoration is performed in the middle, one gets the medium type of merit and when his adoration is performed last of all, one gets very little merit.

देवेन्द्रेषु मुनीन्द्रेषु देवस्त्रीषु स्थितासु च।
गोपीभिश्च सह तया राधया पूजित: पर:।।३०।।

Rādhā adored Gaṇeśa in the presence of the gods, the sages and the goddesses.

दूतवाक्यं समाकर्ण्य जहसु: सर्वदेवता:।
मुनयो मनवश्चैव राजानो देवयोषित:।।३१।।

On hearing the words of the messenger all the men the sages, Manu, kings, gods and goddesses started laughing.

रुक्मिण्याद्या रमण्यश्च या देव्यो विस्मयं ययु:।
सरस्वती च सावित्री पार्वती परमेश्वरी।।३२।।
रोहिणी च सती संज्ञा स्वाहाद्या देवयोषित:।
मुदिता: प्रययु: सर्वा मुनिपत्न्य: पतिव्रता:।।३३।।
मुनयो मनव: सर्वे देवाश्चापि नरास्तथा।
श्रीकृष्ण: स गणै: सार्धं ये चान्ये प्रययुर्मुदा।।३४।।

Rukmiṇī and other damsels beside the goddess however felt surprised at the same time Sarasvatī, Sāvitrī, Pārvatī, the great goddess, Satī, Rohiṇī, Sañjñā, Svāhā and other goddesses delightfully arrived here. All the chaste wives of the sages also arrived the. The ascetics. Manu, all the gods, the humans, also arrived there together with Kṛṣṇa.

ते सर्वे विविधैर्द्रव्यै: पूजां चक्रु: शुभक्षणे।
बलिष्ठा दुर्बलाश्चैव क्रमेण च पृथक्पृथक्।।३५।।

All of them performed the adoration in the auspicious time. All the strong as well as the weak people adored separately.

लड्डुकानां च राशीनां शतकोटिर्बभूव ह।
शर्कराणां तदर्धं च स्वस्तिकानां तथैव च॥३६॥

A hundred crores of heaps of the sweets balls were heaped up, the number such heaps was half of those comprising of the balls of sugar and svastikas.

अन्नानां भव्यवस्तूनां शतकोटिर्बभूव ह।
असंख्यानि फलान्येव स्वादूनि मधुराणि च॥३७॥

There were hundred crores of heaps of the cereals and other delicious items. The delicious and sweet fruits were available in large number.

मधुकुल्या दुग्धकुल्या दधिकुल्या घृतस्य च।
बभूवुः शतसंख्याश्च त्रैलोक्यानां च पूजने॥३८॥

The adoration could be performed with honey, milk, curd and ghee which were flowing in hundreds of canals and could be used for performing pūjā in all the three worlds.

पूजां कृत्वा तु ते सर्वे समूषुश्च सुखासने।
पार्वती परमप्रीत्या राधास्थानं समाययौ॥३९॥

After performing pūjā, all of them took their seats. Thereafter Pārvatī getting filled with affection went to Rādhā.

सा राधा पार्वतीं दृष्ट्वा समुत्थाय जवेन च।
यथायोग्यां च संभाषां चकार सादरं मुदा॥४०॥
आश्लेषणं चुम्बनं च बभूव च परस्परम्।
उवाच मधुरं दुर्गा राधां कृत्वा स्ववक्षसि॥४१॥

Finding Pārvatī with her, Rādhā got up at once and started tailing to her in a sweet manner. Both of them embraced each other, kissing each other at the same time, thereafter, Pārvatī embracing Rādhā spoke to her the sweet words.

पार्वत्युवाच

किंवा प्रश्नं करिष्यामि त्वां राधां मङ्गलालयाम्।
गता ते विरहज्वाला श्रीदाम्नः शापमोक्षणे॥४२॥

Pārvatī said- O Rādhā, you are the abode of welfare and as such what should I ask you. Getting freed from the curse of Śrīdāmā, the agony of your flames of separation has been subsided.

सततं मन्मनः प्राणास्त्वय्येव मयि ते तथा।
न ह्येवमावयोर्भेदः शक्तिपूरुषयोस्तथा॥४३॥

I had always been thinking about you, similarly your mind also remains devoted to me. Therefore there is no difference between the two of us. In the same way as there is no difference between Puruṣa and śakti.

येत्वां निन्दन्ति मद्भक्तास्त्वद्भक्ताश्चापि मामपि।
कुम्भीपाके च पच्यन्ते यावच्चन्द्रदिवाकरौ॥४४॥

Such of my devotees who denounce you and your devotees denounce me, all of them fall into the kumbhīpāka hell where they have to remain till the life of the sun and the moon.

राधामाधवयोर्भेदं ये कुर्वन्ति नराधमाः।
वंशहानिर्भवेत्तेषां पच्यन्ते नरके चिरम्॥४५॥

Such of the degraded people who consider Rādhā and Mādhava to be different, their race is uprooted and they fall into the hell remaining there for a long time.

यान्ति सूकरयोनिं च पितृभिः शतकैः सह।
षष्टिवर्षसहस्राणि विष्ठायां कृमयस्तथा॥४६॥

Thereafter they have to be born as pigs for hundred generations spreading over sixty thousand years and are then born as the inserts of the refuse.

त्वयैव पूजितः पुत्रो न मया च गणेश्वरः।
सर्वादौ सर्वपूज्योऽयं यथा तव तथा मम॥४७॥

It is you who have adored my son Gaṇeśa and not myself. He is adorable by all at all the times. As he is to you, he is same to me.

यावज्जीवनपर्यन्तं न विच्छेदो भविष्यति।
राधामाधवयोर्देवि दुग्धधावल्ययोर्यथा॥४८॥
सिद्धाश्रमे महातीर्थे पुण्यक्षेत्रे च भारते।
निर्विघ्नं लभ गोविन्दं संपूज्य विघ्नखण्डनम्॥४९॥

O goddess, there would be no separation between Rādhā and Mādhava through out the life in the same way as the whiteness cannot be separated from the milk. In the sacred land of Bhārata by adoring lord Gaṇeśa who is the remover of the obstruction, you would surely achieve Śrī Kṛṣṇa.

रासेश्वरी त्वं रसिका श्रीकृष्णो रसिकेश्वरः।
विदग्धाया विदग्धेन संगमो गुणवान्भवेत्।।५०।।

You are the goddess of the divine dance and Kṛṣṇa happens to be the lord. It is always auspicious to have the union of a clever damsel with a clever person.

श्रीदाम्नः शापनिर्मुक्ता शतवर्षान्तरे सति।
कुरुष्व मद्वरेणाद्य कृष्णेन सह संगमम्।।५१।।

O chaste lady after the lapse of hundred years of separation, due to the curse of Śrīdāmā, you have achieved salutation. You enjoy the company of Śrī Kṛṣṇa today with my blessing.

ममाऽऽज्ञया दुर्लभया सुवेषं कुरु सुन्दरि।
सुदुर्लभः कामिनीनां सत्पुंसा सह संगमः।।५२।।

O beautiful one, with my unprecendeted command you clad yourself in beautiful garments, like a damsel who always unites with a noble person.

चक्रुः सुवेषं राधायाः प्रियाल्यश्च शिवाज्ञया।

At the command of Pārvatī the female friends of Rādhā started decorating her beautifully. They made Rādhā to sit on the beautiful lion-throne.

The sandal-paste on the place of parting here was brightened, the chaste Mālatī made the beautiful hair-do, which was adorned with the garland of jasmine flowers. Her breasts were adorned with the sandal-paste as well as kastūrī which could attract the mind of even the sages, Mālāvatī on the other hand offered her a garland of white and fragrant campaka flower. A cowherdesses who was well-versed in the love-sports adorned the body of Rādhā with the gem-studded ornaments and made Rādhā more passionate, who was already filled with passion. The chaste Lalitā applied the collyrium in the eyes of Rādhā which were like the lotus petals of the winter season; besides beautiful garment and she was made to hold the Pārijāta flower given by Indra. The chaste cowherdesses Suśīlā made Rādhā understand the method of serving the beverages to Kṛṣṇa. Kalāvatī the mother of Rādhā remembered all the sixteen arts of the ladies which had been forgotten due to the evil times. Sudhāmukhī, her sister, attracted her attention to the performing of the love-sports, Kamalā on the other hand arranged the bed for the union with the jasmine flowers and the lotus leaves plastered with sandal-paste. The chaste Campāvatī holding the beautiful campaka flowers soaking them with the sandal-paste, kept them in the tree leaves for the use of Kṛṣṇa. Thereafter, in order to please Kṛṣṇa, the flowers of banana trees, the bunch of flowers of kadamba tree and the garlands were prepared. The beloved of Kṛṣṇa, made for the use of Kṛṣṇa, the fragrant and charming betel besides the fragrant water. At the same time the gods and the sages witnessed that the entire āśrama was filled with the fragrance of gorocana. All of them were surprised and spoke to Kṛṣṇa. Thereafter lord Kṛṣ ṇa who knew about everything to them.

श्रीभगवानुवाच

अभिशप्ता च श्रीदाम्ना भ्रष्टशोभा राधिका।

Śrī Kṛṣṇa said- The glory of Rādhā had faded because of the mental agony of the separation; she had lost all the knowledge.

On hearing this, the sages, the ascetics, the goddesses beside the gods like Brahmā and Śiva were surprised.

They arrived there rapidly and bowed before the same in reverence; thereafter all the people of the three worlds had an audience with Rādhikā.

The lustre of her body resembled the white campaka flower which was quite pleasing and charming and could attract the minds of the sages. She had beautiful hair, her body was beautiful and she appeared like a damsel of sixteen years, having hard breasts, the developed pelvic region, slander waist and developed nipples. Her face could put to shame crores of the moons. She always remained smiling and had the beautiful teeth. Her eyes resembled the lotus flower of the winter season. She was the form of Mahālakṣmī, the form of seed, primeval, eternal and the form of eternal Brahman, besides being the goddess of the life of lord Kṛṣṇa. She is the one who is adored for achieving the supreme soul; she is beyond everything, the form of Brahman, uninvolved, everlasting devoid of qualities, Prakṛti, the one who bestows grace on her devotees, the form of truth, spotless, auspicious, purifier of the down-trodden, the one who sanctifies even the auspicious holy places, possessing the divine glory, the creative instinct of Brahmā, the beloved of lord, the great goddess, the mother of Mahāviṣṇu the goddess of the divine dance, adorable, passionate, goddess of the divine dance, clad in the garment sanctified by fire, the one who moves at her own will, the abode of welfare, the one who is served by the seven cowherdesses moving white fly-whisks over her, the one who is adored by the four female friends at her feet, the one who is adorned with the gem-studded ornaments, the one whose temples are shining with the ear ornament worn by her, the one who wears an elephant gem in her nose which keeps on hanging, the one who had the nose like the curved beak of Garuḍa, the one whose body is plastered with saffron, kastūrī end sandal-paste, the one who is quite passionate and walks like the elephant, she is quite attractive having a beautiful nose, to becomes victorious with the god of love she is always passionate and the best, she is the one having a blossomed flower in her hand, she is the one holding Pārijāta flower and the gem-studded mirror in her hand, she is the one who is seated on the lion-throne Studded with various types of gems, she is the one who always adored the lotus-like feet of Kṛṣṇa; adored by padma which are the form of welfare and those lotus-like feet are always placed by her in her heart, she is immensely emotional a spotless devotee, a chaste woman, a graceful one, quite proud, having fair-complexion, the one who always resides in he heart of Kṛṣṇa, the one who is dearer to Kṛṣṇa than all his beloved, the one who is sweet-spoken, the one who emerged from the left side of Kṛṣṇa, the one who is unprecedented in the qualities and the beauty. The one who resides in Goloka, the one who is the goddess of all the goddesses, the supreme goddess, the mistress of the cowherdesses, quite secretive, the one who provides all the success is the form of success could be achieved by deep devotion, the one who is difficult to be achieved the one who is adored by her devotees and the one who appeared in the land of Bhārata as the daughter of Vṛṣabhāna. I adore such a type of Rādhā.

If a person performing meditation adores Rādhā, he is freed from the cycle of birth and death in this world and then become attendant of Kṛṣṇa after death. Thereafter Brahma the creator of the universes started eulogising Rādhā, who happens to be the mother of several Brahmās.

ब्रह्मोवाच

Brahma said- O great goddess, my mind gets devoted at your lotus-like feet. Therefore with the inspiration, I adored you for sixty thousand divine years in the land of Bhārata at Puṣkara-kṣ etra. But still I could not have a look at your lotus-like feet. So much so that I could not have a look at them even in dream. At that point of time a divine voice was heard from the sky, "In the Vārāha-kalpa, in the sacred land of Bhārata, in Siddhāśrama you will see the lotus-like feet of Gaṇeśa".

राधामाधवयोर्दास्यं कुतो विषयिणस्तव।
निवर्तस्व महाभाग परमेतत्सुदुर्लभम्॥१०३॥

How can you have the devotion of Rādhā Mādhava being involved in various types of worldly pleasures. O virtuous one, you detach yourself from everything; it is difficult to be achieves by all.

इति श्रुत्वा निवृत्तोऽहं तपसे भग्नमानसः।
परिपूर्णं तदधुना वाञ्छितं तपसः फलम्॥१०४॥

On hearing this, I felt unconcerned getting disappointed with my tapas but the fruit of my tapas has been well rewarded today.

पद्मैः पद्मार्चितं पादपदम यस्य सुदुर्लभम्।
ध्यायन्ते ध्याननिष्ठाश्च शश्वद्ब्रह्मादयः सुराः॥
मुनयो मनवश्चैव सिद्धाः सन्तश्च योगिनः।
द्रष्टुं नैव क्षमाः स्वप्ने भवती तस्य वक्षसि॥१०६॥

Mahādeva said- The one whose lotus-like feet which are adored by Lakṣmī are difficult to be achieved. The gods like Brahmā, the sages, Manus, siddhas, the noble people, yogīs always adore him. But still they are unable to achieve her who resides in his heart.

अनन्त उवाच

वेदाश्च वेदमाता च पुराणानि च सुव्रते।
अहं सरस्वती सन्तः स्तोतुं नालं च संततम्॥१०७॥

Ananta said- You are the one who performed the best of the vrata, are the mother of the Vedas and Purāṇas. Myself, Sarasvatī and the sages are unable to recite your prayer.

अस्माकं स्तवने यस्य भ्रूभङ्गं च सुदुर्लभम्।
तवैव भर्त्सने भीताश्चावयोन्तरं हरेः॥१०८॥

By reciting the prayers by us lord Hari starts frowning but he gets frightened with your denouncement. This is the difference between the two.

एवं देवाश्च देव्यश्चाप्यन्ये ये च समागताः।
प्रणतास्तुष्टुवुः सर्वे मुनिमन्वादयस्तथा॥१०९॥

Thus all the gods, the goddesses, Manu and all other people who had arrived here, offered prayer to her with reverence.

लज्जया न भ्रवक्त्राश्च रुक्मिण्याद्याश्च योषितः।
मलीमसं न चक्रुस्ताः श्वासेन रत्नदर्पणम्॥११०॥

Realising this the face of all the damsels including Rukmiṇī fell in shame; they took deep sighs, fading even mirrors.

मृततुल्या सत्यभामा निराहारा कृशोदरी।

O Nārada, Satyabhāmā who was without food and was slander waisted, discarded her pride like a dead person.

Chapter - 125

Rājasūya Yajña of Vasudeva

नारद उवाच

गणेशपूजनादेव राधास्तोत्रात्परं विभो।

बभूव किं रहस्यं वा तन्मे व्याख्यातुमर्हसि॥१॥

Nārada said- O lord, after the adoration of Gaṇeśa and the rec''ing of Rādhā-stotra what happened thereafter you please tell me.

नारायण उवाच

गणेशपूजने तीर्थे ये देवाश्च समाययु:।

मुनयश्चापि योगीन्द्रा वसन्तो वटमूलके॥२॥

वसुदेवो देवकी च परमादरपूर्वकम्।

पप्रच्छ शंभुं ब्राह्मणमनन्तं मुनिपुंगवान्॥३॥

भवेद्भवाब्धितरणमावयोरुत्तमा गति:।

शीघ्रं ब्रूत महाभागा दीनयोर्दीनबान्धवा:॥४॥

Nārāyaṇa said- At the Gaṇeśa-pūjana-tīrtha, the gods, the yogīs and the ascetics had arrived and all were seated under the shade of the banyan tree. Out of them, Vasudeva and Devakī enquired from Śiva, Brahmā, Śeṣa and other ascetics respectfully, "O virtuous one, you people are graceful to the down-trodden therefore how can the degraded people like us achieve the best position? How shall we cross the ocean of universe? you kindly tell me.

भवाब्धितरणे तर्या तत्र यूयं च नाविका:।

न ह्यम्मयानि तीर्थानि न देवा मृच्छिलामया:॥५॥

यज्ञरूपाणि पुण्यानि व्रतान्यनशनानि च।

तपांसि नानादानानि विप्रदेवार्चनानि च॥६॥

चिरं पुनन्ति सर्वाणि दर्शनादेव वैष्णवा:।

सतां च विष्णुभक्तानां रजसां स्पर्शमात्रत:॥७॥

पूतानां पादपद्मानां सद्य: पूता वसुंधरा।

तीर्थानि च पवित्राणि समुद्रा: पर्वतास्तथा॥८॥

You, people indeed serve as the sailors for crossing the boat of the ocean of the universe, because the holy places are not always in the water and the gods never emerge from the earth. The auspicious yajña vrata, fasting, performing of tapas, giving away charities in many ways, the adoration of the Brāhmaṇas and the gods, purify the performer for a long time but the Vaiṣṇavas purify people with their very presence, with the touch of the dust of the feet of the devotees of Viṣṇu, the entire universe gets purified at once. The holy places, the ocean as well as the mountains also get purified.

सुरा दर्शनमिच्छन्ति पातकेन्धनपावकम्।

सोऽज्ञानि नैव बुबुधे ज्ञानं च ज्ञानिना सह॥९॥

परमं स्वादुरूपं च दधिदुग्धरसं यथा।

यथा कृणस्य तातोऽहं सङ्गी सुचिरमेव च॥१०॥

तथैव देवकी माता ज्ञानिनां च गुरोर्गुरो:।

वसुदेववच: श्रुत्वा प्रहस्य शंकर: स्वयम्॥

चतुर्णामपि वेदानामुवाच जनको गुरु:॥११॥

The gods also get desirous of meeting of a Vaiṣṇava for the destruction of their sins like the fire burning the wood. Such of the person who is unable to achieve the knowledge by keeping the company of the Vaiṣṇavas, indeed is a fool. The knowledge otherwise is tasteful like the milk and the curd. Therefore, O teacher of the great intellectuals, I happen to be the father of Kṛṣṇa and have kept his company for long. Similarly Devakī too happens to be his mother. Listening to the words of Vasudeva, Śiva himself who happens to be well-versed in all the Vedas laughed aloud and said.

महादेव उवाच

संनिकर्षो ज्ञानिनां चाप्यनादरणकारणम्।

यान्ति गङ्गाम्भसा पूतास्तीर्थान्यन्यानि सिद्धये॥१२॥

वासुदेवस्य तातोऽयं वसुदेवश्च पण्डित:।

ज्ञानिन: कश्यपस्यांशो वसोस्तातस्य चाऽऽत्मन:॥१३

Mahādeva said- To live with the intellectuals sometimes becomes disgraceful to them. as the people who get purified with the water of Gaṅgā still go to the other holy places. The father of Kṛṣ ṇa is quite a well-read person and his father was the form of Vasu and was descendants of the race of Kaśyapa.

पृच्छति ज्ञानमस्मांश्च कृष्णाज्ञान्पुत्रबुद्धितः।
अहो दुर्गा महामाया ज्ञानिनामपि मोहिनी॥१४॥
विष्णुमाया दुराराध्या न साध्या जागतामपि।
वयं च मोहिताः शश्वद्वेदानां जनकस्तथा॥१५॥
ब्रह्मा कृष्णं परीक्षेत मोहितस्तस्य मायया।
ध्यायते यत्पदाम्भोजं तपसा जीवनावधि॥१६॥

They have a clear and auspicious approach towards Kṛṣṇa and they seek knowledge from us, who are unaware of the personality of Kṛṣṇa. The illusion of Viṣṇu is Durgā. Mahāmāyā and overpowers even the intellectuals. The illusion of Viṣṇu is beyond the reach of all the people in the three worlds. We people always get influenced with the same, influences with the same illusion, Brahmā the creator of the Vedas, performed tapas for his whole life at his lotus-like feet and wanted to taste such a type of Kṛṣṇa.

इन्द्रेषु दशलक्षेष्वप्यधिकाष्टशतेषु च।
पातेषु ब्रह्मणः पीते निमेषो माधवस्य च॥१७॥

With the fall of ten lakh and eight hundred Indras, Brahmā has to fall; after that a movement of Mādhava is counted.

सह तेनेन्द्रयुद्धं च पारिजातस्य हेतुना।
पारिजाततरुं दत्त्वा मया शक्रश्च रक्षितः॥१८॥

There was a fight between Kṛṣṇa and Indra for the sake of Pārijāta tree, I saved Indra by returning the Pārijāta tree to him.

यज्ज्ञानं च गिरामेव तत्त्वं वा विषयात्मकम्।
नहि किंचित्तदज्ञानां तस्माद्ध्यानं सदैव हि॥१९॥

The knowledge which is beyond description and the people with little wisdom hardly know about the same. Therefore it is always proper to adore the lord.

प्राणिनामात्मनो ज्ञानमस्माकं ज्ञानमस्ति च।
तदूर्ध्वं तत्समं नैव कृष्णं पृच्छ शुभाशुभम्॥२०॥

I am aware of the soul of the creatures but I am unaware about the knowledge above them who are equals, therefore you better ask about the auspicious things from Kṛṣṇa alone.

ब्रह्मणश्च चतुर्यामं कल्पं कल्पविदो विदुः।
सप्तकल्पान्तजीवी च मार्कण्डेयो महामुनिः॥२१॥
अष्टानवतिशक्रेषु पातेषु पतनं मुनेः।
ततः प्राप्तं हरेर्दास्यं मुनिना तपसः फलात्॥२२॥

The four praharas of Brahmā have been equated with a kalpa by the knowledgeable people. The same Mārkaṇḍeya remained alive for seven kalpas, after the fell of nineteen eight Indras. The same sage Mārkaṇḍeya had them to fall. Thereafter the sage as the result of the tapas performed by him, achieved the slavehood of Kṛṣ ṇa.

प्रलये ब्रह्मणः पाते पतनं लोमशस्य च।
दिक्पालानां ग्रहाणां च तदायुश्चिरजीविनाम्॥२३॥
अन्येषामपि देवानां मुनीनामूर्ध्वरेतसाम्।
तदेवाऽऽयुश्च रुद्राणां मां च मृत्युंजयं विना॥२४॥

At the time of dissolution, with the fall of Brahmā, the sage Lomaśa also had to fall. Thereafter, the Dikpālas and nine planets also have been to fall. Thus those with long life have to live only for this duration.

प्र लये च विधेः पाते शिवलोकेऽप्यहं शिवः।
ब्रह्मभालोद्भवः शंभुः सर्वादिः सर्गभाषणः॥२५॥

At the time of dissolution Brahmā falls; he remerge from the forehead of Śiva. Śiva happens to be the beginning of all. This has been ordained by Gaṅgā.

कृष्णवामाङ्गसंभूता यथा राधा तथैव च।
तथैव दुर्गा लक्ष्मीश्च सावित्री च सरस्वती॥२६॥

The way in which Rādhā emerged from the left side of Kṛṣṇa, Durgā, Lakṣmī, Sarasvatī and Sāvitrī also emerged from his body in the same way.

आदित्योऽप्यदितेः पुत्रः कायव्यूहेन द्वादश।
तथैव च महेन्द्रश्च कायव्यूहाच्चर्तुदश॥२७॥

The twelve Ādityas were born out of the body of Aditi. Similarly there were fourteen Indras on earth.

तथैव वसवश्चाष्टौ रुद्राश्चैकादशैव ते।
मनुपाते चेन्द्रपातो विषयात्पतनं भवेत्॥२८॥

Similarly there were eight Vasus, eleven Rudras after the fall of Manu, Indra also falls.

समाययौ च सर्वेषां निधनं प्रलयेऽपि च।
प्रलये दर्शयामास ब्रह्माण्डं च जलप्लुतम्।।२९।।
ब्रह्माणं च स्वलोकं च स्वात्मानं शक्तिभिश्च माम्।
सर्वेषां मूलरूपश्च सर्वेशः कृष्ण एव च।।३०।।

After dissolution the entire universe, Brahmā with Brahmaloka and together with his śaktis, are all submerged in water. Kṛṣṇa himself is the root of all and the lord of all.

भज पुत्रं राजसूये यज्ञेशं यज्ञकारणम्।
विधिवद्दक्षिणां दत्त्वा भवाब्धि तर यादव।।३१।।
मुक्तिस्ते नास्ति निर्वाणा विषयी कश्यपोभवान्।
न ते दास्यं भक्तधनमदितिर्देवकी तथा।।३२।।

Therefore Vasudeva should organise a Rājasūya-yajña and should adore his son Kṛṣṇa with the performing of the yajña. Thereafter giving away dakṣiṇā appropriately, you cross over the ocean of the universe. Without that, you cannot achieve mokṣa; you are a Kaśyapa; the riches of the devotees cannot be held by you. Devakī is the form of Aditi.

व्रज स्वर्गं भोगबीजं स्वस्थानममरालयम्।
शिवस्य वचनं श्रुत्वा संयत श्चशुभक्षणे।।३३।।
तत्र संभृतसंभारो राजसूयं चकार सः।
वसुदेवस्य हव्यं च साक्षाच्च जगृहुः सुराः।।३४।।
यत्र साक्षाच्च यज्ञेशो यज्ञोऽयं दक्षिणा सह।
पूर्णाहुतिं दत्तवन्तं वसुदेवमुवाच सः।।
सनत्कुमारो भगवान्वासुदेवाज्ञया मुने।।३५।।

You should therefore go to the heaven together with Devakī which happen to be your own abode and your own temple. On hearing the words of Śiva, Vasudeva who had over-powered all the organ of his senses collected the material performed the Rājasūya-yajña in the auspicious time. Yajñeśa, the lord of yajña himself was resent thereat he re fore the gods appeared themselves and accepted the offerings. O sage, thereafter at the instance, of Kṛṣṇa, Sanatkumāra the lord of the gods.

सनत्कुमार उवाच

सर्वस्वं दक्षिणां देहि तूर्णं लक्ष्मीपतेः पितः।
सार्थकं कुरु कर्मेदं वेदोक्तं वचनं शृणु।।३६।।
दक्षिणां विप्रमुद्दिश्य तत्कालं चेन्न दीयते।
मुहूर्ते तु व्यतीते सा दक्षिणा द्विगुणा भवेत्।।३७।।
वासरे च बहिर्भूते भवेत्साऽपि चतुर्गुणा।
त्रिरात्रे समतीते षड्गुणा दक्षिणा भवेत्।।३८।।

Sanatkumāra said- O lord, the husband of Lakṣmī, you give me all your belongings in dakṣ iṇā immediately and make the yajña successful, now you listen to the words which are according to the Vedas. In case the Brāhmaṇa is not given dakṣina at once, with the passage of a ghaḍī, the amount of dakṣiṇa is doubled. After the lapse of the day it multiplies to four times and after the lapse of three nights it multiplies to six times.

पक्षान्ते तु शतगुणा मासान्ते तु चतुर्गुणा।
षण्मासेऽप्यधिके न्यूने च साहस्त्रगुणा तथा।।३९।।
वर्षान्ते सा लक्षगुणा ब्रह्मणोक्तं च याटव।

वासुदेवश्च तच्छ्रुत्वा सर्वस्वमुत्ससर्ज सः।
अधिकारांश्च साह्लादो वासुदेवाज्ञया तथा।।४१।।

After the lapse of the fortnight it multiplies to hundred times and after the lapse of a month, it further multiplies to four hundred times; after the lapse of six months, it multiplies to a thousand times. O lord of the Yadus, after lapse of one years, it multiplies to a lakh of times after which both the performer and the priest fall into the hell. This has been ordained by Brahmā. On hearing this Vasudeva at the instance of Kṛṣṇa delightfully gave away everything to the sage.

अमूल्यां च रत्नानां दशकोटिमनुत्तमाम्।
ददौ गर्गाय सर्वादौ स्वयं लक्ष्मीपतेः पिता।।४२।।

At very first, Vasudeva, the father of the lord of Lakṣmī then gave away ten crores of very precious gems to Garga.

शतकोटिं मणीन्द्राणां स्वर्णानां तच्चर्तुगुणम्।
माणिक्यानां च मुक्तानां हीरकाणां तथैव च।।४३।।

पायसं पिष्टकं चैव मिष्टान्नं च सुधोपमम्।
स्वस्तिकानां तिलानां च रम्यणि लड्डुकानि च॥४८॥
दध्नां मधूनां दुग्धानां गुडानां हविषामपि।
कुल्यानां शतकं दत्त्वा परिहारं चकार सः॥४९॥
सकर्पूरं च ताम्बूलं सुशीतं वासितं जलम्।
सुगन्धि चन्दनं चैव पारिजातस्य मालिकाम्॥५०॥
आसनानि च रम्याणि वह्निशुद्धांशुकानि च।

प्रददौ ब्राह्मणेभ्यश्च प्रफुल्लवदनेक्षणः।
देवांश्च भोजयामास ब्राह्मणानां मुखैः शुभैः॥५२॥

Ten crores of the best of gems and four times more the gold, emeralds, diamond, silver, gold, vases, all the ornaments of his wife and the daughter-in-law, a lakh of white fly-whisks an equal number of gem-studded mirrors, herds of Kāmadhenu cows, a hundred crores of elephants, a hundred crores of huge elephants, four hundred crores of horses, all the riches of the Yādavas, all the riches of Ugrasena with his consent, the paddy with a hundred lakh of villages, the blossoming trees, a lakh of mountains like heaps of cereals and an equal number of the heaps of paddy, beside pāyasam, nectar-like sweets, svastika sweet, sweet balls of sesamum, curd, honey, milk, guḍa and ghee were given filled in canals. Thereafter he gave away the betel with camphor, the fragrant and cool water, fragrant sandal-paste, garland of Pārijāta flowers, the beautiful seeds, spotless costumes, the flowers made of gems, beside the fruit were delight fully given to the Brāhmaṇas, He also served the gods by feeding the Brāhmaṇas.

देवाश्च मुनयो रात्रौ स्वरामाभिश्च रेमिरे।
प्रभाते प्रययुः सर्वे श्रीकृष्णानुमतेन च॥५३॥

During the night, the sages and gods enjoyed the company of their wives and in the early morning all of them left the place with the permission of Kṛṣṇa.

यादवाः प्रययुः सर्वे द्वारकां कृष्णपालिताम्।
अमूल्यरत्नपूर्णां च रुक्मिणीदर्शनेन॥५४॥

Thereafter, all the people of the race of Yadus and adored with innumerable gems and other, valuables proceeded to Dvārakā which was protected by Kṛṣṇa.

Chapter - 126

Meeting of Rādhā and Kṛṣṇa

नारायण उवाच

गणेशपूजनं कृत्वा माधवो यादवै: सह।
देवैर्मुनिभिरन्यैश्च देवीभि: सह नारद॥१॥

Nārāyaṇa said-O Nārada, Kṛṣṇa thus heard the adoration of Gaṇeśa in the company of Yādavas, the gods, the sages, the goddesses and other people (1).

अंशेन देवो देवीभी रुक्मिण्याद्याभिरेव च।
प्रययौ द्वारकां रम्यां तस्थौ सिद्धाश्रमे स्वयम्॥२॥

Thereafter from his aṁśa, he proceeded to Dvārakā in the company of Rukmiṇī and other goddesses and in one form he stayed in Siddhāśrama.

कृत्वा सुप्रीतिसंभाषां सार्धं गोलोकवासिभि:।
गोपै: सुहृद्भिर्नन्देन मात्रा गोप्या यशोदया॥३॥
उवाच मातरं तातं सुनीतं च यथोचितम्।
गोपांश्च गोकुलस्थांश्च बन्धुवर्गांश्च सांप्रतम्॥४॥

From there, he keeping the company of cowherds and cowherdesses, Nanda, mother Yaśodā and cowherdesses continued conversation with them. Thereafter, he spoke to his parents, the cowherds and cowherdesses of the Goloka.

श्रीभगवानुवाच

गच्छ नन्दव्रजं नन्द हे तात प्राणवल्लभ।
मातर्यशोदे त्वमपि परमार्ये यशस्विनि॥५॥
भुक्त्वा कालावशेषं च गच्छ गोलोकमुत्तमम्।
सालोक्यमुक्तिं दास्यामि सार्धं गोकुलवासिभि:॥६॥

Śrī Kṛṣṇa said- "O mother, O Nanda, you are dear to me then my life now you return to Vraja. O glorious and the best mother Yaśodā, you also return to Gokula and spend the rest of the life there. Enjoying all the pleasures in Gokula, you would achieve the salvation together with the people of Gokula".

इत्युक्त्वा भगवान्कृष्ण: पित्रोरनुमतेन च।
जगाम राधिकास्थानं नन्दश्च गोकुलं तथा॥७॥

Thus speaking with the permission of his parents, he went to his place of Rādhikā and Nanda proceeded towards Gokula.

ददर्श राधां रुचिरां मुक्ताहारां च सस्मिताम्।
यथा द्वादशवर्षीयां शश्वत्सुस्थिरयौवनाम्॥८॥

Reaching there, he met Rādhā who was adorned with the garland of gems and was smiling, she was ever youthful and looked like a damsel of twelve years.

रत्नोच्चैरासनस्थां च गोपीत्रिशतकोटिभि:।
आवृतां वेत्रहस्ताभि: सस्मिताभिश्च सांप्रतम्॥९॥

She was seated on the gem-studded seats, she was smiling and was surrounded by innumerable cowherdesses, each holding a staff in her hand.

दृष्ट्वा च दूरतो राधा श्रीकृष्णं प्राणवल्लभम्।
शिशुवेषं सुवेषं च सुन्दरेशं च सस्मितम्॥१०॥
नवीनजलदश्यामं पीतकौशेयवाससम्।
चन्दनोक्षितसर्वाङ्गं रत्नभूषणभूषितम्॥११॥
मयूरपिच्छचूडं च मालतीमाल्यशोभितम्।
ईषद्धास्यप्रसन्नास्यं भक्तानुग्रहविग्रहम्॥१२॥
क्रीडाकमलमम्लानं धृतवन्तं मनोहरम्।
मुरलीहस्तविन्यस्तं सुप्रशस्तं च दर्पणम्॥१३॥
जवेन च समुत्थाय गोपीभि: सह सादरम्।
प्रणम्य परया भक्त्या तुष्टाव परमेश्वरम्॥१४॥

Rādhā looked at Kṛṣṇa who was dearer to her than her life and was coming towards her; he was clad in beautiful costumes like a boy and he was wearing a serene smile on his face. He had a lustre of the new cloud and had a dark complexion. He was clad in beautiful silken yellow lower garment and the entire body was plastered with the sandal-paste. His body was adorned with the best of gem-studded ornaments and a peacock feather was adorning his head. He was wearing garland of jasmine flowers, his delightful face wore a smile. He was holding the blossomed lotus flowers. He was carrying a flute in his one hand and in the other he carried a mirror. Finding him there, Rādhā got up at once from her seat and started praying him with devotion.

राधिकोवाच

अद्य मे सफलं जन्म जीवितं च सुजीवितम्।
यद्दृष्ट्वा मुखचन्द्रं ते सुस्निग्धं लोचनं मन:॥१५॥

Rādhā said- My life has met with success today by looking at your moon like face; my eyes and my mind are now delighted.

पञ्च प्राणाश्च स्निग्धाश्च परमात्मा च सुप्रिय:।
उभयोर्हर्षबीजं च दुर्लभं बन्धुदर्शनम्॥१७॥

All the five prāṇas of mine have been filled with delight; the sight of a dear relative is cause of delight always.

शोकार्णवे निमग्नाऽहं प्रदग्धा विरहानलै:।
त्वद्दृष्ट्या ऽमृतवृष्ट्या च सुस्किताऽद्य सुशीतला॥

I had been drowned in the ocean of grief and was burning with the fire of separation but today the same has been completely subsided.

शिवा शिवप्रदाऽहं च शिवबीजा त्वया सह।
शिवस्वरूपा निश्चेष्टाऽप्यदृश्या च त्वया विना॥

With you, I am always the from of welfare, bestower of welfare and the cause of welfare. But without you I am like a dead body, getting motionless and become invisible.

त्वयि तिष्ठति देहे च देही श्रीमाञ्छुचि: स्वयम्।
सर्वशक्तिस्वरूपा च शवरूपा गते त्वयि॥१९॥
स्त्रीपुंसोविरहो नाथ सामान्यश्च सुदारुण:।
यान्त्येव शक्तिभि: प्राणा विच्छेदात्परमात्मन:॥२०॥

When you stay in this body the soul become a beautiful and pure. I feel myself all powerful, but without you I look like a dead body. O lord, the separation between the man and woman is always painful but with the separation of the lord, all the śaktis and the five prāṇas also disappear.

इत्युक्त्वा राधिका देवी परमात्मानमीश्वरम्।
स्वासने वासयासास कृत्वा पादार्चनं मुदा।।२१।।

Thus speaking the goddess Rādhā made Śrī Kṛṣṇa to sit on the seat and the herself adored his feet.

रत्नसिंहासने श्रीमानुवास राधया सह।
गोपीभिः सप्तभिः शश्वत्सेवितः श्वेतचामरैः।।२२।।

Thereafter, Śrī Kṛṣṇa occupied the gem-studded lion-throne together with Rādhā, seven cowherdesses served them by moving white fly-whisks.

चन्दना सा ददौ गात्रे सुगन्धि चन्दनं हरेः।
सस्मिता रत्नमाला सा रत्नमालां गले ददौ।।२३।।

The cowherdesses named Candanā applied the fragrant sandal-paste on the body of the lord, the smiling Ratnamālā placed the garland of gems around his neck.

पद्मैः पद्मार्चिते पादपद्मे पद्मावती सती।
अर्घ्यं ददौ सा सजलं दूर्वां पुष्पं च चन्दनम्।।२४।।

The chaste Padmāvatī adored the lotus-like feet of the lord with lotus flowers, she also offered the arghya together with Dūrvā-grass, flowers and sandal-paste.

मालती मालतीमाल्यं चूडायां च हरेर्ददौ।
चम्पापुष्पस्य पुटकं ददौ चम्पावती सती।।२५।।

Mālatī on the other hand placed the garland of jasmine flower around the neck of Mālatī, the chaste Campāvatī offered him the bunch of jasmine flowers.

पारिजाता च हरये पारिजातं ददौ मुदा।
सकर्पूरं च ताम्बूलं वासितं शीतलं जलम्।।२६।।

Pārijāta on her part, offered the lord, the Pārijāta flowers, betel with camphor, besides the cool fragrant water.

ददौ कदम्बमाला सा कदम्बमालिकां शुभाम्।
क्रीडाकमलमम्लानममूल्यं रत्नदर्पणम्।।२७।।
ददौ हस्ते हरेरेव कमला सा सुकोमला।
वरुणेन पुरा दत्तं वस्त्रयुग्मं च सुन्दरम्।।२८।।

Kadambamālā presented the garland of kadamba flowers, the fresh lotus flowers and valuable mirrors of gems. The tender limbed Kamalā gave the two costumes given by Varuṇa

साक्षाद्गोरोचनाभं च सुन्दरी हरये ददौ।
मधुपात्रं मधुस्तस्मै मधुरं मधुपूर्णकम्।।२९।।

The beautiful Madhu presented to the lord the sweet honey having the colour of gorocana in a vase.

सुधापूर्णं सुधापात्रं ददौ भक्त्या सुधामुखी।
चकार पुष्पशय्यां च गोपी चन्दनचर्चिताम्।।३०।।

Sudhāmukhī presented to the lord, a vase of nectar with devotion. a cowherdesses prepared a bed of flowers.

अम्लानमालतीपुष्पमालाजालविभूषिताम्।
रत्नेन्द्रसारनिर्माणमन्दिरे सुमनोहरे।।३१।।

The bed was decorated with the garland of jasmine flowers. It was placed in such a charming place which was built with the best of gems.

मणीन्द्रमुक्तामाणिक्यहीरहारविभूषिते।
कस्तूरीकुङ्कुमाक्तेन वायुना सुरभीकृते।।३२।।

It was decorated with the best of gems, jewels, emeralds and other precious gems and had the fragrance of kastūrī, the saffron and several scented material.

रत्नप्रदीपशतकैर्ज्वलद्भिश्च सुदीपिते।
धूपिते सततं धूपैर्नानावस्तुसमन्वितैः।।३३।।

It was illumined with hundreds of the gem-studded lamps. It bore the fragrance of several of the scented incense and other materials.

कृत्वा शय्यां रतिकरीं ययुर्गोप्यश्च सस्मिताः।
दृष्ट्वा रहसि तल्पं च सुरम्यं सुमनोहरम्।।३४।।
माधवो राधया सार्धं विवेश रतिमन्दिरम्।
नानाप्रकारहास्यं च परिहासं स्मरोचितम्।।३५।।

द्वयोर्बभूव तल्पे च मदनातुरयोस्तथा।
माल्यं ददौ च कृष्णाय ताम्बूलं च सुवासितम्।।३६।।
कस्तूरीकुङ्कुमाक्तं च चन्दनं श्यामवक्षसि।
चारुचम्पकपुष्पं च चूडायां प्रददौ सती।।३७।।
सहस्रदलससंक्तक्रीडापद्मं करे ददौ।
प्रक्षिप्य मुरलीं हस्तात्प्रददौ रत्नदर्पणम्।।३८।।
पारिजातस्य कुसुममम्लानं पुरतो ददौ।
उवाच मधुरं राधा रहस्ये मधुरं वचः ।।
सस्मिता सस्मितं शान्तं कान्तं कान्ता मनोहरम्।।३९।।

By making a bed for comfortable sleeps, the cowherdesses left the place smilingly. Thereafter, finding the bed in a lonely place which attracted the mind, Mādhava entered the place of pleasure. Both of them were engaged in conjugal pleasures. The chaste Rādhā then adorned the neck of Mādhava with the garland of fragrant flowers and also gave him the fragrant betel. After that she pasted the kastūrī and saffron paste on his body and adorned his hair with the beautiful jasmine flower. She handed over a fully blossomed lotus flower with thousand petals, in his hand and snatching away the flute from his hand she gave him the mirror of gems; thereafter she placed the blossomed flower of Pārijāta before him. Thereafter Rādhā in a peaceful form spoke quite sweet words to her beloved.

राधिकोवाच

निष्फलं मङ्गलप्रश्नं मङ्गले मङ्गलालये।
सर्वमङ्गलबीजे च माङ्गल्ये मङ्गलप्रदे।।४०।।
तथाऽपि कुशलप्रश्न सांप्रतं समयोचितम्।
लौकिको व्यवहारोऽपि वेदेभ्यो बलवांस्तथा।।४१।।

Rādhikā said- O lord, the one who is the store of the welfare, the cause of welfare, the form of welfare and the bestower of prosperity. To ask the question about your welfare is of no consequence. In spite of that, it is proper to enquire about the welfare because the traditions are more forceful than the Vedic hymns.

कुशलं रुक्मिणीकान्त सत्यभामेश सांप्रतम्।
महन्द्रेण समं युद्धं लीलया च यदाज्ञया।।४२।।
पारिजाततरुं स्वर्गादुत्पाट्य चामरावतीम्।
गत्वा विजित्य देवांश्च तस्यै दत्तमिति श्रुतम्।।४३।।
पुण्यकं च कृतं तेन पारिजातेन सुव्रतम्।
त्वामेव साध्यं कान्तं च संपूर्णे दक्षिणां ददौ।।४४।।

O lord of Rukmiṇī, O lord of Satyabhāmā, are you all right. At the instance of Satyabhāmā, you playfully engage yourself in conflict with Indra and uprooting the Pārijāta tree from Amarāvatī in the heaven, conquered the gods and handed it over to Satyabhāmā. This is what has been heard by me. With the use of the Pārijāta flower, she performed the Puṇyaka-vrata. After completing it, She gave yourself as dakṣiṇa to the priest.

ब्रह्मेशशेषासाध्यस्त्वं तया साध्यः कृतः कथम्।
सर्वाभ्यः कामिनीभ्यश्च सत्यभामां बिभेषि च।।४५।।

You are beyond the reach of Brahmā, Śiva and Śeṣa then how could she over-power you? You are afraid of Satyabhāmā in comparison to all other damsels.

रुक्मिण्यां प्रेमसौभाग्यमतिरिक्तं च गौरवम्।
भयं माल्यं च धन्यायां सत्यायां सततं श्रुतम्।।४६।।

Your love for Rukmiṇī is the matter of great glory of her it is heard that you are afraid of Satyabhāmā and you offer her the flower garland.

सत्यं जाम्बवतीकान्त वद मां च सुनिश्चितम्।
तासु सर्वासु कान्तासु कस्यास्ते प्रेम चाधिकम्।।४७।

O beloved of Jāmbavatī, you tell me truthfully which one of the damsels is more attached to you.

शृङ्गारे सर्वभावे वा तासु का रसिका परा।
त्वयि स्निग्धा विदग्धा का तासु धन्याऽतिसुव्रता।।

Which one of them is more lovable to you? Which one of them, performing the best of vratas is loved by you the most?

सा स्त्री भावानुरक्ता या भार्यां पाति पतिश्च सः।
प्रेमातिरिक्तं स्त्रीपुंसोस्त्रैलोक्येषु सुदुर्लभम्।।४९।।

Only that damsel could be called virtuous who conducts herself according the desires of the husband. The complete harmony in the conducting of love between the man and a woman is difficult to get in the three worlds.

रसिका स्त्री विजानाति सती गुणवती पतिम्।
गुणज्ञं रसिकं शूरं सुशीलं सुरतौ सदा॥५०॥

The passionate, chaste and virtuous damsel is fully attracted towards the one who possesses all the qualities is quite passionate, valorous and noble.

दूराद्धावति पद्मार्थं मधुलोभान्मधुव्रतः।
भेकस्तत्र हि जानाति तन्मूर्ध्निपादमुत्सृजेत्॥५१॥

The black-wasps feeling greedy for the nectar, rush toward the lotus flower but the frog is completely unaware about it and therefore places its feet over its head.

यन्त्री जानाति संगीतरसं यन्त्रं च नैव च।
दुग्धास्वादं विदग्धश्च न दर्वी नैव भाजनम्॥५२॥

The one who plays upon the musical instruments enjoys the sweet news of the tune but instruments itself unaware of it. A clever person very well knows the taste of the milk but not the vase in which the milk is contained.

परिपक्वफलास्वादं जानन्ति भोगिनः सुखम्।
एकत्रावस्थिताः शश्वन्नकिंचित्फलिनो यथा॥५३॥

The consumers are well-aware of the taste of the ripe fruit but the tree over which the fruits is ripened remains unaware of the same.

सुशीलजलास्वादं विजानन्ति तृषालवः।
न च वापी च घटश्चैकत्रावस्थितो यथा॥५४॥

The thirsty person knows the taste of the cold water but the tank or the pitchers in which the water is contained remains unaware of the same.

भोगिनो हि विजानन्ति शालिस्वादुरसं परम्॥
एकत्रावस्थितं चेत्तु न क्षेत्रं भाजनं यथा॥५५॥

The consumer enjoys the tasteful the rice but the paddy field or the vase in which the rice is cooked remains unaware of the same.

बुबुधे चन्दनाघ्राणं चन्दनार्थी च भोगवित्।
न गर्दभो भारवाही न तस्य पात्रिका यथा॥५६॥

The user of the sandal-paste remains quite well-aware of its fragrance but the donkey who carries the sandal-wood remains unaware of the same.

यं न जानन्ति वेदाश्च ब्रह्मेशानादयस्तथा।
योगिनो मुनयः सिद्धास्तं किं जानन्ति योषितः॥५७

The one who in beyond the reach of the Vedas, Brahmā, Śiva, Yogis, ascetics and siddhas, how could he be known by the woman.

सौभाग्यं गौरवं प्रेम दुर्लभं नित्यनूतनम्।
यौषितां च परं नैव चूर्णीभूतं क्षणेन च॥५८॥

Even the fortune, glory and love are difficult to achiever but the ladies snatch them in a moment.

अत्युच्छ्रितो निपतनं प्राप्नोत्येव ध्रुवं प्रभो।
आराद्विपत्तिबीजं च वैष्णवानां विहिंसनम्॥५९॥

O lord, after reaching the extreme height, one has to fall. The violence of the Vaiṣṇavas results in misfortune.

श्रीदामा च मया शप्तस्त्वद्भक्तो भक्तवत्सलः।
एतादृशी विपत्तिर्मे पुत्रश्रीदामशापतः॥६०॥

Your devotee named Śrīdāmā was cursed by me and because of the same I had to face the misfortune as a result of the curse of Śrīdāmā.

ईश्वरः कस्य वा बन्धुः प्रियो वा विप्रियस्तथा।
सततं भक्तिसाध्यश्च यो भक्तश्च तदीश्वरः॥६१॥

To whom the lord is dearer; he is always achieved with devotion and for him the devotee is the lord.

वेदाश्च वैदिकाः सन्तः पुराणानि वदन्ति च।
राधाया माधवः साध्यो भगवानिति निष्फलम्॥६२॥

The Vedas, the Vedic literature, the ascetic and the Purāṇas pronounce repeatedly that lord Kṛṣṇa is over-powered by Rādhā. This is useless.

जित्वा च सगुणं शंभुं बाणस्य भृजकृन्तनम्।
कृत्वा च रुक्मिणीपौत्रः समानीतः सभार्यकः॥६३॥

Over-powering Śiva together with his gaṇas, cutting of the arms of Bāṇa you brought back Aniruddha, the grandson of Rukmiṇī together with his wife.

अहो त्वयि समायाते रुक्मिणी किमुवाच ह।
प्रेम स्थितं समानं ते किं विवृद्धं च गौरवम्॥६४॥

What did Rukmiṇī speak after your return? You love all equally, was there any increase from prestige with the same.

कुरुपाण्डवयुद्धेन कुरवो निहतास्त्वया।
पाण्डवार्थे तथा भूपा: क्व साम्यं परमात्मन:॥६५॥

In the battle between the Kauravas and the Pāṇḍavas, you made the kings of the Kaurava side to be killed. You tell me where is your vision for equality to all?

साक्षान्महेन्द्रजातस्य कौन्तेयस्यार्जुनस्य च।
राजमण्डलमध्यस्थो भवानेन हि सारथि:॥६६॥
तेन भक्तेन शुद्धेन भीष्मेण च महात्मना।
लज्जितेन किमुक्तं ते महतीषु सभासु च॥६७॥

You became the charioteer of Arjuna, the son of Indra. What did noble Bhīṣma speak to you getting ashamed in the assembly?.

देवैरपि कथं दृष्टो ब्रह्मेशशेषसंज्ञकै:।
भक्तसिंहैर्भृतै: सर्वैर्न चोक्तं किंचिदेव स:॥६८॥
यश्चानिर्वचनीयश्च वेदेषु च चतुर्षु च।
पुराणेष्वितिहासेषु प्रकृते: पर ईश्वर:॥६९॥
निर्गुणश्च निरीहश्च निर्लिप्त: सर्वकर्मणाम्।
कर्मणां साक्षिरूपश्च भक्तानुग्रहविग्रह:॥७०॥
परं ब्रह्म परं ज्योति: परमेश: परात्पर:।
परमात्मा च सर्वेषां सूतो नररथस्थित:॥७१॥

What did Brahmā, Śiva, Śeṣa and other gods speak to you? All your devotees kept quiet and spoke nothing. You are the same who is inexplicable in the Vedas, Purāṇas and the historical treatises, beyond Prakṛti, the great lord, devoid of guṇas, unattached, uninvolved, the witness of all the deeds, the one who takes to human form for the sake of the devotees, the eternal Brahman, the divine light, beyond everything and became the charioteer of a human being in spite of your being the supreme soul.

त्वया कुब्जा च संभुक्ता वृद्धा क्षत्रियकामिनी।
अपुत्रिणी चाधिकाङ्गी यूनाऽस्पृश्या च प्राक्तनात्॥

Initially you kept company of the old Kubjā who was untouchable by the youth.

त्वया च निहत: कंसो मातुल: केन हेतुना।
आयास्यतीति कृत्वा च गतं न पुनरागतम्॥७३॥

What for did you kill Kaṁsa your maternal uncle? You said that `you will come' but after departure you did not come again?

निहत्य यादवान्सर्वान्विभज्य द्वारकां पुरीम्।
त्वां निबध्य समानेतुमीश्वरी वारिता जनै:॥७४॥

Killing Yādavas, dividing the city of Dvārakā, the people had prevented the goddess, who ordained to capture you.

इत्युक्त्वा राधिका देवी भृशमुच्चै रुरोद सा।
मूर्च्छां संप्राप सहसा निर्नि:श्वासा बभूव ह॥७५॥

Thus speaking Rādhikā started crying aloud and fainted stopping breathing.

गोप्यो गवाक्षजालस्था: शुश्रुवुर्ददृशुस्तथा।
दृष्ट्वा तमाययु: सर्वा ऊचू राधा मृतेति च॥७६॥

The cowherdesses who were peeping through the windows witnessed the sight. All of them rushed towards her and all of them declared that Rādhā was dead.

उच्चैस्ता रुरुदु: सर्वा: क्रोडे कृत्वा च राधिकाम्।
ऊचुस्ता रक्ष रक्षेति हरे नरहरे प्रभो॥७७॥

All of them lifted up Rādhā and started crying. O lord, O Hari, "Save us ".

गोप्य ऊचु:

किं कृतं किं कृतं कृष्ण त्वया राधा मृता च न:।
राधां जीवय भद्रं ते यास्याम: काननं वयम्॥७८॥

The cowherdesses said- O Kṛṣṇa what have you done? Our Rādhā is dead. You bring her back to life. You will be prosperous. All of us shall retired to the forest.

अन्यथा स्त्रीवधं तुभ्यं दास्याम: सर्वयोषित:।
गोपीनां वचनं श्रुत्वा राधिकायाश्च माधव:॥७९॥
उवाच जीवयामास सुधादृष्ट्या च नारद।
उत्तस्थौ राधिका देवी रुदती मानिनी सती॥८०॥
गोप्यस्तां बोधयामासु: क्रोडे कृत्वा पुन: पुन:॥८१॥

Otherwise all of us shall give you the blemish of killing a woman. O Nārada, on hearing the words of the cowherdesses, the lord of Rādhikā, Mādhava spoke the words which were like nectar and with his lovable glance at her brought her back to life. The proud Rādhā got up while sobbing. Thereafter all the cowherdesses took Rādhā in their lap and started talking to her.

श्रीकृष्ण उवाच

शृणु राधे प्रवक्ष्यामि ज्ञानमाध्यात्मिकं परम्।
यच्छ्रुत्वा हालिको मूर्खः सद्यो भवति पण्डितः॥८२॥

Śrī Kṛṣṇa said- O Rādhā, I shall impart the divine knowledge to you hearing which even a ploughman becomes immensely intelligent.

जात्याऽहं जगतां स्वामी किं रुक्मिण्यादियोषिताम्।
कार्यकारणरूपोऽहं व्यक्तो राधे पृथक्पृथक्॥८३॥

I am the lord of the universe since birth then what to speak of the woman like Rukmiṇī and others, I possess the personality because of my being the cause of the deeds as well as the deeds themselves.

एकात्माऽहं च विश्वेषां जात्या ज्योतिर्मयः स्वयम्।
सर्वप्राणिषु व्यक्त्या चाप्याब्रह्मादितृणादिषु॥८४॥

I myself represent divine lustre, I happen to be the soul of the entire universe and pervade all the creatures right from the blade of grass to Brahma.

एकस्मिश्च भुक्तवति न तुष्टोऽन्यो जनस्तथा।
मय्यात्मनि गतेऽप्येको मृतोऽप्यन्यः सृजीवति॥८५॥

Since, with the taking of food by one, others are not satisfied, similarly with my departure from the body one dies but the others remain alive.

जात्याऽहं कृष्णरूपश्च परिपूर्णतमः स्वयम्।
गोलोके गोकुले पुण्ये क्षेत्रे वृन्दावने वने॥८६॥
द्विभुजो गोपवेषश्च स्वयं राधापतिः शिशुः।
गोपालैर्गोपिकाभिश्च सहितः कामधेनुभिः॥८७॥

I am complete in all respect in the form of Kṛṣṇa. Since my birth I remain present with two arms in Goloka, Gokula and Vṛndāvana being the lord of Rādhā and also play as a child with Yaśodā in the form of a cowherd; all the cowherds, the cowherdesses, are associated with me

चतुर्भुजोऽहं वैकुण्ठे द्विधारूपः सनातनः।
लक्ष्मीसरस्वतीकान्तः सततं शान्तविग्रहः॥८८॥

I remain in Vaikuṇṭha with four arms and appear as the beloved of Lakṣmī and Sarasvatī there in peaceful form.

यन्मानसी सिन्धुकन्या मर्त्यलक्ष्मीपतिर्भुवि।
श्वेतद्वीपे च क्षीरोदे तत्रापि च चतुर्भुजः॥८९॥

I also appear over the earth in Śveta-dvīpa in the ocean of milk as the husband of Mānasī, Sindhukanyā and Martyalakṣmī. There also I appear in four armed form.

अहं नारायणर्षिश्च नरो धर्मः सनातनः।
धर्मवक्ता च धर्मिष्ठो धर्मवर्त्मप्रवर्तकः॥९०॥

I happen to be the sage Nārāyaṇa, the profounder of Dharma. I am devoted to Dharma and those who follow the path of Dharma are attached to me.

शान्तिर्लक्ष्मीस्वरूपा च धर्मिष्ठा च पतिव्रता।
अत्र तस्याः पतिरहं पुण्यक्षेत्रे च भारते॥९१॥

The extremely religious and chaste Lakṣmī happens to be my spouse and I happen to be her lord in the sacred land of Bhārata.

सिद्धेशः सिद्धिदः साक्षात्कपिलोऽहं सतीपतिः।
नानारूपधरोऽहं च व्यक्तिभेदेन सुन्दरि॥९२॥

I am the lord of siddhas and bestower of siddhis and also appear in the form of Kapila. O beautiful one, thus I take to several forms according to the exigencies of the situation.

अहं चतुर्भुजः शश्वद्द्वार्वत्यां रुक्मिणीपतिः।
अहं क्षीरोदशायी च सत्यभामागृहे शुभे॥९३॥
अन्यासां मन्दिरेऽहं च कायव्यूहात्पृथक्पृथक्।
अहं नारायणर्षिश्च फाल्गुनस्यास्य सारथिः॥९४॥
स नरर्षिर्धर्मपुत्रो मदंशो बलवान्भुवि।
तपसाऽऽराधितस्तेन सारथ्येऽहं च पुष्करे॥९५॥

In the two-armed form, I always remain in Dvārakā as the, lord of Rukmiṇī. I sleep in the ocean of milk and also dwell in the abode of Satyabhāmā and other queens taking to different forms. I functioned as the charioteer of Arjuna. Arjuna happens to be a human sage, the son of Dharma, is quite valorous and was born on the earth from my aṁśa. He had performed great tapas in the Puṣkara-kṣetra for myself performing as his charioteer

यथा त्वं राधिका देवी गोलेके गोकुले तथा।
वैकुण्ठे च महालक्ष्मीर्भवती च सरस्वती॥९६॥
भवती मर्त्यलक्ष्मीश्च क्षीरोदशायिनः प्रिया।
धर्मपुत्रवधूस्त्वं च शान्तिर्लक्ष्मीस्वरूपिणी॥९७॥

O dear, you are Rādhikā in the Goloka, you are the same in Gokula. You happen to be Mahālakṣmī and Sarasvatī of the Vaikuṇṭha. You happen to be the Martyalakṣmī in the ocean of milk. You are the daughter-in-law of Dharma and appear in the form of Lakṣmī with peaceful form

कपिलस्य प्रिया कान्ता भारत भवती सती।
त्वं सीता मिथिलायां च त्वच्छाया द्रौपदी सती।।
द्वारवत्यां महालक्ष्मीर्भवती रुक्मिणी सती।
पञ्चानां पाण्डवानां च भवती कलया प्रिया।।९९।।

You happen to be the chaste Bhāratī, the dearest wife of the sage Kapila in the land of Bhārata. You are the one known as Sītā in Mithilā. you happen to be shadow of the chaste Draupadī, you also appear in the form of Mahālakṣmī in Dvārakā and Rukmiṇī as well. Draupadī who was born of your ray became the spouse of the Pāṇḍavas

रावणेन हृता त्वं च स्वं च रामस्य कामिनी।
नानारूपा यथा त्वं च च्छायया कलया सती।।१००
नानारूपस्तथाऽहं च श्वांशेन कलया तथा।
परिपूर्णतमोऽहं च परमात्मा परात्पर:।।१०१।।

You are Sītā of Rāma and was abducted by Rāvaṇa. O chaste one, you appear in different forms in the universe and similarly I also appear in different forms in the universe. I happen to be the complete supreme soul and beyond everybody

इति ते कथितं सर्वमाध्यात्मिकमिदं सति।
राधे सर्वापराधं मे क्षमस्व परमेश्वरि।।१०२।।

O chaste one, I have therefore imparted to you the entire divine knowledge. O Rādhā, supreme goddess, you forgive me for all the sins.

श्रीकृष्णवचनं श्रुत्वा परितुष्टा च राधिका।
परितुष्टाश्च गोप्यश्च प्रणेमु: परमेश्वरम्।।१०३।।

On hearing the words of Kṛṣṇa, Rādhā as well as the cowherdesses felt satisfied and started offering their salutation to. Kṛṣṇa.

Chapter - 127

Conjugal pleasure of Rādhā and Kṛṣṇa

नारायण उवाच

श्रीकृष्णवचनं श्रुत्वा प्रहृष्टा गोपिका मुदा।
मन्दिरं प्रययु: सर्वा: प्रणम्य राधिकां प्रभुम्॥१॥

Nārāyaṇa said- On hearing the words of Kṛṣ ṇa, Rādhā was extremely delighted. Thereafter all the cowherdesses offering their salutation to Rādhā and Kṛṣṇa went back to their respective abodes.

राधाशृङ्गारभावं च कलाषोडशपूर्वकम्।
चकार सस्मिता साध्वी वक्रचञ्चललोचना॥२॥

Thereafter, the chaste Rādhā having the side-glance smilingly decorated her body in sixteen types.

दत्त्वा च चन्दनं माल्यं स्वामिने पुनरेव च।
रहस्यं च परीहास्यं पुनरेव चकार स:॥३॥
आकृष्य राधिकां कृष्ण: समानीय स्ववक्षसि।
ओष्ठाधरं कपोलं च गण्डयुग्मं चुचुम्ब च॥४॥

Thereafter in seclusion, she offered the sandal-paste and garland then dragged Rādhā towards himself and placing her on the chest, he kissed her over her various limbs of the body.

राधा चुचुम्ब कृष्णास्य मुखचन्द्रं मनोहरम्।
चकार कृष्णं प्राणेशं बाहुभ्यां च स्ववक्षसि॥५॥

Rādhā also repeated similarly and embracing his beloved dragged him on the body.

शृङ्गारं षोडशविधं कामशास्त्रोक्तमीप्सितम्।
स्त्रीपुंसोस्तोषजनकं चकार भगवान्प्रभु:॥६॥

Thereafter, both of them started enjoying conjugal pleasure described in the treatises of love.

नखविक्षतसर्वाङ्गा दशनेनाधरक्षता।
पुलकाञ्चितदेहा स तन्द्रिता वामनस्तनी॥७॥
मूर्च्छिता सुखसंभोगाद्विलग्ना हतचेतना।
श्वासमात्रावशेषा च निद्रामुद्रितलोचना॥८॥

All the limbs of the body of Rādhā were injured after which Rādhā was over-powered with sleep. After enjoying all the pleasures she was fainted. She was just breathing and her eyes were closed.

रतिशूरा कोमलाङ्गी कान्तावक्ष: स्थलस्थिता।
शीते सुखोष्णसर्वाङ्गी ग्रीष्मे सा सुखशीतला॥९॥
शृङ्गारकाले सुखदा सान्द्रश्रोणिपयोधरा।
नितम्बभारानम्रा च प्रसङ्गे सुखदायिका॥१०॥
विदग्धा रसिका श्रेष्ठा कामुकी च वराङ्गना।
सहसा चेतनं प्राप्य शुश्राव कोकिलध्वनिम्॥११॥

Rādhā kept on sleeping and in the early morning Rādhā who was well-versed in the love-sport, having tender limbs, was lying on the chaste of her beloved. Her all the limbs issued heat like the heat of the winter season or the coolness of the summer season, making the love sport enjoyable. She was having solid breasts which were leaning little because of their excessive weight the one who provided pleasure at the time of conjugal sports, quite clever, passionate and the best. She was awakened with the sweet note of the cuckoo.

श्रुत्वा परमभीता सा दीना दीनविशङ्कया।
उवाच परमा सा च परमेशं परात्परम् ॥
बाहुश्रोणियुगाभ्यां च निबध्य च पुन: पुन:॥१२॥

She felt afraid with the hearing of the sound of the voice of cuckoos. Thereafter holding the lord in both her arms she said.

राधिकोवाच

रासं गच्छ महाभाग पुण्यं वृन्दावनं वनम्।
तत्र क्रीडां करिष्यामि जलेन च स्थलेन च॥१३॥

Rādhikā said- O virtuous one, let us move on to the auspicious Vṛndāvana; I shall spend time with you enjoying the water sport as well as the physical union on the land.

पुनर्यास्यामि मलयं सुन्दरं मणिमन्दिरम्।
अपरं यद्रहस्यं वा जन्मना न श्रुतं मया॥१४॥
तत्र यामि त्वया सार्धमिति मे लालसा परा।
परस्परैकालापेन प्रययौ रजनी शुभा॥१५॥
अरुणोदयकालेऽपि न त्यजेन्माधवं सती।
माधव: प्रीतिवचसा बोधयामास साधनात्॥१६॥

Thereafter I shall go to the Malaya mountain and visit the beautiful places there which are situated in lonely place. Those places I have not visited since my birth and shall now visit them with you. This is my desire. Thus talking the auspicious night passed. He lovingly spoke to her in the morning.

प्रात: कृत्यं तत: कृत्वा स्वारुरोह रथं हरि:।
गोपीभी राधया सार्धं शरत्कमललोचन:॥१७॥

Thereafter Rādhā having the eyes resembling the lotus flowers of the winter season, performing all the essential jobs mounted the chariot with the cowherdesses and Kṛṣṇa.

योजनायतविस्तीर्णं गृहैस्त्रिशतकोटिभि:
मणीन्द्रसारनिर्माणैर्ज्वलद्भिरुपशोभितम्॥१८॥
गोलोकादागतं तत्र मनोयायि मनोहरम्।
सहस्रचक्रसंयुक्तं सहस्राश्वै: प्रचालितम्॥१९॥
मणिस्तम्भैस्त्रिकोटीभी रत्नराजिविराजितम्।
मुक्तामाणिक्यपरमैर्हीरहारै: सुशोभितम्॥२०॥
नानाचित्रैर्विचित्रैश्च श्वेतचामरदर्पणै:।
वह्निशुद्धांशुकैर्दीप्तैर्मालाजालैर्विभूषितम्॥२१॥
रत्ननिर्माणतल्पैश्च पुष्पचन्दनचर्चितम्।
समानरूपवेषैश्च गोपीलक्षै: समावृतम्॥२२॥

The chariot was a yojana in length and width and had a hundred crores of chambers studded with gems and other precious ones. It moved with the speed of wind and had arrived from Goloka having thousands of wheels and the horses. It was decorated with the crores of gem-studded pillars and the small fringes. The gems, sapphire, emeralds and other precious stones studded in the pillar looked quite charming. It contained several types of paintings, white fly-whisks, the mirrors and the divines clothes besides several garlands, It had innumerable beds made of gems and decorated with flowers and sandal-paste. It had lakhs of cowherdesses having the similar type of bodies and costumes

रथेन तेन भगवान्पुनर्वृन्दावनं ययौ।
तत्र गत्वा निशाकाले विजहार जले स्थले॥२३॥

Mounted on the chariot, the lord once again went to Vṛndāvana; he enjoyed the water sport in the river as well as the love-sport on the earth during the night.

शृङ्गारं सुचिरं कृत्वा वनेषूपवनेषु च।
राधिकां दर्शयामास यथासर्वं च नूतनम्॥२४॥

Thereafter, fully decorating themselves he took Rādhā and went round the place showing her everything new.

विस्पन्दके सुरसने माहेन्द्रे नन्दने वने।
सुमेरुशिखरे रम्ये पर्वते गन्धमादने॥२५॥
शैले शैले सुन्दरे च कन्दरे कन्दरे वने।
पुष्पोद्याने सुरहसि नद्यां नद्यां नदे नदे॥२६॥
समुद्रपुलिने रम्ये पारिजातवने वने।
सुभद्रे पुष्पभद्रे च नारायणसरोवरे॥२७॥
पवनस्यैव निलये मलये च सुरालये।
त्रिकूटे भद्रकूटे च पञ्चकूटे सुकूटके॥२८॥
देवानां कमनीयायां काञ्चन्यां च तथैव च।
समुद्रे च समुद्रे च द्वीपे द्वीपे मनोहरे॥२९॥
खर्वटे प्रवरे रम्ये पुण्यचन्द्रसरोवरे।
सुपार्श्वे मुनिपार्श्वे च स रेमे राधया सह॥३०॥

Thereafter he took round Rādhā to Vispandaka, Surasana, Mahendra, Nandanavana and the peaks of Sumeru mountain, the charming Gandhamādana mountain, beautiful hills, caves in the forest, extremely secret flower orchard, the waters of the rivers and rivulets, the sea-shore, the forest of Pārijāta flowers, the pools of Subhadra, Puṣpabhadra and Nārāyaṇa, the abode of wind god, the Malaya mountain which is the abode of the gods, Citrakūṭa, Bhadrakūṭa, Pañcakūṭa and Sukūṭa on the golden land of the gods, on the islands in the oceans the heaven, the beautiful Candrasarovar and the āśramas of the sages. He enjoyed the company of Rādhā

शीघ्रं च पुनरागत्य जम्बूद्वीपं च पुण्यदम्।
द्वारकां दर्शयामास पर्वतं रैवतं तथा॥३१॥

Then he immediately returned, to the auspicious Jambūdvīpa and reached Dvārakā. He also showed her the Raivataka mountain.

गोकुलं पुनरागत्य गोपगोकुलसंकुलम्।
तत्र दृष्ट्वा च भाण्डीरं पुण्यं वृन्दावनं ययौ॥३२॥

He then reached the place of Gokula in which the cows and the cowherds always dwelt. They visited Bhāṇḍīravana and the auspicious Vṛndāvana.

श्रीकृष्णागमनं श्रुत्वा यशोदा नन्द एव च।
गोपा गोप्यश्च वृद्धाश्चाप्यश्रुनेत्रा निराकुलाः॥३३॥

Learning about the arrival of Kṛṣṇa, Nanda, Yaśodā and old cowherds and cowherdesses were delighted and their eyes were filled with the tears of joy.

वारणेन्द्रं पुरस्कृत्य वेश्यां च नटनर्तकाः।
पतिपुत्रवतीं साध्वीं ब्राह्मणी ब्राह्मणं तथा॥३४॥
यथा देवाश्च वह्निं च दृष्ट्वा नन्दं च मातरम्।
आययुर्बालकृष्णश्च राधया सह माधवः॥३५॥

Thereafter they placing the huge elephant, where the dancers and the damsels whose sons and husband were alive, ahead welcomed Śrī Kṛṣṇa as the gods welcome the god of fire. Then Mādhava finding Nanda and his mother, arrived there in the form of BālaKṛṣṇa and Rādhā.

मातुः क्रोडमारुरोह प्रहस्य मधुसूदनः।
नन्दो यशोदया सार्धं चुचुम्ब मुखपङ्कजम्॥३६॥

Thereafter Madhusūdana smilingly sat in the lap of his mother; both Yaśodā and Nanda started kissing the face of Kṛṣṇa.

आश्लिश्य भृशमुच्चैश्च सिषेच नेत्रजैर्जलैः।
स्वयं च भगवान्कृष्णो यशोदायाः स्तनं पपौ॥३७॥

And they embraced him tightly They were overwhelmed with joy and the tears of love started flowing from their eyes. In the meantime lord Kṛṣṇa busied himself in sucking the breast of Yaśodā.

तादृशं ददृशुः सर्वे यादृशो मथुरां ययौ।

At that point of time all the people looked at Kṛṣṇa in same form in which he had gone to

Mathurā. He was holding a flute in his hand and was adorned with the gem-studded ornaments; he appeared of the age of eleven years and was clad in yellow lower garment and the locks of hair were decorated with the feather of peacock and the garland of jasmine flowers.

Thereafter, Yaśodā took Rādhā and Mādhava in the palace, where she performed all the welfare ceremonies and served food to the Brāhmaṇas, the cowherdesses were also adored in the same way as the people adore the sages. Thereafter delightfully the Brāhmaṇas were given the gems, the precious stones, gold, jewels, emeralds, Gajaratna, Goratna, Aśvaratna, paddy and the land with standing crops, beside the costumes.

Thereafter Rādhā and Mādhava were shown the unprecedented articles. O Nārada, the cowherdesses were then served with delicious sweet food. The drums were beaten, the welfare ceremonies were performed and all the gods were delightfully served with delicious food.

Chapter - 128

Kṛṣṇa spills out the evil of Kali Age

नारायण उवाच

श्रीकृष्णश्च समाह्वानं गोपांश्चापि चकार स:।
भाण्डीरे वटमूले च तत्र स्वयमुवास ह।।१।।
पुराऽन्नं च ददौ तस्मै यत्रैव ब्राह्मणीगण:।
उवास राधिका देवी वामपार्श्वे हरेरपि।।२।।

Nārāyaṇa said- Śrī Kṛṣṇa was surrounded by the cowherds and he himself was seated under the banyan tree in the Bhāṇḍīra forest. It was the same place where the Brāhmaṇa women had served him the food. Rādhā took her seat to the left of lord Kṛṣṇa.

दक्षिणे नन्दगोपश्च यशोदासहितस्तथा।
तद्दक्षिणे वृषभानस्तद्वामे सा कलावती।।३।।

Yaśodā sat to his right together with all the cowherds Vṛṣabhāna and Nanda besides Kalāvatī.

अन्ये गोपाश्च गोप्यश्च बान्धवा: सुहृदस्तथा।
तानुवाच स गोविन्दो यथार्थ्यं समयोचितम्।।४।।

All the cowherdesses, cowherds, relatives and the friends also took their seat. The lord then spoke to Nanda the appropriate words.

श्रीभगवानुवाच

शृणु नन्द प्रवक्ष्यामि सांप्रतं समयोचितम्।
सत्यं च परमार्थं च परलोकसुखावहम्।।५।।

Śrī Kṛṣṇa said- O Nanda, you kindly listen to me, I shall now speak out the appropriate words suited to the time. which are truthful, beneficial and would bestow pleasure after death.

आब्रह्मस्तम्बपर्यन्तं भ्रमं सर्वं निशामय।
विद्युद्दीप्तिर्जले रेषा यथा तोयस्य बुद्बुदम्।।६।।

All the creatures right from the blade of grass to Brahmā are perishable like the lightening in the cloud or the line drawn on the water or the water bubbles. You take it from me.

मथुरायां सर्वमुक्तं नावशेषं च किंचन।
यशोदां बोधयामास राधिका कदलीवने॥७॥
तदेव सत्यं परमं भ्रमध्वान्तप्रदीपकम्।
विहाय मिथ्यामायां च स्मर तत्परमं पदम्॥८॥

I have already spoken this in Mathurā and nothing is left out. In the forest of banana trees Rādhā had spoken of this to Yaśodā. It is completely truthful and removes the darkness of illusion, serving as a lamp. Therefore disowning all the false illusion get yourself devoted towards the eternal-abode.

जन्ममृत्युजराव्याधिहरं हर्षकरं परम्।
शोकसंतापहरणं कर्ममूलनिकृन्तनम्॥९॥

That stage relives one of the birth, death and old age, bestows immense pleasure, removes the greed and suffering destroying the roots of the deeds.

मामेव परमं ब्रह्म भगवन्तं सनातनम्।
ध्यायं ध्यायं पुत्रबुद्धिं त्यक्त्वा लभ परं पदम्॥१०॥

Taking to me to be the eternal Brahman, you should devote your mind towards the same, removing the feeling my being son and achieve the eternal abode.

गोलोकं गच्छ शीघ्रं त्वं सार्धं गोकुलवासिभिः।
आरातकलेरागमनं कर्ममूलनिकृन्तनम्॥११॥

Now the time for the arrival of Kaliyuga is meaning which destroys the root of the deeds. Therefore all of you together with the residents of Gokula should go to Goloka.

स्त्रीपुंसोर्नियमो नास्ति जातीनां च तथैव च।
विप्रे संध्यादिकं नास्ति चिह्नं यज्ञोपवीतकम्॥१२॥

In the Kaliyuga there are no rules for the man and woman nor are there any rule for the castes. The Brāhmaṇas would never perform sandhyā and would not wear yajñopavīta.

यज्ञसूत्रं च तिलकं शेषं लुप्तं सुनिश्चितम्।
दिवाव्यवायनिरतं विरतं धर्मकर्मणि॥१३॥

Or sometimes they would wear the Yajñasūtra and tilakam and would be deprived of other religions duties. they would cohabited during the day time and would indulge in irreligious ways.

यज्ञानां च व्रतानां च तपसां लुप्तमेव च।
केदारकन्याशापेन धर्मो नास्त्येव केवलम्॥१४॥

The yajña, vratas and performing of tapas would disappear, the dharma would disappear totally from the earth, because of the curse of the daughter of Kedāra.

स्वच्छन्दगामिनीस्त्रीणां पतिश्च सततं वशे।
ताडयेत्सततं तं च भर्त्सयेच्च दिवानिशम्॥१५॥

The husband would be ruled by the woman who could move independently. Such woman would denounce her husband always throughout the day and night.

प्राधान्यं स्त्रीकुटुम्बानां स्त्रीणां च सततं व्रज।
स्वामी च भक्तस्तासां च पराभूतो निरन्तरम्॥१६॥
कलौ च योषितः सर्वा जारसेवासु तत्पराः।
शतपुत्रसमः स्नेहस्तासां जारे भविष्यति॥१७॥

The woman would always head the families and they would have more importance. All the men would be under the influence of the women and would face defeat everywhere. All the women in the age of Kali would always serve their lovers. They would love the lovers much more.

ददाति तस्मै भक्ष्यं च यथा भृत्याय कोपतः।
सस्मिता सकटाक्षा साऽमृतदृष्ट्या निरन्तरम्॥१८॥
जारं पश्यति कामेन विषदृष्ट्या पतिं सदा।
सततं गौरवं तासां स्नेहं च जारबान्धवे॥१९॥

A women would serve food to her husband with anger in the same day as the food served to a servant. But she would look at the lover with the side-glance and her sight could be filled with nectar. She would look at her husband like poison. Such woman would always feel attracted towards her lover

पत्यौ कर प्रहारं च नित्यं नित्यं करोति च।
मिष्टान्नं श्रद्धया भक्त्या जाराय प्रददाति च॥२०॥

They would man-handle the husbands always but will show enough of grace to the lovers.

वेषयुक्ता च सततं जारसेवनतत्परा।
प्राणा बन्धुर्गतिश्चाऽऽत्मा कलौ जारश्च योषिताम्॥२१॥

They would always remain ready to serve the lovers decorating themselves. In the age of Kali the lovers would be the life of the ladies and would be like brothers, the movement and the soul.

लुप्ता चातिथिसेवा च प्रलुप्तं विष्णुसेवनम्।
पितृणामर्चनं चैव देवानां च तथैव च॥२२॥

In the age of Kali, the adoration of the guests, Viṣṇu, manes and the gods would disappear.

विष्णुवैष्णवयोर्द्वेषी सततं च नरो भवेत्।
वाममन्त्रोपासकाश्च चतुर्वर्णाश्च तत्पराः॥२३॥

The people would always be envious of Viṣṇu and the Vaiṣṇavas, all the people of the four varṇas would get attracted towards Vāmācāra.

शालग्रामं च तुलसीं कुशं गङ्गोदकं तथा।
न स्पृशेन्मानवो धूर्तो म्लेच्छाचाररतः सदा॥२४॥
कारणं कारणानां च सर्वेषां सर्वबीजकम्।
सुखदं मोक्षदं शश्वद्दातारं सर्वसंपदाम्॥२५॥
त्यक्त्वा मां परया भक्त्या क्षुद्रसंपत्प्रदायिनम्।
वेदनिघ्नं वाममन्त्रं जपेद्विप्रश्च मायया॥२६॥

The people would remain under the influence of mlecchas and would never touch Śālagrāma, Tulasī, kuśa or the water of the Gaṅgā. The Brāhmaṇas also influenced with illusion disown the cause of all the causes, the seed of all, bestower or pleasure and mokṣa and all the riches would follow the vāma-mantra which is the killer of the Vedas.

सनातनी विष्णुमाया वञ्चितं तं करिष्यति।
ममाऽऽज्ञया भगवती जगतां च दुरत्यया॥२७॥

The eternal goddess Bhagavatī, who is also called Viṣṇumāyā, would deprived such Brāhmaṇas of my devotion at my command.

कलेर्दशसहस्राणि मदर्चा भुवि तिष्ठति।
तदर्धानि च वर्षाणि गङ्गा भुवनपावनी॥२८॥

In the age of Kaliyuga I would continue to be adored on earth for ten thousand years and Gaṅgā would flow on earth for five thousand years in Kaliyuga.

तुलसी विष्णुभक्ताश्च यावद्गङ्गा च कीर्तनम्।
पुराणानि च स्वल्पानि तावदेव महीतले॥२९॥

Till such time the Gaṅgā flows on the earth, the Tulasī plant, devotion of Viṣṇu and reciting of the Purāṇas continue you would also continue.

मम चोत्कीर्तनं नास्ति एतदन्ते कलौ व्रज।
एकवर्णा भविष्यन्ति किराता बलिनः शठाः॥३०॥

O lord of Vraja, no one would recite my name in Kaliyuga. The Bhīlas, the wicked people would become of the same types.

पित्रोः सेवा गुरोः सेवा सेवा च देवविप्रयोः।
विवर्जिता नराः सर्वे चातिथीनां तथैव च॥३१॥

A person should be deprived of the adoration of his parents, the teacher, the gods, Brāhmaṇas and the guest.

सस्यहीना भवेत्पृथ्वी साऽनावृष्ट्या निरन्तरम्।
फलहीनोऽपि वृक्षश्च जलहीना सरित्तथा॥३२॥

The land would be deprived of truthfulness, the trees could be deprived of the fruit and the rivers would be deprived of the water.

वेदहीनो ब्राह्मणश्च बलहीनश्च भूपतिः।
जातिहीना जनाः सर्वे म्लेच्छो भूपो भविष्यति॥३३॥

The Brahman as would be deprived of the knowledge of the Vedas, the king would become weak. There would be classless society and the king would turn as mlecchas.

भृत्यवत्ताडयेत्तातं पुत्रः शिष्यस्तथा गुरुम्।
कान्तं च ताडयेत्कान्ता लुब्धकुक्कुटवद्गृही॥३४॥

The son would torture the father and similarly the pupil would behave with the teacher like a servant. In the house wife would pounce upon the husband like a greedy cock.

नश्यन्ति सकला लोकाः कलौ शेषे च पापिनः।
सूर्याणामातपात्केचिज्जलौघेनापि केचन॥३५॥

In the last phase of Kali all the sinners would get destroyed. Some of them would be destroyed with the scorching heat of sun while others would be destroyed with the over flowing waters.

हे वैश्येन्द्र प्रतिकलौ न नश्यति वसुंधरा।
पुनः सृष्टौ भवेत्सत्यं सत्यबीजं निरन्तरम्॥३६॥

The lord of the Vaiśyas, the earth would be destroyed in the Kaliyuga. At the time of creation, the seed of truthfulness women again start sprouting.

O Brāhmaṇa, in the meantime a divine chariot arrived there, which was five yojanas in length and four yojanas in width. It had the lustre of the fine crystal gem. It was built with the best of gems and was decorated with the garland of Pārijāta flowers. It had a number of ornaments made of kaustubha gem. It had the pitchers of valuable gems and the garland of rubies were hanging; it had a crore of chambers in it. It was yoked with a two thousand of candras and two thousand horses, it had a large number of fine silken garments and was surrounded with crores of cowherdesses. The chariot which had arrived from Goloka was witnessed by all the people.

At the command of Śrī Kṛṣṇa, all the people mounted on the chariot and then went to Goloka. O Nārada, Rādhā and Kalāvatī who deserves to be thanked, were never born from any human womb. Both of them were born without any human contact. The spouses of śrutis had appeared in their forms. They also shedding their human bodies went to Goloka. Thereafter Rādhā also went to Goloka together with the people of Gokula.

O Brahman, on the way they came across the banks of the Virajā river, which were adorned with several types of gems, crossings the Virajā river, they reached the mountains of hundred peaks.

नानामणिगणाकीर्णं रासमण्डलमण्डितम्।
ततो ययौ कियद्दूरं पुण्यं वृन्दावनं वनम्।।४६।।

There, they found the Rāsamaṇḍala, which was decorated with the best of gems. The charming Vṛndāvana filled with flowers, was located at some distance from that place.

The eternal banyan was also seen by them which was three hundred yojana in height and hundred yojana in width and had crores of branches.

रक्तवर्णैः फलौघैश्च स्थूलैरपि विभूषितम्।
गोपीकोटिसहस्रैश्च सार्धं वृन्दा मनोहरा।।४८।।

The fruits of red colour were decorating the tree. The charming Vṛndā was present under the tree with thousands of cowherdesses.

Finding her there Rādhā at one, descended from the chariot and went to her gracefully. Vṛndā on her, part bowed in reverence to Rādhā.

Then talking to her she took her to her abode. Vṛndā then made Rādhā to sit on the gem-studded lion throne and she herself started serving at her feet. The seven female friends started moving the white fly-whisks.

Submerging of Dvārakā and departure of Kṛṣṇa for the eternal Abode

नारायण उवाच

श्रीकृष्णो भगवांस्तत्र परिपूर्णतमः प्रभुः।
दृष्ट्वा सालोक्यमोक्षं च सद्यो गोकुलवासिनाम्॥१॥
उवास पञ्चभिर्गोपैर्भाण्डीरे वटमूलके।
ददर्श गोकुलं सर्वं गोकुलं व्याकुलं तथा॥२॥
अरक्षकं च व्यस्तं च शून्यं वृन्दावनं वनम्।
योगेनामृतवृष्ट्या च कृपया च कृपानिधि:॥३॥
गोपीभिश्च तथा गोपैः परिपूर्णं चकार सः।
तथा वृन्दावनं चैव सुरम्यं च मनोहरम्॥४॥

Nārāyaṇa said- The complete lord Kṛṣṇa, together with the people of Gokula finding the Sālokya type of salvation there, sat under the banyan tree in the Bhāṇḍīra-vana accompanied by five cowherds. He had a glance on the entire Gokula. At that point of time, Gokula seemed upset, without a protector and extremely busy. Vṛndāvana too looked deserted. At that point of time the merciful lord Kṛṣṇa filled Gokula with cowherds and cowherdesses sprinkling the nectar there. He made Vṛndāvana quite charming and beautiful.

गोकुलस्थांश्च गोपांश्च समाश्वासं चकार सः।
उवाच मधुरं वाक्यं हितं नीतं च दुर्लभम्॥५॥

The people of Gokula were assured by Kṛṣṇa, who spoke to them the sweet and beneficial words.

श्री भगवानुवाच

हे गोपगण हे बन्धो सुखं तिष्ठ स्थिरो भव।
रमणं प्रियया सार्धं सुरम्यं रासमण्डलम्॥६॥
तावत्प्रभृति कृष्णस्य पुण्ये वृन्दावने वने।
अधिष्ठानं च सततं यावच्चन्द्रदिवाकरौ॥७॥

Śrī Kṛṣṇa said- "O cowherd, O brothers, you remain happy and be stable, you enjoy your spouses in the beautiful Rāsamaṇḍala, Kṛṣṇa would remain present in Vṛndāvana till the time of sun and moon".

तथा जगाम भाण्डीरं विधाता जगतामपि।
स्वयं शेषश्च धर्मश्च भवान्या च भवः स्वयम्॥८।
सूर्यश्चापि महेन्द्रश्च चन्द्रश्चापि हुताशनः।
कुबेरो वरुणश्चैव पवनश्च यमस्तथा॥९॥
ईशानश्चापि देवाश्च वसवोऽष्टौ तथैव च।
सर्वे ग्रहाश्च रुद्राश्च मुनयो मनवस्तथा॥१०॥
त्वरिताश्चाऽऽययुः सर्वे यत्राऽऽस्ते भगवान्प्रभुः।
प्रणम्य दण्डवद्भूमौ तमुवाच विधिः स्वयम्॥११॥

Thus speaking, the lord of the universe went to the Bhāṇḍīra-vana. Thereafter Śeṣa, Dharma, Gaurī and Śiva, Sūrya, Indra, moon, Agni, Kubera, Varuṇa, the wind god, Yama, Īśāna the gods, eight Vasus, all the planets, the sages and Manus reached the place where lord Kṛṣṇa was seated. Brahma reaching there prostrated before the lord and said-.

ब्रह्मोवाच

परिपूर्णतम ब्रह्मस्वरूप नित्यविग्रह।
ज्योतिःस्वरूप परम नमोऽस्तु प्रकृतेः पर॥१२॥

Brahma said- O eternal form of Brahman and complete lord, the form of flame, eternal, beyond Prakṛti, I bow in, reverence to you.

सुनिर्लिप्त निराकार साकार ध्यानहेतुना।
स्वेच्छामय परं धाम परमात्मन्नमोऽस्तु ते॥१३॥

You are completely unattached, invisible and visible only to the devotees, you are the one who moves at will, the eternal abode, the supreme soul, I offer my salutation to you.

सर्वकार्यस्वरूपेश कारणानां च कारण।
ब्रह्मेशशेषदेवेश सर्वेश ते नमोऽस्तु ते॥१४॥

You are the lord and the form of all the deeds, cause of all the causes, you are Brahmā, Śiva and Śeṣa, the lord of the gods, the lord of all, I offer my salutation to you.

सरस्वतीश पद्मेश पार्वतीश परात्पर।
हे सावित्रीश राधेश रासेश्वर नमोऽस्तु ते॥१५॥

You are the lord of Sarasvatī, Lakṣmī, Pārvatī and are the lord of Sāvitrī, Rādhā and divine dance, I offer my salutation to you.

सर्वेषामादिभूतस्त्वं सर्वः सर्वेश्वरस्तथा।
सर्वपाता च संहर्ता सृष्टिरूप नमोऽस्तु ते॥१६॥

You are the beginning of all, the lord of all, the protector of all, destroyer of all and creator of all, I offer my salutation to you.

त्वत्पादपद्मरजसा धन्या पूता वसुंधरा।
शून्यरूपा त्वयि गते हे नाथ परमं पदम्॥१७॥

With the touch of the dust from your lotus-like feet, the earth has been purified, becoming graceful, but O lord, with your departure for your eternal abode, it will get deserted.

यत्पञ्चविंशत्यधिकं वर्षाणां शतकं गतम्।
त्यक्त्वेमां स्वपदं यासि रुदतीं विरहातुराम्॥१८॥

A hundred and twenty five years have passed and now you are proceeding to your divine abode deserting the earth.

महादेव उवाच

ब्रह्मणा प्रार्थितस्त्वं च समागत्य वसुंधराम्।
भूभारहरणं कृत्वा प्रयासि स्वपदं विभो॥१९॥

Mahādeva said- O virtues one, you had incarnated on earth at the request of Brahma and relieved the earth of her burden; now you are going back to your abode.

त्रैलोक्ये पृथिवी धन्या सद्यः पूता पदाङ्किता।
वयं च मुनयो धन्याः साक्षाद्दृष्ट्वा पदाम्बुजम्॥

Of all the three worlds, earth is quite graceful over which you have placed your feet purifying the same by witnessing your lotus-like feet, all the gods and the sages, have been feeling graceful.

ध्यानासाध्यो दुराराध्यो मुनीनामूर्ध्वरेतसाम्।
अस्माकमपि यश्चेशः सोऽधुना चाक्षुषो भुवि॥२१॥

The one who is beyond the comprehension of the great sages who is difficult to be adored the same lord has appeared before us.

वासुः सर्वनिवासश्च विश्वानि यस्य लोमसु।
देवस्तस्य महाविष्णुर्वासुदेवो महीतले॥२२॥

Viṣṇu happens to be the abode of all, in the hair-pits of whom innumerable globes reside. The same lord Mahāviṣṇu incarnated on earth in the form of Kṛṣṇa.

सुचिरं तपसा लब्धं सिद्धेन्द्राणां सुदुर्लभम्।
यत्पादपद्ममतुलं चाक्षुषं सर्वजीविनाम्॥२३॥

Whose lotus-like feet are beyond the reach of the siddhas and would be achieved only by performing tapas for prolonged periods, the same lord has become visible to us.

अनन्त उवाच

त्वमनन्तो हि भगवन्नाहमेव कलांशकः।
विश्वैकस्थे क्षुद्रकूर्मे मशकोऽहं गजे यथा॥२४॥
असंख्यशेषाः कूर्माश्च ब्रह्मविष्णुशिवात्मकाः।
असंख्यानि च विश्वानि तेषामीशः स्वयं भवान्॥

Ananta said- You are the lord without limitations and I happen to be and amśa of your ray. Lodged in a secluded place in the universe remain on the head of the tortoise like a small mosquito on the elephant head. There are innumerable Brahmā, Viṣṇu, Śiva and the serpents Śeṣa beside tortoise. There are innumerable globe's but you happen to be the lord of all.

अस्माकमीदृशं नाथ सुदिनं क्व भविष्यति।
स्वप्नादृष्टश्च यश्चेशः स दृष्टः सर्वजीविनाम्॥२६
नाथ प्रयासि गोलोकं पूतां कृत्वा वसुंधराम्।
तामनाथां रुदन्तीं च निमग्नां शोकसागरे॥२७॥

O lord when shall the auspicious day arrive? The lord who is invisible even in dream, the same lord appeared before all the creatures. O lord, you are leaving for Goloka purifying the earth and the same earth who has been plunged in grief is now crying.

देवा ऊचुः

वेदाःस्तोतुं न शक्ता यं ब्रह्मेशानादयस्तथा।
तमेव स्तवनं किं वा वयं कुर्मो नमोऽस्तु ते॥२८॥

The gods said- The one who is beyond the comprehension of the Vedas, Brahmā, Śiva and all the gods, who are unable to offer prayer to him, what type of prayer can be offered to him. We offer our salutation to you.

इत्येवमुक्त्वा देवास्ते प्रययुर्द्वारकां पुरीम्।
तत्रस्थं भगवन्तं च द्रष्टुं शीघ्रं मुदाऽन्विताः॥२९॥

Thus speaking all the gods getting filled with delight, hurriedly left the place and reached the city of Dvārakā to have an audience with the lord.

अथ तेषां च गोपालां ययुर्गोलोकमुत्तमम्।
पृथिवी कम्पिता भीता चलन्तः सप्तसागराः॥३०॥

Thereafter Gopāla left for the blissful Goloka. The earth started shaking together with the seven oceans.

हतश्रियं द्वारकां च त्यक्त्वा च ब्रह्मशापतः।
मूर्तिं कदम्बमूलस्थां विवेश राधिकेश्वरः॥३१॥

Dvārakā was deserted because of the curse of Brahma and Śrī Kṛṣṇa the lord of Rādhā left the city and entered the image that was lying under the foot of kadamba tree.

ते सर्वे चैरकायुद्धे निपेतुर्यादवास्तथा।
चितामारुह्य देव्यश्च प्रययुः स्वामिभिः सह॥३२॥

Thereafter all the Yādavas were destroyed fighting among themselves, using the red-grass as the weapon. Their spouses also met with their end jumping in the burning flames together with their husbands.

अर्जुनः स्वपुरं गत्वा समुवाच युधिष्ठिरम्।
स राजा भ्रातृभिः सार्धं ययौ स्वर्गं च भार्यया॥३३

Thereafter, Arjuna went to Hastināpur and communicated the news to Yudhiṣṭhira who also together with his wife and brothers went to the heaven.

दृष्ट्वा कदम्बमूलस्थं तिष्ठन्तं परमेश्वरम्।
देवा ब्रह्मादयस्ते च प्रणेमुर्भक्तिपूर्वकम्॥३४॥

Finding lord Kṛṣṇa lodged in the form of an image in the root of the kadamba tree, all the gods including Brahmā went there and bowed to him with devotion.

तुष्टुवुः परमात्मानं देवं नारायणं प्रभुम्।
श्यामं किशोरवयसं भूषितं रत्नभूषणैः॥३५॥
वह्निशुद्धांशुकाधानं शोभितं वनमालया।
अतीव सुन्दरं शान्तं लक्ष्मीकान्तं मनोहरम्॥३६॥
व्याधास्त्रसंयुतं पादपद्मं पद्मादिवन्दितम्।
दृष्ट्वा ब्रह्मादिदेवांस्तानभयं सस्मितं ददौ॥३७॥

He was having the dark complexion, of the tender age of a boy and his body was adorned with all the gem-studded ornaments. He was clad in the divine garments, having the lustre of the fire. He was wearing the long garland of forest flowers, was extremely beautiful, peaceful, lord of Lakṣmī, holding divine weapon in the hand, served by Lakṣmī and other goddesses at his feet. All the gods then offered their prayer to Nārāyaṇa the supreme soul and pervading god. Lord Kṛṣṇa also looking at the gods provided protection to them smilingly.

पृथिवीं तां समाश्वास्य रुदतीं प्रेमविह्वलाम्।
व्याध्रं प्रस्थापयामास परं स्वपदमुत्तमम्॥३८॥

The lord assured the earth who was upset and was crying and gave the hunter his eternal abode.

बलस्य तेजः शेषे च विवेश परमाद्भुतम्।
प्रद्युम्नस्य च कामे वै वाऽनिरुद्धस्य ब्रह्मणि॥३९॥
अयोनिसंभवा देवी महालक्ष्मीश्च रुक्मिणी।
वैकुण्ठं प्रययौ साक्षात्स्वशरीरेण नारद॥४०॥

O Nārada, the illumining lustre of Balarāma enter Śeṣanāga, the lustre of Pradyumna entered Kāmadeva and that of Aniruddha in Brahmā. The eternal goddess Rukmiṇī in the form of Mahālakṣmī proceeded on to Vaikuṇṭha with her human body.

सत्यभामा पृथिव्यां च विवेश कमलालया।
स्वयं जाम्बवती देवी पार्वत्यां विश्वमातरि॥४१॥

Satyabhāmā who happened to be the aṁśa of Lakṣmī, entered into the earth. Thereafter Jāmbavatī entered the body of Pārvatī, the mother of the universe.

या या देव्यश्च यासां चाप्यंशरूपाश्च भूतले।
तस्यां तस्यां प्रविविशुस्ता एव च पृथक्पृथक्॥४२॥

All the goddesses who happened to be the aṁśas of whichever goddess entered their bodies separately.

साम्बरस्य तेजः स्कन्दे च विवेश परमाद्भुतम्।
कश्यपे वसुदेवश्चाप्यदित्यां देवकी तथा॥४३॥

The unique tejas of Sāmba entered the body of Skanda. The tejas of Vasudeva entered Kaśyapa while that of Devakī entered Aditi.

रुक्मिणीमन्दिरं त्यक्त्वा समस्तां द्वारकां पुरीम्।
स जग्राह समुद्रश्च प्रफुल्लवदनेक्षणः॥४४॥

The ocean having a delightful face and the eyes submerged the entire city of Dvārakā under water leaving aside the abode of Rukmiṇī.

लवणोदः समागत्य तुष्टाव पुरुषोत्तमम्।
रुरोद तद्वियोगेन साश्रुनेत्रश्च विह्वलः॥४५॥

Thereafter the ocean of saline water arrived and offered prayer to Puruṣottama and started crying, filling his eyes with tears, as a result of the separation from the lord.

गङ्गा सरस्वती पद्मावती च यमुना तथा।
गोदावरी स्वर्णरेखा कावेरी नर्मदा मुने॥४६॥
शरावती बाहुदा च कृतमापला च पुण्यदा।
समाययुश्च ताः सर्वाः प्रणेमुः परमेश्वरम्॥४७॥

O sage, all the rivers like Gaṅgā, Sarasvatī, Padmā, Yamunā, Godāvarī, Svarṇarekhā, Kāverī, Narmadā, Sarasvatī, Bāhudā and the auspicious Kṛtamālā arrived there and started offering their salutation to the lord.

उवाच जाह्नवी देवी रुदती परमेश्वरम्।
साश्रुनेत्राऽतिदीना सा विरहज्वरकातरा॥४८॥

Getting upset with the fever of separation her eyes filled with tears, the Gaṅgā spoke to lord Kṛṣṇa while crying.

भागीरथ्युवाच

हे नाथ रमणश्रेष्ठ यासि गोलोकमुत्तमम्।
अस्माकं का गतिश्चात्र भविष्यति कलौ युगे॥४९॥

Bhāgīrathī said- O lovable lord, you are now proceeding to Goloka. What shall be our position during the age of Kali?.

श्रीभगवानुवाच

कलेः पञ्चसहस्राणि वर्षाणि तिष्ठ भूतले।
पापानि पापिनो यानि तुभ्यं दास्यन्ति स्नानतः॥५०॥
मन्मन्त्रोपासकस्पर्शाद्भस्मीभूतानि तत्क्षणात्।
भविष्यन्ति दर्शनाच्च स्नानादेव हि जाह्नवि॥५१॥

Śrī Kṛṣṇa said- O Gaṅgā, You remain on earth for five thousand years during Kaliyuga. All the sins that are washed in your water would disappear with the reciting of the mantras by the devotees and by the people who earn merit by having a look at you.

हरेर्नामानि यत्रैव पुराणानि भवन्ति हि।
तत्र गत्वा सावधानमाभिः सार्धं च श्रोष्यसि॥५२॥

You would also listen to the reciting of the name of Hari and the reciting of the Purāṇas.

पुराणश्रवणाच्चैव हरेर्नामानुकीर्तनात्।
भस्मीभूतानि पापानि ब्रह्महत्यादिकानि च॥५३॥

With the reciting of the Purāṇas and the name of Hari, the sins like Brahmahatyā get destroyed in no time.

भस्मीभूतानि तान्येव वैष्णवालिङ्गनेन च।
तृणानि शुष्ककाष्ठानि दहन्ति पावका यथा॥५४॥
तथाऽपि वैष्णवा लोके पापानि पापिनामपि।
पृथिव्यां यानि तीर्थानि पुण्यान्यपि च जाह्नवि॥५५।
मद्भक्तानां शरीरेषु सन्ति पूतेषु संततम्।
मद्भक्तपादरजसा सद्यः पूता वसुंधरा॥५६॥

These sins are reduced to ashes with the touch of a Vaiṣṇavas in the same way as the strew is burn it out in the fire flames or the dry-wood is also burnt out in fire. O Gaṅgā, all the holy places which are located on earth, are all enshrined in the bodies of my devotees. The earth gets purified with the dust from the feet of my devotees.

सद्यः पूतानि तीर्थानि सद्यः पूतं जगत्तथा।
मन्मन्त्रोपासका विप्रा ये मदुच्छिष्टभोजिनः॥५७॥
मामेव नित्यं ध्यायन्ते ते मत्प्राणाधिकाः प्रियाः।
तदुपस्पर्शमात्रेण पूतो वायुश्च पावकः॥५८॥

All the holy places get purified at once with the fall of the dust from the feet of my devotee. A Brāhmaṇa who is devoted to me and recites my mantras also consumes the naivedya and always remains devoted to me, he becomes dearer to me than my life. With the very touch of his body, the wind as well as the fire get purified.

कलेर्दशसहस्राणि मद्भक्ताः सन्ति भूतले।
एकवर्णा भविष्यन्ति मद्भक्तेषु गतेषु च॥५९॥
मद्भक्तशून्या पृथिवी कलिग्रस्ता भविष्यति।
एतस्मिन्नन्तरे तत्र कृष्णदेहाद्विनिर्गतः॥६०॥
चतुर्भुजश्च पुरुषः शतचन्द्रसमप्रभः।
शङ्खचक्रगदापद्मधरः श्रीवत्सलाञ्छनः॥६१॥

During Kaliyuga my devotees would remain on earth for ten thousand years. In the meantime the four-armed from, having the lustre of hundred of moons, illumining all the directions, holding śaṁkha, cakra, gadā and padma, with Śrīvatsa mark on his chest, emerged from the body of Kṛṣṇa.

सुन्दरं रथमारुह्य क्षीरोदं स जगाम ह।
सिन्धुकन्या च प्रययौ स्वयं मूर्तिमती सती॥६२॥

He at once mounted on the beautiful chariot and proceeded towards the ocean of milk. Lakṣ mī, the daughter of the ocean also transformed herself into a goddess and left the place.

श्रीकृष्णमनसा जाता मर्त्यलक्ष्मीर्मनोहरा।
श्वेतद्वीपं गते विष्णौ जगत्पालनकर्तरि॥६३॥
शुद्धसत्त्वस्वरूपे च द्विधारूपो बभूव सः।
दक्षिणांशश्च द्विभुजो गोपबालकरूपकः॥६४॥

With the departure of lord Viṣṇu, the preserver of the universe, to Śveta-dvīpa, Martyalakṣmī was born from the mind of Śrī Kṛṣṇa. In his pure and spotless form, Śrī Kṛṣṇa was divided into two forms, his right hand side was having two arms and appeared in the form of a cowherd boy.

नवीन जलदश्यामः शोभितः पीतवाससा।
श्रीवंशवदनः श्रीमान्सस्मितः पद्मलोचनः॥६५॥
शतकोटीन्दुसौन्दर्यं शतकोटिस्मरप्रभाम्।
दधानः परमानन्दः परिपूर्णतमः प्रभुः॥६६॥
परं धाम परं ब्रह्मस्वरूपो निर्गुणः स्वयम्।
परमात्मा चा सर्वेषां भक्तानुग्रहविग्रहः॥६७॥
नित्यदेहश्च भगवानीश्वरः प्रकृते परः।
योगिनो यं वदन्त्येवं ज्योतीरूपं सनातनम्॥६८॥

That form had the dark-complexioned of a new cloud, wore pītāmbara, placing a flute on his mouth, filled with glory, having smiling face, the eyes like the lotus flowers and possessed the lustre of a hundred crores of the moons. He was blissful, having the glory of crores of gods of love, complete lord, like the eternal abode, eternal Brahman, devoid of guṇas, the supreme soul, the one who was always graceful to his devotees and takes to human form for their benefit only, having eternal body and was beyond Prakṛti. The yogīs always adored him as the everlasting flame.

ज्योतिरभ्यन्तरे नित्यरूपं भक्ता विदन्ति यम्।
वेदा वदन्ति सत्यं यं नित्यमाद्यं विचक्षणाः॥६९॥
यं वदन्ति सुराः सर्वे परं स्वेच्छामयं प्रभुम्।
सिद्धेन्द्रा मुनयः सर्वे सर्वरूपं वदन्ति यम्॥७०॥

The devotees consider him to be the eternal flame of their minds and the Vedas described him as the eternal truth. The great intellectuals conceived him as eternal and everlasting. All the gods describe him as the lord who moved at will. The siddhas and the ascetics conceived him to be omnipresent.

यमनिर्वचनीयं च योगीन्द्रः शंकरो वदेत्।
स्वयं विधाता प्रवदेत्कारणानां च कारणम्॥७१॥

Śiva, the lord of yogīs describes him as inexplicable. The creator of the universe describes him to be the cause of all the causes.

शेषो वदेदनन्तं यं नवधारूपमीश्वरम्।
तर्काणामेव षण्णां च षड्विधं रुपमीप्सितम्॥७२॥

The serpent Śeṣa conceives him to be the lord who could be achieved by nine types of devotion and beyond measure, the divine six types of philosophies project him in six different form.

वैष्णवानामेकरूपं वेदानामेकमेव च।
पुराणानामेकरूपं तस्मान्नवविधं स्मृतम्॥७३॥

He has been described to possess the nine forms including one of the Vaiṣṇavas, one of the Vedas, one of the Purāṇas.

न्यायोऽनिर्वचनीयं च यं मतं शंकरो वदेत्।
नित्यं वैशेषिकाश्चाऽऽद्यं तं वदन्ति विचक्षणाः॥७४

The jurisprudence define him as the one who is beyond conception and this theory is also accepted by Śaṅkara. The Vaiśeṣika doctrine describes him as eternal and primeval.

सांख्या वदन्ति तं देवं ज्योतीरूपं सनातनम्।
मीमांसा सर्वरूपं च वेदान्तः सर्वकारणम्॥७५॥

The Sāṁkhya people, the Sāṁkhya philosophers described him as the form of everlasting flame. The Mīmāṅsā philosophers call him as the form of everything and the Vedānta philosophy describes him to be the cause of all.

पातञ्जलोऽप्यनन्तं च वेदाः सत्यस्वरूपकम्।
स्वेच्छामयं पुराणं च भक्ताश्च नित्यविग्रहम्॥७६॥

The Yogaśāstra of Pātañjali described him to be beyond measure and the Vedas take him to be the form of truth. The Purāṇas described him as the one who moves at will and the devotees always take him to be the one having the eternal form.

सोऽयं गोलोकनाथश्च राधेशो नन्दनन्दनः।
गोकुले गोपवेषश्च पुण्ये वृन्दावने वने॥७७॥

The same supreme soul happens to be the lord of Goloka and the beloved of Rādhā besides being the son of Nanda. He remains in Gokula and Vṛndāvana in the form of a cowherd.

चतुर्भुजश्च वैकुण्ठे महालक्ष्मीपतिः स्वयम्।
नारायणश्च भगवान्यन्नाम मुक्तिकारणम्॥७८॥

In Vaikuṇṭha he appears as the four armed lord of Mahālakṣmī. He happens to be the form of Nārāyaṇa, the reciting of whose name bestows salvation.

सकृन्नारायणेत्युक्त्वा पुमान्कल्पशतत्रयम्।
गङ्गादिसर्वतीर्थेषु स्नातो भवति नारद॥७९॥

O Nārada, by reciting the name of Nārāyaṇa once, a person earns the merit of having a bath in the Gaṅgā for a hundred kalpas.

सुनन्दनन्दकुमुदैः पार्षदैः परिवारितः।
शङ्खचक्रगदापद्मधरः श्रीवत्सलाञ्छनः॥८०॥
कौस्तुभेन मणीन्द्रेण भूषितो वनमालया।
देवैः स्तुतश्च यानेन वैकुण्ठं स्वपदं ययौ॥८१॥

Thereafter lord Viṣṇu went to Vaikuṇṭha surrounded by Sunanda, Nanda and Kumuda, holding śaṁkha, gadā, cakra and padma in the hands beside displaying the Śrīvatsa mark on the chest, adorned with the kaustubha gem wearing the long garland of forest flowers, mounted on a plane and adored by the gods.

गते वैकुण्ठनाथे च राधेशश्च स्वयं प्रभुः।
चकार वंशीशब्दं च त्रैलोक्यमोहनं परम्॥८२॥

After the departure of the lord of Vaikuṇṭha, Śrī Kṛṣṇa the lord of Rādhā played on the flute which attracted the three worlds.

मूर्च्छांप्रापुर्देवगणा मुनयश्चापि नारद।
अचेतना बभूवुश्च मायया पार्वतीं विना॥८३॥

O Nārada, on hearing the voice of the flute, all the gods and the sages fainted or all those present there were fainted with the illusion of the lord, except Pārvatī.

उवाच पार्वती देवी भगवन्तं सनातनम्।
विष्णुमाया भगवती सर्वरूपा सनातनी॥८४॥
परब्रह्मस्वरूपा या परमात्मस्वरूपिणी।
सगुणा निर्गुणा सा च परा स्वेच्छामयी सती॥८५॥

Thereafter, Pārvatī who happened to be the illusion of Viṣṇu, the form of all, eternal Brahman, the form of the supreme soul, possessing qualities as well as without them, the one who moved at will and was the chaste goddess, spoke to the lord.

पार्वत्युवाच

एकाऽहं राधिकारूपा गोलोके रासमण्डले।
रासशून्यं च गोलोकं परिपूर्णं कुरु प्रभो॥८६॥

Pārvatī said- O lord, I was always in the form of Rādhikā in the Rāsamaṇḍala of Goloka. You fill the void in the Goloka by performing the divine dance.

गच्छ त्वं रथमारुह्य मुक्तामाणिक्यभूषितम्।
परिपूर्णतमाऽहं च तव वक्ष:स्थलस्थिता॥८७॥

You proceed mounted on the gem-studded chariot. By residing in your heart I felt myself complete.

तवाऽऽज्ञया महालक्ष्मीरहं वैकुण्ठगामिनी।
सरस्वती च तत्रैव वामे पार्श्वे हरेरपि॥८८॥
तवाहं मनसा जाता सिन्धुकन्या तवाऽऽज्ञया।
सावित्री वेदमाताऽहं कलया विधिसंनिधौ॥८९॥

At your command I became Mahālakṣmī the dweller of Vaikuṇṭha. I also functioned there as Sarasvatī appearing to the left of lord Hari. I have been born out of your mind and appeared as the daughter of the ocean at your command. I had appeared as Sāvitrī the mother of the Vedas and stayed with Brahmā with my aṁśa.

तेज:सु सर्वदेवानां पुरा सत्ये तवाऽऽज्ञया।
अधिष्ठानं कृत तत्र धृतं देव्या शरीरकम्॥९०॥

Earlier, during the time of Satyayuga, I appeared from the tejas of all the gods at your command and took to the form of a goddess.

शुम्भादयश्च दैत्याश्च निहताश्चावलीलया।
दुर्गं निहत्य दुर्गाऽहं त्रिपुरा त्रिपुरे वधे॥९१॥

I then killed playfully the demons named Śumbha and Niśumbha beside Durga after which I was given the name of Tripurā.

निहत्य रक्तबीजं च रक्तबीजविनाशिनी।
तवाऽऽज्ञया दक्षकन्या सती सत्यस्वरूपिणी॥९२॥

By killing the demon named Raktabīja, I came to be known as the destroyer of Raktabīja. At your command I became Satī, the daughter of Dakṣa in the truthful form.

योगेन त्यक्त्वा देहं च शैलजाऽहं तवाऽऽज्ञया।
त्वया दत्त्वा (त्ता) शंकराय गोलोके रासमण्डले॥

At you command I discarded that body and then came to be known as the daughter of Himālaya. You had handed me over to Śiva in Rāsamaṇḍala.

विष्णुभक्तिरहं तेन विष्णुमाया च वैष्णवी।
नारायणस्य मायाऽहं तेन नारायणी स्मृता॥९४॥
कृष्णप्राणाधिकाऽहं च प्राणाधिष्ठातृदेवता।
महाविष्णोश्च वासोश्च जननी राधिका स्वयम्॥

I had been the devotion of Viṣṇu and as such I came to be known as Viṣṇumāyā or Vaiṣṇavī, I was the illusion of lord Nārāyaṇa and as such I came to be known as Nārāyaṇī. I was the beloved of Kṛṣṇa and was the mother of Mahāviṣṇu also known as Rādhā.

तवाऽऽज्ञया पञ्चधाऽहं पञ्चप्रकृतिरूपिणी।
कलाकलांशयाऽहं च देवपत्न्यो गृहे गृहे॥९६॥

At your command I took to five forms and was known as Pañcaprakṛti. With my rays or the aṁśa of my rays, I became the spouses of the gods.

शीघ्रं गच्छ महाभाग तत्राऽहं विरहातुरा।
गोपीभि: सहिता रासं भ्रमन्ती परित: सदा॥९७॥

O virtuous one, you move on at once because I am suffering badly from your separation there, I always roam about in the Rāsamaṇḍala together with the cowherdesses.

पार्वतीवचनं श्रुत्वा प्रहस्य रसिकेश्वर:।
रत्नयानं समारुह्य ययौ गोलोकमुत्तमम्॥९८॥

Listening to the words of Pārvatī, Kṛṣṇa the lord of the divine dance, smiled and mounted on the chariot studded with gems then proceeded to Goloka.

पार्वती बोधयामास स्वयं देवगणं तथा।
मायावंशीरवाच्छन्नं विष्णुमाया सनातनी॥९९॥
कृत्वा ते हरिशब्दं च स्वगृहं विस्मयं ययु:।
शिवेन सार्धं दुर्गा सा प्रहृष्टा स्वपुरं ययौ॥१००॥

Thereafter Pārvatī who happened, to be the eternal Viṣṇumāyā, brought the gods back to senses who had been fainted because of the sound of the flute of lord Kṛṣṇa. Reciting the name of Hari, all the gods then retied astonishingly to their respective abodes, Durgā also delightfully want along with Śiva to her abode.

अथ कृष्णं समायान्तं राधा गोपीगणै: सह।
अनुव्रजं ययौ हृष्टा सर्वज्ञा प्राणवल्लभम्॥१०१॥

Rādhā then finding Kṛṣṇa arriving in Vraja, left the place and followed the lord together with all the cowherdesses.

दृष्ट्वा समीपमायान्तमवरुह्य रथात्सती।
प्रणनाम जगन्नाथं शिरसा सखिभि: सह:॥१०२॥

Reaching close to him, the chaste Rādhā bowed in reverence to the lord after his descending from the chariot.

गोपा गोप्यश्च मुदिता: प्रफुल्लवदनेक्षणा:।
दुंदुभि वादयामासुरीश्वरागमनोत्सुका:॥१०३॥

All the cowherds and cowherdesses having the delightful face and eyes welcomed the lord and played upon the big drums.

विरजां च समुत्तीर्य दृष्ट्वा राधां जगत्पति:।
अवरुह्य रथात्तूर्णं गृहीत्वा राधिकाकरम्॥१०४॥
शतशृङ्गं च बभ्राम सुरम्यं रासमण्डलम्।
दृष्ट्वाऽक्षयवटं पुण्यं पुण्यं वृन्दावनं ययौ॥१०५॥

Kṛṣṇa finding Rādhā standing on the river Virajā, at once got down from the chariot and held her hand taking her to the mountain of hundred peaks in the Rāsamaṇḍala, where he started roaming about with her. Thereafter they went to the auspicious banyan tree and having a sight of it, they went to Vṛndāvana.

तुलसीकाननं दृष्ट्वा प्रययौ मालतीवनम्।
वामे कृत्वा कुन्दवनं माधवीकाननं तथा॥१०६॥

There he found the Tulasī-vana, Kunda-vana and Mādhavī-vana, leaving them to the left they moved towards the Mālatī-vana.

चकार दक्षिणे कृष्णश्चम्पकारण्यमीप्सितम्।
चकार पश्चात्तूर्णं च चारुचन्दनकाननम्॥१०७॥
ददर्श पुरतो रम्यं राधिकाभवनं परम्।
उवास राधया सार्धं रत्नसिंहासने वरे॥१०८॥

The campaka-vana was to the right and a forest of sandal-wood was at the back. Then he found the place of Rādhikā who was lodged in her abode occupying a gem-studded lion throne.

सकर्पूरं च ताम्बूलं बुभुजे वासितं जलम्।
सुष्वाप पुष्पतल्पे च सुगन्धिचन्दनार्चिते॥१०९॥

He consumed there the fragrant water, the betel with camphor and slept on the bed of flowers over which the sandal-paste had been spread.

स रेमे रामया सार्धं निमग्नो रससागरे।
इत्येवं कथितं सर्वं धर्मवक्त्राच्च यच्छ्रुतम्॥११०॥
गोलोकारोहणं रम्यं किं भूय: श्रोतुमिच्छसि॥१११॥

He was filled with ocean of pleasure and started enjoying the company of his beloved. Thus I have narrated everything to you, whatever I had heard from the mouth of Dharma.

Chapter - 130

The marriage of Nanda

नारद उवाच

सर्वं श्रुतं महाभाग नावशेषमभीप्सितम्।
किमपूर्वं पुराणं च ब्रह्मवैवर्तमिष्टदम्।।१।।

Nārada said- O virtuous one, I have listened, to everything and nothing has been left out. This Brahmavaivarta Purāṇa is unprecedented and fulfils all the wishes.

अधुना किं करिष्यामि तन्मां ब्रूहि जगद्गुरो।
आज्ञां कुरु तपस्यां च कर्तुं यामि हिमालयम्।।२।।

O teacher of the universe, you tell me as to what should be done by me. You give me a command I shall go to Himālaya for performing tapas.

उपबर्हणगन्धर्द: पञ्चाशत्कामिनीपति:।
जन्मान्तरे भवानासीदधुना ब्रह्मपुत्रपक:॥३॥

Nārāyaṇa said- In one of your earlier births, you were the husband of fifty damsels, known as a Gandharva named Upabarhaṇa. Currently you are the son of Brahmā.

तास्वेका च सती रम्या तपसा शंकरं परम्।
आराध्य च वरं लेभे वाञ्छितं नारदं पतिम्॥४॥

One of the damsels was quite beautiful and chaste, she performed great tapas for Śiva in order to get Nārada as her husband.

सा च सृञ्जयकन्या च स्वर्णष्ठीवीसहोदरा।
तां विवाहं कुरुष्वेति शंकराज्ञा कथं वृथा॥५॥

She was the daughter of Sṛñjaya and the real sister of Svarṇaṣṭhīvī. You batter marry him. No one could venture to go against the wished of lord Kṛṣṇa.

सुन्दरी सुन्दरीष्वेवं कोमलां कमलाकलाम्।
पतिव्रतां महाभागां रम्यां सुप्रियवादिनीम्॥६॥
कामुकीं कमनीयां च शश्वत्सुस्थिरयौवनाम्।
विधात्रा लिखितं कर्म प्राक्तनं केन वार्यते॥७॥

She happened to be the ray of Lakṣmī with tender limbs, besides being quite chaste, virtuous, attractive and Soft spoken. She is quite passionate, beautiful and possessed the ever lasting youthfulness therefore you surely marry her, who can erase the reward of the earlier deeds.

नाभुक्तं क्षीयते कर्म कल्पकोटिशतैरपि।
अवश्यमेव भोक्तव्यं कृतं कर्म शुभाशुभम्॥८॥

The deeds do not vanish even after the lapse of hundred crores of kalpas one has to face the reward of the good and had deeds without fail.

सूत उवाच

नारायणवच: श्रुत्वा हृदयेन विदूयता।
प्रणम्य प्रययौ शीघ्रं नारद: सृञ्जयालयम्॥९॥

Sūta said- On hearing the words of Nārāyaṇa, Nārada bowed before him with a painful heart and at once moved to the abode of Sṛñjaya.

शौनक उवाच

अहो सूत महाभाग श्रुतं किं परमाद्भुतम्।
किमपूर्वं रहस्यं च सरसं च पुरातनम्॥१०॥
अधुना श्रोतुमिच्छामि विवाहं नारदस्य च।
अतीन्द्रियस्य च मुनेर्ब्रह्मपुत्रस्य सांप्रतम्॥११॥

Śaunaka said- O virtuous one, we have listened to quite attractive, astonishing and unprecedented ancient secret, I would like to listen about the marriage of Nārada, the son of Brahmā and the one who had controlled all his senses.

नारदो मू(गु)ढरूपश्च दृष्ट्वा सृञ्जयकन्यकाम्।
तपस्विनीं महाभागां विष्णुव्रतपरायणाम्॥१२॥
ययौ ब्रह्मसभां रम्यां सर्वदेवै: समावृताम्।
प्रणम्य पितरं शान्त: सर्वं तत्त्वमुवाच तम्॥१३॥

Sūta said- Nārada secretly looked at the virtuous daughter of Sṛñjaya and went to the court of Brahmā which was surrounded by all the gods. Bowing in reverence to Brahmā he spoke to him quite humbly.

ब्रह्मा प्रहृष्टवदन: श्रुत्वा वार्तां शुभावहाम्।
तपस्विनं च पुत्रं च संप्राप्य जगतां पति:॥१४॥
रत्ननिर्माणयानेन सार्धं देवै: शुभे क्षणे।
पुत्रं कृत्वा च पुरतो ययौ सृञ्जयमन्दिरम्॥१५॥

Brahmā the lord of the universe, after meeting his son and learning about the proposed marriage delightfully proceeded with other gods, mounted on the gem-studded plane, accompanied with his son, to the place of Sṛñjaya.

तच्छ्रुत्वा सृञ्जयो राजा रत्नभूषणभूषिताम्।
गृहीत्वा कन्यकां रम्यां नारदाय ददौ मुदा॥१६॥
सर्वस्वं दक्षिणां दत्त्वा मणिमुक्तादिकं तथा।

कन्यां समर्प्य ब्रह्माणं राजा च योगिनां वर:।
रुरोद भृशमुच्चैश्च वत्से वत्स इतीरितम्॥१८॥

On hearing about the news, the king Sṛñjaya adorning his charming daughter with gem-studded ornaments gave her away in marriage to Nārada delightfully. He offered several of the precious gems and the riches in dakṣiṇā the king then prayed to them with folded hands. The king Sṛñjaya who was the best of the yogīs, after offering his daughter to Brahma, started crying uttering the name of his daughter.

क्व यासि त्यक्त्वा मद्‌गेहं शून्यं कमललोचने।
अहं यामि वनं घोरं त्वां त्यक्त्वा जीवितो मृत:।।

He said, "O daughter having the eyes resembling the lotus flowers where are you going deserting my house. Getting separated from your company I shall go to the terrific forest because without you I am feeling like dead."

प्रणम्य पितरं कन्या रुदन्तं मातरं तथा।
रुदतीं तां रुदन्ती साऽप्यारुरोह रथं विधे:।।२०।।

The girl while sobbing left her weeping parents behind offering her salutation to them and mounted on the chariot of Brahmā.

गृहीत्वा च सभार्यं च पुत्रं धाता मुदाऽन्वित:।
प्रययौ ब्रह्मलोकं च देवेन्द्रैर्मुनिभि: सह।।२१।।

Brahmā on his part delightfully accompanied with the bride and the groom together with the gods and the sages went to Brahmaloka.

ब्राह्मणान्भोजयामास साङ्गे मङ्गलकर्मणि।
देवानपि च सिद्धांश्च वादयामास दुंदुभिम्।।२२।।

He performed all the welfare ceremonies there, serving food to the Brāhmaṇas and the gods, beating the big drums.

नारदस्तु मुनिश्रेष्ठो बाधित: पूर्वकर्मणा।
यस्य यत्प्राक्तनं विप्र दुर्लङ्घ्य केन वार्यते।।२३।।

The sage Nārada was deprived of his earlier deeds. O dear one, the one who is habitual to performing particular type of deed, who could prevent him from doing so.

सुरम्ये पुष्पतल्पे च सुगन्धिचन्दनार्चिते।
स रेमे रामया सार्धं बुबुधे न दिवानिशम्।।२४।।
एवं कृत्वा विवाहं च विरतो मुनिसत्तम:।

तत्राऽऽजगाम नग्नश्च प्रज्वलन्ब्रह्मतेजसा।
सनत्कुमारो भगवान्साक्षाच्च बालको यथा।।२६।।
सृष्टे: पूर्वश्च वयसा यथैव पञ्चहायन:।
अचूडोऽनुपनीतश्च वेदसंध्याविहीनक:।।२७।।
कृष्णेति मन्त्रं जपति यस्य नारायणो गुरु:।
अनन्तकालकल्पं च भ्रातृभिश्च त्रिभि: सह।।२८।।
वैष्णवानामग्रणीशो ज्ञानिनां च गुरोर्गुरु:।
आराद्‌दृष्ट्वा नारदस्तं भ्रातरं च सतां वरम्।।२९।।
सहसा शिरसा भूमौ दण्डवत्प्रणनाम तम्।
उवाच नारदं बाल: प्रहस्य परमार्थकम्।।३०।।

He then started enjoying the company of his spouse on the bed of flowers and became unconcerned with the passing of the day and night. Thus Nārada the best of the sages was involved in the conjugal pleasures. He started residing under the charming banyan tree. At that point of time, Sanatkumāra, the three brothers arrived there who always remained nude, illumining with the divine lustre. They appeared like the Supreme lord in the form of children, appearing in the age of five years, who were devoid of the first shaving of their heads, the thread ceremonies and the performing of sandhyā. They were always reciting the mantra of Kṛṣṇa, whose teacher was Nārāyaṇa himself, who remained roaming about all the times, was the foremost of the intellectual Vaiṣṇavas, the best of the devotees of the lord and who were the teachers of the teachers, arrived there. Finding those brothers who are the best among the noble people. Nārada prostrated before them. The sage then smiled and spoke to Nārada, the words which were quite auspicious.

सनत्कुमार उवाच

अये भ्रात: किं करोषि कुशलं युवतीपते:।
स्त्रीपुंसोर्वर्धते प्रेम नित्यं तन्नित्यनूतनम्।।३१।।
अर्गलं ज्ञानमार्गस्य भक्तिद्वारकपाटकम्।
मोक्षमार्गव्यवहितं चिरं बन्धनकारणम्।।३२।।

Sanatkumāra said- O brother, what are you doing? O husband of damsel, are you keeping on well, is the love of the couple going on increasing? This love obstructs the divine path of knowledge. It serves as the door leaf for the door of devotion. It obstructs the path of salvation and in to the wordily the bondage for a long time.

गर्भवासस्य बीजं च परं नरककारणम्।
पीयूषबुद्ध्यास गरलं भुङ्क्ते पापी नराधमः॥३३॥

This is the seed for entering in the womb and results into the fall in the hell. A degraded and sinful person enjoys it like the nectar.

परं नारायणं त्यक्त्वा यस्याऽऽस्ते विषये मनः।
स वञ्चितो मायया चामृतं त्यक्त्वा विषं भजेत्॥

The one who discarding the name of Nārāyaṇa involves himself into such worldly pleasures, he under the influence of the illusion owns the poison discarding nectar.

सर्वेषां कर्मभोगोऽस्ति कर्मिणामीश्वरं विना।
वयं विधातुः पुत्राश्च सा बुद्धिरिति देहिनाम्॥३५॥

Except the lord all the people, have to face the fruit of their deeds, we people are the sons of Brahmā, this type of behaviour is to be indulged into by the human beings.

यदि ते नास्ति भोगश्च कथं गन्धर्वजन्म च।
कथं दासीसुतस्त्वं च मुक्तश्च भक्तसङ्गतः॥३६॥

If you have not to face the result of your deed then how could you be born as the son of female servant getting detached from the company of devotees of the lord?.

निर्गच्छ तपसे भ्रातस्त्यज मयामयीं प्रियाम्।
सुपुण्ये भारते वर्षे तपसा भज माधवम्॥३७॥

O brother, discarding this beautiful damsel, who is the form of illusion, you proceed on for performing tapas. In the sacred land of Bhārata, you must recite the name of Mādhava, performing tapas.

स्थिते नारायणे स्वेशे परे स्वपददातरि।
विषयी विषयान्धश्च वञ्चितो मायया ध्रुवम्॥३८॥

By devoting your mind to lord Nārāyaṇā who bestows salvation on the people, the one who remains engrossed in the worldly pleasures, he is surely over-powered with the illusion or the pleasures, he surely over-powered with the illusion of the lord.

गृहाण मम मन्त्रं च कृष्ण इत्यक्षरद्वयम्।
सर्वेषामेव मन्त्राणां सारात्सारं परात्परम्॥३९॥

The essence of all the mantras and the best of all happens to be the mantras called Kṛṣṇa. You receive it.

सर्वेषु च पुराणेषु वेदेषु च चतुर्षु च।
धर्मशास्त्रेषु तन्त्रेषु नास्त्येवास्मात्परो मनुः॥४०॥

There is no mantra better than the same in all the Purāṇas, the four Vedas, the religious treatises and all the tantras.

नारायणेन दत्तो मे पुष्करे सूर्यपर्वणि।
असंख्यकल्प जप्त्वाऽहं भ्रमामि सर्वपूजितः॥४१॥

This mantra, was given to me by Nārāyaṇā himself at Puṣkara-kṣetra on the occasion of the solar eclipse. I reciting the same for innumerable kalpas, became adorable by all and I moved at will.

इत्युक्त्वा स्नापयित्वा तं ददौ तस्मै परं मनुम्।
दिवानिशं स जपति पूतया मणिमालया॥४२॥

Thus speaking he bestowed the mantra to Nārada. Holding a rosary in his hand, he started reciting the same through out the day and night.

तस्मै शुभाशिषं दत्त्वा मन्त्रं च वैष्णवाग्रणीः।
गोलोकं प्रययौ द्रष्टुं भगवन्तं सनातनम्॥४३॥

Sanatkumāras who happened to be the foremost of the Vaiṣṇavas pronouncing their blessing for Nārada and bestowing the mantra on him went to Goloka to have an audience with the eternal Brahman.

नारदस्तु मनुं प्राप्य सर्वसिद्धिप्रदं वरम्।
श्रीकृष्णे निश्चलां भक्तिं पूर्वकर्मनिकृन्तनीम्॥४४॥

Nārada on the other hand receiving the mantra which bestowed all the success, destroying all his previous deeds achieved the infallible devotion of Lord Kṛṣṇa.

त्यक्त्वा मायामयीं भार्यां भारतं तपसे ययौ।
कृतमालानदीतीरे ददर्श शंकरं परम्॥४५॥

Disowning his wife he went to the land of Bhārata for performing tapas. Reaching the bank of Kṛtamālā river, he hod an audience with lord Śiva.

दृष्ट्वा च सहसा मूर्ध्ना प्रणनाम शिवं मुनिः।
तमुवाच जगन्नाथो भक्तं च भक्तवत्सलः॥४६॥

Finding Śiva there, the sage Nārada suddenly prostrated before him. Lord Śiva who bestows his grace on his devotees spoke to Nārada.

महादेव उवाच

अहो नारद दृष्ट्वा त्वां प्रसन्नोऽहं स्वतेजसा।
भक्तानां दर्शनं यत्र सुदिनं तच्छरीरिणाम्॥४७॥

Śiva said- O Nārada, I have been delimited to meet you with the glory, the day on which meet our devotees, it becomes an suspicious days for the human beings.

अहं हि परमो लाभो देहिनां भक्तसंगमः।
स स्नातः सर्वतीर्थेषु यो ददर्श च वैष्णवम्॥४८॥

For the human beings it is quite beneficial to have an audience with the devotees of the lord. The one who has an audience with the Vaiṣ ṇavas, he earns the merit of having bath at all the holy places.

अपि प्राप्तो महामन्त्रः सर्वतन्त्रसुदुर्लभः।
मया दत्तो गणेशाय स्कन्दाय स्वात्मजाय च॥४९॥

Have you achieved the inaccessible Mahāmantra which is difficult of all the tantras which I had bestowed upon Gaṇeśa and my son Skanda.

मह्यं दत्तश्च कृष्णेन गोलोके रासमण्डले।
ब्रह्मणे चापि धर्माय धर्मो नारायणाय च॥५०॥

The knowledge of this mantra was bestowed by lord Kṛṣṇa on me in Rāsamaṇḍala of the Goloka besides Brahmā and Dharma. Dharma bestowed the knowledge to Nārāyaṇa.

ब्रह्मा सनत्कुमाराय तुभ्यं दत्तश्च तेन वै।
मन्त्रग्रहणमात्रेण जनो नारायणो भवेत्॥५१॥

Brahmā bestowed the knowledge to Sanatkumāra, who has bestowed the same to you, by receiving this mantra, one becomes Nārāyaṇa himself.

विचारणं च नास्त्यत्र कालाकालं शुभाशुभम्।
पञ्चलक्षजपेनैव पुरश्चरणमस्य च॥५२॥

By reciting this mantra, the good or bad time. become of no consequence; by reciting this mantra five lakhs of time, one meets with success.

ध्यानं च सामवेदोक्तं तेन ध्यायेच्च वैष्णवः।
ध्यानं च पापदहनं कर्ममूलनिकृन्तनम्॥५३॥
कृष्णं नवघनश्यामं किशोरं पीतवाससम्।

भज तं परमानन्दं सत्यं नित्यं परात्परम्।
इत्युक्त्वा स्वपदं शंभुर्जगाम परमेश्वरः॥५९॥

One should adore Kṛṣṇa according to the dhyānam prescribed in the Sāmaveda which destroyed the sin and cuts at the root of the deeds. He has dark complexion of the new clouds is of quite a tender age, wearing pītāmbara, illumining with the lustre of hundred crores of the moons, adorned with best of the gem-studded ornaments. His body is plastered with sandal-paste. The kaustubha gem adorns his chest, the peacock feather appears on the head. He wears the garland and of jasmine flowers, wears a serene smile on the face. He is adored by Śiva and others gods daily, He is difficult to be achieved even with meditation, is devoid of all the guṇas, beyond Prakṛti, the supreme soul of all, the one who takes to human form for the sake of his devotees, the on who is inexplicable by the Vedas and is the lord of all. I adore lord Kṛṣṇa who is the best or all. One should meditate upon the eternal lord with this dhyānam. Who is blissful, truthful eternal, beyond everything and is known by the name of lord Kṛṣṇa. Thus speaking lord Śiva retired to his abode.

तं प्रणम्य जगन्नाथं नारदस्तपसे ययौ।
नारदः श्रीहरिं स्मृत्वा योगात्त्यक्त्वा कलेवरम्
निलीनः पादपद्मे च पाद (पद्मा) पद्मार्चिते हरेः॥

Bowing at the feet of lord Śiva, Nārada went for performing tapas. Nārada discarded his human body by yogic practices and devoting his mind at the feet of lord Hari he entered the lotus-like feet of lord Hari which are adored always by Kamalā.

The birth of Agni and Gold

शौनक उवाच

अत्यपूर्वमुपाख्यानं श्रुतं परममद्भुतम्।
सुगोप्यं च सुगोप्यं रम्यं रम्यं नवं नवम्।।१।।

Śaunaka said- I have listened, to the extremely astonishing, secret, charming and completely new story from you.

किमनिर्वचनीयं च कमनीयं मनोहरम्।
सुदुर्लभा कथा प्रोक्ता पुराणेषु पुरातनी।।२।।

But it is inexplicable in the Purāṇas, charming, beautiful, ancient and the inaccessible story.

एवंभूतं च सुदिनं कदाऽस्माकं भविष्यति।
तज्जन्म सफलं धन्यं यत्र वैष्णावसंगम:।।३।।
गर्भवासोच्छेदनं च कर्ममूलनिकृन्तनम्।
हरिदास्यप्रदं शुद्धं भक्तानां भक्तिवर्धनम्।।४।।

When shall I meet with such a type of auspicious deeds, in which my life would become successful, keeping the company of the Vaiṣṇavas. This company of the Vaiṣṇavas is destroyer of the life in the womb, cuts at the root of the deeds, bestows toe slavehood of lord Hari and increases his devotion.

असाधुसङ्गदुर्बुद्धिपापोन्मूलनकारणम्।
गणेशजन्मोपाख्यानं पुराणेषु सुदुर्लभम्।।५।।
तुलसीराधिकाख्यानं किमपूर्वं श्रुतं परम्।

The story about the birth of Gaṇeśa is difficult to get in the Purāṇas which relieves one from the company of the wicked and evil minded people and uproots the cause of the deeds. I have listened to the story about Tulasī and Rādhikā. Beside this, I have listened, to several other secret known and unknown stories which fulfil the desires. O lord, I have listened to everything; now I intend to listen to the story about the birth of Agni as well as the gold. O virtuous one, you kindly tell me the story about both of them.

सूत उवाच

सामग्रीकरणं सृष्टेर्जलमेव हुताशन:।
तथैव प्रकृतिर्नित्या महानेव तथैव च।।८।।
यथा दिशो महाकाशो यथैव सृष्टिगोलकम्।
प्रकृतेर्महतश्च स्याद्यथाऽहंकार एव च।।९।।

Sūta said- Of all the material of the universe water, fire and the eternal Prakṛti have their own entity, similarly the Mahātattva has its own entity. As the sky and the direction are there or the universe is there, the arrogance is born out of Prakṛti and Mahat.

यथैव शब्दस्तन्मात्रं तथैव च हुताशन:।
तथाऽपि तत्समुत्पत्तिं कथयामि निशामय।।१०।।

Agni also exists like Śabda and Tanmātrās. In spite of that I would narrate to you the story about its emergence.

एकदा सृष्टिकाले च ब्रह्मानन्तमहेश्वरा:।
श्वेतद्वीपं ययु: सर्वे द्रष्टुं विष्णुं जगत्पतिम्।।११।।
परस्परं च संभाषां कृत्वा सिंहासनेषु च।
ऊचु: सर्वे सभामध्ये सुरम्ये पुरतो विभो:।।१२।।
विष्णुगात्रोद्भवास्तत्र कामिन्य: कमलाकला:।
तत्र नृत्यन्ति गायन्ति विष्णुगाथाश्च सुस्वरम्।।१३।।

Once during the time of creation Ananta, Brahmā and Śiva went to have an audience with Viṣṇu on the Śveta-dvīpa, after mutual discussion. They took their seats on the lion thrones, in the court of lord Viṣṇu. In the court, the damsels who had emerged out of the body of Lakṣmī continued dancing there, reciting the glory of the lord with their sweet voice.

तासां च कठिनां श्रोणिं कठिनं स्तनमण्डलम्।
सस्मितं मुखपद्मं च दृष्ट्वा ब्रह्मा सुकामुकः॥१४॥

Looking at their well built body, the flesh, smiling faces and the pelvic region, Brahma was infested with passion.

मनोनिवारणं कर्तुं न शशाक पितामहः।
वीर्यं पपात चच्छाद लज्जया वाससा विभुः॥१५॥
तद्वीर्यं वस्त्रसहितं प्रतप्तं कामतापतः।
क्षीरोदे प्रेरयामास संगीते विरते द्विज॥१६॥

O Brāhmaṇa, Brahmā could not control himself and his semen fell. Brahmā feeling ashamed hid it in a cloth and after the music was over, Brahmā getting infatuated with passion took out the cloth and threw it out in the ocean.

जलादुत्थाय पुरुषः प्रज्वलन्ब्रह्मतेजसा।
उवास ब्रह्मणः क्रोडे लज्जितस्य च संसदि॥१७॥

Thereafter, a divine immense lustre, emerged out of the water and sat in the lap of Brahmā, who was feeling ashamed seated in the court of Viṣṇu.

एतस्मिन्नन्तरे रुष्टो जलादुत्थाय सत्वरः।
प्रणम्य वरुणो देवान्बालं नेतुं समुद्यतः॥१८॥

In the meantime, getting angry Varuṇa came out of the water and bowing in reverence to the gods he tried to take away the boy with him.

बालो दधार ब्रह्माणं बाहुभ्यां च भयादुदन्।
किंचिन्नोवाच जगतां विधाता लज्जया द्विज॥१९॥

The boy on the other hand started crying and caught hold of Brahma. But Brahma could not speak anything getting ashamed.

बालकस्य करे धृत्वा चकारऽऽकर्षणं रुषा।
वरुणश्च सभामध्ये तं चिक्षेप प्रजापतिः॥२०॥

Getting enraged Varuṇa caught hold of the hand of the boy and dragged him. Brahmā, the Prajāpati, threw him away in the court..

पपात दूरतो देवो वरुणो दुर्बलस्ततः।
मूर्छां संप्राप मृतवत्कोपदृष्ट्या विधेरहो॥२१॥

Thereafter, the weak Varuṇa fell at a distance and with the anger of Brahmā, he lay there like a dead person at a distance.

चेतनं कारयामासामृतदृष्ट्या च शंकरः।
संप्राप्य चेतनं तत्र तमुवाच जलेश्वरः॥२२॥

Lord Śiva brought him back to life with his merciful glance. After regaining consciousness, Varuṇa said-.

वरुण उवाच

बालो जले समुद्भूतो मम पुत्रोऽयमीप्सितः।
अहं गृहीत्वा यास्यामि ब्रह्मा मां ताडयेत्कथम्॥२३॥

Varuṇa said- The boy has been born in the water and therefore he is my son. I shall carry him with me, how could Brahmā beat me?

ब्रह्मोवाच

बालकः शरणापन्नो मयि विष्णो महेश्वर।
कथं दास्यामि भीतं च रुदन्तं शरणागतम्॥२४॥

Brahmā said- O lord Viṣṇu, O Maheśvara, this boy has come to take refuge with me. Therefore how can I give away a crying child who has come to take refuge with me.

शरणागतदीनार्तं यो न रक्षेदपण्डितः।
पच्यते निरये तावद्यावच्चन्द्रदिवाकरौ॥२५॥

The fool who is unable to protect the humble person who comes to take refuge with him, he has to fall in the hell till the time of the sun and the moon.

उभयोर्वचनं श्रुत्वा प्रहस्य मधुसूदनः।
उवाच तत्र सर्वज्ञः सर्वेशश्च यथोचितम्॥२६॥

Listening to the words of both of them, the all knowledgeable Madhusūdana spoke the appropriate words.

दृष्ट्वा तु कामिनीश्रोणिं वीर्यं धातुः पपात तत्।
लज्जया प्रेरयामास क्षीरोदे निर्मले जले॥२७॥
ततो बभूव बालश्च धर्मतो विधिपुत्रकः।
क्षेत्रज्ञश्च सुतः शास्त्रे वरुणस्यापि गौणतः॥२८॥

The lord said- Looking at the body of the damsels the semen of Brahma had fallen. Feeling ashamed, he threw it out in the spotless water of the ocean. The son born because of that is appropriately the son of Brahmā, but he has also to be the son of Varuṇa according to the provisions of the scriptures.

महादेव उवाच

यो विद्यायोनिसंबन्धो वेदेषु च निरूपित:।
शिष्ये पुत्रे च समता चेति वेदविदो विदु:॥२९॥
मन्त्रं ददातु वरुणो विद्यां च बालकाय च।
पुत्रो विधातुर्वह्निश्च शिष्याश्च वरुणस्य च॥३०॥

Mahādeva said- Like the relationship between the knowledge and the yoni, there is no difference between a pupil and the son. This fact is quite well-known to those who are well-versed in the Vedas, in other words, as on is born with the use of yoni and the knowledge is connected with a pupil. Therefore both of them are equals. Therefore Varuṇa should provide the knowledge and mantras to this boy. This boy named Agni is the son of Brahmā and would be the pupil of Varuṇa.

विष्णुर्ददातु बालाय दाहिकां शक्तिमुज्ज्वलाम्।
सर्वदग्धो हुताशश्च निर्वाणो वरुणेन च॥३१॥

But the lord Viṣṇu should provide him the power of burning and becoming illustrious. This Agni would be competent enough to born everybody and Varuṇa should make the fire to extinguish.

विष्णुश्च दाहिकां शक्तिं ददौ तस्मै शिवाज्ञया।
मन्त्रं विद्यां च वरुणो रत्नमालां मनोहराम्॥३२॥

At the command of Śiva, Viṣṇu gave him the power of burning and Varuṇa imparted him the knowledge of mantras and also gave him the charming garland of gems.

क्रोडे कृत्वा च तं बालं चुचुम्ब मायया सुर:।
ब्रह्मणे च ददौ साक्षाद्विष्णुशंकरयोरपि॥३३॥

Varuṇa than took the child in his lap and then gave him to Brahmā, Viṣṇu and Śiva.

प्रणम्य विष्णुं ब्रह्मा च ययौ शंभु: स्वमन्दिरम्।
अग्न्युत्पत्तिश्च कथिता स्वर्णोत्पत्तिं निशामय॥३४॥

All the people then left for their respective abodes, bowing in reverence to Brahmā, Viṣṇu and Śiva. Thus I have narrated to you the story of the birth of Agni.

एकदा सर्वदेवाश्च समूषु: स्वर्गसंसदि।
तत्र कृत्वा च नृत्यं च गायन्त्यप्सरसां गणा:॥३५॥

Once all the gods were seated in the assembly, in the heaven, where the apsarās were dancing.

विलोक्य रम्भां सुश्रोणिं सकामो वह्निरेव च।
पपात वीर्यं चच्छाद लज्जया वाससा तथा॥३६॥

Finding Rambhā having beautiful figure, the god Agni became passionate and his semen fell which was covered by him in shame in the cloth.

उत्तस्थौ स्वर्णपुञ्जश्च वस्त्रं क्षिप्त्वा ज्वलत्प्रभ:।
क्षणे वर्धयामास स सुमेरुर्बभूव ह॥३७॥
हिरण्यरेतसं वह्निं प्रवदन्ति मनीषिण:।
इति ते कथितं सर्वं कं भूय: श्रोतुमिच्छसि॥३८॥

When the cloth was thrown away by him, it turned into the shining gold and in a moment it was raised to the height of the Sumeru mountain. Thereafter the intellectuals started calling him as Agni having the lustre of gold. Thus I a have narrated to you about the birth of gold what else do you want to listen from me.

Brief of the own story

शौनक उवाच

श्रुतं सर्वं नावशेषं धर्मेश ब्राह्मणं च माम्।

Śaunaka said- O lord of Dharma, I have listened to everything and nothing has been left out. O virtuous one, you kindly narrate the entire Purāṇa to me in brief.

एवंविधं पुराणं च जन्मनैव न हि श्रुतम्।
न दृष्टं न श्रुतं तात ता(त्वा)दृशं वाचकं तथा।।२।

I have never heard about this Purāṇa, since my birth, O adorable one, I have never come across and orator like you nor have I heard about him.

सूत उवाच

ब्रह्मखण्डं च कथितं परं ब्रह्मनिरूपणम्।
तदनिर्वचनीयं च येषामपि यथागमम्।।४।।

Brahma-khaṇḍa consists of the form of Brahman which I have recited. This is beyond description and no one could know about the same through the āgamas.

साकारं च निराकारं सगुणं निर्गुणं पृथक्।
येषामपि यथा शक्तिस्तथैव ध्यानमेव च।।५।।
गोलोकादेर्वणनं च क्रमेण च पृथक्पृथक्।
तत्रोपयुक्तोपाख्यानं यद्यत्प्रासङ्गिकं द्विज।।६।।
जातीनां निर्णयश्चैव संकराणां तथैव च।
यद्यद्विषिष्टोपाख्यानं तत्तत्प्रश्नानुरोधतः।।७।।
राधामाधवयोः क्रीडा महाविष्णोः समुद्भवः।
निरूपणं च विश्वेषां समासेन द्विजोत्तम।८।।
ब्रह्मनारदयोश्चैव संवादः परमार्थतः।
विवेको नारदस्यैव मुनीन्द्रस्य तथैव च।।९।।
आज्ञया ब्रह्मणश्चैव नरनारायणाश्रमम्।
गमनं नारदस्यैव तेन सार्धं च दर्शनम्।।१०।।
तयोः संभाषणं चैव नारदाद्य(य)निवेदनम्।
तत्र देव ब्रह्मखण्डं क्रमेणोक्तं द्विजोत्तम।।११।।

He is visible, invisible, with qualities and without qualities separately, one adores him accordingly to his own competence. O best of Brāhmaṇa, I have described separately about Goloka and others regions according to Brahma-khaṇḍa supported by different stories. I described the various castes and the divine sport of Rādhā and Mādhava besides the emergence of Mahāviṣṇu in brief. The talk between Brahmā and Nārada, the intelligence of sage Nārada, his proceeding to the abode of Nara-Nārāyaṇā, discussion with them and the prayer to Nārada have been described.

श्रूयतां प्रकृतेः खण्डं सुधाखण्डसमं मुने।
प्रकृतेर्लक्षणं प्रोक्तं प्रकृतीनां च वर्णनम्।।१२।।

O sage, now you listen about Prakṛti-khaṇḍa which is like the peace of nectar, the symptoms of Prakṛti and its forms have been described.

उपाख्यानं च तासां च वर्णनं पूजनादिकम्।
लक्ष्मीः सरस्वती दुर्गा सावित्री राधिका तथा।।१३।।
एतासां चरितं चैवमन्यासां च पृथक्पृथक्।
उपाख्यानं महालक्ष्म्याः सरस्वत्यास्तथैव च।।१४।।

Their stories, their destruction and the mode of their adoration have been described. The different forms of Lakṣmī, Sarasvatī, Durgā, Sāvitrī, Rādhā and other forms of Prakṛti were discussed separately in addition to the story of Mahālakṣmī and Mahāsarasvatī were also narrated.

अपूर्वं राधिकाख्यानं सावित्र्याश्च तथैव च।
संवादो यमसावित्र्योः सत्यवज्जीवदानकम्।।१५।।
कुण्डानां वर्णनं प्रोक्तं तेषां च लक्षणं तथा।
जीविकर्मविपाकश्च भोगनिर्णय एव च।।१६।।

The story of Rādhikā and Sāvitrī is unique. The conversation between Yama and Sarasvatī besides Satyavān remaining life, the description of kuṇḍas and their qualities, the relationship between the human being and the deeds besides, the facing of the results of the deeds have been described.

अपूर्वं राधिकाख्यानं पुराणेषु सुगोप्यकम्।
सुयज्ञस्य नृपेन्द्रस्य चरितं परमाद्भुतम्।।१७।।

The story of Rādhikā, is quite secretive in the Purāṇas. The story of king Suyajña is quite unique.

प्रोक्तं तुलस्युपाख्यानं परमाद्भुतमेव च।
महायुद्धं च संवादे महेशशङ्खचूडयोः।।१८।।

The story of Tulsī is quite astonishing and unique. The battle between Śiva and

Śaṁkhacūḍa together with the dialogue has been narrated.

तुलसीकृष्णसंवादस्तयोः संभोग एव च।
निधनं शङ्खचूडस्य श्रीदाम्नः शापमोक्षणम्॥१९॥

The conversation between Tulasī and Kṛṣṇa has been narrated, their conjugal pleasures, the killing of Śaṁkhacūḍa and freeing Rādhā of the curse of Śrīdāmā have been narrated.

पदप्राप्तिः सुराणां च विपदां खण्डनं तथा।
जीविनां मोक्षबीजं च गङ्गोपाख्यानमीप्सितम्॥२०॥

The misfortune of the gods was removed and their regaining the lost glory, the salvation of the creatures and the story of the Gaṅgā have been narrated.

तथैव मनसाख्यानं परं हर्षविवर्धनम्।
स्वाहास्वधाख्यानमेवमन्यासां च निरूपणम्॥२१॥
यद्यत्प्रासङ्गिकाख्यानं वक्तुः प्रश्नानुरोधतः।
प्रोक्तं तत्प्रकृतेः खण्डं खण्डं गणपतेः शृणु॥२२॥

The story of Manasā which increases the pleasure besides the stories of Svāhā and Svadhā beside over goddesses have been narrated. In the Prakṛti-khaṇḍa in the series of the question, various other stories have been included, Now I speak about the Gaṇapati Khaṇḍa.

अतीव मधुरं रम्यं स्वादु स्वादु पदे पदे।
सुगोप्यं तत्पुराणेषु रम्यं रम्यं नवं नवम्॥२३॥

This Gaṇapati Khaṇḍa is quite sweet and is tasteful at over step. This is quite charming and new and is considered to be most secretive of all the Purāṇas.

सुदुर्लभमुपाख्यानं श्रोतृप्रीतिकरं परम्।
प्रोक्ता क्रीडा च परमा पार्वतीपरमेशयोः॥२४॥
स्कन्दोत्पत्तिः प्रथमतः क्रीडाभङ्गस्तयोस्तथा।
पार्वतीतोषणं चैवमभिमानविमोक्षणम्॥२५॥

The stories contained there in, are quite attractive for the listeners, the story of the, sports of Śiva and Pārvatī are included there in. Initially it relates to the disturbing of the love sport of Śiva and Pārvatī and then the birth of Skanda. The pride of Pārvatī and subsiding of the same have been described.

पुण्यकं च व्रतं विष्णोर्देव्याश्चरितमुत्तमम्।
वरदानं हरेरेव सुव्रतां पार्वतीं प्रति॥२६॥
हरेश्च दर्शनं चैव ब्राह्मणातिथिरूपिणः।
आविर्भावो गणेशस्य कृपया शिवमन्दिरे॥२७॥

The detail about Puṇyaka-vrata of Viṣṇu, the story of the goddess, the grant of boon by Viṣṇu to Pārvatī have been described. This Khaṇḍa also contained details about the meeting with Hari in the form of a Brāhmaṇa a guest and the birth of Gaṇeśa in the temple of Śiva, have been mentioned.

दर्शनं पुत्रवक्त्रस्य पार्वतीपरमेशयोः।
परमानन्दरूपं च शिवगेहे महोत्सवम्॥२८॥

Looking at the face of their son by Śiva and Pārvatī and the performing of the festivities in the abode of Śiva have been mentioned.

देवाद्या ददृशुः सर्वे बालं नित्यमजं विभुम्।
सत्यस्वरूपं परमं परब्रह्मस्वरूपिणम्॥२९॥
सर्वविघ्नहरं शान्तं दातारं सर्वसंपदाम्।
तपसां जपयज्ञानां व्रतानां फलदं विभुम्॥३०॥
अतीव कमनीयं च रमणीयं च योषिताम्।
प्राणाधिकं प्रियतमं पार्वतीपरमेशयोः॥३१॥
परमात्मस्वरूपं च भगवन्तं सनातनम्।
सर्वेशं सर्वबीजं च साक्षान्नारायणात्मकम्॥३२॥

The meeting of the gods and all the gaṇas with child Gaṇeśa, who has been eternal, virtuous, the form of truth and eternal Brahman has been described. The child happens to be the remover of all the construction, bestower of all the riches, tapas, recitation, performing of yajña, vratas and the bestower of their fruits, quite virtuous, charming, adored by the ladies, the beloved of Pārvatī and Śiva, the form of eternal soul, the eternal lord, the lord of all the gods, the seed of all and was the form of Nārāyaṇa.

यद्दर्शनाच्च स्तवनात्प्रणामात्पूजनात्तथा।
ध्यानासाध्यं दुराराध्यं जन्मकोट्य घनाशनम्॥३३॥

With the audience of whom, by reciting whose name, by adoring whom, all the crores of the sins committed during the earlier births are destroyed.

कार्तिकोद्धरणं प्रोक्तं तस्याभिषेक एव च।
गणेशपूजनं चैव सर्वविघ्नविनाशनम्।।३४।।

The Khaṇḍa also contains the account of the redemption of Kārttikeya and his crowding; the method of adoration of Gaṇeśa has also been described.

जमदग्नेश्च युद्धं च कार्तवीर्यार्जुनेन च।
सुरभीहरणं चैव निधनं च मुनेस्तथा।।३५।।

The battle between Jamadagni and Kārttavīrya-Arjuna, the abduction of Surabhī and the killing of the sage have been described.

पतिव्रतारेणुकायाश्चितारोहणमेव च।
प्रतिज्ञातं भृगोश्चैव दारुणं च सुदारुणम्।।३६।।

The self burning by the chaste Reṇukā, the terrific vow taken by Bhṛgu, have also been described.

निःक्षत्रीकरणं चैवमेकविंशतिकं द्विज।
संवादो ज्ञानलाभश्च गणेशपर्शुरामयोः।।३७।।

O Brāhmaṇa, the dialogue between Gaṇeśa and Paraśurāma, who rid the earth of the Kṣ atriyas twenty one times, has been narrated.

तयोर्युद्धं दारुणं च हेरम्बदन्तभञ्जनम्।
दुर्गायाश्च विलापश्चाभिशापो भार्गवं प्रति।।३८।।

The battle between both of them besides the breaking of the tusk of Gaṇeśa, the lamenting of Durgā and the curse of Bhārgava, have been described.

स्मरणे पर्शुरामस्याप्याविर्भावो हरेरपि।
पार्वतीं बोधयामास स्वयं नारायणः प्रभुः।।३९।।

The appearing of Hari at the reciting of his name by Paraśurāma, convincing of Pārvatī by lord Nārāyaṇa.

वर्णनं शिवलोकस्य परमाश्चर्यमीप्सितम्।
प्रदत्तं पर्शुरामाय महास्त्रं शंकरेण च।।४०।।
मन्त्रं च कवचं चैव कृष्णस्य परमात्मनः।
वरदानं चाभयं च प्रदानं सर्वसंपदाम्।।४१।।

The description of astonishing and desirable Śivaloka and bestowing of the greet weapon by Śiva to Paraśurāma, the giving away of the mantra-kavaca of Śrī Kṛṣṇa beside the protection and all the riches have been mentioned.

त्रिःसप्तकृत्वो भूपानां निधनं च चकार सः।
बभूव भृगुणा विप्र भुवश्च भारमीक्षणम्।।४२।।

The killing of Kṣatriyas by Paraśurāma twenty one times ridding the earth of her burden has been discussed.

प्रश्नानुरोधक्रमतः पूर्वोपाख्यानमेव च।
प्रोक्तं गणपतेः खण्डं समासेन द्विजोत्तम्।।४३।।

O best of the sage, in the series of the questions, the stories of Gaṇapati-khaṇḍs have been described.

श्रीकृष्णजन्मखण्डं च श्रूयतां सावधानतः।
जन्ममृत्युजराव्याधिहरं मोक्षकरं परम्।।४४।।

Now you listen to the Kṛṣṇa Janma Khaṇḍa which removed the birth, death, old age and ailment. You listen to it quite carefully.

हरिदास्यप्रदं शुद्धं सुश्राव्यं च सुधोपमम्।
अत्यपूर्वमुपाख्यानं रम्यं रम्यं नवं नवम्।।४५।।

The story is unprecedented, quite charming, always fresh and bestows the slavehood of lord Hari, besides being auspicious, nectar, like and fit for hearing.

न श्रुतं जन्मना यद्यत्स्वादु स्वादु पदे पदे।
प्रदीपं सर्वसत्त्वानां भवाब्धितारणं परम्।।४६।।

It is tasteful at every stop, in case of achieving a human birth, one does net listen to it, his birth would be of no consequence. This Khaṇḍa illumines all the tattvas and happens to be the means of crossing on the ocean of universe.

कर्मोपभोगरोगाणां मर्दनं च रसायनम्।
श्रीकृष्णचरणाम्भोजप्राप्तिसोपानकारणम्।।४७।।

This is such a type of alchemistry which destroys all the deeds and the ailment and serves as a step towards salvation.

श्रीदामराधाकलहवर्णनं दारुणं द्विज।
तयोः शापप्रकथनं ततस्तेषां विसर्जनम्।।४८।।

O Brāhmaṇa, there is a mention of the great quarrel between Rādhā and Śrīdāmā. The curses of both of them have been highlighted beside their departure from Goloka.

ब्रह्मणा प्रार्थितस्यैव हरेर्जन्म महीतले।
प्रोक्तं च जन्मखण्डे च परमाद्भुतमेव च॥४९॥

In the Kṛṣṇa Janma Khaṇḍa, the incarnation of Hari on the earth has been described.

Characteristics features of the Purāṇa

शौनक उवाच

अद्य मे सफलं जन्म जीवितं च सुजीवितम्।

यत्फलं ब्रह्मवैवर्ते निर्विघ्नं मोक्षकारणम्।।१।।

अभयं देहि हे वत्स हे तात मह्यमेव च।

तदा निवेदनं किंचिदस्तीति च करोम्यहम्।।२।।

Śaunaka said- My life has been successful today my birth has been beautified, because the Brahmavaivarta removes all the obstruction and provides salvation. O son, you first assure protection to me and only then I shall put any further question

सूत उवाच

त्यज भीतिं महाभाग प्रश्नं कुरु यदिच्छसि।
सर्वं ते कथयिष्यामि यद्यद्गोप्यं मनोहरम्॥३॥

Sūta said- O virtuous one, shed away the rear and ask me any question of you liking. I shall speak out to you whatever is secret and pleasant.

अधुना श्रोतुमिच्छामि पुराणानां च लक्षणम्।
संख्यानमपि तेषां च फलमस्यैव पुत्रक॥४॥

Śaunaka said- Presently I intend to listen to the distinguishing features of the Purāṇas, their number and the fruits for the listening, to the same.

सूत उवाच

विस्तराणि पुराणानि चेतिहासश्च शौनक।
संहितां पञ्चरात्राणि कथयामि यथागतम्॥५॥

Sūta said- O Śaunaka, the Purāṇas are quite comprehensive which include history, collection of hymns and Pañcarātra. I speak them to you according to the scriptures.

सर्गश्च प्रतिसर्गश्च वंशो मन्वन्तराणि च।
वंशानुचरितं विप्र पुराणं पञ्चलक्षणम्॥६॥

A Purāṇa has five characteristics which include sarga (creation of the universe), pratisarga (dissolution and recreation of the universe), Vaṁśa (genealogies of gods, the patriarchs, the sun, the moon etc.) than manvantaras (aeons presided over by Manus) and vaṁśānucarita (accounts of dynasties of the different ruling families).

एतदुपपुराणानां लक्षणं च विदुर्बुधाः।
महतां च पुराणानां लक्षणं कथयामि ते॥७॥

The intellectuals should know this characteristics of the Upapurāṇas. Now I am explaining about the Mahāpurāṇas.

सृष्टिश्चापि विसृष्टिश्च स्थितिस्तेषां च पालनम्।
कर्मणां वासना वार्ता मनूनां चाक्रमेण च॥८॥
वर्णनं प्रलयानां च मोक्षस्य च निरूपणम्।
उत्कीर्तनं हरेरेव वेदानां च पृथक्पृथक्॥९॥
दशाधिकं लक्षणं च महतां परिकीर्तितम्।
संख्यानं च पुराणानां निबोध कथयामि ते॥१०॥

The creation, preservation, maintenance, lust for performing deeds, the story of Manus the description of dissolution, the mode of salvation, the reciting of hymns of Hari, reciting of the Vedas separately are the ten additional, characteristics of Mahāpurāṇa. Now I speak to you about the number of the Purāṇas. You try to understand me.

परं ब्रह्मपुराणं च सहस्राणां दशैव तु।
पञ्चोनषष्टिसाहस्रं पाद्ममेव प्रकीर्तितम्॥११॥

Brahma-purāṇa happens to be the best of all containing ten thousand verses followed by Padma-purāṇa containing fifty five thousand verses.

त्रयोविंशतिसाहस्रं वैष्णवं च विदुर्बुधाः।
चतुर्विंशतिसाहस्रं शैवं चैव निरूपितम्॥१२॥

The intellectuals believe, Viṣṇu-purāṇa to contain twenty-three thousand verses. Śiva-purāṇa consists of twenty four thousand verses.

ग्रन्थोऽष्टादशसाहस्रं श्रीमद्भागवतं विदुः।
पञ्चविंशतिसाहस्रं नारदीयं प्रकीर्तितम्॥१३॥

Śrīmadbhāgvata-purāṇa comprises of eighteen thousand verses while Nāradīya-purāṇa has twenty five thousand verses.

मार्कण्डं नवसाहस्रं पुराणं पण्डिता विदुः।
चतुःशताधिकं पञ्चदशसाहस्रमेव च॥१४॥
परमग्निपुराणं च रुचिरं परिकीर्तितम्।
चतुर्दशसहस्राणि परं पञ्चशताधिकम्॥१५॥
पुराणप्रवरं चैव भविष्यं परिकीर्तितम्।
अष्टादशसहस्रं च ब्रह्मवैवर्तमीप्सितम्॥१६॥

The Mārkaṇḍeya-purāṇa consists of nine thousand verses, while Agni-purāṇa comprises of fifteen thousand and four hundred verses, the Bhaviṣya-purāṇa has fourteen thousand and five hundred verses while Brahmavaivarta-purāṇa comprises of eighteen thousand verses.

सर्वेषां च पुराणानां सारमेव विदुर्बुधाः।
एकादशसहस्रं तु परं लिङ्गपुराणकम्॥१७॥

The Brahmavaivarta-purāṇa is considered to be essence of all the Purāṇas. The Liṅga-purāṇa has eleven thousand verses.

चतुर्विंशतिसाहस्रं वाराहं परिकीर्तितम्।

एकाशीतिसहस्रं च परमेव शताधिकम्।।१८।।
वरं स्कन्दपुराणं च सद्भिरेवं निरूपितम्।
वामनं दशसाहस्रं कौर्मं सप्तदशैव तु।।१९।।

The Varāha-purāṇa has twenty four thousand verges. The Skanda-purāṇa has been conceived to contain eighty one thousand and one hundred verses. Vāmana-purāṇa comprises of ten thousand verses and Kūrma-purāṇa contains seventeen thousand verses.

मात्स्यं चतुर्दश प्रोक्तं पुराणं पण्डितैस्तथा।
ऊनविंशतिसाहस्र गारुडं परिकीर्तितम्।।२०।।

The intellectuals belief that a Matsya-purāṇa has fourteen thousand verses and Garuḍa-purāṇa comprises of nineteen thousand verses.

परं द्वादशसाहस्रं ब्रह्माडं परिकीर्तितम्।
एवं पुराणसंख्यानं चतुर्लक्षमुदाहृतम्।।२१।।

Brahmāṇḍa-purāṇa has twelve thousand verses; thus the total number or the verses of all the Purāṇas comes to two lakhs.

अष्टादशपुराणानामेवमेव विदुर्बुधाः।
एवं चोपपुराणानामष्टादश प्रकीर्तिता।।२२।।

This is the number of verses described by the intellectuals in the Purāṇas; similarly there are eighteen Upa-purāṇas.

इतिहासो भारतं च वाल्मीकं काव्यमेव च।
पञ्चकं पञ्चरात्राणां कृष्णमाहात्म्यपूर्वकम्।।२३।।

Mahābhārata is a book of history. The Vālmīki Rāmāyaṇa happens to be an epic. There are five Pañcarātras including the Kṛṣṇa-māhātmya.

वसिष्ठं नारदीयं च कापिलं गौतमीयकम्।
परं सनत्कुमारीयं पञ्चरात्रं च पञ्चकम्।।२४।।
पञ्चकं सहितानां च कृष्णभक्तिसमन्वितम्।
ब्रह्मणश्च शिवस्यापि प्रह्लादस्य तथैव च।।२५।।
गौतमस्य कुमारस्य संहिताः परिकीर्तिताः।
इति ते कथितं सर्वं क्रमेण च पृथक्पृथक्।।२६।।

The five Pañcarātras are the Vasiṣtha-rātra, Nāradīya-rātra, Kapila-rātra, Gautamīya-rātra and Sanatkumārīya-rātra. There are five collections of hymns known Saṁhitās relating to the adoration of Kṛṣṇa. These are Brahma-saṁhitā, Śiva-saṁhitā, Prahlāda-saṁhitā, Gautama-saṁhitā and Kumāra-saṁhitā; thus I have explained to you everything separately.

अस्त्येवं विपुलं शास्त्रं ममापि च यथागमम्।
उवाचेदं पुराणं च गोलोके रासमण्डले।।२७।।
श्रीकृष्णो भगवान्साक्षाद्ब्रह्माणं च स्वभक्तकम्।
ब्रह्मा धर्मं च धर्मिष्ठं धर्मो नारायणं मुनिम्।।२८।।

This is a vast book. In the Rāsamaṇḍala of the Goloka, according the āgamas this Purāṇa was narrated by Śrī Kṛṣṇa to me as well as to Brahmā who happens to be his devotee. Brahmā then narrated the same to Dharma and Dharma narrated the same to Nārāyaṇa.

नारायणो नारदं च नारदो मां च भक्तकम्।
अहं त्वां च मुनिश्रेष्ठ वरिष्ठं कथयामि तत्।।२९।।
सुदुर्लभं पुराणं च ब्रह्मवैवर्तमीप्सितम्।
यद्वृणोत्येव विश्वौघं जीविनां परमात्मकम्।।३०।।
तद्ब्रह्म साक्षिरूपं च कर्मणामेव कर्मिणाम्।
तद्ब्रह्म विवृतं यत्र तद्विभूतिमनुत्तमाम्।।३१।।
तेनेदं ब्रह्मवैवर्तमित्येवं च विदुर्बुधाः।
पुण्यप्रदं पुराणं च मङ्गलं मङ्गलप्रदम्।।३२।।

Nārāyaṇa narrated it to Nārada and Nārada narrated the same to me. O best of the sages, I have spoken out to you all this, taking you to be a senior sage. It is difficult to get the Brahmavaivarta Purāṇa which influences the universe. It is the form of eternal Brahman for the people of the universe and it happens to be the witness for all those, performing the deeds. The people call it by the title of Brahmavaivarta Purāṇa because of the glory of Brahman is contained in it. This Purāṇa bestows prosperity, merit and all the welfare.

सुगोप्यं च रहस्यं च यत्र रम्यं नवं नवम्।
हरिभक्तिप्रदं चैव दुर्लभं हरिदास्यदम्।।३३।।

It is quite secretive, pleasant and is filled with many secrets, it bestows the devotion of lord Hari besides the inaccessible slavehood of the lord.

सुखदं ब्रह्मदं सारं शोकसंतापनाशनम्।
सरितां च यथा गङ्गा सद्यो मुक्तिप्रदा शुभा।।३४।।

It is quite pleasant, bestower of the Brahman, is the form of gist, destroyer of grief and mental agony; as the Gaṅgā is considered to be the sacred most of all the rivers and bestower of salvation, this Purāṇa also is believed to be like the same.

तीर्थानां पुष्करं शुद्धं यथा काशी पुरीषु च।
सर्वेषु भारतं वर्षं सद्यो मुक्तिप्रदं शुभम्।।३५।।

As Puṣkara is considered to be the holiest of all the holy places, Kāśī of all the cities, Bhāratavarṣa of all the contents which bestows salvation. Similarly this Purāṇa also happens to be like that.

यथा सुमेरुः शैलेषु पारिजातं च पुष्पतः।
पत्रेषु तुलसीपत्रं व्रतेष्वेकादशीव्रतम्।।३६।।

As the Sumeru is among the mountains, Tulasī leaf among all the leaves, Ekādaśī among the vratas, at the best, similarly this Purāṇa happens to be the best.

वृक्षेषु कल्पवृक्षश्च श्रीकृष्णश्च सुरेषु च।
ज्ञानीन्द्रेषु महादेवो योगीन्द्रेषु गणेश्वरः।।३७।।

As kalpavṛkṣa is considered to be the best of the trees, Śrī Kṛṣṇa is the best among the gods, Śiva among the intellectuals, Gaṇeśa among the yogīs is considered to be the best, similarly this Purāṇa happens to be the best.

सिद्धेन्द्रेष्वेव कपिलः सूर्यस्तेजस्विनां यथा।
सनत्कुमारो भगवान्वैष्णवेषु यथाऽग्रणीः।।३८।।

As Kapila happens to be the best of siddhas, the sun among those containing luster, Sanatkumāra among the Vaiṣṇavas, similarly this Purāṇa happens to be the best of all.

भूपेषु च यथा रामो लक्ष्मणश्च धनुष्मताम्।
देवीषु च यथा दुर्गा महापुण्यवती सती।।३९।।

As Rāma is considered to be the best of the kings, Lakṣmaṇa among the archers, chaste Durgā among the goddesses, similar is the case with this Purāṇa.

प्राणाधिका यथा राधा कृष्णस्य प्रेयसीषु च।
ईश्वरीषु यथा लक्ष्मीः पण्डितेषु सरस्वती।।४०।।
तथा सर्वपुराणेषु ब्रह्मवैवर्तमेव च।
नातो विशिष्टं सुखदं मधुरं च सुपुण्यदम्।।४१।।

As Rādhā happens to be the best of the beloved's of Kṛṣṇa, Lakṣmī among the goddesses, Sarasvatī among the goddesses of learning, similar is the case with this Purāṇa which is quite pleasant, sweet, bestower of merit. No other Purāṇa is comparable to it.

संदेहभञ्जनं चैव पुराणं परिकीर्तितम्।
इह लोके च सुखदं सुप्रदं सर्वसंपदाम्।।४२।।

Now the fruit of listening of the Purāṇa is defined. This Purāṇa has been defined to be the one which shatters all the doubts. This is the one, which provides all the pleasures and riches in this world.

शुभदं पुण्यदं चैव विघ्ननिघ्नकरं परम्।
हरिदास्यप्रदं चैव परलोके प्रहर्षदम्।।४३।।

It bestows pleasure, merit and is the remover of obstructions, bestower of the slavehood of lord Hari and provides pleasure in the other worlds as well.

यज्ञानामपि तीर्थानां व्रतानां तपसां तथा।
भुवः प्रदक्षिणस्यापि फलं नास्य समानकम्।।४४।।

The merit of performing yajña visiting holy places, vratas, tapas, going round the globe cannot be compared with, the merit of listening to his Purāṇa.

चतुर्णामपि वेदानां पाठादपि वरं फलम्।
शृणोतीदं पुराणं च संयतश्चेह पुत्रक।।४५।।

O son, in case anyone listens to it attentively, he achieves a merit greater than the reciting of the Vedas.

गुणवन्तं च विद्वांसं वैष्णवं पुत्रमालभेत्।
शृणोति दुर्भगा चेत्तु सौभाग्यं स्वामिनो लभेत्।।४६।।

In case an issueless person listens to the recitation of this Purāṇa, he achieves a virtuous son. In case an unfortunate woman listens to it, she becomes quite fortunate and enjoys the company of her husband.

मृतवत्सा काकवन्ध्या महावन्ध्या च पापिनी।
पुराणश्रवणाल्लेभे पुत्रं च चिरजीविनम्।।४७।।

The one who always delivers dead Children or the one who is extremely barred or even a wicked woman achieves a virtuous son by listening to this Purāṇa.

अपुत्रो लभते पुत्रमभार्यो लभते प्रियाम्।
अस्पष्टकीर्तिः सुयशा मूर्खो भवति पण्डितः॥४८॥
रोगार्तो मुच्यते रोगाद्बद्धो मुच्येत बन्धनात्।
भयान्मुच्येत भीतस्तु मुच्येतापन्ना आपदः॥४९॥

A person without a child, gets a child. A person without a wife gets a wife, the one who has lost his glory gets back the glory and the foolish becomes an intellectual. And ailing person is relieved of the ailment, a person in bondages is relieved of them. A terrified person is freed from the fear and the unfortunate person is relieved of the misfortune.

अरण्ये प्रान्तरे भीतो दावाग्नौ मुच्यते ध्रुवम्।
अघं कुष्ठं च दारिद्र्यं रोगं शोकं च दारुणम्॥५०।
पुण्यवान्श्रवणादेव नैव जानात्यपुण्यवान्।
श्लोकार्धं श्लोकपादं वा यः शृणोति सुसंयतः॥
गोलक्षदानपुण्यं च लभते नात्र संशयः।
चतुःखडं पुराणं च शुद्धकाले जितेन्द्रियः॥५२॥
संकल्पतो यः शृणोति भक्त्या दत्त्वा च दक्षिणाम्।
यद्बाल्ये यच्च कौमारे वार्धके यच्च यौवने॥५३॥
कोटिजन्मर्जितात्पापान्मुच्यते नात्र संशयः।
रत्ननिर्माणयानेन घृत्वा श्रीकृष्णारूपकम्॥५४॥
नित्यं गत्वा च गोलोकं कृष्णदास्यं लभेद्ध्रुवम्।
असंख्यब्रह्मणां पाते न भवेत्तस्य पातनम्॥५५॥
समीपे पार्षदो भूत्वा सेवां च कुरुते चिरम्।
श्रुत्वा च ब्रह्मखण्डं च सुस्नातः संयतः शुचिः॥५६
पायसं पिष्टकं चैव फलं ताम्बूलमेव च।
भोजयित्वा वाचकं च तस्मै दद्यात्सुवर्णकम्॥५७॥
चन्दनं शुक्लमाल्यं च सूक्ष्मवस्त्रं मनोहरम्।
निवेद्य वासुदेवं च वाचकाय प्रदीयते॥५८॥

In the secluded forest or in the forest fire, a person is freed from all the danger. A virtuous person by listening to this Purāṇa a is relieved of all the sins, leprosy, poverty, ailment and terrific grief. The sinful person cannot know about it but he achieves the merit or giving a lakh of cows in charity. There is no doubt about it. The one who has controlled all his senses listens to all the four-khaṇḍa of the Purāṇa in auspicious time, with devotion and gives away dakṣiṇa thereafter, he is relieved of all the sins accumulated during his childhood boyhood, youthful age or the old age. There is no doubt about it. He, mounting on the gem-studded chariot, taking to the form or Kṛṣṇa proceeds to Goloka and accepts the slavehood of Kṛṣṇa. lie never gets destroyed even after the destruction of innumerable Brahmās and he remains with the lord as his attendants for a long time. Taking a proper bath controlling his senses and with an auspicious mind, after listening to Brahma-khaṇḍa, one should series the fried food, the pāyasam, the fruit, the betel and gold to a beggar as dakṣiṇā. Thereafter, he should offer the sandal-paste, white garland, fine cloth and the naivedya of the lord to the reciter of the Purāṇas.

श्रुत्वा च प्रकृते खण्डं सुश्राव्यं च सुधोपमम्।
भोजयित्वा च दध्यन्नं तस्मै दद्याच्च काञ्चनम्॥५९

By listening to the beautiful Prakṛti Khaṇḍa, the reciter of the Purāṇa should be served with curd and the food besides, guḍa.

सवत्सां सुरभिं रम्यां दद्याद्वै भक्तिपूर्वकम्।
श्रुत्वा गणपतेः खण्डं विघ्ननाशाय संयतः॥६०॥

Thereafter he should give away in charity, a cow with calf. For the removal of obstruction one should listen to the Gaṇapati Khaṇḍa with a devoted mind.

स्वर्णयज्ञोपवीतं च श्वेताश्वच्छत्रमाल्यकम्।
प्रदीयते वाचकाय स्वस्तिकं तिललड्डुकम्॥६१॥
परिपक्वफलान्येव कालदेशोद्भवानि च।
श्रीकृष्णजन्मखण्डं च श्रुत्वा भक्तश्च भक्तितः॥
वाचकाय प्रदद्याच्च परं रत्नाङ्गुलीयकम्।
सूक्ष्मवस्त्रं च माल्यं च स्वर्णकुण्डलमुत्तमम्॥६३॥
माल्यं च वरदोलां च सुपक्वं क्षीरमेव च।
सर्वस्वं दक्षिणां दद्यात्स्तवनं कुरुते ध्रुवम्॥६४॥

The reciter of the Purāṇa should be given the yajñopavīta of gold, a white horse a garland, svastika, sesamum sweet balls and the ripe seasonal fruits and flowers. The devotees after listening to the Kṛṣṇa Janma Khaṇḍa with devotion should offer a gem-studded ring to the reciter of the Purāṇa, the fine cloth, a garland, gold ear-rings, beautiful palanquin, boiled milk and everything else should be given to him in dakṣiṇa offering him the prayer.

शतकं ब्राह्मणानां च भोजयेत्परमादरात्।
ब्राह्मणं वैष्णवं शास्त्रनिष्णातं पण्डितं वरम्।।६५।।
कुरुते वाचकं शुद्धमन्यथा निष्फलं भवेत्।
श्रीकृष्णाविमुखाद्दुष्टान्नोपदिष्टाच्च ब्राह्मणात्।।६६।।
श्रीकृष्णभक्तियुक्तं च पुराणं यः शृणोति च।
भक्तिं पुण्यं न लभते हन्ति पुण्यं पुराकृतम्।।६७।।

He should then serve find to a hundred Brāhmaṇas, besides the devotees of Viṣṇu, the person well-versed in the scriptures otherwise the entire exercise would be fruitless, The one who listen to the recitation of the Kṛṣṇa Janma Khaṇḍa from the one who does not believe in Kṛṣṇa and is devoid of his devotion, he cannot earn the devotion of lord; all the merits or; the other hand get destroyed.

श्रीकृष्णभक्तियुक्ताच्च पुराणं यः शृणोति च।
भक्तिं पुण्यं च लभते यान्यन्ते श्रीहरेः पदम्।।६८।।

The one who listens to the Purāṇa from a Brāhmaṇa who is devoted to Śrī Kṛṣṇa, he earns the devotion of the lord as well as the merit and ultimately he achieves lord Hari.

एतत्ते कथितं सर्वं यच्छ्रुतं गुरुवक्त्रतः।
बिदायं देहि विप्रेन्द्र यामि नारायणाश्रमम्।।६९।।

Whatever I had heard from the mouth of my teacher I have narrated the same to you. Therefore O best of the Brāhmaṇas, you bid me farewell. I am going to the abode of Śrī Nārāyaṇa.

दृष्ट्वा विप्रसमूहं च नमस्कर्तुं समागतः।
कथितं ब्रह्मवैवर्तं भवतामाज्ञया परम्।।७०।।

I had arrived here to offer my salutation finding a group of Brāhmaṇas here. At your command I have recited the Brahmavaivarta Purāṇa.

नमोऽस्तु ब्राह्मणेभ्यश्च कृष्णाय परमात्मने।
शिवाय ब्रह्मणे नित्यं गणेशाय नमो नमः।।७१।।

I bow in reverence to the Brāhmaṇas, lord Kṛṣṇa, Śiva, Brahmā and Gaṇeśa.

कायेन मनसा वाचा परं भक्त्या दिवानिशम्।
भज सत्यं परं ब्रह्म राधेशं त्रिगुणात्परम्।।७२।।

The lord of Rādhā who is beyond the three guṇas, is truthful, should be adored through-out day and night physically, mentally as well as with speech.

नमो देव्यै सरस्वत्यै पुराणगुरवे नमः।
सर्वविघ्नविनाशिन्यै दुर्गादेव्यै नमो नमः।।७३।।
युष्माकं पादपद्मानि दृष्ट्वा पुण्यानि शौनक।
अद्य सिद्धाश्रमं यामि यत्र देवो गणेश्वरः।।७४।।

The goddess Sarasvatī, Vyāsa, the teacher of the Purāṇas and Durgā the destroyer of the misfortune are adored by me again and again offering salutation to than. O Śaunaka, after looking at your auspicious lotus-like feat, I am now proceeding to Siddhāśrama where Gaṇapati is lodged.
